Divine's Trial Is Opened in New York

New York (ANP)—Set for trial on Monday in the Supreme Court was a suit brought by Mrs. Verinda Brown, former "angel" of Father Divine, seeking to compel the cultist to account for the finances of his peace mission movement and to repay to her the sum of $4,400 she says she advanced the cult leader.

Mrs. Brown also seeks a court order directing Father Divine to dissolve the peace mission and distribute their assets, pro rata, among his followers.

900-Acre Georgia Farm to Be Improved by Negroes

Industrial College, Ga. (ANP)—Negroes have come into possession of an additional tract of land containing 900 acres, in the Log Cabin community. This farm, formerly the Hillman estate, is considered one of the finest farms in middle Georgia.

The farm was once the home of the late Camilla Hubert, the mother of the Hubert children who pioneered in establishing the Log Cabin Community center as a demonstration of what Negroes may do for themselves to improve economic and social conditions in the rural South. The mothers of the Huberts and the Dixons, all natives and owners of farms in this community, were slaves during their early life on this farm.

EVA JESSYE AND CHOIR VISIT DES MOINES

The Eva Jessye Choir of Sumpter, South Carolina, made famous by its rendition of the music in "Hallelujah" and "Porgy and Bess" two of the early Negro talkies appeared upon the program and rendered a full hour's concert before the exclusive Des Moines Women's Club at their club house the "Hoyt Sherman Place" in this city on the afternoon of Wednesday, November 29.

Miss Moten, the daughter of Presiding Elder and Mrs. F. F. Moten of Kansas City, has sung before large church audiences since her childhood days, her father being an A. M. E.

Three social service workers representing their respective social agencies appeared on the program at the weekly noon luncheon meeting of the Negro Chamber of Commerce Monday at the Blue Triangle Y. W. C. A.

The speakers—Misses Clara Webb and Wilda Mullins, and Mrs. Helen D. Beshears interpreted the work in their particular fields and advised the manner in which more effective results might be obtained through the medium of the Chamber.

Mrs. Beshears told of the work of the Juvenile Court and its related groups, while Miss Webb gave an account of the activities of the Relief Agencies. The work of the Pupil Adjustment department of the Board of Education was narrated by Miss Mullins.

Mrs. Azalia Mitchell and Manson L. James will be the speakers on the December 11th meeting, discussing individually, "What the Drug Stores and Insurance Companies Can Do Through the Chamber of Commerce To Serve the Community."

Before going to the University of Kansas where she studied in the School of Fine Arts, she attended Western university and appeared with the Jackson Jubilee Singers.

Many churchmen and women, especially in the A. M. E. connection, know of Miss Moten's ability. The Rev. and Mrs. H. C. Boyd, here, are good friends of the noted singer.

Tickets may be purchased at many of the Negro business places, the YWCA, the Bystander and on Friday and Saturday at Stoner Piano Company.

A NAACP VICTORY

The NAACP won a signal victory in Maryland County last week when a federal judge ruled that Negro teachers must be paid the same salary as white teachers.

It seems ridiculous that such discrimination should exist and yet that is true not only in public but private employment.

The Republican party can well say "I told you so," in its criticism over a period of years of President Roosevelt's recognition of Russia.

THE ART EXHIBIT

Des Moines is thankful to the Dilettante Club, a group of women, who for the past twelve years, have sponsored a Negro art exhibit.

Those who viewed the exhibit at the public library this year saw over 400 exhibits including graphic arts, novelties, needlework of all kinds and other crafts. The entries were highly creditable and demonstrated that the exhibitors had given their work careful attention.

A great many people can do things, but it remains for someone to present the opportunity to let others know about them. This, the Dilettante club has done much to the pleasure of the people of Des Moines and those who took advantage of the opportunity offered them.

NEGROES LOYAL TO LABOR

The refusal of Negro workers to join a scab movement to break the long-drawn-out Chrysler strike in Detroit, is a credit to this group and further evidence that union leaders ought to take these workers into their units on a more equitable basis.

The strike had lasted over two months. Two union factions attempted to join the right to be spokesmen in negotiations for settlement of the strike. The CIO included many Negro members among the strikers while the group led by the A. F. of L. unit undertook to break the strike by sending Negroes through the picket lines into the plants.

Not only were they unable to secure more than a handful of Negro strike-breakers, but those they did get refused to go through the picket lines.

Labor ought to learn that it cannot maintain a solid front by excluding a large group of workers from membership. And Negroes must learn that it cannot allow themselves to be used as strike breakers and expect decent treatment from the unions.

This is not the first time that efforts have been made by large companies to have Negroes pull their chestnuts out of the fire. And fortunately in each instance they have refused to be used for such purposes.

ALL FATHER'S CHILLUN GOT HEAVENS

By Jack Alexander in Saturday Evening Post Nov. 18.

(Reviewed by Louise Glass) Nearly seven pages of the Nov. 18, Saturday Evening Post are given over to Father Divine, his "heavens" and his "angels."

Most of us are somewhat familiar with Father Divine and his cult because he has been in the headlines and news reels more than any one of our group of the present time.

The article gives many details of this unusual leader, and his adoring followers. But Jack Alexander, the author, does not seem any more able to reveal the secret of the cult than any one else has been able to do.

Some facts stand out clearly. He must have the qualities of a great leader.

He must be a shrewd business man. His adherents are seldom, if ever, in trouble that brings them into court.

He knows when to speak and what to say and above all, when to keep his mouth shut.

Personally, Father Divine seems to be an opportunist de luxe. Even though you are sure that he has some kind of a smooth racket, and he doesn't interest you as a religionist, you will find this article interesting.

BOOKS AT THE DES MOINES PUBLIC LIBRARY

"Furs to Furrows," by Sydney Greenbie. A vivid re-appraisal of the historic drama of the American fur trade.

"South of Joplin: Story of a Tri-State Diggin'" by L. S. Davidson. A stirring account, based on personal findings, of the industrial and human struggles in the famous tri-state lead mining districts of Kansas, Missouri, and Oklahoma, in the years from 1895 to the present.

"America's Garden Book," by Mrs. L. C. Bush-Brown. A very comprehensive cyclopedia of garden information. Fully illustrated with natural color photographs and drawings.

"If Not Victory," by Frank O. Hough. The author of "Renown," again uses his knowledge of the American Revolution to produce a novel whose characters are not historical figures but plain people of the so-called "Neutral Ground," in Westchester County, New York, where war was seen at its grimmest.

Cage Teams Prepare For Season

Practice sessions for approximately 22 teams entered in the 1939-40 Crocker YMCA basketball leagues were inaugurated this week on the West High court. Senior, intermediate and junior squads engaged in pre-season rehearsals for the coming season on Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights of this week and will repeat on the same nights next week.

Tentative arrangements to open the season's schedules on Monday, December 11th were abandoned by the basketball committee in its meeting Tuesday night to permit a number of the teams to drill further and become accustomed to the rule changes in effect this season. The opening games will be played the week of December 15, the full schedule to be announced later. The final date for entries in all leagues has been set for Thursday, December 14.

The following teams have entered in their respective divisions: Senior—H. I. B. Club, Corinthian Baptist, Negro Community Center, Kings Jesters, Little Rens, The Brownies, and two unnamed organizations; Intermediate—The Hawkeyes, Hardaway's "Y" Stars, Tigers, Roadside Intermediates, H. I. B. Intermediates; Western Junior—Tigers, Highland Aces, H. I. B. Juniors, Commodores; Eastern Juniors—Falcons, Negro Community Juniors, Red Birds and Blue Devils.

RINGWORM

There are four varieties: ringworm of the body, scalp, beard, feet and hands. The disease is due to a contagious vegetable parasite!

The disease begins as one or several rounded or irregular pea-size, reddish scaly patches. In a few days these assume a circular shape with minute papules or vesicles around the area. Spreading peripherally and healing centrally go hand in hand so that the patches when developed are ring shaped. Itching is usually slight, with the face, neck and back of hands the frequent sites. When the head is involved itching is usually severe.

The affection yields to treatment and the treatment consists of the use of parasiticidal ointments and lotions. When the scalp is involved it should be washed frequently and thoroughly. Care should be used to avoid as much as possible direct contact with well individuals.

Looking Over the Hawkeyes

By James B. Morris Jr.

Much water has gone under the bridge since I last wrote to you. Kinnick has received several national awards and at this writing he and Eddie Anderson have gone to New York where the Heisman award is to be presented. It really makes us feel good to see an Iowan receive such nation-wide acclaim. You also know that Iowa is now ranked eighth in the country's football teams. This is the highest that an Iowa aggregation has ranked in many a day. The "On Iowa" club presented the members of the team with some very nice gifts last week and from the talk that we are hearing there are some more very nice ones on the way.

The Negro Forum is sponsoring a radio program over WSUI sometime next week before the vacation. I don't know when the program will come off as yet but I shall attempt to let you know in time so that you all may listen.

We have a full weekend of social affairs coming up. Friday night the Alphas are holding an open house, Saturday the Kappas are giving a party for the members, pledges and their company and Sunday night the Forum is holding its annual Xmas party. All of these promise to be lively affairs and we are waiting to take them all in.

The financial drive of the Religious Activities Board is under way and we are all out doing the best we can to solicit some funds for the carrying on of this fine work. A lot of work is to be done to get the thing ready to present to the public and much more is to be done before the last shot is fired. Many of the campus organizations benefit from the drive and consequently everyone is doing all that he can to make this one a larger success than those of previous years even though times are just as hard if not harder. This work has all of our moral as well as financial support. Later I'll give you the results as well as commend those who have made the drive a success.

Judge Carlson of Des Moines spoke at a banquet of the YMCA honoring the new board members of this year. He gave a fine talk and I'm sure that we all enjoyed as well as profited from his remarks.

Complete program and particulars will be announced in the near future. Committee Groups Scheduled The following committees will meet at 7:30 p. m. on the nights indicated: Tuesday—Basketball. Wednesday—Young Men's. Thursday—Camp. Friday—Father's Son.

SPORTS

BY ALLEN ASHBY

KING FOOTBALL ON WAY OUT

The gridiron season, one of the craziest of them all, is just about over. The Big Ten and most of our mid-western schools finished up two weeks ago. Kenny Washington, Jack Robinson and Strode put on a display of fireworks to be able to play Southern California for the Rose Bowl bid. From where we sit the Trojans appear to have too much stuff for our chosen gang, but you never can tell.

On nearly all the All-American teams, Washington rates second team honors behind Kinnick of Iowa, and Harmon of Michigan. Making a thirty Really that is the only sensible way to pick an all American team. A squad of about thirty players, and Washington will make any squad like that anybody picks.

NEGRO COLLEGES

Our Negro schools ended their season with Langston the pick of the southwest, Virginia State the best in the East and Alabama State the kings of the Southeast.

Florida State really took charge of Xavier's gold rush and spanked 'em right soundly 33-0. Arkansas State uncovered the magic of Le Moynes' Mad Magicians to stop them 12-7. Birmingham Southern tripped Howard 9-6, and Tennessee State celebrated a joyous homecoming by dusting Lincoln 13-6. Claffin outscored Morris Brown 19-12, and J. C. Smith turned back Livingston 13-0. Talladega ended a disastrous season by getting knocked 13-0 by Knoxville. Tuskegee fans are happy once more, because the Tigers downed a great Bama State team 6-0. Bluefield Teachers completed the day by romping over Shaw 39-7 as Greensboro A. and T. set down North Carolina 7-0.

HIGH SCHOOLS

We couldn't believe our eyes last

Sunday when we scanned the Register's six all state teams and saw not one Negro on any team. No Lucas of East, no Briggs of Cedar Rapids, no Baker of Davenport.

We saw very few of the high school teams play, but we saw Lucas of East several times. No one can convince your writer that there were twelve ends in the state who out ranked this boy. We would travel just two many miles to see the twelve ends that eclipse the all round brilliance of our boy from Lee Township.

According to all reports Harold Briggs of Roosevelt High of Cedar Rapids and Ronny Baker of Davenport were the main offensive weapons of their teams week after week. We would do more than cross the street to see the twelve backs who are better than these boys, if we can believe what we read.

We don't like to yell prejudice, but as long as the first eleven is entertained in Chicago in such style by the Register our Negro football players better red hot all season if they want that trip.

Right on the heels of football comes basketball. Bob White turned in a nice game for North at Marshalltown. Boots Holt, Jim Bowman and Joe Howard are all on the squad. These boys like basketball and will work hard at it, so they may have a real year.

BOXING

The New York boxing commission does something ever so often to earn the title of the Three Dumb Ducks. The latest act in cancelling the second Ambers-Armstrong because "a champion in one division cannot fight for another title" is typical of some of the stunts these worthies pull.

It is our personal opinion that Hammering Hank is nearing the end of a wonderful career. One can drain one's system just so long and then comes the pay-off. Armstrong's collectors appear to be just around the corner with long due bills in their hands. We hope we are wrong, but that is our honest opinion.

CAPACITY CROWD ATTENDS EAST SIDE CENTER'S ART EXHIBIT

"This project is for the purpose of giving your children opportunities to develop their talents in either of these three and other groups on this project," Mr. E. W. Brindley, Polk County Supervisor of the Recreation Project stated when he addressed more than one hundred and fifty persons who were guests of Mrs. G. T. Fant, sewing instructor, Mrs. Josephine Morris, art needle work instructor and Mr. Charles Johnson, in charge of clay modeling and art work, at their second annual exhibit given at the East Des Moines Community Center, December 5.

The two rooms on the second floor were filled to capacity with quilts, crocheted bed spreads, wool and silk dresses, remodeled fur coats, table lamps, puppets, clay models, embroidery pillow tops, embroidered lunch and table cloths, etc., which were made by the students in these three classes.

The East Des Moines Choral club under the direction of Mr. William Wheels, and Mrs. Beatrice Noah were other members participating on the program.

Mrs. Margaret Patten made the closing remarks after which tea was served in the dining room of the center with Mrs. Margaret Joseph presiding at the tea table. Mrs. G. T. Fant presided over the program.

CHERISHING MOUNTAINS

By Kermit L. Wilson
Mountains are wonderful wherever you are.

They are filled with riches which will never stand mar,
Looking at mountains you see beautified trees

Of God's own nature and God's own breeze.

Up in the mountain looking way to the peak,
You see repeated beauty's for week after week.

The flowing streams of the creeks below
Are like enchanted dreams of heaven aglow

Oh thanks for everything, even rocks and high hills,
Thanks for statues' the whole earth fills,

It's delightful that nature offers colorful mountains,
So wonderful is nature that we have falling mountains.

There are fountains of happiness which numerate beauties so true,
But mountains steep, mountains for me and for you,

MASON-JONES WEDDING AND RECEPTION PRETTY MORNING EVENT

Under an arch of ferns and silver bells Miss Eugetta Omega Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Jones, became the bride of Julian Gilbert Mason, in a beautiful Sunday morning ceremony, December 3, at the Jones home at 1421 East Eighteenth street.

The ceremony at 8:45 o'clock was performed by the Rev. G. W. Robinson, in a setting of flowers and candlelight. Miss Georgine Mason, sister of the bridegroom played the nuptial music.

The bride wore a beautiful princess style gown of white taffeta, enhanced by a lovely veil which was attached to her head with orange blossoms. A gold locket encircled her neck.

The bride carried an attractive bouquet of roses and white chrysanthemums. Surrounded by bridesmaids in floor length gowns of soft shades of green with bouquets of roses, sweet peas and white chrysanthemums, the occasion was a picturesque one.

In the bridal party were sisters of the bride, Mrs. Geraldine Black, matron of honor and two younger sisters, the Misses Lorraine and Goldie Jones, with Miss Melba Morris, the bridesmaids.

Attendants to Mr. Mason were Alpha Dixon, best man; Hugh Siple, Leroy Franklin and George Robinson, ushers.

Other members of the bridal party were parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Jones, and parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. George Mason.

Mrs. Jones wore an attractive floor length gown of printed green. Mrs. Mason was lovely in a deep purple floor-length creation. Miss Georgine Mason wore a full length two piece creation of teal blue which revealed a blouse of lame.

Immediately following the ceremony the wedding party made a caravan of motor cars and assembled in the spacious parlors of the Blue

Evening sweaters, glittering with sequins or gay with embroidered flowers, are stealing the fashion spotlight this season. Having emerged from strictly sports or daytime wear, snag sweaters are stepping out in high society. The evening models have taken on an aura of glamour and sophistication, and are easily the darlings of the bright light picture. Topping an evening skirt of velvet, taffeta or net, the evening sweater ensemble makes a grand and versatile combination which is perfect for parties, dinners or even extra-extra gala affairs. And they are ever so comfortable to wear. Nice too, if you have a case of winter sniffles and fear wearing your deep décolletage model.
