Henson Who Accompanied Admiral Peary on 4 Arctic Expeditions Gets Medal

Chicago, (NNPA)—Matthew Alexander Henson, 81, the only American to accompany Admiral Robert E. Peary to the North Pole on April 6, 1909, last Tuesday night was awarded the gold medal of the Geographic Society of Chicago.

The presentation was made by Dr. H. M. Leppard, professor of geography at the University of Chicago and president of the society at a meeting commemorating the organization's golden jubilee in Orchestra Hall.

Mr. Henson, who previously was awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor for his arctic exploits, has been living for a number of years with his wife in New York City. He receives retirement pay of $85 a month from the United States Customs Service.

Those words are inscribed on the medal Mr. Henson received last Tuesday night in the presence of Commander Donald B. MacMillan, noted arctic explorer, and the society's entire membership.

Born on Tenant Farm
Mr. Henson was born on an impoverished tenant farm in Charles County, Maryland, August 8, 1866. He worked as a cabin boy on a steamship and before he met Admiral Peary he had already made a Voyage to China. He himself built the sledges with which the journey to the pole was made.

He joined Admiral Peary, then a lieutenant, on an expedition to survey a canal across Nicaragua in 1887. He spent the day of April 7, 1909 with Admiral Peary and four Eskimos at the North Pole. It took the expedition ten months to reach the pole, traveling by boat, sledge and on foot from New York. It required six months to make their way back.

Admiral Peary said he had taken Mr. Henson with him on all his expeditions except the first because of his adaptability and fitness for the work and on account of his loyalty. He said Mr. Henson was a better assistant, as Admiral Peary himself admitted, "I can't get along without Henson," Admiral Peary said of Mr. Henson whose eyes are feeble from the effects of snow blindness suffered during the seven trips with the explorer.

Addressing a mass meeting called to support President Truman's civil rights program, Mr. Powell said: "You can't fight World War III with a white man's army because World War III, should it come, won't be a white man's war," Mr. Powell said. "One billion people will be our enemies or our allies depending on how we treat the Negro."

Affairs of Union Baptist Church in Court Again When Action Filed Against Pastor

The affairs of Union Baptist church were involved in district court litigation again Wednesday with the filing of injunction proceedings against the church pastor, the Rev. Ripley L. Turpin.

George E. Lockett, who formerly served as secretary of the board of directors of the church and chairman of the deacon board, joined with two former deacons, Junius Tate and Rufus Owens, and another church member, George A. Kendrick, to bring the action.

Defendants in the action, in addition to the Rev. Mr. Turpin, are Hayes Snyder, present chairman of the board of deacons, and the five members of the board of trustees.

District Judge Russell Jordan set Mar. 29 for hearing on the injunction.

The injunction petition asks that the defendants be enjoined from denying the petitioners the right to participate in church business affairs and commanding them to have regular church meetings as provided by the church doctrine.

In a court suit filed last September, the pastor and church officers were accused of making illegal use of the "pastor's aid fund." The action was withdrawn by the petitioners.

The church affairs were aired in court again last April when two members were charged with "disturbing the pastor's peace and quiet during services."

Rev. Turpin came to Union Baptist church in October 1946.

REDMOND KESLO

While working for the Veterans Administration as a clerk in the mailing department, Redmond Keslo, 1213 Crocker street, is studying and making plans for the work of a pilot.

Keslo has always had a yen in his heart for airplanes and flying. Even before he went into World War II in which he spent three years, he had a ground-school course for airplane engine mechanics, after which he secured a job at an airport, working with airplane engines.

Even before that as a young boy, while music teacher mother, Mrs. Johanna Keslo, taught her students, Keslo made many models of planes as his most favorite hobby.

Under the G. I. Bill of Rights, Keslo has already earned his private pilot's license and is now studying and flying weekly to complete 175 hours for a commercial pilot's license. After that Keslo will put in between 75 and 100 additional hours studying multi engines for an instructor's rating. By then he hopes to be qualified for some employment as an aviator in private industry.

At the moment, Keslo is not interested in owning his plane. He said the maintenance of a plane is "too steep for a poor man."

A graduate of North High school, he is a member of the St. Paul AME church, the secretary of the Monarch club and sings with the Des Moines Male chorus.

His wife is Mrs. Madelyn Keslo. They have a son, Richard Wendell, 5 years old.

ADD HOLY WEEK

Thursday, March 25: Community Sanctified church, Rev. L. I. Barnes; Corinthian Baptist church, Rev. C. A. Reed.

A home of charming traditional atmosphere, such as shown in the above picture, is achieved only by carefully selecting each item. For instance, the two end tables have a built-in section for plants and the lamps are made from old apothecary jars. The walls have been painted a deep green while the ceiling is crisp white to reflect the light in the room. The draperies repeat the deep, rich green tones of the walls and the lighter green of the couch. The window shades are pure white to match the ceiling and bring attention to the draperies.

FATHER and SON

10-INCH SPEEDBOAT

Budget: Dad, $3.00 for motor—Son, 55c for materials

Dear Dad: The hull is carved. The Supermite motor is driven by one or two Eveready flashlight batteries. First, lay out full-size patterns of the hull (Figures 1 and 2). The hull is built in three "lifts." The two upper lifts are to be cemented together to form the removable deck section. The lower lift forms the actual hull. Figure 3 shows how the lifts are assembled. Pin them together temporarily and carve the outside to shape. Figure 3 shows a typical section through the hull. After shaping the outside, separate the pieces and hollow out the upper and lower lifts. Cement the two lower lifts together and, when they are dry, hollow out No. 2 lift to conform with lift No. 3. Put in the motor block and the battery clips and fit the switch as shown in Figure 4. In making the connections, allow enough wire so that the deck position can be raised to replace batteries. Put in the propeller shaft housing. This may be any piece of metal tubing of just the right size to allow any easy fit for the shaft.

Make the propeller as shown in Fig. 4 and 5 and mount it on the shaft with cement. Hook up the propeller shaft to the motor shaft with a short length of plastic or rubber tubing. Next cut out the fin and press it into the bottom just ahead of the step station. Later it can be cemented in place but first sand down the entire hull with very fine sandpaper. Give the whole works a coat of sanding sealer (costs 10c) and sand down again.

The paint job is up to the builder. Masking-out lines are indicated for a two-tone desk paint job, but this is not essential. Nor is the motor hood or canopy, also indicated; but this detail improves the appearance of the boat and seals it against water damage to the batteries. Check any tendency to turn off course by bending the fin as needed and let her go.

Sincerely yours, Doug Rolfe

Banana Cup Cakes

Sliced bananas show off their good looks in these tempting banana cup cakes made with enriched flour for better food value.

Fruit variety is limited at this season so let's find different ways for using the "dependables" on the market. There are more ways than one to eat bananas. For proof, we offer these cup cakes with a real banana flavor, their fluffy frosting decked with two slices of the fruit.
The cup cakes are made by the usual cake method, with the flour mixture added to the creamed mixture alternately with mashed bananas and milk. Measure ingredients carefully, sifting flour once before measuring. Preserve the golden yellow of the zut bananas in the topping by dipping them in lemon or other citrus juice.
Besides good eating, the cup cakes boast of good food value supplied by the enriched flour with its protein, iron, and B-vitamins. The recipe makes a sufficient quantity to serve at a casual afternoon tea, or for after-school snack and dinner dessert.

BANANA CUP CAKES
2 cups sifted enriched flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
2 eggs, beaten
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 cup mashed bananas
2 tablespoons milk
1/2 cup chopped nuts

Sift together flour, baking powder, soda and salt. Cream together shortening and sugar until light and fluffy. Add eggs, mixing well. Add orange rind, lemon rind and vanilla extract. Add flour mixture to creamed mixture alternately with bananas and milk. Fold in nuts. Fill greased three-inch muffin pans two-thirds full. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 25 minutes. Yield: About 14 three-inch cup cakes.

PERSONAL TOUCH

Marie Ross

St. Patrick's Day was a big occasion for James Patrick Thompson, who recently was appointed to the Des Moines police force. He celebrated his birthday on March 17.

Mrs. Thompson cooked up one of Jimmy's favorite sweets—a pineapple upside down cake.

Dropped by the home of Mrs. Lucia Birney Wilburn of 1755 Walker street and found her, in a cheerful mood. She said she has not been so well this winter—but now that spring is coming she is feeling some better. Mrs. Wilburn was quite proud of an African violet which had some beautiful blooms on it. She said she has looked after for seven years.

In a chat with Atty, Genetrupe Rush, Tuesday just after she had cast her vote that elected all of her favored candidates, she was hopeful now that spring is at the threshold, that the weather should be fairly good and should not fall below the 40-degree above zero mark. But, she added, it would be a good idea to have your fur coat ready to put over that new Easter suit you are planning to wear.

One of the proud fathers who will attend the YMCA's annual "Father and Son's" banquet on Saturday night at the Crocker Branch is Ike Smalls who has a daughter but no sons of his own. For the event he will "adopt" about twelve or more young boys of the community to be his guests at the dinner.

B.H.O.—Please advise me what to do as my husband and I don't get along so well at times. I left him 2 or 3 times and he would do better but then he starts again. I am planning to leave again and make my own way.

Ans. It would be a tragedy for your four sons if you were to break up the home just because you and your husband fail to agree on everything. You're putting too much emphasis on the small things that he does that seem to annoy you—especially his occasional drinking. Be patient. Conditions will improve when your oldest son comes home this summer. He will be a good influence for your husband.

S.F.G.—I met a girl and we were to be married but something happened and she moved in with me. She started cheating and moved out. I know that she is not what she is supposed to be but I love her and there isn't anything in the world I wouldn't do for her. I would like to have her back and would try to buy her diamonds and other nice things to make her happy.

Ans. She doesn't love you and never did—she used you until she could do better and then sought greener pastures. This woman was much too old and experienced for you and you couldn't have possibly kept her satisfied for long. Forget her. Pay more attention to the young lass you have been going with.

DEWEY TAKES LEAD IN GOP RACE

In the first test of strength where votes have actually been cast, Governor Dewey comes out well in front as the leading contender for the Republican nomination for president.

WE HAVE FAILED TO LEAD INTELLIGENTLY

It often happens that the strongest fellow in the crowd muffs an opportunity to lead and thus finds himself confused and bewildered by his followers.

First, when UN was organized in San Francisco American delegates labored under the theory of reserving certain rights as advocated in the old League of Nations set up.

Second, the American military pulled out of Europe entirely too soon. Had they remained in Italy with a substantial force—there was no earthly reason to trust Italy to stay put.

Third, we goaded UN into a partition of Palestine purely for political reasons when common sense ought to have dictated that voting and talking alone will and cannot settle that question.

Fourth, sensible people know our policy with respect to China has been such a farce that the program has settled to a stage where our only plan is to give enough food to keep the Nationalist followers alive until a decision can be reached as to just what should be done.

Fifth, the negotiations Russia has been moving ahead steadily gobbling up one country after another.

Sixth, the passage of the Marshall Plan of aid to certain European countries by April 1.

Seventh, Pass Universal Military Training law.

Eighth, temporary reenactment of the selective service to build up the army.

Ninth, Economic and military aid to the western European nations which have banded themselves together to stop Communism.

Tenth, We'll here we are back where the country stood in 1941. The truth is pretty plain and we shall be forced to act in the light of the situation as it exists today.

Generally, it is not the men who fight and die who begin wars. The whole world situation is a rather sad story.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS TRY REFORMING TOWN ON RACIAL ATTITUDES

Somerville, N. J., (CNS)—Bent on doing their bit in combatting race prejudice, a group of high school kids are canvassing soda fountain and sweet shops to get owners to change their minds about serving Negroes.

At the same time, this crusading committee of eight has been trying to break down the tradition against the attendance of Negro kids to the high school dances.

'IGNORE RACIAL PROBLEM' SAYS LEADING COMPOSER

Hollywood—(CNS)—"The best way to solve the racial situation is by ignoring it," declared Deems Taylor, distinguished American composer and President of ASCAP, when he visited the West Coast for ASCAP's yearly meeting and dinner.

NEGRO STARRED IN ITALIAN FILM, PREVIEWED IN EBONY

Chicago—(CNS)—Little-known colored actor, is starred in the Italian movie "Paisan" (meaning countryman) previewed in April Ebony as a moving story of friendship between races and a sure-fire box office hit in this country.

RACE HATRED—MIGHTY DRAGON MRS. GILBERT TELLS HER LISTENERS

Marshalltown, Iowa—Race hatred is like a mighty dragon whose head is in the south and whose tail is in the north," Mrs. Eloria S. Gilbert, executive secretary of the Georgia NAACP, told a large audience last Friday night at the First Presbyterian church here.

"Our Northern friends can keep chopping at this tail and give some discomfort to the old dragon, but in order to kill him, you must strike him mortal blows in the head," she said.

Her appearance here was sponsored by the Marshalltown branch of the NAACP. William Burton, president, appearing on the program were Mrs. Helen Smith playing organ solos; Rev. E. Gladstone Scott, invocation; Mrs. Dorothy Morrow who led the singing of the anthem; Artice Maxwell who presented Mrs. Rose B. Johnson, president of the Iowa State Conference of NAACP; Mrs. Irma Morrow, program chairman; and Rev. Warren Overholser who gave the benediction.

VETERANS WHIRL

By James L. Hicks, NNPA Writer

Take it Easy, Mr. Businessman! From time to time this column has advised veterans to go into various fields of business and offered suggestions as to ways and means by which specific fields could be entered.

This column is to warn business-minded veterans not to be too hasty in plunging into business ventures.

The warning is brought on because of the seemingly determined efforts on the part of many veterans to prove that Mr. Barnum was right

HEALTH FOR ALL

CLIMATE AND TUBERCULOSIS

Just as the Spanish explorer Ponce de Leon sought the fountain of youth, people at one time hoped to find the "magic climate" that would cure tuberculosis.

Thanks to our constantly increasing knowledge of the disease, we know that these long and expensive journeys to a special kind of climate are unnecessary. With bed rest and good sanatorium care, the majority of tuberculosis patients have good prospects for recovery anywhere in the country, regardless of climate.

We know today that rest and sanatorium care are more important to the tuberculosis patient than a change of climate. If you have been told that you have tuberculosis, you would be wise to go to a sanatorium near your home.

The doctor knows that it is the quality of treatment that you get, not the climate, that is most important to your cure. He will tell you that your most helpful aids will be the able physicians, experienced nurses and closely supervised rest programs that are found in all good sanatoriums.

As a matter of fact, many victims of tuberculosis have delayed or made cure impossible by wasting time, money and energy in long trips to distant mountain or desert atmospheres.

Mental relaxation as well as physical care is necessary to your recovery. You are more likely to get it when you are in comparatively familiar surroundings and near your family and friends.

This article is presented by the Polk County Tuberculosis Association in the interest of better health.

Boxing—Who Saw What?

We sat through last week's fight program at the Coliseum and then read the daily paper accounts. We wondered if we saw the same show those guys wrote about.

LeRoy Edwards, billed as from Mississippi, but now said to have come from Chicago, Denver, or just anywhere, was knocked out in round one by Frank Danos, a hard hitting southpaw from Denver.

Our elementary knowledge of physiology just won't let us figure out how a man could be hit in the stomach and knocked unconscious for five minutes. The daily papers said a body punch sent Edwards writing to the canvas.

Produced in Italy by Rod Geiger whose low-budget, no big names production of "Open City" grossed millions, "Paisan" is the story of the American 5th Army's relations with Italians told through the medium of six episodes, Ebony says.

Then there was the bout between Willie Henderson and one Segoba from Omaha. Segoba, tough and willing, took a terrific beating for four rounds before being smashed to the floor with body punch. In this bout the officials examined Segoba for signs of a low blow, and didn't find any. The dailies said Edwards had "laid a low blow, but an unconscious man finds it pretty hard to make any sort of a claim.

The Post Office has revised Mr. Barnum's statement so that is now reads "Swindlers look just like other people—only more so," but both statements should tell you to beware.

With the housing situation being what it is, one of the easiest swindles being worked on veterans pops up much too often in the real estate business.

The Commerce Department has a few rules which it feels will help. It realizes these rules are not fool proof but it passes them on. Here they are:

Before you sign a contract, read it and make certain you understand it. And don't fail to get a copy of your contract. Do not hesitate to consult an expert about any problem that you are in doubt about—even though the promoter tells you that the matter is simple and a man of your profound comprehension can easily understand it.

Demand reference. If the promoter hesitates or tries to evade the question, watch out—the chances are he is unable to provide them. Finally, remember that you won't ever get anything for nothing—that is, anything of value.

Dr. C. C. Bush Corrects Information Regarding Negro Nurses in Iowa

"Nothing in last week's Bystander (Feb. 26) an article concerning a young Des Moines lady, Miss Ida Smith, having been accepted for nurse training supposedly the first of our group in Iowa to be accepted, I am sorry to take the honor from Iowa Methodist in Des Moines," wrote Dr. C. C. Bush, 400 W. Seventh street, Sioux City, Iowa.

LOST CONTACT

Why do we lose contact with our children? Why do they hide their thoughts and feelings from us?

We have tried our very best to raise them right. Yet their furtive eyes stare upon us. As early as one year they learn to look guilty and expect our disapproval.

Older children are self-conscious when we are around. If we want to see them behaving naturally, we must watch from behind the window curtain.

At adolescence the gulf widens until some of us look helplessly across at our young people. We would like to advise them but we have lost contact.

Do we lose contact because we depend too much upon guilty feelings to restrain their behavior? We try to teach them to be good by telling them how naughty they are. "Naughty child" is a familiar sound before they can understand the words.

The child's natural urges force him into behavior for which we roundly scold him. We make him feel guilty.

He learns to avoid discovery. He keeps his eye upon us. He learns to keep his own counsel. Then we have lost contact and no longer can help the child. He no longer can come to us for help, although he would like to do so.

We might try to think of his misdeeds as part of his natural struggle to learn proper behavior. He is not guilty. He is trying to meet our demands, although this is hard for us to believe.

We might help him to face his behavior as a mistake and not as a crime. We might show him better ways to behave.

This kind of training requires more time and thought than easy use of guilt and fear. But positive training helps us to keep close to our children. Negative training may end in lost contacts.

UNDERSTANDING IOWA CHILDREN

SPONSORED BY THE IOWA CHILD WELFARE RESEARCH STATION

Two purposes of the youth council of the NAACP, which has launched its membership drive, are to support our rights and demolish race prejudice. James Harris, president of the council told the members.

You may be the next one who will need the assistance of this organization and it would be a good investment for all of Des Moines young people to join.

"It is fun to roller skate when we chose. But can we? It is fun to go bowling. But can we? The invariable answer is no but the reason why has not yet been completely solved and this is the opportunity where you can come and join us by doing your part to enjoy the best, clean and non-discriminated fun which youth should be allowed to participate in without question.

"So be on your toes" and be present at the next meeting, March 19, at the YWCA. The membership contest will continue until May when a king and queen will be crowned.
