Six Arrested in Midwest Narcotics Ring Crackdown

Six men who were arrested last Sunday night in a midwest narcotics ring crackdown were accused by federal agents Monday of participation in a $50,000 a year dope-smuggling racket here.

A. M. Bangs of Minneapolis, a federal narcotics agent, said raids were made simultaneously in Des Moines and Omaha, Nebr. Eight persons were arrested at Omaha.

Bangs said the six arrested here had been supplying at least 5,000 marijuana smokers here with 1,000 marijuana cigarettes each week.

Such cigarettes sold in Des Moines for an average of $1 each, Bangs said.

Those arrested here include Robert Williams, 25, who gave his address at 1555 Walker street.

Bangs said Williams is the "king-pin" in the marijuana smuggling racket here.

Others arrested gave their names and addresses as:

Clarence V. Cook, jr., 20, of Chicago, Ill.

Executor Bruce Morrow, 32, of 832 Keosauqua way.

Raymond Clyde Monroe, jr., 28, of 1216 Laurel street.

Albert Price Powell, 30, of 920 Tenth street.

George Earl Shebeck, 35, of 4109 Cornell street.

Federal narcotics agents have made purchases of marijuana from all six of the men in custody here, Bangs said. The first purchase was made late in December of 1949, he said.

10-Month Probe

The investigation of dope sales in Des Moines has been going on for 10 months, he said, as part of a midwest check.

Few Changes Made at A.M.E. Annual Conference; Bishop Baber Commends Ministers

"Appointments are sacred and far-reaching," the Rt. Rev. George W. Baber of Detroit, presiding bishop of the fourth episcopal district of the A.M.E. church, told ministers attending the 29th annual conference which closed here last Sunday.

"I believe, if a man will go where he is sent and trust God, God will bless him.

"Don't stay in one place too long. It is bad for you. It is not good for your soul. It is danger of stagnation. New scenes bring new challenges," he spoke to the ministers.

"Stagnation in your soul will have an affect upon the people," Bishop

Baber talked and he called attention to "Poor Elijah," who was "so comfortable—he was going to pieces."

"Let me tell you something," he continued. "You can get into the church and quit praying—you get so comfortable. God can't do anything with a comfortable preacher."

"They tell me the most comfortable time in a person's life is just before he dies. He goes into a coma. God deliver us from ministerial comas," the bishop spoke.

On Sunday evening when he read the appointments here, he made few changes, one of which was the transfer of Rev. James C. Dixon, who had been presiding elder of the St. Paul district, to the Indiana conference.

Reports of Monies

There was much applauding and cheering on Thursday afternoon when the Bishop listened to the ministers of the two districts make their annual reports of their memberships, church expansion and beautification programs and dollar and total monies collected.

With kind words of appreciation, Bishop Baber praised the ministers for their work in the churches—large or small.

He commended Rev. M. L. Simmons, pastor of St. Peter's chapel in Minneapolis for his "beautiful spirit," shown when the young minister paid a special tribute to his predecessor, Rev. H. C. Boyd, for "leadership." The Rev. Mr. Simmons asked Rev. Boyd to stand by him while he made his annual report which revealed a membership of 415; dollar money totaling $470; a total of $18,336.50 taken in during the year; a balance of $8,893.77 in the treasury.

"I have another report," added the Rev. Mr. Simmons. "I'm expecting a baby the latter part of the

Seek to Make Crusade Convincing Exhibition of America Solidarity

New York—Top Negro leaders in a variety of fields have joined with other prominent Americans to make the Crusade For Freedom a convincing demonstration to the world of American solidarity against Communist aggression aboard, according to Gen. Lucius D. Clay, the Crusade's national chairman.

General Clay, who was military governor of Germany during the Berlin airlift, announced that the following are serving as members of the Crusade's National Council: Dr. Dorothy B. Ferebee, president of the National Council of Negro Women; Lester Granger, executive director of the National Urban League; Jackie Robinson, baseball star; Bishop William J. Walls, Second Episcopal District A.M.E. Zion Church, Chicago; and Dr. Charles S. Johnson, president of Fisk University.

Objectives

The Crusade For Freedom was launched throughout the country by General Dwight D. Eisenhower in a radio address carried on all networks on Labor Day. Its objectives are: 1) to secure the signatures of millions of men, women and children on the Freedom Scroll, proclaiming belief in the cause of human freedom; 2) to give those signing the Scroll an opportunity to back up their signatures with contributions to expand Radio Free Europe. This is the non-government "freedom sta-

Designed by Walter Dorwin Teague, one of America's leading designers, the Freedom Bell is larger than London's famed Big Ben. It stands nine feet high, weighs 10 tons and measures 98 inches in diameter across the lip. With its mounting, which includes a specially designed electrical mechanism to swing it, the Bell stands 12 feet high and weighs twenty tons.

On the body of the Bell in bas relief are five figures representing the major races of man, each figure standing with arms outstretched. The joining hands holds torches symbolizing freedom. Above the figures is a circle of laurel leaves denoting peace. Around the Bell's rim is the inscription:

"That this world, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom," a paraphrase of Lincoln's words at Gettysburg.

Now in New York City, the Freedom Bell will soon leave to tour the daily broadcasts to 200 countries. The symbol of the Crusade is the Freedom Bell which was cast on

University of Virginia To Open Law School After NAACP Wins Decision

New York—Gregory Hayes Swanson began this week to make preparations to enter the University of Virginia law school, as a special three-judge federal court ordered the university to admit this first Negro student in its history.

The court's ruling represents another victory for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in its barrage of attacks against segregated higher education throughout the South, as part of a follow-up campaign after the recent historic United States Supreme Court decisions in the Sweat and McLaurin cases.

Permanently Restrains

The court's ruling permanently restrains the university from refusing admission of any student to its law school solely on the basis of race.

Walter White, NAACP executive secretary, expressed the Association's gratification at the decision, handed down "in the finest tradition of American law," and pointed out that the ruling is especially significant because it comes at a time when southern educators are convening in Florida "to devise means of circumventing the Sweat and McLaurin decisions through regional education centers."

Must Be Won

The decision opening the doors of the University of Virginia to Negro students, Mr. White asserted, is the "kind of case that can be fought and must be won." He emphasized the immediate need for funds for the continuing legal attack on segregated education "before the enemy regroup."

NAACP attorneys are presently engaged in similar suits against the Universities of North Carolina, Florida, and Louisiana. Negro students are presently being admitted for the first time as undergraduates to the University of Delaware, after the Court of Chancery in Wilmington ordered their admission in the first NAACP suit after the Supreme Court rulings in June.

Discover Thousands of Victims as 2nd New York Credit Firm is Prosecuted

New York (CNS)—Stewart's Credit Co., Inc., 1 Nevins Street, Brooklyn, N. Y., became the second firm of its kind, within two weeks, to face prosecution by Attorney General Nathaniel L. Goldstein. The reported swindle scheme, charged against the Credit Jewelers, was that they operated mostly among low income groups, thousands of whom were Negroes, and had tricked more than 8,000 people in signing away their salaries for unwanted jewelry and watches.

The Attorney General's office reported that it had uncovered evidence to support a charge that salesmen urged prospective victims to accept a watch or a piece of jewelry "absolutely free, on a trial basis." If the victim accepted he would be asked to sign a piece of paper which was represented as a receipt but which, in reality, was a wage assignment directing the victim's employer to deduct 10 per cent of his wages until the item was paid for.

The price was normally three or four times the current retail price. The most "common" sale was $70 demanded for a $20 watch. Salesmen were instructed to make sure that the victim was employed, and that he was poorly educated or had too poor a command of English to realize what he was signing. When the person attempted to return the jewelry, he would be refused and the wage assignment would be enforced.

In some cases, the Attorney General reported, the victims were persuaded to sign the "receipt" on promise of delivery of a "free watch on trial." In these cases, he stated, the watches weren't even delivered, although payments were exacted. The company has collected $320,000 in two years through this scheme, it was charged. Information for criminal prosecution is being turned over to the District Attorneys of the counties in which the concern has operated. Prior to the charges against Stewart's, Crown Jewelry, of New York City, was faced with the same kind of a suit from the Attorney General's office.

A spokesman for Stewart's denied mark-ups and deceitful practices. He said wage assignments were used, but that salesmen were instructed to explain them.

The expose of the operations in the field of Credit Jewelry operations has given to rumors that Negroes have been mulcted, through these companies, of over $5,000,000 in two years, just within the environs of Manhattan.

Truman Tells Urban League 'Can Mobilize Into Great Team, Reach Goals of Peace'

Grand Rapids, Mich.—In a message to the Urban League 40th anniversary conference at Grand Rapids, President Harry S. Truman commended the League's method—teamwork—and said "In the years that lie ahead, I confidently believe we can mobilize ourselves into the same great team and reach our goals of lasting peace and prosperity."

Truman's message opened the five-day League Conference which featured workshop and discussion sessions and major addresses attended by more than 500 League staff and board members, delegates and friends.

Strikes at "isms" Lester B. Granger, League executive director, in his report on the "State of the League" said "It is impossible to disassociate the specific and peaceful objectives of the Urban League from the general and military interests of the Korean conflict. For this is a war of ideas even more than it is a war of military resources."

Granger blasted "Americans of any race who spread dissension and suspicion, bigotry and hatred between groups of citizens and who insist upon propagating racist ideas and seeking to impose citizenship restrictions upon fellow-Americans because of their race" as being "every bit as dangerous to the cause of Democracy as members of Communist forces who infiltrate behind our lines in Korea" using civilian disguises.

Striking at the dangers of Communism, Granger said "Communism feeds upon frustration and despair, upon the blocking of Negro effort and hope. The Urban League removes despair by providing opportunity. It dissipates frustration by offering a demonstration of steady progress."

Health Needs Outlined The dire picture of Negro health in the United States was outlined at a Tuesday luncheon of the Conference by Dr. Remus G. Robinson of the American College of Surgeons.

There is only one physician, said Dr. Robinson, "for 3,500 Negroes all over the nation, whereas the national ratio for all persons, Negro and white, is one physician for 750 persons."

Major blame for the deficit in medical personnel rests, he said, "in the attitudes and policies of the 79 medical schools in the United States."

Organized Safety Work Cuts Rail Travel Hazards From 1913 to 1949 the passenger casualty rate (fatalities and injuries) was reduced from 31 to 7.5 per 1,000,000 man-hours.

When the casualty rate for employees is considered in relation to the volume of freight and passenger traffic moved by the railroads, the reduction is still more striking—the 1949 rate being less than one-tenth what it was 35 years before when organized safety work began on the railroads.

Such results were accomplished by special organized and continuous attention to safety. The railroads were pioneers in safety efforts. Organized safety education became a definite part of the railway program as far back as 1913.

In 1921, the American railway association, predecessor of the association of American railroads, organized a safety section which has since carried forward three major activities—safety engineering directed toward safer plant equipment, efforts

Although it has been a Chinese-populated city for centuries, the Nationalists' new seat of government on the island of Formosa is largely a product of Japanese planning. ## Where Rivers Combine

In many parts of the world, two rivers join to take a third name. The Amazon, world's largest river in volume by far, is the union of the Negro and Solimoes. Farther south in South America, the La Plata, though no more than an estuary of the combining Parana and Uruguay rivers, is No. 2 in volume of flow. The Tigris and Euphrates rise in eastern Turkey.

LORIN (Snus) MILLER Republican Candidate For Sheriff

At the November election you will have the privilege of selecting from the candidates, a Sheriff, to serve you for the next two years. This is one of the most important elective offices in Polk County.

You should use the utmost care and consideration in selecting your candidate. Regardless of your business, profession, or occupation, you should appreciate the value of experience. If your automobile needed a repair job, you would want an experienced mechanic to do the work. If you had a toothache, you would want an experienced, qualified dentist to take care of the tooth. Entrusting your safety, the safety of your family and property to a peace officer should be given more consideration than your automobile, or an aching tooth.

I have had 27 years experience as a Peace Officer. During this time I served as a Patrolman, Detective Sergeant, Lieutenant, Captain, and the last three years as Chief of Police. I have made arrests for every major crime violation, and prepared the cases to go to court without the assistance of outside enforcement agencies. I know the value of crime prevention, and I know that a patrol car in all localities will discourage crime. I know that children are entitled to different treatment than adult violators, and the way to give these children different treatment is to assign capable officers to assist the Juvenile Court and our schools in handling these cases. If I am elected, there will be a Juvenile Bureau established, patrol cars in all localities, and experienced and capable men will be assigned to the criminal division.

It is not too early to start making your selection of candidates you intend to vote for. You should check the qualifications of each candidate with the same care and consideration you would an applicant for a position in a private business.

Since the primary election, I have talked to several representatives of churches, business and social organizations, and have been asked what my policies would be, should I be elected, so I am taking this means of advising the public what my policies will be.

1. There will be no commercialized gambling in Polk County.

2. Minors in taverns will not be tolerated. Taverns catering to juveniles will be closed.

3. The door to the Sheriff's office will be open to any person, or group of persons with constructive ideas as to the operation of the Sheriff's office. The Sheriff's office will be operated for the benefit of all Polk County, not just a select few.

4. No hoodlum, or racketeer will have any influence in the Sheriff's office, and any attempt by them to influence the Sheriff's office or personnel will result in another jail sentence for this hoodlum or racketeer.

Ability to Sleep Deeply Of Vital Concern to All

While sleep has been an important part of the routine of living since the beginning of time, very little is actually known about it. Science has found that during sleep large muscles relax first, tiny ones last. The power to make conscious movements and the sense of smell go first—then vision, hearing and touch follow in that order. The metabolic rate becomes slower. Just recently, Dr. Henry K. Beecher, Door professor of research in anaesthesia at Harvard Medical school, discovered that the transition from wakefulness to sleep involves the shifting of brain activity from the back to the frontal region of the brain. Dr. Beecher is continuing his work on the many other physiological mysteries concerning sleep.

However, what really happens during sleep is not of nearly so great concern to most of us as being able to sleep restfully so that fatigue and tension can be eliminated from our lot of life's little problems. Lack of proper sleep is probably responsible for more personality changes, more dissension, more failures than any other one factor.

To "set the stage" for relaxing slumber pays great dividends in health, success and enjoyment of life. It must start with well constructed, comfortable bedding which yields proper support for correcting fatigue posture. Good ventilation, quiet, darkness, loose nightclothes are other important "props" for setting the stage.

Joe Purdy and family drove down to the Iowa State Fair a couple of weeks ago.

"Greatest stock show in the world," Joe reports.

"I got a special kick out of the way those exhibitors stick up for their particular breed. I heard a Hereford cattle owner arguing, hammer and tongs, with an Angus owner. I couldn't help chuckling, because both men looked pretty prosperous. So both breeds must be right good."

Isn't that true of most people's tastes and preferences right here

KAY VAUGHN SAYS: THE 'VELVET TOUCH' APPEARS IN EVERYTHING THIS FALL

New York City (CNS)—From what we can see, the designers got together and gave every fall gown, dinner dress and casual, a sophisticated, elegant "velvet touch" to enhance the coming season. And mated with diamonds, the effect is most bewitching. Already the Hollywood stars have succumbed to its charms. Dorothy Lamour, for one, while on a shopping spree in a fabulous Beverly Hills store, chose a deep garnet velvet for a voluminous coat to top daytime dresses, short dinner dresses and silk suits. It has a high buttoned collar and under it she says she'll slip a long gold chain holding a diamond medallion . . . gift from hubby.

Irene Dunne, another favorite, is wearing a navy velvet suit with deftly cut jacket treated to peaked double revers to give a vest effect. She has put three diamond birds-in-flight on the revers.

Dorothy Kirsten, the songbird, loves black velvet against her silver blonde hair. She wears it starkly simple with short sleeves and a low, wide neckline draped by a diamond necklace.

But Lena Horne, we hear, beat all the stars on the "velvet touch." While in Paris this summer she caught the designers dreaming up their velvety creations. So she bought a luscious deep velvet gown, sophisticated and svelt, to show off her . . . diamonds!

The marriage of Miss Jean Mary Morris, daughter of Atty. and Mrs. James B. Morris, 955 Seventeenth street, and Dr. G. Kenneth Washington of Gary, Ind., was solemnized at 4:30 o'clock Saturday, Sept. 9, at the St. Paul's Episcopal church.

Dr. Washington is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Washington of Gary. The Rev. Robert Kem, assistant rector of St. Paul's church, read the double-ring marriage service in the presence of approximately 400 guests of the bridal couple.

The sacred vows were exchanged at the altar of the church's chancel which was illuminated by candlelight that blended its glow with daylight streaming through the stained glass windows. Bouquets of tall white gladioli decorated the windows of the chancel.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. E. P. Jackson, soprano, sang "O Perfect Love," (Burleigh), accompanied by Mrs. Donald Anderson who presided at the pipe organ, playing the wedding prelude and march.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a Duchess candlelight satin gown styled with a portrait neckline of net that was bordered by French Chantilly lace with seed pearl design, and fitted sleeves with tiny lace points at the wrists. The very full skirt applied with many panels of the imported lace, fell from a softly fitted

PERSONAL TOUCH

Notes keep coming in the mail from Iowans here and there about the country. One arrived this week from former Des Moines resident, Mrs. Helena Elliston who lives in Ankeny, Iowa, wrote a line or two about her trip to Reno. Thank heavens, she can help me out, now, for just last Saturday, E. P. Jackson, a veteran employee at one of the leading downtown hotels here, stopped to say that he "got a kick when he read that I made the mistake of making up that swanky Reno hotel's bed."

"You just made more work for the maid, for she had to make it all over. Why do people do that?" he queried. Then he consoled that "you are not the only one who has made that mistake, for people do that everyday—and I don't know why," he was puzzled. After pausing, he asked "why didn't you write more about Reno?"

Now comes Mrs. Elliston—bless her—who "wants to add I have enjoyed your article each week about your western trip."

And, now listen—all of you Reno fans—to what Mrs. Elliston says: "Was fortunate to have been in Reno and to go through the famous court house where thousands have received their final papers; stood on the bridge where the divorcees drop their wedding bands to end an unfortunate marriage. In the receiving line with the bride party were Mrs. Morris, mother of the bride, attired in plum beautiful satin with matching hat, bag and shoes; Mrs. Washington, mother of the bridegroom, in aqua crepe with black accessories; and Mrs. Salemma Morris, grandmother of the bride, in a smart black outfit.

The candlelight motif was carried out at the wedding reception and featured the four-tier wedding cake that was decorated with lemon leaf garlands.

Parlor hostesses were Mesdames Matthew Johnson, J. W. Mitchell, Wm. J. Ritchey, Virgil Dixon, Clyde Morris, F. O. Morrow, Joseph Howard of Evanston, Ill., Aaron Bromley and Edward Page of Gary, both sisters of the bridegroom.

Richard C. Johnson of Gary, served Dr. Washington as best man. Groomsmen were Atty. James B.

A postcard arrived last week from Rev. C. Lopez McAllister, new president of Selma university, Ala., who wrote: "I am spending a pleasant time at Hot Springs, Ark."

THE OLD DOMINION PUSHED IN LINE

During the period beginning in 1933, a good many people criticised some provisions the US constitution and went so far as to brand the supporters of the document as foggy.

But things are occurring today such as never before which could not have come without the constitution.

A few days ago, a three judge federal court ruled that the University of Virginia must admit a Negro student to its law school.

Those statements who are responsible for the inclusion of the 13th, 14th and 15th Amendments in the constitution had a lot of vision for they realized that even though legal slavery had been abolished, Negroes had a long way to go to obtain the benefits offered citizens of this country.

Every attempt to invoke this ruling has been upheld but only after a hard opposition by a group who insist on the status quo even in the face of efforts to accord American citizens their civil rights.

Those people who once said you can't eat the constitution ought to be proud that they did not.

INTEGRATION POLICY GOES ON IN THE ARMY

Common danger makes good bed fellows much because each person tends to understand the other better and to know that under similar circumstances individuals behave pretty much the same.

The depleted ranks of the already slender force has made commanders fill up those ranks with all available troops. Thus Korean, white and Negro troops are not only fighting in unsegregated company, battalion and regimental units of larger groups, but also in mixed units of the same size.

There are those who attempt to defend this program of separation by arguing that Negroes would be promoted faster, by serving within their own ranks; that white troops would not fight well under Negro officers.

This was the same argument some used to advocate separate schools. But it was rejected. Maybe its a quicker way but not the democratic lasting way.

A most encouraging thing about this matter in Korea is the wish of the men themselves that there be no segregation. Following World War II, the boys, white and black, came home demanding democracy for everybody.

It is unfortunate that it takes a war to get some things done that should have come years before by the use of common sense and fair play.

HEALTH FOR ALL

TB—Jobs for Ex-Patients

Can a tuberculosis patient work and earn a living once he is medically discharged from the hospital? Must he always learn a new occupation? It is his field of work limited?

It is natural for these questions to arise in the mind of the person who has tuberculosis. The answer is that former tuberculosis patients can and do earn a living—at interesting and well-paying jobs in most cases.

Many tuberculosis patients return to their old jobs or professions, but work which might involve excessive physical fatigue or mental strain, or jobs which mean exposure to dust containing free silica, such as sand blasting and quarrying, should be avoided by the former tuberculosis patient.

There are literally hundreds of jobs which the tuberculosis patient can fill after he receives his medical discharge. In addition to many types of professional and office work, jobs which range from semi-skilled labor which is not unduly strenuous to highly skilled machinist work.

Moreover, employers report that the job performance of ex-tuberculosis patients compares favorably with records of workers who have never had the disease. Former patients are usually very reliable because they are more aware of the importance of sound health and thus their rate of absenteeism is lower.

AUTUMN SHADOWS

When autumn shadows tint the waving trees, When fading foliage flies upon the breeze; When evening mellows all the glowing scene, And the mild dew descends in drops of balm, When the sweet landscape, placid and serene, Inspired the bosom with a pensive calm,— Ah! then I love to linger in the vale, And hear the bird of eve's romantic tale.
