NATE BLACK RETIRES

Washington, Ia.—After fifty-three years in the printing profession, Nate L. Black, 70 years old, plans to retire from work. He has sold his interest in the Frazier & Black print shop on South Iowa avenue here. Starting in the printing trade here in 1886, Mr. Black became affiliated with Frank Frazier and maintained a partnership business for the past seven years. These two veterans in the typographical trade were graduated from Washington high school in 1886 and started to learn the same trade that year, both entering "Washington" newspaper offices.

Rev. Mason

Rev. J. W. Tutt, pastor of Union Baptist church, will be speaking at the East side union Thanksgiving Day services, 10:45 a. m., at Maple Street Baptist church. Rev. Ed Mason is serving as supply pastor at the Mt. Olive Baptist church, the pulpit of which was left vacant by the Rev. C. B. Wheeler, who accepted a charge in St. Paul, Minn. Rev. Mr. Mason formerly pastored at Colfax.

Await Etta Moten Dec. 10 Concert

With the entire community fairly electrified over the coming attraction, tickets are selling rapidly for the Etta Moten Concert to be held here on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 10, at 3 o'clock, at the Hoyt Sherman Place. The public is in for a musical treat which surrounding communities are invited to share, when glamorous Etta Moten appears here in person, giving those who have eagerly followed her career on the radio and screen and opportunity to see and hear her first hand. Run, don't walk, to the ticket agent nearest you, and get your tickets today! You will find them on sale at the Iowa Bystander, 208 Seventh; Community Pharmacy, 1200 Center; Walker Street Pharmacy, Blue Triangle branch of the YWCA. The concert is sponsored by the Alpha Delta Chapter, Iota Phi Lambda sorority and Phi Chapter of the Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, with the aid of the Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority.

Union Thanksgiving Day Church Services

Union Thanksgiving Day religious services will be held on Thursday morning, Nov. 30, at various churches in sections of the city. Rev. Boyd at Corinthian. The west side churches, St. Paul A. M. E., Burns Methodist and Corinthian Baptist will unite at Corinthian, at 11 o'clock. The Thanksgiving message will be delivered by the Rev. H. C. Boyd, pastor of St. Paul. Rev. Tutt at Maple. The East Side churches will hold their union Thanksgiving morning worship at the Maple Street Baptist with the Rev. A. Ross Brent. The other church in this union is Bethel A. M. E. and Union Baptist. The Rev. J. W. Tutt will be the speaker. The Southeast churches will hold their union Thanksgiving services at the Mt. Olive Baptist church where the membership of Kyles A. M. E. Zion church will congregate to hear the Rev. P. M. Marshall. Services in West Des Moines will be held at the Mt. Hebron Baptist church with the Rev. L. G. Garrett, pastor.

CROWDS HEAR DR. STODDARD LANE ON 'THANKFUL FOR THE NEGRO'

In keeping with the Thanksgiving season and pre-Thanksgiving vesper service, Dr. Stoddard Lane, pastor of Plymouth Congregational church, one of the largest in the city of Des Moines, spoke to a crowd at the East Side Community Center, Sunday evening, Nov. 19, on the subject, "Thankful for the Negroes." This particular sermon was delivered by Dr. Lane in February 1938 to his aristocratic white congregation. So full of information and inspiration was it that some of the members had copies of the sermon sent to their Negro friends. Among them to receive a copy was Atty. S. Joe Brown who introduced Dr. Lane at the Sunday evening vespers as a "real friend."

The past chairman of the Des Moines Interracial Commission and past president of the Iowa Council of Ministers, Dr. Lane was filled with touching experiences many of which he gained on a trip to the South. "I have just come back from Florida. It was my first trip into the deep south. I saw things which I had never seen before. I saw Jim Crow cars and Jim Crow schools, and Jim Crow movie houses and Jim Crow drinking-fountains and Jim Crow churches and Jim Crow slums and Jim Crow jobs and Jim Crow everything. I do not know who Jim Crow was but he must have been a great personage to have all these monuments, but I had never seen him, or at least I had never seen so much of him. I suppose that his other name is Jim Prejudice," Dr. Lane began his sermon.

"At any rate, I have to admit that he riled me. I don't like him. He got me all stirred up. I hate to see human beings treated as less than human beings. I hate to see white human beings acting as though they were superior to black human beings just because the color of their skin happens to be of different hue." Further in his sermon the minister read "I found myself growing hot under the collar, as I rode along in the 'white' car. And then I remembered two things: first, I remembered that Jim Crow is not confined to the South. I remembered that there is a lot of Jim-Crowism right where I live in the city of Des Moines. I remembered that up there in Des Moines there are Negro boys and girls who graduate from high school and college with high honors and then have no place to go because they are black."

"Misjudging"—A Cause In diagnosing the causes of race prejudice the minister picked out one for special mention. "I mean our habit of judging ourselves in terms of our best and other races in terms of their worst." He summed up his explanation by saying "we have just gone on—misjudging in terms of Negro worst. It might make a difference if we looked for the best."

Amazing Progress "Suppose we were to try judging the Negroes by their best, as we ourselves would be judged. Then we would have to take into account the amazing progress which the American Negro has made in his brief journey 'up from slavery.'

In listing a few of those who have led the "on-going procession" Dr. Lane named Booker T. Washington, "who stands forth as one of America's greatest educators;" Prof. E. E. Just, whose work in science has won such marked recognition that he has been invited to lecture at several European Universities; Dr. George W. Carver, one of the world's greatest experts in agricultural chemistry; Harry O. Tanner, artist of renown; Paul Lawrence Dunbar, William Stanley Braithwaite, James Weldon Johnson, Joseph Cotter, Leslie P. Hill, Countee Cullen, W. E. B.

ATTY. BROWN SPEAKS AT VALLEY HIGH SCHOOL

Atty. S. Joe Brown was guest speaker before the Sociology Class of the Valley High School in West Des Moines, last Friday morning upon the invitation of Robert Griffin Jr., the only Negro member of the class. DuBois, Claude McKay, Langston Hughes, and others.

Spectators Jam Jewish Community Center for Annual Monarch Minstrels

Stupendous was the crowd that jammed the auditorium of the Jewish Community Center, Thursday evening, Nov. 16, for the presentation of the Greater Monarch's Minstrels. So many were persons who were unable to gain entrance to the show that the sponsors set Wednesday evening, Nov. 29, the date for a return engagement.

Blues, ballads and old favorites made up the variety of croons and melodies which the Monarch club men exhibited in solos and choruses. The curtain went up portraying the usual minstrel circle moving in fast tempo to the swiny rhythms of Jerry Hayes and his orchestra. Interlocutor Toussiant (Speck) Howard announced the show and the men in the circle got things started to the tune of "Hallelujah."

In the ensemble were Dr. E. T. Scales, James Rhodes, Ralph Jones, Commodore Hendricks, Willie Williams, Dr. W. J. Ritchey, Paris Skanes, Morris DeSleet, John Estes, J. W. Mitchell. End Men Appear Opening the comedy of the show were end men, Charles Woods and Colen Scales who started a ball of fun rolling when they appeared with blackened comical-looking faces and strutted about the stage in swallow

tails, aeroplane wing red striped tie and mismatched shoes and hose. They told jokes—and started the steam to sizzle. A parade of crooners, soloists and tune-carriers featuring popular song hits took up much of the minstrel program and though long, the crowd applauded and encored Colen Scales in "I Am Sorry, For Myself;" William Williams, "Some-Where Over the Rainbow;" Dr. Joseph Ritchey in "White Sails;" Morris De Sleet singing "Prairie Boy," passing comments during each number like "I didn't know he could sing," "he's good" or "go on man."

"Jumping Jive" featured by John M. Estes got much foot-patting response from the audience and in a snappy, trimmed-down style, the undertaker had to do an encore. Right on his heels Charles Woods changed the atmosphere and gave an encored rendition of "Over the Billowy Sea," a bass solo. Sandwiched between the solo group was the appearance of the "king of fun" End Man Curtis Morton and Raymond Johnson who turned off the steam. Mr. Morton's repertoire of jokes, including everything from "cellophone diapers" to the "deacon and the ham" kept the audience laughing throughout the evening. More solo numbers followed featuring

Raymond Johnson in "I Used to Love You But It's All Over;" Commodore Hendricks, "Wishing;" Dr. E. T. Scales, "If I Had My Way;" Paris Skanes, "Bless You;" T. L. (Speck) Howard, "South of the Border;" Ralph Jones, "Cinderella Stay in My Arms;" James Rhodes, "I Surrender Dear;" and Curtis Morton, "Show Your Lineps, Sister Richardson." Commendable during the presentation of the show was the accompaniment of promising young musicians, young Charles Scott played a trumpet solo; and Langston Hardaway, for a young musician displayed artistry and natural musical ability in his vibraphone selections. Other features of this group were "St. Louis Blues" by Mrs. Azalee Gray Carr, and an impersonation of the immortal Bert Williams by J. W. Mitchell. The show closed with a skit, "Did She Make Him Walk? I Say She Did," with Johnness Kelso, Morris DeSleet, Mrs. Alice McCreaney, Mrs. Azalee Carr, Charles Woods, Willie Williams, Ralph Jones, Dr. E. T. Scales, John Estes, Dr. Joseph Ritchey, C. Scales, C. Morton, T. Howard, R. Johnson, as members of the cast. Pianist and accompanist for the show was capably done by Miss Ro-

Mrs. May Williams Is Found Not Guilty of Fatal Shooting

After deliberating nearly nine hours, a jury before District Judge Loy Ladd Tuesday, Nov. 21, found Mrs. Mae Williams, 42, not guilty of murder.

Mrs. Williams was brought to trial for the slaying on August 9 of Charles Helm, a boarder in her home at 1544 Scott street. Mrs. Williams said she shot Helm in self defense, as he was threatening her with a kitchen knife, and after he had repeatedly threatened her life. The jury received the case at about 10 a. m., and deliberated until 7:45 p. m., with two hours. On the witness stand Mrs. Williams broke down and sobbed during cross-examination when the assistant prosecutor questioned her about the operation of the gun, stating in reply to his questions, "I don't know anything about it." She testified that she did not intend to shoot Helm, that she did not know the gun went off.

Masons Hod 35th Event

The thirty-fifth anniversary celebration held by the members of Doric Lodge No. 30, A. F. & A. M. last Thursday evening drew to Des Moines the largest aggregation of distinguished, Prince Hall Masons that has ever assembled in the city for any occasion other than a State Grand Lodge. Hon. I. L. Brown, of Marshalltown, who is the senior Past Grand Master of the jurisdictional having been elected in July 1898; organized Doric Lodge at Enterprise, Iowa Nov. 1, 1904. He was the principal speaker and brought with him from Marshalltown, Hon. Geo. L. Suter, who nominated him when he first became a candidate in 1898 and who is himself a Past Grand Secretary and a Past Senior Grand Warden, as well as author of the first Grand Lodge Code; and Messrs. A. C. Wolder, Past Senior Grand Warden, Grant Jackson and Carl Brown, both past masters of Eureka Lodge No. 20 at Marshalltown. Other distinguished Masons who spoke on the program were: Hon. N. L. Black, Past Senior Grand Warden and Past Grand Treasurer, came from Washington, Iowa; and brought with him Walter Williams, a Past Master of Pearl City Lodge No. 39 of Muscatine; H. E. Jacobs, a Past Senior Warden; C. C. Johnson, Past Grand Custodian, Past Senior Grand Warden and Past Deputy Grand Master; Rev. Theof. Lighon, a Past Senior Grand Warden; L. E. Green, a Past Grand Custodian; W. J. Shepherd, Past Grand Custodian and Past Senior Grand Warden; Albert Gater, Past Grand Custodian; P. A. Reeves, a Past Master of Cedar Grove Lodge at Albia; Carl Mays, present Grand Custodian; Paul D. Goodloe, present Senior Grand Warden; and G. H. Edmunds, present Grand Auditor and J. M. Kelley a Past Master of North Star Lodge No. 2. While they have never held distinguished office in the Grand Lodge, the meeting was also honored by the presence of one charter member of Doric Lodge in the person of L. L. Branch, a past Senior Warden and of Prof. F. G. Goggin, one of the oldest past masters in the jurisdiction, having been elected Master of old Cedar Grove Lodge No. 18 in 1888, but who is now a member of Doric Lodge. The meeting was presided over by Atty. S. Joe Brown, its chairman of the Committee on arrangements who is a Past Grand Custodian, a Past Senior Grand Warden and next to I. L. Brown, the oldest living Past Grand Master. Other picture scenes and drawings bore the names of Ross Baskett, Herman Wadsworth, Melvin Marshall, James Boston, Joe Howard, Charles Hayes, William Spriggs, Myron Tillman. The exhibit room is open until 6 p. m. The Dillitane club which is sponsoring the annual event will close the exhibit on Sunday afternoon, Nov. 26, at which time a tea will be the occasion for the awarding of prizes.—M. E.

Art Exhibit Prizes to Be Given Sun.

The works of many young artists are on exhibit this week at the twelfth annual Negro Art Show, which opened on Monday, Nov. 20, in the art gallery of the Des Moines Public Library. Hanging from the spacious walls are many beautiful drawings, sketches and paintings with red and green tags attached to them, signifying that they have been awarded honors by the judges. Quilts of all patterns and designs take up a large part of the exhibition room. Crocheted spreads, table pieces, rugs, and other articles show much tedious work done by the owners. Tables of Art One long table holds many small art pieces of needlework. One exhibition consists of 12 miniature crocheted dolls with umbrellas and their escorts; another unusual piece is a white fur baby bunting, lined with blue satin. Pillow slips, table clothes, table pieces, handkerchiefs and towels are dressed up with catchy colored stitches. When you visit the show this week note the case holding the wood-carving, basket weaving, plaster-paris end pieces, leather tooled cases, slippers and small pieces. You can't miss the woodwork. One exhibit by a young fellow includes enough pieces to take care of all of your Christmas needs—a roomy cedar chest, coffee table, table lamp, stool, book rack, smoking stand and a few other odds and end pieces. In this group were beautiful table and floor lamps. With the exception of the picture group, none of the art pieces could be identified as the names of the owners were removed for judging. Charles Boston Exhibit Outstanding in the picture group is the work of Charles Boston which is on exhibit in the picture gallery. Seven pictures in his group show such artistry that the library attendants have given unusual prominence to them. All of his pictures received red and green tags of honor. Miss Georgine Mason entered several noteworthy pictures. One, a pen and ink drawing, entitled "Sailing," should not be missed. A young fellow who has been doing sketch work since he was able to hold a pencil in his hand, is 19-year-old Harry Sanders, who has two realistic "man at ease" sketches, which have red tags.

CENSUS JOBS TO OPEN

Plans are already being made to take the decennial federal census in 1940. State and district supervisors are being appointed. Later a host of enumerators and clerks will be hired making work for a large number of people.

Since the national administration is the Democratic party, naturally the top and a majority of the lower jobs will go to members of that party. However, Republicans will be hired too. Since a sizable number of Negroes belong to both, there is no reason why they should not have a fair share of the work. Negroes were well represented in 1930 when the last census was taken.

Unfortunately, Negroes have fared miserably in the disposition of federal patronage in Iowa. It is difficult to decide whether party leaders or the Negro himself have been responsible for it. But now that these places will be available, an opportunity remains to rectify this oversight.

Of course, jobs are given to those who apply. And it will be too late to complain when most of the work has been assigned and the Negro finds himself deprived of a decent share of the work. The Bystander suggests that high school graduates of recent years with the assistance of party leaders get busy and take advantage of this opportunity which comes once in ten years only.

A FINE SPIRIT

Much is being said about Iowa's famous football team—more than the Bystander could ever hope to print. However, nobody who has observed or read of the little band of "iron men" but admire their pluck and willingness to fight gallantly until the last whistle blows. In other words, they just won't be counted out.

Dr. Eddie Anderson made a hit with us when in a speech in Des Moines he said he was not running a political football team; that man's religion, color or politics made no difference to him. And that's a pretty fine spirit; a spirit that makes the poorest freshman know that he has an opportunity and that if he makes the grade nothing else counts. May that spirit ever remain at Iowa University. It will help make Iowa a better place for all of us.

And talking about opportunity at Iowa, as the big band paraded the field a Negro student was seen in the group. All these things go a long way to encourage the Negro race in the feeling that there is a spot where a "man's a man for that."

But one discordant note hangs on at the University and that is the very unsatisfactory housing condition for Negro students. Not only are they penalized by paying too much for what they get, but living conditions in some instances are deplorable. Some unsavory happenings should not be allowed to occur before something is done about it. Both the University officials and the public have a responsibility there which ought to crystallize for a betterment of the problem. At least the Bystander hopes that the problem will be tackled in earnest within the very near future so that this too will be a bright spot on the campus of Iowa University.

BIBLE THOUGHT

"He that regardeth the day, regardeth it unto the Lord; and he that regardeth not the day, to the Lord he doth not regard it. He that eateth, eateth to the Lord, for he giveth God Thanks; and he that eateth not, to the Lord he eateth not, and giveth God Thanks." Romans 14:6.

Also during October, the bindery mended 3,090 books, the hospital library service issued 1,210 books, 1,098 new cards were issued to new borrowers and a total of 2,237 men visited the men's reading room.

Looking Over the Hawkeyes

By James B. Morris Jr.
Homecoming has come and gone and we are still alive. This time of the year is always a period of great celebrations and this year we had some outstanding victory celebrations. I guess that you read in the papers that we didn't have any classes Monday. The administration beat us to the draw this week. Last week after the victory over Notre Dame the students walked out of classes and absolutely refused to go back. There was singing, cheering, dancing and parading. Someone said that Iowa City hasn't seen such a celebration since Iowa beat Yale back in the early "twenties."

I don't think that the Homecoming was good this year as I have seen some in the past. At least I didn't have as much fun. In spite of the

Health Hints

By Dr. C. R. Bradford

OVER-EATING

Dr. C. R. Bradford
With the approach of our yearly holiday season dietary in discretion will be common in many who feel that they must indulge frequently and heavily in all foods or drinks offered them.

On the other hand many cases of acute stomach trouble will be seen among those who always use discretion when eating and take only a small amount of food that is well masticated. These individuals become ill not from eating too much, but from the sudden change from an ordinary diet to one of rich heavy holiday foods seen chiefly at this time of year.

Pain that sometimes comes after over-eating or the indigestion of some food is caused by the sudden harsh movements of the stomach or intestines called (Peristaltic movements). This pain usually continues frequently getting worse causing the individual to curl up in a knot. The use of soda sometimes fails to give relief and very often a physician has to be called. If the patient hasn't vomited the doctor usually empties the stomach and almost immediate relief follows.

Appetite might be called a psychic demand of the animal organism for food intake. It is usually associated with a distinct sense of pleasure and may be stimulated thru the special senses of sight, smell and taste. When your appetite is satisfied do not continue to eat or drink. Avoid those foods you know will cause trouble. Have some regard for the quantity and quality of your food and drink and avoid spending part of the holiday season in bed.

fact that Iowa won the game. Saturday the team travels to western's Wildcats. Injuries have struck us rather bad but just the same we are looking for the Hawks to make it seven out of eight for the season. I hope to goodness that Michigan can't trump Ohio State because if they do and Iowa wins we will tie for the Big Ten championship. If things go right, Friday night will see your scribe and several of his henchmen in Chicago looking over the town and anxiously awaiting the game on Saturday afternoon. There is a special train for students leaving here Friday at noon and we are all looking forward to the trip. We are hoping that Jim Walker will be able to see some service in this last game of the year.

So Long until next week.

IOWA CLUB MEETS

The Iowa Des Moines club will meet at the Community Center, 907 15th street, Tuesday 28. All members are asked to be present. J. A. Wilson, president.

SPORTS

BY ALLEN ASHBY

BIG TEN FOOTBALL

There isn't much we can add to what has already been said about Iowa's football team. As we see it, eighty per cent of Iowa's success can be summed up in a few words. They won't quit. They credited the late Knute Rockne, Notre Dame's immortal coach, with the saying "a quitter never wins and a winner never quits."

Too those of you who marvel at Iowa's iron men performances, here is a little history. Rockne introduced the idea of two or three teams largely because he had so many good men he didn't know what to do with them. He would start one eleven which was really just about as strong as the other. Then his "regulars" would have a chance to size up the opposition and thus could work much better when they entered the fray. Other teams caught on, and soon football squads began to look like complete mobilization.

But when Notre Dame material began to decline in quality, Rockne didn't entirely abandon his system. He just lengthened the amount of service of his best men substituted freely only in the weak places.

Looks like Eddie has just taken a leaf from the old man. He has versed his boys in the fundamentals and has put the old spirit of Rockne into them. We were sorry to learn that Fred Smith won't finish the season with the squad.

Anderson of Ohio State and Anders of Illinois tangled last week and the scarlet and grey came out on top. Anders rated some press notices in Chicago papers for his fine play. Smith of Northwestern saw a lot of service as the Wildcats bowed to Notre Dame. Harris of Indiana ran into a lot of opposition as his team tied Michigan State.

Michigan State always carries at least one Negro in its lineup.

They held Jack Robinson and Bartlett out of the game and let General Washington and Woody Strode go it alone as U. C. L. A. tied Santa Clara. The Saints are one of the toughest teams and even a tie with them isn't bad, although the Uclans nearly pulled it out of the fire. Looks as if the boys are loading up for Oregon State and Southern California.

Bombers Outpointed by Comets
Chicago's Brown Bombers brought an airtight goal line defense and a weakness against long passes to town Sunday and engaged the Comets. They should have brought along their shooting irons and stabbing knives, for anything went as the Comets won a fifteen-round decision 14-0. The locals earned first manner by a long pass, and were handed another by the officials. The Bombers held on them one yard line but on the fourth down, their safety man was penalized for moving and the Comets got another down. We were right on the play, less than five feet away and the ball carrier never reached the scrimmage line but it was called a score by the officials.

After that there was no pretense at officiating and whenever three plays were completed without a near light it was news. The Bombers com-

G. B. TUCKER AND CO. TO OPEN MODERN SHOP
G. B. Tucker and Company, announced this week that they have taken a long time lease at 1200 Keo, for the operation of a paint and body shop and filling station.

According to Mr. Tucker, "this will be a one-stop station, where the public will be able to get everything from five-cents worth of gasoline to a complete rebuilding or wrecked cars."

The building is being remodeled into a modern shop and will be equipped with every item necessary for first class service. The date for the formal opening will be announced soon.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank the many friends for their expressions of sympathy in our hour of bereavement at the death of our loved one, Mrs. Lizzie Topson, also Ozeil Chapter of the Eastern Star, Social Art club, Deaconess board of the Corinthian Baptist church for the beautiful flowers, Rev. Robinson for his encouraging remarks, donations of cars, and L. Fowler and Son funeral directors for their efficient services.

MY NEW 1940 ASTROLOGY READINGS ARE READY
F. L. W.—For the past year or so I suffer all the time with the headache and the doctor says he doesn't know what it is from. Now I have been taking medicine from the root doctor and I am still not well. What should I do?
Ans: Stop taking medicine and go to a good HEAD SPECIALIST. He will examine you thoroughly . . . in all probability you should have glasses and taking root medicine isn't going to help you one bit. Don't waste your time and money on anyone who isn't a doctor.

F. E.—I lived with a girl seven years common law and we had two children. When we married we couldn't get along at all and three weeks after we married, we separated. I have asked her to come back and she won't. Should I forget the whole thing and let fate iron it out?
Ans: She feels that she doesn't love you and would be happier alone. Yes, let her alone, but you should do something for your children. In a few months or a year she will feel differently about you and will gladly accept you again.

F. C. B.—For the past six months I can't seem to stretch my salary from one pay day to the other and I get in an awful jam each month before pay day. What is the trouble?
Ans: A man, with a family and with the income that you receive, has no business with a CAR. It is very expensive to operate a car and drive it fifteen miles a day and it is indicated to me that you will be forced to sell the car or get a job making more money.

CENSUS JOBS TO OPEN

Plans are already being made to take the decennial federal census in 1940. State and district supervisors are being appointed. Later a host of enumerators and clerks will be hired making work for a large number of people.

Since the national administration is the Democratic party, naturally the top and a majority of the lower jobs will go to members of that party. However, Republicans will be hired too. Since a sizable number of Negroes belong to both, there is no reason why they should not have a fair share of the work. Negroes were well represented in 1930 when the last census was taken.

Unfortunately, Negroes have fared miserably in the disposition of federal patronage in Iowa. It is difficult to decide whether party leaders or the Negro himself have been responsible for it. But now that these places will be available, an opportunity remains to rectify this oversight.

Of course, jobs are given to those who apply. And it will be too late to complain when most of the work has been assigned and the Negro finds himself deprived of a decent share of the work. The Bystander suggests that high school graduates of recent years with the assistance of party leaders get busy and take advantage of this opportunity which comes once in ten years only.

A FINE SPIRIT

Much is being said about Iowa's famous football team—more than the Bystander could ever hope to print. However, nobody who has observed or read of the little band of "iron men" but admire their pluck and willingness to fight gallantly until the last whistle blows. In other words, they just won't be counted out.

Dr. Eddie Anderson made a hit with us when in a speech in Des Moines he said he was not running a political football team—that man's religion, color or politics made no difference to him. And that's a pretty fine spirit; a spirit that makes the poorest freshman know that if he makes the grade nothing else counts. May that spirit ever remain at Iowa University. It will help make Iowa a better place for all of us.

And talking about opportunity at Iowa, as the big band paraded the field a Negro student was seen in the group. All these things go a long way to encourage the Negro race in the feeling that there is a spot where a "man's a man for that."

But one discordant note hangs on at the University and that is the very unsatisfactory housing condition for Negro students. Not only are they penalized by paying too much for what they get, but living conditions in some instances are deplorable. Some unsavory happenings should not be allowed to occur before something is done about it. Both the University officials and the public have a responsibility there which ought to crystallize for a betterment of the problem. At least the Bystander hopes that the problem will be tackled in earnest within the very near future so that this too will be a bright spot on the campus of Iowa University.

Looking Over the Hawkeyes

By James B. Morris Jr.

Homecoming has come and gone and we are still alive. This time of the year is always a period of great celebrations and this year we had some outstanding victory celebrations. I guess that you read in the papers that we didn't have any classes Monday. The administration beat us to the draw this week. Last week after the victory over Notre Dame the students walked out of classes and absolutely refused to go back. There was singing, cheering, dancing and parading. Someone said that Iowa City hasn't seen such a celebration since Iowa beat Yale back in the early "twenties."

I don't think that the Homecoming was as good this year as I have seen some in the past. At least I didn't have as much fun. In spite of the

Health Hints

By Dr. C. R. Bradford

OVER-EATING

With the approach of our yearly holiday season dietary in discretion will be common in many who feel that they must indulge frequently and heavily in all foods or drinks offered them.

On the other hand many cases of acute stomach trouble will be seen among those who always use discretion when eating and take only a small amount of food that is well masticated. These individuals become ill not from eating too much, but from the sudden change from an ordinary diet to one of rich heavy holiday foods seen chiefly at this time of year.

Pain that sometimes comes after over-eating or the indigestion of some food is caused by the sudden harsh movements of the stomach or intestines called (Peristaltic movements). This pain usually continues frequently getting worse causing the individual to curl up in a knot. The use of soda sometimes fails to give relief and very often a physician has to be called. If the patient hasn't vomited the doctor usually empties the stomach and almost immediate relief follows.

Appetite might be called a psychic demand of the animal organism for food intake. It is usually associated with a distinct sense of pleasure and may be stimulated through the special senses of sight, smell and taste. When your appetite is satisfied do not continue to eat or drink. Avoid those foods you know will cause trouble. Have some regard for the quantity and quality of your food and drink and avoid spending part of the holiday season in bed.

fact that Iowa won the game. Saturday the team travels to western's Wildcats. Injuries have struck us rather bad but just the same I am looking for the Hawks to make it seven out of eight for the season. I hope to goodness that Michigan can trump Ohio State because if they do and Iowa wins we will tie for the Big Ten championship. If things go right, Friday night will see your scribe and several of his henchmen in Chicago looking over the town and anxiously awaiting the game on Saturday afternoon. There is a special train for students leaving here Friday at noon and we are all looking forward to the trip. We are hoping that Jim Walker will be able to see some service in this last game of the year.

So Long until next week.

IOWA CLUB MEETS

The Iowa Des Moines club will meet at the Community Center, 907 15th street, Tuesday 28. All members are asked to be present. J. A. Wilson, president.

SPORTS

BY ALLEN ASHBY

BIG TEN FOOTBALL

There isn't much we can add to what has already been said about Iowa's football team. As we see it, eighty per cent of Iowa's success can be summed up in a few words. They won't quit. They credited the late Knute Rockne, Notre Dame's immortal coach, with the saying "a quitter never wins and a winner never quits."

Too those of you who marvel at Iowa's iron men performances, here is a little history. Rockne introduced the idea of two or three teams largely because he had so many good men he didn't know what to do with them. He would start one eleven which was really just about as strong as the other. Then his "regulars" would have a chance to size up the opposition and thus could work much better when they entered the fray. Other teams, caught on, and soon football squads began to look like complete mobilization.

But when Notre Dame material began to decline in quality, Rockne didn't entirely abandon his system. He just lengthened the amount of service of his best men substituted freely only in the weak places.

Looks like Eddie has just taken a leaf from the old man. He has versed his boys in the fundamentals and has put the old spirit of Rockne in to them. We were sorry to learn that Fred Smith won't finish the season with the squad.

Anderson of Ohio State and Anders of Illinois tangled last week and the scarlet and grey came out on top. Anders rated some press notices in Chicago papers for his fine play. Smith of Northwestern saw a lot of service as the Wilcats bowed to Notre Dame. Harris of Indiana ran into a lot of opposition as his team tied Michigan State.

Michigan State always carries at least one Negro in its lineup.

They held Jack Robinson and Bartlett out of the game and let General Washington and Woody Strode go it alone as U. C. L. A. tied Santa Clara. The Saints are one of the toughest teams and even a tie with them isn't bad, although the Uclans nearly pulled it out of the fire. Looks as if the boys are leading up for Oregon State and Southern California.

Bombers Outpointed by Comets
 Chicago's Brown Bombers brought an airtight goal line defense and a weakness against long passes to town Sunday and engaged the Comets. They should have brought along their shooting irons and stabbing knives, for anything went as the Comets won a fifteen-round decision 14-0. The locals earned first money by a long pass, and were handed another by the officials. The Bombers held on them oneyard line but on the fourth down, their safety man was penalized for moving and the Comets got another down. We were right on the play, less than five feet away and the ball carrier never reached the scrimmage line but it was called a score by the officials.

After that there was no pretense at officiating and whenever three plays were completed without a near fight it was news. The Bombers com-

G. B. TUCKER AND CO. TO OPEN MODERN SHOP
 G. B. Tucker and Company, announced this week that they have taken a long time lease at 1200 Keo, for the operation of a paint and body shop and filling station.

According to Mr. Tucker, "this will be a one-stop station, where the public will be able to get everything from five-cents worth of gasoline to a complete rebuilding or wrecked cars."

The building is being remodeled into a modern shop and will be equipped with every item necessary for first class service. The date for the formal opening will be announced soon.

pleted a pass over the goal line, but after the receiver grounded the ball it was knocked out of his hand and was ruled incomplete when all a man has to do is catch a ball and go to the ground for a complete pass.

MY NEW 1940 ASTROLOGY READINGS ARE READY
F. L. W.—For the past year or so I suffer all the time with the headache and the doctor says he doesn't know what it is from. Now I have been taking medicine from the root doctor and I am still not well. What should I do?
Ans: Stop taking medicine and go to a good HEAD SPECIALIST. He will examine you thoroughly... in all probability you should have glasses and taking root medicine isn't going to help you one bit. Don't waste your time and money on anyone who isn't a doctor.

F. E.—I lived with a girl seven years common law and we had two children. When we married we couldn't get along at all and three weeks after we married, we separated. I have asked her to come back and she won't. Should I forget the whole thing and let fate run it out?
Ans: She feels that she doesn't love you and would be happier alone. Yes, let her alone, but you should do something for your children. In a few months or a year she will feel differently about you and will gladly accept you again.

F. C. B.—For the past six months I can't seem to stretch my salary from one pay day to the other and I get in an awful jam each month before pay day. What is the trouble?
Ans: A man, with a family and with the income that you receive, has no business with a CAR. It is very expensive to operate a car and drive it fifteen miles a day and it is indicated to me that you will be forced to sell the car or get a job making more money.

Entrenous

It's sorta late for this, but anyway Hip! Hip! Hooray! and all that kind of stuff for Iowa City... Everyone I meet is thrilled to the very brim telling in their way about the game Saturday... Good times were had by all who were there... and here... the dance and after parties were all killers... He was there and so was she, but some one else went to Council Bluffs and brought her there... He grabbed her arm and jerked her to him, then asked in a very commanding manner, "Say, just where do I stand..." She looked at him in great surprise and then said in a sweet voice "Why on your feet... just anywhere..." They (M. S. and R. D.) bought two tickets for the game and dance afterwards to take the one girl they both admired who is a student there, but something came up and so that left M. S. out, and R. D. had all the fun... after throwing other competition. She's (H. C.) a popular number on the campus so I'm told and L. S. has his eyes set and she is his goal... NOW BACK HOME... everyone is happy as can be... We just witnessed another of the greater Monarch Minstrel shows... When "I Surrender Dear" and "If I Had My Way" were sung many old memories which were thought to have been in a deep grave arose again... What has happened to the Barber-Morrison affair... He was trying desperately at the College-Hi dance to rope W. M. T. in while the pride of his heart was having a jolly time... Rose Mary P. and Hugh B. have at last disclosed the date which is Saturday, November 25... Have you noticed the gorgeous diamond ring Evelyn C. is wearing? The Sepia Tattler.

MRS. SMITH ILL

Mrs. Dorothy Smith is ill at her home this week.

EAST SIDE VESPERS

PRE-THANKSGIVING TEA

The East Side Community Center, though small and inadequate to meet its needs and problems in the community to the best advantage, packed patrons in each of the downstairs rooms Sunday evening, Nov. 19, at the annual pre-Thanksgiving candlelight vespers and tea, sponsored by Miss Sarah Steele.

Many of the patrons seated in hallways and off rooms could hear what was going on but were not able to see the beautifully-robed girls glee club singers, the guest speaker or any of the participants on the program.

Music of Thanksgiving, under the direction of Miss Steele, was offered by the glee club who sang "Rejoice Ye Pure in Heart," "Thanks Be to God" (Dickins), and a chant, "Saviour Breathe an Evening Blessing."

The program moved smoothly with Atty. S. Joe Brown presiding who presented Dr. Stoddard Lane, pastor of the Plymouth Congregational church, guest speaker, who chose as his subject, "Thankful for the Negroes."

Guest soloists were Benny Dacus, accompanied by his brother, Calvin Dacus, playing "Ava Maria" (Schubert) on a viola; and Miss Alice Kenney who offered as a solo, "O Lord How Grateful Am I" (Cara Noma). The postlude and prelude was played by Miss Marian Simmons.

Presiding at a beautifully appointed table with Thanksgiving decorations was Miss Clara Webb, who poured tea. Music for the tea was played by Miss Marian Simmons, piano student of Miss Steele's.

Girls in the glee club are: Alice Kenney, Dana Herndon, Inez Herndon, Barbara King, Anna Brewer, Quana Juanice McEroy, Lillian Cooper, Kathleen Frazier, May Henry Grumb, Constance Peck, Mary Brown, Lenora Brown, Maxine Woods, Geneva Vollner, Wanda Humbert and Marian Simmons.

YOUTH AT ST. PAUL'S CHURCH

The annual Youth Day observance at St. Paul A. M. E. church was a decided success from every point of view; with youth very much in evidence at each service, starting out with the Sunday School at 9:30 a. m. in which more than a hundred young people assemble each Sunday.

At the eleven o'clock service the young people served as ushers under the direction of Calvin Dacus a sophomore and Chas. P. Howard Jr., a freshman in Drake university who ushered about a hundred young people between the ages of fifteen and thirty into the special section reserved for them. After an inspiring message delivered to them by the pastor, Rev. H. C. Boyd, upon the "Follies and Joys of Youth" three of them Miss Minnie Lee, Walter Newton and Wm. (Billie) Fratcher came forward and united with the church.

At the Christian Endeavor hour, the young people discussed the subject "Must We Have Crime" and listened to an instructive address upon the subject, by Lechis A. Ashby, a young Negro who is head of the identification bureau of the Polk County Sheriff's office.

At the evening service the young people were in complete charge, with Miss Muberta Gater, a senior at Roosevelt High School presiding, the messages being brought by two Drake University seniors, Mr. Roy Ferguson of the College of Law and Miss Winifred Brooks of the College of Liberal Arts. Mr. Ike Smalls and a group of Jewish young people were honored guests at this service.
On Monday evening the young people joined with the seniors in the annual Fellowship supper, which was served, "pot luck" style, in the spacious dining rooms of the church; and at which the principal address was given by Atty. Chas. P. Howard and Mrs. Helen Beshears.
Next Sunday, being nearest to both Thanksgiving days, it is to be observed as "Family and Home Coming Day" and is expected to climax the entire "Go to Church Campaign" which has been on during this entire month. On this occasion the membership will be seated by families and the pastor will bring a special message upon the Family and Home Life and will give special recognition as well as a material prize to the head of the family having the largest number in attendance.
