COURT DISMISSES SCHOOL CASE AFTER PLAINTIFF GRADUATES

Fort Worth, Texas.—A suit seeking equalization of school facilities for Negro and white pupils in La Grange, Texas, was dismissed this week by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals on the ground that the plaintiff, in being graduated from high school, had renounced her right to maintain the complaint.

The case involved a suit filed by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People on behalf of Vivian Brown, who completed her high school education in Fort Worth while the La Grange case was pending. The Federal District Court in Houston had ruled against Miss Brown.

3 Waive To Jury In Store Burglary

Two women and a man last Friday, waived to the grand jury before Municipal Judge Charles S. Cooter on breaking and entering charges growing out of a grocery burglary Jan. 12.

The defendants were Bonnie Braham, 22, 1641 Buchanan street, Jacqueline Fine, 19, of 1124 Thirteenth street, and Ralph Jackson, 22, of 1618 Walker street.

The hearing was halted by the waiving action after Detective Harold Traffley testified the three signed statements admitting they participated in the theft of groceries Jan. 21 from Barsky's market, 1725 E. University ave.

Ben Barsky, 611 E. Eighteenth street, owner of the market, said the stolen groceries were valued at $279.

Mass Executions Exploited As Demonstration of U. S. Color Prejudice

New York.—In an appeal to Governor John S. Battle for executive clemency for the remaining three men convicted in the case of the Martinsville Seven, Walter White, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, Feb. 2, warned that these executions would be "exploited throughout the Orient and Africa as another demonstration of American color prejudice."

(The three men were executed Feb. 5.)
"The execution this morning of four of the Martinsville Seven for a crime for which no white man in Virginia has ever paid the extreme penalty graphically exposes the inequality of sentences imposed upon Negro and white defendants," Mr. White said in a wire to the Governor.

wood W. Robinson III were likewise rejected by Governor Battle. After their various pleas had been rejected, the attorneys stated that the NAACP had exhausted every possible legal and non-legal step to save the lives of these men, without success. They indicated that they knew of no further possible action that could be taken.

Penn Senate Weigh Discrimination Law

Harrisburg, Pa.—(Atlas)—Legislation providing for the suspension of all state and municipal licenses of public amusement places on a third anti-discrimination offense has been introduced in the Pennsylvania Senate.

Under terms of the proposed law, a license suspension of 60 days would be meted out to all operators who for the third time within a year are convicted of violating "Civil and Administration remedies for discrimination, in places of public accommodation," the bill specifically lists bath houses, swimming pools, air-dromes, race courses, skating rinks, recreation parks, fairs, bowling alleys and shooting galleries.

LEGLESS VET DIES LONELY DEATH IN HOTEL ROOM

Los Angeles.—The lonely death of a legless World War I veteran in a First street rooming house came to light here this week only after the odor from the decomposing body got so bad that other tenants noticed it.

Police said that Comi Lee Boyd, 60, whose body was found lying alongside his artificial legs, had been dead two days when the Japanese rooming house manager opened the door to his dingy room with a pass key.

The body was discovered late Monday evening after an evil smell had begun to hang about the door. Coroner's examination revealed no signs of foul play and set death at due to arteriosclerosis.

A neighbor of the dead man, Mrs. Rose Reyes, said that she had heard "crying like" noises in Boyd's room at 3:30 a.m. Saturday.

The hotel manager, Y. Shinga, told police that Boyd was "on the county."

Polk County Bar Group Asks Disbarment of Des Moines Atty. C. P. Howard

Polk County's six district judges signed an order for Charles P. Howard, widely-known Des Moines attorney, to appear on Feb. 13 and answer charges of "unprofessional conduct."

Officers of the Polk County Bar association Jan. 31 asked disbarment of attorney Howard and revocation of his license to practice law.

Howard L. Bump, president of the bar association, filed the disbarment action in district court here. Bump said the proceedings were started after an investigation by the association's grievance committee and executive officers.

Four specific charges of "unprofessional conduct" were filed against Howard, a former city prosecutor and longtime prominent defense attorney—especially in criminal cases.

Money Deals
Three of the charges involved Howard's financial transactions with clients. The fourth accused him of acting as a defense attorney in a lawsuit after the plaintiff's attorney—Henry T. McKnight—had sought Howard's advice in the case and disclosed evidence to him.

Howard was accused of failing to account to his clients for money due them as the result of judgements or settlements in law cases.

In one case, the attorney "appropriated" a client's judgement "to his own use," it was charged. The $650 judgment later was compromised for a lesser amount, the petition said.

A date will be set later for actual

Marshall Sees MacArthur; Heads for Korean Front

New York.—Following a conference with General of the Army Douglas MacArthur, Wood Marshall arranged to leave Japan for Korea this week-end, the NAACP special counsel reported to the national office here Feb. 1.

At the conference, Marshall's investigations in Japan of the courts martial of Negro GIs, Mr. Marshall met in conference with General MacArthur; Major General Doyle O. Hickey, chief of staff; Inspector General Edwin A.

Zundel and the Judge Advocate General for the area. After he reported on his findings, clearance was given for his departure for Korea for further investigations.

In Korea, Mr. Marshall will go to the Eighth Army Headquarters and thence to the 25th Division Headquarters near the front lines for conferences with the men and officers of the 24th Infantry (to which the convicted GIs belonged), provided they are not actually "engaged with the enemy" at the time.

Before leaving Japan, Mr. Marshall talked with all of the officers and enlisted men, including Lieutenant Leon Gilbert, who have requested the assistance of the NAACP. In addition, he talked with two of the men convicted in the Guam case.

Chicago, Ill.—The eyes of the sports world will be focused on Chicago, Feb. 14, when Sugar Ray Robinson steps into the ring against middleweight champ Jake LaMotta.

arrest suit filed against two Des Moines police officers by Iola Lyons Dedman.

In the suit, Mrs. Dedman, a Drake student, charged she was harassed by the two policemen, who arrested her while she was walking on a downtown street with a marine.

She won a judgment for $650 in district court in 1945.

The verdict later was upheld by the state supreme court. In 1948 the judgment was compromised and "paid to Howard and the costs of the action were paid by the defendants," the petition said.

Waterloo Case
Another charge involved a Waterloo estate case. The attorney obtained a $900 settlement in March, 1947, from the Illinois Central Railroad Co. for the death of Grace Louise Howard in an accident, the petition said.

Howard, who represented the administrator of the estate, was given the money in April, 1947, according to the petition. In January, 1948, a member of the family involved contacted a Waterloo attorney, F. W. Edwards, and told him the estate had not been able to recover the money, Bump charged.

The following March Edwards recovered $500 for the estate and "some other money" from Howard during the next four months, the petition said. In July, 1948, Edwards filed a complaint against Howard with the bar association grievance committee, SEE EDITORIAL PAGE

Violations of Duty
Bump's petition said "acts and conduct" of Howard's in many matters involving financial transactions with his clients in the last 10 years were "violations of the duty of an attorney toward his client."

The case in which Howard allegedly "appropriated" his client's judgment to his own use was a false

NAACP to Battle for Citizens' Rights to Work; 2,500 Are Forced to Move

Aiken, S. C.—Defying Ku Klux Klan threats, several hundred citizens crowded the Friendship Baptist Church here to hear Clarence Mitchell, director of the Washington Bureau of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, and South Carolina officials of the NAACP, report on efforts to get full and fair employment on the H-bomb project being developed near this city.

The Atomic Energy Commission and DuPont officials had earlier assured an NAACP committee that employment would be offered without discrimination, Mr. Mitchell reported. He noted, however, that Negroes had not been included in the initial hirings and urged colored citizens to file applications for employment immediately.

The meeting, held on January 26, followed a conference in Augusta, Ga., with AEC officials. Participating in this conference were Mr. Mitchell; J. M. Hinton, president of the South Carolina Conference of N.A.A.C.P. branches; Eugene Montgomery, executive secretary of the South Carolina Conference; J. C. Artemus, a member of the executive committee of the South Carolina Federation of Labor; H. J. Hardy, a soil conservation expert; William Wilburn; Dr. C. C. Johnson and R. A. Brooks.

It is estimated, Mr. Mitchell said, that some 2,500 Negroes will be forced to move from the bomb site area, which is located in Aiken and Barnwell counties. The NAACP is giving special attention to their problems through the South Carolina Conference and the Washington Bureau.

Murder Trial of 6 Delayed by Illness

Trenton, N. J.—Superior Court Judge Ralph J. Smalley Tuesday declared a mistrial in the murder case of six Trenton Negroes after the prosecutor was rushed to a hospital for an emergency operation.

Judge Smalley set the new date for the start of the defendants' second trial as Mar. 5. The retrial, ordered by the state supreme court, had opened only Monday.

The court action followed the illness of Prosecutor Mario H. Volpe. Only one juror had been chosen and Judge Smalley ordered the drawing of a new jury panel.

The defendants are accused of killing William Horner, a shopkeeper, during an attempted holdup in 1948. Their first trial had ended in conviction and an electric chair sentence.

New U. S. Tax Plan Would Boost Rates on Income, Autos, Gasoline, Radio, TV Sets

Washington, D. C.—The Truman administration Monday asked congress to add four percentage points to federal income tax rates, double the tax on gasoline and sharply boost levies on cigarettes, autos, appliances and other items.

The program, which would hit the pocketbooks of millions of tax-payers would nearly triple the excise tax on autos and more than double the tax on television and radio sets, refrigerators and other appliances.

The plan calls for a four-billion-dollar increase (to 30 billion dollars) in individual income taxes, a three-billion-dollar boost (to 23 billion dollars) in corporation income taxes and a three-billion-dollar raise (to $11,222,000,000) in excise taxes.

President Truman told congress last Friday that the first-round boost will be followed by another request for an increase of about $6,500,000,000 later this year.

Ask Exoneration of Young Detroit Officer; Thrice Decorated War II Vet

New York.—Protesting the demand of the United States Air Force for the resignation of Captain Charles A. Hill, Jr., of Detroit, from the reserve force on the question of loyalty, Walter White, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, has wired Thomas K. Finletter, Secretary of the Air Force, urging "immediate exoneration of Capt. Hill."

The young officer, a thrice-decorated veteran of World War II, was asked to resign on the basis of his alleged political views, activities and associations of his father and sister. He was given the opportunity of resigning or facing a service hearing. He chose to present his case at a hearing scheduled for Selfridge Field, Michigan.

Based on Father's Activities
In his wire to Secretary Finletter, Mr. White said: "The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People is shocked to learn of the demand of the Air Force for the resignation of Capt. Charles A. Hill, Jr., of Detroit, on the irrelevant basis of the alleged activities of his father, the Rev. Charles A. Hill."

As reported in the press, the wire continued, "there is no indication of any disloyal act on the part of Capt. Hill. In essence he is accused of associating with and aiding his own father in an election campaign."

Mertorious Service
His meritorious service in World War II in itself refutes and exposes the flimsy character of the charges against him. This summary action seems to be another phase of what appears to be a concerted effort to discredit Negro servicemen. We urge immediate exoneration of Capt. Hill."

Himalayan Quake Changes Face of Region Used in War

The cataclysmic changes that have created the world's face as a result of the earthquake upheavals in northeast India and neighboring lands will challenge the attention of geographers for years to come.

The full effects of the jolts on the eastern Himalayan region, where India, Tibet, China, and Burma meet, can never be neatly catalogued.

Even so, it is estimated—as accounts slowly accumulate from the stricken areas—that millions of people have been affected by the quakes and flood aftermath, particularly along the relatively developed and settled Brahmaputra valley of India's Assam province.

The Himalaya mountains, stretching in a 1,500-mile arc between the Indus and Brahmaputra valleys, form one of the world's major earthquake belts.

Varnish-Making Simplified By New Liquid Composition
A new liquid composition which will simplify and improve the process of varnish manufacture has been manufactured.

"Resinous alcohol," as the new liquid is called, will eliminate the hazardous step in varnish making in which hard, solid resin is broken up and added to hot oil in huge cooking kettles. The settling of these solid particles to the bottom of the kettles results in charring of the resin and consequent darkening of the varnish, one of the most exacting problems of the industry. The new resinous alcohol, which takes the place of the solid resin, can be easily pumped into cooking kettles, making the laborious grinding job unnecessary. Because it mixes readily with the fatty oils in the kettles, agitation is not required, no material will settle to the bottom, and the possibility of ruining a large batch of varnish because of charring is completely eliminated. The liquid cuts costs for varnish makers because it permits the use of inexpensive equipment, and it is more convenient and safer to use than solid resins.

has for centuries thickened soups and stews popular with Chinese gourmets. Supplied to the Canton market in smoked and sun-dried form, it has a redolence of its own and about the same nutritional merits as oysters or clams. World traveler Alan Villiers endorses it for Chinese palates, at least, by describing its taste as being of the sort that would appeal to those who like birds'-nest soup. The sea slug has many aliases. Trepang is the name derived from the Malaysians who have long and skillfully gathered it from Sumatra to the Solomons. Beche-de-mer is its widely used French name capied from the bicho-do-mar of early Portuguese seafarers, meaning sea-worm, or sea-caterpillar.

New C-Ration
Combat rations, used by soldiers in the field when no kitchen facilities are available, were never quite like this before: cans of spaghetti with tomato sauce; ham and lima beans; well-done hamburgers... three to a can; beans and frankfurters in tomato sauce; and a can of chicken and vegetables. The new C-ration contains seven cans and accessory packet... enough for three meals and is referred to as one menu. The desserts included are cookies, candy and a variety of canned fruits in heavy syrup. The ration also provides coffee, jam, biscuits, water purification tablets, sugar, cigarettes and matches, chewing gum and a can opener.

Corn Picker Hazards
Adjustment of your corn picker while the machine is operating is a real hazard. Many farmers each year are crippled permanently by attempting to adjust their corn pickers while the machines are running. Even when the picker is in good adjustment, it may clog occasionally. Those safety rules are stressed: (1) Keep all guards and shields in place. (2) Stop the tractor and shut off the power takeoff before you get off the tractor, or for oiling, adjusting and unclogging. (3) Never permit extra riders on your tractor or picker.

Cut Winter Drafts with Venetian Blinds

A properly dressed window will contribute to the winter coziness of your home, keep it warmer and reduce expenditures for fuel by blocking drafts from the outside and loss of heat from the inside. The ideal window dress pictured here is a snug-fitting Venetian blind with full-hung draperies of light-weight wool. A simple valance adds a decorative touch and prevents drafts and heat loss at the top of the windows. Tests by the Armour Research Foundation of Chicago show that the blinds can save enough in fuel costs to pay for themselves during their long term of usefulness. An air space is formed between closed slats of the blind and window glass that prevents drafts from entering the room and interior heat from escaping. Windows, are naturally, not the only factors to be considered in insulating your home, but they can do their part gracefully and effectively with the proper treatment.

No More Stomach Distress For This Arkansas Woman

HADACOL Supplies Vitamins B, B, Niacin and Iron Which Her System Lacked

Have you ever been so troubled with indigestion that you just couldn't sleep at night... always being afraid to eat because of that full, "gassy" feeling? Then you know how Mrs. Bullock of 919 East Second Street, North Little Rock, Arkansas, felt. A busy housewife, Mrs. Bullock said that it seemed she was always suffering from indigestion until one day her niece called her and said that she thought HADACOL was what she needed. Mrs. Bullock bought a bottle that same day, and started feeling better before she had taken all of the first bottle. Now, Mrs. Bullock eats anything she wants to, and is never bothered with indigestion, never has that full, "gassy" feeling any more. Mrs. Bullock was suffering a deficiency of Vitamins B, B, Niacin and Iron, important elements which HADACOL contains. This is what Mrs. Bullock says: "For a long time I had indigestion. No matter whether I would or would not eat, I always had that full, 'gassy' feeling. I was so bothered that I just couldn't sleep at night. Then one day my niece called me and told me that she thought HADACOL would help me. I bought a small bottle of it that same day, and felt so much better. I could sleep at night without being bothered. I have since taken about four large family size bottles of HADACOL and know that it has really helped me. I now eat anything I want, and am just never bothered with indigestion." Trial size, $1.25; large economy size, $3.50. If your druggist does not have HADACOL, order direct from The LeBlanc Corporation, Lafayette, La.

Lincoln's Gettysburg Address

Four score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth upon this continent a new nation, conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal. Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation, or any nation so conceived and so dedicated, can long endure. We are met on a great battle-field of that war. We are met to dedicate a portion of it as the final resting place of those who here gave their lives that that nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this.

But, in a larger sense, we cannot dedicate—we cannot consecrate—we cannot hallow this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it far above our power to add or detract. The world will little note, nor long remember what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us, the living, rather to be dedicated here to the unfinished work that they have thus far so nobly carried on. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us, that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to the cause for which they here gave the last full measure of devotion, that we here highly resolve that the dead shall not have died in vain; that the nation shall, under God, have a new birth of freedom; and that government of the people, by the people, and for the people, shall not perish from the earth.

Frederick Douglass was born a slave. At an early age, he escaped from his owner and went north. He soon identified himself with William Lloyd Garrison, the great abolitionist. Douglass contributed valuable services in behalf of the Anti-slavery movement, woman suffrage and temperance becoming one of the advisers of President Lincoln.

At one time, he published a newspaper, became a leading figure in Republican party councils, was recorder of deeds in Washington, minister to Haiti and generally distinguished himself as an elder statesman. Gettysburg is to him just as applicable today as it was in 1863. When the country was in a turbulent state, divided against itself over the question of whether human beings in America should be accorded civil rights as guaranteed to a portion of its population. Lincoln met the test. He rose to the heights of statesmanship and led the country to victory and peace starting the American on an era of prosperity and happiness.

PERSONAL TOUCH

The Triple A girls were back again in the grand ballroom of Hotel Fort Des Moines last Sunday with another night for nearly 400 guests to treasure.

With Ernest (Speck) Redd at the piano, dancing was to the music of the Sepia club band.

Mrs. Haley Houston emceed the floor show which featured an array of interracial talent. Harold Reynolds opened with his favorite "blues" number and encoed with "I Need You So."

Betty Smith, a student at the Iowa State Teachers' college, did an interpretative ballet of an "American in Paris," and later returned with a tap routine.

White Marionettes in red firemen's suits, and ladders got a big hand for their fire dances and later returned as Indian chiefs in ceremonial dances.

R. D. Ewing brought forth some swoons from the crowd when he sang two popular favorites, "If" and "Blue Moon."

Young George Brewer who has been dancing since he was knee-high-to-a-duck in shows did some fast tapping that kept the spectators applauding him.

William Spriggs closed the show with the crowd whistling and clapping his rendition of "If I Didn't Care."

The hostesses, assisted by their husbands who served as hosts of the evening, were one tired lot—for they walked many miles around the ballroom seating and serving guests.

Doing very little walking this year—but graciously helping to welcome the guests as they arrived, was a hostess, Mrs. John (Flora Mae) Danforth, Jr., who is looking forward anxiously and waiting patiently for June, when daughter, Johnene, will get a brother, she hopes.

Seated at one of the tables, were Mrs. Helen Shackelford and Mrs. L. S. Jones, who were beaming with smiles as the columnist approached.

Somehow we got to chatting about news in the paper and she informed "well, I certainly scooped you;" and then she revealed that she and a "very nice fellow," William Allen, went to Dubuque, Ia., a few days after Christmas, (Dec. 27) and got married.

"We were just gone about a week—and no one would have known that I was out of town, if it had not been for some of my beauty shop customers who kept calling," Mrs. Allen talked.

"Mother wanted to announce it and we had planned to have some pictures made, but just never did," the bride confessed as she lamented the fact that her husband was out of town, doing construction work with a company that travels.

At another table, looking very lonesome in the crowd of friends who surrounded her, was Mrs. Dorothy Holmes, who felt so "lost" because her "Chuck" was not with her. He's in school at the University of Nebraska.

Sunday and Monday nights were big nights for musicians, entertainers and talented persons who participated in the Horace Heidt Auditions, for the talent show which will be held on Feb. 21.

All thrilled when she returned to her new job at the Bystander office on Monday morning was Jean Manuel who sang.

"The Auditions were wonderful," Jean described. "Everyone was talking music—you felt that you were like everyone else. No one was walking about with his head in the air." Jean said there was some fine talent displayed and on Monday night she heard Miss Laurene Jones, contralto, sing "Summertime," Ira Hicks baritone, "Tell Me So;" Mrs. Alberta Bates Williams, soprano, "The Lord's Prayer;" Mrs. Harold Gross, soprano, "Tennessee Waltz;" Barbara Oliver, soprano, "Night and Day."

Accompanists were Artie McNair, Joanne Mountjoy, both Drake students.

When Kay Frazier Spriggs was on the staff of the Bystander, she would always remind when the month of February arrived that it is the month to celebrate the birthdays of great American personalities like—Abraham Lincoln, George Washington and last but not least, she would add, "Kaye."

So on Tuesday, a telephone call was made to the Spriggs' home and Kaye answered.

The caller began singing "happy birthday to you" and Kaye, a bit puzzled, asked "what number do you want?" Then she laughed and remembered that Tuesday was her birthday.

Her two little tots were singing their preludes to afternoon naps, and after Kaye had quieted them, she remarked that she had been so busy that she had forgotten about her birthday.

At the office Wednesday young Atty. Brad Morris got a birthday paddling.

U. of Maryland To Admit Negroes To All Facilities

Baltimore. — The University of Maryland today opened the doors of its school of engineering to a Negro student and indicated that it has now adopted a policy of admitting Negro students to all schools, colleges and facilities at the University of Maryland where such facilities have not been provided separately for Negroes on an equal basis.

The action culminated a two-year fight by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People to secure the admission of Harran Whittle of Baltimore as an undergraduate student in the engineering school. President Harry C. Byrd of the University of Maryland notified Donald Murray, the attorney handling the case for the Baltimore branch of the NAACP, that Whittle was to report for registration on Monday, February 5.

The trial of the suit which the NAACP had brought against the University, scheduled to be held on January 30, was cancelled by mutual consent when the Attorney-General of Maryland indicated that he would accept a consent decree ordering Whittle's admission to the University.

Marie Hayes, Mrs. Mamie Frith, Mr. Terry James, Mrs. Lucie Williams, Mr. Dennis Powers.

The Capital City club met Monday night with Mrs. T. Hickman, 1156 Ninth street. The club is having a social Saturday night.

In the meantime, the state's Board of Regents issued a statement indicating that unless the state provided facilities for Negro students substantially equal under the law to those provided for whites, the bi-racial education system would have to be terminated. Planned Parenthood Committee Launches Drive For Funds

The Planned Parenthood committee of Des Moines launched its annual drive to raise $5,000 according to Mrs. John Roberts, chairman of the 1951 fund raising campaign.

She says that the money will be used to maintain the committee's offices at 201 Davidson Building, the weekly clinic at the Methodist hospital, and the program for education and research in family life.

Mrs. Dwight Brooke, president of the local committee, pointed out that Planned Parenthood is one of the basic health services that become more important than ever in times of stress, uncertainty, and soaring prices.

"Our organization," she stressed, "is the only voluntary agency that gives this service to Des Moines parents unable to pay for private medical services. Planned parenthood is a four-fold program for building stronger families—through medically indicated contraception, treatment for childless couples, education for marriage, and research in human reproduction. It is our belief that 'birth by choice, not by chance' should be every mother's privilege."

Other members of the campaign committee are: Mrs. Addison Parker, Jr., co-chairman; Mrs. D. C. Jones, Mrs. Miles Mills and Mrs. George C. Koss.

Fresh Cranberries Make A Gay Valentine Dessert

Gay red and white hearts, made with budget-buy fresh cranberries and cottage cheese, are a pretty Valentine dessert. You'll be pleased with the new flavor combination, enjoy the color contrast, and appreciate a party dessert that goes easy on the budget. After molding dessert, edge heart shaped baskets or forms with doily frill and fill with flowers for centerpiece.

- CRANBERRY DESSERT HEARTS
- 2 cups sugar
 - 1 tablespoon cornstarch
 - 1 1/2 cups water
 - 3 cups fresh cranberries
 - 1 envelope plain gelatin
 - Juice 1 large orange.
 - 2 8-oz. containers cottage cheese
 - 3-4 tablespoons superfine sugar
 - 1/2 cup heavy sour cream
 - 1 tablespoon grated orange rind
- Mix sugar and cornstarch. Combine with water in saucepan and cook 4-5 minutes. Add cranberries and continue cooking until berries pop and sauce is slightly thickened. Cool. Soften gelatin in orange juice, then dissolve over boiling water. Stir into cottage cheese. Combine and add remaining ingredients. Mix until thoroughly blended.
- Have heart baskets, or molds, ready for mixture. If baskets are used, line with kitchen foil. Spread small amount cooled cranberry mixture in bottom of form. Lightly spoon cheese mixture over cranberry layer to fill basket, or mold, to desired depth. Chill until firm, or over night. Turn out on platter and serve with additional sauce. Makes 4-5 servings depending on size basket, or mold, used.

WHO IS RETARDING OUR PROGRESS

How the citizens of our country lend their effort to the general welfare of the government is the test of their loyalty. And this is particularly true in times of distress such as faces the United States today.

Recently, an act was passed by Congress fixing severe penalties for violating the price freeze law. This is at it should be for nobody ought be allowed to gouge the public particularly in these times when the very existence of the country is at stake.

For several days, the railway switchmen by their strike have tied up traffic, put a lot of people out of work, and hampered the war effort. In one instance, a carload of gloves destined for the armed forces in Korea was sidetracked in Chicago unable to move on because striking switchmen refused to do their job. The boys in Korea have had, and are now having, pretty rough going. Fighting has been terrific, the weather has been bitter cold, and yet a group of men in the name of exercising their rights deliberately block the effort of the government to make the going a bit easier for the men who are giving their lives for this country.

Just how much difference there is between the so-called collaborators with Russia and the folks who ruthlessly block the United States government's defense efforts depends upon who is doing the job. Both are detrimental to the progress, peace and happiness of the people.

These ruthless acts tax the continued existence of our democracy. The system presumes that the people are responsible, intelligent and interested in building a government of which its citizens may be proud.

MEN NEED TO PRACTICE BROTHERHOOD

February is observed as brotherhood month; Sunday, February 12, brotherhood Sunday; February 18 to 25, brotherhood week. These special observances are the brainchild of church groups, thus most of the programs are held in churches.

In recent months, ministers have been criticized severely for standing idly by, while their members, some of their big contributors, have openly violated every principle of Christian brotherhood. And not only have they failed to condemn their members but some have actually praised them in other fields. The world is upset today. Much of its trouble stems from the fact that men refuse to recognize scientific, religious and historical facts with regard to human beings. Too many imbibe personal prejudices making them blind to that which they know to be right.

These troublesome times have brought men to realize more and more that a change in attitudes toward men, toward countries, is going to be necessary if the world is to survive. And if any progress is made toward peace, these very things must be done.

The Brotherhood Sunday, Week and Month programs recognize the difficulties the world faces and bid the people do something about them.

Bump said, "After being advised of said complaint, Howard paid the balance due the estate," the petition said, adding: "The foregoing acts constitute unprofessional conduct."

Drake Student

The petition said that sometime in 1950, Attorney McKnight, acting for a Drake university student named Fitch, consulted Howard and disclosed to him "the facts upon which a case could be brought respecting the rights of Fitch."

A short time later McKnight started Fitch's false arrest suit in district court against police officers, Bump stated.

"A few days before the trial was commenced . . . Howard appeared on behalf of the defendants and tried the case for them," the petition said.

Moore's Order

Bump filed the formal accusations on the direction of District Judge C. Edwin Moore, who said "the court finds that (Bump's) report and accusations are sufficient to justify further action."

Howard, who is 55, has law offices at 515 Mulberry street, and lives at 1136 Fourteenth street.

In 1940, Howard's certificate to practice law was suspended for a year after disbarment proceedings based on similar charges. Later the supreme court reduced the suspension to six months.

Howard was a delegate to the recent Communist-sponsored World Peace Congress in Warsaw, Poland. As a speaker at the conference, he praised the life behind the "iron curtain" and was critical of the United States.

Feted in Moscow

Later he was feted in Moscow as a member of a special group of 19 Americans who were invited to tour Russia. Since his return he has been an ardent booster of Russia's interest in world peace.

Howard was keynote speaker at the Progressive party convention which nominated Henry Wallace for president in 1948, and has been active in that party's activities since.

Canned Beans Pack

The annual pack of canned dried beans would provide about six 1-pound cans for every person in the United States. In fact, more dry beans go into cans than any of the so-called "seasonal" vegetable leaders such as peas, corn and tomatoes. The varieties canned are pea beans in tomato or molasses sauce . . . with or without pork; red kidney beans, red chili beans, limas . . . also known as butter beans; shell beans, garbanzos and such combinations as chili con carne with beans, and beans with corn.

Tractor Traffic Violations

The growing use of tractors on the highways has brought an increase in accidents in its wake. The principal traffic violations frequently charged against tractor operators are: not having right-of-way; driving on wrong side of road; failure to signal or other improper turning; and tractor not under control. Failure to observe these four traffic regulations, accounted for more than 75 percent of tractor operator violations in one state.

Crime Detection Agencies

A boon for small-city crime detection agencies is a new microscope with photomicrographic camera which makes magnified pictures of bullets, hair, fingerprints, tool-marks, and similar criminal clues. It will no longer be necessary to send such evidence to big-city laboratories for analysis, and the crime trail will become that much hotter.

'YOU CAN SURVIVE ATOMIC ATTACK' - SIX SECRETS

Should Iowa be attacked with atom bombs, you have a good chance of living through the raid. This series of articles will tell you how atom bombs operate, and how you can protect yourself. Clip these articles; the full series will be a complete reprint of the government pamphlet, "Survival Under Atomic Attack," which is available for 10 cents from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington 25, D.C.

WHAT ABOUT LINGERING RADIOACTIVITY?

Knowing how to protect yourself from blast, heat, and explosive radioactivity, only one major problem remains: That is how to avoid harm from lingering radioactivity.

Explosive radioactivity bursts from the bomb at the time of explosion and lasts for only little more than a minute.

Lingering radioactivity remains for a longer time, from a few minutes to weeks or months, depending on the kind of radioactive material.

Lingering radioactivity may become a danger when atomic bombs are exploded on the ground, underground, or in the water. Air bursts leave no dangerous lingering radioactivity.

Most lingering radioactivity comes from leftover bomb wastes, or "ashes," technically called fission products. They consist of countless billions of fragments, or pieces, of atoms split up in the explosion.

Smaller, and usually less dangerous, amounts of lingering radioactivity may be thrown off by scattered atoms of uranium or plutonium that fail to split up when the bomb goes off.

These totally invisible radioactive particles act much the same as ordinary, everyday dust. When present in any real quantity, they are scattered about in patches and contaminate, or pollute, everything they fall on, including people.

While they can be removed easily from some surfaces, they stick very tightly to others. It is practically impossible to get absolutely all of them out of household corners and cracks. Most of the time, it is far easier to prevent pollution than it is to remove it.

HEALTH FOR ALL

Measles

Measles was at one time considered a "necessary" childhood disease—as inevitable as child's first tooth or his first steps. Some mothers would actually expose their little ones to the illness, and others did nothing to keep their youngsters away from children who had the contagious disease because it was considered a relief to have measles "over and done with."

The majority of parents today realize that although a common childhood disease, measles can be a very one—mainly because of the grave complications which can follow it. Actually, doctors warn that the likelihood of complications is high with children under two years of age who contract measles. These complications can mean permanent injury to a child's respiratory system.

Moreover, far from being a "light" illness, measles can reduce a child's body resistance so low that he is an easy prey to broncho-pneumonia, mastoid and ear infections, and even tuberculosis.

Measles may occur at any time of the year but the disease seems to reach epidemic proportions most frequently in February and March. The disease, caused by a tiny virus, is spread easily from person to person through direct contact. The virus is carried in the droplets of moisture sprayed into the air when the victim of measles coughs, sneezes, or even as he laughs and talks. There is no specific preventive against measles although recently there has been in use a discovery which can lessen the possibility of grave complications from the disease. It is a serum known as "globulin," developed from blood or blood plasma.

The symptoms of measles resemble those of a cold, with the victim suffering from sneezing, a cough, a running nose, and sometimes a slight fever. The tell-tale red spots appear first inside the mouth, where they are known as Koplik spots, then on the face, neck, and chest, and spread rapidly to the rest of the body.

The mother who knows that her child has been exposed to measles or is getting the disease should put him to bed and call the doctor at once. If the child has the measles, prompt medical care may enable him to ward off possible severe complications.

Although measles can be serious for any child or adult who contracts it, special measures should be taken to protect the child between six months and two years of age. After six months, the baby loses his "birth immunity" to measles and may be vulnerable to the disease.

Measles should never be treated lightly or neglected. Without prompt and proper medical care, measles can seriously impair a person's health for life.

SPORTS

Basketball

The Crocker Y Cage league tightened a little more last week. The Elks got revenge on the Ross Balmers by nosing them out in the final three seconds of a wild and wooly game, 31-29.

Johnny Skipper last second basket decided what was a combination of football and mayhem called basketball.

The Eagles fell a victim of their temper and fluffed away a one point duel to Lincoln Heights 37-36. The score was tied when the Eagles who had done little but squabble with each other the opposing team and the referees let one of the white boys get away under the basket for a lay-up.

The boy missed the shot and instead of going after the rebound, Jim Ward, chose to drive the boy into the wall, a deliberate foul. That meant two shots and the boys made one and took the other one out of bounds, putting on a six-second stall. The Eagles were so busy arguing that they lost their game in the second quarter, scoring only one basket, while the Lincoln outfit built up their lead that held.

The Des Moines Clay team wanted to beat the Hi Knocks badly, but finally went under by three points. They are going to beat some good team yet.

Boxing

Golden Gloves time is just around the corner, next Wednesday night at KRNT theater. Radio Station KRNT is putting on the show this year and has opened a gym at the theater for all who care to use it.

We hope a lot of Negro boys report in condition. We are tired of seeing their one round wonder come up and run out of gas in the middle of round one.

The boys who used to fight in the Golden Gloves always come in shape. They could fight three, six or nine rounds in one night at top speed.

We got to thinking that if we were to pick an all-star team of these old guys, it would be like this: 112 pounds, Bill Mason; 118, Eddie Robinson; 126, Morton Graves; 135 Bill Heath; 145, Ozzie Lewis; 155 Charles Boston; 175, Wayland Heath; heavyweight, Claude Ellison. Claude wasn't really a heavy, but he was better than any of those who were in the meet and so was Wayland Heath.

George Bourland In Ship Repair Business In San Pedro, California

"The Bystander is tops as for the news in the old home town," wrote George A. Bourland from 1540 Euador court, San Pedro, Calif., recently.

"The business I am engaged in is ship repair. There is a lot about ship repair and man power shortage in the paper, but the repair is far short of what the papers state. And, as for the manpower shortage, I think that is only over in Korea.

"In spite of all of this I am still doing quite a bit better than I was back home, although I like the people in Des Moines, better than here, because they are more human in most cases than here."

Mr. Bourland added that during the winter weather in Los Angeles, "there are always people from all over the country coming and going all the time, naturally everyone seems to be trying to get his little bit from whom-ever he can."

Visiting around Iowa by Joe Marsh

Dubuque's Shot Tower
Ever see the old shot tower at Dubuque?
"It wasn't built in time to fire the shot heard 'round the world," says Grampaw Jim, "but it made many a shot heard in the Civil War."
With that famous, old tower Julien Dubuque started Iowa's first industry. But, how things have changed!
Today, Iowa industry ranks with farming in producing wealth for our people. What a difference if Iowa were ALL industry, or ALL farming! None of us would be as well off. It's the BAL-ANCE that makes us prosperous. And it's the balanced thinking in our way of life that makes us a happy people. Whether a man likes farming or office work, enjoys coffee or a temperate glass of beer, goes in for fishing or golfing as a hobby . . . we have them all in Iowa, and we recognize each man's right to his choice.
Yes, Iowa's broad-minded approach to things make a formula for fine living that's hard to beat.
