Iowa's First Negro Attorney Dies at Oskaloosa

IN THE NEWS

Branham H. Hyde
Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Iowa who conducted the A. F. and A. M. ceremonies at the last rites of A. R. Clark, Iowa's oldest Negro attorney and first graduate from the law school of the University of Iowa, on Thursday, July 6, at Oskaloosa, Ia.

W. Lawrence Oliver
W. Lawrence Oliver opened this week a new law office at 416 E. sixth street. Attorney Oliver came to Des Moines five years ago last month after having spent eight years at the state university of Iowa. He passed the bar examination in 1933 while a junior in the law school, and practiced one year in Iowa City before coming to Des Moines.

He worked for the state of Iowa for our one-half years, having the position of postmaster the last two years of the Democratic administration.

Attorney Oliver is at present president of the Iowa Negro Bar Association, vice chairman of the Y. M. C. A., executive board, secretary of the Des Moines branch of the N. A. A. C. P., Keeper of Records, of Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity, member of the board of trustees of Corinthian Baptist church, and a member of many other social organizations in the city. Mr. Oliver is married and has twin-girls five years old.

HOLD FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MRS. FRANCES VAUGHN

Funeral services for Mrs. Frances Vaughn were held Wednesday afternoon, July 5, from the Estes Funeral home with the Rev. H. C. Boyd officiating. Mrs. Vaughn, 77, died on Monday morning, July 3, at 939 Twenty-third street where she lived with a daughter, Mrs. Lula Mitchell. She had been a resident of Des Moines for 46 years and was a member of the St. Paul A. M. E. church. Burial was in Glendale cemetery.

NAACP Chamber of Commerce Visit Omaha

Richmond, Va.—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt presented the Spingarn medal Sunday to Marian Anderson, Negro contralto, and told the singer "your achievement far transcends any race or creed." The medal is given annually by Joel E. Spingarn, president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, to the American Negro, who "shall have made the highest achievement during the preceding year or years in any honorable field of human endeavor." "Courage" Mrs. Roosevelt told 5,000 persons at the annual conference of the N. A. A. C. P. that Miss Anderson "had the courage to meet any difficulties" and that "her modesty and her great gift are well known." The Negro singer appeared on a musical program for King George and Queen Elizabeth at the White House during the Washington, D. C., visit of the British rulers. In accepting the award, the singer said she realized the "significance it carries" and declared she felt it "a signal honor" to have received it "from the hands of our first lady, who is not only a first lady in name, but in every deed."

D. A. R. Incident
The ceremony recalled the incident of last spring when the Daughters of the American Revolution denied Miss Anderson the use of their Constitution hall in Washington for a concert Apr. 9, and Mrs. Roosevelt's subsequent resignation from the D. A. R.

Preceding the medal presentation the first lady asserted that "people cannot grow up good citizens unless we provide good environment for all the people." "In the end, the price we pay for people not fit to be citizens," she declared, "is far greater than the sacrifice we must make to provide decent environment."

Richmond, Va., July 1 (ANP)—Highlighted by a message of greeting at the opening session from President Roosevelt and award on the closing day of the Spingarn medal to famed Contralto Marian Anderson by the gracious First Lady of the Land, the thirtieth annual convention of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People ended its six-day session here Sunday with an overflow mass meeting at the great Moxque auditorium, showplace of Richmond.

Still another feature, but not on the convention program, was the excitement Wednesday night at conference headquarters, Fifth Street Baptist church, over the Louis-Galanto fight in New York City. Without general knowledge, someone installed a radio and loud speaker in the church auditorium, and suddenly as a panel discussion was taking place and delegates were properly absorbed in the interesting topic—the fight was tuned in and soon cries for "Joe Louis" were heard on every side.

Hear Fight
A few who probably thought the broadcast ill-timed went outside, but most of the big audience seemed delighted and remained as the ring-side description of the short battle came over the air. Ample accommodations for the more than 600 delegates attending the big conference had been arranged by the committee in charge and all business details of the meetings were handled with ease and facility. The programs of the various sessions were smooth-running and not boring, and speeches by celebrities and nationally-known NAACP officials were for the most part restricted to 30 minutes.

Chamber of Commerce Visit Omaha

The Des Moines Negro Chamber of Commerce and a group of its members motored to Omaha Thursday, June 29, to be guests of the Omaha Chamber of Commerce's installation services.

In the Des Moines group were Atty. Charles P. Howard, president; A. P. Trotter, Manson L. James, Mrs. Helen Beshears, Miss Clara Webb, Miss Roberta Maupin, Miss Ola McCrany, William H. Ashby, Quentin R. Mease.

Hosts to the group were Dr. G. B. Lennox, out-going president; and S. E. Gilbert, president-elect who was installed at one of the later meetings during the afternoon.

At McGill's Blue Room a panel discussion was held on a subject relating to the economic and social problems confronting Negroes in Omaha and Des Moines.

Speakers
Among the speakers were: Senator W. Adams, the only Negro member of the senate in the Nebraska state legislature. He touched upon the achievements and the future plans of the Omaha Negro Chamber of Commerce of which he is a member. Atty. Howard spoke on the purposes and objects of the Des Moines organization.

Miss Gladys Turner, employed by the city of Omaha who conducted a survey to learn the employment status of the Negroes there, spoke at length on her finds and touched upon the work of the Urban League.

Mr. James spoke on Negroes in the insurance field.

Group Entertained
At a formal entertainment which followed the discussions the installation of Omaha officers was held at Elk's hall. Attorney Howard and Dr. Lennox were speakers. A musical program was given.

The closing feature of the trip was a formal party at Dreamland hall given by the Quacks club of the YWCA, at which 400 persons attended. The visitors from Des Moines were honored guests. Other officers installed were: C. C. McDonald, vice president; Saybert C. Hanger, treasurer; J. Westbrook McPherson, secretary.

A committee was elected to draft plans to contract other business groups and Negro Chamber of Commerce throughout the country.

Fifth Street church, commodious and inviting, has all facilities for large conventions and numerous small rooms for conferences and discussions.

At one session there was serious discussion of whether or not commissions should be paid to workers in membership campaigns. The opinions expressed, endorsed prizes and honor awards, frowned on "cash prizes, many declaring: "This noble work should be done without expectation of personal reward."

CHARLES W. FANT TO IOWA BARBER COLLEGE

Charles W. Fant, son of Mrs. G. T. Fant and the late Rev. J. W. Fant of this city entered the Iowa Barber College Monday, June 26, to take a course in practical barber training.

Mr. Fant graduated in the June class of 1939 at East High School and has been employed at Seymour's Barber shop at 16th and Walker streets for the past two years. He is an active member of the Bethel A. M. E. church and social and civic organizations of the young people in this city.

MEDAL PRESENTATION

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt presenting the Spingarn Medal to Marian Anderson Sunday afternoon, July 2, before thousands who jammed the Mosque at the closing of the thirtieth annual convention of the NAACP at Richmond, Va. The medal was awarded for distinguished service to the world renowned contralto to whose reactions Sunday to the unusual honors which have befallen her in the last six months, were so enormous, so heart-filling that "they are deeper than my words can express." It was impossible for Miss Anderson to decide where she had experienced the greatest thrill, whether it was at the Lincoln Memorial concert Easter Sunday, before 25,000 persons, or being presented the medal from the First Lady.

DETROIT YOUTH ENTERS WEST POINT

Detroit, July 6 (ANP)—West Point received another Negro student when Clarence W. Davenport, of this city entered that institution July 1. Davenport, who was notified as to his acceptance May 11 after having taken the written, oral and physical examinations at Fort Sheridan, Ill., which he passed with a high rating, was appointed by ex-Congressman George D. O'Brien, democrat, while in office.

In his three years at the University of Detroit, young Davenport who majored in chemistry, minored in mathematics and philosophy, kept a B plus average, carried off all scholastic honors, and was declared by professors to be one of the most brilliant students in the school.

Davenport is the first Negro in Michigan to receive an appointment to West Point and Congressman O'Brien said he was willing to break the ice. Credit, however, for the appointment is due to the efforts of Mrs. Mable E. Flack, an outstanding woman in civic and political affairs here.

Davenport, a quiet, unassuming but studious and hard working young man, worked his way through school under very difficult situations and he believes his strong will and determination will steel him for the ostracism, segregation and undue hardships which might be heaped upon him at West Point. He hopes to emulate Col. Charles Young.

This is the scene as the body of James Thomas Bridges, 14, was being sought in a gravel pit near West Des Moines, June 28. Arrow indicates where boy sank after screaming "Help, help, I can't swim!" after a three-hour search.

Boy Drowns

James Thomas Bridges, R. R. 1, West Des Moines, who was drowned in a gravel pit near West Des Moines on June 28, was buried on his fifteenth birthday, July 1, with his final rites at the Estes Funeral home.

Bridges, according to his grandmother, Mrs. Classic Rogers, 1020 Fourteenth street, had accompanied her on an early morning fishing trip.

He left her and went to another side of the pit, which is 600 feet by 1,000 feet and about thirty feet deep. A group of boys were in swimming.

On Fishing Trip
Mrs. Rogers, who was grief-stricken when she talked with a reporter at her home this week, related that she was not near her grandson when he was drowned but that soon after it happened Andrew Wilson, a friend of the boy's came running to her and informed her that James had drowned.

Mrs. Rogers said she was informed also that her grandson had been pushed into the water by an older boy.

Pleas For Help
Rushing to the scene of the drowning the grandmother said she pleaded, cried and begged the boy who had been accused of pushing her grandson into the water, to "go in and get the boy."

The older boy refused, she said, telling her, "I told you I wasn't going in. I can't swim," she related to the Bystander reporter.

Mrs. Rogers said some of the other boys who were in swimming rushed away to get help.

Contradictory reports of how the drowning occurred stated that the boy took off his clothes and entered the water and then shouted, help, help, I can't swim."

The sheriff's office sent out a boat in search of his body which was discovered about 1 o'clock that afternoon.

Born in Independence, Kansas, he had lived here for the past ten years. He attended Longfellow and junior high in West Des Moines. He was a member of the Mt. Hebron Baptist church.

The Rev. G. W. Robinson officiated at the funeral services. Burial was in Glendale cemetery.

Pall bearers were: Andrew Wilson, Robert Griffin, Harold Lovelady, Arthur Bush, George Trumbo, Omar James, McKinley Herndon Jr. Honorary pall bearers were: Rosemary Lovelady, Winona Griffin.

Beulah Armstrong, Eula Mae Cowans. Aside from his parents and grandmother, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Greenlee and Mrs. Rogers, survivors are: four aunts, Mrs. Helen Anderson, Mrs. Vera Clardy, Des Moines; Mrs. Viria Mae Holland of Independence, Kas., and Mrs. Shirley Ridenour of Elkhart, Ind.; three uncles, Thomas Anderson and Clarence Clardy of Des Moines; Mr. Riedmoir of Indiana; Mrs. Annie Greenlee of West Des Moines, a grandmother; and ten cousins.

Oskaloosa, Ia.—Funeral services for A. G. Clark, 82, one of the oldest Negro lawyers in the state of Iowa and the first Negro graduate from the law school of the University of Iowa, and a distinguished Mason, were held here from the Bethel A. M. E. church of which he was a trustee, Thursday afternoon, July 6.

He died at Oskaloosa on Monday morning, July 3.

He was the first graduate of Iowa university, one of the most distinguished Negro Masons in Iowa. He was grand master of the Masons and grand patron of the O. E. S.

Wrote Lodge History
In 1929 he completed a history of the grand lodge of Iowa and presented it at the grand lodge meeting. There were three copies of the history made which is still in manuscript form.

The book of records in detail includes history of the Negro Masonry in Iowa. It has three tables giving the names, dates and offices of every person elected to the grand lodge in Iowa; another information regarding persons elected to subordinate lodges in Iowa and complete records of the death of lodge members.

The father of Iowa's first Negro attorney, sent his son to school and then went to the Iowa University later and finished in law.

The elder attorney was sent as a minister to Liberia where he died. His body was returned to the country at the expense of the government.

The Attorney Clark Jr. practiced law in Oskaloosa since 1894. He is past president of the Iowa Negro Bar Association.

Among his survivors is a widow, Mrs. Addie Clark, of Oskaloosa.

AS IT SHOULD BE

There are so many instances where the two races gather in Des Moines and maintain the best feeling, that we are inclined to overlook many occasions of the sort.

The fourth of July sent thousands of picnic lovers here and there where in most instances they used public parks. The editor of the Bystander happened to be outing at the state park near Commerce when scores of groups huddled here and there with their baskets for dinner, played games and generally enjoyed the facilities of these splendid grounds.

Negro and white picknickers exchanged accommodations with the best of spirit and nobody seemed to have had any other thought than that of enjoying the outing.

This situation is as it ought to be, but in so many other communities the opposite prevails. And while this incident is a common occurrence, we can thank Des Moines people for maintaining a very level attitude.

In passing it might be well to throw a bouquet to the custodian of this park who does a good job of looking after everybody; he picks no favorites. And that is worth a lot.

ABUSING RIGHTS

We in America pride ourselves on the right of free speech and free assemblage. It is a fine thing. But unless a line is drawn between free speech and free assemblage for illegal purposes as distinguished from legal purposes, eventually we shall be operating under a system which permits neither right.

When an organization held meetings for the purpose of combining for murder with guns or poison the government steps in and on some occasions, somebody gets punished. But when such organizations as the Bund and the Klu Klux Klans meet to plot destruction of races and creeds, it is just free assemblage and free speech and the government says little and does nothing.

When murderers act, they destroy the individual; there is no passing on to other generations the spark of hate on the basis of race or creed. Generally the animosity dies with the murderer. But in the case of the fascist organization, they inoculate others— young and old—with their spirit of hate and pass it on from one generation to another.

Prejudice against Negroes could never have spread as it has in America, but for the systematic campaign of the southerners using such organizations as spearheads for their schemes; the same is true of prejudice against Jews and Catholics which becomes more pronounced as preaching hat-

HAYFEVER

Hayfever is an allergic condition of the mucus membrane of the nose, eye, and upper respiratory tract. It is usually due to the inhalation of pollens, but may be caused by emanations from other substances and by foods.

When it is due to pollens, there is usually a definite seasonal incidence. In the spring of the year it is frequently associated with the pollen of trees, such as the Alder, Hickory, and Oak; while in the summer it is most frequently due to the pollen of flowers and grasses.

Toward autumn many cases are due to rag weed and bump weed. There is a swelling of the mucus membrane, hyperemia, hypersecretion and these vary greatly in intensity from a mild acute coryza and lacrimation. Nasal obstruction occurs, due to the swelling of the mucus membrane.

The course usual following a seasonal repetition unless a complete diagnosis is made and the cause removed or the individual is desensitized. Although the cause may not be found, often by repeated trails patients find a district in which they are completely free of symptoms, but one who finds his freedom in the mountains may not at the seashore and in another it may be vice versa. Certain districts are supposed to be comparatively free from hay fever due to rag weed and golden rod, such as Northern Maine, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia. If the proper pollen can be determined, vaccination against the cause is sometimes successful. Drugs are of little value except as palliatives.

BIBLE THOUGHT OF WEEK

BOOKS

TOBE

By Stella Gentry Sharpe, University of North Carolina Press, $1.00.

Reviewed by Hazel L. Griggs (for the Associated Negro Press) Tobe is one of the most delightful of the new children's books, for Negro children, now on the market. Written by Stella Gentry Sharp, a school teacher of North Carolina, the book is rich with vivid descriptions of the real treasures of southern rural life. The story, presented in primer form, is concerned with the everyday life of a real family, observed by the author over a period of time. It is the family of Tobe, a little six-year-old colored boy who lives on a farm in North Carolina.

Tobe's is a large family. There are the little twins, five years old, the big twins, aged nine, Tobe's big brother, Raeford, 12, his mother and father and his two older sisters, who can bake cake and sweet potato pies and have a beautiful flower garden. Each member of the family is interesting, and the group activities are portrayed in simple sentences, easily understood by the young child. The book will captivate children for it is filled with wee reader interest.

St. Paul A. M. E. and E. D. M. Center

Excessive rains and wet grounds of the past three weeks have caused the postponement of the games in the Church baseball and Senior softball leagues. Each loop has had five games set aside by the moist weather. These games will be played later in the season if necessary to determine the championships.

Although idle in league competition since June 13, St. Paul A. M. E. is still out in front in the baseball section with victories over Union Baptist, Burns M. E. and Kyles A. M. E. Zion. The latter team, south-side representatives, are currently in second place with a triumph over Burns M. E. and a forfeit from Union Baptist to their credit. Holding down third position is the Burns crew, who have won one of their three starts, that a forfeit from Union Baptist.

Doped to be in the running for pennant honors, Union Baptist is holding last place in the race with three losses chalked up against them. Only one of these games has been dropped in actual competition. St. Paul winning the opening clash of the season from the Unionmen 5 to 3. The other two reverses registered against the Lee Township players are forfeits to Burns and Kyles.

Corinthian Baptist have seen all of their four scheduled contests go by the postponement route due to either rain or the occupation of the grounds by a carnival. Seven more weeks remain of the season's schedule, all games scheduled for the diamond at First and University Avenue. Postponed games may be played on either the Fairground or Birdland Park diamonds.

Sitting on top in the softball loop is the fast playing group of youngsters representing the East Des Moines Center. Victorious in all three of their scheduled tilts, the east side boys have shown the most class this season and are rated one of the best clubs in the city.

The Negro Community Center, holders of the second place berth, have suffered one setback in four starts, this loss to the East Center. Tied for third place in the standings are St. Paul A. M. E. and Fowler's Funeral Home, each team having won two out of three games played. Corinthian Baptist and Estes-Van Ginkels bring up the rear with neither aggregation breaking into the win column so far this season. Corinthian has appeared in three games, while the latter outfit has dropped all four of their engagements.

All of the regularly scheduled games are played at West High Stadium on Monday and Friday evenings, and at Amos Hiatt on Wednesday evenings at 8:15 p. m. Postponed games will be played on nights and diamonds to be announced later. Local Boxers Trounce Rivals

CROCKER "Y" PERIOD

Camp Enrollments Begin

With "Y" Camp less than six weeks away, registrations for the 1939 period have taken on an accelerated pace within the last week.

Heading the big camp registration card, which has not been posted yet, will be the name of Sherman Wilcocks, who was also the first enrollee in the 1939 period.

Heading the veteran staff of leaders, who have already made reservations for the period, is Al Spriggs, pioneer leader and camper of the Crocker "Y" Period. Al returned from Nashville at the end of the school year at the American Baptist Theological Seminary and immediately indicated his plans to attend his nineteenth season at the camp.

A number of improvements have been made in what was already considered one of the finest boys' camps in America. Some of the staff members will visit the camp shortly to inspect the program and equipment for this year's period and a report will be made later on the lay-out. The dates for the Crocker "Y" Period are August 14 to 21.

Registrations can be made any day at the "Y", or for the convenience of eastside boys, at the East Des Moines Community Center. No change has been made in the fee, the figure is still $5.50 for the eight day period, including transportation, meals and all activities.

By Jerome Tate

A little bundle from Heaven lent for a while,
 A little bundle from Heaven died with a smile,
 That little bundle from Heaven, with its smiling face,
 Died without learning of life's quick pace,
 Free from sin and corruption it died,
 No sorrow or strife will it need to hide,
 It's gone back to Heaven from whence it came
 Bearing no sadness, sorrow or shame,
 Oh yes dear mother, 't was hard for you,
 But it was God's will, what are we to do,
 A little bundle from Heaven, 't was just lent for a while,
 Your little bundle from Heaven died with a smile,
 Oh Lord that I to, when my time comes to trial,
 May leave this world with a pleasant smile.

Thursday nights—
 Expected to make early appearances in the local ring are squads from Cedar Rapids and Omaha. The Cedar Rapids' fighters have made two appearances in Des Moines in recent years, and although defeated both times, have made creditable showings. The Omaha squad will represent the Omaha Star, Negro newspaper of that city, and will number among its members contestants in the Omaha World-Herald's Golden Gloves tournament.

Scoring a four to one decision over the Newton Y. M. C. A. team on the opening show June 15, the local battlers chalked up a similar verdict over the Adel Athletic Club, Adel, Iowa last Thursday night.

DIVINE HOLDING NOW

$262,000 IN UPSTATE N. Y.

New York, (C)—Holdings of Father Divine and his "angels," acquired in Ulster county, in Kingston and nearby towns, since 1935, are estimated as being worth $212,000, and it is estimated that $50,000 more has been spent in improvements, making a total valuation of $262,000, according to a front page feature article in the Herald-Tribune Monday morning.

It is believed the properties, some twenty-five in number, were bought for about $212,000. The Divineites keep their "kingdoms" and "promised lands" clean, and all followers, both white and colored, pay allegiance to Divine as "God," it is reported.

Divine's recent addition to his holdings in fashionable Sutton Manor on Long Island Sound has caused consternation among some whites. Divine bought several of his properties through white women who paid cash in bills of large denominations. Banks selling the properties did not know they were going to Divine until the deeds had been executed.

The letter was signed by Committee Chairman William Jay Schreffelin who is also a member of the board of trustees at Tuskegee Institute—and by more than 40 others, prominent in art, science, religion, civil rights and national affairs in America.

The letter concluded: "Above all, we urge that this grave issue must come to a vote, for if the Anti-Lynching bill were defeated it would be bad enough, but the cowardly and undemocratic tactics of availing a vote, which were resorted to last year, were a double defeat for Democracy."

SPORTS

BATISTE STARS IN A. A. U. MEET

Negroes were very much in evidence at the A. A. U. games at Lincoln, Neb., July 3 and 4. The chief attraction was Joe Batiste of Tucson, Ariz., high school who recently set a prep school high hurdle record in the Junior events. For those who have never won first in a major meet, Batiste finished second in the high hurdles behind a record breaking performance. He placed second in the high jump and again the winner had to set a record. Coming back in the senior events, open to all competitors, the youngster nipped Fred Wolcott of Rice who is regarded as the nations number one hurdler.

Fred Alliniece of France Viler won the junior for hundred meter run and placed fourth in the senior event.

Perhaps the next biggest surprise was the defeat of Johnny Woodruff who was considered unbeatable at four hundred meters. Woodruff was beaten in fairly fast time by a boy from Southern California. Behind Woodruff came Jimmy Herbert and Alliniece.

Negroes were nearly shut out in the sprints, so Mozelle Ellerbee had to hustle to get fourth place in the hundred Michigan's Bill Watson finished second in the broad jump with a twenty-five foot leap and Ed Gordon, formerly of Iowa U., was third with about the best jump of his ten year career. Watson also finished second in the shot-put behind Lilburn Williams of Xavier, and Dave Albritton and Mel Walker tried for third in the high jump.

Old Bill Brennan, who was a worn-out veteran before Jack became champion; Brennan all but barbecued Dempsey for twelve rounds. George Carpenter was the first fighter to enter a ring with nothing but bally hoo. They say Dempsey's famous stagger was an act Louis Terpo knocked the great Dempsey clear out of the round and should have won the fight then. Tommy Gibbons, who was simply an over grown middle weight for past his prime. Then Gene Tunney. Five bouts in seven years and the opponents don't look so hot now.

Entrenous

Noted Adam J. has made a change. The important Miss is now G. Green. Bobbie H., Ozzie Lewis, and "Fudge Mi Tush" looking sharp in white palm beach suits. Ozzie is looking very much like a papa with a little Miss cuddled in his arms. The interesting conversation Jimmie B. and Mary Mc were having, and how it was discontinued with the appearance of the one and only D. L. Bob White getting sharp all of a sudden with two gals. Mildred Randle and Gloria MILLER. Frank P. and Eleanor just as much in love as ever. Lloyd Redmond's company being begged for by Mildred K. and Jean G. Boy! You are a shot. Which one of the ladies holds the spot light in your heart Leonard Doyle? Delores B. or Edythe G? "Buckie" May wishes to announce that he is again in the field. Now, Now girls don't crowd Alsey Doyle which of those May brothers do you attend to give a chance? I wonder how the Watkin's-Edmund's affair is fairing.

Lawrence Williams, the former champion of the "Professional Loafers Club," has returned on a visit with a smoother line. L. M. T. looking very cute in shorts. Hugh B. thinks Rose Mary P. is tops. "The Course of True Love Never Runs Smooth" Am I right D. F. and E. F? From all reports a swell time was had by all the "cats" and "chics" that motored to Omaha although some were disappointed because "Count Basie" didn't appear. Zeke Eaves is out and in the groove again. Wonder how many points he made with Rose M. P. Tuesday evening. Arthur J. E. being generous. "It's all on me girls" Edwin Patten having his own jam session at Good's with a portable record machine. Charlie H. making love to Evelyn Crewse Tuesday evening. Charles F. and Kenny G. acting ten years minus their age at the Hi dance. What's this I hear about C. Nickens and F. Madison? No more news. No more fun.

—The Sepia Tattler

Miss Sarah Steele, Mrs. Rainey Hagkins, Frank Parker and G. B. Tucker motored to Omaha to spend the Fourth.

Wayne Platter, dancer with the A. B. C. Theatrical company, sang and danced at the afternoon and evening show for the 4th of July celebration of Jasper County held at Newton. Senator Nye gave the principal address. Charlie Johnson, accompanied Wayne. This same show played at Chuarban, June 13.

FASHIONS

(By Hazel L. Griggs for ANP)

While always a summer favorite and a flattering one for most of us, is easily a fashion first this year because it has shown a new adaptability in its flair for combining with unusual colors. For example: it is seen with bamboo beige, a new hazy-colored tone; it is found to be very suitable with grey; and festooned with various golden decorations, it is the latest fling on the fashion front.

Dresses of snowy jersey, crepe, sharkskin or pique have found a new brilliance now that they gleam with golden metal buttons, gold belts or other sparkling touches. One little girl type, princess frock of white pique, has these shiny round buttons parading from neckline to hem, while another has gold jackstones, a childhood memory, brightening the pockets, with another perched upon the matching turban. Untrimmed white dresses, following this popular mode, are being worn a great deal with heavy gold costume jewelry. White bags with gold touches are also seen.

"What more would we want to be than the Every-Bit Man: Ninety-Nine and Forty-Four Percent Pure?" queried the Rev. John C. Bain, pastor of Burn's Methodist church, in his Men's Day sermon Sunday morning, July 2.

"Ninety-Nine and Forty-Four percent Pure," he explained was "not quite 100 percent pure—because we are always tending towards perfection."

"The minister pointed out that man was distinguished from animal by his ability to stand upright, by his means of communication of the written and spoken language, and, by his mental capacity to reason and think for himself."

Not A Man

"When we have to be led about our mother's apron strings and be told everything—A, B, C, D, E, F, G—we are not a man," the Rev. Mr. Bain emphasized.

He pointed out that Apostle Paul was physically, mentally and spiritually a man.

"Being a Galentio doesn't always make a man," the speaker informed as a ripple of laughter went over the audience and he described man "as gentle as a woman and as manly as a man—making a gentleman."

"When one becomes a man he should 'put away childish things,' the minister informed."

"The mark of a man is to have the ability to make this transition—this change," he stressed and made the comparison that "the child is protected by the family and the state, but when a man grows up he has the ability to stand on his own feet."

"A mother likes to think of her child as an overgrown," he spoke and added "but when you get out in this cold world you are just another man."

Outgrows Childish Things

"The every-bit man outgrows childish things and becomes four-square in his development," the minister assured. He pointed out that a lazy man as well as a liar is "far from being a man."

The Rev. Mr. Bain stressed further that a man is "always working, striving, struggling and pressing on to the high calling of Jesus."

"I am talking about a sure-epoch, capital letter HE-MAN," he spoke. "The every-bit man plans ahead," he continued and added "he can't wake up today and say what he should have done," the minister impressed.

"What am I going to do—not to do—tomorrow? It is a five-year-plan," the minister told the men and urged that in their planning they "budget their time as well as their money" and in doing so "be defenders of right."

In conclusion the speaker quoted one of the passages from the Psalms which read: "Man goeth forth unto his work; and to his labor until the evening."

"We die too often," the minister lamented and pointed out that bad dreams, or the fact that somebody "was falling out with you" should not cause one to want to die. "It is not necessary to die but once," he assured.

"The every-bit man faces death unflinchingly," the minister encouraged. "He looks death in the face and says 'I fought a good fight.' " "I want to be ninety-nine and forty-four percent pure. I shall go forth in the morning to labor until the high noon. Then when the evening comes I am not going to run to pull the sun back. That would be childish."

Following the sermon the men's chorus, under Leland Green, sang "Work for the Night is Coming."

Closing Services

During the afternoon service the Rev. H. C. Boyd and his choir from the St. Paul A. M. E. church were guests in a special service.

The men's chorus gave a special musical at the evening hour. The financial reports for the day totaled $57.41.

Other financial efforts leading up to the Men's Day were a lawn social Thursday night at the Y. W. C. A. and a men's chorus musical on Friday night at the church.
