URBAN LEAGUE PRESENTS

Awards for 'Teamwork' in America

Chicago Publisher and Industrialist Cited for Close Interracial Work

Dwight R. G. Palmer, president of the General Cable Corporation, and John G. Sengstacke, publisher of the Chicago Defender, were named today by the Board of Trustees of the National Urban League to receive the 1950 "Two Friends Award." The award was established by the nationwide interracial social service agency in 1945. It is presented yearly to one white and one Negro American to signalize outstanding instances of interracial teamwork for the good of the American community.

Both Mr. Palmer and Mr. Sengstacke have been members of the President's Committee on Equality of Treatment and Opportunity in the Armed Services, dealing with elimination of discrimination and segregation in the armed forces. The final report of this Committee was

The award, he continued, "is being presented to Mr. Palmer and Mr. Sengstacke in recognition of their close teamwork in developing the President's Committee findings and recommendations. A strong bond of friendship and cooperation has grown between these two men extending to important activities outside the Committee.

The "Two Friends Award" commemorates the long association of L. Hollingsworth Wood, distinguished lawyer and League president for over a quarter-century; and Eugene Kinckle Jones, for over thirty years executive secretary of the League. These two men worked closely over a period of 39 years in building the Urban League from a single office in New York to its present nationwide status.

The "Two Friends Awards" are silver medals from a master design by Richmond Barthe, noted sculptor. The medal carries the profiles of Mr. Wood and Mr. Jones on the obverse, and the names of this year's recipients on the face of the medal.

Mr. Palmer received the 1949 American Brotherhood Award presented by the National Conference of Christians and Jews. Mr. Sengstacke was former president of the National Negro Publishers Association.

JOHN G. SENGSTACKE submitted and made public this week.

Negro Democrats Protest When Excluded from Fund Raising 'Feed' in Texas

Austin, Tex.—Texas Democrats handed Vice-president Alben Barkley a $100,000 campaign check last Saturday night and heard him say the party is more united than the G.O.P. because "we look forward instead of backward."

The $100,000 came in blocks of $25 up from hundreds of Democrats. It represented the largest contribution Texans have ever made to the war chest, party leaders said.

Each $25 brought the donor—if he was a white Democrat—a free ticket to eat all the barbecued chicken and beef he could hold at Saturday night's Jefferson-Jackson day dinner at the Austin coliseum.

Exclusion of Negroes from the fund-raising feed brought protests from two Houston, Tex., Negroes who said their checks had been returned by Tom Miller, general finance chairman for the party in Texas.

Miller explained: "We still have not resolved to invite Negroes to these semi-social political affairs. They were excluded to save them and their hosts from possible embarrassment."

News to Barkley Barkley at a press conference here said he had not received any protests, nor had he heard of them until he reached Texas.

"I have never assumed the liberty of making up the guest list of any function to which I was invited," he said.

In response to questions, he said that Democratic party dinners in Kentucky include both Negroes and whites.

Praises Party Record In his speech Barkley praised the Democratic legislative record from Grover Cleveland to Harry S. Truman.

"No nation is on its road to bankruptcy whose people enjoy a national income of 220 billion dollars a year," he asserted.

Davenport Jury Acquits Two Missouri Brothers

Davenport, Ia.—A jury Wednesday night acquitted two Negro brothers from Hannibal, Mo., on charges of raping Yvonne Badders, white, Union City, Ind., March 5.

The jury began deliberations at 5 p.m. and returned a verdict more than five hours later. A predominantly Negro audience which had crowded the courtroom throughout the trial was not present when the verdict was returned.

Rosie Mallory, mother of Franklin Mallory and James Mallory, also was absent from the courtroom when her sons were found not guilty. She had been in attendance since the trial began.

By acquitting the brothers, the jury accepted the arguments of the defense that Miss Badders did not physically resist them after they picked her up in their car on a road near Milan, Ill. The defense showed that she had never attempted to get out of the car after she hitchhiked a ride with the brothers and their two companions.

In his closing arguments Defense Attorney Sam Friedman of Hannibal said Miss Badders probably would not have brought charges if she had not lost her wrist watch. The brothers and Miss Badders told conflicting stories of how her watch was lost in the car.

Police found the watch in an ash tray in the car after the two men were arrested. Friedman also pointed out that she left town as soon as she had completed her testimony. "The only thing she seemed interested in was her wrist watch," customary that Masons lay cornerstones, and dedicate buildings of importance. "I am very happy to play a vital part in this very auspicious occasion."

"Such an organization as you have gathered here today is the foundation and very essence of Americanism. To create a place for our youth is most fitting and proper."

From the Book of Romans, twelfth chapter, the Rev. Mr. Singleton took his text from this verse: "Be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove that what is good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God."

"Only man can transform himself," the minister said, adding that "the mind must be changed today if we are going to have a changed world, a changed social order." He informed that "We are trying to change the world with millions of dollars" and that "we are not going to save it that way."

"That means a change of mind, a change of heart, a new outlook, a new point of view," he emphasized. "In America, we are such cowards. We talk about Jesus but we are too cowardly to follow him." The Rev. Mr. Singleton said.

Edward J. Kelly spoke in behalf of Governor William S. Beardsley of Iowa, who was out of the city. He congratulated the ladies for "doing a work to make Des Moines a better place in which to live."

Grand Master Henry informed that from time in memorial, it has been

Republicans Produce 33 Votes for Cloture, Roy Wilkins Tells Democrats

New York City—Northern and western Democratic senators who voted against the motion to take up the FEPC bill were sharply reminded by Roy Wilkins, NAACP acting secretary, that the Republicans produced 33 votes for cloture to the Democrats' 19.

"The Democratic party," Mr. Wilkins said in individual letters to these senators, "is confronted with a situation in which its senators refused even to discuss the merits of a question. We believe the average voter views FEPC to date simply as 33 to 19 in favor of the Republicans."

Recalling the Democratic party platform of 1948 and the reaffirmation of that program at the party rally in Chicago on May 15, Mr. Wilkins expressed the hope that on a second cloture vote they will see their way "clear to vote to permit S. 1728 to come to the floor."

To the six Republicans voting against cloture, the NAACP official also sent letters expressing the hope that they will vote for cloture on the second test. "The very least the supporters of this legislation have a right to expect is that the senators of both parties will permit it to reach the floor for debate and vote on its merits."

Sent Letters

All senators of both parties voting for cloture in the May 19th test were sent letters of thanks and urged to prevail upon their party colleagues to vote for limitation of debate when the issue comes up again as promised by Majority Leader Scott W. Lucas.

"The 33 Republican votes for cloture," the NAACP leader said in the letter to Democratic supporters, "serve to emphasize the responsibility resting upon the majority party, and the fact that 23 votes from states outside the South were either cast against cloture or were absent (twelve of these being Democrats) makes it difficult to place the blame for the poor showing of the Democrats on the Deep South members." Millions of Americans, Mr. Wilkins told Republican supporters of cloture, followed the Senate proceedings because of their deep interest in FEPC legislation. "The political party that does its full duty towards discharging its pledge on this issue is certain to reap the appreciation of these citizens," he observed.

Supporters of FEPC throughout the nation and particularly in those states whose senators were either absent or voted against cloture were urged by Mr. Wilkins to hold mass rallies and to call upon local and state party leaders to insist that these leaders hold the senators in line to vote for cloture.

In a joint statement by Mr. Wilkins and A. Philip Randolph, released immediately following the vote on May 19, it was pointed out that cloture could have been invoked had all the non-southern senators voted for it.

"For too long the Dixiecrats alone have been blamed for strangling civil rights legislation in the Senate," the statement said. "Today's vote shows that both major parties are playing hide and seek with FEPC. It is time for both parties to stop using the Dixiecrats as a cloak for their own irresponsibility or their own insincerity on civil rights issues."

Victims of Arthritis Benefited by Cortisone

Saying of increased quantities of cattle galls from which is extracted cortisone used in relieving the suffering people afflicted with arthritis, is urged on its members by the American Meat Institute. Galls from nearly 100 cattle is needed to produce the quantity of cortisone required for one week's treatment for the average patient.

"The use of the drug in proper dosage," said the institute, "is the subject of intensive research by the medical profession, which also is endeavoring to find ways of prolonging the dosage effect and, further, establish factual data on secondary side effects and possible toxicity.

However, research is being hampered by the fact that the quantity of the drug now available is too scarce for repeated and prolonged dosage for even a moderate number of people. Yet many people are suffering with arthritis and we feel sure that, under the circumstances, our members will take steps to save as much as possible of this vitally important product.

Some indication of the processing necessary to produce cortisone is found in the fact that in one meat packing company, which is working closely with a leading medical clinic, 32 different procedures are carried out before the raw gall is reduced to powdered desoxycholic acid from which cortisone is extracted.

One hundred pounds of raw gall will produce about eight-tenths of a pound of the acid, only one per cent of which is cortisone. The drug also may be obtained in smaller quantities per animal from sheep and calves.

Increasing evidence is developing as to the value of cortisone; one prominent clinic having reported that patients bedridden for months had left their beds soon after treatment began—one patient having gone shopping, with no trace of arthritic stiffness, seven days after the beginning of the treatments.

When Buying a Blanket Be Sure to Examine Nap
What makes a blanket warm? Weight is not the answer, according to the American Institute of Laundering, research and educational center for the laundry industry. A good blanket, they maintain, is relatively light. It retards the escape of body heat by means of insulating air cells held in the nap.
Like the nap, according to the institute, is the quality of the blanket. In buying blankets, if you have the opportunity, for it is the insulation provided by the air cells held in the nap, which gives blankets their "warm, as toast" quality.
So when buying a blanket examine the nap. Excessive napping will weigh the yarn and lessen the durability of the blanket. Be sure to choose one of good depth, too, even and springy to the touch when you brush it with the hand.
All wool blankets of virgin wool will retain their warm qualities and high nap resiliency through the years with proper laundering. A blanket made of cotton and quilt will also have the warmth to quite a good degree, if the nap is made of virgin wool.
Some of the newer blankets are made of nylon combined with wool or cotton. This combination adds softness and lustre to the blankets, but after a number of launderings the nylon retaining qualities will be lost to a certain extent. Quality of the wool fibers used, and laundering methods, will effect the rate of

ATTORNEY GENERAL
PRIMARIES JUNE 5th, 1950
Bernard A. Brown has the rare distinction of being the only Iowa County Attorney to ever secure a conviction and actual forfeiture of a race horse wire ticker as a gambling device. These convictions and forfeitures were secured in July and August of 1949... many months prior to the present highly publicized national crusade against organized gambling.
It took exhaustive work on the part of all law enforcement agencies at City and County level to secure these vitally important convictions.
This experience and know-how are mighty important qualifications for a man seeking the Republican nomination for Attorney General.

The quaint little town of Scottsdale, Ariz., which prides itself on being "the west's most western town," is going to remain that way. Property owners in Scottsdale, located at the edge of the resort area only a short distance northwest of Phoenix, are being asked to keep their buildings dressed in the western motif. That means false fronts, board awnings and porches, and all the trimmings. The community also is encouraging more people to travel into the community on horseback and plans to hire Spanish serenaders to sing in the towns on Saturdays.

Number of Constellations
Before 1930 there was some confusion about the number of constellations and their exact boundaries, but in that year the International Astronomical Union officially defined them and set their number at 88. Of these, 48 go back to ancient times. They include such familiar names as Orion, Perseus, Cassiopeia, the twins, the lion, the great and small bears, the bull, the swan, etc. The others have been added mostly since 1600. Some of the modern constellations were adopted to fill in the far southern sky, not visible from countries in southern Europe and Asia where the older names probably originated. Others were given to areas in the northern sky containing only faint stars, with which the ancients had not bothered.

Mrs. Willean Patrick will be hostess. Friday evening June 2, will be consecration services. Sunday, June 4, is pastors day with two services. at the church dining room at 8 p. m.

California's Antelope Given Chance to Survive

In the lonely, rugged terrain of south-eastern Mono county, the remnants of California's aboriginal herd of half-a-million antelope are being given another chance to hold their own against the inroads of civilization.

The division of fish and game has announced completion of a trapping and transplanting operation which moved 50 antelope from their Lassen county home to a less crowded area once inhabited by their ancestors. The 230-mile truck trip through Nevada brought the prong-horns to their new Benton Meadows residence in good condition.

Sixty-five of the colorful animals were trapped during one month in the lava bed plains east of Susanville. Of the total, two were earmarked for display in the city of Sacramento zoo, two escaped, five were casualties, and six were rejected because of advanced age.

Assistant game manager Bert F. Knowles, leader of the federal aid Pittman-Robertson project, reported that the release supplements a similar transplanting expedition effected by the state agency in the winter of 1946-47. At that time, 32 antelope were released in Mono county.

The speedy animals are trapped on over-grazed ranges in north-eastern California with the aid of an airplane. Herded, sorted, and loaded, they are then taken in flat-bed stake trucks for release in more suitable habitat.

In the past century, agricultural development has driven the once abundant antelope into the remote lava bed and woodland country behind the high Sierra. Here, on narrowing ranges, the decimated herds have held their own under the watchful eyes of state employees.

Color in the home via the window is the answer of the clever homemaker who lowers her decorated window shades that match the walls to give the effect of murals as in the room above. The use of more color in home decoration, has resulted in drastic changes in the once plain window shade. They are available in any shade to harmonize with decorative schemes. Bright and strong colors, dainty pastels, striped, plaid and even hand-painted designs in floral or scenic patterns, are used by those who want the latest in smart home decoration.

Night Safety Beacons

Traffic safety markers that would save lives after sundown with "bottled" sunlight were forecast today. These would be highly efficient versions of present phosphorescent materials that glow for several hours after being "charged" with light. Such "storage batteries of light" would be road markers or paving blocks treated with special paints or dyes which would cause them to leap to life at night.

Bananas and Refrigeration
Only the banana is harmed by keeping in the refrigerator. The best temperature for banana storage is about 57° F. About 60° to 62° F. is the best for ripening them. Since most refrigerator temperatures are in the range of 35° to 48° F., they would be too cold for banana storage.

D.M. Branch NAACP Ends Membership Drive with 1,129; Workers Praised

Chairman of the 1950 membership campaign of the Des Moines Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People was Mrs. Vera Morrow of 1160 17th street, who brought the drive to a successful close.

This is the first time that the branch has exceeded its membership quota in an allotted campaign period without having to extend the drive for members, Luther T. Glanton, Jr., president of the branch announced this week.

MRS. VERA MORROW

The 1950 quota for the branch was 1,000 members to be secured between May 1 and 15. With the cooperation of churches in the city and young women competing for the title of "Miss NAACP" in a queen's contest, Mrs. Morrow reported 1,129 memberships on the closing date of the drive. To date the total has increased to 1,129 memberships.

"I believe that carrying the campaign up to the churches, we have made more people conscious of what the NAACP stands for and what it is doing," Mrs. Morrow commented. Aside from the branch's division leaders and membership workers, hundreds of persons showed enthusiasm and interest in putting their respective church and contestant ahead in the campaign for members.

Churches Represented
The following churches were represented in the campaign: Burns Methodist, Corinthian Baptist, St. Paul AME, First Baptist of West

PERSONAL TOUCH

By Marie R. S.S.

The Atelier Guild's art exhibit and tea last Sunday afternoon at the Y.W.C.A. had many interesting articles included in the collection of needle and handcrafts. Among them was a pair of costumed native heads done in exciting colors by the "husband" of one of the Atelier Guild members—none other than Mr. Orsel M. Morrow. These large figurines were for "exhibit only."

All the way from an Ottumwa Atelier Guild member was a pair of baby-boots, sweater and cap, which had been knitted (while she is awaiting the stork) by a former Des Moines young woman, Mrs. Manfred M. Crumb. Hendred who is housekeeping in a very comfortable fashion. These little knitted items had a touch of color here and there.

Guest speaker Bernice Setzer, director of art in the Des Moines public school, emphasized color in the world of things; the tremendous value of the sun which made light which produced color and, while she spoke, thoughts began to arise within my mind of the world—without color in the grass, the flowers; without colored people. How ghastly things would be if all were white or colorless! But my thoughts were halted suddenly, when the white art teacher spoke:

"It would be a pretty drab world if everything in the world were putty-colored."

Well, that statement puzzled until I could get to a window to see exactly what was the color of putty. All that I could remember ever having seen on windows that I grew up washing during holidays from school, was sorta brown or black.

A saunter over to an available window did not shed any light on the color of putty. It had been painted the color of the woodwork

Des Moines, Bethel AME, First CME, Mt. Olive Baptist, Shiloh Baptist, Maple Street Baptist, Union Baptist, Kyles AME Zion and Pentecostal Mission.

The five highest churches in the final campaign secured these totals: Corinthian, 312 memberships; St. Paul, 303; First Baptist, 264; Maple Street, 133; Burns Methodist, 105.

Members of the NAACP who worked as division leaders were: A. P. Trotter, Mrs. Georgine C. Morris, Mrs. Iona Lloyd of West Des Moines, Mrs. Delores Strange and Mrs. Dorothy Wallace.

Division Workers

Division workers included: Mrs. H. T. McKnight, F. D. Morrow, Mrs. E. L. Jemison, Miss Janice Wolder, Miss Zola King, Mrs. Sarah E. Jett, Atty. Henry T. McKnight, Miss Dorothy Manuel, LaMar T. Ellis, Eugene Davis, George Jackson, A. H. Edwards, Mrs. Thelma Clark, Mrs. Vera Kemp, Rev. T. L. Lighon, Mrs. Clara Bayles, Mrs. Lucy Wellington, Mrs. Pinkie Carr, Mrs. Lee E. Porter, Mrs. Ruth Moore, Mrs. W. J. Ritchey, Mrs. Bernice Gaines, Mrs. Rosa Wilson.

Miss Marguerite DeSleet, Miss Jean Brown, Mrs. Azelia Mitchell, Mrs. Guy E. Greene, Mrs. Thelma Reeves, Atty. S. Joe Brown, Mrs. Marceline Estes, Mrs. Agnes Matthews, Russell Reeves, Helen Boulware, Atty. C. P. Howard, Mrs. B. J. Mrs. Dorothy Wallace, Miss Janice Wallace, Mrs. Georgia Add, Mrs. J. Newsome, Mrs. E. Simmons, Arlo D. Roberts.

Chairman Commended

Miss Lucille Black, national membership chairman of the NAACP, commended Mrs. Morrow in a letter on May 25. Mrs. Black wrote:

"On behalf of the national office I wish to extend to you our sincere appreciation of the wonderful job which you did in the Des Moines campaign. You and your workers have certainly demonstrated that the job can be done if there is sufficient interest and enthusiasm. "It is indeed encouraging to have the support of persons like yourself in the work of the NAACP. I hope our program will continue to merit your cooperation."

But, still wondering what the speaker's putty color was, sent me seeking Mr. Webster's advice. Of putty, he wrote: "an oxide of tin; a compound of whitening and linseed oil; of tin 'a silvery-white, soft... then to the word drab—a kind of thick dull brown or yellowish gray woolen cloth."

Thank Heavens that the world of beings or things is neither "ghastly drab!"

Graduation and school events have brought many visitors in town for the week. Seen Sunday following one of the Drake university closing programs were: Mrs. Mildred Hill of Palmyra, New Jersey, who saw her son, Wendell T. Hill, receive his bachelor of science degree in pharmacy in the commencement exercises Monday; and Miss Marcella Washington, a Drake university graduate of last year, who spent the week end here from St. Louis, Mo., where she is teaching at Vashon High school.

According to Mr. Hill, he has accepted a position as a pharmacist in a St. Louis drug store.

Visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Adams, 1648 Walker street, is Mrs. Martha M. Brown, library consultant at Tennessee A. and I. college, Nashville, who is awaiting graduation exercises of a nephew, Joseph R. Anderson, from East High school on Thursday, June 8. She will be in the city until June 10 or 11.

IN RECITAL JUNE 4

ARTIE MCNAIR

Artie McNair, Drake University School of Fine Arts student, will be presented in a piano recital on Sunday afternoon, June 4, at 4 o'clock, in the Drake university lounge.

He will be the feature soloist for the annual spring musical sponsored by the Dilettante club of Wilkie House.

The recital is free to the public. Mr. McNair will play: "Prelude and Fugue" (Bach); "Vienna Carnival Scene"—Allegro, "Romance and Scherzino" (Schuman); "Etude No. 10 Op. 9" (Chopin); "Pantomime (El Amor Brujo) M. De Falla; "Clog Dance" (Hanson); and "Malaguena" (Lecuona).

"I met a man a month ago and we seem to get along swell. However, I know there is someone else in his life. Hewants me to go in with him and buy a car. He said he would take his vacation in it in July and I could take mine in it in August. Should we buy this car together as he is trying to get me to do? May 29, 1915."

Ans: No. It's too risky. If you're not financially able to buy a car alone, don't make any investment. You've worked too hard for your savings to take a chance of losing them. It just isn't practical to make a deal like this with a casual acquaintance.

"I am the unhappiest person in the world. Several years ago I met a man with whom I fell deeply in love. He married someone else. He is the man I have always wanted. Every time I see him, I just get all to pieces. I married two years ago and I am still unhappy. Do you think I should see this man as much as I can as I may be able to forget him if I did? March 17, 1924."

Ans: Seeing him will only add to your misery. If you could avoid him altogether, you will get him off your mind. Basically, your present unhappy state is due, more or less to your pampering yourself and believing that you love the man. Turn the devotion which you feel you have for this man toward your husband and take the time to appreciate him and you will be a happy wife.

TRIBUNE SPORTS WRITER'S BAD TASTE

Bill Bryson, a sports writer for the Evening Tribune, has been following the Des Moines Bruins baseball team on its latest tour.

The Negro did that to a sickening extent. Sensible sports writers and announcers don't do such things.

Following Baker's first appearance, the articles said the Negro did this, the Negro did that to a sickening extent.

As to the attitude of the southern boys, Bryson ought to know that the Negro's position in baseball is no longer a question.

The Bystander predicts a good future for Baker on the Des Moines squad, because decent people are no longer willing to deal with an artist on the basis of race but on that of what he can deliver.

VOTE IN THE PRIMARIES JUNE 5

Iowa voters go to the polls Monday, June 5th, when candidates for United State Senator, Representatives in Congress, State, County and township officials will be nominated.

Primaries devolve a duty upon parties to name the best qualified candidate for office for in our system of straight party votes, loyal partisans are placed at a disadvantage if the clear duty is not followed.

There are those voters who jump from party to party in primaries. It is done more so in the general elections. However, under our system of national and state set up, they are run by parties, not individuals.

The tendency to talk of independent voting grows but the regular party stalwarts run things. Thus it is highly necessary that reliable, efficient candidates be named by the parties in order to play fair with the party voters.

However, as a good citizen it is mighty important that every fellow voter for only in this manner will the right type of individual be nominated to represent his party in the general election; will do his duty toward the nation and the community.

JIM CROW SLAPPED BY SOUTH AFRICAN COURT

By LOUIS ZUBA

Capetown, S. Africa (Atlas)—Jim Crow underwent some legal trimming last week when the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court ruled that the government's Jim Crow regulations separating Negroes from whites on trains were illegal because they brought about unequal treatment of the different races.

The government enforces segregation in buses and in all post offices where police are posted to make sure that non-whites and darker races enter through doors designated for their color.

Natives and Indians are forbidden to enter white bars, and mixed marriages are generally forbidden. Today, a minister is on the carpet in the court for marrying persons of different color.

The latest ruling of the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court is believed will invalidate all the government's Jim Crow laws.

HEALTH FOR ALL

CARE, COURTESY, AND COMMON SENSE

A total of 91,000 Americans were killed in accidents in 1949. Of that total, more than one-third, or 31,500 people, died as the result of motor accidents, making motor vehicles the country's leading accident-killer.

These warning figures have extra meaning for us now that the warm spring days are here and vacation time is approaching. The use of automobiles is not confined to any one season, but there will be more of us on the road in cars from now until fall.

There is obviously no definite set of rules that will keep us safe from motor fatalities. But there are three rules, familiar to all of us, which, if followed, can cut down the possibility of automobile accidents and deaths. These are care, courtesy, and common sense.

Careful driving means care of your own life and the lives of people riding with you, other motorists on the road, and of pedestrians. But it's difficult to drive carefully in a car in poor condition.

A periodic check on brakes and tires can check accidents, and the motor must be kept in perfect working condition, since many motor accidents happen in the rain and fog.

Courtesy on the road actually embraces unwritten laws of self preservation. Numerous accidents and fatalities have occurred through discourteous practices like "hogging the road," insisting on the right of way, and trying to beat the traffic light.

Youth Organization, and Tablet sports writer Jack Butler to bring about the repeal.

HEALTH FOR ALL

CARE, COURTESY, AND COMMON SENSE

No motorist can rely on "the other guy" to stop or to go to great lengths to avoid a collision.

It's only common sense to obey road signs advising motorists to "Stop," or "Drive Slowly," or "Beware Railroad Crossing." They were put there for a purpose—to save your life and the lives of others.

Three out of five motor accidents occur at night, and it's sensible as well as courteous to stay on your own side of the road especially during twilight and dark, and to dim your lights when cars approach in the opposite direction.

Finally, it's still true that "Motor and gasoline don't mix." The man who has been drinking and gets behind the wheel of a car is courting trouble. Drunken driving has been responsible for numerous deaths and permanent injuries.

Care, courtesy, and common sense won't put a damper on anyone's without a setback; Cliff Johnson has turned in his single triumph and Geo. Walker has also won a contest.

Both Duncan and Barnes are youngsters. This is their second season with the Monarchs and they have profited by last season's experience. Both are right-handers and each one has plenty of speed on the ball.

Neither one resorts to tricky pitches, but Duncan and Barnes have fast-breaking curves.

So, the five hurlers have set something of a record in 7 games by not calling for help or sending out on SOS. They have won 5 games in 7 starts, which is a good record, so early in the season.

In addition to the stout pitching, the Monarchs have an infield that scoops up everything and the outfield is comprised of 3 fellows who can turn their back on the ball and go after 'em.

Monarchs and Clowns Here June 12

MORE THAN A PRAYER—Although King Tut, Spec Bebob and Juggling Joe (L. to R.) seem to be praying for their club to come through with a win, Pollock's sensational Indianapolis Clowns of the Negro American League will display more than a prayer when they face the Kansas City Monarchs on June 19 at 8:15 o'clock at Pioneer Memorial Park.

The sensational and exceedingly popular Indianapolis Clowns; Syd Pollock's Negro American League "showmen," continue their current campaign on Monday, June 12, when they will make their first visit of the season to Des Moines to cross bats with the Kansas City Monarchs in a game scheduled to get underway at 8:15 o'clock.

With their brilliant ball-playing and inimitable showmanship, the Clowns long have been the outstanding attraction and drawing card of Negro baseball. Their pre-game show headed by the "Clown Prince" King Tut and his able staff of assistants is what the fans really turn out to see in such large numbers.

Tops among the entertainment provided for the fans is their daily exhibition of shadowball, where the entire infield goes through the full motions of an infield drill, but with only an imaginary baseball being used. They chase flies, scoop up hard-hit ground balls, make throws across the diamond and spear impossible throws, even knocking themselves out at times in their effort to keep the fans roaring.

This year's newest edition of the Clowns will include the inimitable pair, King Tut and Spec Bebob, assisted by Booty Jim, while on the field such standout performers as Buster Haywood, Ray, Neli, Sammy, Halston, Speed, Merchant, Verdes, Drake, Archie Ware, "Piggy" Sands, among others, will provide the aggressive, hustling baseball that holds first place in the funmakers' scheme of things.

Monarchs' Hurlers Of the 5 starting pitchers, the Monarchs have yet to call on a reliever, so arduous is the hurling of Jim (Left) LaMarque, Mel Duncan, Frank Barnes, Cliff Johnson, and George Walker.

LaMarque has gone the distance three times and has been beaten only once. The crafty southpaw lost a tough 2-0 decision to the Philadelphia Stars when his mates were held to 4 hits. Big Jim usually is around at the finish when he starts and the other hurlers on the club have followed in his footsteps.

LaMarque has also won a shut-out by turning back the Cleveland Buckeyes, 3-0.

Mel Duncan has a 1-1 record, and he has gone the entire route in the 2 games.

Frank Barnes has won 2 straight

Iowa Needs His

EXPERIENCE

Bourke Hickenlooper is a veteran of World War I and a graduate of Iowa State College and the University of Iowa. From his entry into politics as a member of the Iowa Legislature in 1934, he has gone steadily forward, to each successive responsibility...

LEADERSHIP

In the U.S. Senate leadership and ability to help our State can be measured by the seniority, recognition and service of a member. Sen. Hickenlooper is a member of the vital committees on Agriculture and on Foreign Relations. He is the ranking senate Republican member of the Atomic Energy Committee...

AND COURAGE!

Sen. Hickenlooper has courageously fought for our national and internal security. For this he has been attacked by the left wing propagandists but events have proved him right. He is fighting for a balanced budget, sound tax reduction, and freedom of opportunity; he is fighting against government squandering, the mounting public debt and the growing socialism of the present administration.

Hickenlooper votes in the public interest by his place on Mr. Truman's purge list. For courageous, able and honest representation for Iowa in the U.S. Senate, "STICK WITH HICK."
