HIRE FIRST NEGRO SWITCHBOARD OPERATOR

New York—Malcolm Ross, chairman of the President's Committee on Fair Employment Practice, this week issued the following statement:

"The Committee on Fair Employment Practice has been informed that the New York Telephone Company has hired its first Negro girl as a switchboard operator and that a substantial number of other candidates for such positions have been asked to report for final interview, preparatory to employment and training.

"This action by the company represents the satisfactory and fruitful adjustment of complaints filed with FEPC. During our negotiations, officials of the company denied any intention of discrimination and assured us that the company's policy was to give full consideration to all job applicants on the basis of qualifications and without regard to race, creed, color or national origin.

"The company's present action is a noteworthy demonstration of that assurance."

NEGRO NOT A PROBLEM, IT'S WHITE MAN, SAYS LILLIAN SMITH

Chicago—There is no "Negro problem" in America—only a "white problem"—declared Lillian Smith in the December issue of Negro Digest published here.

Miss Smith, author of the best seller, "Strange Fruit," took an entirely new approach to the race issue by stating:

"It must seem to people watching us a strange and curious thing that when we in America study race relations we study the Negro—not the white man.

"No governor, no mayor, no President has ever appointed a committee to study the white man and race. No surveys have been made to determine the cause of that desperate feeling of inferiority which drives white men to shout aloud to the whole world that their skin color gives them priority over other human beings."

Miss Smith said that after science and society had delved into the Negro for eighty years and found no difference in the way his emotions functioned; no difference in his ability to think, act, learn and adapt successfully—it was high time the search for a solution be turned towards the white race.

"No studies have been made of the white man's infantile desire always to sit in the front seat, always to be the biggest and best of everything—a desire that makes a nuisance of a child but makes a menace of a man who has the power to get what he wants."

"We have not yet faced the painful fact that whatever the problem is concerning white people and colored people, it will be found in the ideas and feelings which white people have about ourselves and our color," she concluded.

Negro Tankmen Take Four Towns in Battle Near Metz

With the Third Army in the Metz Area—Spearheading a task force of the 26th "Yankee" Division which jumped off November 8, the all-Negro 761st tank battalion, now in action with the U. S. army captured four important towns, secured two bridge crossings and successfully battered its way through the strongly defended Forest de Bride, the War Department announced today.

The Negro tankmen were committed to action following the 26th Division's capture of Metz, which never before fell to direct assault in modern times. They lunged into the battle with such ferocity and courage that Captain Irvin McHenry of Leavenworth, Kansas, received the nickname of "The Bronze Devil," and Staff Sergeant Reuben Rivers of Route 1, Box 27, Tecumseh, Oklahoma, received the Silver Star for routing nearly 300 Germans. A dozen members of the medical detachment were cited for heroism under fire.

'Such Bravery'

A captured German officer, after having had a taste of the Negro tankmen and their work, said: "So far as fighting is concerned, I have never before seen such bravery except once before, and that was on the Russian front." It came when a German rocket gun knocked out a tank of the Negro unit. The crew dismounted, brought out the 50 calibre and 30 calibre machine guns, crawled under their tanks for protection, and continued to blast away at the enemy.

There was an occasion when Sergeant Warren G. H. Creecy, of Corpus Christi, Texas, a tank commander, climbed up on the rear of his tank which had been immobilized by anti-tank fire, and held an enemy force at bay with his own anti-aircraft gun, while protecting the advance of an infantry group.

The unit moved out from Athianville for its first action at six o'clock on the morning of November 8, as part of a task force, which was operating in two columns. Athianville is approximately 14 miles east of Nancy. This task force consisted of tank destroyers, infantry, engineers and medics, with units of the Negro tank battalion. It was divided into two columns, with their ultimate objective being a town some twenty miles away, beyond the edge of the dense Forest de Bride.

The two columns moved out for the attack, and in short order captured Vic-sur-Selle and Moyenvic, two strongly defended towns which skirted a German rail supply route leading from the Saar Basin. They secured crossings over two canals. These towns were some fifteen to eighteen miles east of Nancy, and constituted the German frontline defenses at that point. Here the forces began to meet with stiffer opposition.

After securing these two towns, the next task was to move on to Morville, a town some four miles beyond Vic-sur-Selle. Splitting up here, one column moved toward Morville for the attack.

It was here that they ran into their most stubborn opposition of the drive, for here the Germans had constructed a two-mile-long anti-tank ditch in anticipation of the offensive. They had reinforced this tank barrier with staggered concrete pill-boxes, completely covered with earth and with rocket launchers and bazooka teams dug in in strength.

Facing Morville, which was at the entrance to the Forest de Bride, the columns met these obstructions, and Company B was halted by pill-box opposition at the edge of the woods. Company C, commanded by Captain McHenry, on the left flank, moved up the anti-tank ditch, where it encountered fierce opposition. With Company B halted, the German guns in the center were turned on Company C, and immobilized the unit for a while. Company C finally retired the position.

Assault Platoon

During this action, the crack assault platoon, with 105-mm howitzers commanded by First Lieutenant Charles Gates of Topeka, Kansas, a Hampton Institute alumnus, moved up to support these two companies. It shelled the German positions in the woods. The 81-mm mortar platoon, commanded by Second Lieuten-

EAGLE SCOUT

WALTER MILLER

The first Negro boy in the city of Des Moines to receive the Eagle Scout award from the Boy Scouts organization is Walter W. Miller, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Miller, 1242 E. Sixteenth street.

He was awarded the honor on Sunday evening, Dec. 3, at the Corinthian Baptist church, where the Custer District of Scouts held their annual Court of Honor. Jerry Turner, 15, a white lad, also won the Eagle Scout award.

In the short time of two years and nine months Miller accomplished 21 merit badges necessary to qualify for the Eagle award.

He is a member of Troop 59, sponsored by the Negro Community Center.

James C. Lightfoot of Washington, D. C., also moved into the action and pounded the Germans. Elements of the Fourth Armored Division, equipped with bull-dozer tanks and flame-throwers, also moved in, and the positions were finally taken.

Captain McHenry's company saw the hardest fighting.

All units gave a good account of themselves. Company C knocked out approximately 18 enemy anti-tank guns, Company B knocked out ten, and Lieutenant Gates' assault platoon knocked out six German armored-vehicles and two pill-boxes.

After passing Morville, which they had practically destroyed, the columns moved on to Hampert, four miles farther east, where units of Companies B and C reached the town. Meanwhile, Company A, commanded by Captain Dave Williams, of

'Negro at Door of Fretful Future' Says Student

"The Negro is at the door of a fretful future. No detailed plans or blueprints are present—and what that future will be no one knows," spoke Arthur John Edmunds, Drake student, Friday night to a large group of members of the Youth Council of the NAACP.

"Though we may not be able to predict our future we know what we want—liberty peace and an enriched life—free of want, oppression, violence and proscriptioin. In a word, we want democracy—cleaned and refreshed," Mr. Edmunds opened his thirty-minute address.

"We must have the proper foundation in order to present our problem which we know cannot be solved overnight. But let us not sleep, now, the preparatory time is the present.

'Let Us Think'

"Let us think for a moment of the large body of Negro youth who are leaving high school before and upon graduation for well-paying jobs in wartime occupation. They are entering these jobs with little or no preparation to fulfill a temporary niche in their lives. But, picture these individuals ten years from now—men and women facing the problems of life with little or no education and being multiplied by the fact that they are a Negro. You are surely aware of the present problems confronting the Negro in seeking jobs in competition with whites."

In outlining "your duty" to the members of the Youth Council, Mr. Edmunds pointed out first, "you must carry yourself forward; next, you must encourage, inspire and assist all along the same line.

"Today even adults have many opportunities that were denied them in their youth—and it is not an understatement to say that not a score is taking advantage of them—in our adult education program," the speaker said.

Katz Says Store Is 'Not Equipped to Serve Colored Folks' at Lunch Counters

A jury of six women in the municipal court at noon Thursday found Katz "not guilty" of the charge of violation of civil rights, after an hour of deliberation.

Judge Harry Grund's municipal courtroom was the scene this week of a home front battle for the civil rights of Negroes in Des Moines when on Wednesday Matrice C. Katz, manager of Katz Drug company, Seventh and Locust streets, went on trial on a charge of violation of civil rights.

The charges were brought by Dr. and Mrs. Prince Haggerty, of 762 1/2 Ninth street, filed after they were refused service at Katz Drug store's lunch counter on the evening of September 8.

Dr. Haggerty testified that he had the next day talked to Katz over the telephone and said that Katz told him it was not a company policy to serve colored people.

That the Katz Drug Store was "not equipped to serve colored folks," at its lunch counters, booths or soda fountains was the statement that Mr. Katz, general manager of the store made on the witness stand of the municipal court later Wednesday evening.

Mr. Katz said he had a telephone conversation with Dr. Haggerty on the afternoon of September 9 in which he informed the minister who complained of the store's refusal to serve him, that "we are not equipped to serve colored folks."

Mr. Katz also admitted that he had instructed his white fountain man, Mr. Russell Tubbs, before the date of September 8 and after that date not to serve colored people.

Mr. Tubbs, night fountain manager on the evening of September 8, said he did not see Dr. and Mrs. Haggerty enter the store.

"I came up from the basement of the store and noticed people were looking to the front of the store. I ordered the waitresses to go back to work at the fountain," then Mr. Tubbs said he informed Dr. Haggerty that "I am very sorry but we don't serve colored people," and walked away to "keep from making a scene."

Judge Grund sustained several objections pertaining to questioning by Katz's attorney which had to do with the fountain man's interpretation of the "attitude of the other people in the store" at the time the plaintiffs were trying to be served.

"Knew Something Was Wrong" Attorney Evans did ask Tubbs to "describe what you saw in the store."

Tubbs answered that when he came up from the basement of the store the "other people were silent and 'I knew something was wrong because you could hear a pin drop.' During later testimony the fountain man said that "people were whispering."

Asked by Katz attorney to "describe the expressions" on the faces of the customers in the store, Tubbs said they "looked surprised," "kinda strained," "the people didn't know what to think," and referring to the white fountain girls Tubbs added that "they did not like it at all."

During cross examination Prosecuting Attorney Anthony Renda questioned Tubbs regarding the source of the statement he made to the Haggertys. Tubbs said Mr. Katz never told him to refuse to serve colored people that "I just took it upon myself." Tubbs also denied that it was the policy of the Katz store to refuse to serve colored people.

Asked by Attorney Renda if Tubbs had served colored people at the counter, the fountain man said, "no," and added that "we serve them food to take out."

"They never have asked for food," Tubbs added and informed that it was not his policy not to serve them at the counter and that he didn't know whose policy it was.

He revealed that sometime after September when Mr. Katz came back from his vacation "he said you shouldn't serve them."

Rev. Powell Called

Called by the Katz attorneys to tell what he knew about the character of Dr. Haggerty, the Rev. R. M. Powell who said he was pastor of the United Church of America, Inc., at 1116 Second place, took the stand, weighted down with a bulging briefcase which held a large Bible and other matter which he exhibited during testimony.

Rev. Powell was examined by Defense Attorney Evans regarding the "reputation" of Dr. Haggerty.

"What is it—good or bad?" the attorney asked.

"It's bad!" Minister Powell declared.

"Who did you talk to about this?"

Following the message a discussion period was held. Miss Sue Craddock, president of the council, presided. Miss Joyce Smith was program chairman. Remarks were made by Miss Clara Webb, John S. Coleman and A. P. Trotter.

Monarch Minstrel At Hoyt Sherman Thursday Night

Des Moines' own Ernest "Speck" Redd, young maestro and composer, has written three new songs for the forthcoming Monarch Minstrels. The first two numbers, "Raise the Curtain" and "Come Along," appear in the opening. "Do You Mind," a ballad is sung by T. L. Howard.

Advice ON THE PROBLEMS OF LIFE
ABBE WALLACE SERVICE
 TOGETHER IN WISDOM AND UNDERSTANDING

NOTICE TO READERS. You may have your own human relation problem analyzed FREE in this column. Please include a clipping of this column with your letter.

For a PRIVATE REPLY send a quarter (25c) for ABBE'S ASTROLOGICAL READING covering your birthdate; you will receive free with your reading a confidential letter of frank and understanding advice analyzing three (3) questions privately.

Confine your questions within the scope of logical reasoning. Wrap a quarter with your questions and mail today! Write to: The ABBE WALLACE SERVICE, care of The Iowa Bystander, 221 1/2 Locust, Des Moines, Iowa.

R. R.—My boy friend and I have come disillusioned over a small slight, when really it would be to your advantage both socially and professionally to have a variety of friends, rather than being too chummy with one person alone. By so doing, you will acquire a warm and kind interest in people as a whole, rather than an exclusive pre-occupation in one friend at the time. You can sometimes over-do a friendship. What you girls need to do is to become less absorbed in little fusses and jealousies and make friends among both male and female sexes.

M. A. D.—I am a girl of 21, and am engaged to a young man of 26, but in love with a very handsome young man of 30. Will you please advise me what to do?

Ans.—Engaged or not, you seem determined to play the field. As long as your engagement doesn't bear any more weight with you than it seems to at the present, it would be well for you to call it off. You fail to realize that an engagement is a prelude to marriage—and your fiancé's has a right to expect fidelity from you during this period the same as if he were married to you. Your boy friend doesn't want a pin-up girl, he wants a devoted wife.

GEORGE BREWERS HOLD 25TH YEAR CELEBRATION

Mr. and Mrs. George Brewer, 828 Ninth street, celebrated their silver wedding anniversary Sunday afternoon, Dec. 3, at a reception and tea at the Blue Triangle Branch Y.W.C.A. Gowned in black chiffon velvet with metallic top, Mrs. Brewer was very attractive as she and Mr. Brewer and their daughter, Mrs. Joan Johnson, and Mrs. Mattie Dameron received many guests who brought them gifts for the twenty-fifth year celebration. Mrs. Brewer wore a corsage of pink carnations and a silver comb adorned her hair.

Presiding at a beautifully appointed tea table were Mesdames Colien Scales, Dameron, and Mattie Woods. Miss Betty Ashford assisted with the serving. Mrs. Lenora Parsons registered the guests.

Married in St. Joseph, Mo., Mr. and Mrs. Brewer have lived in Des Moines since 1923, where Mr. Brewer has been employed by the Rock Island railroad company for 15 years. Both members of the St. Paul A.M.E. church, he is affiliated with the Monarch club and the Brotherhood, while Mrs. Brewer is active in the Y.W.C.A. and many church clubs.

The father of nine children, the Brewers have two living, Mrs. Johnson and George, Jr., and a grand child, Leonard Johnson.

PERSONAL TOUCH

By MARIE ROSS

Sgt. Williams, home on a furlough from Camp Hood, Texas, was in the kitchen Sunday evening, waiting for his wife who was assisting with an anniversary celebration. Just before he got ready to leave the building to attend a meeting at church he asked: "Honey, have you any sen-sen? I can't go to church with this flavor on my mind." Mrs. Williams, who had just completed making some of his favorite Brownies—suggested that Hubby Williams eat a bit of parsley.

"That is better than Sen Sen," she informed as the soldier chewed down upon a large bunch of the greens with a frown.

"Where did you ever learn about parsley?" he asked and wifely informed him that he was the one who had brought home the idea long before the war. The soldier couldn't remember but Mrs. Williams assured him that it did the job. She gave him the kiss test and not even he remembered what the flavor was.

When Mrs. Virginia Moseley on E. Fifteenth street paid her subscription last week she recalled that she had been subscribing to the Bystander over 36 years. "Now the paper is a part of my family. I just can't get along without it," she said.

Spanish Rice Is Point Saver

Meatless dishes full of rich, meaty flavor are popular these days when we are all short on points. Spanish rice is one of these dishes, hearty enough to satisfy and full of flavor because of its combination of rice, tomatoes and cheese.

Rural and suburban homemakers who use butane or propane ranges will find that Spanish rice bakes evenly so that each grain of rice is fluffy and tender, and the flavor of tomatoes and cheese is thoroughly developed. The heat which they have in a "bottled" or "tank" gas oven will brown this dish quickly and evenly without drying it out.

Spanish Rice (Serves 4)

- 8 cups cooked rice
 - 1 large onion, chopped
 - 1 green pepper, chopped
 - 1/2 cup celery, chopped
 - 2 eggs fresh cooked tomatoes
 - 2 tsp. fat
 - 1/2 tsp. salt
 - 1/2 tsp. pepper
 - Dash of paprika
 - 1/2 cup grated cheese
 - 1/2 cup buttered crumbs
- Cook tomatoes, onion, green pepper, celery and fat for 15 minutes. Add rice and seasonings. Mix well and pour into a greased casserole. Cover with buttered crumbs mixed with cheese and bake in a moderately hot (375° F.) oven 30 minutes or until crumbs are browned.

KEO-WAY USO CLUB NEWS

When you go Xmas-shopping, buy an extra gift for a service person. Wrap it and mark it for a serviceman or woman. Bring it to KEO-WAY USO, where it will be accepted for the Christmas Barrel. The service people enjoy being remembered.

Six WACs enjoyed preparing breakfast after Mass at KEO-WAY, November 26. Their table was tastefully decorated in green and white. A well equipped kitchen, lovely dishes, and gleaming white table cloths are some of the services always found at KEO-WAY.

Pvt. Lonnie Deer of Harvard, Nebraska, stationed at the Army Air Base there, has taken KEO-WAY at its word and really made it his home while here. While on furlough from camp for ten days he cooked his meals, helped with rug making, put coal in the furnace and entertained the WACs that dropped in. While here he talked to his mother long distance in Bryan, Texas. He returned to camp Monday night. Before parting, he said, "KEO-WAY IS OK! It's fine!"

Friday night, December 8th, Senior hostesses are making cookies for members of the armed services. All volunteers are invited to participate.

Thursday night, November 30, 13 representatives of the Senior and Junior Hostess Committee, journeyed to Service Club No. 2 at Ft. Des Moines to attend a variety show put on by Co. 7 of the Third regiment. An excellent program was presented by the WACs. Miss Adah Graham, army hostess, and Captain Frances Frutelle, greeted the visitors.

In spite of the snow and winter weather, 40 WACs came to KEO-WAY to be served fried chicken, last Saturday night. The only mournful note was that there wasn't enough orders of chicken to take back to friends at camp.

The Service Men's Wives Club is holding its regular study group meeting Wednesday, December 13 at 8 p. m. Dr. E. G. Simmerer, director of health, District No. 6, Health Service, of the Iowa State House, will speak on "Sex Education in the Post War Era." Questions and discussion will follow the lecture. The public is invited to attend.

Auxiliary members will assist the members of the Iowa Tuberculosis Association in the sale of seals this year. Rosa Johnson and Dorena Manuel will be at the general post office and Mabel Mason, and Anna Mae Phillips at the Flynn building on Monday, December 18.

Every Post and Unit in Iowa are assisting the gathering of gift boxes for the "World's Greatest Christmas Party." Lincoln Post and Auxiliary have surpassed their quota of gift boxes. 3,700 Iowa gift packages are needed to make this party a success in Iowa. Frances M. Hall is president.

NAACP SHOULD GET SOME RESULTS

The November issue of the Crisis complains, and justly so, of one injustice after another suffered by Negro soldiers and their families. It also complains of the dirty campaign conducted by the G. O. P.

"Soldiers cheated of credit" points out that the daily newspapers and large periodicals never carry any stories about Negro servicemen saying, "For many months The Crisis has been contending that our fighting men are not being given proper credit for their exploits in combat—in the newspapers, magazines and films reaching the vast white American population. For some strange reasons, someone in the bureau thinks daily papers and magazines are not interested in Negro pictures, so they are never offered to big white publications."

Another editorial "The Mutiny Trial" says, "Something smells about the trial of fifty Negro sailors on a charge of mutiny. It seems that the Navy has a policy of using Negroes exclusively at a West Coast point to load ammunition."

Nobody can disagree with these editorials and be fair. Others hitting at the same things have been appearing in The Crisis over the years. The NAACP has been phoning, writing and telegraphing President Roosevelt for years to do something about these injustices. To date he has refused. The only response we have heard to their pleas was a pledge to Walter White, Dr. Tobias and Mrs. Behtune who had gone to the White House during the campaign for some assurance that something would be done about them if elected for another four years.

The NAACP sent the Bystander a prepaid telegram containing Senator Truman's statement denying membership in the Ku Klux Klan so we cannot but assume that the organization was backing the Democratic ticket.

The Bystander does not propose to chide the NAACP unduly for its activity in behalf of the Roosevelt ticket last fall. But we do feel that in return for the support given, the Democratic party ought to correct some of the injustices of which the NAACP, and all of us for that matter, complain in return for the support given them when they were campaigning for election.

THIS CANNOT BE DENIED

Last week the Evening (Des Moines) Tribune, published a rather unusual Associated Press dispatch entitled, "Jap Brands U. S. As 'Barbaric' in 'Hate Talk.'" It tells of a broadcast by a Japanese announcer who cited numerous instances to prove his case. One paragraph states:

"He said Americans mistreat Negroes, don't care to see them on the stage but enjoy watching blackface comedians 'imitating the pitiful Negroes.'"

We are not in the habit of quoting Japanese comments from Japan. We resent their Pearl Harbor sneak bitterly and will do everything in our power to avenge it.

On the other hand, when the fellow tells the truth, we cannot deny it. In the quoted paragraph this commentator is correct.

Of course, the lack of opportunity on the screen is one of the things we have fought and continue to fight not only because the Negro does not get a chance to rise if he chooses that field, but also because of the damage it does to the whole race by impressing upon the movie-going public that "these places only" are for Negroes.

It cannot be said too often that the terrific price we are paying for this war in men and money, ought to bring democracy and freedom down to the last man in every nation and unless this is achieved, not only has that great price gone for naught but also that we are laying the groundwork for another and for more devastating war.

And the big delegates to the peace conference must not think they are smart by usurping all the advantages for themselves and at the same time pitching the small nations and minority groups to the wolves.

LETTER TO EDITOR

PROGRESS IS NEVER SATISFIED WRITES JOHN S. COLEMAN

"To let out a howl about Negroes being segregated and discriminated against in Georgia or Louisiana and not do something about local conditions just as bad or worse, is right-down stupid and deceitful," wrote John S. Coleman, past president of the Des Moines branch NAACP, in a letter to the Iowa Bystander this week.

Mr. Coleman's letter was inspired by the appearance of an article in the Dec. 3 Sunday Register, written by one of the students at Iowa State College in Ames, Iowa, or someone who was familiar with the discrimination against Negro students living in a home management practice house during a six-week period as prescribed by the College at Ames as one of the necessary requisites for graduation.

Rank Discrimination

"What steps the various Negro organizations throughout the state will take to investigate and bring pressure to bear on those responsible for such rank discrimination, I do not know, but my guess is—they will do not a thing.

"No doubt you will remember only a short time ago, I called the attention of the mayor of Marshalltown, as well as the Iowa State Board of Health, to unhealthy and unsanitary conditions under which a number of Jamaicans were compelled to live, while working for a canning company in that town, and immediately adjustments were made. Following this report, I made known its content and the action taken to an organization to which I belong, and a flow went up from some of the members that I should have let the state organization handle the affair; while as a matter of fact, I worked with and by the consent of the branch president in Marshalltown.

No Apology

"I am not now—or will I ever apologize for reporting such a filthy and unsanitary condition affecting the lives of any minority group. Any organization that labors under the delusion that all it has to do is to get a lot of members and attend a national convention, come home, and report what a good time they had, will die.

"Let some one organization or all of them—and God knows we have a plenty—both composed of men and women, employ an attorney to make investigation and institute proper procedure for correction.

"We must realize at all times that individuals as well as organizations who allow themselves to become satisfied with what they have accomplished in the past—is dead and ready for burial. Progress is never satisfied."

KINGS OF THE RING

Your scribbler sat in a little movie show off Michigan Boulevard last Saturday night and watched a movie titled "Kings of the Ring." It was a history of boxing from the days of the first recognized heavyweight champion, John L. Sullivan to the one we know now, Joe Louis. We saw flashes of some of the great old time boxers including the great Benny Leonard, undefeated lightweight champion and called the greatest next to Joe Gans, Henry Armstrong as the last his title to Lou Ambers, and several of the other lesser lights.

The thing about the picture that impressed us was the brief dashes of Jack Johnson in his title defense against Stanley Ketchel. In the about one minute of action that was shown of this bout, you felt that you were indeed looking at the master in action.

Big Jack Present

There was Big Jack, standing up there, catching punches in midair, and having a lot of fun doing it. Then one slipped through, and down went the Galveston Jack dock hand. He leaped up as if angry, and the next punch he threw was so hard that his follow through carried him nearly out of the ring, and the game little man went down, colder than a dog's nose. Then there was the picture of Harry Wills against the Spaniard, Paulino Uzcuzun.

Of what we saw in that picture, making due allowance for the fact that Wills was about through as a fighter, we think that Jack Dempsey simply dodged himself out of a lot of money, because the fight between him and the Brown Panther would have drawn a capacity gate, and Dempsey would have won without as much trouble as he had with the big, clumsy Louis Firpo. Then there were several shots of Joe Louis in his fights before the title bout and after it.

First Bout

There was the first Louis-Schmeling bout, and the one with Max Baer. Then there was the one for the crown with Braddock, and a lot after that. In fact it seemed that the history of boxing in late years has been the history of Joe Louis. The most contrasting thing about the two bouts with the German that we saw were the study in facial expressions.

In the first bout Louis wore a puzzled, worried look, almost scared after that first knockdown, and the face of Schmeling was a sort of triumphant leer. But in the next bout, it was Maxie who registered amazed horror as if he couldn't believe what he was seeing, and the face of Joe was a mask of cold hatred and fury. That expression never comes to the face of the champion again in all the bouts that are shown. These include the second bout with Godoy, Tony Galento, and some other fellow we can't name now. But whoever he was, he lasted one good punch, and went out cat on his back.

The picture served a good means of comparing the old champions with Joe. In our opinion, Louis was the tops. Seen as he was against Baer, Braddock and Schmeling, the champion was lean and well conditioned, fast as lightning, and carried dynamite in both hands.

Of course, you could see that he had begun to slow up even in the Godoy fights, and you thought of the fact that some day, unless he retires now, he will be up against the same thing that he was in the first Schmeling battle, when he just didn't have it to carry him through. Then he will be a tired old man and as some guy slams over the final punch, down will go the champ comes to the face of the champion.

There has been quite an argument raging around Chicago gymnasiums even now as to the respective merits of Louis and Jack Johnson. Having looked at them both, we sort of shake our head. Certainly Big Jack was a master of defense.

But it was a great picture, and we thought it was a great tribute to the men who made boxing the game it is today, and more than all that, it was a lasting tribute to the guy we call the greatest of them all.

Katz 'Not Guilty'

See FRONT Page. Prosecuting Attorney Renda asked Rev. Powell who revealed that he had talked "generally" with a "Mother Brown who heads a spiritual church" on the east side of town, with Attorney Evans about the "reputation of this man," and holding an open Bible, Rev. Powell admitted that he had talked with Mr. Katz about "the fair play."

"He wasn't even there. He said he was a guiltless party," the minister said, referring to Mr. Katz. "Do you have any interest in this case?" Attorney Renda asked.

Interest in Case. "Only this, as it affects our ministerial standing on the spiritual and spiritualism." Then the Rev. Powell turned more pages in the Bible and then thumbed through a note book.

He repeated to another question regarding his interest that he had "absolutely none—only as a minister of the gospel on the spiritual affair and misrepresentation of Christianity."

Judge Grund rapped his gavel and asked Witness Powell to "sit down." The trial opened Wednesday morning during which time Dr. Haggerty took the stand and testified in behalf of his wife, Mrs. Glennie Faye Haggerty who brought the charges of violation of civil rights against Mr. Katz.

On the stand Dr. Haggerty, bishop of the National Spiritual Churches of America, Inc., who had been conducting services here, that he and his wife had been refused service at the drug store lunch counter on the evening of Sept. 8. Asked if his wife was a Negro by Katz's attorney Evans, Haggerty replied, "Not to my knowledge."

NEGRO TANKMEN TAKE FOUR TOWNS IN BATTLE ACTION EAST OF METZ

SEE FRONT PAGE. Pittsburgh, Pa., entered the action and helped to obliterate and capture Chateau-Salins, the first major town east of Nancy. Following this, Company A also moved to Hampton. I was during these engagements that Staff Sergeant Rivers began to earn his spurs, for in almost every instance his tank was the first to enter a town and he was always in the thickest of the fight.

Pvt. Weekly Sends Bit of Rhyme

In the mail recently arrived the following lines from a private who has been waiting for a letter for a long time:

Ain't you got no paper?
Ain't you got no pen?
Ain't you got no envelope to put my letter in?
Has you lost my address?
Lost my love, too?
Don't you know I'm wondering
Why I ain't heard from you?
Is ya mad or something?
Or maybe—digging a well?
Is ya gona write tonight?
You is? Gee, that's swell!
Whether or not this is Pvt. A. Weekley's on composition—it may not pass the good English test—but it did get an immediate reply.

Letter from Iowa Marines, Jimmy and Adam Who Are On the South Pacific Move

"Things out here are fine and Jimmy Morrow sends best regards," wrote Cpl. Adam B. Johnson, Jr., from somewhere in the South Pacific recently. "Jimmy and myself are the only boys from Des Moines in the Marines on this Island. The weather er has been somewhat like California, hot in the days and rainy and cool at night—so you can imagine the life or rather some of our obstacles we have to front with and the other things called—war.

"Now, I have over eighteen months overseas. It really doesn't seem that long because things have occurred too fast and often our time has passed quickly. One thing in the Marines, one is constantly moving from place to place and meeting lots of new scenery, and interesting developments, besides the war and danger. It's fun in a way and then again it isn't—but we act and do, for our solemn purpose, and that is to be able to go back home safe or make it safe with our lives for our folk, our wives, our sweethearts and wives-to-be. So in ending I hope the best for the home front."

Cpl. Johnson surprised his mother recently with a handsome set of sea shell necklace and bracelet. Is Mrs. Johnson proud?

Seaman Donald Nichols Home Donald Nichols, seaman first class, carpenter's mate, at Hampton Institute, Va., stopped in the city this week to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nichols, 919 E. Seventeenth street.
