KENNY WASHINGTON SIGNED BY L. A. RAMS

Los Angeles—A new way has dawned in west coast football with the breaking down of barriers that had kept the professional sport out of the Los Angeles Coliseum and with the recent signing of Kenny Washington, one of the great Negro players of all time, to a contract to pay for the world champion Los Angeles Rams of the National Football League.

When the Rams play against the Washington Redskins the night of September 6 they will return professional football to the Coliseum for the first time since Red Grange sent a team against George Wilson's All Stars there a quarter of a century ago. And with the signing of Washington, the Rams brought into the National League a colored player for the first time since Joe Lillard of Oregon played for the Chicago Cardinals more than a decade ago.

Jim Crow in South Africa Found to Be 'Worst in World'

Chicago—Racial discrimination in South Africa is more absolute and all-powerful than any laws invoked by "divine right" monarchs or totalitarian dictators.

"Two million whites in the Union of South Africa do not permit the country's 8,000,000 native Negroes to vote, take jobs of their own choice, bear arms, or enter public places." Thus the position of Africans in their own native land is summed up in the pictorial survey "His Majesty Jim Crow" in the April issue of Ebony, unique new Negro picture magazine.

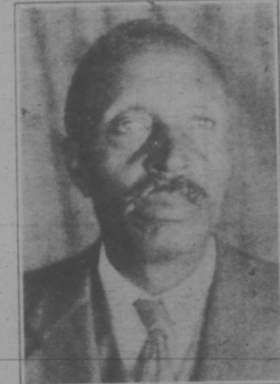

Pure natives are segregated from light-skinned Negroes (officially called "colored") and segregated from whites (all classed as "Europeans"). To live in a city in their native Africa, Negroes must carry with them at all times a pass to look for work or a pass to work, or another pass not to work, and even a separate pass to live with a wife.

The article states that "The constitution of the province of Transvaal reads: There shall be no equality between black and white, neither in the state, nor in the church."

Rep. Powell Makes Plea for Democracy in D. C.; Should Be 'Reflection of the Best'

Washington, D. C. (NNPA)—The House last Friday, by a vote of 122 to 49, rejected an amendment to the 1947 District of Columbia appropriation bill, aimed at breaking up race segregation in public facilities in the Nation's Capital, including parks, hospitals, and the public school system.

Representative Adam Clayton Powell, Jr., Democrat of New York, offered the amendment. It would have barred the use of funds carried in the bill to any agency of the District government which practices race segregation, "in employment, facilities afforded, services performed, accommodations furnished, instructions or aid granted."

As soon as the amendment was read, Representative John E. Rankin, Democrat, of Mississippi, leader of the "white trash bloc" in the House, made the point of order that the amendment was not germane and constituted legislation on an appropriation bill.

"This amendment, if adopted, would destroy the school system of the District of Columbia," Rankin cried. "It would stir up race hatred and bring about race trouble, the like of which nothing else has ever done in all the history of the District."

Representative John M. Coffe, Democrat, of Washington, chairman of the House District of Columbia appropriations subcommittee, who is regarded as a liberal, also made the point of order that the amendment incorporated a legislative provision in an appropriation bill in violation of the rules.

Point of Order
The further point of order that the amendment was a limitation on an appropriation bill without retrenching expenses was made by Representative Howard W. Smith, Democrat, of Virginia.

Representative Vito Marcantonio, American-Labor, of New York, spoke against the points of order, contending that segregation doubled the number of administrative offices, the number of facilities, and the expenditures thereby are increased; and the amendment would definitely be a saving to the Treasury.

Representative Aime J. Forand, Democrat, of Rhode Island, presiding held that the amendment was a proper limitation and overruled the points of order.

Speaking in favor of his amendment, Mr. Powell told the House that he would not be allowed to play tennis here because certain parks are set aside for colored people.

A doctor here, to whom he was referred by a New York specialist, Mr. Powell said, could not treat him because there was no hospital to which he could take a colored patient.

Should Reflect Best
What is done in the District of Columbia, Mr. Powell contended, "should be a reflection of the best that is in a democracy." He added that, "Unless it does reflect the best that is to be found in a democracy then we are not living up to the highest ideals of our Constitution and our Declaration of Independence."

He asked the House "to make the District of Columbia at least safe for the kind of democracy that our men shed their blood for, and which is being denied here in the District of Columbia to the most loyal element of this democracy."

Justice Department To Prosecute in Negro Vote Cases

Washington, D. C. (NNPA)—The Justice Department will prosecute under the criminal code "any state or party official who attempts to prevent a person from voting because of color" in a primary or general election.

TO PLAY HERE

F. NATHANIEL GATLIN

F. Nathaniel Gatlin, head of the band and professor of instrumental methods at Lincoln University in Jefferson City, Mo., will appear as guest clarinet soloist with the Drake university band Friday, April 12 at 9:30 a. m. in Drake auditorium. The public is invited.

Mr. Gatlin is rated as one of the finest clarinetists in the music world and has won wide acclaim. He started his study of the clarinet when he was in junior high school under the outstanding clarinetist and teacher Elmo von Roessler. Since then he has studied with Gaston O. Saunders of Texas, Gustave Holzhauser of Dayton, Ohio; George E. Wain of Oberlin Conservatory of Music; and Domenico DeCaprio of Northwestern University School of Music.

He has been heard by such famous conductors as George Enesco, Bohumir Kryl, Hans Kindley, and Leopold Stokowski.

The department's policy was outlined by Solicitor General J. Howard McGrath at a press conference last Friday.

"It is our position," Mr. McGrath said, "that the law has been settled by the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals and the denial of certiorari by the Supreme Court in a recent Georgia case, in which it was held Negroes were entitled to vote in primary elections."

"There is no doubt that the decision affects local as well as general primaries and elections in all states."

All test cases have been brought as civil actions.

In a suit brought by the Rev. Primus E. King, of Columbus, Ga., the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals held that a party primary was an essential part of the state's election process and that party officials were in fact acting for the state in conducting them.

Mr. McGrath said the Department of Justice assumed that, by refusing to review the decision in the Georgia case, the Supreme Court "let stand as law" its decision in a Texas case, holding that the right to participate in a primary cannot be denied to a person because of color.

Wallace Says 'All Races Can Dwell in Peace When Full Employment Achieved'

Tuskegee Institute, Ala. (NNPA)—When the fear of job insecurity is removed by full production and full employment at a minimum wage, there will be racial peace in the United States, Secretary of Commerce Henry A. Wallace, predicted at Founders' Day ceremonies at Tuskegee Institute last Sunday.

After paying tribute to Booker T. Washington as "a great educator and a great man," Mr. Wallace said: "There is no inferior race in the United States. There are people in the United States who have never contributed to the welfare of this country because of ill health, lack of education, or lack of opportunity. Given good health, education, and opportunity the color of a man's skin is no handicap." Then Mr. Wallace talked of Negro farmers and their progress.

"Notwithstanding the great progress which has been made by the colored people of America in education, on the farm, in business, and in the professions, it is nevertheless true that today most public schools provided for Negroes are poorly equipped."

Many Prepared
"Many Negroes who are well prepared by education for good jobs are unable to secure them because they are black. In most stores, clerks—including clerks who sell to Negro customers—are white. The construction industry is operated almost exclusively by white men. Street cars, railroads, and buses, some of whose customers are Negroes, are operated almost altogether by white operators. If two men—one black and one white—are equally qualified by education and experience for a job, the white man gets the job.

"This condition can be improved to some extent by a permanent Fair Employment Practices Committee. It can be helped by abolishing the poll tax. It can be aided by educating white people. A revival of religion in the hearts of all of the people will help. The real answer, however, lies elsewhere. This, I believe, is the answer. When by education, you at Tuskegee and at other schools throughout the land have prepared the Negroes of America to do useful, skillful, and remunerative work, they will be capable of and ready to go forward happily and prosperously in a prosperous America."

"All we need, then, is such an America. We must have continuous full employment opportunities here at a fair minimum wage. The average American laborer, farmer, school teacher, and professional man lives in fear. He has seen depressions before. He expects depressions again. When he sees a Negro operating a street-car, he thinks, 'Tomorrow, business will be bad. This Negro is taking a white man's job. There must be no Negroes operating street-cars.' Some carpenters, bricklayers, and farmers feel the same way. So do all white Americans who feel insecure."

"It is your duty, and the duty of all of us, to work diligently for education, and more diligently for full production, full employment, full use of all our resources and a more abundant life in America."

"When full employment is achieved, when the fear of insecurity is gone, all of the races which make up this great country can dwell together in peace."

'Branding of All Liberal
Persons As Communist Is Dangerous' Says Judge Hastie

By LOUIS LAUTIER
For the NNPA News Service
Washington, D. C.—The branding of all liberal persons as Communists or communist sympathizers on questionable evidence will afford great danger to the security of this country if there should be a break in friendly relations between the United States and Russia.

This was the warning of William H. Hastie, dean of the Howard Law School, in a stirring summation closing the hearing before the Senate Territories and Insular Affairs subcommittee last Friday on his nomination to be governor of the Virgin Islands. Hastie said:

"Through no fault or desire of our own, we who are Negroes have been lumped together in connection with various proscriptions in American life.

"We find ourselves compelled by various pressures to live together in more or less segregated communities. We find ourselves, regardless of political affiliations, limited to work opportunities. We find ourselves excluded from various public places. We are confronted with problems which are common to all Negroes, regardless of political affiliations.

"And I say to the committee that it has been characteristic of the Negro that when Negroes get together in an effort to combat one of these proscriptions, we have not been particular, nor have we inquired, as to the political affiliation of our fellows who were willing to join in that specific effort."

"We ban together as persons who suffer a common injury to attempt to remedy the situation that faces us, and I would say that in most cases we do not even know, nor do we inquire about, the political affiliations of our fellows in that effort."

"But, in our minds, if a person sincerely and honestly, without introducing his political views in any way, is willing to join in any effort, we say, 'Welcome, brother!'"

AME Bishop Is Suspended in Ark.

Tulsa — Bishop George E. Curry, diocese leader of the Oklahoma-Arkansas A.M.E. church, was suspended until June 19, the day the general conference will convene in Atlantic City, last week by Presiding Bishop R. C. Ransom in the first ecclesiastical trial in A.M.E. history.

Rose Page Welch Sings at Iowa U.

Iowa City—Rose Page Welch, Chicago mezzo-soprano, was warmly received by an audience of approximately 600 persons at Iowa City's First Methodist church on Sunday afternoon, March 24.

Mrs. Welch has studied voice under Alexander Nakutin and is now studying at the American Conservatory of Music under B. Fred Wise. She first gained notice in the music world when she won top honors in the national vocal contest of the Chicago Musical Festival some years ago. Her success has continued until she is now recognized as one of the outstanding mezzo-sopranos in the United States.

In an interview following her concert, Mrs. Page said that she does not work under any managerial arrangements because she prefers to do things her own way and she feels relations if she isn't burdened with managerial difficulties and union restrictions.

In her Iowa City appearance the proceeds were divided between the World Student Service Fund and the NAACP. After being told of the recent 31-4 indictment in Tennessee of the persons who are alleged to have been instrumental in starting the recent Tennessee race riot, she said that she wished that she had more than just her talent and the benefits that it brings to be contributed to this very worthy cause.

Mrs. Page was accompanied by her 17 year old daughter, Linnie who showed the audience that she is no less an accomplished accompanist because of her youth. Also in the audience was Mrs. Page's 15-year-old son Gale, who is a student at the Scattergood Quaker school at West Branch.

Interviewed

In interviews after the concert, all the Page family were charming to your writer and confessed that they often had family concerts and musicales in that both Mr. and Mrs. Page are vocalists, Gale is a violinist and Linnie a pianist.

Following the concert, Mrs. Page was the guest of the Methodist Youth Group and the Negro Forum where she led group singing and favored those present with several additional selections.

The program began with Handel's "Where ere you Walk" and Secchi's "Lungi dal Caro Bene." Included were a group of four Negro spirituals as well as other works from Russian and American composers.

Mrs. Page left Iowa City Monday night for Toronto, Canada, where she will appear in a series of four concerts for various organizations in the Dominion. Before leaving, however, she made a trip to Scattergood school where she entertained the students with a short concert Sunday evening.

DEMOCRACY IN JOBS IN DES MOINES

Seek Employment

On the Job Training
If you have served in the active military or naval service on or after September 16, 1940 and have been discharged or released from such service under conditions not dishonorable, and if as a result of that service you have a disability which causes a handicap to you in getting and holding employment, you have the right to apply for Vocational Rehabilitation.

The Veterans Administration provides such rehabilitation for the veteran only when he is entitled to pension (of at least 10 percent) or retirement pay and has a disability which causes a handicap resulting in a loss of employability.

The purpose of this rehabilitation is to restore the employability by providing vocational training and other assistance which the disabled veteran needs to prepare him for employment in an occupation suitable to overcome the handicap caused by his disability.

MISS VIRGINIA STEWART

Serving as a secretary, typist, and a receptionist in the central office of USO-Travelers Aid Society, at 205 Fifth street, here, is Miss Virginia Stewart, of 847 Fifteenth street, who has held secretarial positions serving many governmental offices in Iowa and in Washington, D. C.

Miss Stewart, former secretary and assistant at the Negro Community Centers here for seven years, returned to her home during the winter from Washington, where she had worked four years in the office of War Production Board. Illness caused her to give up her work there.

The Travelers Aid Society, which offers its services to everybody, "regardless of race, creed or color," is more than an information-giving set-up which refers the traveler with information regarding recreation, housing, churches, location of persons, transportation, community resources, and employment opportunities.

It gives assistance with travel plans, outlines trips, makes arrangements for connections in other parts of the country, meets travelers at change points enroute or at destination.

room, showers and lounge at the Central office.

Mrs. Medler was pleased to be able to place a Negro employee in the Travelers Aid office which is designed to be of service to all human beings.

She said that if Negroes are available who can do the work, opportunities should be given to them.

The work of Miss Stewart deals with cases of travelers in temporary financial difficulty, those who are confused or ill, young people with personal problems, newcomers needing guidance in adjusting to a new community, sending telegrams and contacting relatives of travelers.

Miss Stewart, who was reared in Keokuk, Ia., has resided here 25 years. She is the daughter of Mrs. Laura Stewart of 847 15th street.

ST. PAUL A.M.E. CHURCH NOTES
At the evening service hour the combined chorus composed of members of St. Paul, Burns, Maple Street and Bethel choirs under the direction of chorister, Mrs. Joburness Kelso, repeated the religious pageant, "Heavenbound" to another packed audience, which gave a collection of near a hundred dollars, all of which was turned over to the Trustees of Bethel church to assist in their remodeling program.

On Sunday afternoon the joint committee from St. Paul and Bethel churches, held another meeting at St. Paul in which a checkup by the home finding committee showed that nearly seventy prospective visitors have already reported as coming from the Ontario, Michigan, Indiana and Chicago conferences to attend the Laymen's Convention to be held at St. Paul's July 11th to 13th.
R. S. Sims, church clerk, was absent.

CROCHET SERVES CONSERVATION

THE inexpensive ball of crocheted thread is stepping into the breach left by the appropriation of materials and machinery for war purposes. American women are learning that conservation begins at home. Only six balls of pearl cotton are required to crochet this convenient carry-all bag, in which you can comfortably carry your purchases to help conserve tires, rubber and gas. The glass protectors which can also be crocheted easily and inexpensively will protect your polished table tops from spillage. Directions for crocheting these useful articles may be obtained by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Department of this paper, specifying design No. 909B.

DR. ADAM POWELL, JR.

New York — Dr. Adam Powell, Jr., a newly elected member of the House of Representatives and as head of the largest Negro church in New York City—the Abyssinian Baptist church—is one of the most influential Negro leaders in this country.

In his book, he recounts dramatic instances of economic discriminations practiced against Negroes. Shunning the pussy-footing appeasement approach, Dr. Powell outlines a realistic program that, if followed, will result in a gain for the Negro and for the nation at large.

Marching Blacks was published January 26 by the Dial Press.

Interracial Group Discusses Negro Housing in D. M.

John Connolly, Jr., prominent Union Labor attorney, was guest speaker at the monthly dinner meeting of the Des Moines Interracial Commission at the North-high cafeteria last Tuesday evening taking for his subject the "Housing Situation Among Des Moines Negroes."

He advocated support for the bill now pending in Congress under which the U. S. Government would bear half the expense of the clearing away of unsanitary, poorly equipped houses and the building of new modern ones to be sold at prices that those in the lower income brackets could afford to buy.

Three new members in the persons of Miss Betty Wells, KRNT radio announcer, Robert Linberg, General Secretary of the Des Moines Y.M.C.A., and Mrs. Mary Ritchie, chairman of the Blue Triangle, Y.W.C.A. board were elected to membership at this meeting.

Dr. Alvin Cannon, Negro Unitarian minister who has recently taken up residence in the city, made some helpful suggestions with regard to the revision of the material that the publicity committee had collected during the past year and a half for publication in a booklet giving information concerning the past and present history of the Negroes of Des Moines.

Upon the vote of the Commission, the material will be revised to conform to Dr. Cannon's suggestions, which may delay the appearance of the publication.

Miss Lucie Owens, a social service worker from New York City, who is visiting with Mrs. Clara Webb Bales, Mr. Kenneth E. Brown, a former Des Moines young man now a student in John C. Smith university in Charlotte, N. C., and Prof. W. H. Merrill, former Superintendent of Des Moines Public Schools were among the visitors introduced.

The Ministers Wives Alliance met April 3 at the home of Mrs. Daisy Johnson. Mrs. H. R. M. Hardiman gave each member a yearbook with record of all the meetings. Mrs. J. J. Hawkins gave a rievew on Easter, "He Is Risen." Luncheon was served by Mrs. Johnson. Remarks were made by Rev. Mr. Hardiman. The next meeting will be May 1 with the Rev. Mr. Hardiman as host, serving in honor of his birthday at 811 Crocker street.

E. S. B. — I am a woman, very fair to the child's father to marry while he is away but yet I need money to bear my expenses. Tell me what to do.

Ans.: The boy in service offered you marriage before the child came but you refused so often that he finally took it for granted that you did not want the security he could give you. He is the father of your child and deserves some consideration. Write him that you want marriage now and try to find out his present views on the subject. If he is still willing, then you would certainly want to wait and give him a chance for the child's sake as well as your own. If not, then you may as well feel free to seek your happiness with someone else.

Ans.: It's folly to sit idly by and let him have all the fun. Why not turn the tables and give him a little stiff competition and see his reaction. The chances are, he'll see red, but it will force a decision. Choose some attractive single man and be seen frequently with him. If he cares at all for you, your going with another man won't be so pleasant for him. If you manage to get him back again, take him back under the condition that he discontinue his friendship with married women.

M. L. S.—I am a girl of 19 and would like for you to give me some advice. I have a child the age of two. His father is in service, he always asked me to marry him until the baby was born and now he never speaks of it. I have met several nice friends since he has been away and one in particular I care for. But I worry as I don't think it would be

GUARDING THE BALLOT

Japan held its first election this week since the cessation of hostilities. Dispatches printed in the newspapers tell us that United States soldiers are guarding the polling places to insure each citizen a free opportunity to support the candidate and measure of his choice.

If it was necessary to guard the polls to see that elections are conducted in an orderly manner in territory we occupy in Japan, that is all right for the privilege to cast a free ballot should be guaranteed to everybody.

As usual, however, America is trying to guarantee something for people outside of the United States which it fails to do at home. Last week, the Governor of Arkansas announced, in spite of the ruling of the United States Supreme Court that it was illegal to bar Negroes from voting in the Democratic primaries, and the statement of the Department of Justice that anyone guilty of obstructing free voting at the polls would be punished, Negroes would be barred from

DEMAGOGS JUST WON'T QUIT

Former Governor Talmadge of Georgia, has announced that he will seek the office again. Governor Ellis Arnell, the most able and progressive chief executive that state has had for many years, is prevented from running for a consecutive term by a provision of the Constitution of Georgia.

As has been the case heretofore, Talmadge is running on his proverbial program of "white supremacy" and the exclusion of Negroes from the Democratic primaries. In fact, he is the type of southern demagog which has waived the red flag of racial hatred, intimidated those people who wish to be fair and elected himself by the vote of the ignorant.

Gov. Arnell states that he proposes to back a candidate who will carry on the liberal program he has commenced. We hope his candidate succeeds. He ought to succeed for the South cannot go on electing such men as Talmadge, Bilbo and Rankin to office and at the same time convince the people of the country generally that they don't approve of their vicious rotten program. That feeling against southerners has prevented many of their leading public officials from reaching the top.

The citizens of Georgia should see that Talmadge does not become their first citizen again.

WHY BE FOOLED ABOUT HOUSING?

Last Monday evening Rev. Msgr. John O'Grady of Washington, D. C., secretary of the National Conference of Catholic Churches and long an advocate of reform measures spoke at the Des Moines City Library on "The Housing Crises."

The Bystander has been critical of most of the authorities we have heard speak on the housing question because, as a rule, they have not been willing to face the issue. They have told us how a fellow could get a $6,000 house but the explanation generally stopped there. This speaker faced the inevitable by saying that the purchaser of these overpriced houses may find himself with a $4,000 house while he is paying service charges on a $6,000 house.

Another bad feature about the situation is that when conditions settle back to normal, he will not be able to keep the payments up on these expensive properties.

Unquestionable, the whole trouble lies in the high cost of construction.

The third battle of the "City Series" between Bill Heath and Cockayne is over, and Del was returned the winner. A lot of the faithful are saying that there doesn't need to be a fourth scrap, and then still more were saying that really, all Cockayne had to do was answer the bell for the end of the last round to be the winner, Morton Graves, who has had a few fights in his day, and fought both boys, said that in his opinion, the worst Bill should have got was a draw. He said that he thought Bill probably lost a chance for a knock-out slip by when he took time out to apologize for an unintentional foul. Del had been knocked groggy, and, according to Morton, was just about ready for the kill, but the pause was just long enough to give him time to regain his balance and senses. But nobody could say that it was a bad fight, and we would have liked to have been able to return Bill as the winner.

Roland Taylor had another one of his comedy fights with Ted Morrison, this time being the winner. It was similar to the last one for comedy. In the previous battle, according to ring-siders, Roland's second was caught with his fighter's mouthpiece in his hip pocket. At the bell, the second searched frantically for the said mouthpiece, and then when he did find it, Roland was too busy dodging punches to get the thing in his mouth.

And since we face a problem which must be met NOW, a lot of us, including the Bystander, go along backing the subsidy program as an emergency measure hoping that as time moves on, the situation may level out, and each tub can stand on its own bottom.

FOR GOVERNOR GEORGE OLMSTED

(By J. G. BROWNE)

Seldom do we have an outstanding citizen of the calibre of Brigadier General George Olmsted in a field of political candidates; by the earnest solicitation of his many friends he has consented to seek the Republican nomination for Governor of this state.

His build-up for this high office has not been of the press agent variety, but has been merited by hard earnest toil; everything he sets out to do he applies the best that there is in him toward its accomplishment. Able and efficient, coupled with a pleasing personality he wins the esteem and confidence of all with whom he comes in contact. Many institutions and individuals have been assisted by him with no desire or expectation of reward from the depths of a kindly heart.

He is an organizer, builder, and administrator—a triumvirate within himself; he adds something different from the ordinary humdrum of political campaigns and his entry is a wholesome and stimulating event in the political history of the Republican party in Iowa. He did not seek the office; his friends sought him because of his useful, unselfish life in the community. They now want to utilize his forceful personality for the good of the state and the nation.

In the space of four years he has become an international figure, decorated by Great Britain, China, and America for meritorious service, and promoted from Major to General by the government he served so well.

He is a loyal friend of the oppressed; he organized and helped finance the Negro Patriotic Jubilee for the sole purpose of creating a better understanding between the races. We can and do gladly recommend George Olmsted to the Negro voters of this state and do solicit your support for him. It will be one of the surest votes you ever cast toward your own advancement. He is honest and he keeps his word; if you want to receive the ideology of Abraham Lincoln in the Republican party vote for George Olmsted.

If the people of Iowa want a business-like and efficient state administration it is their duty to select a business-like and efficient administrator. If they want lasting peace throughout the world it is up to them here in Iowa to make a mighty contribution toward that end, by putting a man at the head of their government who has a very comprehensive idea as to how such a goal can be reached. Any man capable of training unarmed soldiers to liberate thousands of prisoners in the state of war and not lose a single life has certainly got some good ideas about maintaining the peace. He certainly has got something on the ball. The most propitious entry Iowa can make in beginning her second century of statehood is to have an honest man of convictions, and the courage of those convictions, in the state house.—J. G. Browne, 1419 Maryland Ave., Des Moines, Iowa league. This marks the first time that a Negro club has been able to snare one of these titles, let alone two of them. They had a fine club, and everybody who saw them play said that they were real sports in their conduct, setting a fine example for future clubs to follow.

Al Spriggs deserves a big milt for a swell job of coaching with his Panther's club ball club. At the first of the season, they looked like anything but a basketball team, but Al worked with them until at the end of the Crocker league season they were the second best club in the league and coming along fast. Then he put them into a couple of meets, the South Side meet, and the Jewish Community Center affair. The boys were beaten in the South Side meet by what was really the Roosevelt High reserve club, and were stopped in the finals of the Jewish Community Center meet by the Dowling High reserve team. Along with basketball, Spriggs taught the boys the essentials of sportsmanship, and therein was the real job for which the credit should go.

2 and 3rd at Cedar Rapids. He reports that he was shown a grand time, and really got a lot out of the meetings. The Y.M.C.A.'s really meant it when they agreed to emphasize the C in the name.

Negro Health Week was a success. Speakers were here Tuesday and Sunday with capacity crowds. Thursday, Leon Smith illustrated a lecture on sex hygiene, and 82 boys were in the basement, and about fifteen more were late getting in. We also had to contend with a large group of girls who wanted to see what they called a show. We had to promise them a later showing of the lecture in order to get rid of them.

Sixty-five boys yelled their heads off as Joe Louis conked Arturo Gooey in our movie show last Saturday. They were enthusiastic rooters for a couple of native boys who lost a race to some crochilles in a short entitled crocodile trials, depicting the hunting of the beasts by natives.

Capt. Mease Has Been Heading Court-Martial Board Which Has Been Convening in Japan

"Arriving here in September, I am now winding up my sixth month in Japan and feel that I have just about done my bit in placing these islands under occupational control," wrote Captain Quentin R. Mease on March 28 to Atty. S. Joe Brown.

"It has been a very hectic half year though, getting these bases established under innumerable difficulties. But the job is almost finished and we shall soon be able to turn it over to the Regular Army volunteers that should soon be arriving here from the States. They will reap the benefits of our hard work but we shan't envy their sojourn over here for the next several years.

"In spite of the ravages of modern war, Japan is still a mysteriously beautiful place and one may profit immensely by exploring the many unusual, and often difficult to reach, spots throughout the four home islands. I have already had the opportunity of traversing the islands of Honshu, Shikoku, Kyushu and Hokkaido, and also down into Korea.

Hopes to Return Via China-Russia "I have been angling for a trip home via China, Russia, Europe, the Atlantic, and finally—New York and Iowa. I am somewhat dubious about this at the moment due to the existing tension in Manchuria and other points through which I would travel.

The cards on World Service have already gone out. If you get one, please return it, even if you don't plan to contribute anything. Bill Ashby is chairman of the Crocker Street Branch, and the goal is $125. There is still a small possibility of this breaking in my favor, and while it would delay my arrival home, I am sure you will agree that it would be more than worthwhile.

"We arrived in Kue In September and immediately began operations there, preliminary to setting up bases in the Hiroshima Prefecture. That job was completed late in January and the bases were turned over to British Commonwealth troops and we moved on to Kobe on the first of February. From Kobe Base, we are conducting operations here at Osaka, Japan's second largest city, Kyoto, and Fukuoka, down on the Southwest tip of Kyushu. In addition to this, we also have men stationed at Fifth Air Force Headquarters near Tokyo. My little part in this picture is to direct these operations from Kobe and to coordinate them so that the present strength of well over a hundred thousand troops in central and southern Japan is adequately maintained. With the loss of all of the men that formed the original composition of the organization that came overseas in 1943, and with only two officers remaining, I have been busy training new men and officers to carry on.

"I had been prevailed upon to remain in Japan until this had been done and am now awaiting the arrival of some more officers from the States before embarking on the return jaunt. I can't be specific as to the date but it shouldn't be too long in eventualizing.
