PRAISE ENGINEERS IN AUSTRALIA

Washington (ANP)—Negro troops of the engineer corps receive high praise for their part in the construction of over 100 military airdromes in Australia and in the construction of thousands of miles of strategic roads in a gigantic program of construction sponsored by the Allied Works council and the U. S. Army Engineer corps.

These Negroes proved to be most useful in the urgent tasks which required mastery of doing "much with little," of building up the allied war organization for defense and offense despite shortages of essential materials.

One giant airdrome, costing nearly $10,000,000 was built in 71 days. Information concerning the progress the workers were making was recently announced by Brig. Gen. Hugh Casey of the engineer corps.

Washington (ANP)—After months of delay, the second Negro newsman obtained his certification from the war department as a war correspondent when Ollie Stewart, writer for the Afro-American, received official notification of his certification on Monday.

Stewart, who has travelled widely, does not know where he will be nor when he will be called. He has been told, however, that he will be notified through his home office at an early date where and when to report. The Pittsburgh Courier man, Edgar Rousseau, who is said to have sailed from an eastern seaport town some three or four months ago, has not yet been heard from, but his stories are anticipated at an early date.

First Forty Negro WAAC's To Arrive at Fort July 20

Washington, D. C.—Mrs. William P. Hobby, director of the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps, addressed an institute on "The Role of Our Federal Government," Monday morning, July 6, at Howard University on a program which was held under the auspices of the Non-Partisan Council of Public Affairs of Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority.

"For the past week, one of your great leaders and one of my good friends, has been working at my side, giving me the benefit of her kind counsel, in the final selection of the 40 outstanding colored women who will go to the WAAC's Officer Candidate School at Fort Des Moines, two weeks from today, July 20. I refer, of course, to the leader named by Ida M. Tarbell as "one of the 50 most illustrious women in America"—Mrs. Mary McLeod Bethune, founder-president of Bethune Cookman College, founder-president of the National Council of Negro Women, and a practicing participant in more good works than I have time to list," Mrs. Hobby spoke.

"Mrs. Bethune, who served as special consultant to the Secretary of War, sat with me and with a group called Director's representatives distinguished women, eminent in fields of education, social and personnel work, and in group leadership. Between them these women had personally interviewed some 4,000 women who aspired to be officers in the WAAC."

Explaining in detail the purpose of the women's auxiliary, the selection of the candidates, and general information of the school, Mrs. Hobby spoke further regarding the Negro women.

"Recruiting for the Auxiliaries, the equivalent of the enlisted men in the Army, will start later this month. In the group to be recruited this summer, there will be a sizeable representation of colored women."

"The first group of colored Auxiliaries will report to Ft. Des Moines for training on August 24. A second group whose specialized training does not have to be long, will go to Ft. Des Moines, the 21st of September. The third detachment, whose specific tasks call for a still shorter training period will enroll at the Fort October 19.

To Ft. Huachuca

"These groups will finish their required courses at the same time. And two companies, of 150 each, of colored Auxiliaries, commanded by colored officers, will report to Ft. Huachuca, Arizona, in the 9th Corps Area, on November 16.

"Two companies, of the first eight companies to be turned out of Ft. Des Moines will be composed of colored women.

Pointing out the assignments to be made at Ft. Huachuca Mrs. Hobby listed: "there will be headquarters platoons, who perform the duties of the first sergeant, supply sergeant, mess sergeant, company clerk and other related tasks. There will also be clerical platoons whose personnel will include clerks, stenographers, typists, postal clerks, etc. There will be a variety of necessary and suitable tasks for the women to perform, and in performing them, they will, in many cases release men for combat service.

"Back of each one of these 300 women who will make up these two companies, will be the hope and faith and prize of the five million Negro women of the United States.

"The Women's Army Auxiliary Corps gives the Negro women of 1942 a new opportunity to serve her country in a crisis. The Negro girl of 1942 who joins the Corps will give to her country the full measure of devotion," Mrs. Hobby spoke.

In conclusion the director stressed, "in this task, so far-reaching in both space and time, the women of the WAAC, and in a very special sense, the Negro women of the WAAC will have a unique and historic opportunity."

Joe Louis told a Madison Square Garden Navy Relief show audience last March, "We are going to win because we're on God's side." ## Electric Company Honors Custodian's 35-Yr Service

Sidney F. Graham, 1448 Buchanan street, has been receiving the congratulations of friends and neighbors recently in celebration of two important anniversaries in his life.

June 19, 1942, was the big date. On that day, Mr. Graham celebrated his 70th birthday anniversary. And the same date marked his thirty-fifth year as an employee of the Des Moines Electric Light Company.

Fellow workers arranged a surprise birthday party on him at the electric company, presenting him with several suitable gifts, and wishing him many happy returns of the day. He responded with suitable remarks and declared he hopes to be working there for many years to come.

When Mr. Graham started to work for the Des Moines Electric Company its store and offices were located at Fifth and Mulberry streets, in the Youngerman building, which was recently razed. He moved with the company to Eighth and Locust streets and is still "going strong" with the company in its present location in the Equitable building, at Sixth and Locust.

Work Easier

"My work has got easier, instead of harder, with the passing of the years," says Mr. Graham. "We have better quarters than we once had. We have better equipment to work with. As chief custodian, I get everything ready for the opening store at 9:30 a. m. I then get until 4 o'clock, when I return to get ready to close for the day, generally through and home at 7 or 8 o'clock in the evening."

"We have a great bunch of working at the electric company. Leland, Mr. Steele, Mr. Schill, every last one of us is on the give our customers the best and gas service to be had any day."

PERSONAL TOUCH

By MARIE ROSS

Since one of my young readers—the career-expresser net wish that I write of "something else besides dowry"—as she was used of reading about the daisies and the dandelions, I mention will be made of some of nature's beauties growing here and there.

Of course, Miss Carter loves flowers; just recently at a Sunday morning service she admired a rare corsage made up of clover blooms and white ragweed, that the writer picked along the way to church. And, I know, if she would see the gorgeous nardy sweet peas and larkspurs that were growing in the Elmore's yard on East Nineteenth, or tour the spacious lawn of the Bogans on East Twenty-fourth and pick at the gaily daisies, the coral-colored honeysuckle blooms, the white achilles of pearl, the pink and red globe bismarckia and awe at the wax-like roses, or watch the gold fish in the Bogan's pool play hide and seek between the water lilies, Miss Carter would be ashamed to gaze upon such lovely work of nature with such a thought.

But Miss Carter is tired—and wants to get away on a vacation—like many other persons do—so she will be granted her wish and from here on—VACATIONS—will be the subject.

Mrs. Leona Kelley is counting the days when she will board a train for somewhere—any place where there is no food, no noise—where she can get a rest from a cafe for a brief spell. Mrs. A. P. Trotter will be counting the hours until the end of the week when she leaves for a vacation trip with her sister—bound for Hot Springs to take a few baths in the spring waters. Mrs. Azalia Mitchell shakes her head at the thought of vacations. By the time she gets her drug store help trained—Uncle Sam

BY ALL MEANS, YES

One of the questions on the agenda for discussion at the Annual Conference of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People which convenes in Los Angeles next week is whether the Negro should continue to contend for a full measure of democracy—which has and still is being denied him or whether to suspend the fight for the duration.

Ordinarily one would think but one answer is obvious: continue the fight. But as usual there seems to be a systematic campaign, even among those we consider our friends, to induce the Negro to lay everything aside for the present except the job of beating the Axis.

The Bystander has never and will not utter a disloyal note against this country. It realizes that the destiny of a decent world is at stake and that the Negro has even more to lose if Hitler and those who speak his language both abroad and in America come out on top in this struggle.

But the Bystander, nor any other fair-minded individual or organization believes the Negro and other minority groups should not continue to insist upon democracy for him as well as the conquered nations of Europe and China. It knows that to deny that right lowers the morale of the Negro and renders him less efficient to do the jobs to which he is assigned.

Why, if we had not complained there would have been no executive order by President Roosevelt banning discrimination on the basis of race, religion or origin in defense industry nor a Fair Employment Practice Committee to ferret out the violators and insist that the order be obeyed.

Negroes would still be serving in the Navy as mess attendant only. Negroes would not be admitted to aviation service.

These and many other things have come about because the Negro and his friends pointed out the unfair position the race was forced into and also because there are many fair-minded people who recognize the justice of those views.

Of course, we realize that the Negro must use great care to see that he does not abuse the new advantages that have been given; that his success will depend on how he handles these new situations.

Yes, by all means the Bystander favors a continued fight to make America a full democracy for all of its people and an all out war to put an end to Hitler and his partners in crime.

SILLY PUBLIC OFFICIALS

The Bystander has had nothing to say editorially about the position the park board has taken toward the maintenance of a full-time matron at Good Park pool. It felt that the necessity of a full-time matron was so obvious that nobody would contend otherwise.

The board has contended that because of bad weather, attendance at the pool had not been good and that it could make a saving here by using a part-time worker.

It is foolish to think a man can serve women at a dressing room especially youngsters. It just won't work. It is useless to even bring this question up for discussion.

But maybe the board or its legal adviser ought to be acquainted with the decision of the United States Supreme Court in Missouri University Law School case. The court told Missouri to either admit Negroes to the University law school or provide a separate one for them with equal facilities.

Following this reasoning, the Bystander feels that the park board should either provide a full time matron at Good Park pool or part time matrons for all the pools.

CHINS UP—NOT OUT!

By Ruth Taylor
Across the billboards, on colorful posters, over the air, and in the press—the slogans of war vividly urge us to do this and that—in the catch phrases that stick in the mind.

But there is a difference between the slogans of this war and the slogans of the last one. Remember how then we were all asked to do "our bit"? We are not being asked to do that in this war. It is too clearly realized this time that "our bit" is too little. This time we need to do "our all."

One of the favorite slogans today is "chins up." That is excellent—provided we don't make it "chins out" as well.

"Chins up" means keeping our courage high and going about our tasks with all the energy we can bring to the job. It means accepting handicaps and discomforts, keeping cheerful in spite of hardships, seeing beyond present lacks to a brighter future for those who follow.

But the morale of "chins up" must not slip into other recklessness of "chins out." This is no time for heroics. We haven't time to make any more mistakes. We haven't time to let chest thumping. We haven't time to over-confidence and personal bravery take the place of careful, cooperative action.

And this applies just as much to civilians as to the men in the army, navy and air force. (No one could make a marine careful.) The worker who takes a chance at his job, the house holder who does not follow all the precautions set out by his air raid warden, the man or woman who does not keep healthy and ready for work; each and every one of us, no matter what our manner of living, who wastes material, time or energies, are all sticking our "chins out!"

This is not a time for over-confidence, nor for pessimism. We have a job to do—and we can do it, if we all get together and keep our "chins up," our courage high and our energies coordinated to the one task of winning the war. We can do it—but by "chins up"—and not out!

ALLEN WINS CENTRAL STATES

We looked in on the Central States Golf meet last Saturday and Sunday at Woodside. Several of our best cow pasture pool players had spent a great deal of time explaining to Buck Scott just how and why they were a cinch to win the thing, but they forgot to inform the visitors.

In the main business at hand on Sunday a slightly built elderly fellow named Hezekiah Allen came home in front with a score of 158 for thirty-six holes. Allen, who looked more like a fellow just out of having fun than a golfer in a championship affair, shot consistently steady golf to go out in front at the end of the first eighteen and nobody could catch him. A fine shot maker, L. Doty of Kansas City was second.

Doty was on the green in two shots on most of the holes, but his putting was off and he required from two to three puts to hole out. Given Jack Howard putting touch, Doty might have broken the course record.

Howard, who hadn't picked up a golf club in four years, and played only because he wanted to participate in one more meet before going to the army, was the one bright spot among the local golfers. He won the Des Moines open round, an eighteen hole medal play with a 77 on Saturday. Then he was in the running for championship honors for about 27 holes. Lack of practice had taken away his driving and approach shots, but he was sinking puts from wherever he happened to be, never taking more than two puts and most of the time one. Then he got tired and lost his judgment on big puts. That settled it for Jack, but he finished in a tie with T. Simms of Omaha for third place with 166. Jack won the one hole play-off to grab the prize.

There were several other flights that we didn't see but we did notice most of the local golfers looking as if they were in a rut. Numa Johnson, who was expecting to win the thing, was still out after dark trying to find his way in and they say the officials are thinking about planting a crop in the ground he ploughed up. Homer Lewis and his brother, Jim, of Minneapolis, forgot about the meet and engaged in a little family affair which we heard cost Jim ninety cents.

On the whole the meet was run off smoothly and the fellows in charge deserve lots of credit for the way in which they ran things. There were no squabbles that we heard and the conduct of the players during the matches was excellent. Everyone just went ahead and played. It was the first golf meet we ever saw through and we were glad it went off so smoothly.
