Pres. Truman Orders 'Equality' in Army

Chief Executive Outlaws Bias in Civil Service Jobs; To Setup Employment Unit

Washington, D. C., (NNPA)—President Truman late Monday afternoon set up a Fair Employment Practice system to prevent race and religious discrimination in Federal employment...

The regulations prescribed by the President for fair employment practices within the Government provide for the establishment of a "Fair Employment Board" in the Civil Service Commission.

This board would have authority to review decisions made by the heads of departments and the board is empowered to report to the President cases in which its recommendations are not carried out.

The President's order also directs appointing officers in the executive departments to take appropriate steps to insure that all personnel actions are taken on the basis of merit and without distinction as to race or religion.

The head of each agency is made personally responsible for an effective program to insure that fair employment policies are fully observed in his agency.

President Truman ordered each agency head to designate a Fair Employment officer, who shall be given "full operating responsibility, under the immediate supervision of the department head, for carrying out the fair-employment policy" stated in the executive order.

The duties of the Fair Employment officer include the appraisal of personnel actions of his agency to determine their conformity to the executive order, the receipt of complaints or appeals concerning personnel actions where race or religious discrimination is alleged, and to take necessary corrective or disciplinary action in conformity with...

TO BUILD 1,800 APARTMENTS ON CHICAGO SOUTH SIDE

Chicago (NNPA)—Governor Dwight Green last Wednesday reported that private enterprise will build 1,800 apartments on Chicago's South Side with the state and city sharing the cost of clearing away slums to make 10 square blocks available.

This venture, in which the New York Life Insurance company is expected to spend $18,000,000 is the first Chicago private enterprise project under Governor Green's blighted area redevelopment law passed in 1947.

The mammoth project will be located between 31st and 33rd streets, and between the lake front and South Parkway. "The new housing to be built by private enterprise will have no tax exemptions and will pay local taxes in full," Governor Green said. "At the present time this slum property is paying in taxes to the city far less than the cost of municipal services provided in that area."

Enforcement of New Draft Matter for Department of Justice Says L. B. Hershey

Washington, D. C., (NNPA)—After he was sworn in last Monday as Director of Selective Service, Major General Lewis B. Hershey said enforcement of the new draft law was a matter for the Department of Justice.

His statement was made in reply to a question of whether prosecution would be instituted against persons who advocated civil disobedience to the law as a protest against racial segregation in the armed services.

"A Philip Randolph, president of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, and Grant Reynolds, a member of the seven-man New York State Commission of Corrections and chairman of the League for Non-Violent Civil Disobedience Against Military Segregation, are advocating that youths, subject to the law, refuse to register or to be inducted until race segregation is ended in the armed services.

President Truman has ordered registration for the new draft to begin August 30 for men 18 through 25 years of age. The registration will continue through September 18. Different age groups will register as follows. Those born in 1923 will register August 31 or September 1.

Washington, D. C., (NNPA)—Bygones General Benjamin O. Davis, the Army's only colored general officer, last Tuesday was personally congratulated by President Truman for his "most remarkable career."

Flanked by Defense Secretary James Forrestal and Army Secretary Kenneth C. Royall, President Truman presented a scroll to General Davis, signed by himself and Mr. Royall. The scroll, read by the President, follows: "It is a genuine pleasure to sign this special testimonial of the admiration and esteem of your host of Army comrades.

Klu Klux Klan Initiates Several Hundred Neophytes At Cross-Burning Ceremony

Atlanta (NNPA)—The Ku Klux Klan last Friday night initiated several hundred neophytes at a cross-burning ceremony in a pasture on the east side of Stone Mountain.

Approximately 5,000 people, including a large number of men and some women wearing Klan regalia, heard Grand Dragon Samuel Green urge his followers to vote for the gubernatorial candidate who advocates white supremacy. He did not mention a specific candidate's name for support.

Green attacked attempts "by Yankee bayonet" to enforce racial equality. The Klan, now operating without a charter, heralded the initiation as the greatest in several years.

Advancing the doctrine of white supremacy, Dr. Green recalled reconstruction days in the South after the Civil War and asserted: "If Mr. Truman is able to put his civil rights program into effect and

Wallace and Taylor Accept Third Party Nominations; Howard Is Keynote Speaker

Philadelphia (NNPA)—Henry A. Wallace, accepting the Presidential nomination of the Progressive party at Shibe Park last Saturday night, urged the United States to get out of Berlin.

Speaking before a crowd estimated at 25,000 who paid admission to hear him and his running mate, Senator Glen H. Taylor, of Idaho, make their acceptance speeches, Wallace said this country has nothing to lose by giving up Berlin, "in a search for peace."

Senator Taylor, in his acceptance speech, followed the Wallace theme on foreign affairs, criticized national defense officials, and promised to return to Birmingham where he was arrested when he attempted to brush off the men and enter the front door of a colored church.

Philadelphia (NNPA)—Sounding the keynote of the New Party Founding convention, which nominated Henry A. Wallace as its Presidential candidate and Senator Glen H. Taylor, of Idaho, for Vice President, Charles P. Howard, an attorney and publisher in Des Moines, Iowa, declared that the choice of the American people is Wallace or war.

On the domestic front, Mr. Howard proposed an eight-point program including: restoration of price control and rollback from dollar butter and 25-cent milk, abolition of Jim Crow, a housing program of 8,000,000 home for veterans and working people, a national health insurance program, a $100 monthly minimum old age pension, raising the minimum legal wage of $1 an hour, the repeal of the Taft-Hartley law, and repeal of the draft and compulsory military training act.

After his election as the temporary chairman of the convention, Mr. Howard, 54-year old former Republican, launched into his keynote address.

"I look across this hall, and I see no one here tonight answer the roll call for duPont or the House of Morgan," he declared. "I see no delegate who will rise to speak for the Ku Klux Klan. I see no delegate from the Hague machine and the Kelly machine, the Pew machine or the Grundy machine."

He spoke as follows: "Now, at last, the people of America, come to convention.

"We meet in a historic hall, still haunted by the ghost of a Republican circus and a Democratic funeral. Listen closely, and you can still hear the echoes of the back-room deal and the machine-made sellout. We meet in a hall still littered with the phony promises of bargain-basement politicians and corporation counsels.

"Well, the carbon copy conventions are over. The money changers are gone from this temple. Now at last we have come to say what the people need, what the people demand, and what the people shall have."

"This is really only the second convention to meet in this election. The Republicans and Democrats were merely two sections of the same convention.

Chief Executive Outlaws Bias in Civil Service Jobs; To Setup Employment Unit

Washington, D. C. (NNPA)—President Truman late last Monday afternoon set up a Fair Employment Practice system to prevent race and religious discrimination in Federal employment and at the same time issued an executive order establishing a committee on "equality of treatment and opportunity" in the armed services.

They are going ahead and take advantage of this opportunity, no matter what anyone says, but they should be encouraged to take the step as soon as possible.

Parents of draft age men might as well face it—Junior is on his way in uniform and the quicker he gets into his uniform and gets out again the better off he will be. Some will say if Junior goes now and war comes, he will be one of the first to see action. That may or may not be true.

He repainted his home which is covered with white weather-board, tinted the blue imitation shutters, built a trellis house of lathe which is covered now with vines, constructed a picnic table and rebuilt and repainted lawn chairs. "With his health "just as good now as it was 25 years ago," Mr. Parker said he plans to enjoy life with his wife, Cornelia. He works about his home from sun-up to sunset and hasn't had a chance to take any afternoon naps. Mr. and Mrs. Parker have eight children. TRUMAN CONGRATULATES GEN. DAVIS FOR 'MOST REMARKABLE CAREER'

Washington, D. C. (NNPA)—Brigadier General Benjamin O. Davis, the Army's only colored general officer, last Tuesday was personally congratulated by President Truman for his "most remarkable career."

Flanked by Defense Secretary James Forrestal and Army Secretary Kenneth C. Royall, President Truman presented a scroll to General Davis, signed by himself and Mr. Royall. The scroll, read by the President, follows: "It is a genuine pleasure to sign this special testimonial of the admiration and esteem of your host of Army comrades.

Klu Klux Klan Initiates Several Hundred Neophytes At Cross-Burning Ceremony

Atlanta (NNPA)—The Ku Klux Klan last Friday night initiated several hundred neophytes at a cross-burning ceremony in a pasture on the east side of Stone Mountain.

Approximately 5,000 people, including a large number of men and some women wearing Klan regalia, heard Grand Dragon Samuel Green urge his followers to vote for the gubernatorial candidate who advocates white supremacy. "If Mr. Truman is able to put his civil rights program into effect and again use Yankee bayonets in the Southland, blood will run in the streets.

"We of the southern states shall fight. We will never give up states' rights as guaranteed by the Constitution. "We will never accept racial social equality."

Proclaiming segregation to be "a God-made law," Dr. Green made an unmistakable appeal for support of Herman Talmadge, son of the late Eugene Talmadge, who is attempting a political comeback in a bitter contest for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

The grand dragon, who closed his Klan demonstration to coincide with the opening of Henry A. Wallace's Philadelphia convention to found a third party, characterized former Governor Ellis Arnall as "Benedict Arnall."

Baseball Game Friday at Pioneer Park to Feature Globetrotters-Islanders

An outstanding novelty baseball game, matching the great Harlem Globetrotters, who are rated by many as the top Negro nine of the nation, and the Honolulu Hawaiians from the mid-Pacific has been arranged for Pioneer Memorial Park on July 30 at 8 p.m.

The Globetrotters, as great in baseball as are their namesakes of the same management in basketball, have come out of the far west with an imposing record to act as host team to the Hawaiians on the latter's tour of the mainland.

A. M. Saperstein's hustling Trotter aggregation has compiled a brilliant record of wins, including two straight recently over the Coors' Golden, Colo., winners of the Denver national tournament last season, and seven victories in 13 starts with Satchel Paige's Kansas City Stars.

The Hawaiians, representing the pick of the players in Honolulu and embracing American-Hawaiians of Japanese, Chinese, Korean, English, Filipino and Puerto Rican descent, have proved in their far west games to date to be the best of the fine nines that have come over to the mainland from Hawaii.

The Globetrotters' comedy department is headed by Ed Hamman, renowned clown of sports who has been seen here on several occasions. The team's playing lineup features such greats as Sam Wheeler, Sherwood Brewer, Joe Bankhead, Paul Hardy, Zell Miles, Othella Strong, Winslow Means, Johnny Cogdell, Roger Pierre and others.

With the Globetrotters as a pitcher is Boie Bule, the one armed sensation of the Trotters basketball team.

Among their achievements this season, the Trotters stopped off in Denver and won two straight from the Coors of Golden, Colo., winners of last year's Denver national tournament, including 11 wins in 13 games against Satchel Paige's Kansas City Stars earlier in the season. Per cent of their games since early in the season. They've won more than 90

GENEVA DAVIS
When the Des Moines Railway began the use of tokens, a staff of token sellers was employed and stationed on downtown corners for the accommodation of street car patrons purchasing the tokens during the rush hours daily from 3:45 to 5:40 p.m.

In the group of young women is one Negro token saleslady, Mrs. Geneva Davis of 1149 Ascension street, who has been stationed on the northeast corner of Fifth and Grand Avenue since the recent change in fares. She wears the new railway company's cap and carries the leather shoulder bag which is filled with tokens and passes which she sells to the public.

Business on her corner has been pretty good, Mrs. Davis revealed. She lik dealing with her public which in most cases, in a hurry to buy the tokens. Making change fast and accurately so that the customer may catch the waiting bus or car is the most important factor in her new job. She sees many of her friends—but does not have much time for chatting.

She greets all of her customers with a smile and doesn't mind how many rush her to buy the tokens. "Everyone is so nice to deal with," Mrs. Davis commented.

"Dudley, Can't You Wait on All the Customers at the Same Time?"

Poor Dudley! He could tell you a lot about feminine whims. Taking his customers one at a time is usually quite enough to test all his capabilities. But how different it is in the electric business! For electricity must be manufactured and delivered as you use it, and there are periods every day when you and almost all your neighbors use electricity at the same time.

During the "peak" periods, mid-morning and mid-afternoon, when almost everyone is calling for electric service, we have to send out more and more power to meet increased needs. Often our generating stations are taxed to the limit. Serious delays in delivery of vital electric equipment have prevented us from keeping ahead of this community use of low-cost electricity during "peak load" hours.

At present, it's the "peak" periods that worry us most when your demand for service is piled on top of the demands of thousands of other customers... but we'll be doing our best to get over those daily "humps" during the summer.

ST. PAUL CHURCH HOLDS MEN'S DAY; PHILIP HUBBARD IS SPEAKER

Day at St. Paul A.M.E. church and a group of men from St. Paul proceeded for the choir in the morning.
The scripture lesson was read by Atty. M. J. Carl. The pastor, Rev.

"Just Right" Film Wanted To Pack "Bing" Cherries

Any manufacturer who can supply a plastic film that exactly meets the needs of the sweet cherry growers of the Northwest will find eager buyers, according to cherry packaging tests
by U. S. department of agriculture scientists.

Films now on the market meet the various requirements, but no single film combines all the qualities needed.

The big deep-red Bing cherries come to Eastern markets and reach consumers from a week to two weeks after picking. When shippers load cherries they place in to a half a ton of solid carbon dioxide (dry ice) in the refrigerator car. This keeps renewing the supply of gas, but enough escapes so that the car rarely has more than a 10 per cent supply.

Cherries, like other fruits, respire (breathe). They use oxygen and give off carbon dioxide. Why not pack the cherries in a gas-tight package and make use of this natural supply of the gas? Under fast, cherries in a really gas-tight plastic box used up all the oxygen available and generated too much carbon dioxide and so got to market off flavor.

What is needed is a strong, transparent film that will allow considerable moisture to escape and some (but not much) transfer of carbon dioxide and outside air. The ideal film would retain just the right proportion of carbon dioxide and moisture for a period of a week or 10 days.

Housewife Query on House Dresses

American Home Economics association recently conducted a survey of 15,000 women to see what they considered to be the necessary qualities in a house dress. The women questioned said that house dresses should be moderate in price, colorfast, controlled for shrinking or stretching, and constructed so as to prevent excessive raveling and should have well made seams and hems, good stitching, good buttonholes, well secured and reinforced fastenings and pockets, securely attached trimmings, properly constructed collars, plackets and facings, and shoulder pads properly constructed and placed and secured firmly.

Most housewives know from experience that too short washing does not get clothes clean, but many do not realize the disadvantages of overlong washing. Running the machine

WIN PRIZES IN THE ANNUAL CLEAN-UP AND BEAUTIFY CONTEST

Prizes will be awarded Monday night, August 2, at 8 o'clock, at the Crocker YMCA, to winners in the recent Clean-up and Beautify contest.

Winning homes and lawns were: first, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Parker, 1926 Easton boulevard. (SEE PICTURE ON FRONT PAGE).

Second: Mrs. Maud Pickett's little bungalow at 1004 16th street won second place. A widow of 25 years, Mrs. Pickett spent most of her efforts this year in the rebeautifying of her yard. She planted many varieties of flowers, bordered flower gardens with painted rocks, hung vines on her porch, planted grass in her back yard where fruit trees and grape vines grow. Her home is a white-painted frame with black screens. Recently she had the interior redecorated, too.

A deaconess in Corinthian Baptist church, she has four grown sons.

Third: The home of Mr. and Mrs. Irwin White at 1228 Dixon street won third place in the contest. In talking of his improvements this week, Mr. White stopped laying his cement sidewalk and revealed some of the work that his entire family had done. "We extended the porch and screened it, we made a backyard picket gate which is supported on wheels to keep from sagging, we planted flowers, moss and shrubs and we even the baby daughter—painted the white stucco" on his home, the veteran of World War II informed.

Mr. and Mrs. White who attend Bethel AME church, have three children. He is a clerk in the post office here.

Four: The brick and frame home of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Guinn, 1622 Stewart avenue, won fourth place in the contest. Mr. and Mrs. Guinn who have resided at their present address since 1937 have been making improvements gradually. Starting with four rooms they have added kitchen, bath, breakfast nook, and porch. On their eight lots they have strawberries, raspberries, grapes and fruit trees of which Mr. Guinn is proud. Ever-blooming roses, shrubs and a neat lawn decorate their place. Mr. Guinn, a veteran of World War I, is employed at the Iowa Packing house. Parents of a son who is on a furlough from army service in Guam, they are members of the East Seventeenth and University Avenue Church of God in Christ.

Other prize winners were: Mr. and Mrs. William Warfield, 127 Ridge street, fifth; Mr. and Mrs. James Rhodes, 716 Boyd street, sixth; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Marrow, 1100 17th street, seventh; Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Dysart, 949 17th street, eighth; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Allen, 1162 17th street, ninth; Mr. and Mrs. Lee Kemp, 1174 14th street, tenth.

Judges in the contest were: Harry Holden, president of the Des Moines Real Estate Board; William Collins, chief of the Horticultural Department of Iowa; Theodore Bell, real estate agent.

Officers of the Clean-Up and Beautify Contest committee are: James B. Morris, president; Rev. A. B. Brewer, vice president; Miss Thelma Craddock, secretary; A. P. Trotter, treasurer.

More Labor on Less Wood As N. W. Forests Thin Out

Forests of the Northwest are thinning out, and the big lumber centers are "under the necessity of putting more labor into less wood to maintain their industrial communities," says J. A. Hall, director of the Pacific Northwest forest and range experiment station.

The Grays Harbor area in Washington, says Hall, shows how a cut-and-get-out sawmill center can stay in business and remain home for the Deaks family. In its heyday, there were 20 or more sawmills in the area, employing 9,000 men and producing more than a billion and a half feet of crude lumber a year.

Exhaustion of the easily accessible fir followed. Only a few of the old mills remain, but "they are doing a much closer job of manufacture." And new industries have come in. About 8,500 men are employed, almost as many as in the palmy days—but only one-third work in sawmills. Probably less than a third of the volume of wood passes through Grays Harbor than passed through 20 years ago.

Today there is much closer utilization of the forest—not only of the remaining fir, but of hemlock, and spruce. Good use is being made of material which formerly went to the trash burner or the hog for fuel.

Cow-Catcher Was Invented To Prevent Derailments

It was Isaac Dripps, boss-mechanic of the Camden and Amboy railroad, who thought up the cow-catcher, or pilot. The road was having a small amount of trouble with derailments caused by wandering horses and cattle, which were forever getting onto the tracks. The line's superintendent asked Dripps if he couldn't do something to relieve the situation.

Dripps built a low truck and attached it to the front end of the engine. Sticking out ahead of the two truck wheels were several long and pointed bars of wrought iron. "That rig" Isaac Dripps declared of the formidable weapon, "ought to impale any animal that may be struck and prevent it from falling under the engine wheels."

Wheel-Chair Kitchen

As a first step in a program to aid an estimated five million disabled U. S. housewives, a complete kitchen that can be operated by a woman in a wheel chair has been designed, in Bridgeport, Conn.

The program is sponsored by the Institute of Rehabilitation in New York, an outgrowth of affiliation between New York university and Bellevue hospital. The institute is supported by a $250,000 grant from the Bernard Baruch committee on physical medicine and by resources from the Milbank memorial fund and other agencies. According to Dr. Howard A. Rusk, executive chairman of the institute and wartime army rehabilitation head, work in the field of rehabilitation has thus far overlooked the five million disabled housewives in the United States. Of this number, Dr. Rusk asserted, "two million depend on crutches or wheelchairs. They constitute the largest occupationally disabled group in the country."

"Eye" With Supervision

There's a cold, calculating and synthetic "eye" that can see 1,000 feet. It's an "electric eye" which engineers have developed to see nearly four times as far as present equipment. It is not affected adversely by snow or rain, or outside light, and it has many uses. These engineers are applications of the "eye" in the automatic routing of automobiles on highways, operation of traffic signals upon approach of a vehicle, and "fencing" in of restricted locations where intruders would be dangerous and reported. The beam is broken by an object, and the relay sets into operation alarms, signals, relays and other electric equipment.

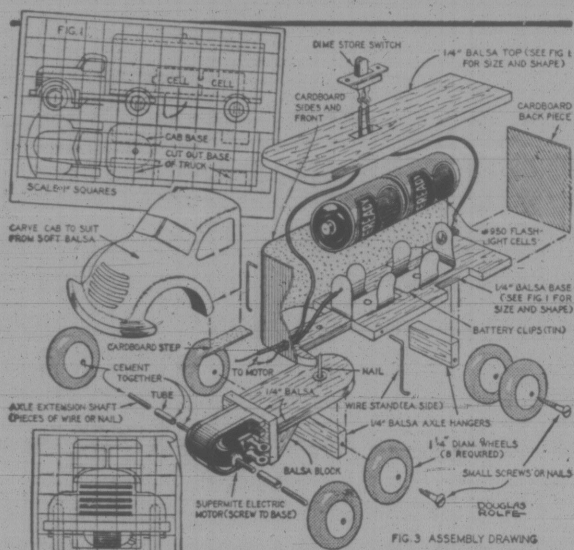

Dawn Redwoods to Be Preserved

Steps to preserve the dawn redwoods of China, the "living botanical fossils" of the Valley of the Tigris, have been announced simultaneously in Nanking and at the University of California. Announcement by the Chinese government of a botanical conservation committee composed of some of China's most eminent men was reported by Dr. Ralph W. Chaney, professor of plant geography, whose recent expedition stimulated the conservation movement. Presumably the dawn redwoods were believed to have perished 20 million years ago.

How To Cook Asparagus

Asparagus should be cooked quickly in a small amount of boiling water until just tender, then served promptly. To prevent tips from overcooking, tie the asparagus stalks into bundles and stand them in boiling water in the top of a double boiler. Cook and cook until the stems are just tender. Or, cook the asparagus in a regular pan by propping the tips up out of the water.

FATHER and SON

EVEREADY TRAILER TRUCK

Cost: Dad, $3.00 for motor—Son, 75 cents for materials. Materials may be obtained at local hobby shop.

Dear Dad:

This trailer truck is powered with a midget electric motor and employs direct front wheel drive. It is activated by one or more No. 950 Eveready flashlight cells (drawings show two cells hooked up in series) and is easy to build. It is composed of two complete units: the cab or engine unit and the truck section which is pivoted loosely to the cab platform directly above the cab rear wheels. The truck unit may have twin wheels as shown or single wheels can be used at a saving of about ten cents in costs. Wheels used are the cheapest model airplane wheels obtainable and are advertised by most model firms. Start operations by making up full-size plans of the wooden parts. This is done following the scaled drawings, Figures 1 and 2, which are squared to simplify dimensions. Exact adherence to the given dimensions is not important and in fact the overall size of the truck unit can be reduced if preferred. Top and base or bottom of the truck should be the same size and shape but the base must be cut out to clear the wheels and also to allow small radius turns. These pieces are later joined with a single length of light cardboard which is cemented in place. The backpiece should be simply pinned in place to permit quick removal for servicing the batteries. Before assembling the pieces, put in the solid balsa or built up to suit—the lighter the better. The motor is screwed directly onto the chassis as shown. Three 3/4" screws are required here. It will be seen that the front axle, which is a continuation of the motor shaft, requires some sort of extension axle. This can be formed of two short lengths of steel wire or piece of nail and two short lengths of tubing. These can be soldered together or, in a pinch, joined with cement. Wheel track on the model described is 2 3/4" but may be reduced to 2 1/2" to suit. If you find after hooking up the wiring that your truck runs backwards, don't worry. All you need to do is reverse the batteries in their clip.

Sincerely yours, Doug Rolfe

Home-Frozen Peas, Beans, Equal Commercial Quality

Home frozen peas and snap beans are as fine in flavor and color and as high in vitamin content as those frozen by more rapid commercial methods, says Miss Mable Doremus, extension foods and nutrition specialist.

Vegetables in pound packages require two hours to freeze solidly by commercial methods, and as much as eight hours in home freezers, yet tests made at the New York state experiment station show no difference in appetizing qualities and nutritive value after cooking.

Many folk have felt that the more rapid commercial freezing makes a better product. It has been suggested that foods should be commercially frozen and home freezers used for storage only. However, the New York station reports, the homemaker need not hesitate to use her home freezer for freezing vegetables at home.

Miss Doremus emphasizes the importance of speed in handling and cooling foods for home freezing. She cautions against packing a large number of unfrozen and therefore relatively warm packages closely in the freezer, since this can slow up freezing enough to start spoilage.

Iowa Raising Game

One thousand of Iowa's 1,400 rural mail carriers will assist the state conservation commission in determining game populations during the next year. Four surveys will be made during 1948. Under the plan the carriers who have signified their willingness to cooperate will record their observations of all pheasants, quail and cotton-tails seen while driving their routes every day for six days. At the end of the six-day period the tallies will be mailed to the biology section of the state conservation commission for compilation. The mail carrier tally is being carried out successfully in several states at the present time; however, Iowa's road system and much of the terrain of this state are "made to order" for wildlife counts by this method. The average route length is 45 miles, which means that if the anticipated 1,000 carriers cooperate voluntarily, records for 45,000 miles of road will be tabulated.

Change in Rates For Subscriptions

The Bystander has made some increase in subscription and advertising rates during the past 5 years, but for less than the cost it has been required to pay to produce a creditable newspaper. With the continued mounting costs, it must either ask the public to pay more for the paper, reduce the size or close up shop.

Convinced that the public wants the Bystander to continue to produce a good newspaper, beginning July 15, the subscription rates will be:

Table with 2 columns: Subscription duration (1 Year, 6 months, Single copy) and Rate ($2.75, 1.50, .07).

A discount of 25 cents will be allowed as usual for payment before expiration.

Home-Canned Dill Pickles Should Be on Your Shelves

Put Up Some Kosher Style for Variety in Taste

That craving for Dill Pickles can be satisfied early and often if generous jars of home-canned Dill Pickles are put on the shelf during the height of the pickle season. It's a good idea to put up some jars of Kosher style for variety in taste appeal.

Here are the ingredients for Dill Pickles:

- 35 to 40 fresh cucumbers
2 tablespoons mixed spices
1/2 pound dill
2 cups salt
2 gallons water
2 cups vinegar

Wash and dry cucumbers. Put a layer of dill and one-half of the spices in a stone jar. Add the cucumbers. Put the remaining spices and dill on top of the cucumbers. Boil salt, water, and vinegar two minutes. Cool to room temperature and pour over cucumbers. Cover with a plate weighted down to hold cucumbers under the brine. Keep at an even temperature (68-72 degrees F.). Remove scum each day. The pickles are ready for canning when they are crisp, uniform in color, and well-flavored with dill. This usually requires from two to four weeks. Test by taste! Pack the cured pickles into hot Ball Jars, cover with hot brine and seal. Note: Strain the brine in which the pickles are cured and boil five minutes, or make fresh brine. If the pickles are to be stored a long time, they should be processed in water bath 15 minutes ab-simmering.

To make Kosher Pickles, add one small clove garlic, one bay leaf, one-half teaspoon mustard seed, two tablespoons sugar, one piece red pepper, and one-half cup vinegar to one or one and one-half cups of strained brine. Boil two minutes and pour while hot over plain dill pickles after they are packed into the jars.

PERSONAL TOUCH

Marie Ross

Back home from Minnesota where she attended the first session of summer school at the University of Minnesota is Miss Frances Lowery of 1267 Stewart street. School work was so "rugged" for the former office secretary of the Bystander that she, in some way, pulled some of her fingers out of their joints and now is wearing a neat plaster-paris cast on them. The cast is quite attractive, too, for it has been autographed with the names of some of her classmates.

Young fathers are quite busy these days, looking after their new arrivals. Hurrying home the other evening to his wife, Bernice, and their seven-week old son, Robert, when Wright was Papa Bob Wright who is working hard this summer getting ready to go back to his law studies at the University of Iowa in September. Out airing their daughter, Ann Marie, born on July 9, were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Kelly, Jr. Mr. Kelly is working hard getting ready to go back to his law studies at Drake university in the fall. Mrs. Kelly says the baby has a very good appetite and "just eats and sleeps now."

On the east side are some proud young parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wood Wollery. "Mama" Wollery, former Victoria Kitchen, says her main problem at the moment is getting up in the middle of the night with their five-week old daughter, Holly Bonita. FRIENDLY GUIDANCE!
ON YOUR HUMAN RELATIONSHIP PROBLEMS
by The ABBE' WALLACE Service

Readers who feel the need of a direct-by-mail, confidential reply—should send 10c and a stamped, return envelope for Abbe's "private reading letter" covering their individual problem. Mail your letter to: The Abbe' Wallace Service, P. O. Box 11, Atlanta 1, Georgia.

Iowa Bystander, 221 1/2 Locust Street, Des Moines 9, Ia.

R.M.B.—I am a woman of 20, have been married 2 years, 8 mas., and have 2 children and expecting another one. My husband stayed in the army much over a year, and has been out two years. We live in a very nice house belonging to his grandparents. I bought a home while he was in the service like he told me to do but he didn't like anything about it so we sold it and moved back with his grandma. Now I can't get him to buy another house with the money. He would rather have a car. I love him very much and hope to stay with him, so please tell me what to do?

Ans: Don't give up working on him to buy the home. He might be swayed if you reason with him and promise to work with him toward buying a car. . . after you have the home. Appeal to his business judgment, that the home is a good, sound, financial investment . . . that you can always get your money back from it . . . whereas the car is an expense, and besides, this is a poor time to buy a car anyway. Don't be too bull-headed. He means more to you than both the home and the car, but don't give in until you have exhausted every reasonable chance of accomplishing your dear-est wish.

G.B.—I am very unhappy. I have tried for years to get along with my sister and for all of trying she has made me very unhappy. Please tell me what is the trouble and what to do?

Ans: When two strong personalities clash and both have different viewpoints on everything . . . separation is the easiest solution. You love your sister and she loves you but you have nothing in common except blood. Absence makes the heart grow fonder and heals family jealousies, believe me. If a change can be arranged with no hardships or bitterness resulting you both would likely be better satisfied.

Mrs. J.M.F.—My husband and I are tired of living here, we want to leave and go up north. Do you think we will better our condition by doing so? Please reply as soon as you can.

Ans: I am a firm believer in making a change when you find yourself in a rut. Of course, you should make this change if you both are unhappy and dissatisfied with your present lot. You can't lose much, and you have much to gain. So, go north with the determination to make good and be good and respected citizens. Good luck to you!

E.L.C.—I am worried. Have almost worried myself to death. Yes, I am in love with a boy but I have to let him go. He is 15 and I'm 14. He makes me mad when he brings others around me. He says I love you and always says he is going to whip me. Is that true love with him or not?

Ans: No, Sister, it isn't. You don't want any part of sweethearts that rule with an iron hand. Neither of you should be taking love seriously as you are . . . at your ages. Choose your friends from among your Sunday School classmates and go with boys who are more ambitious to get ahead.

M.H.W.—Please tell me why it is when I get out of work it is always three or four months before I can get another job? Please print this in next week's paper.

Ans: There's no reason why you should be without work for that length of time. Apparently, you don't know how to get about finding work. You can get a job immediately if you go about it in the right manner. Send 25c for one of the Happier Living Lessons and I will send you information that will help issue of little things is inviting you get employment right away.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S MOVE GOOD SO FAR

A hungry old lady receiving some unexpected aid from a questionable source remarked that she was thankful even though the devil brought it.

Unquestionable, the recent orders by President Truman banning racial discrimination in federal departments setting up a board in the civil service commission and a representative in each department to deal with the question and requiring equality for races in civilian employment and in the armed service—and this is not quite clear—are political moves calculated to garner the Negro vote and to satisfy the left-wing group in this country who feel that the Democratic platform does not go far enough.

These things might as well have been done two years ago, as now.

But they have been done and it is no answer to point the finger of scorn at Mr. Truman. In fact most things Negroes have received come in periods of stress and strain of one kind or another. The smart thing to do is to accept a good deed when it comes.

The angle which interests us more is the degree to which these orders are enforced. Among federal, state and city codes are to be found laws which, if enforced, would wipe out most of the injustices heaped upon the Negro. But they have been ignored by law enforcing officials. For instance, most local enforcement officials do nothing about discrimination in restaurants and eating houses here in Des Moines. Some don't even know such a law is on the statute books.

This is where we fail. This is why Negroes are required to spend money and as federal judge said in South Carolina recently—it is a disgrace that Negroes must stand before the bars of justice to secure their rights.

CLEAN UP CAMPAIGN MEANS MUCH TO ALL

The Des Moines Clean-up and Beautifying committee has just completed its fourth annual campaign and winner are announced in these columns.

Started by a group of citizens to create in the thinking of Des Moines Negroes a desire to maintain well kept homes and do something about it the movement has taken on a great deal of interest. The best homes have not always won prizes. Some have not even been considered in the judging for the committee has felt that if the average fellow took what he had and made something out of it, he is equally entitled to share in the upper prizes.

Nobody can be forced to tidy up his place, haul away the ashes and rubbish from the yard and paint his home, but if the neighbor next door does a good job maintaining his home, the careless fellow will take notice and do something about his own.

This clean-up campaign is important to Des Moines, in that we all want better looking streets, better looking communities and a better looking city. And this can be done when the masses of the people take that attitude.

The sponsors of the campaign are indebted to those who helped to make this affair a success and invite the co-operation of groups in the years to come.

General Omar Bradley, chief of staff of the U. S. Army, announced that the army would continue its policy of segregation until the remainder of the country abolished the practice.

Now, what does this mean? General Bradley was named chief of staff by the commander-in-chief of the army, President Truman and yet as soon as Mr. Truman announces a policy, this officer says that it will not be obeyed.

If we just consider of those situations where the head of a department of the government is not in sympathy with a program of his chief and enforces his own ideas irrespective of the source of the order.

It will be interesting to watch the outcome of this glaring inconsistency within the ranks of high government officials.

Truman

The executive order empowered it to summon witnesses from the armed services or the executive departments and agencies and order the production of documents.

President Truman declared that it is essential that there be maintained in the armed services of the United States the highest standards of democracy, with full equality of treatment and opportunity for all. The President acted on the eve of his appearance before the special session of Congress Tuesday to deliver a message in which he urged enactment of legislation to protect and extend civil rights in this country.

He urged upon the Congress the 10-point civil rights program he recommended last February 2: "to protect and extend basic civil rights of citizenship and human liberty."

Bills in Congress

A number of bills to carry out his recommendations, he pointed out, have been introduced in the Congress. "Many of them," he added, "have already received careful consideration by Congressional committees. Only one bill, however, has been enacted, a bill relating to the rights of American of Japanese origin."

"I believe that it is necessary to enact the laws I have recommended in order to make the guarantees of the Constitution real and vital. I believe they are necessary to carry out our American ideals of liberty and justice for all."

Mr. Truman on February 2 asked Congress for legislation establishing a permanent commission on civil rights, a Joint Congressional Committee on Civil Rights, and a Civil Rights Division in the Justice Department.

Other legislation requested included measures to strengthen existing Federal civil rights statutes, a Federal antilynching law, more adequate protection of the right to vote, establishment of a fair employment practice commission, and prohibition against racial discrimination in interstate travel.

The House has passed an anti-poll tax bill, but has not acted on either antilynching or FEPC. The Senate has held hearings on anti-poll tax, antilynching and anti-discrimination in employment legislation and bills on each of these subjects are pending on the Senate calendar and ready for action at this session.

boys move in and take over. We have seen legislation by lobby and policy by profiteers. Time and time again they have rammed through laws not for the people of DeWitt and Scranton, but for the profits of duPont and Standard Oil. We have seen a year that will be written down in history as a time of flood, and fear—and the 80th Congress. Here is the miserable record:

"They have killed the OPA. For the first time since the depression American families have come to know the full and bitter meaning of 'Give us this day our daily bread'."

"They have passed bill after bill in the private interest. To name only one—the Bulwinkle Bill. It protects the railroads from the anti-trust laws, and jacks up the price of every commuter's ticket."

"They have knifed our labor unions with the Taft-Hartley slave law. They have turned the clock back to the time of the open shop and the sweatshop, the court injunction and the company thug."

"They have lifted the ceilings on rents and killed the plans for low cost housing."

Whenever a bill came up for the benefit of the people—whether it was Federal help for schools, or national health insurance, or the extension of social security—the Congressional order of the day was kill, kill, kill.

This killing was the joint handiwork of Republicans and Democrats, a majority of both parties, plotting together in a Congressional Murder Incorporated.

"And the final hypocrisy is that these very men get in this very hall and drew up civil rights plans for their party platforms. Civil rights plans. How many times have they both courted us with the same shabby promise, and how many times have they betrayed us? I remember 30 years of promise and 30 years of betrayal."

"But most of all, we of the new party see ourselves. We see ourselves not picking up political crumbs, but helping to create political policies. The New Party says to the Negro people—Come help us make this nation what you would have it."

The plain fact that I stand here before you tonight defines our party. For the first time in my life, I am experiencing human dignity.

Human Dignity

"And this human dignity which I know for the first time, here and now, was not given me by the old parties—for their way is the denial of decency in the name of profit. Not only here, to me, but far be-

HEALTH FOR ALL

Few laymen read medical histories of diseases, but many people are acquainted with old classic novels, plays and operas in which a character is the victim of tuberculosis.

In the days when these old classics were written, it was believed that tuberculosis was incurable. The hero or heroine who was its victim was always thin and wasted, with a constant wracking cough and a high color indicative of chronic fever. Death was inevitable and the hero or heroine was usually very noble as he faced his doom.

We know today that tuberculosis can be cured, that it does not mean a "wasting away" and certain death for those who contract it.

We also know that tuberculosis is easiest to cure when detected in an early stage. Unfortunately, however, tuberculosis frequently has no symptoms in its early stages and people may not realize they have the disease until it has progressed.

Tuberculosis can be detected in its early stage by means of a chest X-ray, because the X-ray can "see" the damage which tuberculosis is doing to the lungs long before the person himself feels ill.

That is why every adult, even if he seems to be healthy, should have his chest X-rayed periodically. With regular chest X-rays he will have greater assurance that, if he should contract tuberculosis, the disease will be discovered and treatment can be begun at a time when it is most likely to result in an early cure.

If the X-ray reveals no signs of tuberculosis, then the individual has the satisfaction that comes with knowing his lungs are healthy. It is a wise person who forms the habit of getting a regular physical examination, with chest X-ray.

This column is sponsored, in the interest of better health, by the Polk County Tuberculosis Association.

yond our borders, to millions of people—for our domestic policy is the brainchild of banking house diplomats, and banking house brass, of John Foster Dulles and James Forrestal, of Robert Murphy and General William Draper.

"These are men who were the executives of investment houses and Wall Street law firms that put up the money for Hitler's steel trusts, that represented I. G. Farben, the Nazi chemical cartel, and the German bank.

Look at any spot on the map for proof. Look at Germany. Most of all, look at Germany. Who are the men in power there today? I will name you a few, Robert Pferdmenges. What was he? A chief Nazi industrialist. What is he now? Head of the state of Wurttemberg-Baden. And another: Reinhold Maier. What was he? Member of the German Parliament of 1933 which voted Hitler into office. Maier—the man who said: 'We feel ourselves at one with the views expressed by Hitler. What is he now? Government adviser in the British zone.

"Who put them there? Men like General William Draper. What was he? A vice president of the investment bankers—Dillon, Read and Company. What is he now? Undersecretary of the Army—boss of General Clay in Berlin."

"I repeat, what is at stake is the very survival of civilization—is the life of our own sons. I repeat that our crisis can be solved only at the conference table, and never on the battle field. The White House has said that it is tired of talking over differences and I say that we are tired of dying over them. The diplomats of the carbon-copy parties, have proved that the rate not interested in seeking peace. And that is why we of the New Party say that the choice is Wallace or War!"

"Two things lie at the heart of democracy—choice and change. And these are the very things upon which the New Party has been founded. For we had come to the time when the merger of two old parties had made displaced citizens of those who opposed their policy."

"In Henry Wallace we see once again the image of the mountain men who visioned a great nation where there was only desert and forest.

Once again we offer to Americans the precious right of choice. The old parties offer you runaway prices—we offer you restoration of price control and a rollback from dollar butter and twenty-five cent milk. They offer you a Jim Crow America—we say that those who perpetuate Jim Crow are criminal and we propose to fight them with everything we have.

"They offer you packing-crate houses and park benches to live in—we offer an immediate emergency housing program to build eight billion homes for veterans and working people.

"We offer you a national health insurance program—a hundred-dollar-a-month minimum old-age pension—the raising of the minimum legal wage to one dollar an hour, the repeal of the Taft-Hartley act, the repeal of the draft and compulsory military training."

"The new trails await us. The frontier awaits us. The rebirth of this nation awaits our coming. And we are on the march."

SPORTS

By ALLEN ASHBY, Kansas City Club Here.

Sunday, August 1 the Kansas City Tennis club will be the guests of the Hilltop Tennis club at Good's park. The matches start at 2 p. m. The racket swingers from President's home state will bring along a team composed of eight men and four women. The Hilltoppers would sort of like to even matters for the trimming they got in K. C. last year.

The team personnel had not been decided on at this writing but we look for the K. C. team to include Earl Ross and Charles Gates, a formidable doubles team of long standing. These men have won just about every doubles title the state of Missouri has to offer and some out of the state. We can't say who else will be here but we are looking forward to renewing our acquaintances with Ross and Gates.

Ross has been the number one K. C. player for sometime and he will give the fans a treat with his accurate unorthodox backhand.

This will probably be the last meet before the tournament. We have sounded out a few players on Bill Ashby's idea of a mixed meet. One fellow said it was alright, but that we should still have a Negro meet since the purpose of the meet was to determine the champion among us. The others we talked to voiced similar sentiments. We will have completed our scurry by next week and shall report on our complete findings.

Boxing

The story of the year is the one we got on Morton Graves. Our paths didn't cross, so we thought we would ask Mrs. Morton Graves. This was the startling information we got. "He went somewhere and fought somebody and lost." It was Book Ellis at Sioux City and was a draw.

Our next choice for heavyweight boxing honors, if Joe Louis really retires is Ezzard Charles. In fact, he would probably be our choice if Joe Louis didn't retire but fought Charles.

Baseball

We got a kick out of the pictures of the Minneapolis baseball school for kids. Sprinkled among the group was a sizeable number of Negro kids. We wondered how many Negroes were in the local training camp held last week end.

Let's Get It Over With

Whenever a group of men are told that there is a pretty rough job ahead which must be done at all costs there is always in that group a certain element who will immediately say, "Well, what the hell are we waiting for let's get the darn thing over with!"

It is to that certain element of men among the young men eligible for the draft that this column is addressed.

A TINY SEED

Into the rich black earth I dropped a tiny seed. Where nourished by the suns And laved by warm spring rains It waxed in size and strength Emerged a hardy thing!

Into an open heart.

I dropped a tiny seed And it was sealed by your love I found a plane where waters Cannot quench and floods cannot drown! —Norman Sims Ellington

They are the kind of men who make the best soldiers—the kind of guys who struggled through the Argonne forest in 1918, the guys who hit the beaches in the first wave of Normandy in 1944, the guys who battled the Japs from the mud of Gill Gill to the coral reefs of Black.

They are the men who are wanted and needed badly by the Regular Army, The Navy and the Marine Corps. The Regular Army wants them so badly that last week it took steps to make sure it gets some of them—in a hurry.

The Army realizes, from its knowledge of handling millions of men, that this element among draft age men have already checked up on whether or not they actually have to go and that after being assured that they do, they have "we're ready—let's get it over with!"

The Army also realizes that official red tape and political jockeying will delay this group in "joining up" if they wait for Selective Service Act to call them. So the Army high command has decided to make it easy for this element to "come on in now."

Therefore, instead of Joe Junior having to wait until he is called by Selective Service, the Regular Army announced last Saturday that it will accept 21 month enlistments immediately from applicants who are 19 years of age but who have not reached their 26th birthday. This procedure leaves the way open for the guys who are eligible for the draft to arrange their own schedule of training rather than waiting for their local draft boards to call them.

In other words, it gives a guy a chance to walk up to his boss and say "I am leaving to join the Army next month. I'll be gone for 21 months, and I'll be back at the end of that time, provided we are not at war."

Only those who have walked around with draft number in their pocket waiting to be called can realize what it does to a man's plans not to know whether he will be still working tomorrow or on his way to some Army camp. This new move of the Army is designed to help a man put a little method in the madness connected with his military service.

It also offers other advantages. Since the 21-month enlistments concern only the Regular Army, the guys who take advantage of this opportunity will be allowed to choose their own branch of the service and select the theater of operations in which they wish to serve. This is an added advantage because it offers a man a chance to plan his army service to his own best advantage. There really is no need to attempt
