Bomb Residences In Southwest Atlanta

Windows Broken in Homes; Explosions Have Occurred During Past Nine Months

ATLANTA, Ga.—(NNPA)—Two white men last Friday planted a bomb between 333 and 339 Ashby Street in southwest Atlanta, the explosion of which blew out twenty-four windows in surrounding residences and caused minor damage to the front porch of one of the houses.

A woman resident of one of the houses said a few minutes before the explosion she saw two white men plant the bomb after she had been attracted by the barking of a dog.

She said she saw the men run in back of the houses and lose themselves in the tall grass.

Police who investigated the explosion shortly afterwards are reported to have gone back of the houses to the location where the men lost themselves but could find no trace of them.

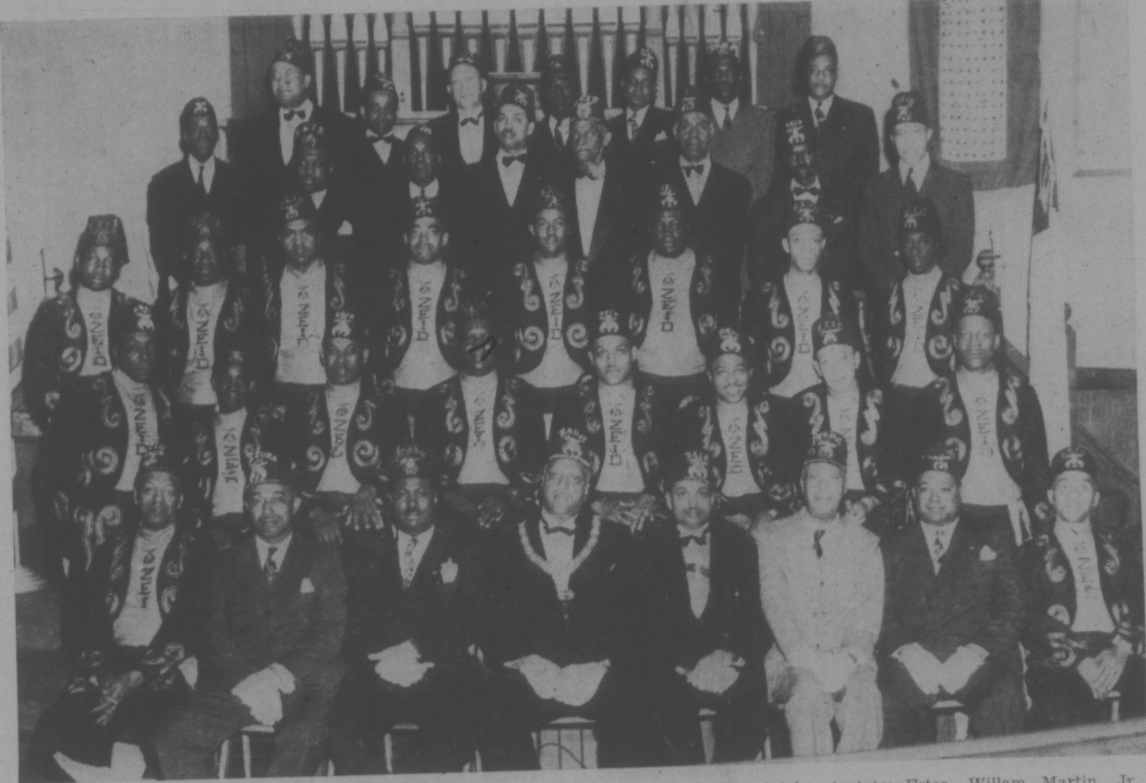

Immediately after the police left, the two men were seen to emerge from their hideout and are reported to have fired a volley of shots. An inhabitant of one of the dwellings saw the two men running and returned their fire. It is believed that none of the shots took effect.

Saturday morning detectives examined the spot where the men were said to have hidden and found that the grass showed evidence that someone had either trampled it or lain upon it.

Inhabitants of both houses remarked that the explosion was the loudest of the series that has harassed the neighborhood during the past nine months.

The inhabitants of 339 Ashby said they had never received any threats nor were they ever bombed before; however the other dwelling 333 Ashby, was bombed previously on October 31 when dynamite was thrown on its porch and caused considerable damage to the porch and windows. No personal injuries were received in either of the bombings.

Largest Mass Meeting in Nation's History Planned By NAACP in Washington

Washington, D. C.—NAACP officials in Washington, New York and key cities throughout the Nation, were moving ahead rapidly with plans for the staging of what promises to be the largest single mass meeting in the Nation's history.

Focal point of the gigantic meeting will be the June 29 closing session of the NAACP annual convention at the Lincoln Memorial in Washington, D. C., where 100,000 spectators are expected to assemble to hear President Harry S. Truman deliver a major declaration of government policy on racial tensions, which have developed to the point where they constitute a matter of grave concern to the chief executive.

Simultaneous with the Lincoln Memorial meeting, NAACP branches in practically every section of the United States will assemble in hundreds of meeting halls. These meetings, with an expected 4 to 5 hundred thousand persons attending, will be joined to form one gigantic mass meeting linked together by radio. All of the major networks will broadcast the President's speech and parts of the meeting.

Most Significant

Walter White, NAACP executive secretary, declared in New York today that the June 29 meeting will be the most significant in the Association's 38 years. With huge delegations of Negro and white leaders arriving in Washington for the meeting, the veteran association will be rededicated to the fight for full democracy for all people, irrespective of race, creed or color.

Mr. White referred, during a press interview, to the wave of indignation in America and in every section of the globe, with which the recent "green light decision" in America's first lynching trial had been received. "The verdict of the South Carolina (SEE EDITORIAL PAGE)

Son Born to Joe And Marva Louis In Mexico City

SAN DIEGO, Calif.—(NNPA)—Joe Louis, heavyweight champion of the world, confirmed reports that his wife, Mrs. Marva Trotter Barrow, had given birth to a son last May 28.

The son was born in Mexico City where Mrs. Barrow has been living ever since Louis began his tour of Latin America. Joe joined her there when he went to Mexico City to train for his exhibition bout with Arturo Godoy, the Chilean fighter, in the Mexican capital.

Louis said his son has been named Joe Louis, Jr., and that she hopes the boy will some day succeed him as the heavyweight boxing champion.

Playing golf here, Louis disclosed that he and Marva had remarried a year ago. They were divorced in 1945 and have another child, Jacqueline, aged four years.

Louis was located on the San Diego municipal golf course after efforts to reach him in Los Angeles and elsewhere had failed. Shown a message from Mexico City reporting the birth of his son and that he plans to visit his wife and the newest addition to his family in Mexico as soon as possible, Louis confirmed the report but said instead of going to Mexico City he would meet Marva in Chicago. He said she would fly there as soon as she was able.

The heavyweight champ could not recall the name of the town where he and Marva had remarried but said it was a small place in Indiana, near Chicago. "Reports that he and Marva had remarried have been persistent for some time.

WILLA MAE TUNLEY Among the many kinds of employment to be had during the present day—much of it is done for big companies—in the homes of the employees. Looking for a position along the lines of her qualifications as a stenographer, clerk-typist, after her return from Dayton, Ohio, where she worked for the government twenty-one months at the Air Materiel Command, Miss Willa Mae Tunley, 1128 Tenth street, answered an advertisement in the daily paper for the position of typist. At the offices of the Look Magazine Subscription department at 110 Tenth street, Miss Tunley was interviewed along with white applicants, given a typing test for her speed and accuracy and was one of the few girls employed the day she applied for the job. Other girls turned down could not pass the typing test, she informed. The work at home, typing, keeps her busy, and one can live on the weekly pay, she said even though it is not up to the top salaries paid government jobs. Elk's Lodge Embraces Means for Improvement

"We invite you to join the Elks lodge because it is the most vibrant fraternal institution in the world," wrote J. G. Browne, deputy.

"It is cooperative in all of its branches. It offers fraternal fellowship. It furnishes the best equipped club houses, efficiently managed. It embraces all means for civic improvement. It fosters education; having expended more than three quarters of a million dollars in granting 150 scholarships and has graduated 80 persons from colleges, and universities."

"It provides economic security by commercial development. It promotes health program by lectures, moving pictures and practical nurse training units. It maintains a Civil Liberties commission which battles unceasingly for the constitutional rights of all American citizens before the Code commission at Washington, D. C., and all of our local members are protected by an old line insurance policy, payable to the beneficiary.

"We also specialize in athletics of all sorts. This is especially beneficial to our juvenile and junior Elk departments.

"The Elks not only have a good time among their own members but through its charity department it promotes joy and happiness to all with whom they come in contact. Christmas parties for children—and now they are distributing tickets for the Fourth of July display at Drake stadium."

The actress-singer, who is described by MGM officials as being "on a leave of absence" from the studio, cut short her engagement at Chez Paree, swank Chicago spot, by two weeks to come back to California to fight for her Beverly Hills home. Property owners in the district are said to be mobilizing forces to evict her and her white husband, a Russian-born former arranger for MGM studios.

Gift of 10,000 To College Fund

NEW YORK—Dignity and liberty and tolerance still remain largely unachieved goals for too many people all around the world," Eric Johnston, president of the Motion Picture Association, said in making a gift of $10,000 announced today, to the 1947 campaign of the United Negro College Fund on behalf of seven major studios.

"The very existence of this fund is a credit to our American democracy," he added, "but far more important as a commentary on that democracy is the measure of the fund's success." He urged "thoughtful people" to support the fund in its efforts to "improve the status of one important group of American citizens."

EGG BASKETS

Nature determines how many eggs a hen can lay, but the care and feed you give her determine to a large extent the number of eggs she will lay. Scanty feeding, or the use of poor rations may cost you dearly later on. For layers and pullets, from the 12th week on, feed Larro Egg Mash and grains from open hoppers and keep it before the birds for the rest of their lives.

That "grand old feeling of school days" gets right back into your system—as soon as you go back to the campus of your alma mater—is what Mr. Oval Carter of 3425 Grand avenue discovered last week when he and his wife went back to Lincoln University at Jefferson City, Mo., for the thirtieth reunion of their 1917 class.

They attended the commencement exercises, toured the campus with their daughter, Frances, who will be a senior next year, and made striking comparisons of student life today—and thirty years ago. Mr. Carter informed this week as he told of many pleasant experiences at the home-coming event last week.
Guest of Dr. Norville P. Barksdale of the Lincoln U. faculty, also a class mate of Mr. Carter, others who attended the homecoming were George W. Jackson of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Flossie Thomas, who had been visiting relatives here before attending the Lincoln U. homecoming with the Carters.

"It's a grand feeling," Mr. Carter said as he expressed a desire to "go back to school again."
Flowers are blooming all over Des Moines—bridal wreaths and late blacs are fading as the iris, sweet Williams, peonies, lotus bushes, and roses steal the beauty show of nature. Over on the east side of town, Mrs. Lucy Heard, 1449 Fremont street, was proud of her dark red peonies that she sat on her porch admiring them. She gave some of her most beautiful ones to a passer-by—and soon the flowers were downtown on one of the desks at the Bystander office. Neighbor Della White who was watching from her porch next door and straightening out her tiny little grandson for some of his misdeeds, smiled as she warned Mrs. Heard that "you'll certainly read about that."

T.O.B. CLUB ENTERTAINED
Mrs. Horace Brown and Mrs. J. C. Williams were hostesses to T.O.B. club breakfast on Memorial Day. Other guests were Mrs. Everett Newcomb and Mrs. Barbara Caldron, public health nurse here. Pictures of the group were taken on Mrs. Brown's lawn.

The dance alone will be well worth your efforts.
All entries must have their photos in the hands of the social chairman on or before June 21. Please address your mail to Mr. Bert Parker, 1327 School Street, Des Moines, Iowa. Phone 3-4403.
Now come on, bring your friends, and see how many nearly perfect girls we have in Iowa. It may mean a movie career for you.

NOTICE: ANY GIRL WHO IS THE WIFE OR GIRL FRIEND OF ANY MEMBER OF THE ROYAL DUKES CLUB IS NOT ELIGIBLE TO ENTER THIS CONTEST.

K. T.—I have been inspired by the way you answer other people's problems. I find it necessary to call on you with mine. I am 18, have two children, a girl 18 months and a boy 2 months. The boy's father has taken care of us for the past year he wants very much to marry me and be the father of these children. We love each other. Here is the drawback. He has a widowed mother to support and I don't want him to mistreat her for us. His mother is fond of us and thinks it will be all right. What should I do.
Ans: Marry the man. Your children need a father and you need a husband. It isn't necessary that you inconvenience his mother at all by joining him in marriage. You understand his position and should insist that he continue to provide for her. His mother realizes his love for you and knows he will never be happy without you. She is perfectly willing to share her home with you as her son's wife.

P. N. C.—I have been home six weeks and my wife acts strange. She received my allotment for three years and worked regular and lived well. I saved my money and brought it home with me. I want to build a nice house on part of my property but she says she isn't interested in a home or anything I have. Now I have made up my mind to build the home and move in regardless. She can come if she likes or stay as she is.
Ans: The new home will prove a good investment. Go right ahead with your plans. However, don't overlook the necessity of reaching a favorable understanding with your wife. The present state of indifference is poison to your marriage. Urge her to go away with you on a trip—a "second honeymoon"—and strive to kindle the flame of love in her heart all over again.

P. L.—I've been in this city a month visiting my in-laws. They are trying to coax me to open a place of business here. I have operated a very successful tea room business for years and sold out recently. I can see the possibilities in this new location. Advise me.
Ans: Choose a likely sight for your tea room and go back in business. You have reached the point where the life of leisure you are now living is growing monotonous and going back in business is the only thing that will satisfy your present state of restlessness. There's money to be made—you know how to make it, too.

C. B.—For the past month I have been worried to death. My first and second husbands both are pestering me to return to them and I can't make up my mind if I want either one?
Ans: Leave well enough alone. Neither one of them had what it took to make you contented—it won't.

DES MOINES HOST TO TOWN MEETING

Last week, Des Moines was host to the "Town Meeting of the Air." The subject "Are Communism and Christianity Incompatible?" was ably discussed.

And while the anti-red side seems to have won the predominance of applause, other elements than the subject itself had much weight.

The subject is one of tremendous importance to every family in the nation and therefore needs full discussion that the people may understand where we are headed and the consequences of our venture.

Certainly our program is ambitious to stay the least and has reached a stage where it will be embarrassing to back down. On the other hand, events in Europe show clearly that Russia is equally determined. So the issue is joined. As the situation stands, someone must lose. It is now a question of whether the decision can be reached by a diplomatic or military process.

It must be admitted that both Communism as the Russians handle it and Democracy as practiced in America have many things in common. Each has some programs which are commendable and upon which both nations may well be on common ground. On the other hand both practice some things which have no place in an association of decent men. This being true, some mutual basis for ironing out the bad spots should be tried in a spirit of give and take.

Frankly, we have been disappointed with the unreasonable stand Russian spokesmen have taken in their negotiations with other countries. Apparently, they have succeeded in blocking even the consideration of many questions of procedure. But on the other hand, they are giving a dose of our United States Senate filibusters against the legislation tending to make this country more liberal.

Somehow this question must be settled on a peaceful basis and the more it is talked about intelligently, the better the chances.

IN PROPOSED TRAINING ASKS NO SEGREGATION

The President's Advisory Committee on Universal Military Training in its report to the chief executive recommended that the Jim Crow followed in the army be banned, recognizing that universal establishments should be based on "equality of privilege and opportunities for all those upon whom these obligations rest."

Further quoting from the report it said, "neither in the training itself nor in the organization of any phase of this program should there be any discrimination for or against any person or group because of his race, class, national origin, or religion. Segregation or special privileges in any form have no place in the program. To permit them would nullify the important living lesson in citizenship which such training can give."

"Nothing could be more tragic for the future attitude of our people, and for the unity of our nation, than a program in which our federal government forced our young manhood to live for a period of time in an atmosphere which emphasized or bred class or racial differences."

This is not the first time a recommendation has been made to banish segregation in the armed forces, but very little has been done to carry the proposal out.

Our government can appropriate millions of dollars to stop Communism aboard and pass all kinds of resolutions to get tough about it, but makes a poor effort to bring democracy to the minorities within its borders.

The departments of the federal government, above all, should take the lead in stamping out undemocratic practices as an example for states, countries and cities to follow. And while we love America, we cannot but look with chagrin upon its efforts to save the world when experience shows it seems powerless to save itself.

It will be interesting to watch what will be done with the whole report. Universal military training has strong backers on both sides. Certainly no system of universal training will get through congress without prolonged debate. It is a departure from our peacetime military establishment but we are departing from a lot of practices now which could not have reached first base thirty years ago.

CAPITAL SPOTLIGHT

By LOUIS LAUTIER

For the NNPA News Service "In Kingsblood Royal," Sinclair Lewis, the author, has one of the characters an ex-ensign in the WAVES, to say:

"I want to deny this rumor that the Daughters of the American Revolution are the women's auxiliary of the Ku Klux Klan, because there are no Negroes in the Klan, but there must be a lot of them in the D. A. R. since the first man killed in the American Revolution was a Negro."

Colored people in the South are traveling more and more by plane to avoid Jim Crow trains and buses. Travelers sit side by side on planes regardless of race or religion, and are served meals without any drawn curtains. But in Charlotte (North Carolina), Atlanta, and other southern towns the lavatories in the airports are labelled.

Resort Vacations To $15 Weekly

CHICAGO—Although the score or more of colored summer resorts have raised their rates, Where To Go For A Vacation in the July issue of Ebony lists vacation spots all over the country for Negroes with some rates as low as $15 weekly.

"No longer is vacationing limited to just the well-heeled Negro top-income group who used to go to Europe and South America to escape color line restrictions," the Ebony feature says. "Today the steno and cabbie, the stockyards butcher and steel-puddler take a couple of weeks out of town, too."

Ebony's roster of rest and play locations will appeal to the vacationer of every income bracket, and ranges from Insurance Beach in Florida, to the nation's most exclusive Negro Colony at Oak Bluffs, Massachusetts.

"For the plebian purse," Ebony says, there are beach homes as low as $15 weekly, while the moneyed set can part with as much as $1,000 per season for a summer home.

Resort owner's names and addresses are listed in the photo story in the popular picture monthly, complete with rates, locations and easiest means of transportation.

Other resorts featured in the article are Lake Forest, Log Cabin and Buckroe Beach in Virginia, Lake Elsinore Val, Varde and Victorville in California, Lake Placid, Missouri and Idlefield, Michigan, Mashpee Massachusetts, Asbury Park, New Jersey and Highland Beach, Maryland.

LARGEST MASS MEETING IN NATION'S HISTORY

PLANNED BY NAACP

(SEE FRONT PAGE) jury which, in effect, told lynching mobs in the South that Negroes were now fair prey for the rope and the torturers' tools, has defiled the 300,000 graves of America's young soldiers who thought they were dying for the security of all men," said Mr. White.

"The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People," he continued, "will meet in the fitting shadow of the Abraham Lincoln monument to rededicate all of its resources and energies to the people of all nations who fought and are still fighting to secure the rights

HEALTH FOR ALL

PEPTIC ULCERS

From five to 12 per cent of the U. S. population suffers from peptic ulcers sometime during their lives. In our strenuous times ulcer ranks 10th among chronic diseases as a cause of death and 12th as a cause of days lost from work. The term peptic ulcer describes ulcers of the stomach and of the upper part of the intestinal tract.

Of the many theories as to the cause of peptic ulcers, the most generally accepted is that they are caused by a gastric acidity which erodes the lining of the stomach or the lining of the small intestine, people who worry a lot or who work under tension are most apt to get ulcers than others. Contrary to popular belief, drinking and smoking do not cause ulcers. However, if a person has had an ulcer, alcohol, excessive smoking or improper diet including sharp condiments, will irritate it or the region where it once appeared.

Duodenal ulcers usually begin in youth and may recur for many years, sometimes in month-long attacks once or twice a year. During attacks the victim gets a pain in the upper part of his abdomen when the stomach is empty—in mid-morning, late afternoon or during the night. In some cases there is heartburn or vomiting. Some people with ulcers attribute their symptoms to "nervous indigestion" and dangerously postpone the necessary medical or surgical treatment.

Because of the possibility of a cancer, no one with a gastric ulcer should try self-medication. A mistreated ulcer could prove fatal, but under the proper medical care most cases of ulcer can be cured. With either gastric or duodenal ulcer the aim is to promote the fastest possible healing and then to try to prevent recurrences.

The doctor will prescribe a highly nutritious diet to promote healing, adjusting the diet as the ulcer gets better. The diet must be bland. Small, frequent feeding are best. Drugs are sometimes used to help neutralize the gastric acidity, but just as important as diet and drugs is the patient's need for physical and emotional rest.

The most difficult part of ulcer therapy is the prevention of recurrences. Doctors hope for the discovery of an effective medical method. Meanwhile, they urge their patients to cooperate by avoiding nerve strain, worry, fatigue, too strenuous physical exertion, irregular and improper eating habits.

VACATION TIME

Vacation time is the time for fun; A fishing we will go. I know where flows a little stream With willows bending low. Vacation time is the time for fun; Oh, how I love it all. With apple blossoms in the spring And ripe fruits in the fall. Vacation time is the time for fun; Oh, may it slowly pass— I love to run about, Barefooted, in the grass. (Selected)

Father's Day is Sunday, June 15.

FATHER'S DAY MESSAGE

Hear, ye children, the instruction of a father, and attend to know understanding.

For I give you good doctrine, forsake ye not my law. For I was my father's son, tender and only beloved in the sight of my mother.

He taught me also, and said unto me, Let thine heart retain my words; keep my commandments, and live. Get wisdom, get understanding; forget it not; decline from the words of my mouth.

Wisdom is the principal thing; therefore get wisdom; and with all thy getting get understanding.

(Selected from the Bible, Proverbs, Chapter 4.)
