

NATION HONORS LINCOLN - DOUGLASS

Happenings and the People
By: D. L. H. W.

Here's an interesting item from the Nation's Capital that the Agriculture Adjustment Administration will in the future withhold payment where landlords have charged "bonus rents" from their tenants and sharecroppers. The charge is that some landlords have been charging a cash payment for the same acreage on which a share rent is due. It is clearly seen that these similar practices are "an attempt to deprive tenants and sharecroppers of payments to which they are entitled."

Among 3000 delegates to the American Youth Congress now meeting in Washington, D. C. are 250 young Negroes, interested in the future progress of the race. It is hoped that the Negro delegates will be well received by the local populace while in Washington. The last time the Congress met there, Negro delegates did not find it so pleasant.

It is gratifying to know that our Nations medics are winning in their fight against tuberculosis. 26 cities of 45 in a Negro survey conducted by the New York Tuberculosis and Health Association, show a decline in Negro death rate. 17 cities in 1938 had more TB deaths than in 1937. However Patterson, N. J., led all other cities with a 165 per cent gain over 1937 among Negroes. Portland, Oregon had no deaths, and also had the greatest decrease.

Here's good news and especially does it come at a time when Negroes themselves have already begun to decry their spirituals. In New Orleans the other day the Rt. Rev. H. Lester (white) of the M. E. Church praised the Negro spirituals as "the only distinctive American Ballad," and warning that it should not be altered in any way by modern arrangements. Bishop Lowe in the same meeting said: "Negroes need an outward look," and "ought to take themselves with more seriousness." "Forget your hardships he said, and develop group consciousness and group pride—so you can do the things in the name of our Lord." Here is where he reached his climax. "STOP HOLDING OUT YOUR HAND ASKING FOR SOMETHING AND STICK IT OUT SAYING HERE TAKE THIS FOR . . ." "We've been telling the same story but maybe you will be able to get it over Bishop.

Up to now, we have not said anything concerning the Cinema world, but we have always followed the trend in this field with special interest, and hence often wondered why Negro films were not produced. Now it appears this is in the offing. Clarence Muse, veteran screen and stage actor is on the firing line, but to sell this idea to producers he must have the written approval of Negroes throughout the country; he can't give them an argument unless we flood the studios with "I want Negro pictures." We don't have to do any investigating or have committees o. k. the plan. Write to Clarence Muse, 9171 Sunset Blvd., Beverly Hills, Calif. Use a postal card and say: "I want Negro pictures."

TWO GREAT AMERICANS

1817-1895 1809-1865

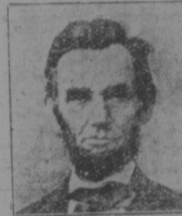

NEXT MONDAY, Feb. 12, the nation will pay tribute to two leaders whose birth month was February. Members of all racial groups will do their part in paying rightful tribute to so deserving men as Abraham Lincoln and Frederick Douglass. One was the President of the United States. The other a great abolitionist.

FREDERICK DOUGLASS

Frederick Douglass—American orator, abolitionist and slave has been described as a "bold vigorous, earnest and fluent speaker, and an able debater."

His character and career vindicate the claim of the optimistic of his race and of thoughtful white men that the Negro has in him the elements from which may be evolved the orator, the statesman, the true philanthropist and the man of honor.

FDR Orders Prelate a Ship

Capetown, South Africa, Feb. 5 (ANP)—Several months ago Bishop R. R. and Mrs. Wright, their son, R. R. Wright III, and Dr. and Mrs. A. J. White of Wilberforce institute who have been in Africa for some time where the prelate's episcopal district is located attempted to book passage over the U. S.—South Africa line and were told the company did not take Negroes. The Java—New York line made a similar statement. A total of 12 ships, turned down Bishop Wright's group using various types of excuses. Meanwhile white Americans found no trouble booking passage home.

Asks Aid of President
When three months passed and still no vessel would accept the bishop's party, he sent the following cablegram direct to President Roosevelt: "I want to get to America for Bishop's council Feb. 15. American ships refuse me, claiming 'fully booked.' Consul here powerless. It's a shame that American citizens in time-of-war when all want American sympathy cannot get passage home because of race prejudice even in American ships. Dr. and Mrs. White, my wife, son and self appeal to you."

Gets Aid
Soon after sending the message, Bishop Wright got first class ship accommodations from Capetown to New York.

When a bill was introduced in the last session of the legislature which would have been devoted to the interest of a particular race ineligible to publish legal matters, Mr. Hauge spoke against it and called attention to the fact that the Bystander would be eliminated. The bill was defeated.

Hauge, an East Des Moines lawyer, is married and resides at 2003 East 14th street. His father, the late A. O. Hauge, served in the House from 1919 to 1925.

Mrs. Brown Is Kansas Day Orator

Topeka, Kans. (Special) One of the highlights of the Kansas Day celebration was the 12th annual banquet program of the Kansas Day Club of Colored Women which was held on Monday evening, Jan. 29, at Larimer Hall of Kansas Vocational College.

Guest speaker of the evening was Mrs. S. Joe Brown of Des Moines, nationally known church, club and political leader.

Speaking on the subject, "Our Civic and Social Problems," Mrs.

MRS. S. JOE BROWN

Brown showed the progress of the Negro beginning at 1492. She pointed out well known characters whose works and deeds help to make Negro history as colorful as it is.

'Know Too Little'
"As a race we know too little about our own accomplishments," Mrs. Brown remarked and urged her listeners to make a study of the Negro record and then pass that information on to other races.

Credit was given to various civic organizations for the parts they are playing in throwing more light on the Negro's record of accomplishments.

'Look Around'
Touching upon the national political situation Mrs. Brown declared that the time has come when "we as Negroes must demand a little bit more."

"Look around. Keep your eyes open. Know what the Republicans have done. Know what the Democrats have done," the speaker urged.

"While the Republican party has not done all that it could for the Negro," Mrs. Brown added, "the most we have gained has come from the Republican party."

Message From Youth
Representing the youth, William Massey, a senior at Washburn, won his audience in a brief plea for the Negro youth.

Defining the letters that form the work "Kansas," the twenty-year-old youth pointed out what youth wants.

Rep. Dowell Buried Here

Death came Sunday morning, February 4, to C. C. Dowell who for twenty-three years represented the sixth Iowa Congressional district. He suffered a heart attack following a short illness which kept him from his post just a week.

Personally known to thousands of people in his district, Mr. Dowell was a conscientious public servant. Funeral services were held at the University Church of Christ Wednesday afternoon, February 7.

Among the race leaders of this city who knew Dowell personally, Rev. J. W. Tut, who stated that "In the passing of Congressman C. C. Dowell we have lost a great statesman, a man profound thought and wisdom, schooled in the experience of critical analysis as to what course to stir our ship of state. He moved cautiously within his own convictions. He served the District best by serving it in such a way that all were the beneficiaries. He was truly a public servant."

Harry E. Wilson, of the High State Patrol, also was acquainted with Mr. Dowell and stated:

"I've known C. C. Dowell for a number of years and respect him as a wonderful gentleman. He was very sincere in his duties, reliable and trustworthy; always right on the race, labor and veteran questions. In his death Iowa, has lost a noble character, and the Negroes a real friend."

Clergyman Tells U. S. Solons of Horrible Lynchings Before Committee Hearing

Washington, D. C. Feb. 7—A gruesome eye-witness account of the lynching of two Negroes boys by a Texas mob, was given to a senate judiciary subcommittee Tuesday, the 6, by the Rev. Gresham Marmion, Washington Episcopal clergyman, who testified along with many others in support of the bill.

Rev. Marmion, told the committee how he pleaded with a mob "of from 300 to 500 persons" in Colorado County, Texas, the night of Nov. 12, 1935.

"After listening for a minute or two they began hissing and booing, the clergyman said, "and pulled me from the fender of an old car that furnished light for the gruesome scene. And the two boys aged 15 and 16 were hanged."

Mr. Marmion said the boys, Benny Mitchell and Ernest Collins, were charged with the murder of a 16-year-old white girl, and that officers had reported a confession from them.

Continuing his testimony, the clergyman said, "the boys were pleading for mercy." They pulled one up, and his neck was broken immediately, but the man handling the rope apparently did not do a good job on the second boy. They grabbed the boys feet and jerked him down in the most horrible manner I've ever seen. I left in disgust."

"I tell you the angel Gabriel would not be able to stop a mob of this kind."

Senator Tom Connally (Dem. Tex.), a leader in the opposition has expressed his condemnation for lynching but has announced that he will use every possible means to prevent it from becoming illegal.

Many outstanding leaders of both races have been called to testify. The hearing will continue until all have been heard.

Young Child Suffers Burn

Joyce Ewing, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ewing, 1244 E. Seventeenth street court, was seriously burned Monday, February 5. She and her brother Jimmie, 4, were playing when her clothing was set afire.

At Broadlawn General hospital where she was taken by police. She was suffering from second degree burns on the head, chest, abdomen and arms. Tuesday morning, February 6, a blood transfusion was made. Last reports of her condition was described as "fair."

Youth Extinguishes Flames

Lowell Bush, 19, a neighbor youth of 1238 E. Seventeenth street court, saw the child run from the house with clothing aflame, and grabbing a small rug extinguished the flames by wrapping her in it.

The two children had been left at home by their mother, Mrs. Robert Ewing, while she was at work in a work projects administration sewing room. Two older children were playing in the neighborhood.

Their maternal grandmother, who usually cares for the children while Mrs. Ewing is at work, had been unable to come to the home.

L. H. G.—I am nearing the age of forty and I want to get married. Everything I get out of life is so little compared to others. When I begin meeting people, every woman that comes my way tries to make me and that seems to disgust me. Will I ever meet the type of girl I would like to marry?

Ans: It can be done. But brother, you won't find the type you are searching for in dance halls and beer gardens. Join the church and meet the girls you wish to go with through this source. Lay off the rum yourself and decent girls will seek your company. As it is now, you are classed as a good time fellow and the best girls are afraid of you. A marriage is indicated some time during the end of this year.

C. R.—I bought a nice gift for my fiancee for Valentine but she refuses to let me escort her to the Valentine dance. Should I give her this present or take it back?

Ans: Give it to her. The chief reason that she refused you the honor to escort her to the dance was that you waited until all the other girls had made their dates and she was still waiting for you to speak up. So one young man asked her, and she accepted. Next time you had better act quickly and don't depend on her going with you without asking her first.

B. C.—I was laid off my job last week and I do try very hard when I work. Will I get someone to help me to get work soon?

Ans: You are sure to get work.

C. C. DOWELL

In the passing of Representative C. C. Dowell, a public servant with a long and faithful service closes the book of life. The mere fact that he was able to be reelected to congress eleven times and to the state legislature several times is full proof of the high regard his constituents held for him.

Representative Dowell was a legislator upon whom the Negro could count at all times to support his cause. Never a vote was taken in the house, when the Negro's welfare was involved, did he cast other than a favorable vote. He never ducked the issue. He held a membership in the Des Moines Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People for many years and his consistent vote showed that he believed in its cause.

Men like Mr. Dowell will be missed. There are all too few of them.

AFRAID TO SAY

The justice department in Washington announces that two "C" men had been sent to South Carolina to investigate activities of the Klan against labor unions.

That's funny. The Klan has been molesting Negroes for sixty years and only recently the governor of South Carolina spoke out against the nefarious organization because it had started an intensive rein of terror against the colored people of that state.

The Bystander realizes that it is worth something to get the federal government interested in doing something about Klan activities. We may get some results. But it does disgust us to see a department starting action in behalf of one group and saying it is for another. Its just so much cowardice.

THAT OLD KETTLE

Last week the Des Moines Register reprinted an editorial from the Christian Century headed "Jim Crow in Warsaw."

"Those Pagan Nazis." The latest move to show contempt for the Christian civilization is to introduce Jim Crow cars in Warsaw, requiring Germans to ride in one part of the street cars and Jews and Poles another.

And chastising the Germans for their disregard for Christian ethics it says,

"But, claims the Warsaw paper, this segregation is also demanded for hygienic reasons. The prevalence of contagious diseases among these inferior people makes it essential that pure-blooded Germans have as little as possible to do with them. Hence, 'Jim Crow.'"

"What claim to the respect of decent people, let alone of those who believe in the Christian concept of the individual's worth, can a nation expect which resorts to such measures?"

What more proof is needed of this essentially anti-Christian nature of Nazi ideology?"

If we struck the word Nazis out and inserted the words "American white people," the words Poles and Jews and that of the Negro inserted, and the paper in which the editorial was published left blank, one would have said it came from one of our Negro papers.

Yes, but America finds itself in a bad spot criticising Hitler for ill treatment of minority groups when the hands of this country are drenched with blood from the same source.

Of course the Bystander can never wish to swap the lot of Negroes in this country for that of minority groups in Europe. But it does wish to re-emphasize the obvious that America should clean her hands of the stink before it attempts to tell another country what is Christian.

Since the drive to place more Negro youth on the N. Y. A. one has been placed in the office of Municipal Court Clerk Walter Priebe and one in the public library. Mr. Priebe made the request that two Negroes be placed to his department. Evelyn Chapman is now assigned to that office engaged in clerical work.

This is one of the few instances where Negro youths have been assigned clerical work in public offices in Des Moines.

LETTER BOX

MAMBA'S GRANDDAUGHTER THE COMMONWEALTH JAN. 5 JOHN T. GILLARD S. S. J.

In this article the author tells of bits of conversation he overheard in a theatre while waiting for the curtain to go up on "Mamba's Daughters," starring Ethel Waters.

Two apparently wealthy white women, recently returned from a winter vacation in the South, talk about horses and Negroes. One just loves horses—so much that she even likes to smell them. She felt relieved when she saw that there were not many Negroes at this performance. She was afraid there would be a good many, "and you know what that would mean in a stuffy theatre."

When the curtain goes up they rave over the star and also bring Marian Anderson into their raves. But they find it difficult to link these two stars with the Negroes they meet from day to day. The author's point is that: having something unusual to offer they have soared far above the strata in which Negroes are placed.

He also brings up the fact that for some reason or other white audiences seldom, if ever, care to see a play about Negroes except those depicting the lower types such as Mamba's Daughters and Porgy. But by the splendid acting of the Negro performers these plays are somehow raised to such heights as to place them among the best.

Health Hints

By Dr. C. R. Bradford

MEASLES

This is a contagious epidemic disease usually starting with a running nose, fever, and a little cough. Children who have been exposed usually develop the disease with eight to twelve days. The germ probably enters the body through the nose. Measles is practically unknown in infants under four months of age, the likely hood of developing the disease is increased, consequently it is often referred to as a childhood disease.

Measles is somewhat seasonal in that the majority of cases are seen in winter months. The disease begins slowly with a running nose and watery eyes that become very red and painful when exposed to the bright daylight. The child later becomes hoarse, begins sneezing and coughing, and in about four days a fine red rash appears over the body.

Some of the diseases that might complicate measles are: bronchitis, bronchile pneumonia, running ear, (otitis media) tuberculosis.

Treatment: In spite of the fact that measles is a common disease and the majority of people will eventually acquire it exposure and dissemination should be curtailed. In particular children under three years of age and all those suffering from chronic disabilities should as far as possible be protected from this infection. If contact is known to have occurred, or is suspected and prevention is important, this may be accomplished by injecting into the thigh muscles as soon after exposure as possible a small amount of blood serum obtained from one who has had the disease. This will establish immunity that will last from six to ten weeks. If the disease is not prevented the case will usually be very mild. Quarantine and good nursing care are very necessary.

NAACP ASKS PROBE

Greenville, S. C., Feb. 7 (ANP)—Interest in the government's investigation into Klan activities throughout the State gained momentum this week as Thomas J. Dodd Jr., of Washington, special assistant to U. S. Attorney General Robert H. Jackson continued the probe here that he had begun earlier in Columbus and Anderson.

Mr. Dodd confirmed a report that he was here to probe the recent visit of alleged Klansmen to the NYA camp for Negroes near Columbia, and the whipping last December of Langer Pruitt, white, by members of the hooded band.

Appeals for the federal quiz had been made by the local branch, NAA CP, the Workers' Defense league and by other private individuals, following a series of Klan raids on Negro communities, in one of which several colored citizens of Greenville were whipped by the Klan raiders. Many prominent South Carolinians, it is said, are slated to be called upon to explain their Klan affiliations.

Many colored citizens here and in Columbia have long believed that federal authorities would investigate flagrant violations of the wage-and-hour act in the saw mills will be uncovered.

It is also rumored here that the CIO will soon start an intensive campaign to organize the sawmill workers and those of allied industries in the South. The brother of CIO head John L. Lewis, it is said, will be in charge of the organization move.

NATION'S LEADING COMMUNITY TO RECEIVE MOTOR TRUCK AWARD

Chicago, Feb. 8 (ANP)—To stimulate greater interest in the work done by Negroes to help their own communities, an International motor truck chassis and appropriate body, valued at $1,000, will be awarded to the colored community in the United States which has made the greatest contribution within the past year to the welfare of its residents, it was announced this week by the International Harvester company.

All communities interested in this competition are being asked to send a typewritten digest of their work and recent achievements, not more than 500 words long, to Dr. M. O. Bousfield, care of International Harvester company, 180 North Michigan avenue, Chicago. These statements must be received before May 1 to be eligible. The judges will meet shortly afterwarly to make their selection which will be publicly announced.

The biggest surprise to date of the current basketball season, was provided by the Iowa Observer quintet last Wednesday at West High. The Observer crew touted Neal Howard Coalers upsetting the latter 40 to 38 in a close game. Bootsie Holt and Stafford did the most damage for the winning crew chalking up 12 and 10 points, respectively. Jack Howard netted nine buckets good for 18 points to the scoring. The Coalers the next night defeated Coomers' Barbecue 34 to 22 on the East High floor.

The H. I. B. Club and the Hawk-eyes in their intermediate league tussled Wednesday night at West High. It equalled their exciting game of several weeks ago. The H. I. B.'s again took the count of 26 to 24. Bob White, bagged nine points from his pivot position, closely followed by the eight point shooting of Henry Holt. This victory, coupled with their 55 to 6 drubbing of the Roadside Intermediates, puts the H. I. B. eagles out in front in the intermediate loop with a two and a half lead over the Hawk-eyes.

The Little Rens, went on to hand Roadside Settlement a 22 to 14 setback and remain the only undefeated team in the senior league with four consecutive triumphs. Boasting the most polished passing attack in this division, the Rens feel that this is their year for the senior title and are quite confident of their ability to emerge unscathed at the end of the season.

The full schedule will be played next week with the exception of Monday night, February 12th. This date being the final night of the Golden Gloves tournament, and many of the players and managers have requested that no games be scheduled on that evening.

A meeting of the basketball committee has been called for Tuesday evening at 8 p. m. John M. Estes is the chairman of the committee and requests that all senior league team managers attend in addition to the committee members.

As we take a final check on our ten boys left in the running for Golden Gloves honors, we must recognize one fact; that all the boys except Bob Jackson and Claude Ellison are veterans of honor meets. Don Turner is the defending heavyweight king and has boxed at least once a month since last spring.

Jesse Owens, the leading lightweight contender was runner up last year and has boxed in other meets. In the middleweight division all three contestants are experienced fighters. Mose Schackelford is up for at least his second Golden Gloves meet, and Otho Preston has done a lot of C. C. C. boxing and is a veteran ring campaigner.

Claude Ellison has never considered boxing seriously until this year, but he has appeared on many Crocker "Y" cards and won the honors in the Jewish Community meets.

Bob Jackson, the welterweight is the only one who has not done a lot of tournament boxing and he appeared only a few times on our Crocker "Y" cards.

In the lightweight, both Ozzie Lewis and Louie Taylor are veterans. Taylor being the only man in W.H.O. meets to ever repeat. Louie is a two time featherweight king with a good chance to being the champ in the class higher up.

Ozzie Lewis is competing in his second Golden Gloves event and has boxed in more amateur around the state than one can count. Last of all he added state welterweight crown to his list.

Both Morton Graves and Bill Heath made enviable records at Chicago last year, and either boy would make a worthy title winner to go there this year. Heath is in his second Gloves affair and he has appeared in we don't know how many other meets and bouts around. Your writer watched him grab the Central states honors at Marshalltown last year.

Graves is in his third meet having competed twice at Cedar Rapids where he won last year and finished second the year before. Like Heath, Graves has kept busy all spring and summer boxing with this tournament in mind. The meeting these two boys has caused more arguments, and, has been the subject of more bets than any amateur bout yours truly every seen.

a comeback last week in the Melrose indoor track meet by running away with the thousand yard run to break all existing marks. John Woodruff, who had trouble running on indoor tracks, galloped home way in from the eight eighty, and Jim Herbert of N.Y.U. showed his heels to the gang in the six hundred yard race.

North High Swamped

We watched Roosevelt secure sweet revenge for an early licking by North High by trouncing the Bears 34-19. White and Jim Bowman were in there but couldn't do much about it. The coach seems to be using two combinations now, one with White and Bowman and one with Joe Howard and Boots Holt. There wasn't much any of these boys could do Friday.

Over at East High Jesse Hill got the call at center and helped East dump Lincoln by a larger score.
