

FOUR NEGRO CENSUS ENUMERATORS INCLUDED AMONG SIXTH DISTRICT QUOTA

Happenings and the People

By: D. L. H. W.

This column is interested solely in the welfare of the community in all of its phases. Particularly so, in its economic welfare. It is a known fact, that no people ever rose higher than their economic level.

A community may reach its zenith in its social, fraternal, and religious activities, but if it fails economically then all else is doomed!

Here in our fair city, unless Negroes remove the banquet dishes and substitute pencils and pads to work out something DEFINITE for their boys and girls to earn a livelihood, we can expect to have a larger number of our girls walking the streets at late hours of night. And on the other hand our boys acting as their—well you know what!

Being a man is one of the most expensive human ambitions. We all clamor to be a man, but too few of us clamor for the sacrifice that full-fledged manhood entails.

If Des Moines is to have a Negro business organization, one that is interested first and last in the economic and industrial problem of Des Moines Negroes, it is time that it make its appearance. We would hale the day and hour, and, I believe that the rank and file would welcome such an organization. If we have such a body already in existence, then it must scrap its jumbled program and get down to work.

Right now, we have some fifty boys and girls idle, who previously worked on the N. Y. A., what are we going to do about them? Where is our contact with our industries? There is a problem that does not require the aid of social workers—that is at the present—But if we do not do something for them our Social Workers will have a much bigger job on their hands.

This is more than a social question; it is a matter of grave concern, and we who have the ear of white guardians of our industries should acquaint them with the situation.

With half the world on fire with national and racial hatreds, this is no time to sleep on the job.

With great financial structures garnering millions each year from Negroes, but refuse to give us proportionate employment, Unions which disregard Negro membership, based on the myth of racial superiority, how can already existing so-called business organizations do so little, and yet expect to be held in high esteem? Here in Iowa, there are plenty of businessmen, who have never had the plight of the Negroes economic status placed squarely before them. Oh yes, they have donated to this and that fund, they know of our social and civil status, but little do they know of our employment needs.

What this City and all others like it needs, is a Negro Business Organization such as the URBAN LEAGUE, A Negro business League—composed of men and women not interested in chestnut pulling of various forms, but who want to create jobs for our YOUTH.

I would like to have a postal card, a telephone call telling me your reaction to what we have said. Then I would welcome suggestions from twenty men and women who have this problem at heart, and who are willing to do something. Can I find them?

Morris Tells Publishers of Organization

Atty. James B. Morris, publisher and editor of the Iowa Bystander, addressed the Negro Chamber of Commerce on the recent organizational meeting of the Negro Newspaper Publishers association at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Chamber Monday noon at the Blue Triangle Y. W. C. A.

Mr. Morris, who attended the formation of the newspaper organization in Chicago last month, told of the results of the three day confer-

Baptist Boards Make Plans for Coming Conventions

The joint session of the Iowa, South Dakota, Nebraska and Minnesota Baptist Board met April 2 and 3 in a two day conference at Maple Street Baptist Church, with Rev. George W. Robinson, pastor of Corinthian church, Des Moines, presiding.

To Prepare for '40 Meets

The meeting was called for the purpose of formulating plans for the coming conventions of the church. They are: The Association; Women's Convention; Ministers, Deacons and Wives Conference, and the Young People's Conference which will meet August 12, at Davenport.

Rev. I. J. Crawford, Council Bluffs, preached the opening sermon. The Rev. E. D. Johnson, Omaha, preached the evening sermon.

Census Work in Progress

Dan McEniry, Supervisor of the Sixth District, announced the appointment of four Negroes as Census enumerators to gather data for the 1940 census.

The four were Mrs. Mable Mason, 1183 14th street, a long time resident of Des Moines and active in civic and club affairs; Mrs. Alberta Mease, 1297 Stewart, active in church work among the younger group; Jack Howard, 1015 15th street, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Howard. He is an active participant in amateur sports of the local Y. M. C. A. and community centers, and formerly was recreation supervisor at the Negro Community Center.

Mr. William L. Bell, 3005 N. 3rd street, who is an active leader in local civic affairs. Each reported getting along very well, and getting wonderful cooperation from the citizens in their work.

These four appointments constitute the number of Negroes appointed for the 1940 census for the state of Iowa. If there have been other Negro appointments the Bystander has not been able to verify them.

ATTENDS FEDERATED MUSIC CONTEST AT SIOUX CITY

Mr. Benjamin Dacus, attended the Federated Music Contest, held at Sioux City, Monday, April 1.

Mr. Dacus, the only colored representative from Des Moines, received an excellent rating for his performing with the viola. He represented the Junior Musical Club from Drake University.

ence. One of the chief topics discussed was that of national advertising and he means in which more of the large advertising accounts can be obtained by Negro newspapers. Plans were conceived for making an exhaustive survey of the Negro market. The speaker stated that this information and data will later be compiled and presented to the large advertisers and their agencies. The group also adopted a resolution favoring the formation of a non-profit news-gathering organization controlled by the publishers.

The Bystander editor remarked that this was one of the best conducted and most businesslike conferences he had ever attended and he was particularly impressed with the leading part played by young men in all of the deliberations.

Farley to Speak at Booker Washington Stamp Program

EDUCATOR IMMORTALIZED ON CERTIFICATE OF U. S. POSTAL SERVICE

Tuskegee Institute, Ala., April 5—With plans for the nationwide observance of the Booker T. Washington stamp celebration rapidly nearing completion, Dr. F. D. Patterson, president, Tuskegee institute, Monday paid tribute to the nation's press.

The celebration closes on April 7 when Postmaster General James A. Farley will sell the first Negro stamp at the Tuskegee Institute Post Office and later will deliver the Founder's Day address in the Institute Chapel during a 45 minute national radio broadcast on which the Tuskegee Institute choir, Paul Robeson, Roland Hayes and other artists will sing their tribute to the Negro educator. Currently a series of public meetings in cities from coast to coast are being organized to which other state and national personalities are being invited.

STUDENT NURSE TESTS

The United States civil service commission Tuesday announced competitive examinations for student nurses to be employed at St. Elizabeth hospital, federal institution for treatment of mental disorders, in Washington, D. C.

Further information on the examinations may be obtained at the post-office.

CLINIC TO OBSERVE NEGRO HEALTH WEEK

The Negro well-baby clinic observes National Negro Health week at 1 p. m. Thursday at the Negro community center, 907 Fifteenth street. Mrs. Myrtle Meyer Eldred spoke. Dr. C. R. Bradford will be in charge of the program.

One Cent of Three

After an hour's discussion, in which all angles of the labor question—both skilled and unskilled—were considered, it was agreed that in future, of every three bricklayers employed, one will be a Negro. Officials of the Kelly firm pointed out that at present they are employing 20 percent Negro skilled labor (bricklayers) and 47 percent unskilled or common labor.

Located at 37th and South Parkway, in the heart of the near Southside district, the Ida B. Wells Homes is being constructed for low-income families by the Chicago Housing Authority. It will have about 1,650 family units, and cost about 10,000,000 dollars.

In observance of the National Negro Health Week, The Iowa Auxiliary of the National Medical Association presented a public program April 2, 1940 at the Blue Triangle Branch Y. W. C. A. This marked their first public endeavor since their organization in April 1938.

Miss Hershey Presented

Mrs. L. R. Willis, wife of Dr. L. R. Willis, presented Miss Ada Hershey, director of Public Health Nursing in Des Moines. Miss Hershey gave a brief history of the Public Health Nurses Association; how the Association is financed and how many nurses employed which was small in proportion to the population of Des Moines.

Serves All

She stated that the nurses work in cooperation with the doctors in the different clinics throughout the city, and the Broadlawn Hospital in both the Tuberculosis and Orthopedic Clinics.

These nurses she said, "serve the public in Des Moines regardless of race, creed or color."

State Wide Study

Public Health Nurses and their work throughout the state is now the subject for a study by the Iowa Auxiliary. Those presenting the program jointly were: the Y. W. C. A. (Blue Triangle Branch), and the Modernistic Club, a Federated Club which does welfare work in the city, and has for its project the organization of a "Home For Pre-delinquent Negro Girls. The Auxiliary has gone on record as approving the welfare work of this Club.

DRIBBLES

By "THE DRIP"

Hello folks is everyone ready for a "DRIP SESSION?" It seems as though Chas. H. Jr., was really in for a shock when he read about himself, especially when he is the last to read the news.

I wonder what Alice S. finds so interesting on the 2nd floor of 1410 Center. Is it E. W. Alice? What young lady goes to her b. f.'s home and taps, taps on the door. He is home, but he is not at home as another chic is toasting by the fire-side.

Hello Odessa. Cheer up Jeri Bates and Helen S. Cleo and Goody have a 'rep' for sending specials and telegrams.

Orchids to Gertrude "Dutch" Ellison who decided that two can live as cheap as one.

What little bit of fluff of 5 "2" 100 lbs. is planning on taking the fatal step again? Good luck!

Ladies! For child care I do recommend Guy S. He makes a lovely nursemaid even though he forgets to bring the diapers and grabs a half pint bottle instead of the nursing bottle.

A speedy recovery to Jean M. Clem N. theme song to Kenny H. is "I'm Through." More power to Mr. and Mrs. Kenny Burris and their regular Saturday nite knock-down drag-outs they are a solid sander.

Saw Geraldine Lucas, Evelyn Carr and Clara Scott looking sharp as a tack Sunday nite.

Taking a mixture of mixtures, I turn out one solid 'mix'! Eyes like Thravis Fowler look like Harry Bates; build like Don Turner, personality of Paul Williams, dance like Alber Powell, and sharp like Johnnie Danforth.

To whom it may concern; William Day, Jr., happens to be of voting age so the young lady's company he is keeping at the present is not cradle robbing.

To Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bates, Helen Brown, Mrs. Tressie Sheriff, John Rentee and Mr. Jackson from Mason City, and Mandy, Iowa, here's hoping you enjoyed the dance, and don't make your visits so few and far between.

Well folks, I have dripped to the last drop. So, I'll be seeing you next week, I hope, I hope!

MRS. BAIN MAKES HIGH RECORD

Mrs. John C. Bain, 913 Crocker street, a senior at Drake university, received a larger number of grade points in her fall semester work than any other Bible college student at Drake.

She was carrying 17 hours of academic work and she accumulated 94 grade points for an average of 5.5, midway between a B plus and an A.

Last year, Mrs. Bain also had a splendid record. One semester she garnered 92 grade points in 16 hours of work for a 5.8 average, nearly a straight A, and the other semester she had 87 grade points in 16 hours work for a 5.4 average.

Pastor's Wife

Mrs. Bain is at the same time managing a great deal of outside work. For one thing, she keeps house for her husband and their 9-year-old son, John Bain Jr. Mr. Bain, who is studying for his master's degree in philosophy at Drake university, is pastor of the Burns Methodist church.

As the wife of the pastor, Mrs. Bain is naturally very active in church work there. In addition, she is a member of Delta Sigma Theta, national sorority for Negro women.

Members are not invited to that sorority unless they have completed at least two year's academic work and have received at least a B average.

Before entering Drake, Mrs. Bain attended the Agricultural and Industrial State Teacher's college in Nashville, Tenn.

Both of Mrs. Bain's parents attended Clark university in Atlanta, Ga.

JUSTICE HERE

Little Rock, Ark.—Asserting "the gestapo of Germany have no place in this country," the Arkansas supreme court Monday upheld a $4,500 judgment for Dave Hill, a Negro, in a suit against the Missouri Pacific railroad which charged its agents subjected Hill to "third degree" treatment.

Hill testified he was whipped in both the Texarkana city and county jails in January, 1938, by officers who were attempting to get him to change his story in behalf of another man who was suing the railroad for $50,000 resulting from a train-car collision.

The incident occurred prior to trial of a personal injury suit by A. B. Barham against the railroad at which Hill testified. Barham won a $10,000 judgment.

The decision affirmed a court judgment against the railroad and Special Agent Ted Brownlow.

"The evidence justified the jury in inferring that the scheme to abduct and kidnap appellee (Hill) was concocted by Brownlow," said the supreme court, asserting the incident served "to trample on Hill's rights as an American citizen."

WINGS OVER AT SHRINE AUDITORIUM

Wings Over Jordan—a radio and concert feature dedicated to lovers of Negro spirituals, a program that has enthralled millions of listeners with voices of a Negro choir that blend perfectly, singing each note of better humility and courage with a vibrating sense of better things and better days to come.

This is the story of Wings Over Jordan. The story of two men whose keen foresight and hard work have developed a group of true natural singers that have won the unstinted praise of nationwide audiences and critics alike.

It was in July, 1937 that Reverend Glenn T. Settle, pastor of the Gethsemane Baptist Church in Cleveland, Ohio, first conceived the idea of a Negro radio hour featuring his group. Confering with Worth Kramer, program director of Radio Station WGAR, Cleveland, Reverend Settle outlined his plan. Mr. Kramer, a singer of note himself and deeply appreciative of Negro spirituals, listened attentively. Members of the choir sang for him individually and as a group. He saw great possibilities in their voices. Long hours of rehearsal ensued.

One by one Mr. Kramer gathered some of the most unusual and beautiful spirituals now sung by the noted Wings Over Jordan Choir. By listening patiently to each member of the group hum and sing spirituals that their grandparents had sung to them in the Old South and then arranging the music for choral singing, Mr. Kramer has completed an unusually fine repertoire.

Reverend Settle took a further step by bringing to the microphone on Sundays outstanding Negro ministers, educators, and professional men and women. These people inspiring told of the glory trail which Negroes before them have trod and of the sacrifices and achievements of men and women of their race.

For almost two years Wings Over Jordan has been among the leading sustaining programs of the Columbia Broadcasting System. The choir also gives concerts. Buses take them to audiences of thousands throughout the United States. Mr. Kramer leaves his work at Station WGAR at the last possible moment and flies to his destination to direct the choir.

Wings Over Jordan is truly a monument to the progress and heritage of a great race.

What The Critics Say

"As a chord is softly played, we hear a humming faint at first, then swelling like the tones of an organ. The harmony is so perfect that one's emotions are hard to control. There is no music just like it anywhere else in the world."—World Youth.

"No other Negro chorus has remotely approached this organization. As far as this writer is concerned, this concert might well have been given twice the same evening."—Willard M. Clark, The Springfield Union, Springfield, Massachusetts.

Wings Over Jordan—one of the local groups this town has yet produced for the other."—Cleveland News.

The largest crowd ever assembled in KHS Auditorium greeted the Wings Over Jordan Choir. In order to accommodate the vast overflow, a second performance was given to a full house."—Knoxville Journal.

"The Wings Over Jordan Choir is a top notch musical organization with level-headed management and experienced direction"—one of the finest groups in the air and a possession of Ohio, so why not be proud?"—Dayton Daily News.

"And this choir, which has not been heard before in Boston, does spirituals superbly."—The Boston Globe.

"The fact that this great chorus can succeed from year to year with spirituals as theme songs while other professionals have to walk back home after featuring off-color shows, it is a credit to the better element in the make-up of mankind that is refreshing."—Editorial, Geo. Dampster, Knoxville Journal.

"To hear the Wings Over Jordan Choir is to be immediately impressed with the sincerity of their purpose, the magnificence of their training and the sheer beauty of forty natural voices."—Dayton Daily News.

"The forty voice colored chorus assembled and trained by Worth Kramer, program director of WGAR, is one of the Columbia Network's outstanding features."—Cleveland Press.

"As an overture to the very promising fall and winter musical season in Dayton, nothing could have been finer than the Wings Over Jordan dan Cleveland choir of Negro voices."—Dayton Herald.

"The music of Wings Over Jordan is second to none."—The Open Door.

The Wings Over Jordan Choir has sung to capacity audiences in many famous auditoriums. Among them: Convention Hall on the Boardwalk, Atlantic City, New Jersey; Symphony Hall, Boston, Massachusetts; Bushnell Hall, Hartford, Connecticut; War Memorial Auditorium, Nashville, Tennessee; Memorial Hall, Louisville, Kentucky; Public Auditorium, Cleveland, Ohio; Civic Auditorium, Atlanta, Georgia; Civic Auditorium, Birmingham, Alabama; Westchester County Center, White Plains, New York; Carnegie Hall, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

Here May 30

Wings Over Jordan will appear here in Des Moines May 30 in two performances at the Shrine Auditorium.

Various groups and organizations are beginning to arrange for blocks of tickets.

For Sharecroppers

The appearance of this famous choir will be in the interest of the Southern Negro Sharecroppers. One third of the proceeds will be sent to the Southern tenant and Farmers Union, official union for the sharecroppers.

For tickets call or write Mrs. Alice E. West, chairman of ticket sales, 1047 W. 5th street. Phone 3-8543 or 3-2822 or you may send your order to the Shrine auditorium, phone 3-5614.

Mrs. X.—Be kind enough to tell me if I will handle more money this year than I did during '39?

Ans: Yes. Some member of your immediate family will get a RAISE IN SALARY and it will benefit you too. I must warn you, that if you let money slip thru your fingers during this year as it did in '39, you won't even realize anything from the extra money coming in. Budget your income.

D. D. T.—Would it be a splendid idea for me to get married? I have always wanted to see my initials in print in your column and anxiously await your reply.

Ans: Why not get married. If you two don't get married, then break up and change life a bit. You two have been exceedingly fond of each other for five years, and it is time to marry. I wish you much happiness.

N. B. R.—Will I end up by being an Old Maid, or will I ever get married?

Ans: I fail to see that your fears are well founded. . . a girl of SEVENTEEN has hardly begun to live and you surely have ample time in which to choose, or be chosen. A marriage will take place in your life around your 21st year.

G. H.—Did my husband take his check and pay the rent as he told me some two weeks ago?

Ans: He did yes. Had he not paid the rent the landlord would have called by this time. He isn't throwing his money away on some other woman. . . stop doubting him. . . he means well, but he doesn't appreciate your getting jealous and accusing him wrongfully.

G. H.—Could I get my Astrology Reading and Lucky chart too?

Ans: Yes. Those sending for the Astrology Reading will also receive the Lucky Day Chart. Send a quarter securely wrapped in paper, along with birthdate, correct address and it will be mailed to you immediately.

The Health Agency in its Relation to the Community

COOPERATION, THEME OF 1940 NEGRO HEALTH WEEK

The National Negro Health Week for the year 1940 will be observed March 31 to April 7, or at approximately the most satisfactory for the clean-up and other activities which are best accomplished in suitable weather. In the south, the season permits earlier observance, if desired, in the north, it is often wise and necessary to delay the Health Week program until weather conditions are more propitious.

In any case, the appeal is for community-wide cooperation to make possible the maximum accomplishment. Throughout the ages, people as groups, races, or nations have advanced in health, happiness, and prosperity in proportion that they were willing to share interests, talents, and efforts for the common good. Certainly health for home, family, and community cannot be made available without the working together with a common purpose of all persons, agencies, and organizations.

Springtime is inviting for the clean-up, fix-up phases of the Health Week program. Nature sets the example in cleansing and refreshing rains and with abundant, cheerful sunshine. The zeal of the season, the beauty of the blossoming landscape, the lengthening days with early dawns and late sunsets, all should inspire a sense of appreciation for that which is wholesome and beautiful, and of responsibility for its attainment. The well-groomed home in a setting of cleanliness, with green lawns and flowering gardens, is a coveted possession; and it is not difficult to make your home one of the many which form a friendly, orderly, and attractive neighborhood.

Many agencies can help make the community healthy, clean, and beautiful—the health department, the voluntary health agencies, civic organizations, business enterprises and clubs, and others known to have community pride and interest and the ability to lend a hand or other means of cooperation. Make friendly calls upon them and enlist them in the community-wide effort to place your village, town or city on the preferred list of places where it is safe and pleasant to live.

And, of course, do not neglect the other opportunities of the Health Week program. Educational and recreational needs, physical examinations of children and adults, and the provision of adequate health facilities should receive special attention. And the cooperation effected for Health Week participation should not spend itself with the passing of the Health Week period. The pursuit of good health for the individual and the community alike is one of continuous, persistent endeavor. So while make arrangements for the immediate benefits of the Health Week campaign, also plan the year-round program of studies and projects which will multiply the Health Week achievement manifold.

Remember, good health is the most valuable asset of one's possessions. Guard well your own by intelligent care and caution, but also be a good neighbor and citizen and lend your cooperation to the community at large for greater security of yourself and your home and of the homes and families of others.

REPLY TO MARK SULLIVAN

Let a Negro say or do a dumb thing and he can get more publicity through the daily press than a hundred other Negroes who do or say something worth while. This the Bystander thinks, applies very well to the article of Mark Sullivan appearing in the Register March 30, concerning the anti-lynching bill now pending in Congress.

Mr. Sullivan quotes from Representative Arthur Mitchell, Democrat, the only Negro in Congress, who in a speech during debate on the measure in the house—the measure passed that body January 10, 1940, and is now pending in the senate—stated that Republicans were pushing this bill in order to get Negroes jack into the Republican party. Of course this was a cute statement for Representative Mitchell to make, but we are convinced that he did this to keep in good standing with the southern Democrats in the house who control most of the important committees and incidentally are one hundred percent against the anti-lynching bill.

Mark Sullivan was unfair and took advantage of his unsuspecting readers when he stated that the author of the bill which passed the house was none other than Representative Gavagan, a Democrat of New York, but did not go further and state that the measure in the upper house bears the names of Senator Wagner of New York and Senator Van Nuys of Indiana, both Democrats.

He makes much of the great amount of time and money wasted over a measure aimed to put down a crime which had caused just three deaths in 1939. The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People disputes that record by naming places, dates and victims in which five Negroes were lynched in 1939 and this does not include those Negroes found dead in rivers, woods and other secret places the cause of whose deaths have never been explained.

Mark Sullivan says "Why pass federal legislation on lynching when most states have laws against it?" The trouble is that in most states where lynchings occur nothing has ever been done about them. Nobody ever gets punished. The sponsors of the measure feel that this is the only sure method of getting results—just about as the kidnaping situation was a few years ago.

But Mark Sullivan makes the grave error by labeling anti-lynching legislation of importance to Negroes only.

This of course is untrue for any state which permits the violation of the rights of one class of its citizens to go unpunished will, in time, tolerate that same wrong against other classes of its citizens. White men have been lynched in this country and their executioners went unpunished also. We maintain that every man's constitutional rights should be upheld and if the states can't do it, the federal government must.

And finally hundreds of organizations, white and black, have endorsed the measure including the Federal Council of Churches, National Y. W. C. A., Committee for Industrial Organizations, National Conference of Social Workers and hundreds of other national and local groups.

These people see the necessity of doing something about this type of barbarism in America and want it stopped, while people like Mark Sullivan attempt to laugh off as just another political vote-getter, a proposed law aimed to accomplish that end.

Made by the president, Rev. Robinson. He spoke of the serious need for immediate funds to carry on foreign work, and especially the work now begun in the Bahamas. His personal observations of the work in these islands and their economic plight was touching. Following his plea a liberal offering was collected for this work.

Mission Representative

Miss Willa Mae Horston, Ottumwa, State President of the BYPU, was unanimously chosen state (Iowa) representative of the National Foreign Mission Board to raise funds for this particular work. Pastors present pledged her their support.

Daniel L. H. West, circulation manager of the IOWA BYSTANDER was introduced to the body by Rev. Robinson. He spoke briefly on "What we owe our youth." Mrs. Sarah Jett, local church worker and past president of the Iowa Federated Women's Club, was introduced. She responded with brief remarks with reference to "What women are doing in the various fields of endeavor."

Dr. Lovelace

Dr. Lovelace of Chicago and Executive Secretary of Home Missions of the National Convention, Inc. addressed the afternoon session. He also preached the closing sermon Wednesday evening.

Among the thirty-five messengers attending were: Rev. J. C. B. Wheeler of St. Paul, Recording Secretary of the Board; Dr. Lovelace, Chicago; Wm. Smith, Sioux Falls, So. Dakota; D. O. Bell, Cedar Rapids; B. H. Hunter, Des Moines; J. H. Reynolds, Omaha; E. D. Johnson and wife, Omaha; Wm. Clayton, Omaha; I. J. Crawford, Council Bluffs; G. E. Sanders, Burlington; Wm. Shaw, Ottumwa; Mrs. Ada Treadwell, Corresponding Secretary of the State BYPU, Waterloo; Miss Willa Mae Horston, State President, BYPU, Ottumwa; Reverend George W. Robinson, J. W. Tutt, J. L. Lucas, A. Ross Brent and J. R. Roman all of Des Moines.

BYPU

The BYPU Executive Board met simultaneously with the Joint Board, to form the program for the annual BYPU convention which will convene June 11-14 at the Corinthian Baptist Church, Des Moines. The theme selected for 1940 will be "PROGRESS." The following officers attended: Misses Willa Mae Horston; Faye Southerns, Dorothy Skipper and Mrs. Ada Treadwell. Officers of the Joint Board and BYPU are: Rev. George W. Robinson, Des Moines, President, Rev. C. B. Wheeler, St. Paul, Recording Secretary, Miss Willa Mae Horston, Ottumwa, President BYPU and Mrs. Ada Treadwell, Waterloo, Corresponding Secretary.

Rev. A. Ross Brent, pastor of Maple Street Church acted as host to the conference.

Health Hints

By Dr. C. R. Bradford

HYGIENE OF INFANCY

Hygiene in its broadest sense is concerned with everything which has to do with promoting the growth and development of infants and children in order that they may attain their maximum possibilities as individuals. It also includes those procedures which may be instituted to increase the child's resistance to disease by specific or general measures directed toward the child himself or the control of his environment.

The child for a considerable number of years is dependent entirely upon adults for his care, but those charged with this responsibility must have consistently in mind the goal of developing self-reliance in the child. It is essential that in the end he shall be able to become the captain of his faith. Parents are the persons whose influence is of prime importance to the child and they should not allow this privilege to be assumed by any other individual.

Nurses and governesses may perform many services for the child. Teachers and many others also exercise certain functions in relation to the child's development, but parents must maintain an intelligent supervision of all the factors which are concerned with the child's health and coordinate the contributions of these various persons.

The physician, in the practice of his art, must furnish guidance to the parents and also the community if the best results for the child are to be attained. He must cultivate and exercise a positive attitude toward the health of the children under his care and be willing to take the initiative in suggesting the details of their daily lives. He must supply the expert knowledge and judgment in order that parents may carry out an intelligent program. The contact which the physician makes with the child is best established by periodic physical examination.

IT'S A SUIT SPRING—MOVIE STARS GIVE THEIR FAVORITES

Suits and spring inevitably go hand in hand; they are made for each other. Eight out of ten women verify this by naming suits as their favorite spring costume, according to New York and Hollywood designers. The Hollywooders go further and prove it by telling us of the suits selected by some of the motion picture glamour girls as their favorite costumes.

Chic Bette Davis, who is as charming a stylist as she is a top-notch actress, has not succumbed to the long torso silhouette, according to her designer. Miss Davis has chosen as her favorite suit number a three-piece ensemble, consisting of a double-breasted, short waistcoat of black and white checks, a slim black wool skirt and a checked topcoat. She plans to wear it with varied accessories. A sailor of bright red steers, veiled in black, will alternate with a black and white checked turban.

Ann Sheridan, the "oomph" girl, has a two-piece model with a long, smugfitting jacket and smooth skirt of beige alpaca. A new note on the jacket is the collarless neckline and four extra-sized pockets. A visored suede cap in beige, tailored brown silk blouse, brown gloves and bag accompany. Miss Sheridan intends to change about with a brown or-gandy blouse of fluffier design.

The Lane sisters, Priscilla and Rosemary, refuse to be sisters in dress, selecting costumes as widely different as they will be. Rosemary has followed Ann Sheridan along the beige path. Her beige wool suit has a twig-brown tweed topcoat with a shawl collar of blended lynx. With it she is wearing a sailor of Yippee yellow straw, matching gloves, with shoes and bag of brown. Priscilla's selection is a thoroughly feminine dressmaker suit of navy blue twill with pleated skirt and jacket with soft lines. A Roman striped silk blouse and navy Flemish sailor, Roman grain trim med pop-up the ensemble.

LITTLE RENS IN FEATURE

EVENT: SCORE 42-37

The Little Rens encountered a very determined foe in the Ames Body Co. quintet and found themselves on the short end of a 42-37 score in the feature event of the annual Crocker 'Y' Athletic Carnival, Monday night at the Central Y. M. C. A. The two teams fought on even terms throughout the contest with the score tied several times.

The fast passing Ames cagers outmaneuvered the Rens in the first minute of play to a mass of 6 to 0 lead before the local boys found their way around the 'Y' court, but they subsequently pulled up to hold the visitors to a 14 to 13 edge at the quarter and knot the count 21 all at halftime. It was a see-saw affair all through the last two periods with both teams alternating in going out in front. With 45 seconds of the contest remaining and the score deadlocked at 37 all, the Story County boys made good on a free throw to go ahead by a one point margin. In a frantic effort to snatch the victory out of the fire, the Rens advanced too far down the floor, leaving their own basket unprotected, which the winners took advantage of to sink two "sleepers" and put the ball on ice.

Harvest and Crawford, forward and center, respectively, of the Ames team tied for scoring honors with 14 points apiece and they were ably assisted by the standout performance of Plunkett in the backcourt position. Melvin Madison came up from his guard position to lead the Rens with nine points and was the shining light of the losers. Greenlee, Miller and White all contributed their share of the scoring and helped keep the locals in the game till the final gun. The Ames team were semi-finalists in the recent state open tournament held in Des Moines and are ranked one of the strongest outfits in Central Iowa. They substituted for Younker Brothers, apex tournament champions, who were unable to appear because of a conflicting game in the Central States tournament.

By winning the city Class A junior title the previous week, the Hawkeye Club clinched the right to meet the H. I. B. Club in the opening basketball game. The two flashy pep aggregations staged another one of their characteristic thrill-packed battles with the ultimate winner being in doubt clear up to the final second of play. The Hawkeyes started out like true champions and led 5 to 4 at the quarter and 9 to 8 at the halfway point. Holding their Eastern opponents to one point in the third period, the H. I. B.'s came back strong to total ten markers and go into the final stanza holding a 18 to 10 advantage. But the Hawkeyes did not give up without a struggle.

gle, staging a rally of their own in the final canto. Led by Jimmy Payne's two buckets, the Hawks counted seven times to the H. I. B.'s one tally to make it 20 to 17 at the end of the game. Art McCune and Henry Holt, H. I. B. forwards, and Jimmy Payne of the losers were the offensive stars of the game, while every player of both lineups contributed to the fine defensive display.

In an exhibition volleyball match, the Central Y. M. C. A. varsity team scoring at will, demonstrated their superiority over the Crocker 'Y' squad by racing through to a 15 to 2 victory. The Crocker 'Y' players did a "Paychek" in this exhibition. After watching the booming spikes and drives of their opponents in their warmup drills, the losing sextet took the floor with worried expressions on their faces and remained frozen in their tracks throughout the session. Claude Ellison finally got into the spirit of the affair and received the plaudits of the crowd for his efforts. Morton Graves also tried yeomanly to make a game of it and deserves credit for his performance. Practically all of the spectators viewing the badminton exhibition were seeing this new game played for the first time. A split decision was chalked up in the doubles match played. Bill Zaiser and Ted Cutler, Kansas and Iowa state champions captured the first game from Bill Goodwin and Fred Earl 17 to 15, but the latter duo upset the champs in the second game 15 to 12.

WHITERS AND SAVOLD TO BOX AGAIN

That bright sunshine last Friday was merely the reflection from the red on your writers face after he unwittingly exposed a perfect set-up. Anyone who saw Johnny Whitters punch Lee Savold around in their workouts every day would know that Johnny's win was no upset. The boys are rematched and, on form, Whitters should win again but, remember we say on form. We still think there is a Senegambian in the woodpile at St. Louis.

LOUIS VS. PAYCHECK

Joe Louis' quick win over a badly scared Johnny Paycheck rather caught us short. We had seen Paycheck box and while we knew he couldn't whip the champ, we thought he ought to last a few rounds, four or five, at least.

It seems that the only boys who make a showing against Joe are the ones who simply decide to fight him. Whenever a fellow tries to figure that he will take advantage of Joe's lack of brains or weak jaw, that fellow suddenly discovers that the champion has a pretty fair brain. Opinions to the contrary notwithstanding and that the fragile jaw can't take a pretty good wallop. The discovery seems to unnerve the boys. Why not figure that Joe Louis is just another man and prepare to fight him as one? The sooner the fighters do that the more luck they will have.

Basketball Bows Out

The curtain rang down on the current cage season with Nate Sapperstein's original Harlem Globe Trotters being crowned in world pro champions. The trotters beat the Reniesans by one point to go into the finals.

And now for that all time all star cage team we promised. There may be some disagreement as to some of the players but no one can rightfully dispute the presence of two of the boys. Jamo Allen, the greatest all round basketball player ever developed in our Y league is a unanimous choice along with Jack Howard, the greatest basket shooter local Negroes ever saw. Right behind these two comes Benny Elmore one of the best money players we ever saw and one who in time might have excelled even Jamo Allen in all around brilliance. The rest of the group may leave room for argument but they are our choice, and we will argue with anybody about them. Forwards, Jack Howard, Joe Danforth and Keny Palmer, center, Chet Brewer and Bus Brown. Guards Jamo Allen, Benny Elmore, and Bobby Parker.

City School Track Meet
We wandered out to the city indoor track meet last Friday and saw a host of good performances. Bill Mash of East, in the dashes, Traves Bailey in the broad jump, and from North High we watched Joe Johnson, Del Morrison and Eddie Reeves. Johnson earned the title of the "Lap and a half kid" Ozzie Morrow and Joe Howard in the high jump and Harold Mappin on a relay team. Competing for East who won the meet were Mose Clinton, Kenneth Brewer, Lonnie Howard, Clarence Lucas and Allan McGuerry.
