Check-Up Reveals Some Jobs At State Penitentiary That Negro Inmates Don't Get

Charges of racial discrimination at the Iowa State penitentiary at Ft. Madison, were revealed this summer when a representative of the Bystander spoke at a special celebration for the Negro inmates.

Following up the charges that the Negro inmates get little or no consideration in getting their terms shortened on the basis of their good records, the Bystander has learned that:

Thirty Negro Lifers

Out of thirty Negro inmates serving life sentences, three have served 30 or more years; three, 25 or more years; fourteen men have done fifteen years or more—and "in spite of good records at the penitentiary, not one has been given any consideration in getting his term cut."

Regarding the work that the inmates are permitted to do in various shops, the Bystander learned that colored and white inmates work in the carpenter shop, making chairs. They can cut the wood to make the chairs, together; paint the furniture in the paint shop, together; upholster it; work in the weaving shop together, making the thread used in the manufactures of clothing, suits and wear for other institutions.

But, in the shop that makes underclothing, where the men run machines, there are no Negro inmates working; and if there is a shortage of men, only white prisoners are sent. In the tailor shop, no Negro inmates work.

When men, colored and white, come to the institution, they learn the trades. Some of the prisoners are skilled laborers. Usually the pay is from fifteen to twenty-five cents per day. All of the office workers who do secretarial work, are white.

Out of the five farms, and the two honor ones, no Negroes do the farm work.

One source revealed that the white prisoners, entering the penitentiary, after isolation period and physical checkup, are automatically sent to work into the dining hall. No Negro prisoners are permitted in the hall work.

Josephine Baker Heralds Musical Message for People of U. S. From Her Own Beloved Paris

New York, N. Y.—Josephine Baker has a musical message for the people of the United States from her own beloved Paris from which she recently returned. The glamorous Josephine opens every show at the Roxy Theater here with a new song, "Paris Sends You Her Kind Regards." The renowned singing and dancing star who became famous in the Folies Bergere in Paris during the 20's and 30's, sings the number clad in a striking new Christian Dior creation of green trimmed with rhinestones, and a huge silver fox stole. It is one of a number of new gowns designed for Miss Baker by the greatest couturiers of Paris.

Miss Baker's program remains international with French, Spanish and English numbers included. Roxy audiences are particularly delighted by her singing of "There are No Three Ways to It, No Two Ways to It. There Is Only One Way To Love." This is the English translation of her successful "Il N'y A Pas Trois Moyens," which she previously sang in French.

Looking rested and refreshed after a five-weeks absence in France, Miss Baker is once again the dynamic performer whose stunning gowns and boundless vitality fascinate theater audiences. At her opening show Oct. 4, she told the audience how happy she was to be back in America. "It seems only yesterday that I was 20," she said. "Now I am 45."

On Sunday, Oct. 7, Miss Baker was heard on Tallulah Bankhead's weekly radio program, "The Big Show." The show was transcribed Sept. 23, in the Empire Theater in Paris.

Community Chests Aid New Defense Efforts; 13 National Groups United

With the nation again gearing for defense and the arming of an expected four million men by 1952, the same migrations are taking place on the home front as they did in World War II, with subsequent congestion of defense areas, some of which are already reeling under the impact of wartime conditions. Thirty-two communities have certified as "interagency critical areas" by the Federal Government.

The impact of the defense program on employment, housing, health, welfare, and recreational facilities in these areas calls for aid from voluntary agencies. Thirteen national organizations have banded together into the United Community Defense Services to give this aid. They will be financed by the United Defense Fund, with funds collected through the local community chests.

League Working

The National Urban League is a member of the United Community Defense Services. It will assist in working out plans for employment of more Negro workers and for community adjustments to the influx of substantial numbers of Negroes migrating to these defense areas. Some of the other organizations in the federated group are the YWCA, National Recreation Association, National Organization for Public Health Nursing, Child Welfare League, Travelers Aid and American Social Hygiene Association.

Dr. Channing H. Tobias is one of the vice presidents of the United Defense Fund, which launches its first annual drive with the Community Chest campaigns this fall. A new (SEE PAGE SIX)

Manly High's King And Queen To Be Crowned Friday

Manly, Ia.—Delores and LeRoy Dunn, sister and brother, have been chosen queen and king of the Manly High school for the homecoming night, Oct. 12. The pair will be crowned on the football field at the half-time.

This is believed to be the first time that Negro students have ever received this honor in north Iowa, or maybe, in the state, the Manly correspondent commented.

Many Negroes in Strike at Three Largest Hotels

A strike at the three largest hotels in Des Moines, the Savery, Fort Des Moines and Kirkwood, which started at 6 a.m. Sunday, was still unsettled Wednesday.

Many Negroes employes, workers in hotel kitchens and culinary departments, were in the strike.

Stumbling Block

A hotel spokesman said the stumbling block in the path of any negotiation is a union attempt to get a first contract for eight groups of workers in hotel kitchens and culinary departments.

Local 157 of the Building Service Workers, which had a 3-year contract with the three hotels until it expired Oct. 1, is seeking a new pact with wage increases for its 250 members—elevator operators maids and bellmen.

At the same time, the Hotel and Restaurant and Bartenders Local 247 is asking the hotel companies for a contract covering its claimed membership of 100 chefs, cooks, bakers, butchers, waiters or waitresses, salad helpers, dishwashers and room service employes.

Joint Strike

A joint strike against the Savery, operated by the Boss company, and the Kirkwood and Fort Des Moines, operated by Tangey McGinn, was called at 6 a.m. Sunday.

Miss Octavia Roane Dies at Hospital

Miss Octavia Roane, 48, of 1117 Tenth street, died Oct. 7 at Mercy hospital after a six months' illness.

A lifelong resident of Des Moines, Miss Roane was a member of Corinthian Baptist church and the T. O. B. club.

Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Bertha Williams, Los Angeles, Cal., and Mrs. Nazarata Freeman, Chicago, Ill.

Funeral rites were held Thursday at Estes and Sons funeral home with burial in Glendale cemetery.

Named to Direct Cicero Riot Jury

Chicago, Ill.—A special prosecutor was named Tuesday to direct a federal grand jury investigation of race rioting in suburban Cicero.

The inquiry into vandalism and mob violence in July was ordered by Attorney General J. Howard McGrath. A Cook county grand jury investigated and returned indictments, none against actual participants.

Otto Gerner, Jr., U. S. district attorney, named Leo S. Tierney, former regional attorney for the justice department's Chicago anti-trust division, to conduct the investigation.

Says He Bought Wine for Friend

A man, who police claimed used his liquor book to purchase a fifth of wine for a friend, was bound over to the grand jury Tuesday by Municipal Judge Howard W. Brooks.

The man—Earl M. Hutchinson, of 1144 Twelfth street—was arrested Sept. 29 in a drive by police on "proxy" liquor buyers.

The charge of violating the general section of the Iowa liquor law, filed against Hutchinson, carries a maximum penalty of a year in jail and a $1,000 fine. The minimum is a $300 fine.

Lt. Arvene Nelson and Detective Leon Clemons testified they saw Hutchinson take money from Robert H. Jackson, of 1070 Second place, and purchase the wine at the state liquor store at 414 Fifth ave. They said Hutchinson told them he did it "as a favor."

Hutchinson testified he and Jackson purchased the wine together on his liquor book and were intending to go to his home to drink it.

Fight Over Custody of 6-Year-Old Child Turning Out to Be Civil Rights Case

New York.—The fight of a mother and a grandmother over custody of a six-year-old girl shaped up as an important civil rights case this week, as the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People filed a brief as friend of the court in the appeal of Mrs. Anne Strasser DeCarava for reversal of a lower court's order taking her child away from its mother and Negro stepfather.

The child's grandmother, Mrs. Mollie Portnoy, won custody by charging that the girl was neglected because (1) her mother sent her to nursery school instead of caring for her personally; (2) the mother engaged in "Communist" activity three years ago; (3) the child would not receive a proper education as a Jewish child; and (4) she would be forced to live with "undesirable" people in an "undesirable" neighborhood.

After careful investigation of the record in the case, NAACP attorneys indicated that the "Communist" allegations were uncorroborated, and charged that the only basis for the court's decision was the mother's second husband, Roy DeCarava, is a Negro and that the family lives in an interracial neighborhood.

Asserting that the child lived happily with her mother and stepfather, the NAACP maintains that "by taking away custody of her child, the Court takes away the liberty of the family to exist as a unit and punishes efforts at interracial harmony and democratic living."

Mrs. DeCarava's attorneys are Mildred Ross, Bennett D. Brown, and Hope R. Stevens. Assistant Special Counsel Robert L. Carter is handling the case for the NAACP.

Court Is Ready But Defendant Can't Be Found

The scheduled trial of Vivian Lee, of 835 Ninth street, for assault and battery turned out to be a "show without performers" Monday in municipal court.

Judge Howard W. Brooks was on hand to try the case and Assistant County Attorney Neal Smith was present to prosecute, but neither the defendant nor the two prosecuting witnesses showed up.

As a result Judge Brooks issued bench warrants for the arrest of the defendant and the witnesses and postponed the hearing until Friday. In addition he cited the two witnesses, Mrs. Lucille Lee, of 1200 Park street, wife of the defendant, and Geraldine Ritchie, of 1021 Chestnut street, for contempt of court.

Mrs. Lee, who filed the charge, claimed her husband beat her with his fists Sept. 29.

Fish Causes Man To Die

Mt. Clemens, Mich.—A fish that was "getting away" was direct result of the death of Willie Hawkins 35, 8050 Russell.

Hawkins was sitting on the bank of the Clinton River near Selfridge Field last Sunday afternoon, leisurely watching the bobbing cork of his fishing line which was attached to a long pole that was shoved into the soft bank.

Before he knew it, a fish had grabbed his line and was pulling it into the river. Hawkins in his moment of anxiety forgot he could not swim and plunged in after his pole. He failed to come up.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Turner, 2945 Hazelwood, who were fishing nearby, could not swim either, so they called help, but it was too late.

Students Protest Grid Racial Bar

Chapel Hill, N. C.—Student religious groups at the University of North Carolina adopted resolutions protesting the decision of university officials to segregate Negro students at football games.

The Baptist Student union, the Wesley foundation and the Presbyterian Student association, with a combined membership of some 250 students, expressed hope that the university administration would reverse its segregation ruling.

A number of the other student groups, including the YWCA, the YMCA, and the Inter-Faith council, were scheduled to consider similar resolutions of protest.

Superintendent Morrow Got Rid of Segregated Public Schools in Tuscon, Arizona

(From Current Issue of Time Magazine)

When school opened in Tucson, Ariz., this fall, Superintendent Robert D. Morrow had reason to feel uneasy. He had never wanted to be "either a heel or a hero," but heel or hero he was destined to be. Morrow had been trying to get rid of Jim Crow in the city's public schools for the past six months—ever since the state legislature passed a law leaving the decision up to local communities.

Some parents protested hotly against the Morrow campaign, and some even called him up to tell him what a "Communist," "nigger-lover," or "Fascists" they thought he was. None of that bothered Morrow much. What did bother him was what Tucson's parents would say when they found out what he had done with the 19 Negro teachers from the city's Negro schools.

He had scattered them all through the school system. He left Morgan Maxwell, Negro principal of the junior high school for NNegroes, where he was, even though Maxwell would now have white teachers and pupils under him. And Morrow had hired another Negro teacher, plus two Chinese, and a Navajo.

On opening day, Superintendent Morrow sat back and waited. For the first time, "African and Caucasian" pupils filed into classrooms together. For the first time, so did "African and Caucasian" teachers. Books were distributed, assignments given out, and the year began. By last week Superintendent Morrow, flummoxed but happy, knew how his campaign had come out. "Why, it's working!" he cried.

Elsewhere, the case against Jim Crow ran into some snags.

On opening day in San Antonio, ten Negro boys & girls showed up at five different white schools, asked to be admitted because their own schools did not have equal facilities. The principals all refused.

The University of North Carolina's first Negro students found that they were free to eat and study with whites, but not to cheer. At football games, they were barred from the cheering section, hrded into special end-zone seats.

Recent Survey Shows Piney Woods School Having Finest Library in Mississippi State

By ROBERT DURR

Birmingham, Ala.—(CNS) Exclusive—The day before Labor Day 1951, I received an invitation to attend the 30th Commencement exercises of Piney Woods School located at Piney Woods, Mississippi, twenty miles below Jackson in the poorest county in the poorest state in the United States—Rankin County in the state of Mississippi and in which the school is the only school offering a high school and junior college course in a three county area.

A regular commencement scheduled for the Labor Day Week end intrigued me and so because Bishop Marvin A. Franklin—Alabama's greatest gift to the Methodist Church of the United States was listed to deliver the baccalaureate sermon, I caught the next train out for Piney Woods.

Upon arrival I inquired the why and wherefore of an annual commencement at that time of the year and was told that when it came time to plan the commencement early last April it was discovered that a goodly number of the students who were supposed to graduate in May had not done satisfactory in their studies during the year.

President Laurance C. Jones advised them that he was not going to give them high school and junior college diplomas until they had done what they should have done; that they would have to spend the summer months catching up where they were deficient. And that they need not get the idea that he cared about the money for board, tuition and lodging—important thing was that they do the work they were supposed to do before they could graduate and that their board and lodging for summer would be on the school. The kids buckled down and came up with the goods in time to get their diplomas on Labor Day.

Work Way

Niney five percent of the upwards of four hundred students at this school work their way because they cannot pay. This opportunity to get an education by indegent ambitious and industrial boys and girls who want to be somebody—assets rather than liabilities to society as a basis for a life of responsible first class citizenship is made possible by contributions in money and service by a cross section of Peoples and races from both North and South.

Strange as it may seem Piney Woods School has the finest library in Mississippi. The Library Association of Mississippi, upon a recent survey, acclaimed it a perfect library. It is a beautiful brick building modernly equipped to the last detail, air conditioned, filled with standard up-to-date books with well appointed special rooms and a large reading auditorium. From it a rolling library will visit Negro schools in four or five county areas this school year.

Dean of Schools

A Miss Zephia Ellen Chandler, dean of education and formerly a member of the faculty of Upper Iowa University gave up her work in Iowa a few years ago and assumed the responsibility of leadership in raising the money to build the library. A good job has been done. A gift of $5,000.00 by Uncle Sam for books makes the project perfect.

Piney Woods School has on file 500 applications of indegent boys and girls who want to work their way through school here. This means Piney Woods School is one of the remaining schools where all a boy or girl needs a capital to secure an education is ambition and a willingness to work. Its ability to go on meeting this vital and un-met need is dependent upon contributions from friends who want to help provide opportunity for those lowest down in the matter of opportunity to prepare themselves to constructive and complete living.

A gift invested in Piney Woods School is one of the best ways to promulgate good Americanism, harmonious relations and defeat the spread of communism among the less alert.

It's A Touchdown!

Here is a football you won't want to kick around; but every time you serve it your reputation as a hostess will land right between the goal posts for a touchdown. What comes from your after-the-game party than this fluffy-textured, mouth-watering chocolate-coconut combination. New and different, it is versatile, too, for it can be served in countless ways. Try, for example, piling the mixture into sherbet glasses lined with lady fingers, for a wonderful Charlotte Russe. Or use it as filling for a refrigerator cake, or in a graham cracker shell for a delectable pie.

Whether you serve this Chocolate-Coconut Sponge Mold in the novel way pictured—a football on a flat of green-tinted coconut—or in some other form, this is a dessert to cheer about.

New Drug Helps Combat Deep Chest Infections, Blood Clots

Pearl River, N. Y.—Use of a new drug which liquefies pus, blood clots and dead tissue, promises to prevent many deaths from deep chest infections which are so prevalent during the winter.

Made available to doctors only a few months ago, Varidase streptokinase-streptodornase is an enzyme product which has proved extremely useful against empyema (deep chest infections).

Previously, such infections almost always required major surgery, which often endangered the patient's life.

One group of investigators used the new drug on fourteen patients, one of whom was 92 years old, who had developed empyema following a siege of pneumococcal pneumonia. All had received extensive penicillin treatment without favorable response. Within a few hours after injection of the drug, the deep-seated purulent material was removed from the chest by a needle. General improvement in all patients was noted in a short time. After further treatment with this new drug, they all recovered.

In another group of patients suffering from empyema following pneumonia, Varidase, combined with aureomycin, acted quickly not only to liquefy the pus, but also to effectively stop the infection.

The drug has also proved helpful in combating gangrene, osteomyelitis, tuberculous meningitis and certain types of arthritis.

"Scottsboro Boy" Goes Before Judge for Stabbing

Detroit—(CNS)—Haywood Patterson, one of the more famous of the Scottsboro Boys, having collaborated in writing his life story, now faces sentencing on October 11 on charges of fatally stabbing friend Willie Mitchell in a tavern fight.

Patterson had faced a first degree murder charge, but Judge E. Krause ordered the charge reduced. Not convicted of manslaughter, he faces a maximum of 15 years in prison.

SENTENCED BUT PAROLED

Judge T. K. Morrow sentenced Lawrence Jeffrey Flakes, 29, of 1211

Center street, to 10 years in the state penitentiary on a forgery charge, but placed him on parole. Flakes was accused of cashing a $67 forged check last July at a Des Moines store.

Parents Are Living Longer In Our Modern Civilization

Only about half as many minor children are orphaned each year by the death of a parent than would be the case if the mortality conditions of 50 years ago continued to prevail, Metropolitan Life Insurance Company statisticians report.

In spite of this, in a recent year (1948) about 371,000 children under 18 became orphaned by the death of either a father or a mother. Of these, 239,000 children lost their fathers and 132,000 their mothers—the wide difference explained by the fact that the average American wife is somewhat younger than her husband and lives longer.

Although the chances of death at ages under 45 are relatively small, according to the statisticians, about 90,000 children lose such comparatively young fathers during the year.

"The stability and well being of American family life have benefited materially," the statisticians comment. "Our communities have also gained immeasurably for they have been relieved from the heavy burden of supporting thousands of indigent widows and orphans."

'Minister Is Human Being' Chicogan Tells Members At Installation Services

"We win by holding on," spoke Dr. A. A. Watts of Chicago, Ill., last Sunday afternoon as he addressed the installation services of the Rev. N. R. Olphin at the Corinthian Baptist church.

Speaking on the subject of "The Power to Hold On," Dr. Watts, who was a high school and college mate of the Rev. Mr. Olphin, nearly thirty years ago, told his listeners:

"If you take hold of a job and expect to be petted along you are wrong.

"This world calls for men and women who are able to stand on their feet and look it in the face."

"In giving the charge to the Rev. Mr. Olphin, Dr. Watts remarked that "the church says it wants a clean pulpit—but, we forget sometimes that the pulpit wants a clean church."

'Human Being'

The Chicogian called attention to the fact that "the minister of a church is a human being," and, "wants enjoyment, too."

"If he can't take his religion to a park to see a baseball game, then you can't trust him." Dr. Watts commented and added, "we went through college together, played football.

"Some people want our ministers to get off in a corner and his life to be miserable. But the preacher is human. He ought to see some things to tell you about them," Dr. Watts concluded.

'Must Go On'

In accepting the charge, the Rev. Mr. Olphin told his membership that "you can't live on the glories of the past. Leave that high mountain peak of achievement and strive for still Manly, Ia.—At New Bethel last Sunday the right hand of fellowship was extended to seven year-old Lois Jean Douglas, preceding the Lord's Supper. In the afternoon a group of the members motored to Mason City to listen to a lecture given by Frances B. Watson of Kansas City, Kans.

Out-of-town guests at New Bethel were: Mrs. Evelyn Combs, Mrs. Bertha Smith, Mrs. Willie Hale and Mr. Raymond Cooper. Mr. Cooper is Mrs. Rhoda Parker's nephew. Mr. Hale sang two numbers on the B. T. U. program. Mrs. Ruby Haddix is president. Mrs. Smith and Mr. Hale sang a number each on the evening worship hour. Mrs. Combs accompanied both singers at the piano. Miss Delores and Lee Roy Dunn, sister and brother, have been chosen queen and king of the Manly High school for homecoming night, Oct. 12. The pair will be crowned on the football field at the half-time. We believe that this is the first time that Negro students have ever received this honor in north Iowa, or maybe in the state.

The Elder A. M. Douglas received license to preach the gospel from higher peaks. "God says go on and we must go on," the Rev. Mr. Olphin spoke. He praised the parsonage which has been decorated and furnished.

Mrs. Olphin was presented flowers by Mrs. Leota Slater, representing the church; and Mesdames Bertha Dunn and Ruth Moore, for the Pastor's Aid club.

Other participants on the installation program which was presided over by Atty. Luther T. Glanton, Jr., were: Rev. J. M. Eaves, invocation; Rev. J. Q. Evans, welcome address; Rev. E. A. European corn growers the pest that has been costing Midwestern corn growers millions of dollars annually, may meet its match in a new organic phosphorus insecticide tested this past year by Illinois Natural History Survey, working in cooperation with Illinois canners. The new weapon against the borer, EPN-300 Insecticide, developed through Du Pont research work, was tested during 1950 and showed considerable promise over other new insecticides. It was reported, for example, to give an average of twice the residual protection of one of the newer organic phosphates in use for controlling the corn borer during the past two years.

$786,371 NEEDED FOR 1952 Give Generously to the Community Chest

A section of the regulation-size gymnasium with high brick windows. This is only a part of the elaborate Willkie House that Community Chest Funds help to maintain. Willkie House through clubs, classes, health and study groups, gives recreation, athletic and education opportunities to children, teen-agers and adults. More funds are needed to perpetuate this great work.

STATEMENT FROM CAMPAIGN CHAIRMAN

DEAR FRIEND:
This is your community—Des Moines is your home. You have a responsibility as a citizen far beyond your own personal interest. This year, the needs of the Community Chest are greater than ever, due, primarily, to the U.S.O. This year's goal was arrived at only after long hours of careful study by many responsible citizens of Des Moines, representing your Community Chest Board and all agency boards. I sat in on these budget hearings, I know how thoroughly they were discussed, and how these budgets were kept to a minimum.
Our goal MUST be met in order to provide the minimum services to our children and less fortunate neighbors.
It is a strange axiom that in prosperous times the need for child and family guidance frequently becomes greater. The rate of juvenile delinquency goes up. The recreational and training facilities of our Agencies help combat this. A happy and well developed community helps everyone. Won't you please contribute your fair share?

Sincerely,
Julian Brody, Campaign Chairman

Halt The Man Tailored Suit; Trim It Up To Flatter

Kay Vaughn Says:
Hollywood—(CNS)—There's nothing plainer than a man tailored suit—and nothing more unflattering to feminine beauty. A touch of softness is most essential. Even a precisely tailored suit looks better with pretty detailing. Many of them use rounded lines to take the harshness away from collars or padding at the hips to break the flatness of a peplum. Seems that form patterns through a jacket or pleats that give motion to a skirt are effective ways of achieving the new look. A trim, uncluttered simplicity is still highly priced as it always will be, but plainness unrelieved by the least bit of prettiness is never the coin of fashion.

PERSONAL TOUCH

By MARIE ROSS

Found a bulky envelope on my desk the other day with some typewritten matter entitled "cases" and "complaints." The letter had been left by Mrs. Travis Bailey, Sr., of 825 Tenth street, sent to her by her teen-aged daughter, Kathryn, who last June graduated with high record from Des Moines Tech high school and left the state for a secretarial career in Minnesota.

With the spirit of a crusader, Kathryn "settled" in Minneapolis with another June graduate, Shirley Brown of Des Moines' North High and both set out to find secretarial jobs in the city that is known for more than its "sky blue waters", its Fair Employment Practice Commission—that has a law with teeth in it.

Right after graduation here, the two youth and several others, walked the Des Moines downtown section, answering prospective jobs listed in the want-ad section of the daily paper. Had they been successful, they would be working in Des Moines, the city in which they were educated. But they were not, so they moved on up to Minnesota.

The two Iowans were not successful, immediately. They did some walking in Minneapolis, too, but the minute they were given the "run-around" or not permitted to make application, or show their qualifications, they made their complaints to the City of Minneapolis's FEPC.

A letter accompanying the final record on the "cases and complaints" was written to Miss Bailey by Wilfred C. Leland, Jr., executive director of the FEPC who thanked the young Iowan for "bringing these problems to our attention and we want you to know that you have rendered a useful public service."

The Iowans made a complaint against an Employers Overload Company, a private organization which sends girls out to various business firms to do parttime and temporary work. Answering an help want-ad which the company keeps in the daily papers, the two Iowans were told that "there were no openings."

Immediately a complaint was made to the Minneapolis FEPC. An investigation was made and a letter sent to the company head. The executive director of the Minneapolis FEPC noted in his report to the commission that: "The company has a Japanese-American accountant on their regular office staff. However, they have not yet

D. M. Silhouettes Given Outing at Park by Husbands

Members of the Des Moines Silhouettes and their children were guests of their husbands, the Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity men, at an outing at Pioneer park, Sept. 30. The food was prepared and served by the men. Canasta was played and the Dodger-Giant baseball game was heard.

On Sept. 21 the Silhouettes met with Mrs. Frank Fant, hostess. Plans were discussed for sending a scrapbook to the national convention.

The members met again on Oct. 5 with Mrs. Archie Greenlee, hostess. Reports were heard. Guest of Mrs. Harriette Curley Bruce was Mrs. Lois McGuire of Huron, S. D., whose husband, James, Jr., is a Kappa.

Two other guests were Mesdames Bea Robinson and Bertharena Cropp, guests of the membership chairman, Mrs. Sophia Johnson. The president, Mrs. E. T. Scales, has scheduled several members with officers and chairmen. Lunch was served and canasta was played. Mrs. James P. Thompson is reporter.

made use of the services of the Negro applicant that they have on file or of any other Negro worker."

Now in Des Moines, there are several Japanese and foreign-looking girls working in some downtown insurance offices where many Negroes go monthly to pay their insurance bills.

However, Miss Bailey, after several complaints, finally did land a secretarial job in the general office of some clothing factory, where so far, she is the only Negro in the office.

Mrs. Capitola, 1600 Walker street, had a very "chilling" message Tuesday. She had attended the installation banquet Monday night at Willkie House, and upon leaving found that someone, by mistake had taken her comfortable blue gabardine coat and left another blue top coat which is smaller in size than Mrs. Jones'. She will be happy to have her coat returned and may be reached by phoning 6-6104.

Mrs. A. L. Cranshaw was phoning in her Social Art club news this week and just remembered, that she had not told me about her summer vacation. She and her husband spent two weeks in Ft. Madison visiting a son and fishing, she recalled.

Commenting upon her recent vacation to the west coast, Mrs. Ralph Jones who took a motor trip, said she and her husband had little trouble getting motel accommodations. Only at one place, in Tocomcori, N. Mex., did they try to get service and were sent to a colored motel on the other side of the tracks.

Mrs. Jones said her husband, a mail clerk at the post office here, was much impressed with the beauty of the San Diego post office building which was surrounded by palm trees. They visited post office buildings, all along the route.

Invitations are out announcing the forthcoming wedding of Miss Roberta Le Etta Maupin, of Plainfield, N. J., daughter of Mrs. Robert Lee Maupin of Des Moines, and Mr. Robert Lansing Ponder, Jr., to be held Saturday, Nov. 10, at 4 p.m., at the Shiloh Baptist church, Plainfield, N. J.

A postcard arrived this week from Drake university's summer graduate,

Honor Rev. and Mrs. Olphin At Formal Banquet at Willkie House

Rev. and Mrs. Norman Olphin, who came to Des Moines three months ago, from Rahway, N. J., were guests of honor at a formal banquet, by candle light that climaxed a week of installation activities, Monday night at the Willkie House.

Approximately 250 guests attended the event which was sponsored by the Pastor's Aid club of the Corinthian church. Guests were presented "C"—shaped programs.

Att. W. Lawrence Oliver presided over a program which included: opening prayer, Malotte's "Lord's Prayer," sung by Mr. Edward Bayles; instrumental solo, Mrs. Eugene Davis; "Fantasia Impromptu" (Chopin); vocal solos, Miss Jane McQuerry, "Come Unto Me;" and Mrs. Sadye Jones, "Oh Rest In The Lord" Dinner music was played by Mrs. Davis.

Remarks were given by Dr. Frederick Weertz, pastor of St. John Lutheran church; Rev. G. A. Singleton, pastor of St. Paul A.M.E. church; and the Rev. Mr. Olphin, newly installed pastor of Corinthian.

Others at the guest table were: Rev. and Mrs. E. A. Gaiters, Mrs. Oliver, Mr. and Mrs. R. Hardaway, Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Wilcoits, Mr. and Mrs. I. A. Shelton, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mease, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Buice, Mr. Wm. Bell.

Mrs. Lewis James, representing the Beauticians league, presented Mrs. Olphin flowers.

Official hostesses were members of the Pastor's Aid club.

Ten men of the church served as waiters.

Calvary Baptist Women at Willkie House Next Thursday

A group of women from the Calvary Baptist church here will discuss "Race Relations" with representatives of Negro women's organizations at a meeting Thursday afternoon, Oct. 18, at 2 o'clock at the Willkie House.

Tea will be served. The public is invited to attend.

Cleota Proctor, who wrote from New York:

"Just a line to say that I am still surviving and really am crazy about Columbia (university) and New York."

"Give my regards to all." Miss Proctor's address is: Post Hall, 510 State, Brooklyn 17, N. Y.

The inimitable Hildegarde of supper club fame, who performed for 4,000 fans at KRNT Radio theater Tuesday night, visited many of the Community Chest agencies in the city, in the interest of the annual drive for funds which starts next Monday.

Noticed that the German songstress wore with her fur cape, a very attractive but oddly shaped black velvet creation on her head, which one may call a hat or a chapeau.

This same styled hat in black velvet was worn by one of the very attractive visiting delegates who attended the recent annual AME conference here.

All of the women noticed the hat when Mrs. Cora Moore, wife of Rev. B. N. Moore of St. Paul, Minn., wore to several of the sessions.

She knew the hat was getting much attention—and would turn on a warmer smile under it. So after much viewing and reviewing of the hat, I decided to ask Mrs. Moore about her "very attractive chapeau."

"Oh, it's not a chapeau," she corrected. "And it did not come from abroad. I saw it in one of the shops in Minnesota and like it."

She described it as "just a coolie-styled hat." It is a real topper.

So, if you saw Hildegarde getting around town, on the tour of the Chest Agencies, and you noted her striking hat, now you can say, she wore one which was just like the Minnesota concert singer, Mrs. Cora Moore, wore.

Iowa Press Women, whose annual fall meeting was held last Saturday at Hotel Ft. Des Moines, were very fortunate in getting their all-day program and evening banquet over before the hotel workers went on strike Sunday morning.

In the display of 1951 writing awards, held on the mezzanine floor, I had five gold-framed awards among the exhibits; three state and two national. Winners had to speak during the afternoon session.

At the banquet, Miss Mattie Dykes, professor of English at Northwest Missouri state college in Maryville, Mo., and president of the National Federation of Press Women, was guest speaker.

"We felt a well-planned trip, with reservations made in advance, appropriate clothes for changes of climate, food carried in a portable cooler, and some notion of where one is going, can be made easily with a minimum of worry and a maximum of joy for everyone involved," the speaker said.

For a Spooky Halloween

THIS year's Halloween party can be different if the decorations and favors are novel. Time-honored games and stunts will give the affair the Halloween air so important to the party's success but unusual decorations and favors will add a long-remembered zest.

Here are a few suggestions: At the table, use as take-home place-cards miniature pumpkins which may easily be cut from a thin panel of Masonite Preshwood with a scroll saw or jigsaw. Decorate them with poster paint and write each name in paint of contrasting color.

Make some Halloween cutouts from the same material—such as witches, ghosts and goblins—fastening them with cellulose tape to lampshades to create the atmosphere you desire. The hard-board may be decorated or left in its natural brown color. Available for special decorative effects is Masonite black tempered hardboard.

For a climatic surprise at the party, lead the guests into "Spook Heaven." This eerie visit may be in a curtained-off part of the basement or porch. Lead the blindfolded guests, one at a time, into the dimly lit room. One or two spooky figures, cut from large panels of hard-board and cleverly decorated with luminous paint, will set the stage for either recorded music fitting to the occasion or an original skit, complete with screams and groans, reproduced from a tape recording.

WE WERE SHORTSIGHTED HERE

When our defense forces exploded the atom bomb in Japan and for months thereafter, America prided itself upon a secret weapon which would be guarded carefully. In fact, all kinds of secrecy was thrown around atomic projects as if people on the outside had no knowledge of science. And the grand boast was that Russia could not make an atom bomb and if so it would be many years hence.

But to the great surprise of many of the shortsighted Russia perfected an atomic bomb several months ago and to their utter surprise, it was announced that Russia had exploded another bomb a few days ago.

It was foolish to have thought that America had a corner on science, that our know how of the atom bomb could forever remain a line of defense against enemy attack.

Many farsighted people feel that Russia has beat us in the peace offensive and that so much attention has been given to strength of arms that we have been maneuvered into the position of securing peace by armed forces rather than peaceful negotiation.

As a matter of fact, both the eastern and western nations are beginning to realize that neither the democracies or communists can afford an atomic war for should such thing occur, there will be little left of either hemisphere for nobody could be expected to survive.

Drama Contest on By Phillis Wheatley National Foundation

Cleveland, Ohio.—The National Phillis Wheatley Foundation is sponsoring a play-writing contest in memory of Phillis Wheatley, the slave girl, who became poet.

The purpose of this contest is three-fold: (1) to stimulate more wide-spread interest in the significance of Phillis Wheatley in American life; (2) to stimulate creative artists to use themes associated with the problems, struggles and triumphs of Negro girls and women; and, (3) to become a source of income from participation in royalties from prize-winning plays for the scholarship fund of the National Phillis Wheatley Foundation.

One-act play competition is open to high school students—and first prize is $200; full length play competition is open to all persons. First prize is $500.

The contest which started in September will run to September 1952. Deadline is August 31, 1952. Write for further information or mail entries to National Phillis Wheatley Foundation, 2170 E. 46th street, Cleveland, Ohio.

NMA Asks End of Racial Bars In All Medical Schools

Washington.—The National Medical Association calls for an end of racial bars in all 79 medical schools. The lead editorial of the September issue of the Journal of the National Medical Association urges that where it is necessary to change laws to effect this "let us work for their change."

The matters of Federal aid and regional planning in medical education can never be considered calmly and objectively until the "old bogey man," the race problem, or more specifically, racial bars in medical schools, is dissolved, the editorial states.

Trial and Failure

In a twin editorial, the NMA states that in its lifetime, since 1895, it has witnessed the trial and failure of nearly every formula that has been thought of to accord semblance of justice to Negroes in the areas of health care within segregative framework.

It calls upon NMA members to discard "the timid and forced misgivings which many have had in the past about moving too fast," being too radical, or "attempting the impossible." It states: "Overwhelming evidence has already amassed to show that equal justice under segregation is impossible."

Curse on Unborn

On the matter of hospitals it states "The perpetuation of the segregative principle in a new system of separate hospitals may pin down generations unborn with the curse of the segregation problem. It concludes that NMA members owe it to themselves and to their children to "work unceasingly and without compromise for bilateral, collaborative integration in our own professional field."

Maugham Radio Series Back On CBS Sunday Spot

New York.—The Somerset Maugham Radio Theatre, featuring dramatizations of the distinguished British author's works under sponsorship of Tintair, the home hair coloring, will resume its fall-winter series over the CBS Radio network on Sunday, Oct. 14, Martin L. Straus, chairman and president of Bymart, Inc., manufacturers, announced here.

The premiere will present on of Maugham's most famous works, "The Moon and Sixpence." It will be heard from 5:30 to 6:00 p.m. (EST) over the network, immediately following the Frankie Laine Air Force program and the new Arthur Godfrey program to be known as King Arthur's Round Table.

of at least $18,000,000 is needed, according to the UDF to carry out these services.

Areas near military establishments and those congested by defense work need the services of the various welfare and social agencies in counseling families, providing emergency shelter, day-care service for children, recreational facilities, nursing services, new schools, and other health and welfare services.

A budget of $500,000 has been earmarked for American Relief for Korea, to cover the cost of clothing, blankets, medical supplies and other vital needs for the victims of war-torn Korea.

HEALTH FOR ALL

The Annual Chest X-ray

More and more people throughout the country are wisely forming the habit of getting chest X-rays at least once a year to find out whether or not there are signs of tuberculosis in their lungs. Although additional tests are necessary before a definite diagnosis of tuberculosis is made, chest X-ray is one of the first steps in searching out this communicable disease.

For while early tuberculosis has no apparent symptoms, indications of even early disease will usually show up on the X-ray.

People who realize "one chest X-ray is not enough" keep a year-to-year check on the health of their lungs. For tuberculosis can strike at any time. A favorable report on a chest X-ray now is no guarantee that tuberculosis will not develop in the future.

Tuberculosis is caused by germs called tubercle bacilli which are passed on by those who have an active case of the disease to those who are well. There is no way of knowing just when tuberculosis may attack.

Obviously, one way to avoid tuberculosis is by keeping away from those who have the disease in an active stage. But we cannot always be certain that we are not in contact with TB. For people can look and feel well and still be suffering from tuberculosis, since the disease has no obvious symptoms in an early stage. Hence a person can unknowingly be getting a daily bombardment of tubercle bacilli within his own family circle from relatives and friends with whom he associates.

That is why doctors and the tuberculosis associations urge every adult 15 years of age and over to form the habit of getting a chest X-ray at least once a year. If tuberculosis should develop, a person then has the best chance of having his disease found early, when it is easiest to cure.

Tuberculosis can be cured, but it is more difficult to cure when it is found in an advanced stage.

This column is sponsored, in the interest of better health by: Polk County Tuberculosis and Health Association.

SPORTS

By ALLEN ASHBY

Those who braved Friday's rain to watch Drake's John Bright plow through the mud as the Bulldogs swamped Iowa Teachers, are wondering how many yards Bright would have gained if he had played even half of the game. He kept up his better than 235 yards per game and took an early rest to prepare for a touch Detroit club.

The big Bulldogs' exploits are spread all over every daily paper around, so we don't see much sense in repeating what most of you already know. But we are 100 per cent behind the boy.

Iowa uncovered a couple of speed merchants last week. One of them L. Williams, will become quite a star on his own style of play.

Ideas?

Have to laugh at Sec Taylor for predicting that Monte Irvin of the New York Giants would become the "idol of his race."

It has been quite a while since our race had one idol. A few years ago one Negro in sports was news for everyone and his doings made headlines in Negro papers from coast to coast.

Now Negroes are divided as to who is their favorite, and that is as it should be. Some like Walcott, the heavyweight champ, some like Ray Robinson. Not a few go for Sandy Saddler and they are divided in baseball players as well. Some think Jackie Robinson is tops. Others argue that Campanella is the man.

Iowa University's 40th Annual Homecoming Celebration Oct. 19-20

Iowa City, Iowa—Football enthusiasts who return to the campus Oct. 19 and 20 for the 40th annual State University of Iowa Homecoming celebration should be right in their glory—they'll get to see twice as many games as usual.

Iowa's junior varsity will play the junior Badgers of Wisconsin Friday, Oct. 19 at 2:30 p.m. in Iowa stadium. Next day Iowa's Hawkeyes will meet Michigan in the feature Homecoming contest. Admission to the junior varsity tilt will be $1.

Homecoming will be the mounting of another innovation in Iowa's 40th of the tradition Corn monument on wheels. It will travel at the head of the annual parade which will move through Iowa City's business district Friday evening.

According to Homecoming chairman Louis C. Zopf, the weekend's festivities will get under way on the evening of Thursday, Oct. 18, when a water show, "Dolphin Showboat", will be presented by the men's swimming club. Follow-up performances will be presented Friday and Saturday evenings, with two shows being offered the latter night.

Friday night's parade will be followed by a pep rally on the lawn of Old Capitol and an all-university open house in the Iowa Memorial Union.

There will be no shortage of music for the weekend's events—bands from several high schools, the university's marching band and the Scottish Highlanders, popular all-girl bagpipe band, will be on hand

Visiting around Iowa

Iowa's Honey War

Ever hear of Iowa's "honey war"?

In 1816 surveyors marked the "Des Moines River rapids" as a dividing line between Iowa and Missouri.

Then, 21 years later, Missouri claimed a rapids near Keosauqua was really the line. This would have moved a grove of "bee trees" to the Missouri side. And folks, those days, depended on wild honey for their "sweetenin'."

Missouri called out its militia to defend its claim. Iowa raised 1200 volunteers. Luckily, some level heads finally calmed things down.

I guess folks don't change much, after all. We have hot heads now, as then. Right here in our town there are always a few who'd like to edge up on someone else's rights, as to this or that.

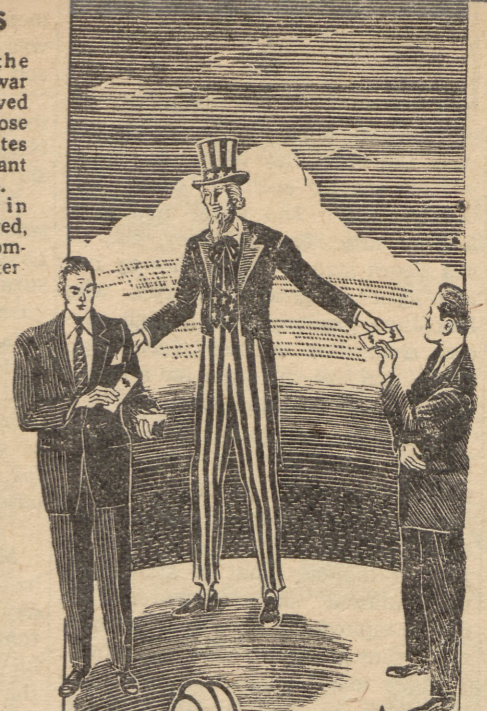

But, luckily, as in the "honey war" . . . there are more sound, level-headed citizens than radicals . . . more broad-minded people than narrow-minded. That's why our town's a good place to live . . . why Iowa and Missouri are good places to live.

OUR GOALS

- 1 TO FORESEE the needs in peace and war of each community served and to provide for those needs at the lowest rates that will assure abundant power and good service. 2 TO CONTINUE, in each community served, to work loyally for community growth and betterment. 3 TO PAY fair dividends, so that stockholders and others will be willing to finance our industry's expansion, thus meeting the public's growing needs without adding to federal debt. 4 TO ATTRACT and hold well-trained and competent employees by paying good wages and providing the best possible working conditions, thereby assuring high-quality, reliable service.

OUR GOALS

- 5 TO SEEK equal treatment for all users, and to that end, strive for the elimination of regulations and governmental practices that favor one user over another. 6 TO URGE equality in hidden and visible taxes, so that the bills of utilities, whether business-managed or government-owned, will collect the same taxes from customers. 7 TO ENCOURAGE efficient development of the nation's land, water and atomic resources for the benefit of all the people rather than a few. 8 TO EXPOSE and fight whatever strikes at American freedom, whenever and wherever it may appear; and to that end, here in our country, to oppose even the seeds of socialism and communism.

"To Urge Equality and Visible Taxes... in Hidden

SO THAT THE BILLS OF UTILITIES, WHETHER BUSINESS-MANAGED OR GOVERNMENT OWNED, WILL COLLECT THE SAME TAXES FROM CUSTOMERS"

REDDY is plenty puzzled about the present taxing system. It seems that the government is taking taxes from the folks who buy electricity from investor-owned electric companies and then using these same taxes to build up government power systems. This means that Reddy and his customers are footing much of the bill for someone else. This way, the government can claim that it produces "cheap" power. Reddy realizes that there is no such thing . . . someone has to pay the bills.

The investor-owned utilities take pride in being the largest taxpayers in many communities. Their taxes help the local and state governments to operate for the benefit of their citizens. Last year, IPALCO paid nearly 4 1/2 million dollars in taxes. This was 21c out of each dollar that came in from its operation. About 63% of this money went to the Federal Government.

Federal Power Projects Pay Little or No Taxes The TVA and similar public projects pay little or no taxes for the support of local, state or federal governments.

Thus, the citizens in those areas, although they receive so-called "cheap" electricity, lose the benefits that those taxes could bring to them. Reddy knows that when the citizens of this country learn the full story, they will protest against such a system and demand a return to the American Way.

Reddy knows that it will be a hard fight to achieve his 6th Goal . . . "equality in hidden and visible taxes, so that the bills of utilities, whether business-managed or government-owned, will collect the same taxes from customers."
