NAACP ANNUAL CONFERENCE CHANGED TO JULY 14 TO 19

New York—The date of the annual conference of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People to be held in Los Angeles, California, has been changed to July 14 to 19 from June 23 to 28 by vote of the branches, it was announced by the NAACP this week.

The Board of Directors of the Association voted approval of the change pending the action of the branches at its September meeting.

The July date was favored because it would allow many more persons to attend the California meeting. Plans are already underway to entertain a large delegation. It is expected that arrangements will be made for a special train out of Chicago.

LAGUARDIA GETS JOBS FOR SIX WOMEN

New York—Immediately upon receipt of a telegram from the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, on October 7, concerning the refusal of military authorities at Governor's Island, here to accept six colored women volunteers for air raid service in connection with planned maneuvers, Mayor F. H. LaGuardia, called the Island, rebuked officials in charge and secured the placement of all of them.

The women were referred by the city department of welfare along with about 52 others at the request of the U. S. Army Air Force and the New York Council of Defense to do clerical and stenographic work. Nearly all of the referrals were asked to report for duty with the exception of the colored women. William Hodson, commissioner of the department of welfare, stated that they were "employees who had rendered faithful service and were fully competent for the positions."

Bury Coal Miners Killed In Motor Spill

Truck Driver Released of Criminal Charge by County Officials; 4 Others Injured

Funeral rites for the two coal miners, Felix (Pete) English, 32, 1337 Fremont street, and Susco Jackson, 53, 1010 Eleventh street, who were killed Friday morning in a motor car-truck crash were held this week, the former from the Maple Street Baptist church, Monday afternoon with the Rev. L. G. Garrett officiating; and the latter, Wednesday afternoon from the Corinthian Baptist church, with the Rev. G. W. Robinson in charge.

In the fatal accident, which occurred near Grimes, Iowa at 6:50 a. m. Friday, four other coal miners were on their way to work at the Norwood-White Coal Mine No. 8, were injured. John Dorsey, 22-year-old of Kearney, Neb., white driver of a trailer-truck which carried a load of potatoes, told officials the head-on collision occurred when sun got in his eyes and he missed the sharp curve in Highway 64, three miles east of Grimes. The truck swung around the curve on the wrong side of the pavement, leaving no room for the automobile, in which the miners were riding, to pass. English was driving the motor car.

The other miners injured were: Oliver (Dude) Perry, 754 Eleventh street, whose condition at Broadlawn General hospital was reported "grave" this week; Leroy Welch, 27, 1169 Second Street place, Ed Grimes, 55, 1067 Fifteenth street, Rev. Frank Clark, 54, 908 Twelfth street, who were taken to Broadlawn General for injuries, have been released from the hospital.

Polk County officials Saturday said no criminal charges will be filed against Dorsey, truck driver, in connection with the accident.

Mr. English had been employed at the mine three years. He was driving an automobile owned by the Brom Auto Co., 1470 Keosauqua way, where he had been employed part time. His own motor car was in that garage being repaired.

Surviving English are: his mother, Mrs. Fannie English of Des Moines; one son, Marvin English, 12, living in Perry, Iowa with English's divorced wife; and two sisters, Mrs. Tasha Wood and Esther English, both of Des Moines.

Burials of both English and Jackson were in Glendale cemetery with the L. Fowler and Son Funeral directors in charge.

Lawyer Flays Federal Officials for Insincerity

Minneapolis.—(By J. W. Pute for ANP) More than 600 persons witnessed a heated controversy when they attended a citizen's mass meeting Sunday at Phyllis Wheatley Settlement house sponsored by the Minnesota Negro Defense committee. The principles in the verbal battle were Jonas Swartz, white, and Lawrence A. Oxley, supervisor of racial relations unit, U. S. Bureau of Employment Security, Washington.

Mr. Oxley gave a summary of the work of his department in the fight for Negro jobs in the defense program. He referred to the President's executive order against discrimination and the urgency of Negro training and made an appeal that Negroes not resent the many unpleasant obstacles that may be thrown in their path.

Atty. Schwartz, who is a liberal Jew, was invited by the chairman of the meeting to make a few remarks. He criticized the attitude of the Negro government officials and stated that Oxley knew that very little would be done because of the insincerity of those controlling the set-up. Schwartz further disagreed with Oxley in his praise of the Ford Motor company's hiring of Negroes on a percentage basis according to population.

He said, "I believe if five jobs are open and there are five competent Negroes available, they should have the jobs irrespective of racial population." He concluded his criticism by stating if these Negro government paid officials were sincere about this discrimination break down, they would resign from their jobs in two weeks after they were employed or force a change of condition.

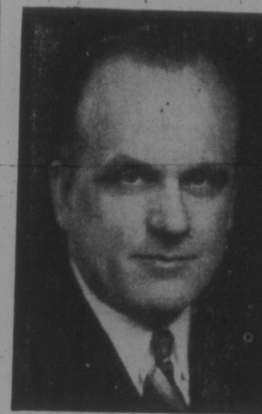

Mr. Oxley apparently became angry as he interrupted Mr. Schwartz and challenged him to a debate. Called him a demagogue, and exclaimed, "I know better Jews than you."

Funeral services for Mrs. Jane Simmons, 77, 1441 Buchanan street, were held Tuesday morning at St. Paul church. Burial was in Glendale cemetery.

Mrs. Simmons died Friday. Polk County farm following news of three weeks. A resident eight years, she is survived by daughter and a brother living in Moines and a sister in St. Minnesota.

Quarterly meeting service held Sunday at St. Paul's A. Church with the Rev. W. M. ton, presiding elder.

Community Chest Drive Oct. 24

With the theme, "Give to Defend the American Way," the 1941-42 Community Chest campaign will be conducted during the week of October 24 to 31, it has been announced by Albert J. Robertson, president of the chest.

The Polk County Relief organization will not be a member of the Chest next year, Robertson said, because of improved employment conditions and authorization for an increased poor relief levy, if such an increase ever should prove necessary.

The Convalescent Home and the Y.M.C.A. have been added, and it will not be necessary for the Y.M.C.A. to make its drive for funds, although its regular membership campaign will, of course, be continued. The Junior League has operated the Convalescent Home, and that organization also will be able to drop most of its fund-raising activities, Robertson said. Despite the increase in Chest agencies, the amount of the financial goal is $335,048, an increase of only $5,000 over last year, he pointed out.

Volunteers

Two thousand Des Moines citizens volunteer their services during the drive, for the support of the 30 Des Moines welfare agencies included in the chest. Services rendered by the community welfare agencies are classified under the following four headings: health, child welfare, family welfare educational and character building service. Health agencies will receive tentative appropriations amounting to 20 cents out of each Community Chest dollar. Child welfare service agencies will receive 15 cents of each dollar while family welfare service will use 10 cents.

The educational and character building services will receive the largest share of each contributor's dollar—47 cents. These services are designed to build character. Only 5 1-2 cents of each dollar is used for campaign and year-around administration. Des Moines' administrative cost is among the lowest in the United States, Robertson said.

ARMY BUILDING TO CAUSE TICKLISH SITUATION

Washington (ANP)—The erection of a huge $35,000,000 army building in Arlington, Va., will bring about a ticklish situation for Negroes, with the segregated laws effecting the operation of the new edifice.

With some 20,000 persons working for the war department, including hundreds of Negroes, getting to and from the building will force workers to be jam-crowded and the same rules will be in operation in the building, it is feared in many circles here.

Going out of the district to put up this new building is an entirely new step in the annals of the department.

Plans for the building indicate the most modern innovations including a vast lobby similar to the waiting rooms of a railroad station. What to expect in the nature of dressing rooms, toilet facilities and cafeterias is awaited by organizations opposed to such segregated policies. They argue that the government should not establish such precedents that they wonder what effect the state laws in Virginia will have on the operation of the new building.

Any information regarding space in the directory may be obtained from any member of the directory committee, which is composed of Mrs. Mabel Mason, Mrs. Beshears and Mr. Howard.

Catholic Speaker Tells of Rural Life Benefits

Eugene S. Geissler, assistant director of the National Catholic Rural Life Conference, discussed the program and aims of that organization at the dinner meeting of the Des Moines Interracial Commission at North High School Tuesday evening. The speaker said that this phase of work by the Catholics is of recent origin but is developing steadily and gave as its four objectives: 1 - Care for the underprivileged Catholics living on farms; keep on the land Catholics who are on the land; 3 - Settle non-Catholics on the land; 4 - Convert non-Catholics on the land. He emphasized that this program is not interpreted narrowly but is participated in by many Protestants.

Benefits

Describing the benefits to be derived from rural living, Mr. Geissler stated that "People on the land are naturally conservative. That farm ownership teaches self-dependency, honesty and thrift. That farmers, on the whole, are happy and proud because they are producers and feel an independence of spirit."

He stressed the necessity of Negroes getting close to the land to insure security for their sons and daughters. S. Edward Thompson, principal of North High school and president of the commission, announced the election of the following persons to the commission: Miss Alice Whipple, executive sec'y of the Council of Social Agencies; Paul Durrie, director of adult education in the public schools; Rev. Charles F. Thomas, pastor of the First Friends church; Roy L. Ferguson, advisor on Negro affairs; Earl C. Robinson, president of the Earl C. Robinson Co., and Freddie Hawkins, employe of the State Tax Commission.

Dr. I. T. Donaldson of New York, who was a recent visitor here was guest of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Anna Wellington, and other relatives and friends.

Johnson's Vertigo After all these years, modern medical specialists have come forward to vindicate Dr. Samuel Johnson, crusty old English philosopher, wisecracker and lexicographer. They say he was not as eccentric as legend makes out.

One of the "crazy" things that Johnson did was to touch every post he passed on his walks abroad. The experts now say that the explosive old doctor suffered from high blood pressure at a time when the ailment was not understood and that frequently he was beset by dizzy spells. The more he walked the greater his vertigo, so he made a rule to touch the posts to steady himself.

Radio Serves as Phone An attachment can be obtained for a radio which, by turning a switch, converts the radio into a house telephone. By running a cord from the radio in the living room to a little box in an upstairs bedroom, for example, it no longer becomes necessary to shout back and forth from downstairs to upstairs. Another invention eliminates the changing of phonograph needles by, actually reflecting the music on a beam of light from a tiny mirror to a photoelectric cell. The scraping needle is gone.

THE PERSONAL TOUCH

(By Marie Ross)

Patrons of some of the beauty shops are suffering from brief spells of "shock" this week, now that the new prices have gone into effect.

A patron walked into one of the shops with an urgent desire for a shampoo, press and curl. When informed of the new prices—in keeping with everything that is rising—the patron heaved a "wheew!" and backed out of the door as if a stick-up was in session, declaring she would wait until she went back to Tulsa for her beauty work. Everything in everybody's line has gone up—even the hairpins have disappeared from the beauty shop floors. These small items which used to be so plentiful are hard to get—now being rationed by wholesalers to all Des Moines beauty parlors.

Operators, who used to enjoy cluttering the patrons hair with hairpins and bobby pins, doesn't mind asking the customer to bring her pins with her when she returns.

Hairpins are scarce because they are made of steel wire, which each save your hairpins and bobby pins or toothpicks will be adorning many day becomes harder to obtain. So of the hairstyles.

Art exhibits will be in session this week—featuring many of the local Negro artists' work. The work of one young artist will be scarce and maybe missing this year. He declares he is "tired of the glory"—the news articles and pictures in the paper of his work.

"It doesn't get me a thing. I spend a lot of money buying paint—a lot of time making a collection of pictures—I win a few prizes and I am no further on with my work. Instead—if someone offered me a decent job where I could make some money—I would have time to paint something worth while—time to further my education. Then that would be something!" Mr. Charles Boyton was speaking his sentiments as he rode the bus one night enroute downtown to work.

ABBE WALLACE

X. Y. Z.—Will I ever get fat and look like a woman? I have been in this place about nine months and have not been well in all this time. What should I do?

Ans: In your case I think you would be making a very wise move to "pack your duds" and go on back home where you belong. You have nothing to look forward to as things stand now. What you need more than anything right now is to find you a good man for a husband . . . settle down to some good old fashioned living and . . . babies. This will do more to fatten you up than medicine and doctor bills.

B. N. H.—I am a reader of your column and I feel you can answer this. My husband did away with some money this week, he told me he shot pool with part of it but he didn't tell me what he did with the rest. I don't believe he shot pool with the amount he told me he did because I caught him in some lies lately. It seems like he doesn't love me like he did when we first married.

Ans: Husbands have a way of neglecting their wives when time draws close for them to be "confined". After the baby is born, everything will be different. In the meantime, be as patient as possible with him and encourage him to lay plans with you for the future of your child. He loves you as much as ever, be a little more trusting.

Depressed.—I am a girl 16 years old and soon will be finishing school. My mother and dad don't agree. Will she do better—if she goes to a certain city to "live"? Please give me some advice. Ans: You can do more than anyone to bring about a better feeling between your parents by playing the roll of PEACEMAKER in the family. Neither your father nor mother are wholly responsible for the present situation. Both have their faults and are equally to blame for the unhappy condition at home. Going to Chicago is not the answer to the problem. Better that you, your mother and dad all start attending church regularly each Sunday and learn what it is to love and cherish each other. That is the happy solution to the problem.

J. A.—I really love my wife. I got a letter my wife wrote a cousin telling her the last time she had been with her boy friend. Also we have two sweet children age 2 and 4 and I hate to separate because I want to raise my children right. What shall I do because I have lost confidence in her?

Ans: And she has lost confidence in you too brother. It's a darn shame that you two grown-ups can't face facts and adjust yourselves to one another. You still love your wife and she still loves you . . . but she is sick and tired of your bullheadedness and lack of ambition. When she married you, it was with the ambition that you intended to go places and make a name for yourself in the world. Instead you seem to be contented drifting along and letting your wife stay at home and have babies. She isn't going to stand for it follow. Be more understanding with her. Take a new slant on life. Show her that you are ambitious to go places in this world. That's the way to win her back.

Blocking Progress

It has been said on more than one occasion that too often Negroes are placed in some key job to keep the group quiet rather than to advance their cause. And it is rather surprising at the complete somersault some make once they are placed in a job as "special advisor of the Negro."

No better illustration could possibly be found than that of Judge William Hastie, who this year was named special advisor to the secretary of war. Naturally, under the almost complete exclusion of the Negro from the navy, no advisor has been named in this department on Negro affairs.

In a recent speech, Judge Hastie has suggested to Negro soldiers that the youth to forget their rights or at least quit fighting for them in the interest of harmony that a solid front of all Americans may be presented to dictator nations.

Judge Hastie has been closely identified with the NAACP, which heretofore and is now fighting for the abolition of discrimination against Negroes. He himself has made speeches, used his splendid legal ability and much of his time to further the work of the association. And yet in this strategic position he does a complete somersault.

The honored assistant ought to remember that most gains made by minority groups have come in troublesome times when the ruling heads found it beneficial to do so—often suicide not to do so. Does not he remember that his commander-in-chief announced at the beginning of the defense effort that none of the gains made by labor should be sacrificed in the speed-up program? Does he not know that the administration has encouraged labor to keep up their agitation for these so-called further gains?

Of course, the assistant was told the conditions under which he could hold the job and this speech is just an unfolding of those conditions.

The Bystander is disgusted with Judge Hastie. And that disgust arises not only from what he says but with knowledge of what the boys in camp must put up with.

And, on the other hand, while we advocate complete loyalty to the government in every respect, we do not believe loyalty calls for a surrender of a man's rights. And that becomes more forceful when the boys are being asked to prepare to sacrifice their lives that somebody in Europe may have his rights returned or made more secure.

Below Par

Draft boards indicate that a larger percentage of men have been rejected for physical defects than was true in World War No. 1. Just why, several suggestions may be in order—some probably not especially scientific but with logic just the same.

We have just passed through practically ten years of a serious depression during which time many families were deprived of some of the essentials for steady growth. As a result of that weakness, disease has crept in, in a greater degree in spite of the constant improvement in hygiene and preventive medicine.

President Roosevelt is not only alarmed about the situation, but has set about to do something to correct it. Many of the rejected draftees could be made, with a reasonable amount of medical care, physically fit to pass the examinations. With this in view, a nationwide program to give this service free is soon to be inaugurated.

This project is valuable for not only win it build up a more physically fit army for America but many of these men will live longer as civilians and pass on to posterity stronger bodies than they otherwise might have been.

The Patriotic Festival

The second annual Negro patriotic festival will be held in Des Moines Saturday. The first, held in 1940, drew a monster crowd and undoubtedly the same thing will prevail this year.

Conceived by its sponsors as a demonstration to the public just what the Negro could do in order to encourage employes of labor to grant them better and more jobs, a fairly good showing was made in that direction. We hope there will be improvement this year.

The idea is splendid but the Bystander feels that the affair simply raises the question in the minds of the employer. There is no follow through to the task of making the thought a reality. Maybe, the sponsors feel this is a job for the Negro himself to do. And yet it is the most important.

The Bystander hopes for this affair a splendid success and that it reaches the group for whom it is intended.

TO HALLS OF CONGRESS

South Carolina sent more congressmen to Washington than any other Southern State in the Union. Cain, Delarge, Rainey, Ransier, and small but, just how or why I happened to select South Carolina as my home state that eventually sent me to the halls of Congress is rather difficult to say.

I came from West Indian stock, born in Boston, August 11, 1842. I was sent to the Island of Jamaica, where I had superior advantages in the grammar schools. In 1853 I entered High Hobson Academy, London.

Three years later I was admitted to the celebrated Eton, one of the outstanding colleges of the University of London, from which I graduated with high rank in 1859.

On returning to the states I began as a printer on the Charleston Leader, and, then as editor, which position brought me face to face to an aggressive and an awaiting public.

In the events that led to the achievement of American independence, the Negro was not an inactive or unconcerned spectator. He bore his part bravely upon the battlefields, although uncheered by that certain hope of political elevation which victory would secure to the white man. That tall granite shaft, a gratified State has reared above its sons who fell in defending Fort Griswold against the attack of Benedict Arnold, bears the name of John Freeman and other of African race, who then cemented with their blood the corner-stone of THIS REPUBLIC.

After the adoption of the Constitution I went to the Lower House of the State Legislature, and then to the position of assistant adjutant general. In 1869 the State of South Carolina sent me as a Republican Representative to the Forty-second Congress of the United States.

I think a number of important treaties and battles in which I participated, like the "Civil Rights Bill," or the "Bill to Enforce the Provisions of the Fourteenth Amendment to the Constitution," better known as the "Ku Klux Bill" in opposition to men like Mr. Stephen of Georgia, Mr. Beck of Ken-

PRURIGO

Prurigo is an inflammatory disease of the skin characterized by the occurrence of pinhead papules occurring chiefly upon the surfaces of the extremities, beginning in infancy or early childhood, lasting for years or throughout a lifetime and accompanied by intense itching.

The disease usually begins in the first year of life, often taking the form of urticaria. Later there appears upon the extensor surfaces of the legs and arms, the trunk and sometimes the forehead, pinhead-sized discreet, firm papules. They may be pale red or may have the natural color of the skin; the itching is intense and may leave the affected areas with blood-crusts. After a time the skin becomes harsh, dry, greatly thickened and sometimes pigmented.

The disease is extremely rebellious and may persist through years or even throughout the entire life time of the individual. It is apt to undergo spontaneous improvement in the summer season.

NEGRO LITERATURE

New York—With the addition of the manuscript and galley proofs of Anna L. Curtis' "Stories of the Underground Railroad," published on September 15 by the Island Wprkshop Press, the Schomburg Collection of Negro literature now includes a round dozen first editions, manuscripts, and galley proofs of recent books. Curator L. D. Reddick announced today.

The entire collection consists of some 10,000 books, 3,000 manuscripts, and several thousand etchings and pamphlets, by and about Negroes and covering all phases in their history both in Africa and the rest of the world.

tucky and Mr. Harris of Virginia, are to be found among the old Congressional records.

The Negro, true to that patriotism that has ever characterized and marked his history, came to the aid of the government in its effort to maintain the Constitution. To that government he now appeals, that Constitution he now invokes for protection against unjust prejudice founded upon CASTE.

COLLEGE FOOTBALL

To Drake University goes the doubtful honor of being the first school to come to our attention this year in the yearly custom of barring Negro players against Southern teams. So much has been said about this that it hardly needs elaborating on. Willard Cushing Berry, reserve tackle and Cliff Lovelady, reserve back were left home last week when Drake went to St. Louis to play the school there. We can't find any news about it but we do know that St. Louis permits mixed boxing bouts, and what can generate more excitement or intense feeling than a boxing match between boys or men of different races. It has long been an established custom at Drake to do things in that manner, and for that reason we have never encouraged Negro boys to go to that school.

While this was going on Lem Bates of New York university was one of the starters against Texas. We don't know how he fared, since Texas won the game, but we will bet it was no tea party.

Iowa with Jim Walker was taking a much needed rest last week preparing for the Wisconsin battle this week end.

Comets Stop Sioux City

Bob Vandevere, former ace for the local pro-footballers, came to town Sunday with a team from Sioux City. The boys from up state made the same mistake most of the teams Bob plays with do. Just give him the ball and watch him run. We mean just that. They literally stood and watched Bob as he tried to break away time after time. Once he nearly got away but the last man slammed him just enough for the rest of the boys to catch the flying Bob. Another time he grabbed a kick-off and set sail up the sidelines before he was collared after a 51-yard run. Even though he couldn't get away on his runs, there was nothing wrong with Vandy's kicking and he booted the oval high and far all day. In fact, this was the determining factor in holding the score down to 7-0.

High School

East High was finally stopped by a Waterloo team but our scouts tell us that the Negro lads on the team had nothing to be ashamed of. Jess Hill, Lonnie Howard and Allen McQuerry in the backfield along with Jones and Freeman at the guards gave a good account of themselves with Hill's passing and Freeman's defense leading the parade.

Boxing

Charley Howard's new fighter, Panther Williams, got past his first test last week. He put the old bona on Cyclone Lynch and reduced the said Cyclone to a faint summer breeze on a hot day. Charley has been trying for years to come up with a good fighter and maybe he has finally struck pay dirt. Eddie Simms, a veteran and Henry Jones, tried to stop Cyclone Lynch a couple of years back but the best they could do was outpoint the free swinging veteran.

That uproar on the West Coast about the outcome of the fight between Abe Simon and Turkey Thompson reminded us of the Armstrong-Garcia brawl. The referee went home and sent his decision back to the ring by messenger. People had to wait until they could get a paper to find out who won the fight. They really do things right in California.

Bob Montgomery certainly fixed himself as the leading contender for either light weight or welter weight honors when he cuffed Doug Day to sleep out in Chicago last week. It will be pretty hard to pass him up now.

TUSKEGEE DOWNS

WILBERFORCE

Soldier Field, Chicago, Ill.—Tuskegee's rambling, growling Golden Tigers devoured the fighting Bulldogs of Wilberforce University here Friday night at spacious Soldier-Field before 10,000 amazed fans as the "Golden Legions" powerhoused their way to a 26 to 7 victory in one of the big surprise performances of the current football season.

Sweeping over the Ohio opposition with a baffling attack and a stubborn defense, Tuskegee scored twice in the initial period and twice in the third. The Green Wave pushed over its on-ly marker late in the final period after the "Alabama Avalanche" had subsided considerably and was taking it easy.

LIFE'S STORY

DR. CARVER

Washington, D. C.—Dr. George Washington Carver, the distinguished Negro scientist who introduced the peanut as a Southern crop and then developed from it 90 by-products of commercial value, headlines the second broadcast in the "Freedom's People" series over NBC's Red network Sunday, October 19. Time of the broadcast is 12:30 to 1:00 p.m. EST.

This broadcast in the "Freedom's People" series, sponsored by a national advisory committee of white and Negro leaders in inter-racial relations in cooperation with the U. S. Office of Education, will dramatize Negro activities in the fields of science and discovery.

To Sketch His Life

Dr. Carver, born a slave, is now head of the research laboratories he founded at Tuskegee Institute in Alabama. His work in solving many of the South's agricultural problems has lessened its dependence upon cotton and improved the South's economic status by opening new avenues in farming and manufacturing. The broadcast will sketch his life story and he himself will speak briefly from Tuskegee.

aid in eight expeditions to reach the North Pole, will tell of his experiences in Peary's seven failures and final success on his eighth, attempt. Only Henson remained with Peary when they completed the final stage of the expedition, a trek of 400 miles across the frozen Arctic, to plant the American flag at the Pole in April, 1909. Today Henson, a retired postal employee, is the only living American who has set foot on the North Pole.

Count Basie and orchestra, recently voted first place among Negro swing bands, will open the show. The nationally-known Tuskegee choir, directed by William L. Dawson, will flank Dr. Carver's words from the deep South, singing "Climbing Jacob's Ladder." The Leonard De Paur chorus and the 35 piece NBC orchestra round out the show from New York.

Grants from the Rosenwald Fund and the Southern Education Foundation, together with broadcasting facilities offered by NBC and network stations, have made the series possible.

Acting for the U. S. Office of Education in cooperation with the special committee are Dr. Ambrose Caliver, senior specialist in Negro education, and William D. Boutwell, chief of the radio service. Irvine Tunick, veteran radio author, writes the scripts. Original music and arrangements are prepared by Dr. Charles Cooke.

Copper on the March!

National defense demands for copper are so great that soon none may be available for building additional telephone lines except as needed for defense purpose.

The situation already is such that, in many localities, it is not possible to provide all customers with just the type of telephone service wanted, and there may be delays on some long distance calls.
