Admitted to Oklahoma U., Negro Gets Special Desk, Whole Room for His Meals

Norman, Okla. (NNPA)—G. W. McLaurin, 54-year-old Langston University professor, was admitted to the University of Oklahoma last Wednesday but was segregated from white students.

Studying for a doctor's degree in education, he was assigned a special desk and sat in an anteroom as Dr. Frank Balyeat instructed the first class attended by a colored student at the University of Oklahoma.

The university also has assigned McLaurin a special desk in the library and a special room in the student union building where he may eat his meals.

The board of regents instructed Dr. George Gross, president of the university, to set up segregation rules for McLaurin after it made its decision to admit him in a special meeting here Sunday, October 10. It did not disclose its action until after conferences October 11 with Governor Roy J. Turner, Mac Q. Williamson, State Attorney General, and Dr. M. A. Nash, chancellor for the state regents of higher education.

Regents Approved

Members of the State Board of Regents approved the action. They were polled by telephone.

The decision to admit McLaurin to the University of Oklahoma followed a ruling by a three-judge federal court.

The court declared three Oklahoma segregation statutes unconstitutional and not enforceable as they applied to McLaurin. The 40-year old statutes made it a misdemeanor for any head of an institution to admit both colored and white students. They also provided penalties for instructors teaching mixed classes and made it unlawful for a white student to attend a college where colored students were admitted.

Williamson said October 11 that the opinion will not affect public schools. The state constitution provides for segregation in the public schools, but does not include institutions of higher education.

It also was disclosed October 11 that McLaurin's attorneys had filed a petition with the United States Supreme Court on October 9, asking the court to force the university to admit McLaurin now. Williamson said he had received a telegram from Justice Wiley Rutledge asking what the state was doing in the case.

The following statement was released October 11 by the regents:

"Admission of G. W. McLaurin, Negro, to the University of Oklahoma Stars," and to close the group of See EDITORIAL Page

NAACP Youth Conference To Honor Olympic Champ In St. Louis, Nov. 10-13

St. Louis.—Miss Alice Coachman of Albany, Ga., winner of the women's high jump competition in the 1948 Olympic Games, will be the recipient of a special Youth Award at the tenth annual Youth Conference of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People to be held here, Nov. 10-13. Miss Coachman, a student at Albany State College, was the only woman on the American track team to win an Olympic championship.

In further recognition of the contribution of Youth to better human relations, the Ike Smalls trophy will be presented to the NAACP Youth Council which has the most outstanding record for the past year.

In the course of the four-day Conference program, which stresses active participation by young people in the present-day struggle for peace and democracy, more than 250 representatives of NAACP Youth Councils and college chapters will discuss problems affecting the Negro in America and techniques for solving these problems.

Recognizing that important victories have been won against restrictive covenants in housing, inequalities in educational opportunity, and denial of the right to vote, the delegates will re-dedicate themselves to the continuing struggle against discrimination in employment, education, housing, and in the armed forces of the United States.

UN Mediator Bunche Says Situation 'Most Critical' For Palestine Refugees

By LUCILE SELZ Paris (NNPA)—The situation of the Arab refugees is "most critical," Dr. Ralph J. Bunche declared Monday, October 11, in Paris.

"Supplies are not adequate to meet the basic needs in food and clothing the 400,000 Palestinian Arabs who have fled their homes since last May, although the great bulk of assistance has come from the Arab League states," Dr. Bunche revealed. He went on to say that the sole shelter for thousands of refugees was the branches of olive trees.

Dr. Bunche, who just came from Palestine to Paris to present his report to the United Nations General Assembly, spoke to a crowded international press conference at Palais Chaillot.

"Since the assassination of Count Folke Bernadotte, Dr. Bunche has assumed the role of mediator between Arabs and Jews, the highest world position given to an American Negro. He has up the present been director of the UN Trusteeship Department and had helped draft the trusteeship clauses in the UN Charter at San Francisco.

In Accord

The new mediator said that he was "fully in accord with Count Bernadotte's peace proposals." Asked by a reporter if any amendments to the Bernadotte report had been proposed, Dr. Bunche replied that he had never anticipated any, as he expected the report to be "grasped with open arms by the two parties" (Arabs and Jews). The right of refugees to be repatriated was included in the mediator's report, he said.

Asked to comment on a statement in Bernadotte's report by Moshe Shertok, Foreign Minister of Israel, of his Government's opposition to a large part of the Negebe region in Palestine being given to the Arabs, Dr. Bunche said he preferred not to have a "dress rehearsal for the press" before the question came up before the UN Assembly.

Quick Reaction from Washington on Truman's Charge

Washington, D. C.—President Truman's charge in Indianapolis that Communists are rooting for a Republican victory got quick reaction today from Val J. Washington, assistant Republican campaign manager, who said:

"Of all the irresponsible, unfounded statements made by President Truman during this campaign, that one tops them all.

"I know," continued Washington, "that the Communists have had only two pieces of merchandise they offered the Negro voter—first, vote for Henry A. Wallace and the Progressive ticket, and secondly, cast your ballot for President Truman and the Democrat candidates if you can't support Wallace."

OKLAHOMA'S JIM CROW LAW SCHOOL MAY BE CLOSED

Oklahoma City, Okla. (NNPA)—Governor Roy J. Turner last Wednesday disclosed that the Jim Crow law school set up at the capital for colored students as a branch of Langston University may be closed soon. The school has not had a student since it opened.

Two factors might make the closing possible. The University of Oklahoma was opened last Wednesday to a colored graduate student, the first colored student ever to be admitted to the university, and last Wednesday was the end of the late enrollment period. No more students can apply now except in unusual cases.

Weeks with Mrs. Brown's daughters, Mrs. Mable French, Mrs. Helen Jenkins and Mary Rose Brown and other relatives.

Mrs. Mary Johnson also left last week for Kansas City on a business trip. Mrs. Johnson's stay will be indefinite. Mr. A. D. Tate who has been ill for the last two weeks, is reported much improved. Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Douglass had as their dinner guests Sunday, Oct. 10, at their farm home, Rev. and Mrs. B. F. Parker and Mr. Douglass's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Alfonso Douglass and daughters, Lois Jeanne, Charlotte, and Vernon Lou, all of Mason City.

New Bethel B.Y.P.U. sponsored a talent contest, Sunday, Oct. 10. The pastor, Rev. B. F. Parker was in charge of the program. Prizes were awarded by the pastor to the highest contender in three groups as follows: 1st Group No. 1, Old Faithful, the adult group, Mrs. Neva Douglass, solo; 2nd Group No. 2, the Go Getters, Miss Deloris Dunn, naming the books of the Bible in order; and 3rd, Group 3, the Humming Birds, the Junior group, Lois Jeanne Douglass, solo.

The prizes were three water melons, one of which was grown in the pastor's back yard. The judges were:

PERSONAL TOUCH

By Marie ROSS

The fall round-up of vegetables and canned goods at the Community Garden's annual harvest show at Willkie House last Wednesday made a colorful exhibit. On the table of garden vegetables were mammoth yams, grown in the Highland Park garden of William Bell, surrounded by beets, carrots, pumpkins and greens.

On the table of canned goods was an enticing jar of fried chicken which had been canned by Mrs. Florence White and no one could persuade her to open it for sampling. A jar of bread and butter pickles, canned by Mrs. Nellie Est-

FRESH CRANBERRIES SATISFY APPETITES

Looking for something different to satisfy the family's old weather appetites? Serve fresh cranberries as a relish with the roast, chicken or favorite meat loaf. Or try them in a dessert, or as a snack or sandwich spread. You'll find the versatile little red berries pep up menus as soon as they appear on the table. Here's a snack-time idea that meets with approval—a big bowl of Cranberry Applesauce, mugs of hot chocolate or coffee and a heaping plate of doughnuts or your favorite hot bread. The gang will cheer when you serve this colorful menu after the skating party.

CRANBERRY APPLESAUCE

- 2 cups sugar
- 2 cups water
- 2 apples, peeled and cubed
- 4 cups fresh cranberries

Boil sugar and water together 5 minutes. Add cubed apples and cook for about 5 minutes or until apple cubes are soft, but not mushy. Add washed cranberries and cook without stirring until all the skins pop open—about 5 minutes. Cool in saucepan. Makes about 1 1/2 quarts sauce.

CRANBERRY-ORANGE RELISH

- 4 cups fresh cranberries
- 1 orange, quartered and seeded
- 2 cups sugar

Put cranberries and orange quarters through food chopper. Add sugar and mix well. Chill in refrigerator a few hours before serving. Makes 1 quart relish. This sauce will keep in the refrigerator for several weeks.

ers, had many admirers.

Mrs. Adam Johnson, Sr., who was thrilled to win a first-prize on a jar of asparagus—as pretty as a picture—was surprised to learn why her jar won first place in the vegetable group. "It was an accident," Mrs. Johnson remarked when she heard that the judge pointed out to the audience that her asparagus had perfect pack in the jar, the right amount of water above the tips, clearness and no sediments.

Mrs. Paul Wilson, on the club's canning committee, was relieved when one of the jars she brought to the exhibit for an entrant, got a first in the pickle group. The pickled green tomatoes of all sizes, sprinkled with a stalk of celery and colored with a red pepper pod, were the work of Mrs. Ted Martin, Jr.

A little jar entitled "back yard peaches" won a first in the fruit group and "touched the heart" of the judge who told her listeners that peaches did not have to be of the finest grade for canning. These back yard peaches, a little larger in size than big marbles, and full of red color under their skins, had been peeled, neatly arranged in the jar and cold packed.

When your columnist learned that her peaches had won a prize she was speechless until Mrs. E. P. Jackson came along and referred to the peaches as crab apples and Lawyer W. L. Oliver in browsing over the exhibit wanted to know out of whose back yard the peaches came.

Nevertheless, the canning judge urged all canners to plan next year to can one jar especially for the harvest exhibit—and the food in that jar must have color, clearness and arrangement.

Guarding his mother who had won a first prize on her pineapple chiffon cake was Mr. Ralph Crowder who saw to it that Mrs. Mabel Crowder and the cake left the building just as they had come.

Shooting color photographs of the food exhibits was Mr. Virgil Bell, photography hobbyist, who was trying out a new color camera for Dr. C. R. Bradford. Spying the color camera, Mrs. A. A. Alexander invited

I.W.H.—I think your advice to others is wonderful. Tell us what to do. My husband and I just can't seem to be able to get ahead. We can't save any money. It gets under my skin when my husband says I spend too freely and that causes us to argue and say things that hurt. Now who is to blame?

Ans: You need to get your hands together and work out a systematic plan for saving. It will prevent a lot of the misunderstandings that now arise about finances. The chief reason your husband blames you for you handle all the money. I would like to have you send a dollar for the book How To Keep Your Money And Attract Good Luck. It has some fine ideas that will help you.

R.R.—Help me with my problem. I am a young man, had a good job but I quit it to join a group of singers. Now I find that I was doing much better on my job than I am now so did I do right and what do you advise?

Ans: Go to your former employer and ask for your old job back. If it is not available, look for regular work at other places of business. A day time job would enable you to continue singing with the group as most of their engagements are booked for evenings.

TROUBLE MAKES STRANGE BEDFELLOWS

Secretary of State Marshall said that he wished the rule barring Franco of Spain from participation in the Society of Nations was lifted. Well, danger makes strange bedfellows. Franco has made no change in his idea of how a government should be run and the people seem pretty well satisfied to let him remain as their leader.

WHY WE HOLD TO THE REPUBLICAN PARTY

The Bystander has often expressed the wish that the question of civil rights would, in no way, be an issue in any political campaign in this country. And in view of our boast of the leading democracy in the world, we shall be hypocrites until the stage is reached when no special laws or deals will be necessary to guarantee every fellow what our creed professes to give.

During political campaigns, it is easy for candidates and parties to promise the voters anything in order to catch votes; easy to make deals, which those who wish to get elected, know they cannot fulfill or will not be called upon to make good. It is for those who think things through and know the possibility or probability of getting things done, to point out to the unsuspecting what, in the final analysis, will do the most good for the most people.

The compelling reason, in addition to the matter of decency, for such fair play as minority groups get is the law on our statute books which describe who are citizens and the things to which all citizens are entitled. In addition to what is stated with reference to other rights, privileges and immunities, the Fourteenth Amendment, placed in the constitution by the Republican party, has been and is the peg upon which hangs the rope, specifically, which holds fast and was designed to protect the rights of minority groups and which today is and will be used to secure to minority groups full citizenship under the law.

Some people are following the mandates of that amendment. Some parties are following it. And if ever there was a candidate whose record points that way it is Governor Dewey. His program has not been one of handing out charity to get votes. Certainly, the Negro does not want charity. He wants a fair opportunity to begin the race of life, fair rules to go by and a fair interpretation of those rules when the race is on. Mr. Dewey's record in New York state shows that. He does not boast of what he has done; he talks of what he has done.

The Bystander has no fight with anyone who wants to be a Democrat or a follower of Henry Wallace. It believes that everyone has just as much right to choose his politics as he has to choose his wife, husbands, or religion. But it does question the sound judgment of those people who think that they can go into the camps of their enemies and secure for themselves the things against which those same people have helped most to keep them from getting.

Yes, there are some fine people among the members of the Democratic party; there are some rotten people in the Republican party. But by and large, and this is demonstrated clearly as President Truman attempts to take the backbone of his party all the way as one of fair play for the Negro, we continue to take our chances with the followers of Abraham Lincoln, Chas. Sumner, and Thomas E. Dewey rather than the followers of Jefferson Davis, Ben Tillman, Theodore Bilbo and Senator Chandler and Tom Connors.

TALENT SHOW

See FRONT Page. Judges, the Martin sisters, Virginia and Inez who won prizes in last year's show, sang another, prize-winning number, "Tree in the Meadow," which brought them first place in this group. Inez soloed in "Boy from Texas."

Little Dancers

Nine-year-old John Bruce Ewing came all the way from Boone Ia. to dance a rhythm tap which won for him first place in the dance group. He was accompanied by Mrs. J. H. Morris, also of Boone. During a fast tap routine, John lost his high top, a slow fussy hat which matched the trimming to his nose velvet, perfume. He was banging an about finish, at his number, but mother sent him right back in to finish his dancing and the audience gave him a thunderous applause. Jitterbug teams—Freddie and Margaret Harris and Ethel Bogan and Delores Brooks, and Lameda Cooley and Geraldine Thomas got big hands for their interpretations. Prizes went to second, Ethel and Delores; and, third, Freddie and Margaret. Judges were: Miss Laurene Jones and Mr. Edward Bayles. The show closed with a military drill by the Mary Starr Girls who carried guns, obeyed commands and fired "clack! clacks!"

"After adopting the resolution, the board further directed that McLaurin be notified to report to the university Wednesday for matriculation."

ZORA NEAL HURSTON PLEADS NOT GUILTY

New York (LNNPA)—Zora Neale Hurston, a leading author, pleaded not guilty when arraigned on Monday, October 11, on charges of committing an unnatural act with three boys, one 10 and another 11 years of age, and was continued in $1,500 bail by Judge Saul Streit in General Sessions Court.

The well known novelist, whose latest book, "Seraph on the Suwanee," has just been published by Charles Scribner's Sons, was arrested September 13 on the complaint of Alexander Miller of the Children's Society, who charged that she had committed unnatural acts with the three boys on August 15.

Miller said the three boys had informed him that Miss Hurston first committed the unnatural act with the 10-year-old boy in the presence of the two other boys and that she afterwards committed the act with the two other boys.

Miss Hurston's plea of not guilty followed by one day the New York Herald Tribune's review of her latest book in which the reviewer noted that:

"Incompatible strains in novel mirror the complexity of the author. Miss Hurston shuttles between the sexes, the profession and the races as if she were man and woman, scientist and creative writer, white and Negro."

HEALTH FOR ALL

PATIENCE IMPORTANT IN TB

Acute disease have a relatively brief onset, are accompanied by pronounced symptoms and cause almost immediate indisposition. These diseases usually run their course in a short time, resulting in recovery or death, depending upon the severity of the disease and the promptness and adequacy of treatment.

In contrast are chronic diseases which frequently have a slow onset, without readily identifiable symptoms and without causing immediate indisposition. Pulmonary tuberculosis is this type of disease. Its symptoms may not become apparent until weeks or even months after the lung has become diseased and the individual may not be aware of his illness until the disease has progressed—unless he has formed the excellent habit of having his chest X-rayed at regular intervals. Since the X-ray can "see" tuberculosis before a person knows he is ill, even apparently healthy people should have chest X-rays at least once a year.

Just as the onset of this chronic disease is slow, so is recovery. One of the first lessons the tuberculous patient must learn is patience. He will be advised to enter a sanatorium or tuberculosis hospital because there he can best obtain the rest, under medical supervision, which is so essential in the treatment of tuberculosis.

As the patient responds to treatment and feels better, he may think he can go home. However, he should not consider leaving the sanatorium until the doctor tells him it is perfectly safe for him to do so.

TB patients who leave the sanatorium against medical advice are running a twofold danger. Their disease is apt to grow worse and another period of hospitalization will be required which may be longer than the original period. Furthermore, the local high school boys. Aitkins has given Trumbo of East a lot of help but the Scarlet just doesn't seem to go anywhere.

Reports keep reaching us of friction between Negro boys' and East High coach. Stories have ranged from subtle discouragement to outright name-calling. We have heard that some of the boys want to punch the coach. We will look into that and tell more next week.

SPORTS

By BILL ASHBY

Tony Cordoro did himself proud on Johnny Estes last week. Where are our all-star hopes? Talfero was bottled up again last week. Banks is playing well enough but Iowa is a weak team and the other linemen are so rough that Banks can't stand out too much.

Michigan's Derricote is injured. Only Ohio State's Jim Clarke makes it after week.

Another of those "champion" Negro football teams came to the city last week end and the locals this time—the west Des Moines Warriors romped to an easy win. The "Rers" were billed as city champions of St. Louis. Maybe, they were. In our estimation, the best thing for Negroes to do is stay home when these clubs come to town.

Just don't know what to say about
