Only Vatican Can Overrule Archbishop Ritter's Action To Accept Negro Students

Washington, D. C.—(NNPA).—Sources high in the Roman Catholic Church here said last Wednesday that only the Vatican can overrule the order of Archbishop Joseph E. Ritter of St. Louis, opening parochial schools in that city to colored children.

The group in St. Louis, protesting the action of the Archbishop, had indicated that they would appeal to Archbishop Amleto Cicognani, Apostolic Delegate to the United States, who lives here, after Archbishop Ritter had warned them that if they brought action in the courts they would be automatically excommunicated.

Excommunication would deny them the sacraments of the Catholic Church, and only the Pope himself could reinstate them.

PRaises ACTION OF ARCHBISHOP RITTER

St. Louis.—(NNPA).—Rabbi Ferdinand M. Isserman, at the opening of the observance of Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement, at Temple Israel, last Tuesday night praised the action of Archbishop Joseph E. Ritter in admitting colored children to Catholic schools here.

"Men of all denominations will applaud the firm stand taken by Archbishop Ritter on the matter of segregation in schools," Rabbi Esserman told his congregation.

"The state laws provide for segregation in the public schools. Such segregation, which is intended to humiliate and to degrade a race of human beings and to deny them full equality, is a violation of a basic religious principle—that every man is made in the image of God. Catholic schools in the past have followed the prevailing pattern."

Detectives Hurt In 3-Car Wreck

Recovering at his home at 1101 Eleventh street is Detective James L. McGuire, 59, who suffered face cuts, rib fractures and other injuries in a three-car accident at Second avenue and Locust streets, on September 24.

Another detective, James Allen, 36, of 1108 Tenth street, suffered bruises and cuts of the body; and James P. Thompson, 27, of 1115 Thirteenth st., a candidate for the police department, received cuts, bruises and possible internal injury.

All received treatment at Broadlawns General hospital later returned to their homes.

Allen, McGuire and Thompson were riding in the detectives' patrol car, driven by Allen when the car was struck by a car Albert Thomas, 26, of 1328 21st street, was driving. The detectives' car was knocked in path of a car driven by Wayne MacPherson, 25, of 1816 College avenue.

Thomas pleaded guilty to charges of reckless driving and driving without an operator's license and was fined $125 in the municipal court by Judge Harry B. Grand.

Des Moines play-goer. Many who saw the show expressed a variety of comments of the beautiful music, the fine choral work the attractive and colorful costumes to criticism that "they never quite knew what it was all about."

Some knowledge of the story of the opera was necessary to get a thread of the plot. Being one of the few operas in the English language, was easy to follow parts of the story from the clear diction of the principals in the show.

Affairs of Iowa Observer Aired in Municipal Court At Atty. Howard Hearing

The affairs of the Iowa Observer, weekly newspaper here, were aired in the municipal court before Judge C. S. Cooter Wednesday morning when Charles P. Howard, attorney, was heard on a charge of obtaining money by false pretenses.

After hearing the case Judge Cooter dismissed the charge which had been filed by Lin H. Essex, of 1530 Fifth avenue, who charged that Mr. Howard obtained $600 on July 8 from him by "fraudulent representations."

Judge Don G. Allen, who issued the warrant for Mr. Howard's arrest, said Mr. Essex charged that Howard had misrepresented the circulation and advertising income of the Iowa Observer, published by him, when Mr. Essex purchased a half interest in the paper for $600 from Mr. Howard.

Mr. Essex, who said he was a lecturer, on the witness stand revealed that prior to buying an interest in the Observer he had been led to believe that the paper's circulation was about 2,000 paid subscribers. Asked how many paid subscribers the paper had, Mr. Essex answered "17 or 19."

Regarding the advertising rates of the paper, the white partner said he had been told that the advertising rates were one dollar per column inch unless on advertising that ran for twelve or more issues and the rate then was to be eighty cents, with "no exception to any of the advertisers."

discovered that some of the "advertisers were not paying the rate." Mr. Essex pointed out to the judge, examples naming various advertisers, to show how much each account should have brought and how much was "actually" being paid.

Attorney Howard, acting as his own counsel, questioned Mr. Essex regarding "being misled" on the circulation and the advertising of the Iowa Observer.

"How many papers did you and I agree to print?" "No limit," Mr. Essex answered. "Didn't I give you every record that office had? Didn't I?" "No sir," Mr. Essex answered.

Reading from a written agreement, Mr. Howard stated that the paper was to have printed and delivered "not less than 450 papers for the sum of $25" weekly from the printing plant in Gary, Ind.

"Did we ever talk about putting out more than 450 papers?" The partner answered yes.

Howard Takes Stand Before taking the witness stand in his behalf, the attorney revealed that Mr. Essex "has been familiar with the Observer paper for many years" and that Mr. Essex had had experience in newspaper operations having managed a Ku Klux Klan paper formerly.

Telling how Mr. Essex "got in" the paper, Mr. Howard said he had asked to buy an interest in the paper, previously had asked for a job on the paper but that "I wouldn't employ you but I would sell you interest in it."

'Personal Matter'
 "This fall out we had was a personal matter. It wasn't about advertising or circulation that we began to have troubles. He took the door off his office. He sat in there and talked so loud he upset the office."

Assistant County Attorney Joe Marks defending Essex, objected at this point to the "personal matter." According to contract agreement Mr. Essex was to get $50 per week salary and Mr. Howard $25, he said.

"It was impossible to get along with him. He asked me to sign ten or 15 blank checks just so he would have them to sign," Mr. Howard continued as he itemized by dates from a receipt book the amounts of money Mr. Essex had drawn. The total amount was $150.

"He never complained that anything was wrong. He wasn't there but three weeks," Mr. Howard said. "On July 30 we were trying to get out the paper. The doctor is so loud," Mr. Howard continued as he tried to reveal what "we fell out about."

'Making Speech'

Judge Cooter said he did not want to hear that matter and Assistant County Attorney Marks objected to Mr. Howard "making a speech from the witness stand."

Time was consumed in figuring out whether the money Mr. Essex received from Mr. Howard, the $150, was pay for the three week's services or "profits" from his investment.

"Judge I'd like to tell you about the last day we were in business," Mr. Howard said to which Judge Cooter responded that "I'm going to take a notice that you didn't get along."

Addressing the judge, Mr. Howard pleaded that "you don't destroy a man and drag him through the courts on this kind of a matter."

"Never once did Essex say he was misled. We have been friends for years. He has been in and out of this office since. Dr. Essex did not work for three years," Mr. Howard revealed that he helped his friend get a job out-of-town and when he was fired he came back here. The attorney said he managed lectures for him.

Assistant County Attorney Marks objected saying that "if Mr. Howard wants to use a soapbox, I think he

MISS BOULWARE
 Miss Helen Boulware of High Point, N. C., will arrive in Des Moines on Oct. 23 to begin duties at the central association of the Des Moines Young Women's Christian Association. She will work with the Business, Industrial and Y Teen groups.

An honor graduate of Bennett College, Greensboro, N. C., Miss Boulware received a Bachelor of Arts degree in May, 1945. She attended the YWCA Training school, Ferry Hall, at Lake Forest, Ill., and two years ago began working as the first executive director of the Mary McLeod Bethune branch of the YWCA in High Point, N. C.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Boulware of High Point, she is a member of the Methodist church. Miss Boulware succeeds Mrs. Adah Johnson who served as executive director of the Blue Triangle branch from Sept. 1945 to Sept. 1946 when the branch program was integrated with the Central Association.

Mrs. Johnson then became director of interracial practices, from which position she offered her resignation in June 1947, which became effective September 1.

"YWCA is very appreciative of the services rendered by Mrs. Johnson during a period in which adequate staff replacement was extremely difficult," Mrs. Philip McGuire, chairman of the Interracial Practices committee, stated. She added that Mrs. Johnson's job of public relations "was particularly effective in the white community and her calm cooperativeness with other staff has paved the way for a congenial reception of the new staff person."

Mustard Potato Salad A Hit for Club Lunches

An attractive platter of potato salad, cold cuts and deviled eggs will make a real hit at that next club luncheon, advises the Rural Home Editor of Capper's Farmer, one of the best known farm magazines.

For added zest, make the potato salad with mustard-cream dressing.

Be Patient About Your Baby's Growth

IF YOU'RE concerned about how your baby is growing, just give him the best possible care and be patient, advises Beulah France in an article in Capper's Farmer, one of the leading farm magazines. He will develop only as rapidly as nature intends.

"How fast your baby grows depends on 2 things," she writes in the magazine read by 1,300,000 farm families. "One is heredity—traits he inherited from both sides of the family. The other is environment—baby's surroundings—which include the food he eats and the treatment he receives."

In the early months, once a week is often enough to weigh your baby, she says. Later, once a month will be sufficient. Baby usually doubles his birth weight in 6 months. At one year he should weigh about 3 times his birth weight.

Your baby may begin to sit alone for a moment or two at a time when he is 7 months old. But he must not be propped and left that way. He will sit without support

How to Defrost and Clean Your Home Freezer

HOME freezers can be easily defrosted and cleaned if a few simple rules are followed, points out the Country Home editor of Capper's Farmer, one of the best known farm magazines.

Here are some of her suggestions: For a complete cleaning, remove foods and place them in a cardboard container, or wrap them in newspapers. Scrape the frost from strips and liner walls with a spatula or piece of hard wood. Do not use an ice pick or any other pointed sharp instrument.

Clean the exterior regularly with a mild soap and water or a liquid wax which adds luster and protects the surface. Once a year—perhaps in the late spring—clean the surface of the condenser with a stiff brush or vacuum cleaner attachment.

To shut down a home freezer, turn it off. Remove the contents. Defrost and clean the interior, mopping water from the bottom. Leave the lid open so air circulates inside.

and walk alone when his bones, nerves and muscles are ready for the effort. Between 12 and 18 months he will try to walk. By a year and a half he may be toddling. Between the ages of 2 and 3 he'll become an accomplished walker.

Some babies repeat a word or two as early as 10 months. But they generally don't know what they are saying. By a year, your child may call several things by name, including his father and mother. But do not expect a child to use phrases before he is 18 months old. Even babies of 2 years may not speak clearly.

"Don't use baby talk with your child," Miss France cautions. "Speak slowly, correctly, as you want him to speak when he grows up. It's unfair to teach a child a language he must later discard."

THE CHARM OF YOU

By Natalie T. Scurlock
For the NNPA News Service

Unless you are very fortunate the summer weather has done damage to your skin and with the feminine trend in fall and winter fashions it would be criminal for you to permit your skin to look less feminine than your clothes.

Begin now to bring back that soft-as-a-petal look to your skin. It is most important that you cleanse the skin correctly. Before you work on your face, always bind the hair back from the face so that you may cleanse, apply cream or makeup right to the very hairline.

Some feel soap and water the best cleanser; other prefer cleansing cream and skin freshener. If you like soap and water and it agrees with your skin, then use it. But never leave any residue of soap on your skin and be sure to select a pure soap with very little perfume content. Frequently the perfume in soap is irritating to sensitive skins.

After washing the skin with soap and mildly warm water, rinse with warm then cool water, gradually letting the water run cold for the last rinse. Blot the skin dry—don't wipe it. Use only soft towels on the face.

If soap and water irritate your skin try cleansing cream. Carefully select a good cream. The soft cleansing creams and cold creams are best for cleansing the normal or dry skin. The liquefying creams, cleansing oils and lotions are best for the oily skin.

Apply your cleansing cream from the base of your throat, upwards along the contour, across the cheeks, round the eyes, round on the forehead, down the nose, across the mouth, around and round on the chin, then around on the back of your neck.

Remove the cream with soft tissues in the same manner as you applied the cream.

After you have rinsed your skin with cold water or removed the skin try cleansing cream. Carefully select a good cream. The soft cleansing creams and cold creams are best for cleansing the normal or dry skin. This will tone the skin and stimulate circulation.

Apply the toning lotion or astringent with a small cotton pad, patting in upward movements. However, wipe the nose with downward movements.

If your skin is normal or dry apply a lubricating cream with the same upward movements. After your bath remove any excess cream. Should your skin be oily in certain spots such as around the nose, the chin and forehead, skip these parts of the face and apply the cream to those parts that are not oily.

Walls Can Make Room Cozy or Cold

Wall board of several colors was used to turn unfinished attic into an attractive room for a child. Scalloped border was cut from the board.

WALLS can change the whole appearance of a room. As a background they play up or detract from the furnishings—make them look cozy or cold, writes Tharen Petersen in nationally-circulated Capper's Farmer.

"Choose colors, textures and patterns that will do the most for your home," she advises homemaker readers of the well known farm magazine.

"For a warm, cheery atmosphere, you'll like walls covered with wood."

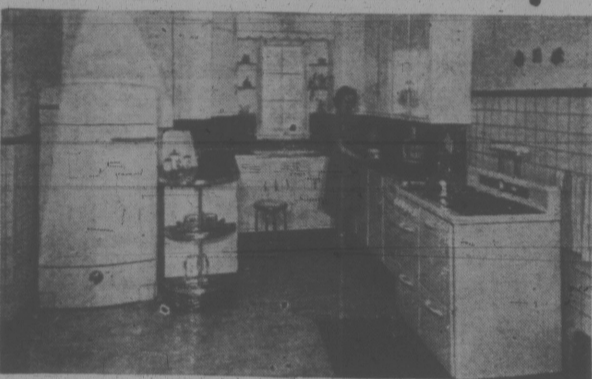

"If you hanker for modern, plywood is a possibility. For bathrooms or kitchen walls, take a look at plastic-coated wall paneling."

"Composition wall boards, usually made of wood fiber, come in various colors and sizes of panels. You can arrange them so the joints make vertical or horizontal lines, block or geometric designs. For a novel effect, use 2 colors together. Many of the wallboards insulate as well as decorate."

"For that clean, polished look in bathroom or kitchen, there's tile or tile-patterned board, in several colors."

"Wall linoleum is made with a tile pattern as well as in plain and variegated colors. Thinner than floor linoleum, it shapes to curved surfaces easily. It may be put on any sound, dry wall, around the tub and lavatory in the bathroom, and between the floor and wall cabinets in the kitchen."

Remodeling Erases Years From Old House

THIS cheerful, modern-equipped black, white and red kitchen with inlaid linoleum covering chromium-edged counter surface, is an example of what can be done to erase years from an old house by a smart remodeling job.

The Elmer Kiever family did just that when Mr. Kiever bought a farm in Scott county, Iowa, four years ago. Betty Lindsay points out in an article in Capper's Farmer, a leading farm magazine. The old-fashioned house was gloomy and run down. It had few conveniences.

So mother and dad and the three children, Marilyn, Joan and Al made plans for modernizing the house. Soop carpenters were at work.

The kitchen is just one instance of what was done inside and out, Miss Lindsay tells the readers of the farm magazine that reaches 1,300,000 farm families. Off came three unused porches. White asbestos shingles masked the age of the exterior. Gay red shutters gave a streamline effect. By adding a dormer, wasted space over the living room was made into a bedroom. A hallway was built upstairs to save going through one room to get to another. Some windows were changed.

There was electricity in the house. So Kiever installed a water system with a softener, making possible a new kitchen sink and a bathroom. A new furnace with stoker and blower was added. Modern materials pepped up the aged interior. The Kievers slipcovered and refinished old furniture so it would look better in new surroundings.

PERSONAL TOUCH

All of her young life Lucille Jackson has wanted to travel with some show—to sing and entertain though she never has had an opportunity to do so. After graduation during the war, she signed up with the USO to help entertain the soldiers—and then did a little bit of singing, playing and crooning for the soldiers Wacs and sailors until a job with the government took her out of Des Moines to the city of Dayton, Ohio, where she worked as a stenographer for Uncle Sam for two years.

One of the first persons to be at the auditions at KRNT Radio Theater on Tuesday when local talent appeared before a New York show producer, was Miss Jackson—and she was the last of the talent to "do her number." Without an accompanist, she sat down at the piano and beat out her own accompaniment to her "Rainy Day Blues."

Must have been what the producer wanted to hear—for he had his agent take Lucille. She met the man who puts the prospective names on the payroll; informed her that the beginning salary was $50 weekly to start—he told her to standby for further notice. After the show that night, Lucille was interviewed by the producer who learned that she was a stenographer. "You and some other somebody was telling her that she was 'a diamond in the rough.'"

"Now Lucille is counting the days—waiting for that message to come in which will inform her to 'pack up and join the show' or stay in Des Moines and wait for a civil service appointment to come through. Lucille is really excited now."

"In the office this week, veteran attorney, S. Joe Brown, revealed he

IOWANS GO ON 5,000 MILE TOUR OF COAST

Mr. M. E. Cassell and his son, John of 931 Twenty-third street, returned to the city last week from a 5,000 mile tour of the west. Gone a day over a month, they went to Basin, Montana to visit their brother and uncle, Mr. Frank Cassell who had not seen his brother, since 1898. In Seattle, Wash., the Iowans visited their daughter and sister, Mrs. Zella Brown, and then drove down the coast for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Norman Cassell in Berkeley, Calif. Mr. Cassell is the nephew and cousin of the Iowans, who also visited in San Francisco, Oakland, Calif. While on the coast, Mr. John Cassell took a swim in the Pacific ocean. On their return trip homeward, the Iowans visited in Salt Lake City, Utah and Denver, Colo.

had just written Mary White Ovington, for a copy of her book, "The Walls Came Tumbling Down," just off press. He said he recalled in a letter to the author that it was thirty-three years ago, a few years after she organized the NAACP, that he first wrote her, that he with thirty-three members set up the Des Moines NAACP which has grown now to 2,000 members.

Mrs. W. H. Burrell, from up the country at Ankeny, dropped in one day this week for a couple of back copies of the paper. She hated to think of the garden planted in vain, early this spring. After the floods, her potatoes rotted so fast that she had to dig them up with a pick-ax and all of the onions she planted—just vanished. She has a few chickens—just enough to keep her family in eggs. "Feed is too high to have many," she said.

THIS NEWSPAPER, IOWA'S OLDEST NEGRO WEEKLY, IS AN INSTITUTION DEVELOPED FOR AND BY THE PEOPLE OF IOWA AND THE MIDDLEWEST TO PRESENT THE NEWS OF THE DAY, FOSTER BETTER RACE RELATIONS, LEAD PUBLIC OPINION AND TO CONTEND FOR THE CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHTS OF ALL THE PEOPLE AT ALL TIMES.

WE CAN'T CONTROL OUR FOLKS EITHER

A few weeks ago, President Truman visited Mexico, was welcomed and entertained by the president and delivered several speeches emphasizing friendship between the two countries and a desire to work together for peace and harmony.

Sunday, the Des Moines Register carried the following article which naturally startled a good American citizen and which said:

"No more Mexican laborers will be permitted to cross into Texas to work because of anti-Mexican discrimination in that state, Interior Minister Hector Perez Martinez announced Saturday."

THE YOUNGSTERS WILL SOLVE THE PROBLEM

The football team at the University of Virginia told Harvard University that they had no objections to playing against a Negro student on the latter's team even though the game is to be played in the Old Dominion.

Generally speaking, youngsters are far out in front of the elder people in their views on the race question and if left alone, most of the so-called strife would fade in the air.

The Bystander here and now calls this matter to the attention of Drake University in our fair city of Des Moines which cannot boast of a good record in this matter.

The Bystander further calls Drake's attention to the fact that a poll was taken among graduate students at the University of Texas as to whether they would favor the admission of a Negro student to its law school.

IOWA COACHES SHOULD SOLVE PROBLEM

After listening to the UCLA-Iowa University game Friday night, it appears that it is more important that certain men play than it is to win games.

There is something fundamentally wrong with the Iowa team which keeps it from winning games from delivering at the crucial time when opportunity presents itself to score generally.

During the game a lot was heard and since has been read about the superior strength and weight of the California team. The arguments just don't hold water.

Seven minutes after the second half began the men had rested during halves—UCLA plowed through Iowa line with little resistance.

The Ten Keys club will meet on October 3 with Mrs. Christine Marthe second half began.

Iowa ought to develop a team which can and will win games. Iowa has a lot of men on the squad; they went to UCLA for what it does not appear but in the final analysis few substitutes were used.

Eddie Anderson was hired at Iowa first, as a coach and second as a doctor. His first job is to produce a good football team. It is not being done because something is wrong which the average layman does not know about.

VETERANS WHIRL

By James L. Hicks NNPX Staff Writer

Told You So

Some time ago this column warned you, Joe, that you should not accept subsistence allowance checks if you had dropped out of school because you were not entitled to them and would only jeopardize your chances of getting back in school at some future date.

Well, the VA is backing up our statements this week. The VA says that all you guys who accepted those checks will have to make arrangements to pay that money back before you can get back in school this fall.

Hold Your Hand Up Fellow!

Wait a minute, Joe! Don't go kissing your diploma goodbye. Everyone knows you have spent the money, and no one knows it better than the VA.

But read that first item again. It doesn't say you have to pay that money back before you go back to school. It says you must "make arrangements" to pay it back.

In other words, the VA says it wants a "show of faith" from you, indicating that you really mean to pay that dough back some day. Feel better now?

Knowing that you are broke (homeless and possibly hungry, too), the VA says you can arrange to have some of the money taken out of your future subsistence checks each month or you may go all out and tell the VA to hold up your checks altogether until your debt is paid.

The main thing the VA wants is the "show of faith" and the best way to show it is to go into your nearest VA regional office and tell a contact officer what you plan to do towards paying the money back.

So go back to school—but in the future, remember that when the Government sends you a check with your name on it is not necessarily yours. You should check first to see whether or not you have it coming.

As For You

As for you guys who dropped out of school and accepted the checks with no intention of returning to school—the VA says it wants that money back, but definitely.

And the VA reminds you that the statute of limitations does not apply where you owe money to the government. An official of the agency said last Wednesday that the debt will exist as long as the veteran lives. Better pay the man, Joe. You might want something else.

Incidentally, the VA overpaid 497,000 veterans in amounts totaling more than five million dollars.

HEALTH FOR ALL

When a person has been told that he has tuberculosis, he faces more than a battle with a dangerous disease. The treatment of tuberculosis is a long, slow affair, usually accomplished in a tuberculosis sanatorium or hospital.

Both the patient and his family must realize that the patient may have to make a substantial change in his way of living when hospital treatment has been completed. For example, if he has followed a strenuous athletic life or has done heavy manual work, he must find a way to substitute less exacting forms of recreation and occupation after recovery.

In a modern tuberculosis hospital, the patient learns how to care for his health in such a way as to minimize risks of a new outbreak of his disease. Because of this kind of instruction, ex-patients have proved a good employment risk in business and industry.

The result of this growing policy is an improved outlook for the patient who once faced the threats not only of a disease with the possibility of fatal outcome but the hazard of lifelong invalidism and dependence on others. Today, or the patient whose disease has been found in time and who is willing to follow the doctor's advice, there is an excellent prospect for successful employment and full enjoyment of his new way of life.

This column is sponsored, in the interest of better health, by the Polk County Tuberculosis Association.

Football

About the only consolation we could get out of the Iowa-UCLA game last week was the showing of Estes for the time he was in there. We still insist that he is the best passer the Hawkeyes have.

Looks like Indiana's George Talferro is ready to pick up where he left off in 1945; with Grooms and that fellow, the Hoosiers should be tough.

Over the week end we listened to several discussions on what was wrong at Iowa. Some blamed dissonance, a probability, but we doubt it. One fellow said the Hawks needed a system that would get some blockers in front of the runners, or a bruising two hundred-pound or more fullback to make the T really work.

Then this same fellow said he wondered why fellows like Estes weren't taught some of the tricks of big time backs. He argued that the Iowa backs had to rely on the same tricks they learned in high school, and he argued only through experience. Of course, by the time they got out of school they were good backs, but that was too late.

We intend to watch and see how much the fellows was right. This was the first intelligent criticism we have heard all season about the Hawks and we intend to follow it up.

High School Football

We asked some youngster if there were any Negroes on the East High football team, and he replied, "a gang of them." We recognized only the names of Dick Aitkens, who told us once he could make the team if he wanted to, and Bell at guard.

At North, we saw James Aften become a sort of left-handed hero as North beat Valley. Bill Ashby promised us a good column on high school doings. We are making a public 30, as to put Brother Bill on the spot so he can't get out of it.

Baseball

Don't have to mention that Jackie Robinson has really made baseball history by becoming the first Negro to play in the World Series. But Time magazine carried just about the best five-page article on Jackie that I ever read. There was no flattering or ridiculing. Just a simple

QUENTIN R. MEASE TELLS OF TRIP TO TENNIS MATCHES

In a letter, written September 15 from Chicago, Ill., Quentin R. Mease tells of a trip he made "to the shrine of lawn tennis in the U.S.A., and the mecca of all tennis players—Forest Hills."

"I was just by accident that I made the trip, having planned to follow my daily stint of situating myself along the third-base line in Ebbets Field and watching the 'Beloved Bums' decimate the Phillies. This was Labor Day morning, and as luck would have it there was a near-riot at Ebbets Field as more than 60,000 Dodger fans stormed ticket offices between 9 and 10 o'clock in an attempt to see the morning game.

"Rather than be a part of this maelstrom of humanity, we decided to forego the game, having already seen Robinson and the Rickeymen 14 games this season in Chicago and Brooklyn.

"It was while returning to Manhattan that we heard over the car radio the announcement of the day's matches at Forest Hills and decided to drive out there and test our chances of crashing the gate at the royal court of tennis. To our mild surprise, we encountered no difficulty in obtaining admission, of course, it was still forenoon and the stadium was only sparsely filled by other early comers. But by mid-afternoon, the huge bowl was jammed to capacity with approximately 12,000 spectators taking in the action on the three courts.

"The feature event of the afternoon program of Davis Cup matches was the singles contest between Ted Schroeder of the United States and Denny Paila of Australia. We considered ourselves quite fortunate in seeing this particular match because it proved to be a marathon affair.

the longest in Davis Cup history. It was truly championship tennis at its finest that even a non-player, such as myself could appreciate. I know what a thrill it would have given you to have seen the brilliant stroking and superb court strategy that was displayed by these two adversaries of almost equal caliber.

"I should like to return to Forest Hills sometime in the near future and again see tennis as played in the tennis capital of the world. You know, one can see tennis played in parks, playgrounds, and around corners for years on end, but it is not like seeing the game played in its proper setting. And at Forest Hills you have just that.

"One of my objectives to the Big Town was to resume an old practice of twelve years duration, (excepting the lapse during the war years,) that of attending the American Legion National Convention. This year's convolve the first since World War II, proved to be a worthy successor of those grand events of pre-war days, which to those who have witnessed them, "is the Greatest show on Earth."

"And as it did in 1937, New York went to not in making it one of the most magnificent spectacles ever gaffed together by man. Imagine such features as these—an all-day parade that lasted for 14 hours up Fifth Avenue, an event that drew 42 of the 48 state governors, a profusion of Hollywood and Broadway stars, and such military leaders as Generals Eisenhower, Bradley, and Spaatz, and Admiral Nimitz. "Negro Legion Posts were more numerous and better represented by marching units than in any of the six pre-war conventions I attended. There were splendidly costumed bands, drum and bugle corps and drill teams, all led by peppy, high-strutting drum majorettes, that drew cheers all along the line of march. "One of the big attractions of the parade was provided by the Col. Charles Young Post of Detroit which had Joe Louis' mother, Mrs. Brooks, with their delegation. She was riding in a large Packard convertible with large banners on each side announcing her. There was a roar of applause 48 blocks of the parade route as she rode along. It was estimated that more than two million persons saw the parade.

"Either by coincidence or planning Negro artists were booked into the leading Broadway show places for the Legion invasion. Lena Horne is headlining the show at the fabulous Copacabana, Count Basie and His orchestra with Pearl Bailey, are holding forth at the Strand; Thelma Carpenter, the Eddie Cantor discoverer, is topping the bill at Loew's State and Bill 'Bojangles' Robinson is the star attraction at the Capitol.
