Blamed For Blocking Defense Jobs

Defense Work Halted By Reactionary Unions Affiliated with A. F. L.

Washington.—(ANP)—Negro employment in defense industries is being blocked and halted by reactionary unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, which controls the work vital in many defense plants and no amount of "paper records" will offset the actual records of these unions concerning Negro labor.

The Fair Employment Practices committee recognizes this fact, it is believed, and will set about seeking some remedy if the unions themselves do not clean house.

The chief offender along this line is the American Federation of Labor, which with its numerous unions national in scope, refusing by one device or another admission of Negroes into the organization, scoff at the President's executive order to industry and literally thumb their noses at the FEP.

Mr. Coleman Asks Clubs to Fight Discrimination

If every Negro club in Des Moines would skip one week of bridge and devote this time in protesting against this Hitlerized discrimination at West Junior High, you would get results.

One of the guest speakers at the public meeting of the Des Moines Branch of the NAACP, held at Burns church, Mr. Coleman revealed a chain of discriminatory practices against Negro applicants who attempted to enroll in the vocational training school at West Junior high school.

Mr. Coleman urged Negroes to hold a meeting and to write letters to Iowa members of congress. The remainder of the meeting was devoted to delegates to the national conference of the NAACP last June at Houston, Texas.

With Atty. W. L. Oliver presiding, A. P. Trotter, winner of the Freddie Hawkins trophy for raising the largest number of members on Mr. Hawkins' team during the local membership drive, was awarded the trophy.

Among the visitors presented were Judge F. S. Shankland of the Polk County court, Mrs. Marjorie Stewart Joyner of Chicago, supervisor of the Mm. Walker Beauty Schools; Miss Georgine Mason, whose painting was selected for the Roosevelt exhibition, at Hyde Park, N. Y. recently; A. A. Alexander, who revealed new conditions on the Polk County Draft boards which are to be investigated.

The chief sought out members of top-ranking unions, the mine workers, which was his own union; the barbers, the hodcarriers and two other groups and asked them to name a member to the committee of five to conduct the investigation.

John Brophy, now representing Philip Murray of the CIO on the FEP, was one of those appointed and also named secretary to the group.

Hearings, public, were ordered held in Washington in the executive chambers of the AFL. These ran two days with a number of local persons appearing to testify before the group. Each told a story condemning the attitude of the AFL. And as each story was told the picture was clearer and clearer that the AFL was even then on the spot.

The committee then, at the end of the two days, sought to continue its work by having hearings in other key cities, New York, Chicago, St. Louis, and other spots throughout the country.

Instead of moving on to do this, the group decided to put the matter up to Mr. Green, who was fully cognizant of what was shown in the hearings.

Green vetoed the suggestion declaring it would cost too much and recommended that the committee make its report to a special executive committee instead of the convention which had authorized the group.

ing Jim Crow conditions at army camps where Negro boys have been sent for training, and of some of the discriminatory practices here in Des Moines.

Mrs. Morris urged the public to support the NAACP in its efforts to remedy some of the conditions. Arthur Bryant, student at Drake university, sang as a special number, "Wondering Countryman."

The public was invited to attend the November meeting at which time further reports of the national conference will be given by Mrs. Morris, who declared "we have been beating the devil around the bush long enough." She will tell of some of the local discrimination she met while visiting her son before he left for Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. "Our boys are being treated shamefully," she said.

Johnson's Vertigo. After all these years, modern medical specialists have come forward to vindicate Dr. Samuel Johnson, crusty old English philosopher, wisecracker and lexicographer. They say he was not as eccentric as legend makes out.

One of the "crazy" things that Johnson did was to touch every post he passed on his walks abroad. The experts now say that the explosive old doctor suffered from high blood pressure at a time when the ailment was not understood and that frequently he was beset by dizzy spells. The more he walked the greater his vertigo, so he made a rule to touch the posts to steady himself.

Radio Serves as Phone. An attachment can be obtained for a radio which, by turning a switch, converts the radio into a house telephone. By running a cord from the radio in the living room to a little box in an upstairs bedroom, for example, it no longer becomes necessary to shout back and forth from downstairs to upstairs. Another invention eliminates the changing of phonograph needles by actually reflecting the music on a beam of light from a tiny mirror to a photoelectric cell. The scraping needle is gone.

WORST PUNISHMENT OF ALL

New York—Referring to a Southern congressman's blast against Charles Lindbergh for his injection of racism into his recent Des Moines, Iowa speech, Walter White, NAACP executive secretary wrote to the editor of the New York Herald-Tribune last Friday:

"A member of the Texas legislature yesterday shouted, 'Lindbergh ought to be shipped back to Germany to live with his own people.'"

"I suggest a far more terrible punishment. Make Lindbergh's skin black and condemn him to live in Texas."

Legionnaires Dissatisfied With 1942 Convention Site

Milwaukee.—(ANP)—The designation of New Orleans as the site of its 1942 convention has caused much dissatisfaction among the ranks of Negro legionnaires who attended the American Legion convention held here last week. Letters of strong protest are to be sent to the newly elected national commander, Lynn U. Stambaugh of Fargo, N. D., demanding that the Louisiana committee of arrangements assure Negro delegates they will receive every courtesy;

REV. AUSTIN DENIES RUMORS HE WILL HEAD BAPTIST SPLIT

Cleveland.—(By Herman Clayton for ANP)—Contrary to rumors afloat, the Dr. J. C. Austin, Chicago, unsuccessful candidate for president of the National Baptist Convention, does not plan any effort to start a new body of Baptists nor to institute court action in contestation of the election, in which, according to Rev. Austin, only a mysterious "hand full" of the more than 12,000 messengers who had streamed from all parts of the country for the express purpose of voting, were so permitted.

Instead Rev. Austin says he plans to form into permanent organization the 1,000 ministers who in Mt. Zion Baptist church while in Cleveland voluntarily pledged themselves to fight within the convention the flagrant abuses which have "for too long a time shamed the Baptist convention."

These abuses, Dr. Austin said, expressed themselves in the refusal of what he terms the machine-run convention to register opposition delegates, and in what Dr. Austin says is a fraudulent practice of issuing non-negotiable disregard of

"We are the group that does all of the shouting and none of the paying," she declared. "Negroes have tried everything they know—to make a success—but God," she added, "She pointed out that "to make money" they have tried gambling, followed rackets—"we have even changed our religion."

"I want to ask you tonight to try God," she said, pleading for the Christian people to band themselves together to get the things that they wanted.

Mrs. Georgine Morris presided at the graduating exercises. Mrs. Joyner presented the diplomas to the graduates.

Defense Work Halted By Reactionary Unions Affiliated with A. F. L.

Washington, (ANP)—Negro employment in defense industries is being blocked and halted by reactionary unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, which controls the work vital in many defense plants and no amount of "paper records" will offset the actual records of these unions concerning Negro labor.

Although the AFL has from time to time gone on record in open convention as being "opposed" to the discrimination practiced against Negroes, nothing has been done to remedy a situation which is known to exist in the national unions.

As far back as 1934, it is reported, A. Philip Randolph fought on the floor of the convention to have this black mark eradicated. The convention as a whole voted to "look into the matter" and authorized the president, William L. Green, to appoint a committee to see what could be done.

Mr. Coleman Asks Clubs to Fight Discrimination

"If every Negro club in Des Moines would skip one week of bridge and devote this time in protesting against this Hitlerized discrimination at West Junior High, you would get results," John S. One of the guest speakers at the public meeting of the Des Moines Branch of the NAACP, held at Burns church, Mr. Coleman revealed a chain of discriminatory practices against Negro applicants who attempted to enroll in the vocational training school at West Junior high school.

He declared that since last March less than 10 Negroes had gained admission to the vocational course. He referred to President Roosevelt's executive order on June 25 saying there should be no discrimination in training schools or defense contracts.

Mr. Coleman urged Negroes to hold a meeting and to write letters to Iowa members of congress.

The remainder of the meeting was devoted to delegates to the national conference of the NAACP last June at Houston, Texas. Among the speakers were: Freddie Hawkins, Ike Smalls and Atty. S. Joe Brown. Mrs. Georgine Morris, president of the branch and Iowa branches delayed her report until the next public meeting.

Morganatic Marriage A morganatic marriage, which sometimes is called a left-handed marriage because the left, rather than the right, hand often is given in ceremony, is the form of marriages which male members of some of the royal families of Europe and certain nobility formerly belonging to reigning families may contract with a woman of inferior rank. The wife does not inherit the rank of the husband or father and the children do not succeed either to the father's public position or to the property annexed to that position and belonging to him in virtue of his title. In some states, a morganatic wife or her children have no rights of succession in the private property of the husband excepting under will or marriage settlement. The term also is applied when a woman of nobility marries a man who is her social inferior.

Such a marriage is valid and while existing, precludes any other children being legitimate.

Pin-Decorated Slipware A goal for the collector is old pin-decorated slipware. Even run-of-the-mill slipware does not grow on trees, since its value was not appreciated until about a quarter of a century ago, but pin-decorated examples are scarce.

Early American slipware was either undecorated, trimmed with slip, or the design scratched into the clay surface (sgraffito work). Now and again a piece turns up which indicates that its decoration was produced by means of a set pattern, writes Edna De Pree Nelson in American Collector. That is, the design was first sketched on paper, then the latter laid on the clay and the pattern pinpricked through into the clay with a sharp-pointed instrument. After the paper pattern was removed the artist sometimes completed the pinched lines with the point of an instrument, or left it as it was, according to his whim.

Outline Fall Activities by Negro Community Centers

The Negro Community Centers will begin their fall activities on Sept. 29. In planning the programs for the 1941-1942 season, every effort has been made to fulfill the needs of the community with respect to activities offered and covering all age groups. Other activities not included in the program will be organized upon the request of a sufficient number of persons.

It is hoped that in some measure the agency can give to the community a confidence in a Democratic way of living, better physical health, a security in the desires, emotional stability and a serene happiness in the belief that all are individuals of their own making.

SPECIAL DAYS FOR SEPTEMBER Sept. 20—The Drake Keys and the Community Center were co-hosts at a party honoring the new Drake students.

Sept. 25—The Campfire girls held a membership party at the Center. All girls ten years of age and over were invited. The group also participated in all city membership breakfast at Greenwood Park on Saturday, Sept. 27. Joan Burke is the president and Marguerite Colborn is the acting guardian.

Sept. 29—The Community Center will honor their baseball teams at a Radio Supper party "Dad" Hoyt of the physical education department of the Des Moines public schools, will address the group.

Chewing Cubed Carrots Show Efficiency of Teeth

How's your C. Q.? That is—how's your chewing quotient?

If you know the answer to that question you will know how efficient your teeth are—and whether there is anything wrong with them. You can find out through the expedient of chewing cubed carrots—the plain everyday raw variety.

You may check your C. Q. by chewing cubed carrots and having the result tested by efficient dental assistants.

The test is conducted as follows: First you chew 10 regulation weighted carrots cubed (small size); second, you chew them 15 times; third, this residue is emptied into a container, rinsed 10 times through a four-inch mesh screen and the residue weighed; fourth, percentage of chewing capacity computed from original weight of 10 cubes and residue after rinsing 10 times.

The result will show you how good a chewer you are and more technically will show the dentist how efficient your teeth are. Experts can tell from the test whether your teeth are hitting or just missing in the socket! Here's how you're rated: Extra good chewing, 90 to 95 per cent; good, 80 to 90 per cent; average, 75 per cent; poor, 50 per cent or below.

Ragweed Pollen Anywhere

Ragweed pollen throughout the country in an average season would form a cone 1,035 feet around the base and 345 feet high, but the catch is that the pollen can never be collected and the sneeze epidemic will go right on. A recent research by a Chicago laboratory and the United States weather bureau disclosed that the highest percentage of pollen was found in Indianapolis, Ind., and Peoria, Ill., with Seattle, Sacramento, Miami, Reno and Portland, Ore., with pollen indexes of zero. But according to O. C. Durham, Chicago botanist, pollen can be carried almost anywhere by high winds. Air pollen density, according to doctors, is determined by sneezing a sticky substance on a glass slide which is exposed to the air. The number of grains of pollen is counted at the end of each day and a bus is established for an index.

Underdressing Dull, Boresome, Says Expert

Don't let your determination not to be overressed influence you too far in the other direction that you turn out to be the kind of woman who is always underdressed.

Overdressing has a bad effect on the spectators. But underdressing has a demoralizing effect on the wearer herself. It's nothing short of embarrassing for any woman to find that she's the only woman in the party who is not in evening clothes. Having to wander around in a day dress amid dozens of women in floor-length dinner dresses, however simple they are, is enough to make her want to roll up in a quilt and hide in the closet.

It's a mistake to wear fancy gloves, a flowing veil, gobs of jewelry, and a corsage of flowers at the same time. But it's just as much a mistake to wear nothing except a plain silk shirt, a plain felt hat, and sensible shoes and gloves with a severely tailored black suit.

Some of the accessories ought to be unusual or at least a trifle exciting. A gay corsage or a flashing lapel jewel or a huge, sparkling pin might be added. Something ought to be done to give an otherwise strictly tailored conservative costume a lift.

ABBE WALLACE

E. A. O.—Why does this girl try to make my husband notice her when we are out together? Are they seeing each other? Does she notice him when I am not with him?

Ans: The girl is trying desperately to make you jealous and doesn't seem to realize that she is making herself ridiculous in the eyes of other people. No, if she were going with your husband, show him lots of love and affection, don't let any one take him away.

G. N. C. - I I have two lots and I have been thinking of building a nice home on them. Is this the best time for me to build or what do you advise in my case. I have a home, I don't care to live in the home myself, but thought of renting it.

Ans: Don't build the expensive house that you have in mind right now for it just won't pay for renting purposes. Although if you wish to build a place to sell, that of course is a different story. Building material and etc has gone sky high right now and since it isn't essential that you do anything... it might be well to hold to your money and wait awhile before deciding on this problem.

W. L. M. - Do you think I should give this man up I have and let him get a wife for I am a great deal older than him? I want to make him happy for I love him.

Ans: This is a problem for you two alone to decide. If he is satisfied to continue on with you then

Cure for 'Dope'
Two doctors of Grace hospital, Detroit, have been experimenting in "frozen sleep" as a cure for morphinism, or drug addiction and recently announced the experiments as successful. They are Dr. J. M. Beris and Dr. M. K. Newman. These eminent physicians have declared that medical science has proven that morphinism, or drug addiction, to be purely a psychic condition, one in which only the mind and not the body is affected. They say, "By making a morphine addict's mind blank for a period of several days—as is done in the refrigeration treatment—the condition entirely disappears and the brain returns to normal."

THE PERSONAL TOUCH
(By Marie Ross)

A weakness for chicken and dumplings landed the writer in the hospital this week—not from having devoured the food—but for having made a date to eat it at the home of a kind lady who was expecting the stork. Well, the writer and the stork decided to land at the address at the same time but the writer beat the stork. She was warming up a nice big dish—when Mr. Stork started knocking. There was a flurry a hurry and an S. O. S.'s to the doctor's office. In a gush of wind the doctor was there—and we four—the kind hostess, the doctor, Mr. Stork and writer were bound for the hospital—leaving behind a steaming plate of delicious chicken and dumplings. The "dumpling" soon arrived but the chicken vanished—devoured by the next member of the family who arrived home—hungry. For further reference see Mrs. Virginia Mackay Williams.

Few people ever actually get ready for the coming season—as doing all of their Christmas shopping in the summer—or their spring shopping in the winter. But one housewife, Mrs. Mary Willis, 1901 Washington has actually gotten ready for winter.

Something New—Candy.

Aids in Weight Reducing

Sounds too good to be true, but there is a new and very special kind of candy now available which not only satisfies the overweight person's sweet tooth, but which also actually aids in weight reduction.

"Aids" is the appropriate name of this new candy, which is said to reduce weight without the aid of cathartics, glandular products or harmful drugs of any kind.

Its manufacturers state that their product contains only vitamins A, B and D, plus food factors from milk, egg yolk, maltose and plants.

Analysis shows the following ingredients: Vitamins A, B and D; dicalcium phosphate, powdered carrots, powdered egg yolks, whole milk, soy bean flour, coconut oil, salt, corn syrup and sugar.

Here's a typical day's diet, each meal to be preceded by one or two pieces of Aids candy 15 minutes previously:

Breakfast—1 orange, 1 boiled or poached egg, 2 slices crisp bacon, 1/2 slice thin toast, 1 square butter, 2 tablespoons thin cream.

Lunch—5 tablespoons cottage cheese, 2 slices crisp bacon, 1/4 head lettuce, 6 radishes, 1/2 slice bread, 1 square butter, 1 glass skimmed milk, 1 fresh peach.

Dinner—1 medium serving (1 1/2 ounces) pot roast of beef, 1/2 medium head cauliflower, 1/2 medium size tomato, 1/2 slice bread, 1 square butter, 1 glass skimmed milk, 1/4 cup fresh raspberries, 2 tablespoons thin cream.

Let Every Fellow Help

Last Sunday in addition to an address on National Defense in Des Moines, the NAACP public meetings included reports from the Des Moines delegates who attended the National conference in Houston, Ex. last summer.
 The reports were informative, well given and undoubtedly the audience were reassured of the value of the work of the association.
 Unfortunately the crowd was small in spite of the fact that the organization has more than 3 hundred members, many of whom often complain that they have no knowledge of what the association is doing.
 Of course no one expects all members to attend these meetings. Some have no interest in helping a cause of this type even though they themselves are benefitting by the work of the organization.
 Frankly the biggest disappointment is the fact that altogether too many of our business and professional men and women in the community don't attend these meetings; don't carry their share of the responsibility involved in furthering an organization of this type. The very position of these people makes them leaders in the community and as such are looked upon by other citizens of the community for guidance. Such people are shirking their duty to those not so situated, to their race and to the community.
 After all, we are passing through unusual times, when every fellow is required to carry his share of the responsibility. Our so-called intelligentsia should not shirk their responsibility.

Des Moines Is Pleased

Naturally, Des Moines is proud of its sons and daughters who do things well. And in Georgine Mason whose paintings have been given such splendid recognition one having been selected to hang in President Roosevelt's library there is no exception to the rule.
 Those who are acquainted with Miss Mason know that she has spent much time and effort in her work, that she never sat waiting for the opportunity to come to her but found time to paint when it was not profitable. She recognized the value of working hard to develop her talent.
 It's a good lesson to many youngsters who get discouraged all too early because the job is tough and success does not come from the jump. Congratulations, Miss Mason. Keep up the good work.

Let's Protect Every Boy

The Bystander has never placed all the responsibility on Hitler for the miseries of the world. Evidently the German people are with him; otherwise he could not have gone so far.
 The same process of reasoning we apply to much of the labor disturbances we are having today. Some people attempt to blame a few Communists for all the trouble. They are a small minority so evidently what they do is approved by the majority.
 Here in Des Moines, we are having a strike of some of the restaurant workers. Property has been destroyed and men injured. There are those who say a few Communists are responsible. The police department attempts to give the public protection, and some labor leaders oppose it; in fact some have asked the department to remove guards from the place.
 The Bystander believes labor should have the right to strike except in plants filling defense orders—provided they do in an orderly manner. Let the law protect them in the lawful pursuit of those rights. And on the other hand, citizens have a right to the protection of their property against violence from criminals or unlawful acts by strikers and that it's a pretty poor police department that fails to do this.

WHO AM I?

By Henry N. Wilcott
 A TRAGEDIAN
 Born in the state of Georgia in 1855, and of French descent. At an early age I read a deal about the imperator and remarkable actor, Ira Aldridge.

After my public and private schooling came to an end, I entered Beech Institute for four years and, when I had graduated I turned my attention northward to seek further education.
 At New York I studied both German and Latin but soon left and entered Berlitz School of Languages at Providence, R. I., where I became master of French. Afterward I visited Paris and took courses in the Academic Royal Des Inscrption at Belles Lettres et Morals et Politique.

On my return home I began as a song and dance artist, at Tony Pastor's Metropolitan and the old Globe Theater on Broadway.
 1876 I made my first appearance in legitimate drama, as Tom Walcott, a Southern planter, called "Under the Yoke," or "Bound and Free." But not until 1884 did I begin seriously studying the stage. On June 17, of the same year I made my debut at the Brooklyn Athenaeum, in Iago, in which (The New York Daily News paid me a tribute in its columns).
 Very soon after I formed the first Shakespearean troupe of colored tragedians that was known later as the Astor-Place company. We appeared at a number of outstanding houses, including the Academy of Music.

1885 I won the Gold Medal award in my performance of Shakespeare's Tragedy of Richard 3rd, from which the New York leading dailies gave me the title of "Black Booth." At different times I was writer on the staff of the New York World, The New York Sun and The Literary Enterprise, of which I became sole proprietor of the last named journal.
 I think I was among the first to advocate the total abolition of the word color, and the substitution thereof of the word Afro-American. I also advocated for an African Historical Society for the purpose of preserving the writings and deeds of colored authors and prominent persons in the race.

Who Am I? Answer—Jean A. Arneaux.

U. S. Cheese Consumption Among World's Lowest

The average American housewife appears to regard cheese as a flavoring. But basically cheese is a food, one of the best we have, being high in concentrated milk. Diet experts call it a good source of the calcium and phosphorus we should all get more of, a good source of vitamin A, a fair source of vitamin D, and containing appreciable quantities of the vitamin B complex and of vitamin C.
 Americans use less cheese per capita than almost any nation; the Swiss the most. The average Switzer will get away with more than 23 pounds a year; the average Netherlander, Frenchman or Dane between 13 and 14 pounds; the average German or Englishman between 9 and 9½ pounds, and the average American or Canadian 4 to 4½

DELIRIUM TREMENS

This is a state of acute delirium usually preceded by certain signs as excitement and restlessness. It is seldom seen in wine and beer drinkers, but most commonly found in those who are habitual users of whiskey, gin, brandy, and other spirituous liquors. It may be developed during a period of intense and persistent alcoholism or be precipitated in more modern imbibers who have suffered a severe shock accident or acute infection, such as sun stroke, fracture, operations, influenza, pneumonia, etc.

The symptoms are more violent during the night than during the day, the most prominent being hallucinations of sight. These may be concerned with the ordinary articles or animals of a household, or the individual's daily round of duties. On the other hand, they may take the form of terrifying animals, and unreal shapes and colors. The individual has little or no conception of his surroundings, and fails to recognize familiar objects or members of his family. The memory is completely lost. Some remain subdued and terrified, while others are violent and noisy and try to escape from their unreal environment. There are incoordination of the arms and legs and a constant trembling of the limbs, body and tongue, which interferes not only with coordinated action but also with speech. The attack usually continues in proportion to its intensity for a week to ten days, and terminates almost suddenly when the patient falls into a deep sleep and awakens after ten to twenty-four hours in complete ignorance of what has happened, hallucinations have disappeared but the mental processes are sluggish and uncertain. The patient should be carefully watched and given necessary drugs for rest.

The figures are prewar. They indicate clearly that Americans are not getting their share. Belief in the indigestibility of cheese appears to be based on consumption of green or unripe cheese, which is more commonly sold in America than in most countries. Properly ripened cheese is easily digested, easily assimilated, and very nourishing, to those with normal digestive equipment.

LOUIS VS. NOVA

Next Monday night heavyweight champion Joe Louis lays his crown on the line for the nineteenth time. His opponent, Lou Nova, will, experts all agree, will be the best conditioned and perhaps the most determined challenger Joe ever met. No one seems to think that Nova will win the crown, that is no one but Nova.

Louis' handlers and the Yogi battlers have staked a lot on what they call a cosmic punch. They say it has something to do with balance and then, too, they intend to play on Joe's natural superstition that all Negroes are supposed to have.

Our guess is that Joe will be just superstitious enough to bat Lou right into dreamland, cosmic punch and all. The old agreement that Louis is slipping may be correct. Someone once said that we never stand still—we go up or down and when we reach the top there is only one way to go—down—and Joe Louis is no exception. If he doesn't take him this time, it may be up to Adolph Hitler to try his luck. Here's hoping Adolph's luck is no better than the rest.

Armstrong Fight Postponed

Henry Armstrong's scheduled comeback has been delayed somewhat by a broken finger that will set back things for five or six weeks. We are also deprived of a chance to see Charley Howard's new fighter, Panther Williams, who was to have met Cyclone Lynch, a local favorite of a couple years ago.

Milwaukee sent a team of Golden Gloves champions here last Monday. They tangled with the local champions and were outboxed four to one. They had three Negro boys on their team but they all lost. Bill Heath, state lightweight champion, was stopped by Vance Bosler and another one was beaten by Billy Cornwell. Chief local interest was in the bout in which Charley Boston, left-handed Joe Rayes of Centerville to death to defend his newly won state middleweight honors. We have been hearing some strutting news about a star boxing here. Some of it is really too hot to handle with substantial corroboration. We shall contrive our investigations and see what we can turn up.

Football

The rah-rah season is here again. The season of rib-busting blocks and pants, cracking tackles is on in full swing. We went out to watch Jack Cushingberry of Drake go against St. Ambrose. Drake dusted the invaders and Cushingberry played a lot. His blocking was first rate but his defensive play didn't quite match his blocking. We hope to see him again against Iowa.

Jesse Hill all city end, was shifted to full back as East opened against Valley. He will be a good ground gainer for the Scarlet and Black. Bill Freeman played a steady game at guard and Lonnie Howard saw some service.

Cancer Kills 100 Daily

Stomach cancer is killing nearly 100 persons in the United States every day, yet most of them could be saved if they would go to their physicians at the first signs of gastric trouble, Dr. T. F. Mullen, San Francisco surgeon, asserted.

Making a survey, Dr. Mullen found records of only 3,000 operations for the removal of stomach cancer in the last 50 years in the United States. During that time 1,500,000 deaths have been listed as due to that particular kind of malignancy. His reports appeared in Surgery, Obstetrics and Gynecology, a medical journal. He is a clinical surgeon in the University of California medical school.

At any given time, Dr. Mullen said, there are 27,000 persons in the United States with curable cases of stomach cancer.

After a night-long bombardment of Ft. McHenry and Baltimore, finding the flag still flying, an American prisoner on a British warship scratched his emotions on an old envelope.

The music and meter of the "Anacreon in Heaven," a popular drinking song in both Europe and America, were doubtless running through the poet's mind. His name does not appear in the Patriot, nor did his verses get a title for several months. However, it was sung in Baltimore in about a week after it was written; one time when a hymn redeemed a tune from drunken bar-room brawls.

Excessive Variety Monotony

Designing homes so that they will be in harmony with other houses in the neighborhood is sometimes a serious problem. The federal housing administration urges developers to avoid both monotony and excessive variety of architectural effect. When a developer uses only a limited number of house plans, variety and interest may be secured by having sometimes the end elevation and sometimes the side elevation toward the street by placing the garages and by varying the setback line and the planting so interesting groupings are secured.

American Cheese Will Stand 'Aging' Long Time

A Welsh rabbit made with good, old cheese will not give anybody a nightmare.
 "Old" is a relative term in cheese. Some of the soft cheeses ripen in a month; some of the hard cheeses are at their best only after years in storage. The United States government, in its purchases of American, or Cheddar-type, cheese for distribution to relief clients, set 14 weeks as the minimum time which cheese should age to be fit for human consumption. But this cheese will stand aging indefinitely.

The cooking schools have taught women to appraise food with the eye, and green cheese does have nice, clean, bright-looking rind, whereas aged cheese is rather dingy-looking.
 Then, too, the average American appears to prefer mild flavors; and green cheese hasn't had time to develop flavor.

Here, however, is a discovery about an age-old food: ripe cheese is mild in flavor if kept in a temperature of 45 or below. This is possible in the modern refrigerator, and it wasn't possible until the modern refrigerator was invented.

In a few hours out of the chill, it begins to pick up flavor; in a couple of days out, it is ready to go places; and after 72 hours in a warm room it may take the plate with it.
 If you make a mistake and leave it out too long to suit your taste, no harm is done: pop it back in the cold and the strength will subside.

All cheeses respond more or less by varying their flavor with various lengths of exposure to warmth, but the American responds more reliably.
