CROCKER Y TEAM OVER THE TOP

Mrs. Mary Blakey, Charter Corinthian Member, Victim

GERTRUDE E. RUSH

Well known attorney in Des Moines and Chicago who has written a book on "Women in the Bible." Volume No. 1 has just been published.

Mrs. Rush has recently moved her law office back to Des Moines from Chicago and is located at 209 Fourth street.

The annual W. M. C. A. financial drive got a big start on Monday, October 16, when Toussaint (Speck) Howard, one of the team lieutenants in the Crocker Street Branch campaign, was heavy producer, turning in a first-day report of $123 of the $650 quota of the branch, Quentin

L. Mease, executive secretary reported. The teams went over the top on Thursday with $654. The citywide campaign with a general quota of $40,000, will end on Friday at a noon luncheon when all of the workers will make their final reports at the Central Y. M. C. A. The Crocker Branch campaign is being commanded by F. O. Morrow. Monday's total was $230; Tuesday's, $101; Wednesday's, $138; Thursday's $184, putting the team over the top. Workers in the Crocker Street drive are: A. P. Trotter, T. L. Ho-

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Blakey, 80-year-old charter member of the Corinthian Baptist church who was killed in a motor car collision were held Thursday afternoon, October 19 from Corinthian church.

Mrs. Blakey was on her way to her church at Ninth and School streets, Sunday morning, October 15, when she was struck while crossing the street at 11:05 a. m., at Eleventh and Day streets.

She had walked from 1147 Thirteenth street, where she was making her home with Attorney and Mrs. W. L. Oliver.

Native of Virginia

The accident in which Mrs. Blakey was killed was considered most unusual. Police were unable to determine definitely Sunday which of the two cars, crashing at Eleventh and Day streets, killed the woman as she crossed the intersection.

Mrs. Blakey, well known in church circles here, was born September 15, in Richmond, Va. She moved to Des Moines over fifty years ago as a young married woman.

Her husband, Simon Blakey, who was a deacon at Corinthian church, died 23 years ago.

The motor cars involved in the accident were driven by Tyne M. Buck, 61, 1911 Eleventh street, who was riding with his wife, Mrs. Buck, 58, both of whom were injured; and, Clarence Lucas, 18, 1221 S. E. Shaw street.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Gertrude White and Mrs. Ida Adams, both of whom arrived here from Chicago to attend the funeral; four grand children and three great grand children. Mrs. Gertrude Hester of Chicago, a grand daughter, came here for the funeral.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Buck, white, are in a serious condition at Mercy hospital.

Burial was in Glendale cemetery with the John M. Estes funeral directors in charge of the body.

'Greatest of All Evil Is War'-Lane

"Am I going to do it all over again?" queried Dr. Stoddard Lane, speaker at the peace meeting, held Sunday afternoon, October 15, at the St. Paul A. M. E. church. American flags and colors of the Des Moines Posts and Auxiliary Units of the American Legion made a patriotic scene in the auditorium of the church as the minister of the Plymouth Congregational church depicted the horrors of the last war.

"God help us all not to do it over again," he stressed referring to the last war.

"War is wrong," he told his listeners. "I believe that it is the greatest of all evil," he spoke.

He recalled that during the last world war, thirty-two million lives were lost and that there was nothing to show for it but suffering, more wars, more military training.

"Wars of today are entirely different—so entirely destructive," Dr. Lane stressed, and likened them to earthquakes, adding that "no-body wins in an earthquake."

Referring to the world war he said, "I must not forget," I know already America has taken sides in the war of today. We will be told that the cause is ours as we were told in 1917.

"I'm afraid that the drums are going to be beating in our ears, just as in 1917.

"So in the name of God I must not forget 1917 and its Holy cause and 1918 with its unholy results," he reminded himself as he impressed it upon his listeners.

"Am I going to do it all over selections, St. Paul A. M. E. church

FUNERAL RITES FOR BENJAMIN BAKER

Former Tuskegee Registrar, Albert L. Turner, Leaves on Eve of Banquet

Langston, Okla., Oct. 18 (ANP)—This usually staid and quiet college town last week was given a shock comparable to that of Britain's torpedoed Athena, when Albert L. Turner, newly installed president of Langston university threw up his hands in disgust, resigned after being on the job only two days and left for parts unknown just as a welcoming committee had perfected arrangements for a gala banquet in his honor.

President Turner, nationally known as the former registrar of Tuskegee Institute, resigned last Saturday, sent his resignation by mail to Fred Holman, white chairman of the Regents of Oklahoma colleges at the Holman residence in Guthrie. Some sources insisted that Turner left immediately, by auto, for the University of Michigan, at Ann Arbor, where he is enrolled.

Consults With Chairman Holmes Arriving last Friday, with his wife and daughter, Dr. Turner was domiciled by Acting President Lee in the Home Economics building, presided over by Mrs. Sadie Washington. It was known that soon thereafter, he went into consultation with Board Chairman Holman, but the fact of his withdrawal remained a secret until it was whispered about the campus that he and his family had left for Oklahoma City. There, in the office of Editor Roscoe Dunjee, he reportedly wrote out his resignation and mailed it to Holman. It read as follows:

"My dear Mr. Holman: Official inquiries and investigations made by me since my arrival reveal that during the last few days preceding my coming to the C. A. & N. university several important faculty appointments were made, and positions filled.

"Some of these appointments were to administrative positions which should have been the prerogative of the president to fill. I have also learned that salary adjustments have been made very recently for certain members of the faculty, and I personally encountered a strong suggestion concerning the appointment of the dean of the college.

"My interview with the Board of Regents led me to believe that the new president would not be faced by such conditions. Finding these conditions, therefore, compels me to believe that I will not from the beginning have the power to function successfully as a president whose chief interest is a raising the educational standards of the institution along all lines.

"In view of these facts I regretfully submit my resignation from the presidency of the Colored Agricultural and Normal University, to be effective immediately."

It was learned on the campus that dinner and reception had been planned for Monday night in honor of the new president and his family, under auspices of Acting President Lee and members of the faculty.

JUSTICE DEPARTMENT URGED TO ACT

New York—The continued lawless activity of the Ku Klux Klan in South Carolina, in brutal attacks on Negro citizens, is an effort to prevent colored citizens in this state from voting in 1940.

This was the view expressed by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in letters of protest to the Department of Justice. In two letters the Association called for federal action to punish Klansmen in South Carolina who last September 25 beat and mauled Negro citizens in Simpsonville and Fountain Inn.

choir; scripture, Rev. H. C. Boyd; solo, "My Buddie," James Rhodes; introduction of speaker, Rev. G. W. Robinson; solo, Everett Mays; remarks, John Munns; benediction, Rev. J. W. Tutt. Visitors were introduced by Mrs. Frances Hall, mistress of ceremonies.

Other features of the program were: prayer, Rev. John C. Bain;

"An investigation was planned and several people blocked it because it might hurt them politically. No great protest was made when the Negro members of the Drake dancing party were ordered off the floor at Riverview."

"I told the Council that in a recent restaurant incident three of our most respected citizens were insulted and no protest was made."

"I repeat that it is too bad that Dr. London, a good citizen and a fine doctor when he was rational, had to be so brutally handled and the investigation should be on that."

"But let's go down to the Council or grand jury and demand investigation when the civil liberties of law abiding Negroes are concerned."

To Make Probe

Dr. R. M. Powell of the Gospel Tabernacle, 1116 Second Street Place informed the Bystander that he was making a probe of the Dr. London case in order to determine whether or not an investigation was in order.

He said he had been appointed by the executive committee of the Negro Protective League of Iowa, an organization headed by him which has on its roll over 150,000 people.

He said although he had been offered the leadership in an investigation started by another person, he did not accept that but would prefer getting his own information.

Says London Statement Is Misleading

"My statement appearing in the daily paper, in regard to the London case was misleading," Allen Ashby, sports editor, informed the paper.

"I mentioned that it seemed odd to me that Negroes should have to wait until one has a tilt with the law before any investigation is demanded. To my knowledge the only investigations demanded by Negroes have been in cases where either was a suspected law violation or an actual one.

Mr. Ashby said he informed the council that "the civil liberties rights of Negroes have been violated in several instances" and nothing was ever done. In fact it was the only Negro who publicly protested the Trotter Ballroom incident."

CARVER JUST ONE OF MANY

Already much editorial comment has been made about the mistreatment of Dr. Carver by the management of the hotel New Yorker. In that instance, even though a room had been reserved for the famous scientist, he did not get it until newspaper reporters, an executive of a large publishing house and others went through hours of haranguing with the hotel management.

Which only goes to show that in most communities in America, the color of a man's skin, be he ever so great, is a badge of inferiority; that all Negroes are subject to the same treatment.

Of course, while intelligent a Negro wants to enjoy life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, he cannot afford to demand these things for himself only that are denied to the less fortunate of his race. He must realize that as long as the Negro on the lower ladder of life is denied his rights, the Negro at the top is subject to the same mistreatment. And it is harder when it does come to one of high position.

SAFETY WEEK

There is no more important campaign that that of safety and that's just what is being done this week. Already 371 people have lost their lives in traffic accidents this year in Iowa and the Bystander ventures to say many could have been avoided.

More people are driving cars each year and thus it becomes important that operators be better trained. And this will require a stiffer examination for a license to drive.

From general observation one cannot escape the conclusion that failure to have a car under control, reckless disregard for the safety of others and poor judgment account for most accidents. While these three reasons cover a multitude of sins, these faults must be kept in mind if accidents are going to decrease.

It is well to reemphasize safety rules—as is being done this week. These campaigns are designed to make us think as well as to act on a part of many people's driving.

THE YMCA DRIVE

The annual campaign for funds to support the Des Moines YMCA is on this week. The goal is for $40,000 much of which has been subscribed already. Generally speaking, the YMCA movement is a worthy undertaking and should command the support of the public as a whole. And it makes no difference in spirit whether the gift is for one or a thousand dollars.

Included in the budget is the Crocker Street department and while the amount subscribed by Negroes does not equal to the expenditures for this work the management does feel that the little hut on the corner is appreciated when Negroes make a good showing.

There are those who have criticized WMCA work in Des Moines because of the miserable support it has given the Negro work. The Bystander shares that view. In fact, the board ought to be ashamed of what is being done because many big subscribers think the Negro is being given a fair share of his subscription; because Negroes are excluded from participation in the Central Y activities; because the Crocker street work has no equipment with which to operate.

But this must not go on indefinitely for eventually somebody on the Central board is going to have the courage and sense of fair play to insist on justice for the Crocker Street department. In the meantime, Negroes must continue to carry their share of the responsibility.

BIBLE THOUGHT

"And now abideth faith, hope, charity, these three; but the greatest of these is charity." Corinthian 13:13.

The Bible thought of the week was chosen by Quentin L. Mease, executive secretary of the Crocker Street Branch YMCA.

BOOKS

AT PUBLIC LIBRARY

Kenneth G. Crawford's "The Pressure Boys," is another one of those exposes of life in the nation's capital. This newspaper correspondent presents his version of the inside story of lobbying in America.

Henry Seidel Canby's "Theoreau," presents new information about and interpretations of the great American writer. The book has been quite favorably received by the critics.

"Democracy's Norris," by Alfred Lief is an exciting biography of Senator George W. Norris.

From all the works of Thomas Wolfe his publishers have selected the poetical passages of make-up the book, "The Face of a Nation." These passages deal for the most part with life on the American continent. The publishers claim that these passages of prose poetry challenge comparison with the best.

Theodore Baron von Neuhoff was one of the amazing figures of the eighteenth century. His career as adventurer, gambler, lady's man, international spy is described in Valerie Pirie's "His Majesty of Corsica."

The above books have recently been received by the Des Moines public library.

"WHAT IS THE SECRET OF HENRY ARMSTRONG'S POPULARITY?"

By George McDavis

Is it because he has held the championships in three divisions? This fact, no doubt is the contributing factor, and maybe the reason small boys, after seeing his powers displayed on the screen, idolize and try to emulate him. But after exchanging confidences with him I find the secret does not lie in one, but rather a composite of four things: ability, ambition, foresight, and intelligence.

It has been my privilege to be his guest and had the opportunity to interview him when his guard was down, and the result was amazing. Monday afternoon at the La Marguerita Hotel, after the weighing in ceremonies we had a confidential chat relative to matters concerning his ambition and future. The average person would be content with his success, but not Henry. Fighting is strictly a matter of business with him, a means to an end. His real life is far removed from the plaudits of the cheering mob and the are lights of the squared circle. Strange as it seems, "Hammering Hank" or "Hurricane-Henry" as the scribes call him, is really a sentimentalist at heart, and would much rather practice the soothing strain of "Schubert" or "Mendelssohn" rather than the mainly art of Mayhem in the ring. Yes, those strong hands that deal out so much misery to his opponents, can also be gentle, tender and caressing.

He loves music and dancing, and within a year he intends to hang up his gloves for keeps and for once

PERITONSILLAR ABSCESS

This condition, known also as Quinsy, is a puss-forming inflammation next to the tonsil. It is a common ailment in adults, but seldom seen in children—and almost never occurs before the age of five or six.

The disease begins with malaise and chillness or a definite chill followed by a rise of temperature and pains in the throat. The pains soon become very severe radiating to the ear and down the neck. Swallowing is extremely painful and opening of the mouth is most difficult. The head is held stiffly, turned to one side, and the speech is thick and muffled; taste and smell are diminished, and the breath is foul. The patient looks and feels decidedly miserable.

The majority of cases recover quickly after the abscess is open, the patient should be confined to bed and given large quantities of fluids to drink, antiseptics, irrigations and hot compresses. The tonsils should be removed when all acute symptoms are gone—at least a month later.

pursue the art which he loves. Strange isn't it.

They say necessity is the mother of invention, and it also fostered a three times world champion, because a strong sequence of circumstances set Henry on the fistic trail to fame. His parents in St. Louis wanted him to study to be a doctor, despite the fact that he was musically inclined. He finished his high school course, but found that the good old American dollar was a very necessary requisite, so he and his brother Harry embarked on a tour of the country fighting at carnivals and preliminary cards; sharing hunger, privations, but has managed to keep his chin up despite the many disappointments that have been their lot. Today he has forsaken the box car for a pullman coach, and his entourage includes his brother, Harry, who acts as trainer and partner, Eddie Meade (White) formerly of New York City, manager; Fred Beale of New York City, secretary; Bernie Miller, promising lightweight of New York City, who also acts as sparring partner; and Gilbert Cox of Los Angeles, chauffeur. Henry and his brother travel by train, as his manager—Eddie—Meade forbids auto travel due to the chances of an accident, but the secretary and chauffeur travel in Henry's 1939 La Salle Sedan and carry the luggage and equipment.

I can readily understand why he is at the top. He has the courage of his convictions, and a magnetic personality. From his conversation, unless you know, one would never guess he was a pugilist. It is a rare thing to find among our fighters, a combination of intelligence and ability. His wife and daughter are an obsession with him. He lives and breathes for them and is anxious to get to Los Angeles, as the big little man is lonesome. He has elaborate plans for his daughter's future and is going to see that she has the best education money can obtain, but is wise in his decision to let her choose her own vocation.

It has long been a matter of conjecture and debate as to the vitality and staying powers of the champion. The secret can now be told. Henry Armstrong has an enlarged heart and lungs according to his physician. We might say that his heart is abnormal, and that he gets air clear to the bottom of his lungs each time he inhales, where the ordinary individual's lungs only partially fill. Due to this condition it takes him longer to warm up. In this fact lies the secret why his vitality with exertion.

It was a pleasure to talk to him, I found it educational and enlightening. He is unassuming, friendly, studious and most of all a credit to our race. He has added prestige and dignity to the manly art of self defense.

What he did at the Coliseum Monday night is history: Here's luck Henry.

Looking Over the Hawkeyes

By James B. Morris Jr.

Hello Everyone!!!

I guess it seemed that your correspondent had lost his right arm or had forgotten the art of writing because it seemed that it took him half of the year before he finally got around to letting you who are interested know the news here in Iowa City.

Since this is the first in this series of articles I deem it plausible that I begin by telling you something about the Negro student personnel here this year. For the first time in my experience here there seems to be a larger number than usual of Negro undergraduate students. Usually the bulk of our group is composed of graduate students who have done their undergraduate work at one of the Negro schools and come here to work on advanced degrees.

Another unusual thing is that the state of Iowa furnishes the greatest number. Des Moines alone has about ten undergraduates here and one graduate that I can think of off-hand.

Last Sunday night the Negro Forum had its first official meeting of the season. The meeting was attended by about thirty five students and was held in the Iowa Memorial Union. The program consisted of group songs led by Ola McCraney, A3 of Des Moines and Mrs. Caroline Stewart, G of West Virginia, Myron Bush, L4 of Cincinnati, gave a short talk on the history of the organization. Annie Nicholson, A1 of Davenport, gave her idea of what she expected from the Forum. Rodney Higgins, G of St. Louis, Mo., added to what Bush had said, and he outlined the financial program for the year. Following this the meeting was opened to questions on the organization, its relation to the other religious activities here on the campus. Yours truly presided and did his utmost to give an adequate answer to all questions that were asked. A week ago last Saturday night we had a wiener roast in the yard of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Lemme to give the students a chance to become acquainted and introduce the Forum to them.

Now to a little bit about the sports situation. The first three football games are history now and the fact that we lost the last one doesn't make us feel the least bit bad. Michigan has a wonderful team and Tom Harmon is one sweet halfback. We've seen him once the basketball floor and he gives a good account of himself in these circumstances. However, it was Harmon all the way. He figured in every scoring play the Wolverines executed and is undoubtedly headed for All American honors. One bad feature of the game was the fact that big Jim Walker, Iowa's pride and joy in the line, was injured in the first quarter of play and sat on the bench all during the last half.

We went down to meet the train when the boys come in Sunday night. There was a nice crowd on hand to welcome them home and plenty of spirit. The first thing that we noticed was that Walker was limping when he got off the train. I immediately asked him what the trouble was and he told me that he had injured his left knee. We are all in hope that he will be in good shape for the battle with Wisconsin's Badgers at Madison on Oct. 28. They have a two week rest until the next battle and we are hoping for the best. I won't make a prediction for that game but you should all know what I think. Fred Smith didn't get into the game but we are looking for plenty of good end play from him before the season is over. He is Capt. Prasse's understudy.

I think that I'd better sign off lest I grow maudlin. Your campus correspondent.

BY ALLEN ASHBY WALKER INJURED AS IOWA LOSES

As Iowa finally ran into the law of averages, they suffered a double set back. Besides losing the ball game to Michigan 27 to 7 the Hawkeyes also lost the services of Jim Walker, Negro tackle, who injured his knee early in the game. His absence from the line-up was one of the main reasons why Harmon of Michigan was able to cut over right tackle and score standing up every time the Wolverines got into play territory. Fred Smith didn't play.

Northwestern's Jimmy Smith and Ohio States Clyde Anderson tangled at Columbus last week and Ohio state came on top after a battle in which the two boys saw a lot of action.

Indiana's Archie Harris was a handy man as the Hoosiers staged a mild upset to dust Wisconsin. Martin also saw a lot of service at tackle.

Out on the coast Kenny Washington, Jackie Robinson and Woodrow Strode collaborated to keep the U. S. clubs unbeaten. Trailing 14 to 7 near the end of the game these boys turned loose a "blitzkrieg" spanked by Robinson, and tied the score with Stanford.

Here at home Cushingberry saw his bit of service as Drake was stopped by the Creighton gang 7 to 0. Willard isn't a bad lineman and may do all-right before he closes his career.

High School
After Bob White made last week's honor roll he was kept in with the shock troops and didn't see much service in the Centerville game. Claude Elliston was also regulated to the shock troopers, probably because his blocking could be improved. Joe Howard was in there a while.

At East, the boys had a ball as they swamped Lincoln 25 to 6 at one time there were five Negroes in the game. Clarence Lucas at end, Poochie Dacis at guard, and Lawrence Carter, Ralph Johnson and Johnny Skipper as backs. But none of them scored a point!

Tribune Weekly Honor Roll
John Dudley, Albin featherweight boxer and Harold Briggs of Roosevelt High of Cedar Rapids made the Tribune honor roll for high school players this week. Dudley did a lot of high class running, scampering 95 yards on a kick off return and fifty yards for a score. Briggs has made the roll about every week of the season started, the other two being Bob Chandler of Demmon and Baker of Clarinda.

Comets mates journeyed to Kenosha, Wisconsin to engage the Coopers, a member of the American pro league. The Coopers cooped them 17 to 0. They say Bob was a constant threat and kept the Coopers watching him all day. His total of thirty six yards was the high mark for ground gains.

BOXING

Had quite a chat with Davey Day, here for a visit with relatives. Day, you remember, is the former local boy who went twelve hot rounds with Henry Armstrong, welterweight champ. Day says, "That boy can hit with both hands." But of course Day thinks he would have won the last bout if they hadn't stopped it. He seemed surprised when we told him he was described as helpless in the twelfth round. He argues that the only way to fight Hammering Hank is to stay in there and try to punch as fast as he does. He might be right, but, after seeing Armstrong, we would like to see the man who punches as fast as he does. The air would be full of leather.

S. M. H.—What is the fault that I have that makes my husband tell me when he is angry that I don't look as good to him as other women and there is something other women have that I don't have. What should I do?

Ans: He's full of steam . . . likes to blow off as well as show off. If you didn't have charm, he wouldn't have married you. The main thing you need to guard against is letting him get angry . . . keep him in a good humor if possible, and these little troubles will adjust themselves. Stop worrying about losing your husband for he loves you.

M. E. W.—My friend and I are planning a Christmas wedding and wonder if I should go ahead with my plans, such as buying a wedding gown and everything else that goes with it?

Ans: By the first of November your fiance will be in a position to know if his job is permanent or not . . . make your announcement at that time. Go ahead and begin your "hope chest" but don't make a public announcement as yet.

F. A.—I sent my daughter a ticket a good while ago and I want to know if she got it or did someone else?

Ans: She knows where the ticket went to . . . but she couldn't get a chance to use it when you sent it. It is indicated to me that she is going to get in touch with you in a few months time and will be able to explain her queer actions in detail.

M. A.—My husband is a good worker and he likes to make things comfortable for me but he has a habit of gambling for pleasure. I feel his life is in danger and I want advice. Tell me why people tell me my place is with my husband when I go home for a visit?

Ans: Gambling is a very bad habit, but as long as he provided well for you haven't anything to complain about. I don't think he is the type that will let gambling go to his head . . . he goes so far, and stops. He's in no danger. People who advise you to spend more time with your husband are trying to help you . . . your place is at home with him.

A. H.—Please tell me if I will be able to get a settlement in full for the injury to my knee?

Ans: Indeed you can. You know quite well that you are talented and have the qualifications to succeed as a seamstress and it is indicated to me that you will open a Dressmaking Shop of your own when you get through your course.

Mrs. H. L. Barnes of Davenport was visiting friends here this week. Law reads that way. You are to receive a certain sum each week for a stipulated number of weeks . . . it isn't paid off at one time. Take care of your health and this knee and in a few months time, you will be able to begin work again.

R. C. B.—I am planning a course in sewing and I really have about everything to make a success of this field. Do you think I can make a living when I finish?

Ans: No . . . I don't think the living when I finish?

CANNING

By the Sampler

Mrs. Vesta Williams, 1022 Woodland avenue, has been busy during the past week putting up "Bread and Butter Pickles." She put up four gallons and used a recipe, handed down from a friend, which proved quite successful. The recipe:

2 quarts thinly sliced cucumbers
2 cups brown sugar
2 teaspoons celery seed
2 tablespoons horse radish
6 onions thinly sliced
6 cups vinegar
2 red peppers
½ teaspoon tumeric
½ cup salt

Combine cucumbers, salt, onions and peppers. Stand three hours in salt water. Drain. Simmer 15 minutes in spiced syrup. Can hot.

FASHIONETTE

Red and black was a favored combination, taking blue ribbons each time it appeared in the stands. Red turbans and chic red felt topped black or black-with-red dresses and suits, and stood out like stop lights in the crowd. Among those choosing these banner colors was Miss Ethel Waters, appearing here currently in Mamba's Daughters. The popular actress looked very smart in a black wool suit, sables and a jaunty red felt hat. Black suede bag, gloves and wedge-sole oxfords completed her ensemble.
