SATURDAY NIGHT SQUARE DANCES STARTING NOV. 12

Admission will be 85 cents per person, and dancing will be from 9:00 p.m. to midnight.

It will be family and audience entertainment whether the guests join the fast grand right and left, the swirling do-si-do or "sit it out". With few exceptions, it is planned to make the square dance a regular Saturday night attraction. There will be some "modern" dancing on each program for variety.

No Color Line in Housing, Mayor Ross Tells Group

Mayor Heck Ross said he told a committee of Negro leaders which called on him Tuesday that there is no distinction as to color in such Des Moines housing projects as that at Fort Des Moines.

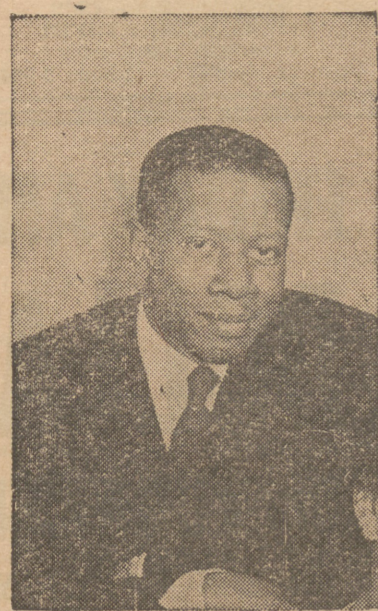

The mayor said the three Negroes asked "the city's attitude as to colored people in housing projects such as the Fort Des Moines installation."

Ross said he assured them that "in our housing projects, the color line is not drawn." The law providing for such housing was "set up for veterans, regardless of color," he continued. "There are colored people there (Fort Des Moines), and there's no objection to them."

TO STUDY IN PARIS

ARTHUR BRYANT

Planning to get the most value he can out of his Iowa soldiers' bonus which he received recently is Arthur Bryant of Omaha, Nebr., who will leave Saturday for New York City to book passage on the Ile de France which sails on Nov. 19 for Paris, France.

Bryant, who received his master's degree in music last August at Drake University, here, has been accepted by the National Conservatory of Music (Conservatoire Nationale de Musique) for two years study of piano and composition, financed mainly by the American G. I. Bill of Rights. He is planning for the career of an artist-teacher.

A native Nebraskan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mose Bryant of Omaha, Bryant is a graduate of Omaha's North High school where he began his serious study of music.

He came to Des Moines and spent one and one-half years in the school of fine arts at Drake university before going into the military services, a member of the army service force, headquarters unit, for 35 months. He spent 22 months in Liberia, Africa; was discharged from the army in 1945; and, returned to Drake to resume his musical education in January, 1946.

Bryant received his Bachelor of Musical Education degree from Drake in May 1948. At the university Bryant was active in the Stoye club, the YMCA, and worked with an NAACP chapter before a university NAACP branch was organized recently. Until recently he headed the Des Moines Youth Council branch of the NAACP.

He was a member of the Phi Sigma Iota fraternity (romance languages) at Drake; and the Omega Psi Phi fraternity in Des Moines.

Interracial Commission Holds 25th Year YProgram

The twenty-fifth anniversary program of the Des Moines Interracial commission at the St. John Lutheran church last Sunday was a fitting memorial to the late Harvey Ingham, one of the founders of the commission, who had pioneered the way for such an organization as editor and chief of the Register for two decades before the Commission was organized.

The opening address was given by Geo. W. Webber, who as general secretary of the Des Moines YMCA called the first meeting. Now president of the KWDM Broadcasting corporation, he told of the steps leading up to the organization and read some of the "Fourteen Objectives" agreed upon for the program twenty-five years ago, in the outlining of which Mr. Ingham had an important part.

Editor Speaks

The principal address was given by Forrest Seymour, a former student under Mr. Ingham, who now holds the position that Mr. Ingham occupied for more than forty years. Emphasizing Mr. Ingham's liberalism along all lines including that of race relations, Mr. Seymour quoted

Duke Ellington Story KWDM on Monday Night

Monday night, November 14, at 9:30 p.m. the story of Duke Ellington and a gangster's mob will be told by Jack Smith, well known Des Moines stage and radio personality, over radio station KWDM. It is part of Mr. Smith's weekly broadcast called "Americans All", on which some of the best Ellington music and other outstanding recordings will also be heard.

"Americans All" is a half-hour of human interest stories from the lives of famous people, interspersed with authentic music from many lands and many cultures and with dramatic, true-life, examples of human inter-relationships and interdependence. The program is emceed each week by Jack Smith and has drawn outstanding favorable comment from its first appearance.

One week the story was on W. C. Handy; another was about Benny Goodman and his orchestra in which a man is chosen for his music ability. "Here," Goodman has said, "race, color and religion are parked at the door. If you've got what we want, you're in." Lionel Hampton and Teddy Wilson are two famous names in that band. Next Monday at 9:30, comes a rousing story on Duke Ellington.

In writing and presenting "Americans All," Jack Smith draws from his broad experience both on the stage and in University study of human relationships. Mr. Smith is bringing to KWDM audiences an outstanding program that spotlights the inter-racial strengths of American Democracy.

Milwaukee Youth Council To Be Awarded Ike Smalls Trophy for Achievements

Dayton, Ohio—The Ike Smalls Award for the best record of achievement during the past year will be presented to the Milwaukee youth council of the NAACP at the Eleventh Annual Youth Conference of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, in session here November 9-12.

According to Mrs. Ruby Hurley, NAACP youth secretary, the Milwaukee youth council is being cited for its "conscientious efforts to improve race relations in the community," for its "awareness of the problems affecting young people in employment," and for doubling last year's membership of the group.

On Friday, November 11, delegates to the Conference will hold an Armistice Day "In Memoriam" service at Temple Israel of Dayton. Special tribute will be paid to three noted civil rights leaders who died within the past year: Oswald Garrison Villard, author of the famous Lincoln Day Call, which marked the beginning of the NAACP forty years ago; Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, one of the fifty-three original signers of that call; and William Staton, former president of the Ohio State Conference of NAACP youth councils, executive secretary of the Youngstown branch of the Association, and adviser to the Youngstown youth council.

BENJAMIN J. DAVIS GIVEN ROUSING WELCOME IN HARLEM

New York (NNPA)—Upon his release from bail last Thursday evening, Benjamin J. Davis, Jr., Communist City Councilman, was given a rousing welcome which bordered on a riot in Harlem.

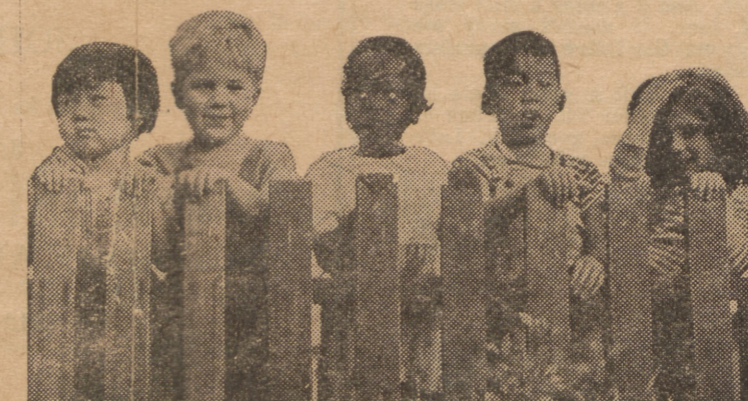

Six policemen were injured, six Harlemites were arrested, and an unknown number of Harlemites were clubbed by policemen.

The violence broke out at 114th Street and Lenox Avenue shortly after 9 p.m. when a motorcade, with torchlights, was proceeding northward on Lenox Avenue amidst roars of applause from hundreds of onlookers most of whom yelled admiration for Davis, one of the eleven top Communist leaders who were convicted of conspiring to teach and advocate the overthrow of the Government by force and violence.

In the brief span of about twenty minutes, police engaged in a free for all with about 2,000 residents of Harlem.

'Forbidden Neighbors'

The appealing picture above appears on the cover of a 24-page pamphlet, "Forbidden Neighbors," just published by the New York State Committee on Discrimination in Housing to advance its campaign to outlaw discrimination and segregation in urban redevelopment and to secure a broad legislative investigation of discriminatory housing. Organizations cooperating with the State Committee because of the national civil rights aspects of this pilot project include the American Jewish Committee, American Jewish Congress, Anti-Defamation League, Jewish Labor Committee, National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, National Labor Service, the Urban League and other religious, labor and social welfare groups. Headquarters of the State Committee are in New York City at 35 West 32d Street.

Gov. Youngdahl to Issue Executive Order Nov. 22 Authorizing Integration

St. Paul, Minn. (NNPA)—Governor Luther W. Youngdahl has served notice on top level leaders of the Army in Washington that he will open the Minnesota National Guard to colored men.

The governor said he will issue an order November 22 dropping racial bars in the Minnesota National Guard. The National Guard Bureau in Washington has never authorized the activation of a colored unit in Minnesota and has taken the position that colored men are not to be enrolled in white units in any state without its express permission.

Governor Youngdahl has sent letters to Secretary of the Army Gordon Gray and Secretary of the Air Force W. Stuart Symington, with a copy to General Kenneth F. Cramer, chief of the National Guard Bureau, notifying them of his proposed step.

Passed Resolution

The governor noted that the 1949 state legislature passed a resolution calling on Congress to end segregation and discrimination in the armed services and said the resolution "is clear-cut evidence of the desire of our people to integrate Negroes."

"I believe also that, in view of this resolution by the legislature, the Chief Executive as Commander-in-Chief of the National Guard in Minnesota has the authority and duty to eliminate segregation without further delay," he said.

"Consequently, it is my intention to issue an executive order on November 22 which integration. I feel you should be formed on this proposed step in case it requires certain action on your part at the national level."

Congratulated

New York—Governor Luther W. Youngdahl was congratulated today

by Roy Wilkins, acting secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, for his "unequivocal statement" of his intention to issue an executive order on November 22 admitting Negroes to the National Guard of Minnesota on an integrated basis.

"We are gratified," stated Mr. Wilkins in a wire to the Minnesota Chief Executive, "that Minnesota has joined New Jersey and Connecticut in the growing family of states voicing impatience with the delay of our national government in recognizing the right of all citizens to the privileges of a democratic society, regardless of race or creed. We join you in the hope that your action will encourage similar forthright action on a national level and that racial segregation will be eliminated forthwith from the armed forces of the United States."

Governor Youngdahl, in making his announcement, noted that the 1949 state legislature of Minnesota passed a resolution upon Congress to end such discrimination. He sent notice of his action to Secretary of the Army Gordon Gray and to Secretary of the Air Force W. Stuart Symington, with a copy to General Kenneth F. Cramer, chief of the National Guard Bureau.

DISCRIMINATION VICTIM WINS $3,000 SETTLEMENT

New York—Acceptance of the sum of $3,000 by Walter Tannis, Negro sandhog, as compensation for wages lost because of a discriminatory discharge, brought to a successful conclusion a year-long fight by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People against discriminatory practices by contractors who built the Brooklyn-Battery Tunnel.

Announcement of the settlement, reported to be the largest yet secured by the Commission, was made on Oct. 31 by the New York State Commission Against Discrimination, the agency with which Mr. Tannis a year ago filed his complaint against the George H. Flinn Corporation, contractors for the tunnel. Mr. Tannis charged that he had been dismissed because he had vainly sought to obtain employment for Negro union members while the company was employing white non-union workers. The NAACP was retained by the complainant to represent him and the case was presented to the State Commission by Mrs. Marian Wynn Perry, assistant special counsel. An award of back wages was secured last spring for Curtis Chaney, a complainant in another case.

Visiting around Iowa by Joe Marsh
Iowa Welcomes D.P.'s

Last week Joe Edwards took a European displaced couple to help on his farm.
"Isn't it wonderful," says Edith. Well, I couldn't see anything amazing about it. Where does she think all our native Iowa families came from? (Check the names in your phone book.)
People came here from scores of foreign lands, with different customs, different ideas. But they worked together; built a great state.
It required neighborliness, tolerance, lots of give and take. And it requires that same spirit to KEEP Iowa great. No place here for bigotry. No room for neighborhood dictators or petty agitators.
Neighbor Bill can be a Socialist; that's his privilege. If Mary joins the sewing circle, it doesn't mean she's against people who don't belong to sewing circles. And if I enjoy a mild glass of beer, it doesn't array me against the fellow who prefers coffee.
We've built a great State by living together with freedom of ideas, tolerance, good will. Let's hold onto those principles.

PERSONAL TOUCH

By Marie Ross

There's no place like home—and all around town during the past summer, residents have been busy remodeling and redecorating their places of abode.

Those periods of rebuilding and papering and painting are "pains in the neck"—but when the jobs are completed and the family moves back in its favorite bedroom, living room or kitchen, then "it is a grand feeling," most of the families agree.

For six months, since last April, the A. O. Ropers, at 1653 Walker street, were torn-up, extending their home six-feet on the front and building a foundation for a porch at the rear.

"It was misery—eating the dirt, sand, and being all cluttered up," Mrs. Gladys Roper commented this week, but she complained with a smile on her face, for her living room has been extended and her bedroom is spacious and airy with corner picture windows that form an angle on each end of the front of the home. Her kitchen has new built-in cupboards and plenty of light brightens the home. An attractive arched entrance from circular stone and cement steps enhance the front of the home. Exterior painting and landscaping have to be completed this winter.

But the Ropers are happy now and on a recent Sunday night some of their friends and relatives dropped by to "initiate" the completion of the interior of the home. Among them included were Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Gray, Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Adams, Mrs. Pauline Jones, Miss Frances Wade, Miss Martha Floyd, Williams were appointed a committee to secure a gift for the new baby of Rev. and Mrs. George Parish.

The Christmas party will be held at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Evans. Mrs. Blanch Spivey was reported ill. Thanksgiving service was offered by the acting chaplain, Mrs. C. A. Record.

The next meeting will be Dec. 7 with Mrs. Margaret Ogletton, 1656 Walker street. Election of officers will be held. Mrs. B. F. Blanks is president; Mrs. G. M. Williams, reporter.

BAPTIST MINISTERS WIVES ORGANIZE

Scott, president; Mrs. Hallie Tutt, vice president; Mrs. J. Q. Evans, secretary; Mrs. W. B. Heath, assistant secretary; Mrs. Gaiters, treasurer; Mrs. C. A. Record, chaplain; Mrs. G. Parish, assistant chaplain; Mrs. G. Williams program chairman.

The Song Fellows of Corinthian Baptist church will sing.

Miss Geraldine Page, Messrs. Leonard Hudson, Marvin Reeder, William Freeman of Minneapolis.

Sand, gravel and lumber trucks kept Walker street busy during the summer for some of the other residents have remodeled, too. This column will present other families in the city who have "dressed up their homes." Please phone the columnist to be sure that she has your name and address.

At the twenty-fifth anniversary program of the Des Moines Interracial commission last Sunday at St. John Lutheran church, it was a real pleasure to meet, Mrs. Harvey Ingham, whose husband, the late editor-emeritus of the Register and Tribune newspapers, was memorialized.

During the recent holiday last week end when the 10,000 public school teachers of Iowa were in session here, teen-aged Betty Jane Jackson of East High school was on a shopping spree downtown—getting ready for the holidays. Accompanied by her mother, Betty was spending some of her own "hard-earned" cash, she said. Her mother seemed happy over that fact.

STRIKING AT THE HEART OF DISCRIMINATION

The report on professional schools to the American Council of Education in Chicago presented by Dr. Carlyle Jacobsen of Iowa University Sunday stated that the "quota system" for admitting students to the nations colleges was termed not "compatible with democratic principles." It was referring to a scheme most schools use to limit the number of minority group students.

This report further stated that "separate, but equal schools for Negroes and whites are both uneconomic and undemocratic."

These are bold statements but strike at the very foundation of American democracy and they are certainly apropos coming just as America is observing National Education Week.

This doctrine of "separate but equal" was enunciated by the United States Supreme Court several years ago when it held that separate but equal accommodation for Negroes in railroad travel did not violate the fourteenth amendment.

It is foolish to assume that a class of people, forced off alone, would receive equal accommodation in everything as the other people seeking the same privileges. If nothing more, the expense of maintaining a dual system constitutes such a strain on the carrier, the state or school, that funds are just not there to make them equal.

A case is pending in the federal courts which challenges segregation as a violation of the U. S. constitution. In other words, it seeks to have the Supreme Court reverse its "separate but equal" doctrine. It will not be surprising that in the light of recent decisions the court will do just that.

It is remarkable that the champions of racial discrimination are being pushed aside every day and sound positions taken by such organization as the ACE are aiding the job immeasurably.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS OF VALUABLE SERVICE

The Des Moines Interracial Commission celebrated its 25th anniversary Sunday. Commenced at a time when racial tensions were rather high in some cities, it has carried on a continuous program in cooperation with other organizations working for better understanding between people of different races and religions.

Early in its history, the commission adopted fourteen desires it wanted to see accomplished.

It is interesting to note that several have been realized including the addition of Negro teachers in the public schools in Des Moines.

In these days, no large city of any consequence is without an interracial commission. Citizens have found them valuable not only when racial strife occurs but also to prevent it. And so important have outstanding as well as average citizens felt about the matter that in most cases leading citizens are some of those in front of the movement.

This interest on the part of the leading citizens was manifest in the Des Moines Commission at the beginning by such stalwarts as the late Harvey Ingham, Lafe Young, Sr., and Dr. Chas. D. Medbury. But in recent years these leading citizens have died and or become inactive and thus the younger generation has not arisen to the call to take on the work which they so nobly helped to start. This does not speak well for Des Moines citizens, many of whom have been approached but argue that we have no race problems here. It would be unfair to name people to whom this criticism is directed, but realizing that there are lots of leading citizens in Des Moines who are aware of the need for a forceful interracial commission and in sympathy with it, they ought in fairness to themselves and the public generally, come out and be counted.

The Des Moines omission should be congratulated for its work for better racial understanding in Des Moines.

WEBBER AND SEYMOUR EULOGIZE HARVEY INGHAM

were deeply moved by the expressions of both the speakers lauding their husband and father, by the representatives of this organization which is in part one of the fruits of his labors toward the recognition of the universal brotherhood of mankind.

Among the past chairmen of the commission who occupied seats of honor and were introduced were Atty. S. Joe Brown and Jas. B. Morris and Mr. A. A. Alexander, all of whom were charter members, and, Mrs. Jas. B. Morris, one of the only three Negro women chairmen; and Prof. S. E. Thompson and Cornell Hewson of Atlantic, Ia., white.

Besides the two spirituals by the junior choir of the St. Paul A.M.E. church, Edward Bayles a voice student at Drake university, rendered a baritone solo.

At the conclusion of the program, the entire audience repaired to the spacious dining room of the church where they were served tea by the hospitality committee of the Commission, under the chairmanship of Mrs. E. T. Scales.

Interracial Group Hears Alexander And Gustafson

The Des Moines Interracial Commission started out on the second quarter century of its history Tuesday evening with its history dinner at North High school cafeteria, addressed by A. A. Alexander, one of the charter members and past chairman, who for the past two years has made his headquarters in Washington, D. C. He gave highlights of a two-day conference of which he was a member held in the Pentagon building in Washington in which the top officers of three departments of national defense gave out confidential information concerning the progress being made along various lines of national defense preparations. The conferees were flown to the three main proving grounds of the unified department of national defense, the Infantry at Ft. Benning, Ga.; the Navy at Norfolk, Va., and the Air Force at Ebert's Field, Florida.

The Commission also heard an illustrated report from Norman Gustafson, a Drake student, who was a delegate to an international student conference in Switzerland, last summer. He showed stereotyped views of much of the devastation and desolation in the western countries of Germany, Holland and Czechoslovakia, which his party visited while on a three months' tour of these countries.

At this session two new member were added to the Commission, Mrs. John S. Coleman, and Mr. George Wesby, white.

Visitors were the Rev. Geo. A. Singleton, new pastor of St. Paul A.M.E. church; Miss Marnise Knickerbocker, new head resident at Roadside Settlement; also the widow and daughter of the late Prof. A. J. Burton, former principal of East High school, who was one of the charter members of the Commission.

ST. PAUL A.M.E. CHURCH NOTES

The rendition of the religious pageant, "Heavenbound," under the direction of Mrs. Joburness Kelso, one of the mock bishops in the improvement rally for St. Paul was not only a dramatic and a financial success, but a practical demonstration of the unity that exists between the various Negro denominations in Des Moines. In the chorus were members of practically all the Negro churches in the city. Solo parts were taken by Edward Bayles and Chas. Brown of Burns, Mrs. Elizabeth Green and Miss Iona Green of the Church of God in Christ and Mrs. Maggie Lincoln of Maple Street churches.

The Gospel Choir continues to grow, alternating its songs with the senior choir. Two new sopranos are

HEALTH FOR ALL

BAD START FOR THE DAY

"Going without breakfast is a bad start for the day," says Mrs. Helen Lovell, Nutritionist for the Iowa State Department of Health. It's been found that workers who skip breakfast get less done in the first working hour than those who eat a good breakfast. As the morning progresses those who didn't eat breakfast grow less efficient. What happens to these workers happens to housewives and everyone else as well. It is especially true for children. A child who eats a good breakfast has a better chance to do well in studies and games.

What's in a good breakfast? Here's a three-pint test of a good breakfast. It gives you materials for body building and repair and to help keep you healthy; it provides fuel for body energy; and it tastes good. For many people, and particularly children, it's sound planning to have one-fourth to one-third of the day's food at breakfast. This is not a hard-and-fast rule, however, because a desk worker who eats a substantial lunch early may get along very well on a light breakfast. It's the food you eat in the entire day, totaled up, that tells the tale of whether or not you're well fed, but going without breakfast is a bad start for the day.

There are five basic foods that should be included in every breakfast: fruit or fruit juice, cereal or bread, milk, and butter. If desired, eggs and meat can be added to the breakfast menu. Citrus fruits and juices are the best known source of vitamin C. Use citrus juice unstrained to be the most vitamins and minerals from the pulp. Fresh or canned tomatoes are a good source of vitamin C, but it takes about twice as much tomato juice as orange juice to give you an equal amount of vitamin C. Summer or winter there's something hot, as a rule, in a good breakfast, whether it is a hot beverage or hot cereal. Something hot is cheering and tones up the whole digestive route. Cereals, breads and fats will provide the energy foods in a good breakfast. Choose whole-grain and enriched cereals and breads for they have added values in the B vitamins and minerals. Milk provides calcium. It is hard to get enough calcium in the daily diet without a regular supply of milk. This is also true of the B vitamin called riboflavin. Milk is one of the best sources of this particular vitamin. A pint a day for adults and a quart for children is the minimum requirements for milk. Eggs for breakfast provide high-grade proteins for body building and repair and has mineral and other food values besides. The fat in the spread for your bread or in fat meat helps breakfast to stick to your ribs. That's because fat digests slowly and stays by you longer than most foods.

If breakfast at your home is a problem meal, don't give up, try to solve it! Write to the Division of Public Health Education, Iowa State Department of Health, Des Moines, Iowa, for a free pamphlet on suggestions for good breakfasts.

Mrs. Ruth Thompson and Mrs. Ruth Brewer.

Last Sunday the Lord's Supper was administered. Elders Felix Dickerson and E. N. Warren assisted the pastor. Among the out-of-town visitors, were Edward Perkins, Portland, Oregon, and Julian F. Gaillard of Chicago, and the Simons and Akers Ladies trio from Los Angeles, who sang.

At the Sunday School hour a report was made from the Interdenominational State Youth Conference by Miss Charmine Miller, who was the only member of her racial group and was elected one of the vice presidents; and from the acting superintendent, Mrs. Jeanne Morris, who had just returned from the meeting of the executive committee of the 4th Episcopal District Laymen's league.

In the afternoon, Mrs. Helen Be-shars, one of the bishops in the mock general conference, gave a silver tea in the lecture room of the church, assisted by several of the women's clubs. She awarded a victory trophy to the Hands of Love club, of which Mrs. Lelia Walker is president, for making the largest contribution.

That North-East battle was just about what we expected, a battle all the way and no quarter asked or given. After the way those Negro lads battled their hearts out to beat each other, it was only fitting that Bell should make the score. It was the best game of the series since 1944.
