THREE WOUNDED, ONE KILLED IN QUARREL BETWEEN MORTICIANS

Gary, Ind.—A duel between two undertakers occurred here Tuesday night, July 3, and resulted in the death of one of the participants and the wounding of three persons. The tragedy grew out of an argument over possession of the body of a worker in a Gary steel plant who had been killed in an accident.

Undertaker J. D. Smith, 59, was shot fatally in the throat, when he refused to relinquish the body to Mortician Bruce Hower.

In the quarrel which ensued, Smith shot Victor Hower, the undertaker's brother, with a 32-caliber revolver, officers said. Bruce Hower, it is reported then wrested the gun from Smith and shot him.

According to police reports, when Smith's wife, Claudia, 56, and his nephew, Clyde, intervened, Hower shot them.

Georgian Awarded Croix De Guerre

With Advance Supply Forces in Germany — Corporal George W. Edwards, 1105 St. Charles Place, N. E., Atlanta, Georgia, a chauffeur assigned to the 524th Quartermaster Car Company has been awarded the Croix de Guerre with Bronze Star, for distinguished service, rendered in the presence of the enemy.

Corporal Edwards, the only Negro soldier among 15 GIs awarded the decoration, in a recent ceremony, is a driver with G-1 Section, Advance Section Communications Zone, in Germany. The recommendation to higher headquarters read, in part:

"Corporal Edwards, having driven the Deputy Chief of Staff and Headquarters Commandant, Advance Section, Communications Zone on Command Post reconnaissance to Le Mans, France, prior to the entrance of the infantry, was caught with his vehicle in sniper fire outside the former headquarters of the German Seventh Army. Corporal Edwards dismounted, took cover, and covered the reconnaissance party until the firing subsided." The Georgian also was cited for directing a convoy to safety during an enemy air-attack, without regard for his own welfare. Twenty low-flying German planes were involved in the strafing.

Judges of the sixty-seven essays in the contest included a member of the Register-Tribune staff, a Drake university instructor, and a Negro college professor.

Two Navy Men Cited for Heroism

Washington — The Navy department this week detailed the exploits of a second Negro sailor who has been recommended for decoration for bravery in the fight to save the USS Bunker Hill, which was set afire by Japanese plane attacks.

This sailor, who is included among the 170 Negro and white naval heroes cited in the encounter, is Willie Brown, 20, steward's mate, first class whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Brown, live in Bell City, La.

According to the Navy account, Brown helped carry 19 shipmates on stretchers to safety as the fires raged aboard the giant Essex-class carrier after the suicide plane attacks off Okinawa May 11. Brown then went to the hangar deck and joined other crew members in fighting fires.

Earlier, the Navy had revealed that another Negro sailor, 20-year-old Herbert Joe Crawford, of Washington, D. C., had been recommended for decoration as a result of his fire-fighting activities in the same engagement.

Three hundred and seventy-three men died, 16 are missing and 264 were injured as a result of the suicide attack.

MRS. J. Q. EVANS INJURED IN FALL

Mrs. J. Q. Evans of 1106 Seventeenth street, suffered a back injury on Monday when she fell on a sidewalk at Twenty-fourth street and University avenue.

Mrs. Evans, who is convalescing at Mercy hospital, said she fell to the pavement when she attempted to separate two dogs, one her own, which started fighting.

Mrs. Maurice Patterson of Omaha, Neb., came to the city to be at the bedside of her mother.

Miss McGregory, daughter of Mrs. Lizzie McGregory of 1024 15th street received her bond last Saturday. She is a graduate of North high school. Mr. Coleman, who sponsored the contest, was pleased with the response from the youth of Des Moines who expressed in their essays many methods of combatting prejudice and making progress along racial lines.

"Every entrant readily agreed that Negroes were not fairly treated in Des Moines and that they were being denied rights and privileges to which they are entitled by law," Mr. Coleman commented.

"Thirty of the contestants attributed the lack of fair play was in a large measure due to ignorance concerning the Negro and his possibilities.

"Five said they knew most of the prejudice came from home-teaching an association with other children who were already bias in their views, which no doubt came from their home training."

Ten of the entrants were students of Dowling College here. The prize-winning essay will be published in next edition.

NAACP Leader Tells of Disillusionment of Negro Soldiers in Pacific Area

Cincinnati, Ohio — In an Army and Navy approved broadcast, July 7 over the Columbia Broadcasting System, Walter White, NAACP secretary told of the despair and disillusionment of American Negro soldiers in the Pacific as a result of the perpetuation of the same racial theories they are supposed to be fighting to eliminate in other parts of the world.

Examples were cited of friction between whites and Negroes, and of discriminatory treatment against individuals and whole company units by those determined on transplanting overseas the racial patterns practiced in the most backward sections of the United States.

Experiences responsible for dampening morale in general, were those similar to the case of white Marines who, without provocation heckled and fired upon Negro Navy base company camps on at least four occasions. Forced finally to defend themselves after one of their number had been killed, the Negroes were later charged with rioting and unlawful assemblage.

"For weeks," he related, "a few marines, had been throwing bricks, empty beer bottles and, upon three occasions, hand grenades and smoke bombs into camps occupied by Negro navy men.

"When no attempt was made by the authorities to stop the attacks or punish the attackers, the colored men in despair determined to defend themselves when next attacked.

"The next assault took place a few days later on Christmas eve," White said.

Negroes Shot

"On Christmas day one Negro serviceman was shot and killed and another shot by white servicemen.

"These and other assaults infuriated the men who had been attacked to the point that twice they attempted to go into town to take vengeance.

"On one occasion they were turned back; on the second they were arrested, charged with rioting and unlawful assemblage."

Wanted to Help U. S.

Another instance cited by Mr. White was that of a Negro youth who enlisted on his seventeenth birthday, "in order to serve my country and help my race."

During later inquiries, however, it was brought out that this same lad had been twice found guilty and convicted by a court-martial of five days solitary confinement on bread and water; first, for sitting in the only vacant seat immediately under the sign dividing Negroes from whites in a bus in Virginia; second, for entering a "white" Virginia restaurant to purchase food.

"The point I wish to make," declared Mr. White, after a review of these circumstances, "is not of such clashes which race prejudice has caused unfortunately in many theaters of war. I want to personalize the corrosive effect of ignorance, bigotry and prescription. As a result of this the spirit of many men particularly Negroes has been dampened and in some instances wholly crushed.

Has Effect on Natives

"The perilous effect of such manifestations of race prejudice," Mr. White pointed out further, "extends beyond American Negroes to the natives whose aid we need now in winning the war and whose friendship we will need after the war if we are to have peace."

On the brighter side White reviewed the performance of the 93rd Division commended by General Duncel of the American Division; the role of Negro GIs in the construction of roads, airfields on Guam and Saipan, together with their handling of thousands of tons of supplies close on the heels of invasion troops.

Realization, according to Mr. White has come to many white men in the Army, Navy, Coast Guard and Marine corps—that the problem of race is neither a sectional nor a national one in the United States, but an increasingly important world problem.

Can't Be Same Again

"Men cannot be quite the same. It is tragic that it took a war costing millions of lives and billions of dollars to teach us this lesson. But some of us are awake to the fact that to date in this war 180,000 human beings have died for each of the

The telephone you want may be over Japan tonight

The big fellows that are bombing Japan, the B-29's—each carries a ton of telephone and other electronic equipment. Raids using hundreds of B-29's are common. That adds up! Yet you can multiply those tons by almost any figure you wish... and you still probably will miss by a mile the total of telephone equipment in the war.

And until Japan is defeated, telephones, wire, switchboards and communications equipment of all kinds will have to go to the Pacific in great amounts.

That's why there just isn't enough to go around. Even when that happy day comes and our enemies are finally beaten, we won't be able to tell you how soon we can take care of the people waiting for service.

All we can say is, it will be done as soon as possible. All we can ask is, please be patient—which you are, thanks!

THUSTON SISTERS VISIT AUNT HERE

Misses Betty and Claudia Mae Thuston of St. Joseph, Mo., are visiting their aunt, Mrs. Marie Bryant of 1443 E. 18th street. Miss Dorothy E. Thuston will join them Sunday for their summer vacation.

With the very cool evenings coming early these summer days the little kiddies about the Good Park have suddenly become interested in learning the game of tennis. Out this week as beginners—in stocking feet and barefeet—since they did not take the time to wear their tennis shoes—were Gail Winters, Donna Lou and Phyllis Carr and their cousin, Vendeele Carr, Billy Kilkerson, Beverly and Barbara Oliver.
After batting balls over the fence and into the swimming pool a veteran tennis player, Allen Ashby, got them started hitting against the fence—but at least they started and the class is expected to increase doubly by the next week.
Gail, about ten years old, came up to the tennis courts, to get some "highlights from one of the players on the "art of fortune-telling" for a carnival at the Y.W.C.A. tonight, at which time she will look into the stars. When she got a tennis racket in her hand—that was the end of her desire to look into the future.

Heartbroken—I'm in love with a boy in the service. We have gone together a year and 8 months. When he came home on his second furlough, he said he didn't feel the same. He said the war had changed him, he also said that there was not anyone between us. Before he went into service, he was so loving and gave me everything any boy could give a girl. He said that he still thinks more of me than any other girl. Do you think we will be back together after we have a victory? I love him very much. I still think he cares for me. But this war has upset him. I think the chance is worth waiting for. Please help me.

Ans.: No man who has seen the horrors of war will come back completely untouched, either mentally or physically. The tragedies they see and experience make such an impression on their minds until everything else assumes minor importance. The thought that is most prevalent is that of winning the war and putting an end to this wholesale manslaughter. Since being in the service, he has taken on a grave sense of responsibility and duty. When his job is done, he will then divert his time and interest back to you. You must accept these changing conditions and be willing to take a back seat, for the time being, until he can offer more.

BOURBON SOUTH RIDING HIGH

When Republicans were warning that the re-election of the late President Roosevelt in 1944 held out the probability that the then Senator Truman might succeed him thus placing the south in solid control in Washington, Democrats scoffed at the idea. Some of our Negro friends, who supposedly stood in a neutral position but in reality supported the Democratic ticket, went so far as to produce proof that Senator Truman, after all, was ok and spent money to exonerate him from the Klux Klan connections.

President Roosevelt did die; Vice President Truman became president; the south is flying high. As the law stands now should President Truman die, Secretary of State Byrnes of South Carolina, a man whom the NAACP says has fought every progressive measure of interest to the Negro, would succeed him.

It will be recalled that organized labor prevented Byrnes from securing the Democratic nomination for vice president because he was known to oppose their cause. They endorsed Senator Truman but now they are in the same plight as the Negro in that they may be forced to take Byrnes for president.

Of course Negroes are dissatisfied with the combination in Washington. The lowbrow attack on the FEP legislation must be charged to the Democrats for members of that party blocked its progress. And FEPC legislation is one of the most important items before Congress today.

It will be interesting to see how the political alignments shape up during the next few months. Maybe, like the Iowa Negro Democrats, all will be said about foreign and nothing about home affairs.

ARMY AND NAVY POOR EXAMPLES

Last week Walter White, Secretary of the NAACP, told the radio audience of a clash between Negro sailors and marines on one of the islands of the southwest Pacific. Returning soldiers from Europe are telling of numerous clashes which have occurred in that theatre mainly because the Europeans tried to treat Negroes as human beings or because some Americans resented any decent consideration for Negroes wherever they were stationed.

In fact it is discouraging to talk to some of these boys and learn of the utter disregard for fair play which has been exhibited by their immediate white officers when in both theatres of operation the commanding generals have issued orders directing that every soldier be treated fairly.

This inconsistency is similar to the laws of some states which, like the U. S. constitution, contain a bill of rights which if followed would eliminate all racial differences. But everybody knows these laws are ignored and in spite of them, all kinds of discrimination, segregation and other types of mistreatment prevail.

Of course, the Bystander realizes full well that Negro soldiers themselves have brought on some of their difficulties. That was to be expected. But this is no reason for a wholesale denial of Negroes, as a whole, decent treatment.

These boys state further that adults Europeans and the dark colonials of France and England cannot understand why America sends black soldiers abroad to fight and work for democracy and at the same time not only treats them as second class citizens but also attempts to induce others to do likewise.

The Bystander has urged, on many occasions, that every effort be made in local communities to prevent these attitudes of bitterness engendered by those clashes from occurring. And in order to cope with the situation the war should begin now rather than wait until the masses of the men return.

CLEAN UP CAMPAIGN HAS HELPED

The Clean-Up and Beautifying campaign closes July 15. Prize winners will be announced in the Bystander July 19.

The entries have been most encouraging as shown by the list thus indicating that the project is a worthy one. And we are glad because citizens have been made more conscious of the desirability of maintaining good homes and good communities as badges of good citizenship even though they may not be fine.

IV.—CONSERVING ENERGY IN SWIMMING

By CARROLL L. BRYANT, Director Water Safety Service American Red Cross

An old-gentleman who, at the age of 84, still swam his mile a day parallel to a seashore resort in New England, took his time, using the breast stroke, and conserved his energy. The young "athletes" nearby who could swim a good imitation of a beautiful crawl—for a distance of perhaps a hundred yards—at the end of their showy spurt were much more exhausted than the old gentleman at the end of his mile.

Speed has its uses, but acquiring speed does not come at once. Only when the swimmer has mastered a sufficient variety of strokes and skills to enable him to feel thoroughly at home in the water, and to cope successfully with any water conditions that may arise, should he attempt to gain speed.

From the very beginning he must acquire and practice the habit of rhythmic and correct breathing, and he must bear in mind that his body buoyancy, coupled with the momentum of swimming, sufficient to keep him afloat. Then he is free to utilize all his stroking movements in propulsion. This will also enable him to acquire the very essential habit of resting or relaxing his muscles between strokes.

If some such orderly procedure is adopted and carried out, with adequate knowledge of the fundamentals or, better still, under the tutelage of a competent instructor, the whole process of learning to swim can be easily and pleasantly accomplished by most people.

There are only nine recognized swimming strokes, and five of these are variations of the other four. It is impossible to attempt to teach these strokes or even to describe them adequately on paper. As a rule the several kick and arm strokes are learned independently. They can be practiced first on the shore, then in shallow water. The beginner can then utilize them in experimenting with various styles of swimming to determine which strokes are best adapted to his own physical make-up. The Red Cross courses in swimming and water safety are available to all. Call your local chapter and enroll.

S/Sgt. Kelly Recovers, Spends Time in Paris, Meets Two Iowans
"I thought I would write you this evening while I was thinking about it," wrote S/Sgt. Thomas M. Kelly, Jr., from somewhere in Germany on June 18.

"On May 6, during the last attack I was wounded. Of course, they sent me back to a hospital and after some 20 days there I returned to my unit. On the way back to my unit I was given a 42-hour pass to Paris.

"Upon my arrival in Paris—much to my surprise I was sent to a colored Red Cross club. I would like to know when the Red Cross is going to start using separate boxes for us to put our money!

"Nevertheless, the first evening I saw Charlie Howard. He was the first person from home I had seen since January or February. I slapped and at first he failed to recognize me? We spent the remainder of the evening talking about home.

Hope for a better future based on a new attitude as exemplified in the case of returning Negro veterans whose white comrades stood ready to "break up the joint" when they were refused food in a Washington department store was seen by White.

In this situation MP's summoned to the scene (and themselves world war veterans) said: "If these men who have fought together overseas, seen their buddies die, themselves wounded, want to eat together, we don't have a damn thing to do with it!"

Next 10 Years Test
Mr. White concluded prophetically, "The ten years after the war is finally over, will unquestionably be the most critical in all human history. We will have to demonstrate then whether we are in earnest in pledging at San Francisco that there shall be no discrimination on account of "race, religion, language, or sex."

Tennis Clinic at Park
When you read this, we will have held our tennis clinic at Good's Park, and will have been on our way back to our work. But, we watched Marie Ross struggling, apparently a little against her left-hand preferences, to educate a group of little girls to get back into the harness once more.

Bill Ashby has had this idea all summer, but needed some help to put it across, and we were glad to happen along and do our bit in the thing. At this writing, we have about twenty youngsters signed up, and expect more.

Nobles from four temples were present. Dr. R. S. Taylor, deputy of Iowa, and Peer Bert A. Harris were in charge of the Scottish Rite degrees. The pre-grand lodge class is a yearly event.

YOUTH COUNCIL PLANS LAWN MEETING JULY 20
About 60 members of the Youth Council of the NAACP honored their advisor, Miss Clara Webb, on June 29, at a miscellaneous pre-nuptial shower. They presented her a silver set.

The Youth Council which was awarded the Ike Smalls trophy for outstanding work during the year will be presented the trophy at the July 20 meeting on the Y.W.C.A. lawn, following a pot luck supper. Reports of the delegates to the state conference will be made. The public is invited to attend. The regular meeting of the Council will be held on July 13.

We will have to demonstrate then whether we are in earnest in pledging at San Francisco that there shall be no discrimination on account of "race, religion, language, or sex."

Tennis Clinic at Park
When you read this, we will have held our tennis clinic at Good's Park, and will have been on our way back to our work. But, we watched Marie Ross struggling, apparently a little against her left-hand preferences, to educate a group of little girls to get back into the harness once more.

Bill Ashby has had this idea all summer, but needed some help to put it across, and we were glad to happen along and do our bit in the thing. At this writing, we have about twenty youngsters signed up, and expect more.

Nobles from four temples were present. Dr. R. S. Taylor, deputy of Iowa, and Peer Bert A. Harris were in charge of the Scottish Rite degrees. The pre-grand lodge class is a yearly event.

YOUTH COUNCIL PLANS LAWN MEETING JULY 20
About 60 members of the Youth Council of the NAACP honored their advisor, Miss Clara Webb, on June 29, at a miscellaneous pre-nuptial shower. They presented her a silver set.

The Youth Council which was awarded the Ike Smalls trophy for outstanding work during the year will be presented the trophy at the July 20 meeting on the Y.W.C.A. lawn, following a pot luck supper. Reports of the delegates to the state conference will be made. The public is invited to attend. The regular meeting of the Council will be held on July 13.

S/Sgt. Kelly Recovers, Spends Time in Paris, Meets Two Iowans
"I thought I would write you this evening while I was thinking about it," wrote S/Sgt. Thomas M. Kelly, Jr., from somewhere in Germany on June 18.

"On May 6, during the last attack I was wounded. Of course, they sent me back to a hospital and after some 20 days there I returned to my unit. On the way back to my unit I was given a 42-hour pass to Paris.

"Upon my arrival in Paris—much to my surprise I was sent to a colored Red Cross club. I would like to know when the Red Cross is going to start using separate boxes for us to put our money!

"Nevertheless, the first evening I saw Charlie Howard. He was the first person from home I had seen since January or February. I slapped and at first he failed to recognize me? We spent the remainder of the evening talking about home.

Hope for a better future based on a new attitude as exemplified in the case of returning Negro veterans whose white comrades stood ready to "break up the joint" when they were refused food in a Washington department store was seen by White.

In this situation MP's summoned to the scene (and themselves world war veterans) said: "If these men who have fought together overseas, seen their buddies die, themselves wounded, want to eat together, we don't have a damn thing to do with it!"

Next 10 Years Test
Mr. White concluded prophetically, "The ten years after the war is finally over, will unquestionably be the most critical in all human history. We will have to demonstrate then whether we are in earnest in pledging at San Francisco that there shall be no discrimination on account of "race, religion, language, or sex."
