Mule Team Driver Is Killed in Waukeee Mines

IN THE NEWS

FRANK K. ROBINSON

Well known to Des Moines swimmers is Frank Robinson, manager of the Good Park pool, expert swimmer, lifesaver and diver who returned recently from a trip to Durham, N. C., where he was a delegate to the first Aquatic School for Negroes, sponsored by the Red Cross of America, at North Carolina College from July 2-8.

In an interview with a Bystander reporter Mr. Robinson revealed much information about the aquatic school which had a three-fold purpose: to train teachers to teach swimming, from beginners to "advance"; to train teachers of life-saving to instruct small craft-work, canoeing and row-boating; and standard and advance courses in first aid.

Fifteen states were represented at the school, at which 90 Red Cross selected representatives were in attendance, Mr. Robinson related.

Beat Water

Six hours each day were devoted to rigid water instruction and four hours spent in lecture work. "Beating out the water every day was no play," Robinson commented. Instructors at the National Red Cross water school were ten white field representatives from Washington, D. C., headed by Ramone Eaton, assistant director of life-saving and first aid for the United States.

Negro instructors will replace the white staff, as soon as they can qualify, Mr. Robinson was informed.

Mr. Robinson has been swimming for 17 years getting his start early in the Des Moines river.

"I swam all over town," he said referring to his boyhood days and three years ago he landed a job at Good pool, where he has been managing one year.

He resides at 1323 Center with his wife and six-year-old son, who can do a good job at swimming, too.

Regarding Mr. Robinson's trip to the Aquatic school, the American Red Cross, Des Moines and Polk County chapter, wrote a letter to the Bystander in which revealed that Mr. Robinson is the first Negro lay instructor for the Red Cross First Aid appointed in the chapter, "so naturally we are very proud of the opportunity of assisting in organizing classes for Mr. Robinson."

On Wednesday the Grand Lodge of Sorrows held a program at the Second Baptist church at which the eulogy was given by Past Grand Master F. S. Johnson. The demonstration of the work of the Youth Department was held on Thursday during the noon hour by a full set of the officers of the McNeil Chapter of the Boys' Masonic Order of Constantine, under Martin Mitchell, their commander.

Outstanding Features

Among the outstanding legislative features of the session were the elimination of the burial department, the increase in the benefits from the Relief Department and the authorization of George L. Suter, who published the first Masonic Code in 1905, to have published five hundred copies of the history of the Grand Lodge, compiled by the late past grand master, A. G. Clark, to be sold at two dollars per copy and for which thirty-eight copies were subscribed and paid for in advance of its publication.

The first class will be held Wednesday evening, beginning July 26, from 7 to 9 p. m. Enrollments may be made at either the Good pool or the Red Cross office. It will be open for adults, both men and women.

"We do feel that Mr. Robinson because of his outstanding work at the National Aquatic School should be given the very best of encouragement and support in his first Red Cross first aid class," the local chapter urged in its letter.

Mrs. Bethune Won't Resign 14 Women Get World's Fair Award

Washington, (ANP)—Despite denials by Mrs. Mary McLeod Bethune, stories still persist regarding her resignation from the office she holds with the National Youth Administration.

Stories to the effect that Mrs. Bethune would resign her position to work as organizer for the National Democratic party, gradually gaining wide circulation, were emphatically denied by Mrs. Bethune in an interview Thursday morning.

"I am not in politics. I am here as an educator. I am here as an interpreter of my people. I am here making contacts for them. I never made a political speech, I have never been asked to make one," Mrs. Bethune said.

"I believe very definitely in the program of the New Deal," she continued. "I believe it is helpful to the masses of my people. It gives an opportunity to the underprivileged. It helps to extend a most humane program and I am trying to integrate my people in the set-up."

"My school comes first. I did not come here seeking a job, the job came seeking me. I carved my job 34 years ago. And now, if the people want me to stay on this job, then let them show it. Right now my school has got to be taken care of. There is a deficit of $7,000 to be met and an endowment of $135,000 to be raised before the school can meet the requirements for a Class A school."

The Bystander, Mayor Conkling and friends, aided by a motorcycle brigade, collaborated in making Duke's arrival an auspicious one.

Met at the Rock Island station at 5:50 p. m., Saturday July 15, the band loaded into six automobiles, headed by a motorcycle escort that did not stop for the red lights, and paraded through downtown Des Moines.

The route from Rock Island station terminated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. LeVester Cunningham, East

Des Moines, and then to Gladys and Corene's Little Chicken Shack where Duke and the hand members took their meals.

Praise is given the Sanders Motor company, Chambers Motor company, Friedman's Motor company, and Mr. and Mrs. L. Cunningham, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Carr and Mr. Lloyd Shelton for donations of cars for the parade.

George McDavis, advertising manager of the Bystander and Virgil Carr were guests of Duke and the band at Val-Air ballroom and it was a revelation to watch the antics of Sonny Greer on the drums. The dancers were spellbound and the Duke was as cool as a cucumber. Ivy Anderson was superb as she sang "Soll-tude."

Mr. and Mrs. LeVester Cunningham were perfect hosts at a cocktail tail party at their home at 1526 Walker avenue, following the engagement at the Val-Air for Duke and the band boys.

The band left Sunday afternoon for an engagement at Sioux City and Watertown, S. D., returning to Boston, July 24, where they will broadcast from one of the roof gardens for an extended engagement.

ANNUAL SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC NEXT THURSDAY

The annual union Sunday School picnic of all of the churches will be held on Thursday, July 27, at Union Park, tourist camp.

The union picnic committee, headed by Mrs. Jessie Bell Davis, is making plans to entertain as many if not more than 1,200 children who attended the picnic last year.

Parents are asked to bring baskets of lunch for their children. Eating hour will begin at 3 p. m. Among the many features will be games in charge of all the athletics. Refreshments will be served by the superintendants and teachers.

Mrs. Brent Run Over by Railway Car

Mrs. Elizabeth Brent, 65, 1845 Raccoon street, whose right leg was severed Saturday afternoon, July 15, when she was run over by the wheels of a railway tank car being switched, is at the Broadlawn General hospital.

Her condition was reported "fair" by attendants at the hospital. The widow of Charles Brent, Mrs. Brent was injured at a point on the Des Moines Union Railway tracks about 300 yards over east of E. Eighteenth street.

According to a witness, Richard Young, 30, of Kirksville, Mo., the woman had attempted to crawl between two tank cars under the coupling. He said he shouted at Mrs. Brent when he saw what she was attempting to do.

Young said she backed up, stumbled and fell under the wheel of one of the tank cars, just as the cars began to move. One of thirty cars being switched ran over the woman, she suffered injuries to her left foot, also.

MAIL DISCOVERER OF HAY FEVER REMEDY

Minneapolis, Minn. (ANP)—The foundation of what appears to be an excellent business is being laid by John P. Douglass of this city, who several years ago discovered a remedy which users say is sure cure for the annoying ailment, hay fever. Mr. Douglass, who has been in Pullman service for a number of years, was a chronic sufferer from hay fever, and developed the remedy which he named Sea Foam in an effort to cure himself of the disease.

Recovering gradually until he was completely free, Douglass shared his formula with others, finally being persuaded to patent the remedy, which is now sold by the Public Drug Co. chain stores in Montana and is handled by many druggists here in Minneapolis.

Orifice Boyer, 38 Crushed to Death by Falling Slate

Orifice Boyer, 38-year-old mule team driver in the Shuler coal mine, at Waukeee, Ia., was crushed to death Friday morning, July 14, when an avalanche of shale and slate trapped him.

He was working alone near his shaft which had not been hitched to the team of mules, it was learned when his body was found. He was lying in a position which revealed his attempt to escape.

Other miners working nearby heard the crash of the falling shale and slate but were not near enough to get caught in it.

At the time of the tragedy Boyer's father, J. W. Boyer, 1413 East Eighteenth street, was working in another part of the mine. He did not learn that it was his son who had been killed until a half-hour later, he told a Bystander reporter.

He saw his son early that morning just before work started, as he, his son and the boss were generally the first of the workers to arrive at the coal mines, he related.

Like his father, a veteran coal miner, the deceased man had been employed at the mines for ten years, the father said and added that he has been a coal miner since the age of 12 years.

THEODORE CONREE BERRY, WAUKEEE MINER, IS DEAD

Theodore Conree Berry, 923 S. E. Fourteenth street, died at Broadlawn General hospital on Tuesday morning, July 18, where he had been ill one week.

A miner, Mr. Berry had been employed at the Waukeee mines for nine years.

Surviving him are: his mother, Mrs. John Conree and step-father, Mr. Conree of the city; a widow, Mrs. Alma Berry of the home address; three children, Robert, Edward and Jack Berry, all minors.

His body is at the Fowler and Son's Funeral home where arrangements are set for Friday at 2 p. m. at the Church of God in Christ, east side.

Burial will be in Glendale cemetery.

NATHANIEL NEWSBOY GETS FREE PLANE RIDE

Nathaniel Harvey, 11, 850 W. 14th street went airplane riding Friday evening on a free one-mile trip, with a group of white boys and girls.

"The first thing I had to do was to tell the pass word, 'Kelly's Two-for-One.' Then they gave me a green ticket," Nathaniel related. "I took a seat in the front and looked out the window and waved at people and cars."

"The plane took off and all of us leaned to one side when it turned around. Then we came down out of the sky and had a bump landing."

The pilot told us not to try to get back in because he was looking at all of us," Nathaniel was thrilled to tell.

Nathaniel is a newsboy and messenger at the Bystander. He wants to be an orchestra man when he grows up, he said, but he spends most of his time between errands, making and tearing up toy planes.

On week ends he sells more Bystanders than he can carry.

He is the son of Mrs. Maxine Harvey.

BISHOP WRIGHT SAILS FOR AFRICA ON "QUEEN MARY"

New York, (C)—Very quietly, Bishop R. R. Wright sailed away on the "Queen Mary" last Wednesday, the day after July 4, on the return trip to Cape Town, South Africa, where he presides over the work of the A. M. E. church. The bishop received much support for the African work while in America.

Down 490 Feet
The father said the mines was 490 feet below the ground and that it has been a long period of time since a man has been killed in the Waukeee mines.

When someone is killed all of the men drop their work immediately and come out of the mines for the day, the father described.

Born in Mochikino, Ia., the young miner had attended Marcusville school, in the rural part of Des Moines.

His funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon, July 18, from the Bethel A. M. E. church with the Rev. J. H. Parker officiating.

Burial was in Glendale cemetery with the L. Fowler and Son funeral directors in charge of the body.

Surviving Mr. Boyer are: his widow, Mrs. Ida Boyer of Waukeee, Ia.; three children, Orifice Jr., Mrs. Katherine Crawford of Des Moines; Miss Leona Boyers of the home address; two sisters, Mrs. Carlotta Humphrey of Milwaukee, who came here to attend the funeral; Mrs. Leona Boyer of Des Moines; one uncle, George Boyer of Des Moines; an aunt, Mrs. Daisy Harris of Des Moines; a father, Mr. Boyer and stepmother, Mrs. J. W. Boyer.

Washington, D. C.—John Hamilton, chairman of the Republican National committee, announced July 15, the appointment of Dr. Emmett J. Scott as an assistant publicity director in charge of Republican publicity in the Negro press. Dr. Scott also will serve as one of the advisors to Chairman Hamilton on problems relating to the colored citizens.

DR. EMMETT J. SCOTT

"Dr. Scott is one of the outstanding Negroes of this country and the Republican National Committee is indeed very fortunate to obtain his services at this critical period in the history of our country," Chairman Hamilton asserted.

Dr. Scott, known to tens of thousands of Negroes for his activities in national and local civic and social welfare, is now a member of the Board of Indeterminate Sentence and Parole for the District of Columbia; is secretary of the Southern Education Foundation—a merger of the Anna T. Jeanes, the John F. Slater Fund and the Peabody Fund, with an endowment slightly less than three million dollars ($2,900,000).

FRIENDS IN POLITICS NEED WATCHING

When Senator Black was confirmed as a judge of the Supreme Court, many senators said had they known his Klux Klan affiliations beforehand, they would have opposed his confirmation...

Undoubtedly something was slipped over on some of the senators for they made an effort to recall confirmation. Others, like President Roosevelt and Attorney General Murphy, knew but just didn't care.

FATHER DIVINE'S HEAVENS

Father Divine seems to be accumulating a lot of "heavens" these days. People with large estates seem to harbor little prejudice against him because he has the money to pay his way.

We are not inclined to approve of his willingness to be used as a tool to fight other people's battles as long as these battles do him or his group no good.

LAST MINUTE RUSHES

As has been the case for many years, anti-lynching bills were introduced in Congress when it convened in January and as far as the Bystander can determine, have remained rather dormant since that time.

And usually about the time of adjournment a grand rush begins to get some action on these bills; none have been able to hurdle both houses of Congress.

If the sponsors of this legislation expect to get anywhere some substantial effort must be made when Congress meets rather than at the time of adjournment, if such a measure is to become a law.

BIBLE THOUGHT

"For God so loved the world, that He gave his only Begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life." St. John 3:16.

The Bible thought of the week was selected by Elder A. B. Brewer, pastor of Christ's Sanctified Holy Church, 1521 East University avenue.

BOOKS

"TO MAKE A POET BLACK" (By J. S. Redding, U. of N. C. Press)

The author here brings together factual material and critical opinion on Negro literature in a history of Negro thought in America.

He points out particularly the dilemma of the Negro author whose art is dominated by the necessity of pleasing two audiences, the black and the white. His literature has been literature of purpose of necessity and this fact has greatly influenced all Negro writers from the earliest writers to the latest one.

Mr. Redding points out the fact that many of the early poets died in poverty and obscurity after a full life of devotion to the cause of freedom. Although their work was great, resembling Phillis Wheatley's, they died likewise, deserted after such a joyous, beautiful life.

Most of the early poets were slave-born and sometimes their owners recognized their genius and gave them a chance in the world. Unfortunately, some were not noticed. Those hoped the time would soon come when they could purchase their freedom, which most were forbidden.

DUKE HAD AN APPETITE

Duke Ellington was quite an attraction for many spectators during his meals at Gladys' and Corene's Little Chicken Shack. Following the parade on Saturday afternoon his menu called for:

- 2 one-half spring chickens
2 orders of ribs
2 fish sandwiches
Lettuce and tomato salad
2 bottles of soda pop
After the Duke and his Boys played an engagement at the Val-Air ballroom, he returned to the "Shack" and called for more chicken and ribs.

Before leaving the city the next morning the Duke ordered all the ribs and chicken in the place, taking seventeen half spring chickens for him and the boys to eat on the bus, commenting "it reminds me of my Mother's cooking."

Health Hints

DR. C. R. BRADFORD

SNAKE BITES

Although comparatively few people are bitten by snakes none is immune if bitten. Many of us spend vacations in those sections where poisonous snakes are prevalent. From a practical point of view all snake bites should be considered as possible poisonous. Practically all snakes have a gland in the mouth that secretes a toxic substance. These glands are connected with the hollow teeth or fangs of the snake, and when a person is bitten by them the venom is injected. This venom toxin is of two kinds, one that attacks the nerve centers and produce paralysis; neurotoxin is one that causes hemorrhage and destruction of tissue, hemotoxin. Both these toxins are usually present in all venoms, but in different proportions. The venom of a viper is a good example of one that contains large amounts of the hemotoxin. The snakes of this type more frequently found in America are the rattlesnakes, copperhead, and the moccasin. The cobras, on the other hand, represents those whose venom is principally neurotoxic, and in America the coil snake is the best representative of this species.

JESSE OWENS OUT RUNS HORSE

A nice crowd gathered at the league ball park last Monday to watch the Toledo Crawfords, formerly the Pittsburg Crawfords, beat the Heck Ross Team of this city and to see if Jesse Owens, who once was the greatest amateur athlete of all times, could out run a race horse. The horse didn't know about starting guns, and Owens got too far out in front for the horse to catch him. Then Jesse tried to crack the twenty year old base running record, but missed that by two tenths of a second largely because of the muddy infield. The hundred yard dash was called off because the ground was too slippery and because no one wanted to run against Owens. The ball game was one of those things. The Crawfords played about as they wanted to and won as they pleased 9 to 5, having a lot of fun during the game.

PLANS FOR SWIMMING MEET

Frank Robinson and Elbert Webb, in charge of the swimming pool at Good's Park are trying to get some of the leading Negro swimmers west of the Mississippi to compete in their annual swimming meet and July 30. Invitations have been sent to Kansas City, St. Louis, and Omaha and the boys hope to have one of the biggest swimming meets ever held here. Both Robinson and Webb want it made clear that the fact that invitations have been issued does not guarantee the appearance of out of town swimmers. There will be more definite information about the meet next week.

SUPPORT NEGROES FOR ALL STAR GAME

While people are balloting for their favorites in all Star football game to be held August 30, let us get in a bunch of votes by clipping the ballots from our local papers and inserting the names of Jerome Holland of Cornell, Horace Bell of Minnesota and Bernard Jefferson of Northwestern. See if we can be on that team just once.

A. W. P.—Will I be lucky enough to go back to North Carolina and would it be the thing for me to do?
Ans: Your place is in North Carolina with your CHILDREN. Make a desperate search for work of some kind whereby you can raise enough money to return home as you won't be happy living away from the family.

R. G.—I am 22 years of age and still a good girl and I wish to remain so until I am married. My trouble is that I never can keep a boy friend because of this reason and I am often lonesome. Advise me?
Ans: Whatever the cost continue to be a good girl and keep your good reputation. All men aren't alike. In a course of time you will meet and marry some nice man who will appreciate you for living a clean life. Choose your friends among the single fellows around 30 years of age.

B. L. B.—I wish to know if there is anything that I could get to cure my hurting toes or would it be wasted effort to try?
Ans: There's actually no need for you to suffer with your feet and life in discomfort all the time. A few dollars spent with some reputable physician and your troubles would be over. You must have treatment and abide strictly by the doctor's orders.

W. A. H.—Is my husband phantoming? If so, is it because of anything on my part? I should like some advice from you as to how to be more peaceful and happy in the home.
Ans: Your husband is not guilty of carrying on with some other woman, although it is true that he seems to be dissatisfied in the home. For more specific information, send for your Astrology Reading and I will be glad to analyze your problem free.

M. A. J.—Please tell me if I will be successful in my undertaking and am I wrong to make this change?
Ans: No. . . . I don't think you are wrong to try to better yourself. This new job that you have in mind will offer more advantages than the old and you will be able to improve yourself financially by the change.

R. F.—My wife acts like she hates to even look at me and I wish to know if I should stay with her or leave?
Ans: Your wife is in the same boat with thousands of other people. . . . just doesn't know what she wants. She doesn't hate you, but it is true that she is a bit bored with married life. Talk matters over with her and see if you can't come to a decision as to what she wants to do. . . . act accordingly.

Entrenous

I wonder . . . Why Kermit W. and Carl F. pick the same girl to tag? . . . How I have missed seeing the attractive Miss Gloria Moore? . . . Why Lee W., H., J. D. and J. L. were at a certain party Sunday night without their respective girl friends? . . . Who was with John L. when he crashed Saturday evening? . . . or was it Sunday-morning???

Who gave the party at E. R.'s home, him or the guest? . . . Jimmy T. wishes to inform the columnist and also the public that Mildred K. is his girl friend and not Lloyd R's. . . . How's that Jimmy? . . . Cruising around in his "swanky boat" was the big shot (A. L.) and his three henchmen (F. M., T. A., and the unknown Mr. X) without the fairer sex. . . . Wonder why B. H. always enjoys parking in the park? . . . Don't you know you are too old for that? That's kid stuff. . . . "Barefly" I must give you credit—You sure have a choice chic. . . . Did all you "cats" get a glimpse of the great "Duke" and his handmates? . . . When Martha Morris was introduced to him she received the introduction with "Haven't I met you somewhere before? Maybe it was on the coast?"

Compliments to Azalia Gray Carr for being the "swankiest looking gal" in the Ellington Parade. . . . Not seen—Only heard—Last week they got together and ganged her—Who? I don't know—Where? Guess for yourself. . . . Seen Sunday George R. cruising about with both of his g. f's. . . . What is your technique? . . . Ask Carter, Hyde and Eaves about their experiences on the nite of the fifteenth. . . . Well enough of this. . . . so in somebody else's style—

"HAIR-CONDITION" YOURSELF FOR SUMMER

Summer is the hardest time of the year on the hair. We live a carefree, careless existence in the summer and often fail to take even the simplest precautions to preserve our beauty. It is usually so hot that we let our hair become limp and as a result we end up in September looking thoroughly unkempt and it takes most of the winter to get back in condition.

Keep Hair Clean
Hair, to be beautiful, must be healthy and healthy hair must be clean and well-brushed. To save yourself the added chore of reconditioning your hair in the fall, work out a routine of care and stick to it. Select the best time of day to brush your hair and keep at it systematically regardless of the temperature. Shampoo your hair as often as necessary. Don't think that because you washed your hair every two weeks in winter, once every two weeks will be sufficient now. Your hair gets hot and sticky in summer and needs to be washed often. The simplest hairdress looks well if your hair is immaculately clean.

If your hair is naturally dry, you may find oil shampoos beneficial, especially during the summer months. Sun and wind are drying to the hair and scalp, at best, and if your hair is dry to start out with, the results may be disastrous. It is a wise rule never to go out in the sun without a hat or some sort of covering over your head. The sun has a tendency to bleach and streak the hair, soiling your crown of glory. But you can't let the world find a bobby clip.
