ON HOSPITAL STAFF

DR. L. A. WHITFIELD
Dr. Lawrence A. Whitfield, son of Rev. and Mrs. J. Q. Evans of this city, recently was appointed resident physician at the Cook County hospital in Chicago, Ill., for a period of two years. Appointed on the basis of commendable work as an interne at the hospital, Dr. Whitfield was the only Negro and one of the selected group of doctors chosen for residence staff. Interviewed this week at the home of his parents where he is on a vacation, Dr. Whitfield was pleased with the appointment and would say only that "it was difficult to get." Dr. Whitfield was graduated in August, 1945, from the School of Medicine of the University of Illinois. He formerly taught in the science department of the Florida A. & M. College in Tallahassee, Fla. In 1943 he was awarded a $4,500 Rosenwald Fellowship to complete his medicine which he had started at Chicago university, where he had received his Bachelor and Master of Science degrees.

Isaac Woodard to Speak Here Nov. 17

The program committee of the Des Moines Branch of the NAACP announces that it has secured the consent of the National Office to have Isaac Woodard, the Negro veteran who had his eyes beaten out by the Chief of Police of Batesburg, S. C., to stop over in Des Moines on his transcontinental tour on Sunday, Nov. 17.

He will appear at the Corinthian Baptist church for a monster mass meeting at 3 o'clock p.m. This will be his only stop in Iowa and the

GETS PROOF OF TREE PLANTED IN PALESTINE

Ike Smalls, president of the State Branches of the NAACP, is making a presentation here to the retired Methodist minister, the Rev. W. H. Wheeler, at one of the recent religious services held at the Burns Methodist church. Mr. Smalls is presenting the Rev. Mr. Wheeler with a certificate which informed that a tree had been planted in Palestine, honoring the eightieth birthday of the minister. The Rev. Mr. Wheeler was notified of the tree, a gift from Mr. Smalls in September when the Burns church official board and the Rev. H. R. M. Hardiman honored the birthday of the retired minister at an anniversary party.

Young Barber from D.M. to Operate University Shop

IOWA CITY, Ia.—Two University of Iowa students, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Smith, Jr., Friday announced plans to start a barber shop open to all, "regardless of race or color."

The university had announced last week that a two-chair shop would be open soon for all university students, to help ease the situation here on Negro students' haircuts.

"We're not operating our shop under this policy with the idea of arousing public sentiment," Mrs. Smith explained. "It is easier for students interested in liberal views to take the initiative at times like these."

The shop will comply with union price and hour regulations, Mrs. Smith said, and Adam B. Johnson, a union barber from Des Moines and a former university student will be the operator.

An appointment system will be used so that students with heavy class schedules will not have to wait in line for shaves or haircuts, she said.

The Social Action committee, organized to fight racial discrimination, still plans to go ahead with test cases in Iowa City barber shops, and will take legal action if service is refused to Negroes.

Lewis W. Gleekman, secretary of the Social Action Committee in Iowa City, stated his committee had received the support, in its contemplated legal action against the barbers, of the Iowa Conference of Branches of the NAACP, instead of the Des Moines branch of the NAACP.

meeting will be open to the public with no charge for admission.

The main purpose of this trip is to raise funds enough to make this blinded veteran and his family financially independent for the rest of his life and also to aid in the National Defense Fund out of which the National Board is financing its fight in the defense of the victims of mob murders all over the Southland.

Des Moines is expected to raise not less than one thousand dollars in this effort which will be sponsored by every organization or individual contributing $5.00 or more.

If you desire to be listed among them send your contribution to Mrs. Wm. Neal, secretary Des Moines Branch, 1064 West 11th Street, Des Moines, Iowa.

Communist Press Plays Up Soldiers' Deeds to Help Rid Italy of Occupation Forces

ROME, (NNPA)—While Secretary of State James F. Byrnes and Minister of Foreign Affairs Pietro Nenni are exchanging expressions of friendship between the United States and Italy, the Italian Communist press is waging a campaign of propaganda directed chiefly against colored American soldiers in the occupation forces.

The focal point of the propaganda is the relations between Italian girls and colored American soldiers, although its purpose apparently is to rid Italy of the forces of occupation.

A series of ten articles have appeared in the Communist newspaper L'Unita attacking Anglo-American occupation activities in Italy. The Rome Daily American, only English language newspaper printed in Italy, reports considerable dissatisfaction with the series in Italian Communist circles, especially because of the attacks upon colored American troops verged on outright racism.

One article, under the heading: "What the Allied Occupation Costs Us," described the experiences of an Italian girl, "Anna Maria of the Highway Gang," with colored American soldiers. The article said:

"Sure, we are going in company with the Negroes, the colored are better than white men. Two girls stopped us on the Tombolo road, asking us to carry them in the machine to Leghorn. They are young girls, rather fat, about twenty years old, of the peasant type, with modest dresses, disheveled hair and without rouge. They might be working women on their return from work.

"They look tired, distracted, but it is not difficult to make them talk. Anna Maria gives me at once a photograph, but I must promise her that I will publish it in the paper."

Papers Spoke Out
"The papers have already spoken about me. Didn't you ever hear of the Highway Gang?"

"She tells places, names, dates as in a police proceeding. She was born in Reggio Emilia; her name is Lanini Anna Maria. It is one year since she escaped from home with an American soldier, whom she lost sight of later. The greatest adventure in her life happened to her one night along the road to Lucca. She stopped a machine to obtain free transportation. She was given a place to board where she found four men."

"When the machine started one of them said: 'You'll see that we are going to make a film now. They drew out revolvers and stopped another machine. Two gentlemen traveling there were bound fast and carried toward the mountains. She was told, 'You have done nothing,' when a few days later she was arrested for having taken part in the killing of Ing. Curio and Geometer Segni. She was kept in prison for a few days and later sent to a house of Correction for the under aged from which some time later she escaped."

"Now she is in Tombolo. She says she is not afraid of the Italian police. How could they find her? She asserts that she has the 'cards' of the M.P., but she does not know or is not willing to explain what these 'cards' are."

War Department Unable to Decide Required 'Score' For Colored Enlistments

WASHINGTON, D. C., (NNPA)—The War Department apparently is unable to make up its collective mind on the defense it wishes to present Army policy requiring colored recruits to make a score of ninety-nine on the Army General Classification test as a prerequisite to enlistment in the Regular Army against a required score of seventy for white recruits.

(In actual practice, colored recruits are now required to make thirty-nine on the "R-2" test which is given at recruiting stations, while white applicants for enlistment are required to make a minimum score of fifteen. This score of thirty-nine on the "R-2" test, consisting of fifty questions, is equivalent to a score of 103 on the AGCT.)

After the Public Relations Division of the War Department had made public a letter defending the differential, it developed last Friday that Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson had not signed the letter and it had not been sent to Jesse O. Dedmon, veterans secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

This slip emphasizes the futility of letter-writing as a means of effecting corrective action. Mr. Dedmon wrote Secretary Patterson on October 4. Following the usual practice in government bureaus, Mr. Dedmon's letter was referred to the offices concerned with the matter—the office of the civilian aide to the Secretary of War and the personnel division of the War Department General Staff.

Between these two offices a reply was drafted for the secretary's signature, and somebody bade the mistake of saying that Mr. Patterson had approved the draft and signed the original, and the letter had been sent to Mr. Dedmon. Its release for publication was approved by the proper officials, and copies given to the Associated Press, the New York newspaper PM, and the NNPA News Service. Then the error was discovered.

A casual reading of the letter explains the chagrin of the Brass Hats when they discovered that Mr. Patterson had not signed it.

AUTHORIZE CONSTRUCTION OF 13 NEW VETERAN HOSPITALS

WASHINGTON, D. C., (NNPA)—President Truman and the Federal Board of Hospitalization have authorized the construction of thirteen new Veterans Administration hospitals in eleven states involving a total of 10,400 beds of which under present VA policies, 9,200 will be available to colored veterans on an integrated basis.

Eleven of the new hospitals are to be located in states which do not segregate colored veterans. Two, to be located at Memphis, Tennessee and Marlin, Texas, will admit colored veterans, but will place them on segregated wards if the VA policy of "following the pattern of the community" is followed.

The President and the hospitalization board also approved the construction of a 250-bed addition to the present 259-bed general medical and surgical hospital at Albuquerque, New Mexico, for the treatment of veterans suffering from tuberculosis. Albuquerque formerly did not admit colored veterans but last November was issued orders to do so by Major General Paul R. Hawley, VA medical director. VA officials here, however, said they did not know whether this order has been followed.

DEMOCRACY IN JOBS IN DES MOINES

WILLIAM H. ESTES
Operating the hat cleaning and blocking shop for the Des Moines Shoe Repair shop at 302 Locust street is William H. Estes, 1319 Park street, employed by Frank Campana who has been in business here for 27 years.

A World War II veteran, he is securing on-the-job training, one of the advantages of the G. I. Bill of Rights.

Although Mr. Estes is getting this training—the work of a hat and shoe shop is not new to him. In his eighteen years in Des Moines he has done mainly this kind of work—and he likes it too, he said. At another shoe and hat shop—where he was employed before going in the military services in 1943, he not only worked on hats but did shoe-repairing.

Specializing now and learning all he can about the patterns and changing styles of the hat-blocking business, he keeps busy at the Des Moines shop.

Men seem to be more particular about the cleaning of their hats than are the women customers, although working on women's hats is less work, Mr. Estes revealed. A man customer, who comes for a hat, will inspect it inside and out and even smell it more so than he will worry about whether the hat has a diamond, middle crease, porkie or triangle blocking, Mr. Estes said.

The fast-changing styles of women's hats keeps Mr. Estes studying at women's hat fashions. He takes millinery and hat designing courses by correspondence from some national school and studies at nights.

His G. I. on-the-job training will continue two years. Then he wants to make his work a business career.

Getting employment with the Des Moines shop was not difficult. Mr. Estes had known the employer for many years and had former offers from Mr. Campana to work for him.

After returning from the European Theater of Operations where he had been with the army for 20 months, ending nearly three years of military services, Mr. Estes began to shop around for G. I. advantages.

When the Des Moines Shoe Repair shop was approved by the Veterans Administration for on-the-job training, he began his work two months ago.

The hiring of Negro employees is not a new policy with Mr. Campana who came to this city 30 years ago from Italy. His former Negro employee, Tom Royston who worked in the hat and shoe departments, was with him 18 years. Another Negro, Jimmy Buchanan had operated a tailor shop for him back in 1928 to 1930. The shop has many Negro hat and shoe customers.

Mr. Estes resides at home with his wife, Blanch.

PERSONAL TOUCH

By MARIE ROSS

A problem in peasant arithmetic was raised this week by some of the hunters who went early Monday morning some 160 miles to shoot the prized birds.

Back home early Tuesday morning with two beautiful birds was Mr. George Franklin of 927 Twelfth street who threw out this problem in peasant mathematics.

"What would you do if two of your hunting party shot two birds each and the others of the party got no pheasant? You wouldn't come out even if you shared one of your birds, and . . . hunting was tough . . . and the corn was thick and high . . . bad picking," he lamented. While he considered the answer—one pheasant hovered about the freezing temperatures and the other was on kitchen exhibit.

Later that day in the office was H. N. Wilcoits. He was asked about his pheasant hunting results. With a sad look he revealed that he did not get a bird. He was one of the men in the party with Mr. Franklin. Others who made up the party that went north of Emmetsburg were: Roy Walker, Roy Kemp, T. M. Carl and Frank Bailey.

VOTE TUESDAY

Tuesday, the nation goes to the polls to elect public servants to run the government from congress down to township officials. In most states, everybody votes who has enough interest in public affairs to register—where registration is necessary in order to vote—and go to the polls to cast his ballot.

As we scan the table showing the vote cast during the past and those eligible to vote, it is quite evident that a large share of our citizens are not exercising that precious privilege of voting.

This careless exercise of citizenship tends to weaken a people for it is then that undesirables are able with a few well placed votes to control affairs.

There are those in this country who are still fighting with force and legal skill in order that they may be able to vote; some even stand in fear of losing their lives and yet these men and women press on for they know that without the ballot a people is helpless to name the officials who pass and execute the laws; collect and spend their tax dollar.

Public officials have incurred a lot of ill feeling much of which comes from people who don't go to the polls and register their choice. But this criticism does no good unless translated into positive action.

Let every citizen go to the polls Tuesday and cast his ballot and thus have a real part in running his government.

REPUBLICANS SHOULD WIN

When Mr. and Mrs. America cast their ballot Tuesday, they will be helping to decide whether we shall continue to have a confused vacillating, stupid policy in this country for the next six years or whether Congress is to be controlled by a Republican majority in 1947 with an impetus to the election of a Republican president in 1948. This we should have in mind as we cast our ballot.

There are those people—and there are many of them—who think that their vote in one state has no bearing on what happens in another state. They never were so wrong. The makeup of our political structure begins in the precinct down where the votes are cast. A strong republican precinct helps to make a strong republican county; a strong republican county a strong republican district; a strong district helps make a strong state; a strong republican state elects strong republican majorities in congress. On the other hand, reverse this process and we have every important part of our government in control of the Bourbons in America.

Here in Iowa, our state officials have given the people a good administration. The state government has been operated fair and above board otherwise the Democrats would have made political capital of it. Negroes have been given more consideration than ever before; they will do more as better support is given Republican candidates and Negroes themselves continue to conduct their politics in a fair and honest manner.

America is terribly confused today all because a national administration seems to be sailing the sea without a rudder, because it does not have the ability to plan what is best for the nation and work out the objective; because it is made up of a conglomeration of isms, thus preventing any cohesive action.

It is evident on all sides that the people are sick of what the Democrats have to offer. They can begin to change that situation by voting a Republican ticket November 5.

Every day seems to bring a new crisis none of which has been solved other than with the idea of picking up a few votes at the expense of the American people.

Change in Rate of Subscription

Last week, the Bystander announced an increase in subscription rates beginning December 1. This step is not to our liking even though all papers in about the same as our category have charged even more for their paper for a long time.

The management and staff strive at all time to give their readers a well printed, newsy product. And to a degree, the effort has been successful. However, that record cannot be kept up unless the income is sufficient to carry the financial load. Thus by a small increase in rates, the added cost is spread over the income from every paper rather than upon the management alone.

The Bystander is confident that the people will understand our position. Of course, people just don't take price increases without making objection, but in view of the fact that our increase is still well within the price of our competitors and our product worth the price, the readers will accept it in the light of the cost of other things they buy.

WAR DEPARTMENT AND NEGRO RECRUITS (SEE FRONT PAGE)

Person had not approved the letter. The draft seeks to justify the admission into the Army of colored men on a quota basis, instead of on their qualifications and aptitude for military training.

It also seeks to justify the differential in the scores required of white and colored applicants on the AGCT test on the ground that it will raise the standard of colored personnel in the Army to that of the colored civilian population.

It asserts that the quota-basis of acceptance of colored men by the Army should not be considered discriminatory.

Speaks for Liberia's Trusteeship Council

By LUCILE SELZ

For the NNPA News Service NEW YORK, (NNPA) — Liberia should be a member of the Trusteeship Council was the opinion of the Honorable C. Abayomi Cassell, Chairman of the Liberian Delegation to the United Nations General Assembly.

While interviewed at Flushing Meadows, Mr. Cassell expressed interest in the welfare of all dependent peoples, and the self-determination of people all over the world. He evaded an opinion on the integration of Southwest Africa with the Union of South Africa, which is likely to be placed on the Assembly agenda by Field Marshall Jan Christian Smuts, Prime Minister and chairman of the South African delegation.

Turning to the question of the veto, Mr. Cassell said that "the big power veto should not defeat the objectives of the United Nations Charter." He added that the "fundamental principles of the Charter are good if the countries can live up to them, and Liberia looks particularly to the United States to support them."

Aware of the grave consequences of the atomic bomb, the delegate firmly stated the opinion of his President, William V. S. Tubman, that it should be outlawed. Cassell went on to say he believed there will be no war as soon as a way to obviate territory and boundary disputes is found.

Stressing the importance of giving greater publicity to Liberia, Mr. Cassell called for a more enlightened Negro and American press in regard to his country. His reason for this being that Liberia had difficult experiences in maintaining her autonomy, because she was attacked both from within and without.

SPORTS

By ALLEN ASHBY

Just about every sportswriter we read is wondering why Illinois' Buddy Young doesn't get away any oftener than he has this season. It seems that about all teams have to do in order to make headlines is hold Buddy.

There are more than a few reasons for the flash of 1944 to that year. True enough, the players are more mature and better but at Fleet City, Young wasn't exactly running against tackling dummies. The big thing as we see it, and it maybe brought out in a feature news story just any day now, is the line play of the Illini.

The chief requisite for stopping Young is to have a line good enough to let your team play a five-three, two-one defense, with your linebackers sliding out to the side of the offensive shift, keeping on back just a little to check on reverses. Just about every team the Illini have beat this year has done that, because their line in nearly every case, even at Michigan was good enough to handle a five-man defense. Against teams unable to maintain a good five-man line or a wide-spread defense, as in the case of Pittsburg, Young has galloped. This is because the opposing line couldn't handle the inside tackle thrusts of Patterson, Rykovic and Weiss without closing up and letting the ends invite disaster.

It is our guess that unless Iowa lets Young get his hands on a kick-off or a punt that he will have a rough afternoon against them. Then Young's teammates haven't been giving him all the blocking he needs. A lot of times, a back such as Young finds his blockers watching him instead of mowing down the enemy. When he might ask one of they why he failed to cut down a man, the guy would likely reply in all sincerity, "I thought you'd get away from him somehow, and I wanted to see how you did it." Of course, we shall be there to see just how wrong we are, for this is the big game of the year on our schedule.

IOWA HOMECOMING

IOWA CITY—The 35th homecoming at the University of Iowa probably will be one of the largest on record, as Iowa plays Illinois before a crowd which will exceed 50,000. Festivities will open Friday evening Nov. 1, with the pep meeting and receptions at the Triangle and University clubs, as well as the homecoming party.

Numerous events are scheduled for Saturday morning and the open house at Iowa Union will be a Saturday evening feature. The kick-off of the Illinois game is set for 2 p.m. in the stadium. The homecoming committee, headed by Prof. Louis Zopf, has promised a good old-fashioned homecoming of the pre-war variety.

'Too Good To Keep For The State of Missouri

"Well something took place last Saturday night in this city that has never happened before. The bars of discrimination fell down, when seven of Hannibal's leading citizens walked into the lobby of the Mark Twain (white) hotel to participate in a banquet sponsored by the Ministry of the Gileons of the State of Missouri," wrote Rev.

This group of citizens comprised auxiliary No. 200 at Hotel Chieftain in Council Bluffs recently. Mrs. Hunter appeared on the program.

Representatives of Post No. 40 were Comm. Maurice Caulder, Marion Barker and Marion Diggs have returned from the fifth district. The national AMVET convention will be held in St. Louis. Post No. 40 has as its auxiliary, Unit No. 200, with Mrs. Mary Martin as unit president, state and county chaplain.

of the colored Ministers and their wives and mothers, the group was led by the Rev. G. E. Sanders pastor of the Helping Hand Baptist church, he being the only colored pastor who had signed up, for a guest speaker for Sunday at the eleven a.m. services. He was supplied with seven tickets.

"After contacting the hotel, the manager put him in touch with Mr. Stantely of St. Louis, Mo. the state president of the Gileons, who assured Rev. G. E. Sanders that "we would be made welcome". So promptly at 6:15 we filed in, we truly received a cordial welcome. We visited with our white colleagues until 6:30 at which time the banquet was scheduled. Promptly at that time the dining room doors swung open to all alike. We sat in the center of the spacious dining room five at one table, and two of us at the other, so that we could be mixed with our white brethren and sisters. To the exception of one, no discrimination was shown. Therefore the manager let her find herself a seat as best she could.

"Our appearance was grand and a delightful evening enjoyed by all. At the eleven o'clock services we had two guest speakers from the ministry of the Gileons at the close of this service. We lifted an offering to the amount of seven dollars and ten cents for which we will receive in return from the Ministry of the Gileons twenty-one New Testaments for our school.

"Well so much for that; but it is too good to keep for the State of Missouri and the city of Hannibal, so I thought I would like to let it be known in the State of Iowa. Now the persons comprising the group were: Rev. and Mrs. G. E. Sanders, Rev. and Mrs. M. M. Matthews, Rev. R. R. Walton and mother, Mrs. Lucy Walton of Maywood, Ill., Rev. E. W. Rogers.
