She was accused of assaulting Mrs. Marie Ward, 2449 Railroad street following an argument Sept. 1. Mrs. Ward told Judge Grund she has been renting the house on Railroad street from Mrs. Crosswhite. She said Mrs. Crosswhite struck her over the head with a club following an argument over use of electric lights at the house.

HALT STUYVESANT EVICTIONS, NAACP URGES IMPELLITTERI

New York.—Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri has been asked by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People to intercede with the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company in an effort to avert the eviction of 31 families from the company's semi-public housing development, Stuyvesant Town.

The families, who took the leadership in the organization of a committee to end the policy of excluding Negroes from the project, were scheduled for eviction on September 18 following a court order which the company was able to obtain.

Mrs. Bailey Files $11,585 Damage Suit Against Mrs. M. Estes and Mrs. Marie Owen

A fight last June involving three women members of the Neophyte Golf club resulted in the filing of an $11,580 damage suit in district court, Wednesday, Sept. 12.

Mrs. Brigitte M. Bailey, of 846 Fourteenth street, filed the suit against Mrs. Marcelene Estes, president of the club, and Mrs. Marie Owens, both of 813 Fourteenth street.

'Hit With Clubs'

In her petition, Mrs. Bailey claimed the two women hit her on the head with clubs and that Mrs. Owens bit her right arm.

In a municipal court hearing last June on assault charges brought by Mrs. Bailey against the two women, Mrs. Bailey claimed "they came out of the dark at me from behind a tree."

She testified she had gone to a club meeting at a home at 1417 Center street when the incident occurred.

Claim Self-Defense

Mrs. Owens and Mrs. Estes said in the court hearing they acted in self-defense. Mrs. Bailey was irked, they testified, because Mrs. Estes would not approve holding the club meeting at the Bailey home.

All said the Neophyte club is composed of women with golf-playing husbands. Members hold social get-togethers every two weeks, the women said.

Municipal Judge Don L. Tidrick found Mrs. Estes and Mrs. Owens guilty, fined them $1 each and then suspended the fines after saying "this court is critical of everybody" connected with the case.

'King' Cole Seeks Damages In Suit for $62,000 Against Rock Island Hotel Company

Peoria, Ill.—An attorney for Nat (King) Cole told a federal jury Monday the Negro musician and his party of seven were denied accommodations despite reservations when they tried to register at Hotel Fort Armstrong in Rock Island, Ill., on June 23, 1950.

Attorney Aaron Payne made the assertion in his opening statement at the trial of a $62,000 damage suit brought by Cole and associates against the Hoffman Hotel Co.

The plaintiffs, allege violation of the Illinois civil rights act, violation of the English common law innkeepers' act and breach of contract.

The defense denied the troupe were refused accommodations because of race.

Rosemary Lovejoy, desk clerk at the Fort Armstrong, testified Tuesday she told Cole's business agent the hotel would have rooms for the Cole party after 5 p.m. June 23, 1950, the date in question.

A second desk clerk, Mrs. Norma Gustafson, testified Cole and his business agent returned to the hotel at 4:30 p.m. and asked again for the rooms. She said she told them the rooms would not be available until 5 p.m.

Mrs. Gustafson said they didn't return.

Cole's business agent, Baldwin Tavares, testified he showed the desk clerk a telegram confirming the party's reservations and was told "we NAT 'KING' COLE has no reservations. Cole and his group were in Rock Island for an engagement at the Horseshoe club when the alleged incident occurred.

Catcher Campanella Hit on Ear in Game

Chicago, Ill.—Catcher Roy Campanella of the Brooklyn Dodgers Tuesday was released from a hospital 24 hours after he was struck on the left ear by a ball pitched by Chicago Cub righthander Turk Lown.

Officials at Illinois Masonic hospital said the husky Negro star, currently batting .325, might be able to return to the Dodgers lineup by the end of the week.

Dr. L. L. Braun, Cub and Chicago Bears physician, said X-rays showed there was no skull fracture and "as up to now, no serious injury." Asked to elaborate, Dr. Braun said effects of such a mishap are not always immediately discernible. The catcher will have to take it easy for a few days.

Campanella still bore swelling behind the left ear and lacerations on the ear from the blow which Lown described as a fastball that sailed. Lown called on Campanella at the hospital after the game.

Rains Delay Opening of 'Trailer City'

Kansas City, Kas.—Rainy weather has caused a delay in the opening of the "trailer city" in South Argentine of Kansas City, Kas., which at peak occupancy will provide homes for more than 1,000 homeless victims of the July 13 flood.

The September 10 for occupancy has had to be scratched off and barring unforeseen handicaps as additional rain the trustees of the settlement hope to have some families moved into the mobile homes by September 14 or 15.

Workmen had not been able to work since the end of last week because of muddy conditions on the 85-acre tract.

Ditches which have been dug for water line cannot be worked in because of their soggy condition. Dry weather will speed up the job considerably.

About 200 trailers are in their proper place on the lot. Between 500 and 600 have been brought to the Argentine location and parked until workmen with special jeeps can place them.

A maintenance worker is checking water and gas lines. The power is already in, for the most part, and connections are progressing at a fast clip.

Another employee is making an inventory of trailers and their equipment.

The government has advised local trailer authorities to accommodate large families first. Couples will be the last to get space in the trailer city.

Hold Services for A. D. Willoughby

Services were held Saturday, Sept. 15, at Bethel AME church for Alexander D. Willoughby, 64, of 1251 Stewart street. Burial was in Glendale cemetery.

Mr. Willoughby died Sept. 12 at Veterans hospital after an illness of nine months. He was a retired custodian at the Des Moines post office.

Born at Meadow View, Va., he had lived in Des Moines 35 years. He was a member of Bethel church, Doric Masonic lodge and a veteran of World War I.

Surviving are his wife, Hattie; a daughter, Mrs. Pauline Gilbert; and a brother, John K. Willoughby, all of Des Moines; two sisters, Mrs. Mary B. Scott and Mrs. Lonnie Lyons, both of Meadow View; and two grandchildren.

George A. Smith, 920 15th.

Lt. Arvane Nelson said the raid was made about 9:30 p.m. after he and Detective Leon Clemens saw approximately 100 persons consuming beer in two earlier visits to the club.

The vice squad officers said they visited the club at 8 p.m. and again at 9 p.m. before calling for assistance from uniform crews.

Bought 2-Acre Plot Before White Housing Project Started; May Go to Court

Bridgeport, Conn. (CNS)—Unless his protests are heard, Granville T. Smith may have to close his beautiful Pleasant Heights Country Club. But not without a fight. Mr. Smith intends to use court action if necessary to prevent being removed from the site he's occupied for the past eight years.

Certain there's some funny business behind the move, Mr. Smith plans to confer with the NAACP before appealing the decision of the Bridgeport Zoning Board which ordered the end of the Country Club's operation immediately. The Board gave its reason that "white property owners protested its presence because it gave the neighborhood a bad tone."

Joining the protests are eight Negro property owners and two interracial civic associations which asked that the club be permitted to continue. An NAACP observer also attended the hearing.

"There's an ulterior motive in this whole movement," Mr. Smith confided. "There is no question that the real estate interests here are trying to drive Negroes out of that neighborhood so they can put up developments for whites."

Blames Difficulties

Blaming his difficulties mainly on a white realty man who testified that the club was "detrimental to the normal development of the district," Smith said this man constructed several houses near the club and had spearheaded the move to oust him. Before the trouble, the Pleasant Heights Country Club had 500 visitors weekly from New York, Boston and nearby cities.

"The local zoning board then ruled that we could only accommodate local residents and our membership dropped to about 25 members. The present action is designed to put us out of business altogether and drive Negroes from the area," Smith retorted.

The club, constructed in the area before any housing developments were started, occupies 2 1/2 acres of picnic grounds and groves, a club house and dance pavilion in which outstanding Negro orchestras appeared. The property, according to Smith is worth $35,000.

CINCINNATI BANS SEGREGATION IN REDEVELOPMENT PROJECTS

Cincinnati.—A declaration of urban redevelopment policy banning discrimination and segregation in housing projects developed under this program has been adopted unanimously by the Cincinnati City Council.

The resolution, introduced by Councilman Theodore M. Berry, a member of the NAACP national board of directors, affirms 1) that "in the temporary relocation or permanent re-housing of families displaced from a project area there shall be no discrimination or segregation; 2) that displaced families "shall be entitled to a first preference to rent and occupy dwelling units within the redeveloped area" from which they were displaced; and 3) that no private developer "shall be permitted to establish or practice any method of restricting or limiting the sale, rental or occupancy of dwellings in the redeveloped area for any reasons other than the financial means of the applicant or such standards and qualifications as may be applied to all persons or families irrespective of race, religion or ancestry."

Cook County Grand Jury Hears 60 Witnesses in Cicero Case; More Indicted

Chicago, Ill.—The chief of police in suburban Cicero and five other persons were indicted Tuesday in connection with recent Anti-Negro riots there. A special Cook county grand jury returned two indictments.

One accused Cicero Police Chief Erwin Konovsky of misconduct in public office; the second charged five persons with conspiring to injure property, cause financial loss to property owners, and to cause riot.

The three-day rioting began July 10 when Harvey E. Clark, Jr., a Negro bus driver attempted to move into an apartment building in the all-white industrial suburb which gained notoriety as headquarters of the Capone gang.

Threw Out Furniture

The rioters, estimated to have numbered as many as 5,000 at times, pitched Clark's furniture out of the building and burned it. The building itself also was heavily damaged.

The five named in the second indictment are:

Mrs. Camille de Rose, former owner of the Cicero apartment building. George C. Adams, Negro attorney, who formerly represented Mrs. de Rose.

George Leighton, Negro, Clark's attorney. Charles Edwards, a Cicero real estate agent.

Norman Silverman, who two Cicero policemen said helped incite the mob by handing out Communist party leaflets.

Adams currently is beneficiary of a trust which now owns the building. Mrs. de Rose has accused him in a law suit of defrauding her of the building. Edwards is an agent for the trust.

Governor Testifies

The jury heard more than 60 witnesses in the case, including Gov. Adlai Stevenson, before returning the indictments Tuesday. The riots finally were quelled when Stevenson called out national guardsmen.

The Clarks have charged in a federal court injunction suit that Konovsky and other Cicero officials entered into a conspiracy to deny them their rights as citizens by failing to give them proper protection from mob violence.

Brooks of Des Moines, Herman Brooks of Chicago, Ill., two sisters, Mrs. Minnie London of Waterloo, Ia., and Mrs. Beulah Robinson of Los Angeles; two brothers, Jim and Alonzo Robertson of Lexington, Mo.; three grand children and five great grand children.

Iowans Express Opinions On Segregation in Public Supported Burial Grounds

Regarding Editor James B. Morris' editorial, "Why Not Do More Than Talk About John Rice?" which appeared in the Iowa Bystander on Sept. 6, and was reprinted in the Des Moines Tribune, Sept. 11, letters and comments are being made by Negro and white citizens throughout the state and city.

Rev. M. E. Door, pastor of the First Methodist church, Osage, Ia., wrote:

"Thanks for your fine letter and proposal which was given deserving prominence in today's Register Open Forum.

"This matter is related, too, to the Cicero disgrace. We need many more men and women of your attitude toward all people."

Commenting on racial discrimination in public-supported cemeteries in Iowa, Tom Blakely, 1153 14th street place said:

"I was surprised to learn that existed in Iowa. Where I came from, Ft. Smith, Ark., and where my people are buried, there are some of all races represented.

"You know, when you have gone to that lasting sleep, there's nothing else left. Let the dead rest in peace," he said.

Regarding segregation of races in cemeteries Homer Lewis, 1548 Des Moines street, said:

"After a bit of time, all is dust—and I've often thought racial segregation in cemeteries was silly to do. There's segregation every place in America and Iowa is just like all of the rest of the states.

"Congress could cut it out," he added.

Army veteran of World War II, Charles Taylor of 933 16th street, said:

"You know how I feel against any racial segregation in cemeteries. I think the racial segregation should be removed by legislation in Iowa," he offered.

Patrolman Robert Webb, Jr., said "racial discrimination in cemeteries should be outlawed.

"I heard it put very well by a radio commentator who said: 'if the Indian soldier was good enough to fight and die for his native land, then he is good enough to be buried anywhere in it.' That's the way I feel about it, too," added the officer.

Two field secretaries from the national office—Lester Bailey and Herbert Hill—have been sent to Chicago to work with the branch under direction of the president, Nelson Willis. Arthur Black Plays To Enthusiastic Group at Recital Thirteen year old piano student, Arthur P. Black, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur P. Black of 931 Tenth street, played his first recital to an enthusiastic interracial audience that assembled last Sunday afternoon at Willkie House.

Student of Mrs. Korinne Jackson, Black opened his program playing the opening theme of the first movement of Edward Greig's "Piano Concerto." He went into "La Compara" a group of Afro Cuban dances (Ernesto Lecuona); "Mazurka (Benjamin Godard).

"Solfagetto" (Bach) and "Prelude in C" (Bach); "Majesty of the Deep" (Hamer) and theme from "Concerto in B-Flat" (Tschalkovskij); formed groups which preceded the young student's own composition, "Rhapsody in C" which drew from the audience a long applause.

In his closing group Black played "Polonaise" and "Prelude No. 20 by Frederick Chopin; and "Romance" (Sibelius).

Town Hall Meeting Hears Housing Jimcro Denounced

Schenectady, N. Y.—In one of the most stimulating sessions of the famed radio program, America's Town Meeting of the Air, Walter White, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, upheld the affirmative side of the question: "Can Legislation Cure Segregation in Housing?"

Taking the negative side on this program which was sponsored by the Schenectady branch of the NAACP and was heard on a nationwide broadcast was Representative Tom Steed (D., Okla.). George V. Denny, Jr., served as moderator with Mrs. Horstense Gabel, executive secretary of the New York State Committee on Discrimination in Housing, and James DeSantis, president of the Schenectady Real Estate Board, as interrogators.

"It is imperative," Mr. White concluded, "that we waste no more time in discussing whether legislation, litigation, public education or any other method is most useful in abolishing —now and forever—housing or any other form of segregation. I am firmly convinced that unless we swiftly learn to practice the democracy we say we believe in, there may be no democracy left for either the segregated or the segregator."

Contending that legislation cannot cure segregation in housing because it "did not create the problem," Representative Steed asserted: "The desire of one group of people to dwell apart from another group stems from the heart and mind and not from the law. Therefore, the solution is not to be found in law . . . Prove anything you like. Pass laws if you can. But the minds of people will stay the same until a greater force changes them. And until this attitude changes you will not see intermingling of races in some sections of our land."

The Schenectady Union-Star termed the program as "unusual opportunity" in a pre-broadcast editorial and asserted that "no more interesting network presentation could visit Schenectady." The city, said The Gazette, "is fortunate to have America's Town Meeting of the Air here tonight." The session was held in the auditorium of the Mount Pleasant High school.

NOTICE OF TIME AND PLACE OF HEARING

In The District Court of the State of Iowa in and for Polk County

IN THE MATTER OF THE ADOPTION OF JUDITH ANN GRUNDMEIER, A Minor.

AND TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN: YOU ARE HEREBY NOTIFIED THAT there is now on file in the above entitled matter, in the Office of the Clerk of the District Court of Iowa, in and for Polk County, in the Polk County District Court House at Des Moines, Iowa, the Petition of John Junior Abbott and Bettie Francis Abbott, petitioners, asking that Judith Ann Grundmeier be adopted to John Junior Abbott and Bettie Francis Abbott, and that full rights to her care, custody and control be conferred upon them, which petition will be fully heard and considered at 9:00 o'clock A.M., on the 27th day of October, 1951, in and before the District Court of Iowa, in and for Polk County, in the Polk County District Court House at Des Moines, Iowa, at which time and place you may appear and show cause why such adoption should not be granted. It is alleged in said petition that Judith Ann Grundmeier was born to Lloyd Wayne Grundmeier and Bettie Francis Grundmeier on June 28, 1943, that Lloyd Wayne Grundmeier, without justifiable cause abandoned and deserted his said child in August, 1947, and that after said abandonment and desertion the said Lloyd Wayne Grundmeier failed to care for, provide or furnish support for said child, and that he has thereby waived and forfeited all rights to said child and is estopped to assert any claim in relation to her or to object to her adoption. The petitioners fully stated in their petition that if adopted by the petitioners, John Junior Abbott, said child will be raised in the Christian faith; that the petitioner Bettie Francis Abbott is the natural mother of said child and that the home of the petitioners and said child is suited to each other and that she should be adopted as prayed.

For Further Particulars, see said petition now on file in the above entitled matter.

You are further notified that unless you appear at said hearing and make proper objections, a decree will be entered by the court adopting the said Judith Ann Grundmeier to the said John Junior Abbott, and you will have no further rights in and to said child.

To all of which you will please take notice and govern yourselves accordingly.

'Keeping Up with the Joneses Is not the Most Pleasant Way For Teen-Agers to Live'

Most of us have learned that we can't have everything. This stern truth is especially hard for young teen-agers to learn.

They must decide which is of more value—two cokes or just one, with a nickel saved for their vacation fund. A darling dress just like Jane's or a more durable one in which they can have more good times. A wrist watch for Christmas or a much needed sports coat for school.

They must learn that a hectic social schedule for keeping up with the Joneses is not the most pleasant way to live; that they can be happier if they divide their time fairly between dates and studies.

Young people need the help of parents who already have learned to judge values. Many wise parents have taught their teen-agers to live more happily without some things than those who have everything.

In friendly conferences with a cheerful parent, these youth faced facts about family finances. They went shopping with mother. Under her guidance they learned to choose the best value for the money they could afford to spend.

At six or ten years they had a small weekly allowance of their own. They soon found out how quickly 25 cents disappears in a dime store.

They were allowed to make some mistakes and learn a few bitter lessons.

They saw their parents make decisions and choose carefully. They learned to face facts with their parents.

Such young people have grown up. They know that they can't have everything.

Supreme Court Asked to Reject Jimcrow Plea by Carolina School Officials

Washington.—The United States Supreme Court has been asked to deny motions filed by the school officials of Clarendon County, S. C., seeking to prevent a review by the high court of a special federal three-judge court decision upholding segregation in public elementary and secondary schools in that county. Judge J. Waties Waring handed down a dissenting opinion in that case.

Challenging the contentions of the South Carolinians, Thurgood Marshall, special counsel of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, filed, on September 11, a brief in opposition to the prior motions of the school officials and asking the Supreme Court to deny these motions to dismiss the appeal and affirm the lower court's decision.

Citing the decisions in the Sweatt and McLaurin cases involving the University of Texas and the University of Oklahoma, respectively, the NAACP brief asks for "a clear-cut decision" in the Clarendon County case in order to "remove all doubts in the field of public education."

"Although the Supreme Court has clarified the issue (segregation) as to graduate and professional schools," the brief asserts, "the Court has never had the opportunity to consider the question as to elementary and high schools on the basis of a full and complete record with the issue clearly drawn."

In contrast with such earlier segregation cases as Plessy v. Ferguson and Gong Lum v. Rice, the record in the Clarendon case, the NAACP brief points out, "presents for the first time competent, uncontradicted expert testimony sufficient to enable this Court to make a critical analysis of the constitutionality of statutes requiring racial segregation in elementary and high schools."

The brief cites the more recent decision in the Topeka, Kansas, school

SOCIETY

Ernestine Joyce Dimitry, Wave, Bride of Willis E. Staton, Reservist

MR. AND MRS. WILLIS E. STATON

New York.—The marriage of Miss Ernestine Joyce Dimitry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest L. Dimitry of 517 West 152 street to Willis E. Staton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Staton of Westbury, L. I., took place August 19 at 2:30 p.m. at the residence of the bride's parents.

Father William E. Kidd, curate of St. Luke's Episcopal church, Convent avenue at 141st street, officiated at the dignified and impressive double ring ceremony which was held on the summer porch of the garden. The house and garden were beautifully decorated with palm, southern smilax, white gladioli and roses.

Miss Helen Dimitry, sister of the bride was maid of honor. Dr. Carl Granger, Jr., was best man. The well known young concert pianist Russell Stevenson played the wedding march and accompanied Mr. Robert Dunbar of Brooklyn, N. Y. in a solo "Because". Music was amplified to the garden.

The bride, whose father is a well known civic worker and leader in fraternity circles, is a graduate of Tuskegee Institute School of physical education and is now serving with the United States Navy, stationed at the U. S. Naval Hospital, Chelsea, Mass. She was born in Des Moines but left there at an early age when her father accepted a position as director of publicity at Tuskegee Institute in 1930.

The groom who is in the U. S. Air Force Reserves, is attending Tuskegee Institute School of Veterinary Medicine.

About two hundred friends, including guests from Massachusetts, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and Long Island enjoyed the cocktail reception following the ceremony.

Mr. John Canole of Fayette, Mo., and son, Mr. Ira Canole of Quincy, Ill., last week were house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elonzo Warden, 1149 Third street. They are the uncle and cousin of Mrs. Warden who had not seen them in 28 years.

A family dinner was given last Thursday by the Wardens. Sharing the courtesy were: Mrs. Myrtle Butler, Mr. Elmer Tolson, Mr. Charlie Tolson, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Howard, Mrs. Ellen Gillenwater, Mrs. Helen Simmons, Mrs. Arzealia Roberson, Mr. and Mrs. Travis Bailey and daughter, Maggi Lu.

Other courtesies were extended the visitors before they left on Friday.

Sandra Page, 2823 Fourth street, revealed that she started the study of the piano this summer. She is a student at Clarkson elementary school.

Norene Mitchell, 1227 Laurel street, is a piano student now, but finds it "rather difficult" to get an hour's practice in daily. Behind Norene was Patsie Solomon of 2823 4th street, who would like an opportunity to learn how to play the piano. Frances Caswell, 1010 Laurel, would prefer learning how to play the drums.

Six-year-old Jesserean Dixon was tugging at her grandmother, Mrs. Mack Carson, 964 23rd street, trying to get her out of Willkie House so that they could go home. Jesserean, who likes the piano but has not begun the study of it, had a song she brought from Sunday School at Burns church Sunday morning. She wanted to go home to "play the piece."

Jesserean's sister, 14-year-old Maxcella, Callahan junior high student, said she practiced one hour daily on the piano. Patty Graves, 13, 1054 16th street, said "I like to sing but I can't." She sings in a girls' glee club at Washington Irving junior high and a chorus at St. Paul church.

Evanetta Mays, 12, 1136 17th street was studying the piano for four years. Her brother, Everett, who was with her at the recital, said he played the piano, too.

Many of the youth who were happy over Arthur's recital and hoped "to be able to play like him—some day," revealed that their main trouble was finding appropriate time for practice. There is so much competition nowadays with radio, television, comic books, theaters and home work.

One youth commented that "when I want to practice somebody else wants to listen to the radio—to hear a murder story or a ball game."

It's almost as bad as trying to think or relax on one of the radio buses that is blasting some noisy recording.

With all of these and more musically-interested youth, Willkie House should have some interesting programs coming up this season.

Got to talking about "going places this summer" with Mrs. Laura Warden, 1149 third street, who took a trip over into Illinois to attend a Baptist convention which convened at Quincy, Ill.

"Do you know we couldn't get decent service at the Union Bus station's eating place in Quincy?" Mrs. Warden was relating.

She and about a dozen other Des Moines residents who were delegates to the Baptist meeting, took the bus and fared "alright" after eating at the last Iowa stop, at the new union station in Burlington, she said.

"We got into Quincy about 5 o'clock in the morning and all of us wanted something to eat before time for breakfast, several hours later, at the meeting place.

"The Quincy, Ill., bus station's counter was nearly empty, so several of us took seats and asked for coffee.

"The white waitress ordered us to get up that "the boss didn't serve colored people at the lunch counter. He had a table, back in the corner for four colored people to eat at one time. The rest would have to wait until the other four got served," Mrs. Warden related.

"Well," the Iowan continued. "We thought we would sit there and one of the women told the waitress she 'didn't understand' and the waitress told us to get up again. But we sat there a while, just to see if she would change her mind. All of us wanted coffee. She paid us no mind, but went on serving the white customers who came in at that early hour.

"That was in Illinois, too," she added.

SENATE RULES MUST BE CHANGED

Senate leaders announced last week that measures, seeking to amend the rules so as to block filibusters, will be taken up October 1. Several bills have been introduced seeking a change.

During the early session of the eighty-first Congress an effort was made to pass a workable measure to limit debate and to override a previous ruling which required two-thirds vote to limit debate on a motion to take up a bill.

Following considerable debate and with assurance that a workable bill had been agreed upon, the senate enacted a rule requiring a two-thirds constitutional majority to limit debate rather than a two-thirds vote of those present at the time the vote is taken.

The Bystander had its doubts that such a rule could limit debate on civil rights measures in view of the fact that several senators maintain a standard plan with favorable senators against voting cloture when they came up. In fact Senator Hickel remarked that the average attendance in the senate was such that only one or two votes were given away as between the two types of majorities.

Congress has done nothing about civil rights during the present session in spite of the fact that several measures have been introduced or recommended by members of both parties.

It is hoped that enough fairminded senators will give their support and vote to the program to change this vicious senate rule which enables 32 senators to say whether we can have a vote on measures before that body. No decent civil rights law can be passed without it.

SENATOR MUNDT WANTS TO KILL PARTY

Senator Karl Mundt (Rep., S. D.) Monday announced formation of a bipartisan committee to explore political realignment of the major parties in the 1952 election.

Others on the committee chosen are: Edward R. Burke, former Democratic senator from Nebraska; Donald J. Cowling, Northfield, Minn., Republican, president of Carleton college; Charles Edison, former Democratic governor of New Jersey; Albert W. Hawkes, former Republican senator from New Jersey, and Donald R. Richberg, Virginia Democrat who headed the NRA board under the Roosevelt administration.

Senator Mundt has been toying with this program for a long time and evidently has some others sharing his thoughts.

The trouble with Senator Mundt and his associates is that they are completely behind the times; that they want things to operate now just as they did fifty years ago. History repeats itself but progress never goes backward.

It is ridiculous how Senator Mundt can be so shortsighted as to expect southerners will leave the Democratic party en masse. That just won't happen. And the few that do will make little difference in the net results of the election.

A recent Gallup poll showed that the Democrats handle their politics smarter than the Republicans. Truman's as against Gov. Beardley's handling of the John Rice affair was an example. Surely here is an instance. Liberal Republicans are not going to follow that type of leadership and will vote the Democratic ticket against it. So in an effort to gain a few disgruntled votes, Mundt and his crowd are willing to antagonize the liberal people in the country.

In outlining his views on this so-called new alignment before South Carolina Bankers Association the senator suggested as a plank in the platform:

"It seems clear it will develop—I suggest informal conferences be held between Southern Leaders and Northern Republican Leaders seeking areas of agreement:

"A. On the identity of a Republican candidate who on his record and convictions is personally and politically acceptable to Dixie;

"B. On the nature of a strongly affirmative States Right declaration in the Republican Platform consistent with the convictions and traditions of the South;

"C. On omitting from the Republican Platform any plans understandably repugnant to the South;

"D. On the possible desirability of nominating a Southern Democrat on the Republican ticket as Vice-Presidential candidate."

In other words Senator Mundt is willing to kick out all efforts of the Republican party to assure civil rights to Negroes in return for a few paltry Dixiecrat votes. And this is another reason why the Republicans cannot win in 1952 if they follow any such views and advice.

Publish Booklet on Iowa Small-Business Labor Laws and Rights

Iowa City, Ia.—"Labor Laws of Iowa", a guide for Iowa employers who operate small or medium-sized businesses, is being published and distributed this week by the State University of Iowa's bureau of labor and management.

Compiled by Thomas A. Stewart, June graduate of the university's college of law and former graduate assistant in the bureau of labor and management, the layman's guide sets forth in simple and logical order those Iowa laws prescribing rights and duties existing between an employer and his employees.

Author Stewart, of Knoxville, has provided concise chapters on creation of the employer-employee relationship, hours of work, safety appliances, facilities for employees, wages, workmen's compensation, labor disputes and discharge of employees.

Particular emphasis has been given to special restrictions on employment of persons at various age levels below 21 years, and all provisions included by the author are appropriately footnoted for the benefit of readers who may wish to consult source material in court decisions and Iowa legislation.

Stewart's booklet aims primarily at providing information for small-scale employers who do not retain full-time attorneys; for employers whose businesses are not of a specialized nature which would subject them to technical legislation, and for employers whose activities are not subject to federal control.

NAACP Board Declines Spaulding Resignation

New York.—The resignation of Theodore Spaulding, Philadelphia attorney, from the board of directors of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People was declined by a unanimous vote of the board at its regular monthly meeting here on September 10.

In a letter to Mr. Spaulding transmitting the board's action, Walter White, NAACP executive secretary, said: "The board and the staff as well feel that the devoted services which you have rendered to the Association are altogether too valuable for us to forego. We are all looking forward to many years of continued association with you in our work."

Detroit Gets Run-Around on Civil Rights Case

Detroit, Mich.—Frank R. Owens, Wayne County constable, became enraged over an allegedly run-around on prosecution of a civil rights case in which he complained that he was refused service in a cafe because of his color and started action to file a civil suit for $25,000 damages as well as renew a criminal suit against the cafe owner.

Speaking through his attorney, Herman D. Stallings, Owens stated that Prosecutor O'Brien as well as members of his office acted as if they did not desire to prosecute charges against the cafe owner, Harry Boesky, 8900 12th street.

The constable declared that he waited for an hour in the courtroom of Recorder's Judge Frank G. Schumann who was hearing early sessions for his case to come up, only to learn that it was heard before Judge Gerald W. Groat and dismissed because of lack of prosecution.

The civil suit for $25,000 damages will be filed in circuit court, Stallings added.

No Let-Down in Campaign Against 'Amos 'n' Andy'

New York.—The claim, published in a recent issue of Tide, an advertising magazine, that "The 'Amos 'n' Andy' situation has withered and died" was denounced by Walter White, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, as "grossly misleading."

"The fight against the 'Amos 'n' Andy' television show which was launched at the NAACP Atlanta convention is continuing with unabated strength and enthusiasm," Mr. White said. "Protests against this offensive show continue to go to television stations and the Blatz Brewery, sponsors of the program."

HEALTH FOR ALL

LONG LIFE FOR TEETH

Many of us live in fear and dread of the day when we shall have to wear dentures, or false teeth. Perfect or not, our own, natural teeth are far more preferable to the finest "store-bought" dentures.

For many people, the day when plates must be fitted could be postponed for years with just a little sensible care of natural, "second" teeth.

While the formation and building of teeth take place in early childhood, dental health can be safeguarded in adulthood if three general rules are observed: keep the teeth clean, visit the dentist regularly, and eat a sensible diet of nourishing foods.

Although we cannot be certain that "a clean tooth is a healthy tooth," cleanliness helps cut down decay. There are bacteria present in everyone's mouth, most of them harmless but some of them capable of manufacturing acids from the bits of food remaining on or between the teeth.

These acids can eat through the protective enamel covering of the teeth, enabling bacteria which causes decay to get into the teeth. As decay sets in, toothache results and the pain is nature's warning that the life of the tooth is in danger.

Whenever possible, it is a good idea to brush the teeth soon after meals. A good toothbrush with firm bristles serves the purpose best and the brush should be replaced with a new one as soon as it becomes limp or soggy.

There are many good toothpastes and powders on the market today, but the dentist is the best source of advice on the cleansing agent to be used.

Regular visits to the dentist are a sound health habit. Most people find it advisable to visit the dentist about every six months, but the dentist is the best judge of how frequently the individual should come for a checkup. The dentist's periodic treatments can save pain, loss of teeth, and money in the long run.

While we can't "re-build" teeth in adulthood, a good diet will help keep teeth and gums healthy. It is wise to include in our daily diet the following foods: milk and milk products; meat, fish, or poultry; cooked and raw vegetables and fruits; cereals and bread, and eggs and butter.

It is also good to remember that teeth were meant for chewing food—not for cracking nuts, holding pins, biting off threads, or opening bobby pins. These seemingly harmless habits eventually weaken and injure teeth. The person who is kind to his teeth has the best chance of avoiding toothache and holding on to his precious natural teeth.

SPORTS

BY ALLEN ASHEY
The gridiron season got rolling with Drake's repulsing the invaders from Abilene Christian college. The big question of the week end was what would Bright do without his 1950 supporting cast?

Well, in our estimation the 1950 Drake team would have won the game by thirty points. But this 1951 Bulldog team will fight back no matter what happens. After a shaky first half, the big fellow took charge of the game and from then on it was

DELAY CICERO REPLY TO CONTEMPT CHARGES

Chicago.—Cicero officials have been given until October 11 to submit their answer to the contempt charges filed on August 22 by six attorneys for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, Federal Judge John P. Barnes ruled on September 11.

It was noted by observers that the requested date of October 11 extends the contempt proceedings a few days beyond the expected report of the Cook County Grand Jury which has continued its investigation through the month of September.

Hearings on the $200,000 damage suit filed by the NAACP on behalf of the Harvey Clarks continued simultaneously in the Federal Court. Association lawyers are seeking to prove Cicero officials guilty of contempt of Judge Barnes' injunction and restraining order of June 26 because they "failed and refused" to protect the right of the Clarks to move into and live peacefully in their apartment. The NAACP petition charges that the town officials "aided or abetted a mob" in the destruction of the furnishings, furniture, household goods, and other personal belongings of the Clarks during the rioting of July 11, 12, and 13. The Negro family, it is contended, was thereby denied equal protection of the laws as guaranteed them by the 14th Amendment of the Constitution of the United States.

UNDER HIS MANTLE

Into the haven—the haven of blessing safe from the perils of life, Under His mantle—in peace I am resting, away from the turmoil and strife. And any time—my load is great, no matter what my task. I talk my problems o'er with Him, He answers when I ask. I do not say, "please give me wealth, material things for me." But praise Him for His love, His hope, for His eternity. I only ask, that He may show, the way so all the world may know, The wondrous love, . . . so deep, yet free. My blessed Lord, . . . all praise to Thee.

Iowa Soldier in Germany Wants to Write to Servicemen
"I read the Bystander every week and am very interested in the articles about servicemen, especially those whom I know and are friends of mine," wrote Sgt. Charles A. Lyle, from Mannheim, Germany, Sept. 11. "I think it would be an excellent idea if you could obtain and print some of their addresses so we can get in contact with each other. "I find the Bystander very interesting and brings me in close contact with home, and the people I know. Cpl. James A. Tolson is also stationed here in Mannheim. Cpl. Tolson's hometown is also Des Moines. We often get together and look over papers and see what's going on. "I came to Mannheim from the EUCOM Honor Guard (558 Infantry Rifle Platoon) Berlin, Germany. We were referred to as the 'pride of the European Command.' I, personally, for my own advantage, am glad to have been transferred from Berlin. Here in Mannheim I can pursue my ambitions to become an administrative supervisor. At present I am the unit administrative specialist, handling all correspondence for this unit. My additional duties are bond and insurance NCO and unit club representative for the 28th btn. I enjoy being in Europe very much. Well, I must close now, but in closing I wish you would say hello to all my friends through your excellent paper. "I will start with my address: Sgt. Charles A. Lyle, RA 16279059, 69th Ho. T. Company, APO 403-A, U. S. Army, C/O Postmaster, New York; Mannheim, Rhine, Germany.

Note: Servicemen who would like to let their friends in other parts of the country or world know where they are stationed may send in their addresses in a letter to the Post Exchange column.

Surv the pictures of the Robinson-Turpin fight and we are forced to agree with Sec Taylor. Taylor says that the pictures were edited to make Robinson look good. Well, that may not have been the intention, but the films showed Ray winning from here to Boston. And there was no doubt about the knockout.
