Anti-Jim Crow Travel Bill Introduced

GREAT AMERICANS HONORED NEXT WEEK

Powell Presents NAACP's Bill to End Segregation Of Interstate Passengers

Washington, D. C.—At the request of the NAACP, Congressman Adam Clayton Powell, Jr., of New York, introduced a bill, drafted by the NAACP Legal Committee and the Washington Bureau, to prohibit segregation in interstate travel.

The bill provides "It shall be unlawful to segregate passengers traveling on any instrumentality or facility of carriage, or using any terminal facility, subject to this Act on account of such passengers' race or color. Any such segregation or attempt to segregate by any person or persons subject to this Act shall subject such person or persons to the penalties hereinafter provided for violation of this Act."

In introducing the bill, Representative Powell declared "The passage of an Anti-Jim Crow Transportation Act will be a blow against Hitler just as will the fall of Berlin. It will let the Negro GI's know that they are fighting a peoples' war. It will reassure the white GI's that their fellow Negro fighters, good enough to die in Europe and the Pacific, are good enough to ride anywhere in the United States of America."

Commenting upon the introduction of the bill, Leslie S. Perry of the Washington Bureau, NAACP stated that it covered segregation in railroads, buses and boats or crossing state lines. It also prohibits segregation in bus and railroad stations, their restaurants and toilet facilities where such terminals are used by people traveling from one state to another.

Representative Powell and the NAACP declared their intention to press for immediate and speedy hearings in the House Interstate Commerce Committee to which the bill has been referred. The introduction of this legislation has been hailed by white and Negro organizations throughout the country, who have uniformly indicated to Congressman Powell and the NAACP their wholehearted support of the fight to outlaw Jim Crow in interstate travel.

ENROLLMENT AT WILBERFORCE INCREASED

Wilberforce, Ohio—The enrollment for Wilberforce University for the Winter Quarter, which opened on January 4, represented a grand total of 1024 students in the College of Liberal Arts, the College of Education and Industrial Arts, Payne Theological Seminary, and the Laboratory Schools, as against 741 students last winter.

The total college enrollment this winter is 175 men and 635 women, making a total of 810, as against last winter's enrollment 110 men and 468 women, making a total of 578, or a net increase of forty-three per cent.

SMOKE COMPANY HELPS GUARD IMPORTANT PORT IN BELGIUM

With U. S. Army Forces in Belgium—Veteran of operations against German air raids in Great Britain and the French port of Cherbourg, the 87th Chemical Smoke Generating Company now serves as a vital link in the anti-aircraft defenses of an important Belgian port.

The port, through which a Port organization of the U. S. Army Transportation Corps is forwarding supplies and war material to the advancing Allied armies, is one of the largest under Allied control, thus necessitating an extensive anti-aircraft defense system.

The 87th's activities are coordinated with British and American anti-aircraft artillery and air force squadrons. Equipped with mobile generators and stationary "quick cover" circuit smoke pots, men of the 87th can send up dense clouds of artificial fog to protect the vast dock areas in case of air attack.

Not only is the unit equipped with its own motor transport and radio and telephone communication systems, but it also operates a meteorology station to obtain local weather and wind data. Men of the outfit can operate within five to seven minutes after an alert. Their only relaxation comes when natural fog hangs over the city.

Georgia Kills Poll Tax Payment

Atlanta, Ga.—Georgia Monday abolished the poll tax—both as a revenue measure and a prerequisite for voting.

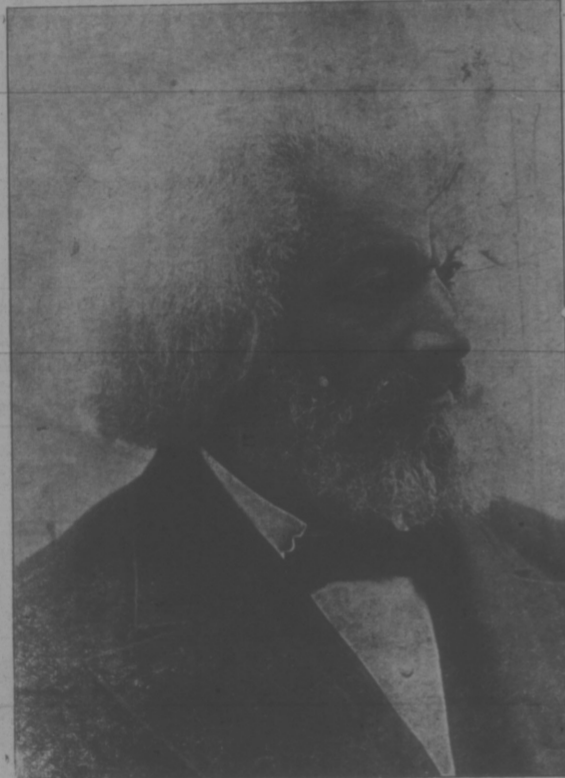

The senate passed the house version of a repeal bill and Gov. Ellis Arnall signed it into law after Arnall warned that unless the legislature abolished the levy he would suspend it by executive decree.

The action left only seven poll tax states in the south—Tennessee, Alabama, Arkansas, Mississippi, Virginia, Texas and South Carolina.

"Today Georgia spoke for democracy," commented Arnall.

Recess in FEPC Hearing At East Alton, Ill., Hall

Washington—Complaints that the Western Cartridge Co., of East Alton, Ill., discriminates in hiring against Negro workers solely because of their race or color were given public hearing by the President's Committee on Fair Employment Practice at Village Hall in East Alton, January 31, 1945, FEPC reported this week.

After a full day's hearing, Malcolm Ross, FEPC chairman, announced a recess of the case until February 23. The recess was granted at the request of the company, which asked for time to complete preparation and presentation of its side of the case.

Sitting at the hearing was a subcommittee of FEPC, comprising Mr. Ross, Miss Sara Southall, and Milton P. Webster committee members. Maceo W. Hubbard, of the FEPC Legal Division, served as counsel for the committee and Emanuel H. Bloch, attorney of the FEPC staff, sat as hearing commissioner.

Representing the company at the hearing were O. W. Roberts, director of personnel, and R. H. McRobert, counsel.

Rejected

Several officials of the War Manpower Commission and the United States Employment Service serving the East Alton area testified that Negro workers referred to the company, in response to manpower orders, were consistently rejected by the company. Subsequent conference with officials of the company, aimed at adjusting the apparent discrimination, it was testified, brought from company officials statements that the hiring of Negroes was likely to produce a complete walkout of white workers. No Negroes live in East Alton, Ill.

Two Negro residents of nearby Alton, Ill., testified that they had sought work at the plant, which, they said, was about 10 minutes travel from their homes. The witnesses said that they were refused jobs because of their race.

A representative of the International Association of Machinists (A. I. A. M.) and of other A. F. L. unions in the plant testified that, despite a no-strike pledge incorporated into the current bargaining agreement with the company, a complete walkout of white workers would be almost certain if Negroes were introduced into the plant. The unions, he said, would keep the no-strike pledge, but he added that he doubted the unions' ability to control the individual actions or personal reactions of the workers.

The company employs approximately 8,340 workers. Recent official estimates set its need for additional workers at 2,530, to bring employment up to a peak of 10,870 by June 1st.

scheduled for February 11, 1945, at 3:30 p. m. (E.W.T.)

Master Sergeant Kermit E. Ganitt, San Francisco, California, and Sergeant Gaillard Cooper, Los Angeles, both veterans of the Southwest Pacific campaign, will be interviewed from Fort Huachuca, Arizona, where they are assigned to Special Service Unit 1922. The glee club of the 372nd Infantry Regiment, commanded by Colonel Edward O. Courdin, also will be heard from Fort Huachuca.

SPENCER ELLISTON

Funeral services will be held from the St. Paul A.M.E. church on Saturday afternoon, Feb. 10, at 1:30 o'clock for Spencer Elliston, former Des Moines resident.

Mr. Elliston, a veteran of World War I, died Saturday evening, Feb. 3, from the effects of a major operation in the U. S. Marine hospital in New Orleans, La., where he had made his home for the past six years.

Elliston, a casualty of the first World War from which he returned an invalid in 1919, after having been hospitalized in seven different government hospitals, was sent to the sanitarium at Ft. Lyons, Colo., in January 1925 as an incurable.

He recuperated and came back to Des Moines and organized the White Rock Civic Association, a corporation of which he was president at the time of his death. This corporation owns several properties in the city of Des Moines in addition to a small farm at the White Rock Community, nine miles north of the city.

During his residence in Des Moines Mr. Elliston served as service officer for Lincoln Post No. 136 of the American Legion and was a member of the committee of management of the Crocker Street Y.M.C.A., as the representative of which he served as volunteer worker in the Polk County Juvenile Court.

He was a member of St. Paul A. M. E. church and the Doric Lodge No. 30 A. F. & A. M. For ten years Mr. Elliston was advertising manager of the Iowa Bystander newspaper.

During the past six years he had resided in New Orleans, La., because the climate there was more conducive to his health and while there had served as circulation manager for the service he was awarded recently the "five-year-medal."

On Monday, Jan. 29, Mr. Elliston was stricken and rushed to the U. S. Marine hospital where he died.

At the funeral rites Saturday, ritualistic services will be conducted by the Doric Lodge No. 30 A. F. & A. M. and Lincoln Post No. 126 of the American Legion and a patrol from Troop 59 Boy Scouts of America acting as escorts. Interment will be made in the New Gold Star Plot in Glendale cemetery.

Surviving in Des Moines are his widow, Mrs. Helena Elliston, and his mother, Mrs. Sophie Nichols, and a number of other relatives.

File $10,000 Libel Suit Against Paper

The Rev. R. M. Powell, pastor of the United Church of America, Tuesday afternoon filed a district court lawsuit against Charles Howard, Sr., attorney and general manager of "The Iowa Observer," seeking $10,000 damages for libel.

The pastor's petition alleged that Howard wrote an article in the Dec. 15 "Observer" which was "calculated to subject the plaintiff to public scorn and ridicule."

The Rev. Mr. Powell said the article was titled, "Katz and Powell vs. Negroes 30 Pieces of Silver—Or Was It Thirty?"

Haggerty Case

Howard was accused of condemning the pastor for appearing as a witness in the jury trial of a civil rights case brought by Dr. Prince Haggerty and wife against the Katz drug store and Morris Katz, white manager. Haggerty, had charged that the store refused to serve him and his wife at the lunch counter.

After a hearing, the jury last Dec. 4 acquitted Katz for violating the Iowa civil rights law.

After a hearing, the jury last Dec. 4 acquitted Katz for violating the Iowa civil rights law.

The article, according to the pastor's petition, inferred that Katz and his attorney had sought to locate the pastor for the purpose of giving him some hints the day before the Katz case was in court.

Among some of the national speakers who have appeared on program have been the late Dr. George W. Carver, Bishop John A. Gregg, Dr. Mary McLeod Bethune.

PERSONAL TOUCH

By MARIE ROSS

Some patrons of the city street cars and buses have had some experiences recently that had nothing to do with the crowds that packed the conveyances.

Nanna Mae Alexander, 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Alexander of 517 Raccoon street, was a little damsel in distress on last Saturday afternoon when she discovered that she had alighted from a street car and left her billfold which contained five dollars of her mother's money.

Nanna Mae started shouting and running after the moving car which then she froze into loud howl which attracted the attention of a kind motorist, Mr. Eddie Cranshaw, who sped away in his car with Nanna Mae and caught the street car several blocks away and caused Nanna Mae to smile again when she retrieved the billfold which was still lying on the floor of the crowded car with the five dollars inside.

Riding the street car across town one cold morning last week, Mr. A. J. Esters carried a bulky package in his coat pocket. In the rush to leave the car he did not miss the package until he was almost ready to leave the car. Going back to his former seat he found it taken by a gentleman who had been seated across the aisle from him. The man looked pale as Mr. Esters asked him for the package which was then covered by the man's overcoat.

W. M. L.—I have been here about 3 months. I met a man the first day I arrived and I took a very deep liking to him. His friends talk against him to me but he proves to be very nice. He says he loves me, but he lives with another woman. I am planning to go home and he doesn't want me to go. Do you think it wise for me to stay?
Ans.: The place for you young lady, is back home with your people. The man has taken no steps whatsoever to prove his sincerity. He already has a mate and evidently doesn't choose to give her up—therefore, his friends are right in trying to discourage your relations with him. A girl your age should choose their friends with extreme caution and only encourage those who are free to carry on an open friendship.

AS WE OBSERVE BROTHERHOOD WEEK

For the past few years, we have observed as Interracial Sunday, the one occurring nearest Lincoln's birthday, the 1945 date being Feb. 11. The week this day begins Brotherhood week.

The birthday of Fred Douglas is celebrated at this time also. It is quite fitting and proper that we tie in these observances with Lincoln and Douglas' birthdays for when they lived there was no race problem except that of the Negro and also because both did a great deal to advance the cause of freedom in this country and the subsequent improvement of the lot of the Negro in America.

As we think of Lincoln and Brotherhood week, our mind irresistibly calls up his famous Gettysburg speech in which he said the founders of this country were dedicated to proposition that all men were created equal and endowed with certain inalienable rights among which were life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

This statement sums up the whole philosophy of democracy and it stated what the founders of this nation came here in order that they might enjoy.

It is fully apparent that if the people of this country carried out the proposition to which we are dedicated, there would be no race problem, no necessity for brotherhood week or other special efforts to induce or persuade people to think and act properly toward their fellow man.

But we have not. The church has and still hedges on the question refusing to meet the problem squarely on the basis of the golden rule. The state has played politics on the question or permitted those people who do not believe in the doctrine so accurately put by Lincoln. Consequently, in spite of all the progress the Negro has made, there is no place in America where Negroes are dealt with as full citizens.

As a result of this failure to deal with Negroes equally, he finds himself hedged in twenty-four hours a day. He is ever made conscious that he is different, must be dealt with differently and that after all he should be happy with his own people. He is Jim Crowed, segregated against, denied employment on the basis of his ability, mistreated in court and often denied simple justice.

All these injustices are heaped upon the Negro by a nation dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal; in most instances by people who pose as Christians.

And the evil seems to grow. Walter White, secretary of the NAACP, said the Negro is the test of democracy. It might well be said that the Negro is the test of Christianity for if any man believes and practices the measurement of the Negro as is done in this country he is not a Christian by the measurement of the ten commandments. And any religion which has for its creed less is not worth talking about.

Of course, we recognize that all people don't harbor these views otherwise the Negro could not stay in this country. Such men as Lincoln met the challenge in their day. We must have the courage to do so now.

HONOR LINCOLN DOUGLAS The advertisers in this issue join with the Bystander in honoring Lincoln and Douglas both of whose birthdays are February 12.

SPORTS

By ALLEN ASHBY MORE FIGHT TALK

We had quite a long chat with Sugar Costner the other day. Naturally the coming battle with Ray Robinson became the subject sooner or later.

Costner said, "Sure, I know the guy can punch, and that he is smart, but I figure that I can punch some, too, and I ain't so dumb, then, besides, I think I can outspeed him. If I can hit him I am sure I can drop him, and I am sure I can hit him."

"But, what if he nails you first?" we asked. The answer was just as simple. "Then I suppose they will be pickin' me up off the floor, but I don't intend for that to happen."

This fellow is a rather unusual fellow with some surprising and disarming answers at times. After each workout and most of his fights, Little Sugar goes out and gets himself from three to eight hot dogs with everything on them.

One of the local daily sports scribes was talking to a bunch, and we just sauntered over to listen to what was being said. The fellow was arguing that most fighters had some reason for eating certain foods. He said that some fighters ate raw meat because they thought it gave them the killer instinct, and some ate various vegetables because they gave them certain qualities. Therefore, he argued, there must be some reason why Costner consumed so many hot dogs. He was going to find out, so he led the gang over to where the guy was working out, and as soon as there was a break in the druff, the writer asked the question, "Why do you always eat so many hot dogs, (but the fellow called them red dogs) after each workout or fight?"

The answer set the bunch back on their heels and also sent them away with slightly red faces. "Well, I like red dogs, and I am always hungry after a fight or a workout." That was all.

There was just a sort of collective "oh," and the gang went back to comparing Little Sugar with Joe Gans and the rest of the great old timers. There is no getting away from the fact that the fellow is fast as lightning. His speed makes one wonder if he wouldn't have a good chance to realize his desire next Wednesday night, score a quick knockout over Ray. Then, about all you have to do is recall that those punches that Big Sugar throws seem to come from nowhere, and you can see Little Sugar doing just what he said he would do, get up off the floor.

From the present score, it looks very much as if we will have to pass this one up, because our schedule calls for us to be in Des Moines on the 14th, and that is the night of the ball. But, there will be around twenty thousand of the faithful yelling the battle cry that is heard most often, around here: "Hit 'im wit da wood!" The brawl has become so important in the talk of local fans that it has overshadowed the Golden Gloves battles now being held, and that is about the first time that has happened to our knowledge. And don't think the Chicago Tribune isn't making a valiant fight against this happening.

Lincoln's Strength Attributed to His Early Diet New York—Abraham Lincoln, probably the strongest president who ever occupied the White House, grew up on a simple fare. Lincoln's unusual strength of both mind and body may be attributed to his early diet, according to an article in the February issue of the Journal of Living, which says Lincoln typified the pioneer type, whose food was drawn from primitive sources. In his prime, Lincoln, who stood six feet four, could lift half a ton with the aid of shoulder straps. He was a person at the Veterans' Information Center, 507 Empire Bldg.—W. T. could take a four pound axe by the tip of the handle and hold it out straight at arm's length—which is no mean feat. He was a wrestler or more than local reputation, and his fame as a rail-splitter has long been known.

The simple nourishing foods of the Midwest wilderness provided our famous president with his strength. Wild game such as turkey or duck, fish, a few vegetables such as corn, by hominy, potatoes, corn pone and wild berries made up the only meals young Abe knew. As a treat, there was a little tea and coffee, and sometimes spice or molasses for flavoring. That is all. Yet this simple fare helped to mould Lincoln's future life.

Lincoln shot his first wild turkey at the age of seven, and early learned to fish and trap wild animals. It was during these youthful years that he learned to be frugal and temperate. Later, when he lived in the White House and could order what he wanted, he still ate sparingly.

John Hay, an intimate at the White House during those years, relates that Lincoln usually ate an egg, a piece of toast, and took coffee for breakfast. At noon he had a light lunch—a biscuit and glass of milk in winter; some grapes or other fruit in summer. He usually dined between five and six o'clock and was particularly abstemious with regard to wine and liquor.

FUNERAL RITES FOR OSCAR EVANS, 44

Chester Jones Is Freed in Case

Chester Jones, janitor at the county courthouse for the last 14 years, Saturday, Feb. 3, was freed in district court on a charge of obtaining money by false pretense, growing out of an alleged promise to fix a drunk-driving case. Jones was alleged by the state to have conspired with Gus Thomas, another janitor, who admitted obtaining $125 from Charles Blake to fix Blake's case of driving while intoxicated. Blake was indicted on the charge.

In sustaining the motion of Defense Attorney Volney Diltz for a directed verdict Judge Ladd held that the state had failed to establish the crime of obtaining money by false pretenses. Diltz argued that there would have been no false pretense indictment if the case had been fixed, and that the state failed to show that false representations were made to obtain the money. Judge Ladd commented that Saturday's decision in the Jones case will probably also affect the disposition of the case against Thomas, who pleaded guilty recently and is awaiting sentence.

Iowa Marine in South Pacific Says 'Guys' Want to Visit Iowa "Letters home and my past few weeks of duty have carried me on a small strange or should I say—lack of time," wrote Cpl. Adam B. Johnson, Jr. who is with the marines in the South West Pacific, on Jan. 22.

"I know your splendid job which you are doing and have been doing since this terrible war, has kept you very busy. So within these few lines I hope you can smile and feel the spirit of the finest as you have made hundreds of Des Moines families and servicemen feel in your fine work. I received a nice letter from the Chapman sisters in Los Angeles. They seem to be enjoying things nicely out there.

"The wedding (Eloise Morrow's) was really a lovely affair and such a perfect piece to read. All the fellows who read the article in my company really enjoyed the way it was written. So pat yourself on the back once again because you have put Des Moines on the map.

"A great number of these guys want to visit Des Moines more than any other place—or maybe, I'm being too sure of a compliment or two. But it seems so. If all of the boys visit me who say they will, I'll be kept busy a long time. "Now for our life—and, first, just about the same; second, not much new because every island is about the same. To me the only difference in an island is the fighting. One may be just bombing attacks and the other scraping or hand to hand. All these months luck has been my pal. "Jimmy Morrow sends his best regards. So in ending I'll say best of luck to you, your friends and mine—now and doubly on St. Valentine's Day. Cpl. Johnson, Jr. receives his mail at: First Marine Depot Co., 4th Base Depot, Sup Ser, FMF, Pac, c/o Fleet Post Office, San Francisco, Calif.
