Escapes Injury in Fire

BANDMAN LOUIS (SATCHMO) ARMSTRONG, regarded by many musicians as the greatest living trumpet player, escaped injury in a hotel fire Sunday, at Hull, Que., in which one person died and three were injured. He and his band men, Earl Hines, Dale Jones, Jack Teagarden, Cozy Cole, Barney Bigard, and Velma Middleton were staying at the Standish Hall hotel, when fire broke out about 10 o'clock that night.

Reveal Negro Prisoners At State Penitentiary Denied Honor Farm Work

Racial discrimination in jobs that the prisoners do at the Iowa State Penitentiary, Ft. Madison, was revealed last Saturday to the Iowa By-stander's news editor, Marie Ross, who was guest speaker at the annual program of the Emancipation Day Celebration.

Speaking on the subject, "The Task is Ours for a New Emancipation," Miss Ross said "it must have been a great day for our ancestors when Abraham Lincoln issued that proclamation that made possible the freedom of the Negro slaves in America.

"Today, I sometimes wonder about these emancipation celebrations. They're fine to keep alive the memory of our past, our struggles through the years, and the fact that we have forefathers in two continents.

"But, when I walk through this land of the free as an emancipated human being who is looking for a job that I am qualified to do, a decent place to live, or a bite to eat at any of the public places, I don't want constantly used as a barrier, the fact that my forefathers were slaves, that 'your race is young and you are not ready, yet' for this equality of opportunity or a citizen's right.

Tied To Post

"So, every time I go out to celebrate this emancipation proclamation," continued the speaker, "I am keeping myself tied to that hitching post of slavery which should have been buried like 'Poor Old Massa.' "For that twentieth century emancipation, there are things we must do for ourselves, there are cases we must plead for ourselves, if they are ever heard in this day of personal gain and greed," Miss Ross said.

"It is being said about the communities in Iowa that the Negro prisoners at Iowa State Penitentiary are discriminated against on the state's honor farms, that only the white prisoners are sent out to these farms as rewards for their good penitentiary records," spoke Miss Ross. "Maybe that statement isn't true, but if it is, the task will be ours for an emancipation," the speaker said. After the program closed, a number of the men came to the speaker to verify the fact.

Kept From Farms

"No matter how long a Negro prisoner has been here or how good his record, he is not sent out to the honor farms at Clive, Mt. Pleasant, and other places where the white men are sent to live and work," was the consensus of opinion.

"Some of the colored inmates are carried out on some of the farms about the city, but at night we are brought right back to the penitentiary," some of the men informed.

"There is also discrimination in the jobs that the Negroes can get to do. Some of them are not open to the colored inmates," several of the men related.

"We can get it if the white inmates don't want the work," another said.

Some other men pointed out that a difference was made in shortening the terms of Negro prisoners. Many whites have had their time shortened.

One prisoner informed that the men have no complaint about their welfare. "We get fair treatment, have ample food, intermingle freely with the whites, live and work together, but when it comes to the rewards for our good records, we don't rate as the white prisoners do."

Other guests on the program were: Rev. J. Richardson, Rev. R. Turner, Rev. E. C. Lord of Burlington, Rev. Wm. Shaw of Ottumwa. Soloists were: Mrs. Alma Carter, Mary Anderson, Mrs. Helen Windsor, Rev. J. Turner. The Spiritual Five of Moline, Ill., sang.

Inmates appearing on the program were: Wm. B. Foster, master of ceremonies; the I.S.P. quartet, Morgan, Williams, Coones and Epton; the I.S.P. instrumental group of

Separate Rites for Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Cassell; Mate Shoots Wife and Himself

Many saddened friends of Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus F. Cassell attended their separate final rites which were held for the wife Monday morning at the Hammitt & Robinson funeral home, and Monday afternoon at the Corinthian Baptist church for the husband.

Burial for Mrs. Lacie Mae Johnson Cassell, 29, a former member of the Women's Army Corps (WAC) was at Glendale cemetery. The Rev. J. E. Tunstall officiated.

Cassell, 32, a second lieutenant in the army, was interred in the World War II plot of Glendale cemetery. The Rev. N. R. Olphin conducted the services.

The couple died one hour apart Friday morning, August 3, at Broadlawn General hospital following a double shooting at their home at 1014 17th street, about 8:30 o'clock Thursday evening.

Police reported Cassell shot his wife twice in the chest while on the front porch of their home and then shot himself in the head.

Cassell, who formerly worked in a print shop, had been employed recently in the city streets department. His wife was an assistant cataloguer in the Drake university library.

Sought Divorce

Mrs. Cassell filed suit for divorce against her husband on July 30 and charged in her petition that he was "guilty of such cruel and inhuman treatment as to endanger the health and life" of her.

The couple married on Sept. 4, 1949 and had lived together as man and wife until about July 28, the petition revealed.

Early Thursday evening Cassell called his wife and asked if he could talk to her privately concerning some of his clothing he had left at the home. Mrs. Cassell then was being visited by her father, Adam B. Johnson, 1112 Fourteenth street.

Johnson left the home before Cassell arrived. A daughter of Mrs. Cassell's by a previous marriage, Kay Lynn, 6, was asleep in the bedroom of the home.

the Cassells, reported they heard a series of shots from the Cassell home and rushed out to find the wounded couple on the front porch. Mrs. Wallace called police.

Mrs. Cassell had been shot twice in the chest and lay face down near the porch steps. Cassell had shot himself in the head and was on his back against the screen door.

5 Hurt in Mishap With Rented Car

Five persons, four of them from Des Moines, were injured last Friday evening when the rented car in which they were riding overturned on Highway 64 near Dallas Center.

The driver, Lewis Branch, 21, of 1438 Dixon street, suffered a concussion and possible fractures as did Lee Beckwith, 55, Lincoln, Neb. Both were in fair condition at Broadlawn General hospital.

Also injured were Clinton Shelton, 53, of 113 Willow street, cuts and bruises; Vaughn Webb, 41, of 1174 Second place, head cuts, and Dorothy Mitchell, 23, 1635 University avenue, bruises.

Highway patrolmen said Branch lost control of the car. It rolled several times, throwing out its occupants.

Brain Hemorrhage Fatal to Howard C. Reppert, Sheriff

Final rites for Howard C. Reppert, 57, Polk County sheriff since 1947 and founder of two Des Moines business firms were held Tuesday.

Sheriff Reppert died Saturday night, August 4, at Iowa Methodist hospital of a brain hemorrhage.

He had entered the hospital August 2 in a critical condition after becoming ill at his home after dinner. Sheriff Reppert, the first Democrat in 20 years to win that office in Polk County, was serving his third term as sheriff. The term expires Dec. 31, 1952.

Mr. Reppert was unconscious from his entrance to the hospital until his death, which was caused by an intracranial hemorrhage, a bleeding between the brain and the skull.

His physician said the attack was the result of general strain and overwork.

The Polk County board of supervisors late Monday named Dr. A. E. Shaw, Republican coroner, as acting sheriff.

Dr. Shaw appointed Wilbur Hildreth, head deputy in charge of the office's criminal division under Sheriff Reppert, as his chief deputy and asked him to direct all operations of the office.

Dr. Shaw appointed every deputy, bailiff and office employee now on the sheriff's payroll.

Pilot Wins Air Force Honor

Dayton, Ohio.—More than 1,500 air force officers stood at attention Saturday as a 24-year-old Negro pilot was awarded the distinguished Flying Cross and the ninth Oak Cluster to his Air Medal for gallantry in action in Korea.

First Lt. Edward P. Drummond, Jr., of Philadelphia, Penn., was decorated at Wright-Patterson air force base as his wife, young son and mother-in-law stood by.

Drummond flew 122 combat missions in Korea. Last Nov. 15 he led four F-80 Shooting Star jet fighters down out of a murky overcast and demolished two enemy supply planes with machine-gun fire. A few minutes later, he attacked an enemy troop concentration nearby.

Drummond now is stationed here.

Judge Says Jury's Verdict In Rape Case 'Disgrace to White Race'; Asks Retrial

Winton, N. C.—An outraged judge Friday ordered a white man, acquitted of a morals charge involving a 15-year-old Negro girl, back to jail on a rape warrant for the same offense, declaring bitterly I am "ashamed of my state."

Judge Henry A. Grady, 80, denounced the all-white male jury which acquitted Frank Newsome, 45, and said if he had his way "nine of them would ever sit on a jury again."

Father of 3

"The evidence was overwhelmingly in favor of the state," he said. "The verdict was based solely on the fact that the prosecuting witness was a colored girl and the defendant a white man."

Newsome, married and the father of three, operates a delicatessen in Mamaroneck, N. Y. He was arrested last June and charged with attacking Hattie Louise Hoggard.

The slim Negro girl told Officials Newsome hired her as babysitter while he was visiting his father here and raped her five times at her brother's home.

A grand jury changed the indictment from rape to carnal knowledge.

Think 'Asia's People to Have Greater Confidence In Our Spoken Promises'

New York.—The Army's announcement that it is ending segregation in the Far East Command was hailed by Walter White, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, as an important step toward the total abolition of Jim Crowism in the nation's armed forces.

"Asia's people will have greater confidence in our spoken promises as they see democracy practiced by our Army," Mr. White said. "We hope that this welcome announcement will be speedily followed by another on Europe and the United States. The American boys in the Far East are no different from those at home or in other countries. All are entitled to full democratic treatment."

Five Months Later

The Army's announcement came five months after Thurgood Marshall, NAACP special counsel, returned from an intensive investigation in Korea of the courts martial of Negro servicemen and charged that "these cases are rooted in the Jim Crow policies still persisting in the Army." Mr. Marshall placed the responsibility for continued segregation upon General of the Army Douglas MacArthur for failure "to implement the President's order for the elimination of segregation from the armed services."

In his report on Korea, the NAACP lawyer concluded "that as long as we have racial segregation in the Army we will have the type of injustice which these courts martial are typical."

The NAACP has consistently opposed segregation in the armed services. In addition to sponsoring legislation to end military Jim Crow, the Association has urged executive action to that end and was instrumental in having the President appoint his Committee on Equality of Treatment in Armed Forces. The Committee recommended abolition of segregation. The Air Force and the Navy proceeded to the integration of their services, but the Army has lagged behind. The recent announcement is the first positive action the Army has taken on a large scale to eliminate segregation.

Norwalk, Conn., Citizens To Honor Cicero Victims On United Nations Day

New York.—The Harvey E. Clarks, the Negro family whose attempt to move into a decent apartment in Cicero, Ill., was met with violence and mob terror, will be the guests of honor at United Nations Day, August 9, which the city of Norwalk, Conn., is observing in connection with the celebration of the 300th anniversary of the founding of the town.

The program will include addresses by Walter White, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, who made an on-the-spot investigation of the riot; Bryon Price, assistant secretary general of UN; Senators Brien McMahon and William Benton; and Mayor Irving Freese.

The Clarks have not only been invited to be the guests of honor on "UN Day" but also to settle in Norwalk if they so desire, Norman Cousins and Hoyt Catlin, members of the sponsoring committee, said. Mr. Clark, however, declined the offer, expressing a determination to return to the apartment he originally rented in Cicero after the damage has been repaired.

Meanwhile troops are being retained in Cicero to prevent another outbreak. The apartment building which was wrecked by the mob has been boarded up. The grand jury which is investigating the riot has visited the scene of the mob action and has summoned civilian and police witnesses.

USDA Sends Dr. Frank G. Davis To Point Four Post in Liberia

Washington.—The U.S. Department of Agriculture announced July 30 the appointment of Dr. Frank G. Davis, economist, to serve as economic adviser to the Government of Liberia. Dr. Davis will become a member of the U. S. Government's economic mission for developing the agriculture of the West African republic.

The appointment is made at the request of the Government of Liberia and in cooperation with the Technical Cooperation Administration, Department of State, as a part of this Nation's Point Four program of sharing technical abilities with other countries. Mr. Davis is the third Office of Foreign Agriculture Relations specialist to go to Liberia under the Point Four program.

Canada, eighth largest producing country in 1950 with an output of 3.3 million tons, is rapidly enlarging its iron and steelmaking capacity and developing its vast raw material reserves, according to Dominion government reports. In recent years, Canada has augmented its own annual steel production about one-third by imports of steel products from the United States. Canadian steel companies now are spending $100,000,000 in expansion and improvement programs which will bring steel capacity to about 4.5 million tons, blast furnace capacity to nearly 3.5 million tons and will add new rolling mill facilities, according to a Canadian government source.

Dr. Davis is a native of Calhoun Falls, S. C. He received his B.A. Degree from Howard University in 1933, his M.A. from Ohio State University in 1935, and his doctor's degree in economics from the University of Iowa in 1939.

Before joining the Department of Agriculture, Dr. Davis was a professor of business economics at the University of Maryland (Princess Anne Division). Earlier teaching experience included three years at Prairie View A & M College, Prairie View, Texas. From 1944 to 1950 he was an economist with the Office of Quartermaster General, U. S. Army. Dr. Davis left by plane August 2, for his post in Monrovia, Liberia.

We wish to thank our many friends for their kindnesses courtesies, expressions of sympathy extended at the death of our relative, Mrs. Maude George. Especially do we thank Rev. E. N. Warren, L. Fowler and Son funeral home, Mrs. Lula Harris and Mrs. Mattie Drew.

Automobile Economy

The 1950 edition of "Automobile Facts and Figures," the auto industry's statistical bible, has just rolled off the press offering still further evidence that a substantial share of the national economy revolves about the motor car. The handbook reports that one out of every six retail, wholesale and service firms in the country deals in automobile goods or services. In Wyoming, our most automobile-minded state, almost 30 per cent of all retail sales involve automobile business.

With a little help over the rough spots there is no reason why the left-handed child can't have a happy, well-adjusted life. He may even grow up to be President. After a President Garfield was a southpaw and Truman is partially so.

Therefore, it's a good idea to give him all the help you can while he's learning. Talk to the child's schoolteacher to make sure he has all the necessary help in school. And see that he has good writing equipment to work with.

Star Magnitude

What is meant by the magnitude of a star? This is a measure of its brightness: the brighter the star the lower is the magnitude. A star of first magnitude is about 2 1/2 times as bright as one of the second; and is exactly 100 times brighter than one of the sixth magnitude, which is the faintest that one can normally see with the naked eye under best conditions. Zero and negative magnitudes are employed to take care of objects that are still brighter. The brightest star, Sirius, thus has a magnitude of minus 1.6, while that of the Sun is minus 26.7. With the largest telescope stars may be photographed as faint as the twenty-second magnitude, which is about 1/250,000,000th as bright as an average one of the first magnitude.

Traffic Lights Appearing South of the Border, Senor

Another American brain child has migrated south of the border!

According to the American Public Works association, traffic lights, long a puzzle to stateside visitors from Central and South America, are beginning to appear on street corners of Latin American cities. San Salvador, El Salvador, is one of the first large Central American cities to adopt the signals, and according to all reports, even the taxi drivers—everywhere the most caustic critics—like the import.

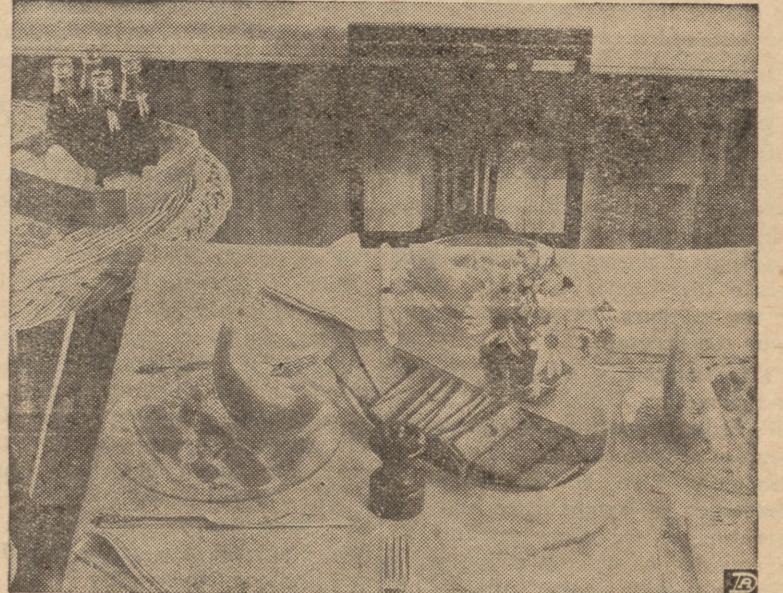

The change-over in determining right-of-way of the road from the rule of the horn to the rule of the lights, was not accomplished without travail. When the stop-and-go signals were first introduced late last year, there was no end of confusion. Some drivers moved only on red; others always stopped on green. And the amber threw everyone in a complete state of confusion.

public schools and participation in extra-curricular activities is encouraged. They are free to visit approved friends and relatives after plans are made with caseworker and housemother.

The girls live in small cottages with a housemother in charge of each cottage. They learn to perform household duties in addition to their scholastic training.

This Red Feather Agency of the Des Moines Community Chest is truly a second home in every type of way for the girls who live there. St. Monica's is one of the Red Feather Services of your Community Chest.

Lunch Before Canasta

A nice (and easy) way to entertain your women friends, is to invite them to lunch before a game of canasta. The whole thing can be done on a bridge table on the front porch — or indoors, whichever seems coolest and most pleasant to you.

In planning the menu for such a party, it's well to remember that most women today, young or old, are wisely inclined to watch their figures. So you shouldn't give them a lot of rich, hearty pound-making food. On the other hand, if they ever indulge themselves, as everyone should a little, it's when they go out to a party. So why not compromise by serving a deliciously thinning first course and a slightly gooey, sweet dessert? They'll have room for it, for once, because of having eaten lightly first. Here's a suggested menu:

- Menu
Honeydew Melon and Ham
Melba Toast
Hot, Stuffed Devil's Food
Cup Cakes
Coke

This is one of the most delicious flavor combinations ever discovered, particularly if paper-thin sliced Italian Prociutto is available, but good with any ham. Serve a slim wedge of melon to each person (with "seconds" in reserve, just in case) and a couple of slices of ham. Be sure there is a pepper-grinder on the table, as fresh-ground pepper on honeydew is a new taste thrill. The melon is cut into bite size pieces and eaten with a bit of ham,

Melt chocolate in top of double boiler. Cool. Cream butter and sugar. Beat egg yolks thoroughly and add. Add vanilla. Mix and sift flour, soda, baking powder and salt. Add alternately with sour milk to the first mixture, beating constantly. Mix in chocolate thoroughly. Beat egg whites stiff and fold into mixture. Pour into greased cup cake tins and bake at 375 degrees 20-25 minutes. Cool slightly.

Cut tops off cakes and hollow out bottoms. Fill with whipped cream. Replace tops and put more whipped cream over.

To Quaff With The Luncheon
Ice cold bottles of Coke will provide just the cooling and refreshing drink to accompany this luncheon. Have extras on hand to serve during the game which follows.

Milwaukee Residents to Be Spared Spectacle of Amos 'N' Andy TV Program

New York—Residents of Milwaukee, the home city of Blatz beer, will be spared the spectacle of the "Amos 'n' Andy" television show at the conclusion of the current 13-week contract period, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has been informed by its Milwaukee branch.

Following protest by the branch, Russell Winnie, manager of Station WTMJ-TV, told Mrs. Ardie A. Halyard, president of the Milwaukee NAACP branch, that he had notified the Blatz Brewing Company, sponsors of the "Amos 'n' Andy" show, of the station's decision to discontinue the program.

After writing a letter of protest to the station explaining the NAACP's objection to the show depicting Negroes as "inferior, lazy, dumb and dishonest," Mrs. Halyard called a conference of sympathetic and co-operating organizations on July 26 to consider a plan of action on a community-wide basis. Among organizations participating in the conference were the local units of Urban League, YMCA, Jewish Council, American Federation of Labor, League of Women Voters, NAACP branch and youth council, and the Mayor's Commission on Human Rights.

In a letter of congratulation to Mrs. Halyard, Walter White, NAACP Executive secretary, lauded the "effective job you did in Blatz's own backyard" and said it "should be an inspiration to all our branches to move ahead in the fight against misrepresentation of the Negro in this 'Amos 'n' Andy television show."

Endorsement of the NAACP campaign came this week also from the Laymen's Council of Mt. Olivet Baptist Church, one of Harlem's largest congregations. S. H. Fowler, Sr., chairman of the council, wrote to Mr. White giving assurance of "unstinted support and ardent determination to cooperate with you in this undertaking in every way." The "Amos 'n' Andy" program, Mr. Fowler said, "is detrimental to goodwill among men and to the proper respect that should be given to the members of any race or racial group."

Do you have Series E Defense Bonds coming due this year?

Here's a money-earning opportunity for you

Now—a new law lets your maturing Series E Bonds go on earning for you ten years longer! And you don't have to do a thing!

ARE YOU ONE of those citizens who are holding—series back in 1941? Now your government is going to reward your faith with a chance for your bonds to earn extra money—over and above what you'd expected!

According to the bill passed by Congress last spring, it is now possible for your United States Series E Bonds to continue earning interest ten years longer than was originally planned.

Therefore, if you started an automatic bond saving plan, and helped your country at the same time, you can look forward to ten years more of effortless earning from the bonds you bought!

For example, a Series E Bond which cost you $18.75 in 1941 will pay you $25 in 1951. But if you hold that bond ten extra years, until 1961, it will pay you $33.33, an average interest of 2.9%.

And there is nothing for you, as a bond holder, to do. You need not exchange the bonds you have. You need not sign any paper, fill out any form. You simply keep your bonds as you have been keeping them.

You may still redeem any Series E Bond at any time after you've owned it for sixty days. (The tables on this page show what you can get for it.) But, unless you really need the cash you're much better off to hold your bonds; they are a paying method of saving. Bonds are safer than cash! Cash is too easily spent on nonessential things. And if you lose or accidentally destroy it, you're out that much money. But when you have cash in Defense Bonds, you're more apt to hold on to it. And if your bonds are lost or destroyed, the Treasury will replace them for you at no cost or loss to you.

The cash you have in bond savings is safe and solid; and it's steadily growing toward a sum big enough to buy something really worth while when the proper time comes—a home, a business, a retirement fund, an education for your children.

So if you have bonds coming due, take advantage of this new offer of your government—just sit back and let them go on making money. Meanwhile keep adding to your savings by buying more United States Defense Bonds regularly—through the Payroll Saving Plan where you work or the Bond-A-Month Plan where you bank.

Here's how Series E Defense Bonds earn the first 10 years

Maturity value	$25.00	$50.00	$100.00
Issue price	18.75	37.50	75.00

10 years	24.50	49.00	98.00
Maturity value (10 years from issue date)	25.00	50.00	100.00

If you want to be paid your interest as current income—

The new law also allows you to exchange your Series E Bonds, in blocks of $500 or more, for Special Series G Bonds which pay interest semiannually at the rate of 2 1/4% per year. For full details, ask at any Federal Reserve Bank or Branch.

Now look how your maturing bonds go on earning under the new law!

PERSONAL TOUCH

The pleasure was mine last Saturday for a chat with many of the fellows who are making their homes—some permanently and others for short terms—at the Iowa State Penitentiary, at Ft. Madison.

Saturday was the annual Emancipation Day celebration program and the Negro inmates were at liberty to talk and intermingle with visitors, many of whom came from churches in Ft. Madison, Ottumwa, Davenport, Burlington, Moline and Rock Island and Des Moines.

There were some familiar faces among the young and old men, some of whom were anxious to talk to send messages back to friends and relatives.

The men don't see visitors often. They are permitted to have one visit from a relative monthly; and may write one letter each week.

One fellow asked that I pay a visit to his wife and tell her why she has not heard from him the past two weeks. He lost his writing privilege when he was caught smoking on the job—but he will be able to write next week, he said. I promised to go to the east side of town to see his wife this week.

A World War II veteran told how he "fouled" on a job that he got at "Mrs. Jessye Bell Davis' employment agency."

"I'd never been in any trouble before," he talked. "She got me a good job and I got to drinking one night

KENNETH ANTHONY MCGUIRE

Kenneth Anthony McGuire, son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. McGuire, Jr., of Huron, South Dakota, and grandson of Dr. and Mrs. M. V. Simpkins, Okmulgee, Okla., and Mr. and Mrs. James L. McGuire of this city, will celebrate his first birthday on Friday, August 9.

"Kam," as his father calls him, an ardent traveler, made his first plane trip at the age of six weeks. On his third plane trip, he was given a certificate by the Mid-Continent Air Lines, Inc. This summer he spent his vacation with his Great Grandmother Simpkins at Mansfield, Ala. His father, who was born and reared in Des Moines, is an architectural engineer for the government at Huron.

and it happened. My mother went just about crazy. You know," he paused, "I'm the black sheep of my family."

He is having plenty of time now to think things over, he said, and he will never get into trouble again, the former Missourian vowed.

One young man is trying to find all he can read on the subject of "Negro History," while he serves out his time.

"You know, I didn't learn anything much about our people while I came through school," he talked. He went to mixed schools.

"Now, that I have time, I want to read all I can on the history of our people. Will you send me a list of some books to read?"

I'm getting a list ready to mail. Another man is certain that he can get out of the penitentiary if only he can get a copy of the transcript of his case.

"How they mixed me up in that case, I don't know. But if you will tell my cousins to send me (a certain amount of money) I'm sure I can clear my case and get out of here," he talked.

His cousins were contacted this week.

One lifer makes some very beautiful hand-tooled leather purses, shoulder bags and billfolds. He says they are much more beautiful and durable than those made in Mexico. He would like a few more customers for extra spending change. If you are interested you may secure his name and address from the columnist.

One "lonesome" fellow is looking for a wife. One day he will be out—and he would like to have some lady waiting, he said. For more information write to the warden.

Some unvarnished "greetings" were sent to some lawyers by some men. I've been editing them for delivery. Another inmate wanted to know how the general public was faring. "Is it really tough outside?" he asked. You can answer that.

Most of the men were serious and nearly all of them were much interested in getting something done about the "honor system" at the penitentiary, so that the Negro inmates who have made good records can reap their rewards like the white prisoners, who are moved from the penitentiary to live and work on the state's honor farms in Clive, Mt. Pleasant and other places in Iowa, they said.

The subject of the discrimination of the Negro prisoners on the state's honor farms came up during the emancipation address when the speaker said that she did not know whether or not the statement was true.

After the speech, man after man, came up to the columnist to say: "It is true that Negro prisoners are not sent to work and live on the honor farms. I don't think it is right. The white and colored inmates live, work and intermingle here without any segregation, and I don't see why we

TREAT THEM ALL THE SAME

A lot of sentiment is involved in the reaction of most people in a discussion of what the fate of the dismissed cadets at West Point should be.

There are those who blame over emphasis on football claiming that it takes so much of their time that little opportunity is left for study.

The system of giving examination provided open opportunity for cheating. For instance, exams are given a group one day and another tomorrow using the same set of questions each day.

Many men have been let out of the army for offenses of about the same nature. College boys are being jailed for cheating in basketball.

STAND UP AND BE COUNTED

Lawyers have a saying "no client, no lawsuit." And no lawyers are more acquainted with this than those who spend a lot of their time trying civil rights cases.

In the current issue of the Crisis magazine Thurgood Marshall, special counsel for the NAACP, writes a splendid tribute to the citizens of Clarendon county, South Carolina, who went all out in the fight against segregation in public schools in that county.

"Regardless of the decision in the Clarendon county school case, the real heroes are the Negroes in South Carolina and especially those in Clarendon county. Many of us who sit in comfortable and safe homes in other sections of the country will never understand the courage of these people in Clarendon county, a rural prejudiced southern community, who dared the risks involved in their bold challenge to white supremacy.

"The Negroes of Clarendon county and other sections of South Carolina, Georgia, and Alabama crowded the court house for the trial, knowing that only a small proportion of them could get into the small courtroom. A very few got seats; a few stood shoulder to shoulder for hours in the courtroom, which was so crowded that they could not even move.

"All of them were extremely well behaved and were living proof of the determination of our people to seek justice in a lawful manner.

"These spectators were neither prosperous nor highly educated. Nor did they come from the big cities. For the most part they came from rural communities and made the trip to Charleston to give their support to the Negroes in Clarendon county. They knew what havoc segregation wrecks. If anyone ever tells you that Negroes like and want segregation, remind him of these people. It was indeed a wonderful experience to be able to be a witness to this display of greatness in human spirit."

The initial break down of discrimination in most cases comes about because some one or more persons are willing to be the guinea pig. Negroes in the North are not doing enough of it. And this is particularly true with the FEPC in Des Moines and instances of racial discrimination when altogether too many people meet rebuffs but simply tuck their tails and march away.

Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty, and that includes a willingness to stand up and be counted when the occasion demands.

HEALTH FOR ALL

Allergies

Traditionally, for some people this season is associated with watery eyes and nose, nostril-tickling sneezes, and congested breathing. The common name for their illness is hay fever, an allergy (unusual sensitivity to substances ordinarily harmless to others) due to the ragweed pollen. However, these same symptoms characterize numerous other allergies that trouble people year around. Allergies not only frequently produce disturbances in the respiratory organs, but also in the digestive system or the skin.

Of the total field of known allergies, the most common are hay fever, asthma, stomach and intestinal disorders, eczema, hives, and other skin irritations. Exhaustive tests are often necessary to discover a person's particular allergy. Specialists do not believe that allergies are hereditary, but that a person can inherit a tendency toward them.

The substances that produce allergies are called allergens. When they enter the body either by swallowing, inhaling, external contact, or by injection (drugs, serum), they produce an irritation in susceptible tissues, causing the blood vessels to dilate and the tissues, which they supply, to swell. Typical allergens are:

- Pollen, house dust, strong fumes
Tiny particles of skin, hair or feathers shed by dogs, fowl, or other animals
Various foods: eggs, milk, wheat, nuts, fish, seafood
Drugs, serums, fungi
Dyes, perfumes, plastics and numerous other chemicals use in home and industry
Bacteria in a person's body
Insect bites or stings (bees or wasps)
Heat, cold, or sunlight

Identification

If the allergens can be identified and removed from the patient's diet or surroundings, an immediate cure may follow. Some allergens, however, cannot be avoided. In such instances, it may be possible to build up the patient's resistance by repeated injections. New drugs (including the anti-histamines) are often very helpful. Increased rest and relaxation are sometimes needed and the emotions, too, are often a contributory influence.

People with allergic tendencies should observe a few important "don'ts." They should not expose themselves to drafts and cold air. They should avoid dust, strong fumes, and frequent contact with drugs, cosmetics, plants, and similar items. On the positive side, they should consult a physician. Frequently, a doctor can cure an allergy and, in most cases, he can give welcome relief.

SPORTS

By ALLEN ASHBY

The Des Moines Open Tennis tournament closed at Good park Sunday. After running competition with the all-City Parks tournament, the Hill Top sponsored meet came with some bang-up matches in the finals.

In the men's singles we called Prof. Earling Jensen of Ames, "Mr. Forehand," from the way he hit the ball through the truest openings for placements. But when Jensen ran into Harold McCollom, 1949 winner, he found that a rifle-shot forehand wasn't enough for the steady smart game of the little guy.

McCollom staggered around the courts as if he were about to collapse, but always managed to turn up at the right place just in time and won the vital point. He set "Mr. Forehand" back in three straight 6-4 sets.

Jensen teamed with Bruce Griffin of Ames to win the men's doubles from Fay Dunn, last year's singles champ and Harold Johnson. This was just about the best doubles match we saw in a long time. The thing lasted better than three hours and nobody left until it was over. Score were 4-6, 6-4, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4.

Doris Jensen sort of cleaned house in the women's division. She grabbed the women's single from Janet Holmes in a three-set affair, then teamed up with little Suzy Hamilton of Cedar Falls to get the women's doubles. She tried for the mixed doubles crown but couldn't make it.

Suzy Hamilton covered the girls' division like a blanket, winning the singles crown without losing a set. The little Cedar Rapids girl apparently has a great tennis future.

Our youngsters, Colleen Martin, Donna Carr, Jerry Simmons and Herman Wallace did well but they always stop right after the school season. The other kids keep right on playing while the Negroes are resting and that is the period in which kids our gang has beaten all spring, pass them up.

MY RETREAT

Like a mighty rock based fortress Quite beautiful, more neat, Is this little earthly heaven Proudly titled, My Retreat. Retreat from Life's vicissitudes A shelter from a man-made storm Where the smiles are sincere and true

And the hearts beat warm. Bitter malice stops at the door Here only Love and Peace can reign Within this God-blessed haven Where even angels reign would sing. Where magic dryads make entrance Into your eyes they quickly peep And as soon as one bats an eye They are taken away to sleep.

The sun rays come down tender Here they only gently touch The resting—And rain to make all Well—pours forth—not too much. O mighty fortress, modern fortress Never, ever from your This name would be injustice I live to re-enter, My Retreat. —N. S. Ellington

Ezz Protests as Walcott Announces He'll Hold Title a Year; Mintz Still Suspended

New York City, (CNS).—Ex-Champion Ezzard Charles trained into New York this week with secretary-friend Richard Christmas, wondering how Walcott can sit on the title for one solid year. "I don't see how the authorities will let this happen" he said in his 7th floor suite at the Theresa Hotel.

Looking well and rested with no obvious battle scars, Ezzard was in town to shop for household appliances. He's furnishing the new home he bought for his wife in Cincinnati. When asked why he didn't bring his pretty wife, Gladys, to help him shop, he said "our tastes run parallel. Whatever I pick, I think she'll like." Meanwhile, Jake Mintz, Ezzard's wiry little manager from Pittsburgh, is still on the suspension list. The authorities haven't forgiven him for the un-called for outburst before the Charles-Walcott title fight when he disagreed with the naming of a Philadelphia judge, who was more lenient in score, it turned out, than the hometowners. Charles will stop off in Pittsburgh for conference with his managers before returning home.

meet and Carr was runner-up in the singles.

Thyra Johnson lost her last year's women's singles title and won a share in the women's doubles.

It was a great feat running two meets at once on the same courts, but nobody wants to try it again.

Football

One of the gratifying sights is taking place at Good park every night. Johnny Bright and Paul De Van have gathered just about every Negro youngster who might go out for high school football and teaching them as much football as they can.

The program is working too and some of the kids will be good ball players this fall, because of it.
