Republican Platform Pledges 'Square Deal'

Happenings and the People

ETHIOPIA London, (ANP) Authoritative sources on Ethiopia this week declared that the country is seeing in an attitude of revolt against Italy which may lead to an uprising by 200,000 well fortified warriors. It was further intimated Britain might supply Ethiopian soldiers with arms and ammunition through Kenya and the Sudan.

Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia came to London from his villa at Bath immediately after Italy declared war, and is in conference here with his advisors.

"It is safe to assume that the resistance of tribesmen against the Italians will increase considerably, and that if they have the opportunity of getting arms and ammunition from outside it would be effective to a very high degree," a British officer said.

M. Howard Drowns in River Sunday

The body of Mozell Howard, 27 year-old Minnesotan, was returned to his home in St. Paul, Monday night, by the Estes Funeral directors.

Howard who had been in the city about two weeks working with his uncle, Neal Howard, coal, sand, and gravel dealer, was drowned, Sunday, June 23, in the Des Moines river when a boat he was maneuvering without oars overturned.

The accident occurred about two miles north of Euclid avenue, where Mr. Howard operates a sand and gravel pump.

According to Cecil House, 3443 Waukonsa road, who tends the pump on a barge about 75 feet out from shore, Mozell Howard was trying to pull the boat along a rope running from the shore to the barge. House said the boat overturned about ten feet from shore as Howard shifted about in it.

House called to George Green, 3510 Waukonsa road, another Neal Howard employe, who was across the river. Green waded across the current as far as he could, swam to where Howard had gone under and dived in 12 to 15 feet of water until he recovered Howard's body. Howard had been in the river approximately half an hour.

Howard lived in St. Paul with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Howard, and six sisters and five brothers.

Methodists Consecrate Bishops Hughes and King

St. Louis, (ANP)—Ending with a highly religious note and a beautiful spirit of solemnity with the consecration of two newly elected bishops, the First Central Jurisdictional conference of the Methodist church came to a close Sunday afternoon in much the same manner as when it opened earlier in the week with Holy Communion in which 1,200 communicants partook of the Blessed Sacrament of the Lord's Supper in less than 20 minutes.

Participating in the consecration services were Bishops R. E. Jones, A. A. P. Shaw and M. W. Clair, the latter retiring, of the Central jurisdiction, John C. Bloomfield, white, of the St. Louis Area and A. Frank Smith also of Houston, the latter the official representative of the council of bishops. All of the bishops participated on an equal footing.

Sheer dignity marked the occasion which saw the elevation of Dr. William Alfred Carroll Hughes of Baltimore and Dr. Lorenzo Houston King of New York City to the episcopal bench. Bishop W. A. C. Hughes was born in Carroll County, Maryland, near Sam's Creek which place has significant Methodist tradition in connection with early Methodism in America. He comes from a family of preachers. With money given him by white people in camp meetings, he purchased his freedom and later that of his wife.

Mrs. A. A. McGinty Reelected Head; Tells Women to Be 'Peace' Example

Mrs. A. A. McGinty of Mason City was reelected president of the state federation at the election of officers. It was voted to hold the 1941 convention during the last week of June at Marshalltown, Iowa.

Sioux City, Ia.—Declaring that men are "hard, rash and militaristic," Mrs. Alberta A. McGinty of Mason City, president of the Iowa Federation of Colored Women's Clubs, spoke in her annual address Monday night, June 24, at the Citizen's Night program of the federation.

"Every club women must be a living example of Peace," Mrs. McGinty said. "We must learn to settle our personal difficulties without fighting, even without words. We must conduct our homes in the same way and we must teach our children to play the game squarely and observe the golden rule."

Commenting on the European war, Mrs. McGinty urged the club to make contributions to the Red Cross. There is a crying need for leaders with ability to act from honest motives and with their trust in God," Mrs. McGinty said.

The thirty-ninth annual session of the Iowa Federation opened Monday morning, June 24, at the Mt. Zion Baptist church. Delegates from federated clubs throughout the state were in attendance.

The Citizens Night program Monday night was presided over by the first vice president, Mrs. Meredith Carl of Des Moines; with Mrs. Blagson Brewton, Mason City, chairman of program committee; and Miss Ruth Stubblefield, mistress of ceremonies.

Casper Schenk, a Des Moines attorney, has announced his candidacy for Congress in the Sixth Congressional District of Iowa. Mr. Schenk who is permitting his name to be considered before the Convention on July 24, gladly answers the question "Why I did not enter the Republican Primary Election as a candidate for Congress?"

He points out as one of his reasons, that after the election of Mr. Robert Goodwin to fill the unexpired term on Congressman Dowell, I made a trip through the District to learn party sentiment. I felt greatly complimented by the number of those who urged me to get into the race.

Born on a farm in Blackhawk county, Iowa, Mr. Schenk now owns a half interest in R. Craving a higher education he worked his way

Discrimination in Army, Navy, Civil Service Must Cease, Platform Reveals

Philadelphia—The Republican Party included in its platform submitted to the people of the United States, the following declaration:

"We pledge that our American citizens of Negro descent shall be given a square deal in the economic and political life of this nation.

"Discrimination in the civil service, the army, navy, and all other branches of the government must cease.

"To enjoy the full benefits of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness universal suffrage must be made effective for the Negro citizen. Mob violence shocks the conscience of the nation and legislation to curb this evil should be enacted."

Philadelphia (ANP)—This city put on its best manners for the Republican National Convention which opened here officially Monday morning Negro delegates and visitors are welcome everywhere and many are guests at the Quaker City's leading hotels. Restaurants, theatres and policemen are exercising the utmost courtesy.

However, Philadelphia is proving to be a poor convention site because of the lack of sufficient hotel accommodations and taxi cabs for the huge throngs present. The convention hall is not large enough to hold the multitude and a poor public address system added to difficulties experienced by delegates and the press Monday.

In addition to the bishops, other on the platform were Col. B. O. Davis, highest ranking Negro army officer, and President James E. Shepard of North Carolina college, Durham.

A spirit cooperative and hopeful prevailed the colored delegates; near by everyone seemed satisfied with the consideration being given and the attention showered upon them. Even the contests went off amicably for the most part. The Perry Howard faction in Mississippi won out after a hearing in which pathos, humor and the usual contest charges flew. The two colored alternates at large from South Carolina were given the proxies of the white delegates at large and sat proudly with their white brethren; Louisiana's lily-white contestants did not show up and Georgia for once had little friction. Florida seated two delegates and two alternates.

Dewey's headquarters in the Walton hotel, presided over by Francis Ellis Rivers and Eunice Hunton Carter with many assistants and plenty of refreshments, was a rendezvous downtown. Sara Pelham Speaks, Mrs. Hays, Norman Johnson and Harry Webber were among the welcoming committee. While visitors came from everywhere.

Taft Headquarters in the Bellevue Stratford where everyone was welcome and also headquarters out in the Douglass hotel where Perry Howard, Col. E. L. Patton and Dr. Redmond were in evidence, attracted many persons. Headquarters sprang up over night in the colored districts for Gannett and Wilkie.

Mercury Mine in Idaho Discovered by Chance

A chance discovery of a sheepherder has provided Idaho with its first mercury mine and a new $1,000,000 industry, according to state mining officials.

A sharp price rise in the quicksilver market gave a new impetus to the venture when the European war broke out and now the Almaden mines, developed by L. K. Requa, veteran Santa Barbara mining engineer, are producing an estimated 400 pounds of pure quicksilver a day.

Andy Little, young sheepherder with a flair for mining, chased a lost sheep across the sagebrush-covered mountains 20 miles west of the city of Weiser in 1936 and noticed an outcropping of reddish ore at his pony's feet. He came back the next year and staked out 18 claims.

Requa visited the area on one of his periodic tours of western mining districts and examined the sheepman's cinnabar stake. He leased the property for 20 years with an option on further leasing, formed a company, set up a plant and began production last summer.

The venture is a closed corporation and no stock is sold.

Requa believes the mountainside on which the mine is located is a solid mass of mercury in opalite and phylite forms, left by an old lake bed. Cinnabar is an ore mineral that occurs in both bedded and vein deposits.

The plant is the latest metallurgical science has produced. The ore is roasted in a kiln at 1500 degrees and the mercury passes off in the form of a vapor to be condensed in 12 tubes, 30 feet high. The mercury is drawn off at the bottom into buckets and placed in flasks, ready for shipment.

The mine is an open pit operation. The ore is blasted out of the hillside, tons at a time and rolled in cars along a narrow-gauge track to a bin, attached to a long conveyor belt. The belt carries the ore to a crusher and thence to a kiln where it is roasted.

Fuse Is Safety Valve Of Electrical System

Fuses, or circuit breakers, are the safety valves in the electrical system. Extra fuses should be kept on hand in case one blows out. There should be enough circuit breakers controlled by a fuse, to carry all the appliances the home is likely to have, point out M. S. C. specialists.

When a fuse blows out it's usually an indication that there is a short circuit or an overload. Perhaps too many appliances have been connected to one circuit. This trouble occurs frequently in houses wired several years ago, before people began to have such a variety of electric devices, such as mixers, dishwashers, waffle irons, percolators, fans, razor and warming pads, as well as the refrigerator, washing machine, laundry iron and vacuum cleaner.

By removing fuses one at a time and noting which lights an outlet "dead," a blown fuse may be found.

BURY MRS. AMANDA BROWN WICKLIFF

Funeral rites were held Saturday afternoon for Mrs. Amanda Brown Wickliff, who died June 18, at the home of her sister, Mrs. Georgia Groggins, 1067 Seventeenth street, at the age of 90 years.

Born in Albemarle County, Virginia, Dec. 23, 1850, she came to Des Moines 54 years ago, and made her home with her niece and nephew, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Watkins, 1346 Fremont Street.

She was married to John Brown in Virginia, to which union a son as

Mercury Mine in Idaho Discovered by Chance

A chance discovery of a sheepherder has provided Idaho with its first mercury mine and a new $1,000,000 industry, according to state mining officials.

A sharp price rise in the quicksilver market gave a new impetus to the venture when the European war broke out and now the Almaden mines, developed by L. K. Requa, veteran Santa Barbara mining engineer, are producing an estimated 400 pounds of pure quicksilver a day.

Andy Little, young sheepherder with a flair for mining, chased a lost sheep across the sagebrush-covered mountains 20 miles west of the city of Weiser in 1936 and noticed an outcropping of reddish ore at his pony's feet. He came back the next year and staked out 18 claims.

Requa visited the area on one of his periodic tours of western mining districts and examined the sheepman's cinnabar stake. He leased the property for 20 years with an option on further leasing, formed a company, set up a plant and began production last summer.

The venture is a closed corporation and no stock is sold.

Requa believes the mountainside on which the mine is located is a solid mass of mercury in opalite and phylite forms, left by an old lake bed. Cinnabar is an ore mineral that occurs in both bedded and vein deposits.

The plant is the latest metallurgical science has produced. The ore is roasted in a kiln at 1500 degrees and the mercury passes off in the form of a vapor to be condensed in 12 tubes, 30 feet high. The mercury is drawn off at the bottom into buckets and placed in flasks, ready for shipment.

The mine is an open pit operation. The ore is blasted out of the hillside, tons at a time and rolled in cars along a narrow-gauge track to a bin, attached to a long conveyor belt. The belt carries the ore to a crusher and thence to a kiln where it is roasted.

Fuses, or circuit breakers, are the safety valves in the electrical system. Extra fuses should be kept on hand in case one blows out. There should be enough circuit breakers controlled by a fuse, to carry all the appliances the home is likely to have, point out M. S. C. specialists.

When a fuse blows out it's usually an indication that there is a short circuit or an overload. Perhaps too many appliances have been connected to one circuit. This trouble occurs frequently in houses wired several years ago, before people began to have such a variety of electric devices, such as mixers, dishwashers, waffle irons, percolators, fans, razor and warming pads, as well as the refrigerator, washing machine, laundry iron and vacuum cleaner.

By removing fuses one at a time and noting which lights an outlet "dead," a blown fuse may be found.

NAACP Convention Closes Session in Philadelphia

Philadelphia, (ANP)—A challenge to America to save democracy while there is yet some democracy to save, and a call for a united people, were the strident notes before 5,000 people at the closing mass meeting of the thirty-first annual conference of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, when Walter White, secretary of the organization, and New York's Mayor LaGuardia were the principal speakers.

Select Houston
The meeting held at Metropolitan Opera House, closed the five-day conference, which brought about 400 official delegates and about 2,000 N. A. A. C. P. members here and which selected Houston for next year's session.

Walter White, famous for his lynch program, traced the development of Hitlerism and other totalitarian oppression in Europe, and then asked: "Is the United States going to be able to see where the course of European history, so far as race and color are concerned, is leading Europe and America in time to save itself? Can the entrenched racial prejudices of the United States be discarded or at least modified in time to prevent similar disaster overwhelming us?"

"It is exceedingly doubtful," White averred, and then he told the story of the 30-year fight of the N. A. A. C. P.

Turning to the war, White warned that, "If America in her desperate hour of need in the days ahead of us want the loyalty of 12,000,000 American Negroes she had better wake up. She had better realize that Negroes face the prospect of again being called to defend their country with this question firmly and unchangeably fixed in their minds: 'What point is there in fighting and perhaps dying to save democracy if there is no democracy to save?'"

Mayor Speaks
Mayor LaGuardia gave one of his usual blasts against Hitler as he appealed for national unity. This unity, however, is not to be one of political inactivity as he called upon his hearers to compare the candidates and platforms of the Democratic and Republican parties and then decide if either deserves support. He also urged the time call for a third party.

WILLARD WEAVER TO SALESMAN'S JOB
Willard Weaver, 1044 Tenth, who has been in the employ of the Friedmans Motor Company for five years, was appointed salesman by officials of the company. Mr. Weaver was promoted from a porter job; and is believed that he will prove a valuable asset to the company.
Weaver is believed to be the only Negro new and used car salesman in the state.

EUGENE "BUNNY" NELSON RECEIVES EYE INJURY
Eugene "Bunny" Wilson, 1125 11th street, who received a painful eye injury Saturday evening, June 22, is still in a serious condition.
Mr. Wilson was injured when part of the crank used to start his car slipped off and struck him in the eye. He was taken to the Broadlawn hospital.
The doctors believe there still may be a chance of saving the eye.
One of the star ball players on the St. Paul basketball team, Mr. Wilson is also well known as a star baseball player. He is an apprentice at the Estes Funeral Home.

TO OUTSTANDING CITIZENS NAACP GIVES MERIT AWARDS
Philadelphia, (ANP)—Climaxing the annual meeting of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, Merit Awards were presented last Sunday, June 23, to the six men and women whose service to the race and to the association's program has been noteworthy throughout the year.
All awards were unanimous vote of the committee. The certificate is an engraved diploma which can be suitably framed and bears the signature of the NAACP president and the board chairman. Recipients of the coveted award were as follows: Dr. Leon A. Ransom, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Sarah Merveth Nutter, Charleston, W. Va.; Mrs. Zella M. Taylor, Los Angeles; George C. Gordon, Springfield, Mass.; Rev. E. C. Estell, Dallas; and Witham M. Gayle, Newark, N. J.

"A third party is not a group of minority groups," he cautioned, however, as of though taking a rap at the third party hints of John L. Lewis of the C. I. O. "A third party must arise spontaneously and must represent a wholesome cross-section of all the people."

Mayor La Guardia proposed that both major parties adopt the same plank on foreign policy and that "we let the dictators know that we are in sympathy with those countries fighting for liberty and freedom and that we intend to give all the aid and comfort we can to them."

Responding to the introduction made of him by Mrs. Daisy E. Lampkin, field secretary of the N. A. A. C. P., LaGuardia said he took no credit for naming capable Negroes to office.

"Under my administration, the politicians don't count for much. So Negro politicians, who could always deliver the votes of the Negro from in their vest pocket have gotten the gate, and the Negroes of fitness have had a chance to come to the front," the mayor declared.

NEGRO PREVENTS LYNCHING OF CULT MEMBER ON PULLMAN PORTER BILL
Litchfield, Ill. (ANP) Of 65 members of "Jehovah's Witnesses," who arrived here last Sunday to spread their teachings, at least one was prevented from being lynched, when infuriated townspeople attacked them, by a Negro, resident of Litchfield, who pleaded for them with mercy. This was revealed by Frank Columbus, a St. Louis barber and member of the cult for fifteen years. Columbus, who arrived in Litchfield with representatives of the cult, said:
"The mob had beatensome of the men and pushed the women when suddenly there were cries of 'lynch them.' I thought if it was God's will that we be lynched, we couldn't do anything about it. But there was a Negro standing near me who called out to the mob, 'We're all human. They're human. Let's think this matter over. And that statement stayed the mob's hands until deputies could get there.' Columbus, 50, said it was the "scarliest day of his life."

State police, called from Springfield, arrived and removed the witnesses to Hillsboro, county seat of Montgomery county, where they were fingerprinted and permitted to return to St. Louis. The affray in Litchfield began when members began to distribute leaflets, containing the statement: "We don't salute the American flag or any other flag." Charges that schools were under the influence of the "Roman Catholic hierarchy" also were contained in the pamphlets.
At their last previous visit to Litchfield on June 1, the Witnesses were ordered out and warned not to return. On Sunday their presence spread rapidly.

WITNESSES HAVE THEIR SAY ON PULLMAN PORTER BILL

Washington, (ANP)—Midst all of the hue and cry raised over the Crosser bill for the elimination of porters-in-charge in Pullman cars, interesting is the testimony submitted to senate committee presided over by Sen. Sherman Minton, some of which is herewith submitted.
"One M. B. Cunningham of Fort Worth, Texas, declared he thought it advisable to have conductors on Pullman cars because porters "do not like dead people, they are afraid of ghosts. I imagine that was what the matter with him," referring to the refusal of a porter to come to the dressing room where a white woman had suddenly died.
Champ Carry of the Pullman company, "I think some men are probably more capable and dependable than others. The men we have selected in that group of porters in charge are selected because of their known character, ability and reliability. They are men who have been in the Pullman service a great many years. I think there are a great many other men who are not operating as porters in charge who would be qualified, but the ones so operating are certainly qualified, and the men of this group have an average service with the company of 22 years."

Supply of Vitamin B Is Important to Health
Some of the aches and pains
which have been chasing themselves,
up and down the physical framework of human beings for many years might disappear if people paid more attention to the amount of vitamin B they are getting.

To be more specific, it's really vitamin B-one, called thiamin,
which is causing so much discussion in nutrition circles these days,
says Miss Julia Outhouse, professor of nutrition, at the University of Illinois. This elusive-sounding substance is found most prominently in whole-grain cereals, so it might behave whole wheat bread, or oatmeal,
or graham muffins for breakfast.
Vegetables and fruit contribute somewhat to the vitamin B-one supply, as do nuts and legumes and pork.

While eating vitamin B-one in generous amounts does not absolutely guarantee that one's individual ailment will disappear, still physicians have proved that certain types of neuritis are due to a lack of the substance. Two examples are the neuritis of pregnancy and the neuritis of chronic alcoholism. Pains and numbness accompanying several diseases have been dramatically relieved within a few days by this B-one. Furthermore, doctors believe that the pain, numbness and muscle weakness which accompany many diseases are merely variations
with one cause—lack of thiamin.

All physical difficulties, of course,
cannot be attributed to one specific source, but it might be a good idea for people who feel "all dragged out" and incapable of a full day's work to see if they haven't been getting a "little too little" of vitamin
B-one, says the nutrition authority.
Thiamin-deficient persons often are the victims of such digestive disturbances as ulcers, constipation,
loss of tone of the digestive tract
and lack of appetite. Authorities, also, are finding that there seems to be a close relationship between lack of thiamin in the diet and the ailment edema, and also between lack of thiamin and heart disease.

Well-Trained 'Wolf' Dogs Assist Jugoslavia Police
Feroocious but well-trained dogs make efficient criminal catchers on the regular police force of Jugo-slavia. Mostly Alsatian wolf dogs, although other breeds are also used,
these animals are taught to give instant obedience to a word from their trainers.
Never barking except on order,
retaining their poise in emergency,
the Yugoslav police dogs are especially drilled in tracking down fugitives by scent, in high jumping, and in keeping out of the way of unexpected shots. They are as gentle as kittens to their masters and their friends, but sudden death in attack on an enemy. In one police museum of Jugoslavia are dramatic souvenirs of criminal hunts in which the police dogs played leading roles.
Such trophies include masks used by bandits, arms, and other objects reminding of the exhibit on display in the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and dramatizing
the exploits of the "G-Men" against American gangsters, according to the National Geographic society.

Color-Changing Amphibian
The olm, or proteus, is a blind,
water-breathing tailed amphibian
living in the limestone caves east of the Adriatic sea. If caught and exposed to white light, its skin is blackened, even over the eyes. But if kept in red light, no blackening of its skin occurs and the eyes become large and able to see. The olm, like the Mexican axolotl, is what scientists call a larval creature—the "forgotten" man of the animal kingdom. Amphibians, like frogs, have an intermediate stage of development before taking on their adult form. The frog, explaining the Better Vision Institute, is first egg, then tadpole, and finally frog.
The olm never got beyond the second, or larval, stage.

Replacing Window Panes
A cracked or broken window pane
does not necessitate calling in a repair man, for installing a new glass
is a relatively simple repair job.
After obtaining a pane of proper measurements, the most important
need is careful application of putty.
The putty should be worked with the hands to proper consistency and then carefully applied with a putty knife or similar tool. Place the putty all around the opening so the glass will be bedded in the material and separated from contact with the wood.

Foreign Employment Problems
In countries like Italy, Japan,
Russia and certain of the Balkan states the number of persons of working age is growing so rapidly as to constitute a serious problem from the point of view of employment, says a study of Population and Peace issued by the Columbia University Press.

Alabama's 'Cow-Eaters'
Coyotes are fostering a new
legend of the supernatural in east
Alabama. Negroes are telling tales
of huge, voracious beasts that "will
jump on a cow's back," and the
coyotes have come to be called
"cow-eaters." The legend began
about 10 years ago, when fox hunters imported what were supposed
to be young foxes from the West,
releasing them in the east Alabama
woodlands for future sport. Too
late, it was discovered that the animals were coyotes. Despite efforts
to exterminate them, the "cow-eaters" have multiplied.

Marshalltown, Iowa
Marshalltown, Ia.—A musical program was presented at the W. W. C.
A. Friday afternoon by Lorraine Mc-and Betty Ross. Members and newcomers to the Y. W. C. A. were invited guests. Appearing before her first adult audience Miss McDonald played, "Thats Nabandji" (Coleridge Taylor) "Mon Desir" (Ethel-Ne-

vin) "Romance" (Sibelius) "Concert

cioso" (Mendelssohn) and "Clair De

Weather May Influence Asthma
The popular belief that weather
affects the severity of asthma has
recently received experimental confirmation by studies on laboratory animals, according to the Journal of the American Medical Association.
Symptoms identical with those of
human asthma were produced in
guinea pigs by allowing the animals
to breathe "vaporized antigens," i.
e. invisible sprays of foreign proteins. The animals were then subjected to various artificially produced weather conditions. Although
it was found that the "vapor"
asthma is not dependent on such
factors as temperature, humidity
or atmospheric pressure as long as
these remain constant on the day
of the experiment, rapid changes in
the weather conditions resulted in
increasing the average severity of
the process by about 50 per cent.

First Venetian Blinds
As long ago as the Eighteenth century Venetian blinds were being made in the West Indies by a shipwrecked Frenchman. Owing to the name he gave them, it is surmised that the idea was not original but was an adaptation of some blinds
which he had observed in Venice.
In the United States they have been manufactured since 1876.

cluded French forces in a move against Kagnaz Match Mokria, chief of the Ethiopian imperial guard before the country was taken by Italy.

cago spoke to more than 3,000 worshipers in the auditorium of the great gray-stone edifice that adorns the

After paying tribute to the pastor,
Dr. L. K. Williams, made his congregation for the mighty contribution that has been made to the community, state and nation, Dr. Gilkey reminded them that "These are dark days and Asia but here in America, with all the neon lights and all the glare of the bright ways."

Symptoms identical with those of
human asthma were produced in
guinea pigs by allowing the animals
to breathe "vaporized antigens," i.
e. invisible sprays of foreign pro-
teins. The animals were then subjected to various artificially produced weather conditions. Although
it was found that the "vapor"
asthma is not dependent on such
factors as temperature, humidity
or atmospheric pressure as long as
these remain constant on the day
of the experiment, rapid changes in
the weather conditions resulted in
increasing the average severity of
the process by about 50 per cent.

A cracked or broken window pane
does not necessitate calling in a re-

need is careful application of putty.
The putty should be worked with

In countries like Italy, Japan,

Alabama's 'Cow-Eaters'
Coyotes are fostering a new
legend of the supernatural in east
Alabama. Negroes are telling tales
of huge, voracious beasts that "will
jump on a cow's back," and the
coyotes have come to be called
"cow-eaters." The legend began
about 10 years ago, when fox hunters imported what were supposed
to be young foxes from the West,
releasing them in the east Alabama
woodlands for future sport. Too
late, it was discovered that the animals were coyotes. Despite efforts
to exterminate them, the "cow-eat-
ers" have multiplied.

Weather May Influence Asthma
The popular belief that weather
affects the severity of asthma has
recently received experimental con-

Symptoms identical with those of

SUNSHINE OR SHADE?

At the beginning of the summer it is wise to decide whether you are going to avoid any kind of sunburn or whether you'll just take the sun with your tan—and then chart your course accordingly.

Foundation Cream Protects The Skin

For those of you who would prefer to take precautions against the sun now rather than combat its effects when fall sets in, the first requirement is a good foundation cream. Make it a rule never to go out by day without first generously coating the exposed portions of your skin with this cream. Foundation cream not only protects the skin from sun, wind and glare, but serves as an excellent powder base. You will find that your make-up goes on more smoothly and remains intact hours longer when applied over a powder base. A good foundation cream, too, helps soothe and soften the skin.

Your next step is to invest in a large-brimmed hat. The brim will serve to keep the sun off your face and neck and at the same time protect the eyes from glare. Has a cooling spirit and cools lips. Long-sleeved dresses, too, are in order and you will have to give up all idea of sun-baked dresses and deep V-necks. You may think the more concealing dresses will prove a great deal warmer for summer wear. But it's surprising how little difference they make. Anyway, if it will be worth it when fall comes if you can point with pride to the fact that your skin is no darker in September than it was in May.

A Word of Warning

For those of you who are too interested in outdoor sports to be willing to stay out of the sun, remember

F. C.: Is the job that I have accepted in Alabama the right kind of work for me? I don't know the people but have been recommended to them by one of my old bosses.

Ans.: Take the job, even though it does take you out of your present state. I am sure that you will get along swell with the people you are going to work for and you will be able to save a nice sum of money each year.

P. Q.: I don't love but one man and I want to know if I should keep on after him?

Ans.: No. . . . he doesn't care for you and never will. Stop thinking about him and make some new friends . . . you will meet a man before many months who will make you change your present views.

M. G. A.: If I don't see him today I will go crazy. Whose fault is it that he is acting as he is? I love this man and feel that he loves me too, but this doesn't act like it.

Ans.: He's peeved with you. He has the impression that you are running around with some other fellows, else you would be home when he calls. If you expect to keep his friendship, you had better show him more attention for he's one of those fellows that have to be "petted" or he doesn't lose any time with you.

C. S.: Sometimes I am good in school and sometimes I am mischievous. I'm quite depressed. If I study my lessons and behave myself do you think I'll have one of the honors of my class?

Ans.: Gosh, you are getting too old to be so worrisome to your teacher. Certainly you must realize that she grades according to the way you listen in the class room. You could be an honor student, but before you can hope to be such you must change your ways and show your teacher more consideration.

M. I. M.: Will the man I was in touch with before leaving for the north last summer be friends with me again?

THERE IS STILL A CHANCE

In this day of excessive unemployment, some are prone to discourage young people from going to schools of higher learning. They argue that since large numbers of people can find nothing to do, these youngsters are wasting their time seeking advanced learning.

Recently Tuskegee Institute has issued a circular, "Facts about Tuskegee." Among the facts contained therein may be found these:

"Placement: 1938—Graduates 190; employed, 187; unheard from, 3.—1939—Graduates, 185, employed 174; unheard from, 11."

To be sure this is a splendid record indicating that there is room for trained people, that Tuskegee is giving the training to fit the needs, that work is available to those who have qualified for a job.

Parents with youngsters and the youngsters themselves should take courage from this fine achievement and be reminded constantly that there is a chance for trained men and women in spite of the apparent lack of opportunity today.

Those people who complained about the peace terms the Allies saddled upon Germany in 1918 must hang their heads in shame when they read the armistice terms Germany and Italy saddled upon France this week.

CLEAN ONE HAND

Frank Kent in the Des Moines Register Saturday, said some of the South American countries did not desire the United States to invoke the Monroe Doctrine should those countries be attacked. He went further and said some of those countries would rather be assisted by other countries than the United States.

Kent gave several reasons for these conclusions. He cited the fact that many of these countries were thickly populated by Germans and Italians; that the difference in race was a large factor which helped those to the South of us arrive at that unfavorable point of view.

This latter statement is put bluntly and pointedly as Kent usually does; yet it is true. The population of South America consists of many dark people; there is no discrimination; they hold high places in government and industry. Naturally, with a knowledge of the abuses to which dark people are subjected in America, they are skeptical about lining up with a country which may in time take the same attitude toward them.

In line with this reasoning, the Bystander has on more than one occasion said England and Belgium are paying the penalty for their reprehensible attitude toward their colonials in Africa; that the United States has not maintained such a record of fair treatment of its Negro population that justifies pointing a finger of scorn at Germany because of its mistreatment of the Jew.

While the thought of being other than 100 per cent loyal to the United States has never entered our thinking, we feel that there was never a better time to reemphasize our demands for a full application of all the high principles for which this government was founded and now stands to all its citizens without regard to race or color. And when America does this, South America will be less skeptical of our friendship.

WHO AM I?

(By H. N. Wilcox)

A FAMOUS MUSICIAN AND COMPOSER

- 1.—I lived with my father and mother in Erie Pennsylvania, who worked for a family named Russell.
- 2.—The Russell's enjoyed beautiful music, and often they invited the great artists of the day to play in their home.
- 3.—One very cold, snowy night, a famous pianist, Rafael Joseffy, was invited to the Russell home. I wanted to see him very much and stood in the cold beneath the drawing-room window for hours waiting for the musician to appear.
- 4.—I became ill from the effects of the cold, and thereafter when the Russells gave a musical, I was allowed to serve as a door-boy.
- 5.—When I grew to be a young man, I sang in the churches and Jewish synagogues of Erie.
- 6.—With the help of friends I went to New York City. There I won a scholarship at the national Conservatory of Music. This scholarship and other odd jobs paid for my schooling.
- 7.—One day I learned that a baritone soloist was needed at St. George's Episcopal church, one of the wealthiest and most aristocratic white churches in New York.
- 8.—I applied for the position immediately. Fifty-nine white soloists wanted the position also; but within a few days I was chosen.
- 9.—I sang in this choir for more than thirty-years. And at the same time I sang in the Temple Emanuel, the richest Jewish synagogue in our country for more than twenty-five years.
- 10.—Some of my most popular spirituals are "Deep River," "O Didn't It Rain?" and "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot."

PSITTACOSIS (Parrot Fever)

Psittacosis is an infectious disease which occurs in parrots and parakeets and is apparently due to a filterable virus. The virus is transmitted from the sick parrot to man but it is doubtful whether it can be transmitted from man to man.

The incubation period is about twelve days, the onset is acute, generally followed by a chill. There is a general malaise, headache and occasionally vomiting. The pulse is relatively slow compared to the temperature. There is cough and scanty sputum. The respiratory symptoms although present are not severe, and the physical signs of pulmonary consolidation appear gradually and with irregular distribution.

The course of this disease is somewhat irregular and the duration may vary from ten to fifteen days. A few cases have been reported which run a course like typhoid fever without obvious lesions but with an eruption closely simulating rose spots.

The prognosis varies considerably as the mortality ranges from ten to forty percent in different outbreaks. It is highest in elderly people. In children the course is less severe. The diagnosis is difficult unless the association with a sick or dead parrot or parakeet is known. It is usually confused with the bronchial pneumonia of influenza or typhoid fever.

Community center ten, defending champions, to a close score but as nosed in the final when two errors allowed two runs to cross the plate resulting in a 4 to 2 victory, at Amos Hiatt field Thursday.

Everett Singleton fanned six as Harry Saunders, losing pitcher was striking out five. Scoring thirteen runs in the first inning, the Hawkeyes Club smothered Corinthian Baptist, 22 to 2 at West High Friday, June 21. Practically every man on the losing side took his turn in the box to stop the East-siders' "blitzkrieg." "Bubbles" Burcell pitched no-hit ball until the final inning when he walked George, Harold and Owen Robinson followed by Bill Martin's double.

The Hawkeyes staged a bit of comedy in the last inning; Jimmy Payne cracked a single with "Buckeye" May on third base. May tore out for second base as Jimmy streaked down to third and clear around the bases in reverse order much to the amusement of the spectators.

LINCOLN POST

By LeRoy Bird

The Lincoln Post No. 126 closed the year with around 70 members. The outstanding program of the year was the Peace program at St. Paul A. M. E. Church, sponsored by Comrade John Munns, with the assistance of his committees. The Post was responsible for the safety island at Tenth & Keo; and, under the heading of "community work," are these programs—Americanism, child, welfare, Boy's State, Boy Scout and others. The Argonne Post No. 69 and the Forty-eight were responsible for sending a boy to Boy's State.

There are nine veterans in the hospital, and only one in a bad condition. Twenty members are going strong in the uniform club. The while post is marching in Legion uniforms. Sampson is putting this club over in a big way. Meetings are held at his place. Bailey is entertainment chairman. For every dollar a member lays down on his uniform the club will match it.

Elect Officers

The following comrades were elected for the ensuing year: Wm. T. Burns, commander; Clarence Adams, first vice; Claude Frye, second vice; LeRoy P. Bird, adjutant; F. I. Stone, finance; C. L. R. Gibson, historian; Morris DeSleet, chaplain; Floyd Bailey, sergeant-at-arms; George Sampson, Guddis Leath, Don Platter, executive committee.

The retiring commander, Mr. DeSleet, served two terms. A new broom sweeps clean, so don't be surprised if a new report or bobs up; my pen is dry now any how. Hope I have served well-L. R. Bird.

TENNIS

Jimmie McDaniels, national singles champ is in rare form again, and they say he has teamed up with his old doubles partner, Richard Cohen to take over things for another year.

WHITERS LOSES TO SAVOLD

Lee Savold gained sweet revenge for the lacing he received at the hands of Johnny Whitters by trimming him at Riverview park last Monday night in front of a howling crowd who couldn't see what was going on. The bout as advertised as one Savold had to in in order to get back on big time, and just before the battle, Poppa Dea, trainer for Whitters was loud in his predictions about what his boy was going to do to Lee. All this struck us as the usual come-on for suckers, so we stuck to our guns and predicted a win for Savold. It was just about as we expected. Whitters was unable to get any sparring partners for the bout, a thing he and his managers must have known before they came here. So he worked with Louie Taylor, a lightweight. His timing was off, and where before, he had been crowding Lee and getting the best of the infighting, he chose to fight at long range, and do little or no leading. Johnny suffered the opening of an old cut over his eye, and the fans howled with glee at the terrific punching power of the local boy. Never knocked off his feet before, Whitters was floored by Lee, a supposedly impossible feat. Yea, the whole thing was made to order, and how the faithful took it in! As for your writer, he began to wish he had stayed in bed and gained a couple of hours sleep.

The semi-windup was a hum-dinger. Frank Jones tackled Cyclone Lynch, and punched him to a mere whisper, but without getting floored by a tremendous left hook. Jones nearly scored a kayo in the opening round when he belted Lynch with hefty lefts and rights and had him wobbling like a baby learning to walk, but the bell stopped things before Lynch bit the resin. In the fifth round Lynch let go with a real old fashioned roundhouse left hook from his shoe-ops, and Jones sat down with his head and feet changing ends. He got right up and wiped off his own gloves, and went right to work on the Cyclone where he left off when he was interrupted. Just before the bell for the last round rung, Jones hung one on the chin of the Cyclone that pretty near put him in reverse. Again the bell saved the well battered Cyclone.

Earl Claybourne got a return match with Chet Jones of Oskaloosa, and was probably convinced that the white boy was a good one to leave alone. Jones punched Earl full of holes, and in turn got a royal pasting himself, but there was no doubt as to who won the battle.

NEGRO STAR IN

N. C. A. A. TRACK MEET

The N. C. A. A. track meet sort of took on a dark outlook as the septa boys ran away with their share of events. Most outstanding as the double defeat of Clyde Jeffery of Stanford, hailed as the fastest white sprinter in the country by Barney Ewell of Penn State. Jeffery was supposed to take the hundred and two-hundred yard dashes, but he forgot to bring along his clippings, and Ewell clipped him in both races. Then Ed Duggers of Tufts put a erimp in the idea of big Fred Wolcott of Rice by dusting him in the high hurdles and setting a new mark on a rain soaked field. Wolcott took Ed in the lows, but he just barely got home first. Archie Harris found the big boys from the coast tossing the shot entirely too far to make any sense, so he did the same thing to the discus, incidently getting even with Jack Hughes of Texas for boasting him in the Drake Relays. Harris set a new mark also. Jackie Robinson of U. C. L. A. ith his baseball season behind him, took off in the broad jump and grabbed top honors with Bill Laceyfield of the same school getting third. Fred Allinnee of Prairie View pulled up fifth in a fast quarter mile field, and Xavier scored some points in the high jump and some in relay.
