AMERICA'S BEST CITIES FOR NEGROES

Chicago—After an intensive nationwide study sociologist Robert Cayton announces in the October issue of Negro Digest the results of his search for America's ten best for negroes.

Mr. Cayton, co-author of the best-seller "Black Metropolis" and director of the Parkway Community Center in Chicago, carefully examined his Negro Digest article with genuine personal experience and makes his selections on a geographic rather than a rating basis.

Reading from east to west, his choices of the ten best cities for negroes are:

1. Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Kansas, Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago, Seattle, San Francisco, and Los Angeles.

LELA KNOX WINS LINCOLN UNIVERSITY (MO.) JOURNALISM AWARD

Jefferson City, Mo.—Second winner of the Robert S. Abbott Memorial Scholarship in Journalism for study at the Lincoln University School of Journalism is Miss Lela Nuna Knox, junior student from Choptaw, Okla., according to an announcement by the Journalism School this week.

The scholarship, amounting to $100, was established a year ago by the Chicago Defender in honor of the paper's founder through John R. Senestack, president of the Robert S. Abbott Publishing Company publishers of the Defender.

ICE SKATING BEAUTY CHORUS TO BE SEEN IN "HARLEM-ON-ICE"

New York—An octette of Lithuanian beauties, the captivating Harlem Ice Ballet-Dears, will appear as a skating chorus in "Harlem-On-Ice," spectacular 4 act musical extravaganza, with an all-Negro cast of ice skating stars, entertainers and musicians. The new production, scheduled to commence a nationwide tour in early October, will be seen in nearly every major city in the south, southwest and midwest.

CHARLES ADAMS DIES AT 102 IN OSKALOOSA

Oskaloosa, Ia.—Charles Adams, 126 North 6th street, died here Sept. 9 at his home, at the age of 102. Married to his first wife, Miss Anne Skidmore, now deceased, to this union three children were born: William and Henry, sons and one daughter, Lizzie, now deceased. His second wife, Nancy Harris preceded him in death. In 1897 he was united in marriage to Miss Florence Cheatam who survives him in death.

Mr. Adams was a member and trustee of the Second Baptist church of Oskaloosa. Funeral services were held Thursday, Sept. 11, at Powers funeral home with Rev. Alphonson Spriggs, pastor of Second Baptist in charge. Music was furnished by Miss Jenny Fry at the organ. Mrs. Rosetta Welch and Mrs. Grace Harris led the singing. Mrs. Rosetta Welch sang "His Eye Is on the Sparrow." Burial was in Forest cemetery in Oskaloosa.

STARS ON BROADCAST OF IOWA-UCLA GAME

Movie and radio celebrities will make guest appearances on radio station KRNT's broadcast of the Iowa University-UCLA football game at Los Angeles this Friday night, according to a confirmation wire received by the station.

Jon Hackett, KRNT sports director and Bill Riley will broadcast the play-by-play description of the game which will be heard over KRNT and five other Iowa stations Friday night, beginning at 10:15—WNAX, Sioux City-Yankton; KMA, Shenandoah; KXEL, Waterloo; KBUR-FM, Burlington, and KSWI-FM, Council Bluffs.

In his first college football game, Johnny With Hawks, Des Moines, did more running, passing and other duties than any other Hawkeye quarterback for Iowa State university in last Saturday's 59-0 landslide over North Dakota State. He will be in Los Angeles Friday night when the Hawks play U. C. L. A. (Photo courtesy of Register).

ACQUITTED

Lawrence Wilburt, 29, of 1216 Center st., was released from Polk county jail Friday, Sept. 19, after grand jurors returned no indictment against him on a murder charge.

Wilburt had been in jail since June 14, accused of fatally wounding Lincoln Wells, Jr., 20, of 1104 Tenth st., in a fight at Eleventh and Center streets.

Wilburt admitted firing the shot that killed Wells but contended the shooting was in self defense. Wilburt's right side was encased in bandages when he was arrested by police. He told officers Wells cut him across the face with a knife and broke several of his ribs in the fight. Witnesses said they saw Wells chasing Wilburt with a knife a short while before the shooting.

K. C. Vote Fraud Case Opens Oct. 6

Kansas City—(NNPA)—Mrs. Stella Page, one of five political workers under federal vote fraud indictment with Robert McKissick, white, a precinct captain, entered a plea of nolo contendere before United States District Judge Albert A. Ridge last Friday.

She previously had pleaded not guilty shortly after her indictment August 8.

The Government may use Mrs. Page as one of its principal witnesses against McKissick and the other defendants in their vote fraud conspiracy trial which has been set for October 6.

The Government's case is based largely on the contention that McKissick, captain of the Twenty-first precinct of the Second ward, drove Mrs. Page and other colored political workers to the polls at several precincts where they are alleged to have under various names.

In accepting her plea of nolo contendere Judge Ridge warned Mrs.

Swindle Baptist Church in St. Louis Out of $28,000

St. Louis, Mo.—Rev. D. L. Langford, officers and members of the Mt. Olive Baptist Church, 17th and Cole streets, held hopes that they will recover the $28,000 paid to a representative of a racketeering building company following report of the arrest of two men by postal agents last Friday. The swindle was first revealed in an article published in the St. Louis Argus, which sought to assist in capture of the man who disappeared after negotiating to build an $86,000 church here.

The postal authorities announced that they had seized the two men on charges of mail fraud, and conspiracy in alleged swindling of 40 churches, and fifteen prospective home owners in five states, and the District of Columbia of a total of $200,000.

In his statement at the arraignment of Mendenhall in Philadelphia, Postal Inspector Geo. Sadler said that the company had taken money on building contracts from home builders and church groups in Missouri, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Georgia, Illinois and the District of Columbia.

Most of the church groups, Mr. Sadler said, were colored. The company believed that colored people were less likely to press for immediate construction. Mr. Sadler said. Some of the groups, however, finally made formal complaint.

The postal inspector said Clements traveled about the country, attending revival meetings and furnishing pastors with elaborate plans for new church buildings. He would suggest

Auditions for Musical Talent Next Tuesday

Arrangements have recently been completed between Madame Maybelle Wagner Shank, well-known Des Moines voice teacher, and Frederic M. Smith of the "The Swing Mikado" company, to hold auditions for the purpose of selecting outstanding local musical talent and the stage of KRNT theatre.

The auditions are tentatively scheduled for 4:00 p.m., Tuesday, September 30, the day of the performance of "Swing Mikado" at KRNT RADIO THEATRE.

All persons interested in auditioning are requested to contact Madame Shank by telephone at her studio. Madame Shank can be reached at 3-8380.

"The Swing Mikado" comes to KRNT RADIO THEATRE, with a brilliant cast of 36 all-colored performers, direct from Chicago's Civic Opera House.

remain unchanged. Spokesmen of this group asserted that it was a racial issue which motivated the petition for rezoning.

A ruling against the rezoning petition was handed down a week ago by the Council Bluffs school board. When the board made this announcement a small-scale pupils' strike immediately developed.

Not more than 12 families held their children out but present was the ominous school-strike pattern which has plagued Gary, Ind., and other industrial areas which have had unprecedented growth of Negro districts in areas which were formerly white neighborhoods.

No official recognition of the situation as a racial issue was taken. However, a concerted drive was made for the principles of tolerance and understanding. Work was done through Parent-Teacher association groups.

Among those active in this regard was Mrs. M. D. Speers spokesman for the group of housewives who circulated the petition against the rezoning proposals.

Back In School

Another was Mrs. Reuben Douglas young Negro mother in the school district who still is remembered for her outstanding scholastic record when a student in the public schools here.

Major Turner Commanded Fighter Squadron in War; M. Hall, Training Officer

Columbus, Ohio, (NNPA)—Two officers from Lockbourne Army Air Base were killed as the result of a mid-air crash of two planes near Lancaster, Ohio, last Thursday.

The officers were Major Andrew J. Turner, 27-year old fighter pilot, of Washington, D. C., and First Lieutenant Milton R. Hall of Owensboro, Kentucky.

At the time they were on a routine formation flight, the Lockbourne Army Air Base announced, and were flying AT-6 Texan training planes, being used by the 332d Wing in giving transition training to twin engine pilots as part of its conversion to jet aircraft expected to be accomplished within the next nine to twelve months.

Major Turner was born in Washington, the son of the Rev. Clarence W. Turner of that city. He was a graduate of Dunbar High School and had attended Howard University three years as a premedical student. He joined the Army Air Forces in 1942 and saw service overseas as a fighter pilot. He commanded the

Opportunities for Adults To Go to College; Finish Hi School in Night Classes

Based on a complete program of service to the city, Drake university's Community college begins its second full year of operation next week. Registration will be Sept. 20-27 with classes beginning Sept. 29.

John H. Hutchinson is dean, assisted by Miss Alice V. Myers. Began in February, 1946, the college provides educational opportunities of college level for employed persons, housewives, and others who can more easily attend evening classes or off-campus classes.

The courses can be taken for college credit or without. Certificates of attainment may be earned in accounting, advertising and marketing, general business and retailing. Junior college certificates also may be issued and persons may work towards a full college degree.

The college program and staff are flexible so that new courses may be added and classes begun in them at any time. Dean Hutchinson said that upon the requests of architects and engineers a number of new courses have been added this fall.

"We will be glad to do the same for any group," he said. "We will go to groups at various times of the day to meet their requirements if necessary," he added.

Individuals also are urged to request the college for particular courses they may wish, the dean advised.

45 Courses

This fall the Community college offers 45 different courses in subjects ranging from accounting to speech. Many of the classes are taught by Drake staff members while others are by business and professional persons from the city.

301st Fighter Squadron. He was a veteran of about 140 combat missions and held the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Air Medal, the theater ribbon with six combat stars, and the Presidential Unit Citation.

He was the Plans and Training Officer for the 332d Wing. Hall finished pilot training at the Tuskegee Army Air Field in December, 1942. He was supervisor of single engine training at the advanced flying school at Tuskegee and was later assigned to the 617th medium bomber squadron at Godman Field, Kentucky.

In July, 1944, Lieut. Hall walked through the propeller of a B-25 at Tuskegee and lived. About five months ago he was returned from Valley Forge General Hospital to active duty. He was a bachelor officer.

Major Turner leaves a wife and a son. Besides his parents, four brothers and a sister also survive. They are John, Thomas F., Clarence W., Jr., and Herbert M. Turner, and Mrs. Alice Thomas, all of Washington.

For those interested in keeping abreast of the world political and social situation, there are three new offerings: International Organization (SEE PAGE SIX)

ADULT CLASSES OPEN

The fall program of educational opportunities for the "young of heart of all ages" gets under way the week of September 29 when lights will stream down the walks of Des Moines Tech, East, North and Roosevelt High—and dozens of other locations scattered widely over the city wherever people have requested the services.

Three of the four major centers—Tech, East and Roosevelt will present a wide variety of classes on Mondays and Wednesdays. For the convenience of those who find these evenings inconvenient, North features classes on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Improve Earning Power

Many classes are specifically intended to improve the earning power of enrollees. In them new skills can be learned and other skill can be up-graded. Classes in drafting, typing machine shop, welding, advertising lettering and layout, office machines, shorthand, refrigeration and radio are among those in this category. Trade classes are taught by master craftsmen of recognized ability and long experience.

Other classes are related to hobby and avocational interests. Amateur photographers are offered classes in portraiture, color photography, printing and other specialized fields; musicians are offered ultra-modern piano playing under "Spec" Redd, chorus, and music appreciation.

Classes in contract bridge, dancing, swimming, basketball, and many arts and crafts tend to make for versatility and the varied interests that psychologists say build sound personalities.

Creative writing, once taught here by Tom Duncan of "Gus the Great" fame, is now taught by one of his pupils—Mrs. Valeria Winkler Griffith, a brilliant writer in her own right.

Homemakers

Homemakers will find classes in home decoration, sewing, cooking on a budget, tailoring, dress design, child development, and arts and crafts.

For complete programs call the Department of Adult Education—4-2104.

Talent Show Rehearsal Monday Night Sept. 29 YMCA

All participants in the show are asked to be on time at 8 o'clock. Singers without accompanists are asked to bring copies of their music and arranged for extra rehearsal with the show's accompanist, Miss Ruth Bynes, a Drake music student.

Cash prizes will be given in various divisions of the show and a special

Announce Nation-Wide Pepsi-Cola Scholarship Competitions for 1948

Palo Alto, Calif.—"All over the country, boys and girls of unusual promise are denied the opportunity of college training because they cannot afford it. We have set ourselves the task of discovering and promoting the growth of some of these students who can add materially to the enrichment of the American way of life."

With this a keynote, the Pepsi-Cola Scholarship Board this month is inviting all Negro students graduating from high school in 1948 to enter its fourth annual competition for 119 Pepsi-Cola Four-Year College Scholarships and 550 fifty-dollar College Entrance Awards.

According to an announcement just sent by the Pepsi-Cola Scholarship Board to all Negro high school principals, 18 of these Scholarships and 75 of the College Entrance Awards have been set aside specifically for seniors of the South's Negro schools. Negro students may also compete for the other awards to be granted in those states which do not have a dual system of education.

Well Represented

Negro boys and girls have been well represented in the past three competitions, according to Mordecai W. Johnson, president of Howard University and a member of the Pepsi-Cola Scholarship Board. Fifty-nine outstanding students have won the Four-Year College Scholarships. President Johnson says, and 269 other Negro seniors have been encouraged to continue their education.

He was convicted of assault and battery against Swedish Count Gustaf von Rose, the air force commander, and sentenced to three months in prison.

The court also ordered Robinson to pay all of Rosen's costs and rejected a plan for a stay of execution of the sentence. Robinson was brought to trial after Rosen alleged suffered a brain concussion in a fist fight with him.

Known in Ethiopia as the "Brown Condor," Robinson fought against the Italians during the Italian-Ethiopian war and often piloted Haile Selassie.

There were 68 names on the petition. Soon the opponents to rezoning had their petition in, and there were 178 names on it. The latter petition won.

"It was a good example of democratic principles in action," Kirn observed.

ST. PAUL A.M.E. CHURCH NOTES

As has been his custom during the past three years that he has been pastor, the Rev. A. J. Irvine was absent from the city last Sunday attending the Chicago Annual Conference which was held by Bishop Gregg. The pulpit was filled Sunday morning by the Rev. Felix Dickerson, local deacon, and Mrs. Estella Coates who has returned to St. Paul church and was licensed as an evangelist by Bishop Gregg on last Sunday. She brought a non-member to the altar for prayer. Among the out-of-town visitors at the morning service were Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Hodge of Chicago, uncle and aunt of Rev. Dickerson. Mrs. Bessie Graves Green has returned after spending the summer in Los Angeles with her brother Mr. Jesse Graves, movie actor in Hollywood. Sunday afternoon members joined the ushers of Maple St. Church in their annual sermon, while others went to Shiloh to hear Miss Maxine Anderson formerly a member of the Sunday School, who has just returned from a tour of a year as Red Cross hostess, in the American Occupied zone of Germany. At the evening hour Rev. Dickerson preached.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank the many friends churches and organizations for their kindnesses, flowers, cards and other expressions of sympathy extended us at the death of our son and brother, Calvin Rice. We greatly appreciated the comforting remarks of Rev. L. Garrett and Rev. H. R. Fields and the kind and efficient service of the Fowler & Son Funeral home. Mrs. Frankie Rice, mother. Howard Rice, brother.

CARD OF THANKS

Owing to the numerous telegrams and cards received, it is impossible to answer them, so we take this method in thanking the many friends and neighbors for their kindness, courtesies, expressions of sympathy, cards and flowers extended us during the illness and death of my beloved mother and sister, Mary Miles. Special thanks to Rev. George W. Robinson and Corinthian Baptist church, Rev. H. C. Boyd of Minneapolis, Rev. A. J. Irvine and Estes Funeral home, Clifton Miles, son; Mattie B. ## Hurricane Hits Housing Project At New Orleans

Miami, Fla.—(NNPA).—During the tropical hurricane which swept across the southern end of the Florida peninsula, one man was shot to death and six others were arrested here last Wednesday in what police described as a widespread looting of storm-damaged stores. Patrolman J. W. Sheppard said William Thomas, 26, was fatally shot when he and a companion resisted arrest.

According to the American Red Cross, most of the homes destroyed in the populated areas south of Fort Lauderdale were in the colored sector.

At Fort Lauderdale, approximately 5,000 persons were cared for in forty-one shelters. The Red Cross said 60 per cent of them were colored. This was given as typical of the situation that prevailed in the storm-stricken area.

A heavy percentage of the refugees from Lake Okechee, who arrived at Sebring on a freight train was colored.

Reports from New Orleans last Friday said that the first person reported injured there was colored. He is Edgar Joseph, 39, who suffered a lacerated eye when struck in the face by flying glass. The Reyeses Housing project at New Orleans, with colored occupancy was largely wiped away.

MAPLE STREET BAPTIST CHURCH ACTIVITIES

Pastor George Parish preached Sunday morning. In the afternoon the Usher board held its annual sermon. Sunday night the senior choir, ladies and men's choruses gave a musical feast. Sunday evening, Sept. 28, the Pastor's Aid is sponsoring a musical and literary program. The September club is holding a carnival at the church. Men's Day will be observed Sunday, Oct. 12. Among the sick members are: Mesdames Annie Davis, Bessie Cunningham and Mr. Robert Wilhite. Dixon; Tanner Turner Memorial, Sophia Nichols; parliamentarian, Cora Moore. Members of the executive board are: Olive Redman, Foustine High lower, Gertrude Dabner, Mattie Folsen, Alice Foreman. Ways and Means committee—Bessie Powell, chairman; Geneva Murray, Lucy Page, Mary Hickey, Pattie Caulder, Emma Watts; Nina Miller, chairman of music; Ola Henry, chairman of self-denial.

Excommunications Threat From Catholic Church in St. Louis School Protest

St. Louis.—(NNPA).—Catholics who persist in protesting against the attendance of colored children at parochial schools here will be excommunicated from the Roman Catholic Church, Archbishop Joseph E. Ritter declared last Sunday.

The threat of excommunication was contained in a letter from the archbishop read at all masses throughout his archdiocese. The penalty of excommunication is incurred automatically, the archbishop explained, if an individual or group of individuals, with full knowledge of the violation of canon law, interfere in the administrative office of the bishop by going to authority outside of the church.

John P. Barrett, chairman of the group who have threatened to go into court to compel the exclusion of colored children from parochial schools here, said another protest meeting would be held soon.

Not to Jeopardize Religion "I can't say whether I will drop active participation in the group after the meeting," Barrett said. However, I personally will not take any action that will jeopardize my religion or that of anyone else."

At a meeting last Sunday night of the group protesting the attendance of colored children at parochial schools it was voted to ask the Most Rev. Amleto Cicognani, Apostolic delegate in Washington, to intercede in the matter.

White Minister Decides to Be a Colored Man

Madison, Wis.—The Rev. Kenneth L. Patton, a 28-year-old Unitarian pastor, announced to his congregation he was turning his back on the white race so that he could fight discrimination more effectively.

The young minister announced in his sermon last Sunday that he was "throwing in his lot with the people of color." He said he had the "100 per cent support" of his wife. He said he would consider himself "one of the colored people" and would sign questionnaires, "colored."

Patton said he got his idea from Sinclair Lewis' novel "Kingsblood Royal." In the book, Nell Kingsblood, a young Minnesota banker, discovered he had Negro blood. Disgusted by a growing movement against Negroes in his home town, Kingsblood revealed that he was part Negro.

Patton said he had searched his own ancestry and found he was "one sixty-fourth Indian."

Demand Complete Freedom For W. Indian Colonies

Montego Bay, Jamaica.—(NNPA).—William Alexander Bustamante, Jamaican labor leader, replied to Britain's offer of partial self-rule for her West Indian colonies last Friday by demanding their complete independence.

Speaking to the conference of seven colonies in reply to Arthur Creech Jones, British Colonial Secretary, who last Thursday urged the colonies to merge, Bustamante said Jones was "trying to force something down our throats."

The seven colonies, whose twenty-two delegates are meeting here at Jamaica, British Guiana, British Honduras, Trinidad, Leeward Islands, Windward Islands and Barbados. Jones has warned them that federation under the British crown was the quickest road to self-rule.

Bustamante, however, attacked the colonial secretary for "attempting to intimidate delegates by predicting calamity if they failed to organize a federation." He said he did not agree with this prophecy.

Declaring he was suspicious of the motives behind Britain's proposal to her Caribbean colonies, Bustamante said "The time has come after 200 years of British rule not just for federation but for self-government."

Turning to Jones, he added that "Your government is helping to retard the progress of our country. We are willing to face the dangers of independence."

The Trinidad delegate, Albert Gomes, gave full support to Jones, but went slightly further than the colonial secretary's proposal by asking for federation with dominion status immediately.

Sir Eustace Woodford, of British Guiana; H. A. Cuke of Barbados, D. J. Juadah of Jamaica, and J. B. Singh of British Guiana, all spoke in the debate, declaring economic arrangements should be tried out before a political federation is attempted.

The conference of the seven colonial groups opened last Friday on Jamaica's north shore under the chairmanship of Mr. Jones to discuss a British White Paper on closer association of the West Indies.

Colonial autonomy is the hottest issue on the agenda of the conference, which followed the Caribbean Labor Congress.

Mason City, Iowa

Mason City, Ia.—Rev. and Mrs. P. J. Scott of 239 8th street, S. E., have returned from California where they spent a three-week vacation in Los Angeles, San Diego, San Francisco, Pasadena and Long Beach. While in Los Angeles, they worshipped at the Methodist church with the Rev. J. C. Bain, former pastor of Burns Methodist church in Des Moines. The Scotts were house guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Jones while in Pasadena and received many social courtesies which included patio parties, dinners and motor rides. On August 24 they were guests of Contractor and Mrs. J. Carnado who sponsored a motor trip to the U. S. Observatory and out to Hollywood, viewing historical spots of the city, the Little Church of Flowers, movie star mansions, radio stations. While in San Diego, they were house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Jackson, formerly of Mason City, who entertained with ocean beach parties along the Pacific coast, a trip to Catalina Island and Tl. Juana, Old Mexico. The Scotts also spent a day in Salt Lake City visiting Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Brown and a day in Albuquerque, N. Mex. On their return home they spent a night in Kansas City, Mo., with friends, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Eryin.

Rev. C. R. A. Banks, district superintendent of the South Florida Conference of the Methodist church of Tampa, Fla., who visited his step-father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Scott, left for Kankakee Shores, where he has charge of the board of missions and church extension program during the meeting there. He will go on to Atlanta, Ga. He is also editor of Gulf District Advocate and president of conference board of education. While in Mason City he conducted a series of religious services for four nights. He is the only Negro who is a member of the Tampa Poetry League which is a white organization of Tampa, Fla. While here he spoke for the Rev. Mr. Ray and was entertained by Mrs. Ray.

Gary School Strike Thought To Be Broken

Gary, Ind.—(NNPA).—The strike of white pupils at Emerson High and Elementary School appeared to be broken last Friday. The striking pupils were demanding the ousting of thirty-eight colored pupils who were placed in classes in the school as the result of a rezoning ordinance.

Most of the student strikers had returned to their classes last Friday in order that their parents could have clean hands in any court action that might grow out of the strike.

E. J. Spaulding, principal of Emerson, said about 75 per cent of the 1,750 pupils at the combination grade and high school were at their desks last Friday morning.

Members of the school football team met with Jack Kilroy, director of physical education for the Gary public schools, to discuss the possibility of returning to classes if their football schedule were reinstated, as the back-to-school movement got into swing last Thursday.

At Tolletson School, attendance was normal. A 16-year old Tolletson student, who was arrested on

Cheese Ring Pleases Family's Eye and Palate

"Give a salad a chance to star and it will," writes the Country Cooking Editor of Capper's Farmer, one of the leading farm magazines.

"This savory cheese ring, garnished with watercress, will please everyone's eye and palate," she points out in the magazine read by 3,300,000 farm families. "What's more, it is easily converted into a hearty main dish. Just add shrimp or tuna to the original recipe, or fill the center with a medley of fresh fruits."

SAVORY CHEESE RING

- 1 tsp. unflavored gelatin
- 1/2 c. cold water
- 1 tsp. sugar
- 1/2 tsp. lemon juice
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1/2 tsp. vinegar
- 1/2 c. cottage cheese
- 1/2 c. evaporated milk
- 1/2 tsp. chopped pimiento
- 1/2 tsp. chopped green pepper
- 1/2 tsp. chopped parsley
- 1/2 tsp. minced onion
- 1/2 c. diced celery

Soften gelatin in cold water, then dissolve over hot water in double boiler. Add sugar, lemon juice, salt and vinegar. Blend cheese with milk; add to gelatin mixture. Chill until mixture begins to set, then fold in vegetables. Rinse ring mold with cold water, then pour in cheese mixture. Chill until set. Unmold, serve with oiled Salad Dressing. Serves 8.

charges of agitating for a strike at his school, was released and returned to classes last Thursday.

Prosecuting Attorney Ben Schwartz had announced that he would ask the grand jury to take criminal action against adults who have aided and abetted the strike.

George Morris Freed by Jury In Assault Case

George William Morris, 45, of 1408 Center street, was acquitted Friday Sept. 19, of a district court charge of assault with intent to do bodily injury.

A jury in Judge Joseph Meyer's court brought in the verdict of acquittal after four hours of deliberation.

The case grew out of an altercation Feb. 16 the Hawkeye Elks club, 783 Twelfth street, between Morris and Norville Tillman, 815 Crocker street, exalted ruler.

Prosecuting the case for the state was Assitant County Attorney Meredith Griffing. Defense Attorneys were Henry T. McKnight and Luther Glatton, Jr.

A statement made by Tillman revealed that at 3 o'clock Sunday morning, Feb. 16, Morris "bought a pint of whiskey and didn't want to pay the price of $5.50 for it; that Morris thought it was too much."

Testimony revealed that Morris paid and then asked for his money back. Tillman refused and an altercation followed during which the exalted ruler was knocked down and tramped in the stomach. He spent 31 days in the hospital.

During the trial, Assitant County Attorney Griffing constantly reminded the jury that neither the Elks club nor Norville Tillman was on trial.

When Attorney McKnight reviewed the case to the jury, he pointed out the "character" of the complaining witness and the fact that the altercation between Morris and Tillman occurred at 3 o'clock on Sunday morning when "all law-abiding citizens were asleep."

"Something is wrong in Des Moines when a club can open and close when it pleases and the law sees it and winks its eyes," Attorney McKnight impressed upon the jurors.

"Had Morris not defended himself, hoodlums, crooks, bootleggers, gamblers, robbers would have had him rooting up daisies this morning," the attorney said.

PERSONAL TOUCH

Now that autumn has officially arrived—and the frost is scheduled to nip the pumpkin this week—Des Moines housewives who have been travelling around the country are getting settled down to the affairs of their community and homes.

Still going strong—after having made four trips this summer—to Detroit, back home and then to Burlington, back home again and then to New Orleans and on down to Florida, is Mrs. Sophia Nichols, 1062 Eleventh street, who has passed her eightieth birthday.

Religious, fraternal and missionary conventions were responsible for getting her as far as New Orleans where she said she had a glorious experience of her life.

New Orleans is where her late son, Spencer Elliston, was one of the prominent citizens and business men until his death a few years ago. While there Mrs. Nichols said she was tendered a banquet—one that she will never forget—and honored by the business people.

While in Florida—and she was thanking the Good Lord that she was back home before the hurricane hit—she went down to Pensacola to an alligator farm which was operated by a Negro. She told of watching the trained alligators do tricks for the spectators; and, seeing dogs, too, that talked and saluted the visitors.

Mrs. Nichols got back home in time for the annual conference at her church here and was one of the faithful ones who arose early in the mornings and helped take breakfast orders from the delegates and then serve them. She said she caused an uproar in the kitchen when she called in an order for scrambled eggs shouting: "Shipwreck Adam and Eve and send in the hearse without the funeral!"

Fifty or sixty years ago—when she was a waitress—she said "that is the way we ordered scrambled eggs." Eggs weren't so expensive then—or else people had more time to eat breakfasts.

On her way to the store one afternoon this week was Mrs. Mary F. Ashley who was enjoying the sun as she made her way up one of the hills with a cane. She reminisced a few moments after reminding herself that "this is a lonesome old world."

Back in the eighties when she married, porkchops were selling around nine cents per pound, she said. She doesn't buy them now. Most of the food, she eats now is canned—to simplify cooking.

MISS LEONA PALMER

Miss Leona Palmer, 1238 McCormick street, returned to the city from Denver, Colo., where she spent her vacation the guest of Mrs. Leona Mae Ames, cousin of her mother and Mrs. Carrie Moss, a sister of Mrs. Ames. While there she took a trip to the mountains and enjoyed social courtesies.

Mr. James Rhodes, Jr., and attendants, Miss Louise Gibson and Miss Gwendolyn Davis, $50; Mrs. O. Bunde with contestants, Miss Paula Smith and Mr. Floyd Hubbard and attendants, Miss Idah Smith and Miss Evelyn Carter, $50; Mrs. Georgia A. Add with contestants, Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Carter, and attendants, Miss Nancy Smith and Miss Shirley Kemp, $7.72. Mrs. Blanche Bonham had charge of the finance which totaled $335.08 for the evening.

Following the recessional, the fellowship committee with Mrs. A. D. Green, chairman, Mrs. John Nickens and Mrs. Claude Davidson, served refreshments in the dining hall.

Ushers for the evening were Mrs. Mamie Parkey, Mrs. Marie Thomas and Mrs. O. Bunde. Music was furnished by Mrs. Thelma Claybrook. Closing remarks were given by the pastor, Rev. J. E. Tunstall.

MARY CHURCH TERRELL CLUB HEARS MRS. RUSH

The Mary Church Terrell club met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. A. A. Alexander. Guest speaker was Atty. Gertrude Rush who was a delegate to the recent World Baptist convention which met in Copenhagen. She stressed a description of the castles she visited in London, England.

'Swing Mikado,' All-Negro Musical Here Tuesday

"The Swing Mikado," the sensational, syncopated, 1947 version of Gilbert and Sullivan's masterpiece, "The Mikado," featuring a brilliant all-colored cast of 80, will open KRNT Radio Theater's greatest season on Tuesday evening, Sept. 30.

First produced in 1938, "The Swing Mikado" provided the inspiration for many other successful, all-Negro shows including, "Garden Jones," "Memphis Bound," Louis Armstrong's "Swingin' a Dream," Duke Ellington's "Jump For Joy," and many others. Winning universal acclaim from both critics and public alike, "The Swing Mikado" like "Porgy and Bess" did much to give the American Negro a dignified and deserving place in the theatre.

William Franklin, who sang the leading role of Pooch-Bah in the original production of "The Swing Mikado" will repeat the role at the KRNT Radio Theater, where "The Swing Mikado" comes direct from its successful run at Chicago's Civic Opera House. Franklin, a veteran of stage and opera, sang the difficult part of Amonasro in "Aida" with the Chicago Civic Opera company, starred in "Chimes of Normandy" and "Porgy and Bess" and more recently, in the Broadway production of "Carib Song." Franklin has been

Mrs. Robert Dacus who spent her summer's vacation at her cottage on Lake Abney in Minnesota, has been telling friends of the luscious, giant blackberries that were wild and plentiful. She has stored away on her fruit shelves, many jars of Minnesota's blackberry jelly.

The telephone has been busy at the home of Mrs. Guy E. Greene since she returned last week from California where she spent the summer. She had an enjoyable summer going places and seeing things.

S. O.—I am in trouble from my head to my feet. I have been married four months and we quarrel nearly all of the time. I wanted to keep working but he insisted that I stop and keep the house which I am doing. I keep his clothes clean, cook good meals and please him and his brother every way that I can, but if I ask him a simple question, he yells at me and that hurts my bones. Now I am not going to put up with it much longer.

M. C. A.—My wife is working too hard to suit me and it is my ambition to get ahead so that she can take it easy. I went into the cafe business a few weeks ago but I can't see that I am getting ahead. Should I stick or make a change?

V. C. M.—Should I give up this course and try something else as I don't find it as interesting as I thought it would be in the beginning. I really don't know what I want to do.

Ans: Complete your course and go to work this winter. You are going to school at your brother's expense and you cannot afford to be shifting from one course to another. This period of dissatisfaction you are experiencing will end when you begin earning a salary.

How To Win a Man, price 25c.
L. C. N.—My husband left me twenty years ago. I have worked hard all these years and five years ago I bought a little home. I didn't see him until this year. He came in town and begged me to take him back. I did and now it seems like he is trying to run me out of my own home. I see that I made a mistake. Can he take my home from me?

Ans: No. You bought and paid for the place and the deed is in your name. He can't take it. If he doesn't want to live there with you and be pleasant, see your lawyer and take steps to make him move.

A. D.—I was with my lover for two years. Everytime I asked him about marrying, he'd give me some silly excuse. Now he has moved and left me. Will he come back and marry me?

Ans: No—he won't be back. He had a change of heart and left to avoid marriage. Don't grieve because you lost his friendship—you can attract another and get married. Send for Happier Living Lesson No. 4.

MONEY DOES NOT BUY EVERYTHING

Authorities working on a program to further the so-called Marshall plan for aid to Europe have agreed that it would require twenty-two billion dollars to finance it over a period of five years. Most of the money, of course, would come from the United States.

Judging from what results pouring money into the stricken European countries have been able to show, the Bystander questions seriously whether this is the best method of aiding these people. It appears that in most cases, the people themselves have the notion that Uncle Sam has so much money that he can take care of all their ills while they do very little to solve their problems.

Of course, the results hoped for in the Marshall plan which is an effort to keep the European nations from falling into the hands of communist leaders, will depend upon just how the money is to be spent and experience has shown that this can be done only by supervising the expenditures. This calls for stationing a lot of men in these countries with the ever-present chances of clashes, which may get us into trouble.

Judging from the serious clash between communism and democracy all over the world as evidenced by the charges and name-calling by Americans and Russians in the UN, the job of trying to arrange some sort of peaceable working basis between the nations sponsoring these two ideologies is more important than idealing a lot of money in these hard hit countries.

According to a United Press dispatch an appeal to Germans by newspaper and radio to offer asylums to the 4500 Jews unloaded at Hamburg two weeks ago met with a wall of sullen resentment.

The dispatch says the pleas were answered by a flood of vitriolic letters stating that they blamed Jewish leaders for the defeat and starvation of Germany, that they control the internal governmental and financial structure of the United States and Great Britain, that no German state, community or city has offered to help the refugees.

Thus, it is apparent that the German people feel the same today about the Jews as they felt when Hitler was riding high. Undoubtedly, they feel the same about other things which helped set the world in turmoil.

Nobody who really wishes to help solve the difficulties in Europe does any service when efforts are made to put Germany back into the family of nations today as a strong power because to do so merely offers them another chance to attempt to force their ideologies on the world.

Past experiences seem not to have taught many diplomats, including Americans, that Germany remains a constant threat to world peace and that the only way to prevent a recurrence of her attempts to rule the world is to keep that country in a position where the chance to try the job again is not available.

THE RIGHT WAY TO DEAL WITH CRIME

Race prejudice and intolerance like any other crime, should be dealt with sternly and when they crop up, whether in small or large matters, should be given prompt attention.

Missouri law requires the separation of white and Negroes in the public schools. Recently, Archbishop Joseph E. Ritter, abolished segregation in the Roman Catholic Schools in St. Louis. It was a forward step in public school practice, what all churches preach, but which many of them fail to practice. But the communists in several parishes thought otherwise and proceeded not only to denounce the change but threatened legal action to block it.

Convinced of the justice of his decision, Archbishop Ritter threatened to excommunicate all communists who insisted on opposing his program.

Some now think that the Archbishop's action is a bold move. It was. It was bold. It showed convictions. It demonstrated that Archbishop Ritter is willing to back up his program with action in order to make it work. And as usual, the recalcitrant members of the flock quit.

We need more such men as Archbishop Ritter in high places; we need them at the head of our own government to replace men like those in Washington who rebuke Bulgaria when its government hurls a political prisoner, when at the same time, they find themselves powerless to do anything, because of states rights, they say, to protect our citizens at home.

One of the reasons why race prejudice has made such gains in America is that in the name of free speech, the fosters of hate have gone almost un molested spreading their doctrine without being challenged to the extent that they suffer punishment therefor.

SWINDLES CHURCH

See Front Page plans for the raising of funds starting with ground-breaking ceremonies. At these affairs, Sadler said, Clements would deliver an appeal, then step forward to contribute his own check for $500 just to start the ball rolling. In one case, Sadler said, an enthusiastic group contributed $10,000 on the spot.

According to Mr. Sadler, the victims got nothing but plans and specifications, while the firm's two partners spent the money on "parties, high living and excessive drinking."

Clements was described as a one-time amateur prize fighter and manager.

Federal authorities are seeking a third man in the swindle.

SEWING CLASSES ON EAST AND WEST SIDES

Sewing classes sponsored by Wilkie House will be held this fall as follows: Wednesdays, 1:30 to 3:30 p. m. and Thursday nights, 7 to 9 p. m. at Wilkie House, 907 15th street, with Mrs. Georgine Morris, instructor. Two classes will be held on the east side on Mondays from 1 to 3 p. m. at Logan school and Wednesdays from 7 to 9 p. m. at East-high school with Mrs. Ben Wellington, instructor.

VISITS SISTER

Mr. Manuel Washington of Columbia, Mo., was in the city last week visiting his sister, Mrs. Wm. Byrd.

VETERANS WHIRL

By James E. Hicks NNPA Staff Writer "Clear As Mud" When is a veteran rehabilitated? That question has been raised in Washington and since it involves money as well as training it has produced some rather interesting answers.

The Veterans Administration says a veteran is rehabilitated "when his productivity is restored." That sounds like a good answer until you run into a specific case and then the answer becomes about as clear as mud.

A Case In Point A former training officer for the Veterans Administration says that often in the case of disabled colored veterans the VA counselors do not certify them for enough training in order to assure their rehabilitation. He contends that a disabled veteran training for a teacher's job should be given all the training which he is eligible for up to and including his doctor's degree.

The former training officer decries that in the case of the disabled veteran the VA should prescribe a course for him which will include study until the veteran attains his doctor's degree—in other words, give him the best possible tools that can be given in order to enable him to compete against other teachers for a job. Only then, he claims, is he rehabilitated.

He charges that in the case of many colored veterans this is not being done but that many VA advisors are taking the position that the veteran is rehabilitated when he is able to begin teaching and that since he is qualified to begin teaching when he earns his bachelor's degree the VA, except in unusual cases, will not prescribe a course of study beyond that point under Public Law 16.

When this was brought to the attention of the VA here, officials scoffed at the idea of discrimination and said all vets in such a case would ordinarily be stopped at the bachelor level because they would be considered rehabilitated.

They further pointed out that if the veteran wanted to continue his training and get his master's degree, he would very easily do so by applying for the additional training bill under the GI Bill.

The difference of approximately $2 a month means a hell of a lot to a disabled person going to school the extra training officer emphasized.

He advises colored disabled veterans to insist that their VA counselors draw up their training progress

HEALTH FOR ALL

Defeating Malaria

Malaria used to be considered practically unavoidable in some parts of the United States. It caused many deaths, and in addition, wasted many wage earners' time and money through its regularly disabling attacks. Modern medical science has minimized deaths from malaria, and has learned to treat the symptoms of discomfort and lengthen the time between the attacks of "chills and fever." Still, the only way to avoid the disease is to keep away from the mosquito that carries it.

This is the way the chain-of-malaria-the Anopheles does not-to-mosquito works: When the female Anopheles mosquito, which carries the disease, bites a person who has malaria, she sucks the parasites from that person's blood into her own body. If she bites a well person some two weeks later, she puts the parasites into his blood. After about 8 to 14 days, the well person will show the typical symptoms of malaria: chills and fever; headache, backache, weakness, dizziness and nausea.

The most common kind of malaria is the recurring type which returns at regular intervals. The attacks become milder each time and sometimes disappear within a few years, usually sooner under proper treatment. New drugs developed during and since the war have proved useful in relieving the symptoms and suppressing recurrent attacks. There is real hope that an even more effective cure may soon be discovered.

While medical science works to develop more sure preventives and cures for malaria, we can do our part in wiping out the disease by destroying the mosquito itself. Unlike mosquitoes that do not carry so that they will be trained to the very top of whatever profession they enter and urges that they hold out that the program be lined up under Public Law 16 instead of the GI Bill.

"When is a veteran Rehabilitated?" "Now, I know you are just talking for an audience, trying to attract attention." And we went off to join John Estes, Sr. The game, you must have read the daily papers and there really isn't much more that I could tell you.

We were sitting in the stands last week trying to see what we could see, but our new acquaintance kept cutting in.

"They ain't playing anybody. The other team is too small."

"Looks like eleven pretty good sized men out there to me."

Johnny Estes kicked his first point after touchdown. Later he threw some passes.

"Estes is no back. He is too short. We reminded the pest that five eleven isn't exactly short, but he never stopped. Estes, having a busy day, returned a kick about thirty yards.

"Ought to have cut back. Doesn't use his head."

That long second down pass gained about forty yards.

"Lucky toss. Too wobbly and too high." No comment from us. The game went on with John Estes, Sr., losing his decorum, dignity, and what-not as his son put up a brilliant display in his first college game.

"What do you honestly think of Estes?" Our annoyance asked. We told him that in our opinion and strictly our opinion, Estes was the best passer of the three that Iowa showed that day. He had more variety to his pitches took more time and would be less apt to get caught behind the line for losses when he tried to pass.

He looked more like the professional passers than anybody in school ball we had seen in a long time. Humpf!

The score mounted and Otis Timney, hard driving Negro half of Iowa walked out of the grasp of a couple o-tacklers. He looked good to us on that one play. Public enemy number one said nothing.

"Illinois and Notre Dame passed em silly last year."

We happened to remark that those two teams passed on just anybody they met and also that the Illinois touchdown was the result of a sustained ground drive inside tackle by Buddy Young, Roy Kovich and Steger. The man swallowed hard and said nothing. Then finally, "I could take a high school team and pass them dizzy."

Well we finally got enough. We remarked that it had been a number of years since high schools won national honors, but we would back for those honors any team that could pass Iowa dizzy, especially the one that our friend named. We told him that we had enjoyed a little respect for his opinions, even though we didn't agree with them until I heard that last remark.

"Now, I know you are just talking for an audience, trying to attract attention." And we went off to join John Estes, Sr. The game, you must have read the daily papers and there really isn't much more that I could tell you.

Our community can do its share by draining and filling in swamps and stagnant pools where mosquitoes breed. Places that cannot be drained or filled should be sprayed. If we get rid of mosquitoes we can wipe out malaria.

Adult Education Needed To Change Outmoded Ideas And Teachings—Writes Student

"How can we expect races in general to get along together when members of one race will not give themselves a chance to know and understand members of another race?"

This summer two members of Drake University's Women's League approached me and asked if I would be a big sister to one of Drake's new students this fall. I thought it a very nice idea and accepted the invitation to help some strange girl become adjusted to campus life.

"The girl, whom I shall call 'Nancy,' and I wrote to each other and talked over the phone. We planned to have lunch at Younkers Tea room. When her mother learned that I was colored, that ruined everything. She seemed to think I was receiving a favor, instead of offering to do one.

"She tried to have me understand

DRAKE COLLEGE

See Front Page at 7:30 p. m. Thursdays; and Contemporary Social Trends and Russia and the Modern World, both at 7:30 p. m. Tuesdays. All will be taught by Drake staff members.

J. E. Ratner of the research department of Merediths will teach Salesmanship and Advertising Fundamentals, both new courses. The Salesmanship class meets at 6:20 p. m. Wednesdays and advertising will be at 8:10 p. m. Wednesdays.

Additions in the art field include a class in crafts at 7 p. m. Thursday by Mrs. Elizabeth Raseman, and one in Watercolor at 7 p. m. Mondays by Carl Ritter, head of the Drake art department.

Charles Ransom of the editorial department of the Register and Tribune will again teach Russian Language and Culture at 6:30 p. m. Tuesdays. Hiram S. Huff, attorney and moderator of the Iowa Round Table, will teach two courses: Discursive Techniques and Conference Leadership Tuesdays at 6:30 p. m. and Controversial Communication at 7:30 p. m. Thursdays.

Along the same lines, Raymond M. Berrier, new member of the fine arts college faculty and former dean of Fort Dodge junior college, will teach Effective Speech at 6:30 p. m. Wednesdays.

Two other new courses are Credits and Collections, Tuesdays at 6:20 p. m. and Fundamentals of Retailing at 8 p. m. Mondays and Wednesdays, both to be staffed by Drake professors.

Carl H. Page of the Central Life Assurance Society will instruct the class in Office Management at 8:10 of the same race as she, or she would have made her own excuse for not keeping the date. It seems that parental influence played a major role in this little incident. A lot of prejudice could be forgotten or avoided if parents would only let their children think for themselves and forget that there is such a thing as difference in color among people.

"What is actually needed is more education with reference to races and race prejudices. Parents are so busy following the ideas and teachings of their parents before them. Those ideas and teachings are outdated. It is time that such guilty parents should do something about their own attitudes as well as give their children a fair chance to look at the race problem fairly and squarely. That is the only way we will ever have peace and understanding between races, and nations as well.—(Mary E. Hyde, 1060 Fifteenth street, Des Moines, 14, Ia.)

Practical mathematics courses new this fall are Business Math, at 6:30 p. m. Mondays and Wednesdays and College Algebra at 8 p. m. the same days.

Also new is a course in Principles of Sociology to be given Tuesdays and Thursdays at 8 p. m. Registration in the Community college will be from 1:30 to 3:30 p. m. Sept. 26 and from 1 to 4:30 p. m. Sept. 27 in the administration building lounge at Drake.

Further information may be obtained by calling Dean Hutchinson at Drake 5-1161.
