FDR THANKS BISHOP GREGG FOR MORALE CONTRIBUTION TO ARMED FORCES

Chicago (ANP)—President Roosevelt in a letter to Bishop J. A. Gregg, representing the Fraternal Council of Negro Churches, acknowledged the clergyman's letter of thanks for being permitted the opportunity to visit and address Negro soldiers and their commanders in the armed forces in recent tours of the theaters of operations.

"I feel, however," the President wrote, "that the government is indebted to you, rather than you to me or the war department. I have had reports from sources indicating that the men and officers of your race received great inspiration from your visits and ministry to them."

"May I thank you, therefore, for this definite contribution to the morale of our armed forces, and through you, the millions of Americans whom you represent, for their loyal and vital contribution to our war effort."

FLYING FORTRESS GUNNER RECEIVES AIR MEDAL CLUSTER POSTHUMOUSLY

Washington—A Negro flying sergeant, killed in action over Italy, was honored posthumously April 2, 1944, by the Army Air Forces at a ceremony held in the St. James Presbyterian church, Greenboro, North Carolina, when Mrs. Louise Mears, mother of Technical Sergeant William G. Mears, received the Air Medal with the oak leaf cluster, the War department reported this week.

Sergeant Mears had completed five missions as an aerial gunner on a Flying Fortress and had an enemy Messerschmitt 110 to his credit before his plane was shot down in the Mediterranean theater of operations April 26, 1943. The 31 year old sergeant entered the service from Buffalo, New York, through his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Faaton Mears, live in Greenboro.

Aircraft Warning Unit Operated by Negro Company

U. S. Army Headquarters, South Pacific—An aircraft warning company which maintains constant vigil against Jap planes in the South Pacific is the only such highly-trained outfit operated solely by Negro officers and enlisted men, the War Department reported today. So valued is its work that the nature of its operations is a closely guarded secret.

Commanded by Captain Herbert R. Orr, a graduate in radio engineering from Howard University, Washington, D. C., and former instructor in electronics at Florida Agricultural and Mechanical College at Tallahassee, Florida, the company was activated in May, 1942 at Tuskegee, Ala. Captain Orr was called to active duty in March, 1941. His wife, Mrs. Ruth Orr, is presently teaching at the Florida institution.

Trained in New Jersey
The majority of the technicians received training at the Signal Corps School at Fort Monmouth, New Jersey. Most of the remaining personnel came from the Army Fighter Command School at Tuskegee.

Officers of Captain Orr's staff are graduates of some of the country's foremost schools of learning. They are First Lieutenants William K. Spears, Indianapolis, Indiana; Edward C. De Laigle, New York, New York; Maurice I. Scott, Battle Creek, Michigan. Second Lieutenants Ivey U. Timmons of Miami, Florida, and Revell Crockett, The Bronx, New York, New York.

Typical enlisted men are Staff Sergeant Lawrence S. Miller, New York City, who studied radio extensively and operated an amateur station before joining the service in August, 1941, and Private Vernon C. Ponds, 34 Troy street, Atlanta, Georgia, who completed several courses in radio at the Post Communications School at Tuskegee.

Street, died in Broadlawn tuberculosis hospital Saturday, April 15. He had been a patient there 10 months. A lifelong resident of Des Moines, he was a graduate of East high school, where he was a member of the Bethel A.M.E. church.

Surviving are his father, living here; his wife, in Washington, D. C.; two sisters living in other states and a brother in the army.

Trained to Carry on Work Of Great Scientist, Austin Is Dismissed by Patterson

Tuskegee Institute — When the late Dr. George Washington Carver and Mrs. Rackham Holt, his biographer, signed a contract in 1939 little did they know that the agreement made then would result in the dismissal of Dr. Carver's assistant from Tuskegee institute five years later.

Austin W. Curtis, Jr., the young man trained by Dr. Carver to be his successor in his experiments with the peanut, sweet potato and other plants was discharged from Tuskegee, effective April 1, by Dr. F. D. Patterson, president of the institute and executor of the estate of Dr. Carver who died in January, 1942. Curtis became the director of the George Washington Carver Foundation, located at Tuskegee, upon the famous scientist's death. He is the only person alive prepared to carry on the work of Dr. Carver with whom he worked for seven years.

Says Curtis Unethical
In dismissing Curtis in the middle of the school term, Dr. Patterson said that the young scientist was unethical in accepting royalties from the Holt biography of Dr. Carver. The biography was published in 1943, a year after Carver's death.

In the contract drawn up in 1939 and signed by Dr. Carver, Mrs. Holt, the Doubleday, Doran and company and Curtis, it was stipulated that the royalties from the book should be divided as follows: 50 per cent to the author, Mrs. Holt; 25 per cent to Dr. V. Carver and 25 per cent to Curtis.

The division was agreed to by Dr. Carver and the biographer but Dr. Patterson feels, according to a letter he wrote Curtis in January, that Curtis' acceptance "of an amount as generous as 25 per cent of the earnings from the book, equal in amount to what Dr. Carver was to receive, is completely in violation of the unselfish attitude which characterized Dr. Carver's life."

Patterson also states in his letter to Curtis that "It becomes difficult for me as president of Tuskegee institute and as the executor of the Carver estate to understand how you as an employe of the institute become entitled to receive a share equal to that of Dr. Carver in the proceeds coming from the sale of his biography."

See Negro Paratroopers, White Soldiers Perplexed

Atlanta (ANP)—When members of the 555th Airborne Infantry, the paratroopers, invaded Atlanta over the weekend as guests of the servicemen's center, white paratroopers and military police simply couldn't believe their own eyes. Apparently their Uncle Sam had not told them he had a dark contingent of the army's "glamor boys."

Accosted by two white paratroopers on a downtown street, Pvt. B. F. Lane, Jr., of Chicago, wondered if he wouldn't have to resort to some of the rough tactics he had been taught to use on the Nazis and Japs in an effort to convince his brothers-in-arms that he too was really and truly a bona fide member of the Paratroopers.

"There ain't no n—r paratrooper-ers in the army," the two belligerent white jumpers insisted and Pvt. Lane adding insult to injury, summarily decided to change their minds and physical appearance, when suddenly two military policemen appeared on the scene to settle the argument. Being part of a group, Paratrooper Lane had no Fort Benning pass to account for his presence in Atlanta, or to prove his status as a paratrooper. It was only after Negro officers of the 555th appeared at the MP headquarters at the city jail that Lane's status was verified.

As Lane left custody accompanied by two paratrooper first lieutenants, the four white soldiers, two paratroopers and two MPs, stood nodding their heads as if to say, "What will Roosevelt do next?"

NAME ADDRESS

WOMEN'S ARMY CORPS

ARMY OF THE UNITED STATES

Uncle Sam's laboratory technicians, cameramen, draftsmen, cartographers, motor mechanics and other specialists in heretofore strictly masculine professions are going to the combat areas in ever increasing numbers. They are being replaced by no less capable individuals than the ladies in uniform of the Women's Army Corps. Wacs are now performing 239 different Army jobs at more than 200 Army posts, camps, stations and air bases in continental United States and overseas.

These assignments are in eight major classifications, according to a recent survey made in the Army Air Forces, the Army Ground Forces, and the Army Service Forces.

The steady progress in the utilization of Wacs in the Army—which at first called for their assignment to 27 jobs in four major classification—is credited to no little extent in relieving the manpower problem of the Army. In computing its manpower requirements, a Wac is counted by the Army as a man. Of the more than 600 Army specialists jobs filled by enlisted men, 400 are non-combatant. Many of these can be filled by Wacs.

Several thousand members of the Wac are Negroes. Within their ranks are former school-teachers, dieticians, social service workers and those from many other civilian occupations which require skill of the highest order. At the present time, 2,002 Wacs are serving overseas and are disposed in the various theaters of operation.

Wacs are now being recruited for specific station assignments, that is, a recruit may select the post or airfield of her first assignment and be recommended, because of previous experience, for a specific type of job.

First Negro Is Appointed To Nursing Service Staff

Washington, D. C.—The first Negro nurse to be appointed to the nursing service staff at national headquarters of the American Red Cross is Mrs. Marion B. Seymour, who will be released for a six-month period beginning May 15, by Freedmen's hospital, Washington, D. C., where she is assistant director of nurses.

in granting the release to Miss Mary Beard, Director of Red Cross Nursing Service, Dr. James L. Hall, superintendent at Freedmen's said he was doing it with reluctance. "I need six nurses right now," Dr. Hall said, "and Mrs. Seymour is a gem. However, I realize that the Red Cross should have priority on nurses at this time."

According to Miss Beard, Mrs. Seymour has been employed because of her special interest in the use of Negro registered nurses, and because of her experience in the Army Nurse Corps in World War I. At that time she was stationed at two camps in this country: Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, Ohio, and Camp Grant, Rockford, Illinois. She was one of the 18 Negro nurses who served in the last war. Although the number of Negro nurses now serving is not large—about 500—Miss Beard is hopeful that the numbers will increase with the need.

Mrs. Seymour will travel in the various Red Cross areas to confer with the area directors of nursing services with a view to developing the best coordination of the graduate Negro nurses throughout the United States. There are at present about 6,000 registered Negro nurses in the country who might be available for wartime services. Mrs. Seymour will be concerned not only with recruitment of nurses for military service, but with the other four branches of the Red Cross Nursing Service: Home Nursing, Public Health Nursing, Disaster Nursing, and Nurse's Aide work.

BEAUTIFUL DECORATIONS AND EASTER SERVICES HELD AT ST. PAUL

Easter Sunday found the spacious auditorium of St. Paul A.M.E. church newly decorated from floor to dome, the rostrum and choir loft draped in white and the organ gallery surmounted by a realistic imitation of the road up Calvary's hill at the top of which were three rustic crosses representing the three upon which Jesus and the two thieves were executed.

The crosses were electrically lighted, presenting a beautiful representation of the setting sun, the work of Mr. Lester Benning, chairman of the house committee of the church, who is by profession an electrician and custodian of one of the largest office buildings in the city.

The altar was surrounded by a mass of blooming plants presented in memory of deceased members by their relatives and artistically arranged by a committee headed by Mrs. Susie Lee Hart.

At the morning service, the Rev. H. C. Boyd, pastor, delivered an Easter sermon and received into membership Mrs. Ruth McGregor, USO hostess, her son and her daughter.

In the afternoon the young people, directed by Mrs. Gertrude North, superintendent of the Young People's department of the Sunday school, gave Easter recitations and received Easter eggs provided by a committee of which Mrs. Zora Ewing was chairman. Six infants and six adults were baptized.

The climax of this day's services was the Easter cantata, "The Seven Last Words of Christ on the Cross," directed by the chorister, Mrs. Joburness Kelso, and rendered in a dramatic manner by the senior choir of thirty voices with Mrs. Sarah Steele Tucker, and Messrs. George Brewer and Charles Woods as special soloists and Miss Alberta Bates as accompanist. Mr. Benning operated the sound and light effects.

At this service in addition to the regular St. Paul congregation were Rev. W. F. Ogleton of Bethel and Rev. E. M. Whaley of Burns churches both of which had held their services at an earlier hour.

RACE ALIKE IN ABILITIES

There are no valid grounds for racial prejudice, J. Ralph Magee, bishop of the Des Moines area of the Methodist church, told the Conopus club Monday in Younkers tea room.

"Anthropologists have clearly demonstrated there is no difference in physical structures or mental abilities in different races," he said.

"Different types of head structure are found in every national group. Although the blackest peoples are found in West Africa, the lightest in northwestern Europe, and the yellowest in eastern Asia, peoples with these color mixtures are found in every national group."

The bishop said "There is no such thing as a pure race, because of intermarriage."

DANCING CLASSES CLOSE RUN AT STATE THEATER

Washington, Ia.—Taylor's dancing classes here have closed a successful run at the local State theatre. Zelotene Taylor, former night club entertainer, is making progress to achieve his ambition as an entertainer.

He has opened a dancing school of prominent white children and after four months time has presented forty children ranging from ages of five years old to fifteen on the stage. He also instructs a class at Columbus Junction, 20 miles from here. His wife, Mrs. Leone C. Taylor, who is an accomplished musician, arranges all music for his shows.

Planless Planners

More than 40,000 acres of vegetables have been plowed under in Texas' fertile lower Rio Grande valley by farmers angered to almost open revolt by what they term an excusable government bungling which prevents them from marketing the crops except at a loss. Most of the acreage destroyed is in cabbage but other vegetables turned included spinach, broccoli, turnips, beets, radishes and mustard greens.

Farmers assert that the chief cause of their troubles is bureaucratic regulation as exemplified in the edicts of the OPA relative to ceiling prices and red tape involved in obtaining truck tires. Because of the low ceiling on the prices at which they must sell their produce, the high cost of harvesting labor, and increased shipping expenses, the farmers contend they would lose money if they marketed the crops.

Hot Suds, Clean Towels, Banish Dishwater Bacteria

The easy way with dishes is the systematic way. Scrape, rinse and stack dishes in an orderly arrangement. Use 2 dishpans or 1 dishpan and drain basket unless you have a divided sink with stoppers. In one pan have hot, sudsy water. Keep boiling water at hand for rinsing.

Wash glasses first; a dish mop is handy for cleansing inside them.

Silver should be thoroughly washed, rinsed and placed on a folded towel, or pad to avoid scratching. Kitchen silver may be placed in the drain basket or rinse pan.

"You can't do business with dishwater bacteria. They don't understand polite hints. Banish them!" That's the advice to housewives given by Marjorie Griffin, Home Editor of Capper's Farmer, a publication of national circulation.

"Sparkling china and gleaming silver may be beautiful homes to many families, even until the millionth generation of bad little bacteria," writes Miss Griffin. "The gentle hints of half-way dishwashing just encourage the squatters. They thrive and multiply in lukewarm water, on dishcloths and dish towels.

"They'll go on making themselves at home, spreading colds and other contagious diseases until their unwilling hostess puts an end to them.

"If she's wise, she'll use plenty of hot, sudsy water, the cleanest of clean dishcloths and towels and scalding water. She will change the water before it gets cold and gray."

THE BUTTER DLOB

The War Food Administration appears to have blundered in the Government stockpile program. It is revealed that 100 tons of butter has been held in storage so long that it had become unfit for table use and had to be sold to civilian industrial buyers for use in cooking.

The WFA insists that this can be considered "a reasonable amount of loss" in view of the size of the stockpile, which is now estimated at 130,000,000 pounds.

The answer to that is that neither the WFA nor any other Government agency should hold in storage a pound of butter or any other scarce but important foodstuff until it is unfit for table consumption. This isn't the time for that kind of bungling.

The Government stockpile is too bulky anyway. What good reason is there for holding 130,000,000 pounds in storage? Does the WFA dispute the assertion of trade leaders that this enormous stockpile will mean a carry-over of more than 30,000,000 pounds into the 1944 producing season?

In wartime it is important that people have confidence in their Government. Reading that 100 tons of butter have been held so long in storage by the Government that it has spoiled for table consumption is no way to induce the person who has been wearing out shoe leather looking for a half pound, to stand up and cheer for those running the show in Washington.—By Robert Y. Herald-Journal.

OPA ENCOURAGES FOOD-FOR-FREEDOM?

Without hearing or court action, OPA has been collecting "damages" from farmers in Iroquois county, Illinois, for violation of price ceilings. Farmers say they have been tricked. A typical case is this:

An OPA agent went to the farm to get a record of sales of chickens. OPA was out to get a certain deal-off on the farmer's wife. And if the OPA agent could have a signed statement that chickens had been sold for 30 cents, which was 2 1/2 cents above the ceiling, the farmer's wife signed a statement to that effect.

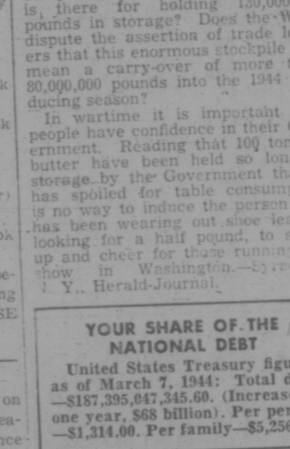

A few days later the farmer got a letter from OPA saying that according to their records he had violated the ceiling and was being given a chance to send a certified check for $50 for damages; that since the amount was small he wouldn't need to bother to come to the OPA office to discuss the matter.

Farmers in Iroquois county say poultry dealers offer more than the ceiling price for poultry. Dealers say farmers ask for more than the ceiling price. Both farmers and dealers agree on one thing, though, and that is: with the high cost of feed and labor, farmers are losing money on chickens. Many a farmer says he is going to cut down on poultry.—Farm Journal and Farmer's Wife.

HE NEEDED HELP

The postmaster at Slippery Rock recently was slightly disconcerted at the following note which a rural carrier found in a mail box on his route: "Dear Mailman—Attached is a check for $5 for which will you kindly get me a stamp to make our sliver a legal means of transportation for the purpose of going to the ration board for a permit to get so that we may visit the ration board to get authority to buy a new tire so that our car may be in suitable condition to go to pay our withholding tax."

HE NEEDED HELP

The postmaster at Slippery Rock recently was slightly disconcerted at the following note which a rural carrier found in a mail box on his route: "Dear Mailman—Attached is a check for $5 for which will you kindly get me a stamp to make our sliver a legal means of transportation for the purpose of going to the ration board for a permit to get so that we may visit the ration board to get authority to buy a new tire so that our car may be in suitable condition to go to pay our withholding tax."

THE BUTTER DLOB

The War Food Administration appears to have blundered in the Government stockpile program. It is revealed that 100 tons of butter has been held in storage so long that it had become unfit for table use and had to be sold to civilian industrial buyers for use in cooking.

The WFA insists that this can be considered "a reasonable amount of loss" in view of the size of the stockpile, which is now estimated at 130,000,000 pounds.

The answer to that is that neither the WFA nor any other Government agency should hold in storage a pound of butter or any other scarce but important foodstuff until it is unfit for table consumption. This isn't the time for that kind of bungling.

The Government stockpile is too bulky anyway. What good reason is there for holding 130,000,000 pounds in storage? Does the WFA dispute the assertion of trade leaders that this enormous stockpile will mean a carry-over of more than 30,000,000 pounds into the 1944 producing season?

In wartime it is important that people have confidence in their Government. Reading that 100 tons of butter have been held so long in storage by the Government that it has spoiled for table consumption is no way to induce the person who has been wearing out shoe leather looking for a half pound, to stand up and cheer for those running the show in Washington.—By Robert Y. Herald-Journal.

OPA ENCOURAGES FOOD-FOR-FREEDOM?

Without hearing or court action, OPA has been collecting "damages" from farmers in Iroquois county, Illinois, for violation of price ceilings. Farmers say they have been tricked. A typical case is this:

An OPA agent went to the farm to get a record of sales of chickens. OPA was out to get a certain deal-off on the farmer's wife. And if the OPA agent could have a signed statement that chickens had been sold for 30 cents, which was 2 1/2 cents above the ceiling, the farmer's wife signed a statement to that effect.

A few days later the farmer got a letter from OPA saying that according to their records he had violated the ceiling and was being given a chance to send a certified check for $50 for damages; that since the amount was small he wouldn't need to bother to come to the OPA office to discuss the matter.

Farmers in Iroquois county say poultry dealers offer more than the ceiling price for poultry. Dealers say farmers ask for more than the ceiling price. Both farmers and dealers agree on one thing, though, and that is: with the high cost of feed and labor, farmers are losing money on chickens. Many a farmer says he is going to cut down on poultry.—Farm Journal and Farmer's Wife.

First Negro Is Appointed To Nursing Service Staff

Washington, D. C.—The first Negro nurse to be appointed to the Nursing Service staff at national headquarters of the American Red Cross is Mrs. Marion B. Seymour, who will be released for a six-month period beginning May 15, by a freedmen's hospital, Washington, D. C., where she is assistant director of nurses.

In granting the release to Miss Mary Beard, Director of Red Cross Nursing Service, Dr. James L. Hall, superintendent at Freedmen's said he was doing it with reluctance. "I need six nurses right now," Dr. Hall said, "and Mrs. Seymour is a gem. However, I realize that the Red Cross should have priority on nurses at this time."

According to Miss Beard, Mrs. Seymour has been employed because of her special interest in the use of Negro registered nurses, and because of her experience in the Army Nurse Corps in World War I. At that time she was stationed at two camps in this country: Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, Ohio, and Camp Grant, Rockford, Illinois. She was one of the 18 Negro nurses who served in the last war. Although the number of Negro nurses now serving is not large—about 500—Miss Beard is hopeful that the numbers will increase with the need.

Mrs. Seymour will travel in the various Red Cross areas to confer with the area directors of nursing services with a view to developing the best coordination of the graduate Negro nurses throughout the United States. There are at present about 6,000 registered Negro nurses in the country who might be available for wartime services. Mrs. Seymour will be concerned not only with recruitment of nurses for military service, but with the other four branches of the Red Cross Nursing Service—Home Nursing, Public Health Nursing, Disaster Nursing, and Nurse's Aide work.

BEAUTIFUL DECORATIONS AND EASTER SERVICES HELD AT ST. PAUL

Easter Sunday found the spacious auditorium of St. Paul A.M.E. church newly decorated from floor to dome, the rostrum and choir loft draped in white and the organ gallery surmounted by a realistic imitation of the road up Calvary's hill at the top of which were three rustic crosses representing the three upon which Jesus and the two thieves were executed.

The crosses were electrically lighted, presenting a beautiful representation of the setting sun, the work of Mr. Lester Benning, chairman of the house committee of the church, who is by profession an electrician and custodian of one of the largest office buildings in the city.

The altar was surrounded by a mass of blooming plants presented in memory of deceased members by their relatives and artistically arranged by a committee headed by Mrs. Susie Lee Hart.

At the morning service, the Rev. H. C. Boyd, pastor, delivered an Easter sermon and received into membership Mrs. Ruth McGregor, USO hostess, her son and her daughter.

In the afternoon the young people, directed by Mrs. Gertrude North, superintendent of the Young People's department of the Sunday school, gave Easter recitations and received Easter eggs provided by a committee of which Mrs. Zora Ewing was chairman. Six infants and six adults were baptized.

The climax of this day's services was the Easter cantata, "The Seven Last Words of Christ on the Cross," directed by the chorister, Mrs. Joburness Keiso, and rendered in a dramatic manner by the senior choir of thirty voices with Mrs. Sarah Steele Tucker, and Messrs. George Brewer and Charles Woods as special soloists and Miss Alberta Bates as accompanist. Mr. Benning operated the sound and light effects.

At this service in addition to the regular St. Paul congregation were Rev. W. F. Ogleton of Bethel and Rev. E. M. Whaley of Burns churches both of which had held their services at an earlier hour.

RACE ALIKE IN ABILITIES

There are no valid grounds for racial prejudice, J. Ralph Magee, bishop of the Des Moines area of the Methodist church, told the Conopus club Monday in Younkers tea room.

"Anthropologists have clearly demonstrated there is no difference in physical structures or mental abilities in different races," he said.

"Different types of head structure are found in every national group. Although the blackest peoples are found in West Africa, the lightest in northwestern Europe, and the yellowest in eastern Asia, peoples with these color mixtures are found in every national group."

The bishop said "There is no such thing as a pure race, because of intermarriage."

DANCING CLASSES CLOSE RUN AT STATE THEATER

Washington, Ia.—Taylor's dancing classes here have closed a successful run at the local State theatre. Zelothor Taylor, former night club entertainer, is making progress to achieve his ambition as an entertainer.

He has opened a dancing school of prominent white children and after four months time has presented forty young people ranging from ages of five years old to fifteen on the stage. He also instructs a class at Columbus Junction, 20 miles from here. His wife, Mrs. Leone C. Taylor, who is an accomplished musician, arranges all music for his shows.

Planless Planners

FOOD FOR VICTORY PLOWED UNDER

More than 40,000 acres of vegetables have been plowed under in Texas' fertile lower Rio Grande valley by farmers angered to almost open revolt by what they term inexcusable government bungling which prevents them from marketing the crops except at a loss. Most of the acreage destroyed is in cabbage but other vegetables turned included spinach, broccoli, turnips, beets, radishes and mustard greens.

Farmers assert that the chief cause of their troubles is bureaucratic regulation as exemplified in the edicts of the OPA relative to ceiling prices and red tape involved in obtaining truck tires. Because of the low ceiling on the prices at which they must sell their produce, the high cost of harvesting labor, and increased shipping expenses, the farmers contend they would lose money if they marketed the crops.

Who can remember back in the days when Roosevelt promised never to let up on the fight against "economic royalists"? Or when he wrote William Randolph Hearst that he, Roosevelt, was against the League of Nations?

Hot Suds, Clean Towels, Banish Dishwater Bacteria

The easy way with dishes is the systematic way. Scrape, rinse and stack dishes in an orderly arrangement. Use 2 dishpans or 1 dishpan and drain basket unless you have a divided sink with stoppers. In one pan have hot, sudsy water. Keep boiling water at hand for rinsing.

Wash glasses first; a dish mop is handy for cleansing inside them.

Silver should be thoroughly washed, rinsed and placed on a folded towel, or pad to avoid scratching. Kitchen silver may be placed in the drain basket or rinse pan.

"YOU can't do business with dishwater bacteria. They don't understand polite hints. Banish them!" That's the advice to housewives given by Marjorie Griffin, Home Editor of Capper's Farmer, a publication of national circulation.

"Sparkling china and gleaming silver may be beautiful homes to many families, even unto the millionth generation—of bad little bacteria," writes Miss Griffin. "The gentle hints of half-way dishwashing just encourage the squatters. They thrive and multiply in lukewarm water, on dishcloths and other contagious diseases until their unwilling hostess puts an end to them.

"If she's wise, she'll use plenty of hot, sudsy water, the cleanest of clean dishcloths and towels and scalding water. She will change the water before it gets cold and gray."

YOUR SHARE OF THE NATIONAL DEBT
United States Treasury figures as of March 7, 1944: Total debt—$187,395,847,345.69. (Increase in one year, $68 billion). Per person—$1,314.00. Per family—$5,256.00.

Suggesting that the New Deal label be discarded means little. The philosophy behind that label, with its lackadaisical "spend and spend, elect and elect" attitude is the all-important factor to discard. To important that a surgical operation must be performed, with Dr. Anti-New Deal Taxpayer-Voter as the surgeon, at next November's election.

PERSONAL TOUCH

Former office secretary, Kay Frazier, was back at her office stool breathing out letters on a typewriter this week when she was asked for a few tips for the column. All of Kay's school day friends knew her to be the only child of the Jesse Frazier family until Kay graduated from high school—and then sisters began to arrive and now Kay has one theme: Here is just a sample of Kay's conversation:

"Have you met Karen Jeanne and Linda Marie Frazier? If not then you're missing a treat—but then, maybe I'm prejudiced because they happen to be my sisters. I guess sisters are pretty common occurrences; lots of people have them. But to me—after almost 18 years of being the only child, having two sisters is simply marvelous! Karen, age 16 (months), has a mouth full of teeth, an opening vocabulary, an ear for music, rhythmic feet and flirty eyes which serve to vamp all boys—and soldiers who drop in at the Frazier house (515 S. E. 18th St.)."

"Baby Linda at 3 months doesn't have much to say yet. Give her a few more months. This summer, no doubt you'll see the two, adorable Frazier babies at Good Park—if the folks are ambitious enough to push them that far in their buggy. (Gas is rationed you know)."

With that Kay sighed, covered her typewriter and rushed home—not only to see Karen Jeanne and Linda Marie—but to see how many letters had arrived from the army, navy, coastguard, air corps and marines. Maybe, that is the reason Kay "met" loves to stay home and take care of her tiny sisters."

Lowly "Hot Dog" Now a Main Dish

Baked Beans with Wiener Crown

Sociable pot-luck meals are the highlight of many neighborhood gatherings these days, and their popularity during wartime is easily understood since the expense and effort is divided among the group. Wieners split lengthwise stand at attention around the casserole. Golden brown baked beans, placed in layers with thin slices of onion between, are topped off with a spicy tomato sauce to complete this satisfying dish that has both taste and eye appeal.

Up-to-date housewives let the oven do the watching while they take care of other things, for modern gas service is available anywhere and everywhere with "bottled" or "tank" gas which gives the controlled and constant flame heat

N. H. B.—My husband is kind to me in every way. He lives a good life. His one draw back is that he won't give me one red penny unless I ask for it. I have to ask for everything I get. I have tried to show him that other women have a little spending money but he doesn't seem to see the importance of a thing of this kind. Tell me what to do?

Ans.: Your husband's virtues outnumber his faults by a big majority so you can well afford to overlook his weakness for wanting to handle all money there in the household. Earn the extra money for the few simple pleasures that you wish to enjoy. You can easily get a part time job and it would not interfere at all with your own household duties.

E. D.—I have a boy friend in the Marines. I used to hear from him every week, but in his last letter he told me not to write until I heard from him again. He had planned to come home Christmas and we were to be married, but he was shipped overseas. He asked me to wait on him and that he would like for me to go live with his mother while he was gone. It has been several weeks now since I heard from him. Should I wait on him as I haven't heard from him or begin going with other boys?

Ans.: You are too impatient—you really haven't had time to get a letter from your Marine yet if he has been shipped overseas. Give him time before you start doubting his sincerity. None of the girls left behind find it a bed of roses to have to sit and wait for messages from their sweethearts and husbands. Your sweetheart expects you to be as brave and patient as he is having to be—and to accept your sacrifice in a nobler spirit—and also to give him the same confidence that he places in you. If you don't—then you are not worthy of him.

M. T.—I can't help worrying about my husband. He runs after every woman he meets. He is not a provider for his home. He had three other wives before he had me, and he has done them the same way. Should I make a change and go where my girl friend is or remain at home?

Ans.: Your husband was a born

Casanova—and surely you should have known if three other wives couldn't get along with him, you haven't had much chance. You have waited a little too long to start thinking about making a change. You have your child to consider—and should avoid bringing it up in a divided home. There is one thing in your favor that might bring about a change in your husband—his love for the child. Appeal to the paternal side of his nature, and try to encourage him to accept his responsibility.

H. I. D.—My husband is just a nutty old-fuss box. I am sick and tired of his fussing. I am a church worker and when duty calls me, I have to go. I am also the secretary. When I go, he fusses. Tell me what to do about it.

Ans.: Your husband doesn't object to your going to church and taking an interest in it—but he feels that you are devoting too much of your time to it, thereby neglecting your home. You are putting your husband too much in the background. As it is, you want him to remain at home as a dutiful husband while you are free to travel around at will. Your marriage won't last on this basis. Try to make an adjustment satisfactory to both of you without neglecting your church work at the same time.

WELL WORTH CONSIDERATION

A program for achieving an ideal community life is contained in ten suggestions arrived at by the Inter-cultural Council of Southeastern Michigan, in a meeting in Detroit recently.

Some of the points we have talked and written about over the years; some are rather new and provocative or much thought and may well be adopted by any community if it hopes to achieve at home the things for which America stands and is supposed to be fighting for.

1. The sponsoring of experiments in mixed-group living, including mixed leadership, neighborhood cultural workshops and a new housing program.

2. Readjustment of school districts to provide a more heterogeneous school population by eliminating schools composed of 99 per cent Negro enrollment or 100 per cent white enrollment.

3. Provision in the national Constitution for fair race practices which would give the Government the responsibility for guaranteeing minority group harmony and settling inter-racial problems.

4. Setting up programs for propagandizing racial and minority group skills, culture, and accomplishments.

5. Reorganization of social, economic, and union groups so that all races, creeds, and nationalities would have equal participation.

6. Introduction into the school curriculums of courses which emphasize contributions of minority groups to American living.

7. Provision of full employment for all groups in the war and postwar periods.

8. Approval of a federal anti-lynching act.

9. Extension of the social-security program to include health and accident security.

10. The use of greater care in selection of public school teachers to guarantee emotional balance of the teachers and the absence of prejudices.

Most of the points suggested emphasize the undesirability of segregation and a closer working basis of mixed groups. They recognize full well that there can be little understanding or appreciation of minority groups by the majority as long as each works on opposite sides of the street or building.

Points number two and ten strike very forcefully at our school situation here as well as in other communities. While these, all-white or Negro schools owe their existence to the location of residences of the pupils, they don't provide an opportunity for students on one side of the town or in one race to learn what the other is doing.

Number ten, calling for greater care in the selection of teachers, is highly desirable in order to keep those with warped ideas on racial and religious matters from inoculating their pupils.

Broken down to simple terms, this group says that unless we eliminate the so-called first and second class citizenship brought about by segregation, Jim Crowism and the denial of opportunities to a man on the basis of his race or religion, America cannot retain the admiration of the world as a true democracy.

LET'S HAVE AN UNDERSTANDING NOW

Iowa is entering into a full scale primary campaign to nominate candidates of each party ticket. Three Republicans seek to lead their party in the fall election while but one Democrat is in the field.

Undoubtedly the governor chosen at the general election this fall will be in office during our post war period. He will have much to do with the recognition minority groups receive at the hand of the state.

Most of the candidates are making a bid for the Negro votes in an intelligent fashion. They are selecting men and women of integrity and ability to organize groups to represent them. In this, the Bystander congratulates them.

In the conferences and meetings we expect these workers to secure a definite statement of the position on minority groups from the parties they represent, so we may know what to expect. Now is the time to do

'Negro Soldier' Film 'Important' Comment Critic

Washington—Following are comments made by leaders in the film industry following the premiere of the official War Department motion picture "The Negro Soldier" April 19, in the Ambassador theater, Los Angeles, California.

Walter Wanger, President, Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences—"A great historical document that every American should see."

Charles Coburn, Academy award winner—"A very important film."

Jack L. Warner, Executive in Charge of Production, Warner Bros. Pictures—"The motion picture 'The Negro Soldier' is an important document that will do an important service."

Darryl F. Zanuck, Vice-president in Charge of Production, 20th Century Fox Films Corporation—"One of the best documentary films I have seen and it undoubtedly should do much for a better understanding of patriotism and citizenship."

Samuel Goldwyn, President, Samuel Goldwyn Productions—"I'm happy to see that full recognition has at last been given the Negro soldier's contribution to democracy. The War Department has done a fine job on this and other films."

Harry Cohn, President, Columbia Pictures—"The greatest War Department picture yet made."

George Jessel, Producer, 20th Century-Fox Films Corporation—"The film 'The Negro Soldier' is not only entertaining and informative but is heart-warming for the great majority of Americans who believe in equality and like Kipling's 'Lad' and 'Judy O'Grady' we are all brothers and sisters under the skin. The Motion Picture Division of the Army is to be congratulated on having made it, and the valor of the America Negro in war is to be saluted again and again."

LAUNCH LIBERTY SHIP S.S. ABBOTT

Washington—Amid the shrill blasts of horns and the cheers of hundreds of shipyard workers and visiting dignitaries, the SS Robert S. Abbott, third Liberty Ship named or an outstanding Negro publisher, was launched at the Permanente Metals Corporation Shipyard No. 2 at Richmond, Calif., Thursday afternoon, April 13.

Sliding down the way into San Francisco Bay just nine days after another Liberty Ship was launched in the same yard in honor of another outstanding Negro of the Western Hemisphere, the SS Robert S. Abbott marked the fourth such vessel built in that shipyard. The SS Toussaint L'Ouverture, honoring the great Haitian liberator, was launched there on April 4.

SPORTS

By ALLEN ASHBY Valley Relays

In the Valley high relays Saturday afternoon, Dave Williams, Ottumwa High's all-state football and basketball player, heaved the discus 143 feet 6 inches to beat the mark of 134 feet 3 inches set by another Ottumwan, Al Farrington, in 1942. He also won the shot put with a distance of 47 feet 5 1/2 inches to help Ottumwa finish second to East Des Moines.

Big Jim Volinier came through in the football throw with a first. Distance 59 yards, 2 feet. Drake Relays will be next Friday and Saturday.

We looked up this week and almost ran into a big sailor. It was Al Webb of Des Moines. Al was quite the athlete around town in the days of our early Big Five and played a game or two of football with the Bulldogs.

We still have a memory of him catching that touchdown against a great Anamosa team and running nearly out of the reformatory yard because his helmet got over his eyes and he couldn't see when he crossed the goal line. Then there was that night at Beech, Iowa, when right in the middle of one of the most exciting basketball games our Big Five ever had, someone poked his finger in Webb's eye. Big A yelled so loudly you could have heard him in the next county, laid the ball in the middle of the floor and wanted to go some right now. The odd part of it was that in spite of the fact that a basket would have won the game, not one of the white boys dared to grab the ball that was just laying there unguarded while Webb challenged the whole Beech team.

Al was a fine guard on what was one of our greatest Big Five Basketball teams, but we got a laugh a game out of his antics until the night he hid his suit to get into a dance. Al hasn't found that suit yet. It was good to see the big lug and chin a few minutes about old times. He said that Bus Brown, another of our Crocker Y greets, was also at Great Lakes now.

Boxing

Bob Montgomery will replace Henry Armstrong on the fight card that had been planned for the twenty-eighth of this month. Most of the supporting card will be Negroes and it ought to provide a nice show.

Negroes did alright in the National AAU boxing meet last week. Major Joeg of Kansas City kept up his long winning streak by annexing the featherweight honors. Ray Standifer, Chicago light heavy Golden Gloves champ, grabbed the honors at Boston, and Eddie Simms, who lost in the semi-finals of Chicago bouts, won the heavyweight honors. Cecil Shoemaker of New York won himself a flyweight title.

According to reports, Ray "Sugar" Robinson, regarded by many as the uncrowned welterweight champ, was declared physically unfit for that overseas trip with the Joe Louis entourage of boxers. Co-incidental with the report comes the news that Louis and his party arrived in England to begin their overseas tour of AEF camps.

In the intramural track meet at the University of New Mexico, Edward Patten came out second in the mile race. Time was 5:16.7.

CAMP NEWSPAPER NAMES ATHLETE OF THE WEEK

Sioux Falls Army Air Field, South Dakota—Staff Sergeant George Birch, of Atlantic City, New Jersey, was chosen "Athlete of the Week" by Polar Tech, field newspaper here because of his all-around pugilistic performances.

A member of the 85th Aviation Squadron, his recent appearances in the Sioux City and Chicago Golden Gloves tournaments have qualified him for one of the bright chapters in Sioux Falls Army Air Field sports history.

Sergeant Birch walked off with the light heavyweight championship of the Sioux City tournament by scoring over three opponents, and won his way to the "dream" of all amateur fighters—the Tournament of Champions in Chicago.

Sergeant Birch began his fighting career in 1939, and in three years engaged in more than 60 amateur scraps, winning all but eleven.

He won the Philadelphia Golden Gloves welterweight title in 1940, and retained his laurels the following year.

POST EXCHANGE MEN AND WOMEN IN THE MILITARY SERVICE (By Marie Ross)

Cpl. Ewell Thomas Back Home on Sick Leave; Two Get Good Conduct Medals

Information arriving this week from the South Pacific, revealed that two non commissioned officers and residents of Des Moines, Sgt. Clarence Butts, son of Mrs. Alberta Thompson, 1846 Racoon street, and Cpl. Lowell Tillman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Tillman, 1271 Stewart street, have received the army's good conduct medals on an island in the South Pacific.

Both are members of a battalion at an 13th Army Air Force base and have served one year overseas. On the same day the news reached the office, Mr. Tillman walked into the door accompanied by his son, Lowell, and his son-in-law, Pfc. Leslie Johnson of Camp Ellis, Ill.

Although he looked the picture of health, Cpl. Tillman is on a 30-day sick leave, from the McCaskey General hospital in Temple, Texas. He was sent back to the states to recover from an injury received during a terrific windstorm on the island which occurred on Jan. 18, when he was blown from a hill.

Pfc. Linden Robinson Leaves for Tuskegee

Pfc. Linden A. Robinson spent an 18-day furlough visiting his mother, Mrs. Ottamae Robinson and sister and brother. He was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. George Hayes, Mr. and Mrs. Hoppie Ward, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Jones. He left the city Monday night to return to Tuskegee (Ala.) Flying Field where he is stationed.

Sgt. Robinson Writes of Easter from England

Sgt. William Robinson was reminiscing when he wrote from somewhere in England to his mother, Mrs. Minnie Robinson, 1004 Enos, that "Today is Easter Sunday—when I used to put on my new shoes and dress up and go to church with you and the family." He said that it all "seemed like a dream now."

Sgt. Robinson added that he had received a "pile of Bystanders which he enjoyed reading."

In his letter to his sister, Mrs. Nadine Ware, he wished her good luck in her Nurse's Aide course. He added that "I have been thinking I might go to college and take up a course in veterinary. I can take up the course here in the army but it will mean studying books—never getting anybody to show you a few things, and after that you take a test. I don't like that kind of idea, so I think I will wait."

He also added that Art McCune and Arnold Harris, a boy on the East side, worked with the Chaplain, and that Robert Owens is still working as clerk in our headquarters building on the camp.

While Nadine read her brother's letters, she received a grass skirt and some Hawaiian beads from another Iowa, stationed in Hawaii. She is anticipating a few snapshots—as soon as the columnist can find an unbreakable camera.

Soldier in New Guinea Gets "Enjoyable Hours" Reading Bystander

"After receiving the Bystander from my —, many enjoyable hours were taken to read it from advertisements to society page," wrote Master Sgt. Edward Bayles, on April 2, from somewhere in New Guinea, to the editor.

"Refreshing is the only part of the expression that could be given after reading the home news."

"The Bystander was enjoyed by all of my office personnel as well as Sgt. John Skipper and "Steeple Jack" Carter of Des Moines who are also

"We are doing our utmost in search of the long sought for 'freedom.' We are highly insulted when such things as these happen. We want freedom, that's what we are fighting for and that is what we will continue to fight for."

Is Senator Bilbo supporting Hitler or President Roosevelt? Is Senator Bilbo trying to stir up a civil war while there is a world war going on?"

Tries to Kill Self Over Army Discrimination

Washington (ANP)—A suicide pact was entered into two years ago by three students at Howard university as a protest to what they considered the unfair treatment of Negroes in the armed forces, and the treatment generally accorded Negroes in the United States. The pact was to be perpetuated on the steps of the capitol.

Three weeks ago one of them, Pvt. Norman W. Spaulding of Chicago, slashed his wrist four times with a razor blade in an attempt to live up to the agreement he and his classmates had solemnly entered into. Today he is confined to a "restraint ward" at Walter Reed hospital.

That is the dramatic sequel to the story which was told exclusively to the Associated Negro Press on Tuesday by the Rev. Dr. Robert Moton Williams, chairman of the Committee of One Hundred of the Fraternal Council of Negro churches, and pastor of Asbury M. E. church here.

The matter had been brought to the attention of the council by Spaulding's parents in Chicago thru the Rev. J. H. Horace of that city, a representative of the organization. Adding to the drama, the ANP learned that the young wife of the 22-year-old soldier who wanted more than anything to be a civilian pilot instructor, pregnant for three months has been seriously ill here since the incident occurred.

Meanwhile, the Rev. William H. Jernagin, director of the Washington bureau of the council, and Dr. Williams are discussing steps which the group might take regarding the matter. It is understood.

The other two men involved in the pact are both in the armed forces. Their identities were not revealed but it is learned that one of them is with a fighter group in the Mediterranean Theater of Operations, and the other is a member of the coast guard. Only recently, one of the two corresponded with Spaulding and brought up the subject of their pact.
