Cpl. Luther Murray Killed in Korea

Cpl. Luther E. Murray, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Murray, 1310 E. Sixteenth street, was killed in action in Korea on Sept. 22, his parents were notified here last Friday by the defense department.

Cpl. Murray

A 1947 East graduate, Corporal Murray entered service Nov. 10, 1950, and had been in Korea since last March. He was with Company B, 1st battalion, 24th infantry division. He took his training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

His parents Tuesday had not learned details of his death, but believed their son was killed in the fighting on "Heartbreak ridge."

In their last letter, dated Sept. 21, the day before Luther was reported killed, he wrote in part:

"Today is a very lovely day. The sun is nice and warm and that makes me feel so good."

"About all the news over here is rotation. A lot of guys are going to leave for the states and are they glad. I hope it won't be long before I leave this place. I hope it will be before Christmas. That would be real great."

"Well, we still have not gone into reserve yet but I think about the first of the week we will go. When we do I am going to try to get in the kitchen or something in the rear. I am tired of the front."

Just two days prior to that letter the Iowan wrote to his parents that "we are away from the company area—on a hill. It is used as an outpost."

Surviving, besides his parents, are two brothers, Don and Walter; a sister, Charlotte, all at home; and his grand mother, Mrs. Eliza Tillman of Des Moines.

Wounded Again

CPL. PAUL CAMPBELL

Mr. and Mrs. James Campbell, 1221 E. 21st street, were notified by the office of the Secretary of the Army that their son, Cpl. Paul Campbell had been wounded seriously on Oct. 1 on the front lines in the Korean war. Awarded the Purple Heart and the Bronze Star, he has been sent to a hospital in Tokyo, Japan.

The Iowan was wounded in battle last January and was returned to the fighting outfits in April.

Mrs. Campbell informed Tuesday that she had received a letter from Paul who informed that he had been wounded but did not reveal the nature of his injuries.

Iowa High Court Reinstates $100,000 Slander Suit Filed By Mrs. Gracie L. Robinson

The Iowa supreme court Tuesday reinstated the $100,000 slander suit of Mrs. Gracie Lee Robinson of Des Moines against the Home Fire & Marine Insurance Co. of San Francisco, Cal.

Mrs. Robinson's case was dismissed when first tried before Judge Tom K. Murrow in Polk county district court.

The case hinges on statements made by the company's attorney and an agent for an adjustment firm in connection with trial of Mrs. Robinson's original case against the company for payment of a fire loss on her home.

Contention

Mrs. Robinson contended in trial court that an attorney for the insurance company told Clifton Davis, a prospective witness:

"Clifton, you still are going to testify that Gracie Lee Robinson set that fire which damaged the house and burned up her husband, aren't you? You know that Gracie Lee Robinson did set the fire and burn up her husband."

The supreme court opinion by Justice Charles Wennerstrum said the insurance company's motion to dismiss the count in Mrs. Robinson's case should not have been sustained.

Privilege

Justice Wennerstrum said Mrs. Robinson had offered sufficient statements to show malice and that the attorney had gone "beyond the cloak of his privilege."

The opinion upheld Judge Murrow in his ruling on another alleged instance of slander but reversed the case because of the instance cited.

Atty. W. Lawrence Oliver was attorney for Mrs. Robinson.

group, but was verbally abused by them.

Shortly afterwards, he said, six youths in a car came racing by and he gave chase after calling headquarters for aid.

The youths were halted by Marton and Patrolman William Wood and Harold Fryman. Martin identified them as part of the group interfering with the buses.

Arrested were: La Verne Fields, 20, of 1436 Walker street; Alfred Gatewood, 20, of 1631 Buchanan street; Robert C. Harris, 1048 Crocker street; Stanley and Bill Hackney, 21, of 1216 McCormick street; and Carol B. Jackson, 20, of 3010 First street.

Harris, also charged with speeding and having no current inspection seal, was fined one dollar.

Martin said he reproached the

Dismiss Loafing Charges Against 6

Charges of loafing and annoying were dismissed Monday in the municipal court against six youth by Judge Howard Brooks.

Complaints by the Des Moines Railway Co. that young persons in the 900 block on Seventeenth street were interfering with bus operations brought the arrest of six persons Wednesday night, Oct. 10.

Patrolman R. G. Martin said he stationed himself near Willkie house and noticed several girls, and later a dozen other persons, run up behind a bus and pull the power line from the overhead wires.

Martin said he reproached the Washington.—The present Senate rule requiring sixty-four votes to cut off a filibuster was assailed this week at hearings before the Senate Rules Committee by Sen. Wayne Morse (R., Oreg.) and Sen. Irving Ives (R., N.Y.), as the chief obstacle to the passage of civil rights legislation.

Sen. Morse has proposed a resolution permitting the halting of a filibuster by a majority vote of senators present and voting. This proposal and a similar one by Sen. Hebert H. Lehman (D., N.Y.) are supported by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and other leading civil rights organizations.

The Lehman proposals provides for halting a filibuster by a two-thirds vote after a 48-hour notice or a simple majority of those present after a 14-day notice.

Urges Change

Philip Willkie, member of the Indiana legislature, also appeared at the hearing and urged a change in the rules. He supported a proposal made by Sen. Ives that would require 49 votes to invoke cloture and end a filibuster.

Appearing on behalf of Sen. Kenneth S. Wherry (R., Nebr.), minority leader, Sen. William Jenner (R., Ind.) upheld the present rule, but said that of Technology, Boston University, St. John's University, and the University of Paris. Two are engaged in creative writing, and seven will study abroad.

Say Senate Rules Requiring 64 Votes Is Chief Obstacle To Passage of Civil Rights

Observations, experiences and highlights of the forty-second annual convention of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People which met June 26 through July 1 at Atlanta, Ga., were related here last Sunday afternoon at a Des Moines branch mass meeting held at St. Paul AME church.

Three of the four Iowans who went to Atlanta, Mesdames J. W. Mitchell, E. T. Scales and J. B. Morris, spoke at a mass meeting.

Mrs. Clifford Bayles, delegate, was unable to give her report to the Des Moines branch Sunday because of the serious illness of her father who died Monday.

Much of the information reviewed in the Iowan's reports of the national convention program has been published throughout the summer in many national and local newspapers. The Des Moines branch delegates reviewed the main events and made other comments.

"The convention was well-planned for work and play," Mrs. J. W. Mitchell, spoke in her report.

Harvesting Scrap For Defense

When the scrap drive for defense mobilization got underway Monday, October 15, thousands of 4-H'ers pitched in collecting tons of rusted and worn out farm implements to help feed the blast furnaces which are turning out steel for armament. Whitney Fellows Win International Music Competition in Geneva

New York.—Mattiwilda Dobbs of Atlanta, Ga., won a first prize in Voice at the International Competition of Musical Performers sponsored by the Conservatory of Geneva on October-third. Lenora Lafayette of Baton Rouge, La., received a second prize.

These two Negro girls are Opportunity Fellows of the John Hay Whitney Foundation. They were among the many musicians from all over the world competing for prizes in piano, voice, and instrumental music.

Miss Dobbs came to Geneva from Paris where she was studying voice. Miss Lafayette had been studying in Basel where she was signed by the Basel State Opera Company for the leading roles in "Aida" and "Madame Butterfly."

Miss Dobbs and Miss Lafayette are the vanguard of colored singers who, upon award of an Opportunity Fellowship, are preparing for concert work in this country and abroad. Included among this year's Fellows are Rawn Spearman, who has a successful Town Hall debut and has been signed by Sol Hurok; Calvin Dash whose Town Hall debut is scheduled for October 20 and who recently won a JUGG award; Helen Colbert and Theresa Greene who are continuing their voice study in America; and Lucretia West who is now studying voice in Paris.

Rites Friday For William Bonwell

Final rites will be held Friday at 2 p.m. for William Bonwell, 74, of 1533 Railroad avenue. Burial will be in Glendale cemetery.

Mr. Bonwell, a retired coal miner, died Monday at Mercy hospital. He had lived in Des Moines for 30 years.

Surviving are four daughters, Mrs. Ida Boyers, Mrs. Willie Mae Russell, Mrs. Julia Southall and Mrs. Mary Baker, all of Des Moines; and two sons, Audrey and Jesse, both of Des Moines.

Robert Webb Dies

ROBERT WEBB SR.

Services were held Thursday afternoon at Maple Street Baptist church for Robert Webb, Sr., 76, of 951 Seventeenth street. Burial was in Glendale cemetery.

Mr. Webb died Sunday, Oct. 14, at Mercy hospital. He had been suffering from a heart ailment.

A retired custodian, Mr. Webb was born at Bell Buckle, Tenn., and had lived in Des Moines for 45 years. He was a past grand treasurer of the Knights and Daughters of Tabor; a life member of the YMCA, and was a board member of the Crocker branch of the YMCA. He was a member of the Maple Street church.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Clara Bayles of Des Moines; and three sons, John W. R. Webb and Robert Webb, both of Des Moines, and Elbert Webb, New York City.

blocks in the heart of the city for more than an hour for the taking of pictures," the delegate noted.

Aside from giving a day-to-day account of the convention, speakers and features, Mrs. Mitchell observed that "housing was no problem in Atlanta for it is a college town and most of the delegates were housed in the dormitories of Morehouse college, Atlanta and Clark universities," with the Iowans stopping at the latter institution.

Methods of conducting the annual membership campaigns and handling criminal court cases in branches throughout the country were told by Mrs. E. T. Scales, in her report of the convention.

"The fight against jim crow, as I picked it up, was through publicity. They advised us to try to cooperate with the press and if that was not possible, to reserve a space in the press and raise funds to pay for it," Mrs. Scales related.

Expressions of Indignation Were Nationwide as Denial Of Principle of Democracy

Chicago.—A ruling of nolle prosequi (will not prosecute) was handed down Oct. 10 by Judge Wilbert T. Crowley in the Criminal Court of Cook County, in the case of George Leighton, chairman of the legal redress committee of the Chicago branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, who has been indicted by a Cook County grand jury for his role in attempting to assist the Harvey E. Clark family in moving into an apartment in Cicero, Illinois.

State's Attorney John Boyle and Assistant State's Attorney James Brown told Judge Crowley that Mr. Leighton had voluntarily appeared before the grand jury to give information about the infamous Cicero riots of last summer and had not been requested to sign a waiver of immunity. Praising Mr. Leighton's ability as an attorney, Mr. Brown said that he was troubled by the indictment because after a thorough investigation of the facts and the law he was convinced that the NAACP attorney should never have been indicted.

Judge Crowley, in announcing that Mr. Leighton would not be prosecuted, stated that the ruling of the bench was final.

Expressions of indignation came from all parts of the country after Mr. Leighton was indicted for "conspiracy to injure property . . . by causing a depreciation in the real estate market price by renting to Negroes." NAACP Secretary Walter White called it "one of the gravest threats to the Negro's fight for equal justice which has yet developed," and Senator Paul Douglas of Illinois said it constituted "a denial of every principle of American democracy."

Attorneys handling Mr. Leighton's defense for the NAACP asserted that the dropping of the charges against Mr. Leighton made the indictment "no less a travesty on justice." In a statement issued after Judge Crowley's ruling was handed down, NAACP Special Counsel Thurgood Marshall, W. Robert Ming, Jr., and State Senator C. C. Wimbush, Leighton's attorneys, declared:

"From our investigation and study of this matter we are sure that the State's Attorney of Cook County had no alternative but to abandon the ridiculous charges against Mr. Leighton. In this matter Mr. Leighton, acting as a lawyer, endeavored to secure enforcement of the rights of

Westbrook Pegler's Attack On NAACP and W. White Called Travesty on Decency

New York.—The recent attack of Hearst columnist Westbrook Pegler on the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and Walter White, its executive secretary, was characterized by Mr. White as "a travesty on decent journalism—or just plain decency!"

The Pegler column, published on Oct. 5, was written in answer to a column by Mr. White, taking the Hearst writer to task for his smear of Dr. Channing Tobias and the President's Committee on Civil Rights.

He had said that the recommendations of the Committee "would dissolve important parts of the Constitution and revoke inalienable rights of the people and of the states."

"It is most important," Mr. White said in answer to the second attack, "that thoughtful Americans continue to insist to the editors of the papers which publish Pegler's column that he stick to the truth and not indulge in character assassination of men like Dr. Tobias, the hem of whose garment Pegler is unworthy to touch."

The text, in part of Mr. White's statement follows:

"Pegler, as usual, is running true to form. Having attempted by misstatement and innuendo to injure the reputation of a distinguished and loyal American like Dr. Channing H. Tobias and to discredit the report of the President's Committee on Civil Rights, he now screams in anger that he is being 'smeared through being accused of smearing Dr. Tobias.' What a travesty on decent journalism—or just plain decency!"

"The public should not forget that the ex-baseball reporter achieved his first notoriety by fulsome praise of the lynchers who murdered two white men in San Jose, California, in 1933. He has never deviated from that kind of action or philosophy. The attack on Dr. Tobias and the President's Committee on Civil Rights is as vicious as any statement Bilbo

Polk County Grand Jury in Probe of Charges That Jail Break Was Hoax to Free Man

Polk County grand jury resumed this week its investigation of the charges by two county jail prisoners that a planned jail break, revealed Sept. 24, was a hoax designed to bring about the parole of Donald L. Lewis, then a prisoner; and accusations brought by the same two prisoners of "questionable conduct" on the part of two Polk County deputy sheriffs.

Polk County Attorney Clyde E. Herring ordered the probe.

"They are not being fired," the sheriff emphasized, "But are being suspended to see what the investigation shows."

William Bolds and Richard McKeehan, county jail prisoners, claim Lewis set up a fake escape plot, then revealed it to the officials in order to obtain a parole from a 15-year-prison term for larceny.

Both Kuyper and Cannon denied flatly the allegations made by Bolds and McKeehan.

Concerning the actions of Kuyper and Cannon, Herring quoted they "had seen Lewis give money to both Kuyper and Cannon in return for favors."

The suspended deputy sheriffs made these statements Wednesday: Kuyper: "It isn't true." Cannon: "Bolds is . . . deliberately lying."

"McKeehan has been a good prisoner. He never asked me for one favor, but is being influenced by Bolds."

"No Truth"

"Bolds has offered to pay me off for favors—like mailing (uncensored) letters or something. I wouldn't do him any favors. That's why he's putting the heat on me."

"None of this is the truth. I'd never bring any embarrassment on this sheriff's office."

Both deputies were appointed in 1947.

Lewis, 23, has denied the charges. He contends Bolds and McKeehan paid two jail trustees to smuggle saw blades, a knife and a gun into their cells for a planned escape.

Grand jurors heard Tuesday Sheriff Reilly, County Jailor Frank Brown, Deputy Sheriff Bernard Copley and August Busing, a county jail prisoner.

The jury has heard ten witnesses since the investigation was started last Friday.

Assistant County Attorney John Sarbaugh said the probe probably

JOHN M. ESTES, JR.

John Melvin Estes, Jr., was graduated recently from Kansas City's College of Mortuary Science and has returned home to await the Iowa State board examinations in January. He will be eligible after the exams, to begin his apprenticeship with his father at the Estes and Son funeral home.

Young Estes, North High graduate and athlete, was prominent in football at Iowa university, until a freak playground accident during a summer vacation period, left him partially paralyzed. During his long period of convalescence and his courageous efforts to walk again, he was awarded the Olympian club's annual honor given to the outstanding athlete of the year.

Longer Life Span Poses Big Problem for Industry

If industry continues its present retirement practices, it will be faced with a seriously depleted labor pool and top heavy pension costs.

This opinion was expressed by Dr. S. Charles Franco, associate medical director of the Consolidated Edison Company of New York. Dr. Franco spoke before the Section on Preventive and Industrial Medicine and Public Health at the annual meeting of the American Medical Association.

He cited the increase in life expectancy since the turn of the century. The number of people age 65 and over has quadrupled whereas the population has only doubled, he pointed out.

"Today, one out of 12 persons is over 65 years of age," he said. "By 1975, this number will soar to one out of every nine persons. The gap between retirement and death now stands at 8 1/2 years, about double the length in 1900. Under the present trend it will have tripled by 1975."

Unless industrial retirement policies are changed, Dr. Franco said, the individual worker will be faced with increased years of inactivity and with a drastically reduced income, under conditions which are psychologically and physically degenerative.

"The fact is widely recognized and accepted that it is not a worker's chronological age which necessitates his retirement at age 65, but rather the physical disabilities which normally accompany advanced age," he added. "Our aim, then, should be to free workers, as much as possible, from these disabilities."

He urged rehabilitation of workers of any age who are chronically disabled by such medical conditions as heart disease, hemiplegia, arthritis and tuberculosis so that their remaining physical capacity may be used and their working life-span lengthened.

Admits He Set Store on Fire

An 18-year-old youth held at county jail on burglary charges has admitted starting a $5,000 fire at a grocery store here last June.

City Fire Marshal Wayne Ulm said he filed an arson charge in municipal court late Tuesday against James K. Gross, whose address was given as 932 Fifteenth street.

We Assume That Younger Child Will Outgrow Childish Habits

We generally suppose that delinquency begins in the teen age. We either do not see the signs of delinquency in the behavior of younger children or we assume that the younger child will outgrow his childish habits.

Tim did outgrow his childish habits. When Tim was ten he was quiet and well behaved. He did average work at school. But every night Tim hurried through supper and went outdoors to play. Winter and summer, daylight or dark, he spent his evenings riding around the block on his bicycle or poking about as boys will do. His parents required him to come in at 9 o'clock and felt they had done their whole duty.

At 12 years, Tim still went out on the street. He had nothing to do at home. No stamp collection, no airplanes to build, no interest in reading.

At 16, he was loafing around the down-town hang outs, still with nothing to do. His parents were concerned by this time, but it was too late. Arguing did no good. He no longer came home at 9 o'clock.

At 17 the crash came. Tim committed a serious crime. He is in Eldora Training School today.

Tim's evening habits at 10 years seemed important and they were harmless at first. But his parents could not look into the future and see his habits growing into delinquency.

The schools offered good recreation programs in clubs, band, athletics. The Scouts offered the companionship and activities which a boy needs. But Tim's parents did not guide him

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank the Rev. and Mrs. L. L. Barnes, Rev. and Mrs. C. A. Record and members of their churches and friends for lovely flowers and kindnesses during my stay in Mercy hospital and my convalescence at home.

into these programs. They did not understand their value. They did not see Tim's need.

Modern parents have to help their children find suitable things to do—for there are so many undesirable things for them to do. The child's delinquency may begin in the parents' ignorance of his needs. The teen-ager's delinquency often begins in his childhood.

Government's New Baby Book Is Out

Washington.—Publication of the ninth edition of Infant Care, the Government's baby book and its best seller, was announced this week by Dr. Martha M. Eliot, chief of the Children's Bureau, Federal Security Agency.

Sometimes called the "mother bible," Infant Care has been published by the Children's Bureau since 1914 and has grown to a distribution of more than 28,000,000 copies. It has been translated into 8 languages. The Government Printing Office, which sells Infant Care at 20 cents per copy, has become accustomed through much use, to request for it from people who ask simply for "the book."

This popular bulletin has undergone major changes since it was first published in 1914. During its lifetime, advances in medicine, science, and in what we know about the emotional development of children have altered much of the philosophy which the book carries.

The Iowan also touched upon public and private housing, the status of the armed services today, equal employment opportunities, youth work.

Had Tears

"I wish you could have seen the expressions on the faces of our people as they watched the parade of buses. The Atlantans wiped tears from their eyes as if to say, 'thank God, I've lived to see this day,'" Mrs. Morris observed.

"Twenty years ago in Atlanta, when the NAACP met there, lynching was discussed but at this convention you only heard the word two or three times.

"The convention was concerned with the abolition of segregation in all phases of life," Mrs. Morris noted. She told of the awarding of the Spingarn medal to Mrs. Mabel Stauffer for her years of work in the integration of Negro nurses throughout the hospitals of the country.

Mrs. Morris, chairman of the Ike Small wards committee, told of the awarding of the Ike Smalls trophy to the Tuskegee NAACP branch for the increasing of their membership from 148 to 900 last year.

Other highlights of her report informed of a young white Mississippian who is working for civil rights in his state.

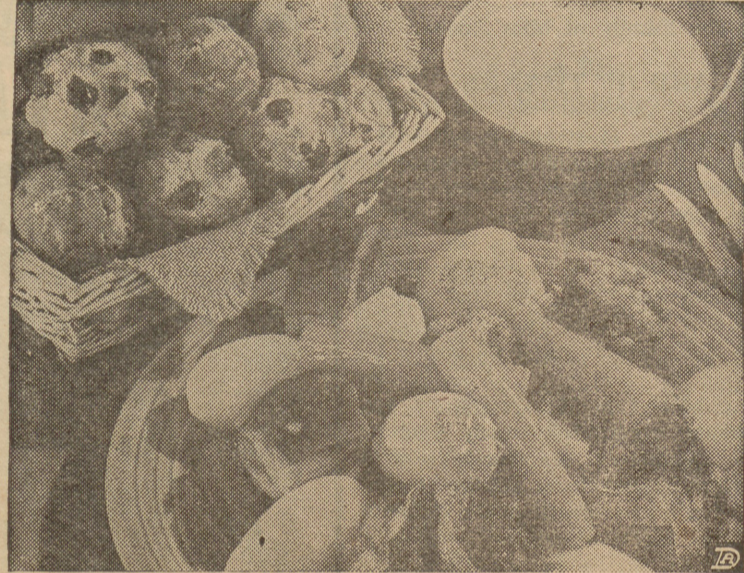

A. P. Trotter, chairman of the Des Moines branch's membership drive, reported a total of 960 memberships raised in their spring drive. He said the campaign will continue until the quota of 1,000 has been reached. Leland Ahern, program chairman, presided. Rev. G. A. Singleton, announced that "this may be my last meeting as president of this branch." Recently elected editor of the AME Review, he will be returning to Philadelphia, Pa.

Other participants on the program were: Rev. Harry Shiffler, and Rev. J. I. Thomas.

Swedish Boiled Beef

Out of the ordinary is this Swedish version of a thrifty boiled dinner.

Much of Swedish meat cookery is done in a large covered pan on the top of the range. A glance at a collection of recipes for Swedish meat dishes is enough to tell you that these world-renowned cooks have indeed mastered the art of simmering the less-expensive cuts of meat. Clever cooking and successful seasoning are the keys to their success.

For culinary success in your own home, key a few menus to Swedish Boiled Beef this fall and winter. Serve it with a taste-tempting Horse-Radish Sauce. To carry out the Swedish custom of serving a tart fruit accompaniment bake a batch of Cranberry Muffins. Bring them to the table hot from the oven and have plenty of sweet margarine on hand for spreading.

SWEDISH BOILED BEEF

- 2 to 2 1/2 pounds chuck or brisket beef
- 2 cups boiling water
- 4 pieces celery
- 1 tablespoon salt
- 4 to 6 whole allspice
- 3 to 6 medium-sized potatoes
- 3 to 6 onions
- 10 to 12 carrots

Wipe meat and place in kettle. Barely cover with boiling water; bring again to boiling point. Add celery, salt and allspice; reduce heat to a gentle simmer and cook 2 to 3 hours or until barely tender.

Add potatoes, onions and carrots and cook until vegetables are done. Arrange on hot platter. Serve with Horse-Radish Sauce. Yield: 5 to 6 servings.

HORSE-RADISH SAUCE

- 1/4 cup fortified margarine
- 2 tablespoons enriched flour
- 1 cup meat stock
- 2 to 3 tablespoons grated horse-radish
- 1 cup milk
- Pepper
- Salt

Melt margarine; add flour and stir until well blended. Pour in stock and milk gradually while stirring and cook slowly 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Season with salt and pepper. Put in grated horse-radish when ready to serve. Do not cook sauce after adding horse-radish or it will taste bitter. Yield: About 2 cups sauce.

Plans were made for a Halloween party to be given at Crescent Beauty School.

PERSONAL TOUCH

By MARIE ROSS

Driving from Ft. Knox, Ky., in search through many cities of a place for his family to live before he leaves next month for Korea, Lieut. Richard M. Lee of Washington, D. C., with his wife and two small children, had a streak of good fortune when they arrived in Des Moines late Friday evening.

Their car pulled up to the curb at a downtown corner where I was waiting for a bus and Mrs. Lee leaned out of the window and asked how to get to "a colored drug store."

"When we get into a new city, we always look for a colored drug store and find it easier in getting a place to stay. We sometimes make contact with doctors and dentists who have gone to Howard university in Washington," Lieutenant Lee explained.

When they expressed their desire for a place to stop for a couple of days while they looked the city over for something to rent like a home,—there was that same old problem of wondering where to go.

I thought a moment and then suggested that the Lees make room for me in their car and I would try to find them a place. We headed for the home of a very obliging couple, the William C. Browns, 1162 13th street, who have taken in many a stranger and a visitor, since they left the former Blue Triangle Branch YWCA, (now the home of the Crescent Beauty School) where they were housekeepers, when I first came to Des Moines and lived at the YWCA.

Since that time and all during the war years when the WACS and their relatives were on frequent searches for places in town for the week end, all the USO needed to do was to phone the Browns for housing accommodations. But, Friday night, there was no time for phoning—so we drove up to the Browns' home. Mrs. Brown was smiling when she admitted the visitors to her home. She wanted to say no—because a classmate of hers had just phoned from Omaha stating that she was coming down Saturday night.

When Mrs. Lee brought in her three-month-old baby who had been riding in a tiny crib in the back of their car, for weeks while they searched for a home. The Browns said "sure, we'll make a place for you."

The Lees were very happy and thankful and their six-year-old daughter commented that she knew they would have "good luck" because she dropped a penny in the Mississippi river as they crossed it earlier that day.

Saturday, the Lees went about town looking for a home or an apartment to rent. They made some contacts with the veterans housing project at Ft. Des Moines.

Sunday morning the Lee family worshipped at St. Paul AME church and their infant was "blessed" by the pastor, Rev. G. A. Singleton, as he welcomed the strangers to the city and the church.

Monday, the Lee family was moving into an unfurnished three-room apartment out at the Ft. Des Moines housing unit.

"Of course, we will have to wait until our furniture arrives from Kentucky—and in the meantime, we'll make out with a couple of cots, a hot plate, and necessary things—but we are very happy and thankful to have found a home here," Mrs. Lee commented for the family. Their address is 712-F Shannon Street, Des Moines 15, Ia.

Ran into Mrs. Christine Martin early Monday morning who was downtown shopping. She had just received a surprise holiday from her work at the new statehouse building, which was damaged early Monday when a broken water pipe flooded the new five-million-dollar state building.

Damages caused by the water, which spread over five floors of the six-story building, were placed at anywhere from $25,000 to $200,000.

A CHALLENGE TO DECENT GOVERNMENT IN DES MOINES

For years, the word has circulated around Des Moines that no Negro would get on the fire department as long as a certain fireman remained on the force.

In view of the fact that some Negroes have passed the examination for patrolman and are on the force the policy of the police department is somewhat different except that no Negro officer has been promoted during these 35 years.

In April, two Negro applicants took the civil service examination for the position of patrolman and passed their written tests with flying colors.

It has been rumored that the Negro "quota" in the police department is full and the men will not be appointed; that these men's education is such that once appointed they might pass the examination for promotion.

If these facts are correct, and the developments certainly bear them out, some group is deliberately violating the spirit and intent of the civil service law.

It is apparent that while the people in Des Moines were asleep a few tricky people have fooled a gullible legislature into amending the law setting up a pension board in each department which uses its position to pass those they want and deny those they don't want.

The Bystander is acquainted with a lot of men who have served on the Des Moines civil service commission over the years; it is acquainted with several men who have served on the pension boards many of whom it has held in high esteem.

During the past few months much has been heard about eliminating graft in the police department. With this program the Bystander fully agrees. But what about eliminating the rotten discrimination which exists there also?

It is important that these boys be given what they have earned but more important that the rotten system be stopped now so that its whorly head shall not rise up to plague other applicants in the future.

The city manager form of government was voted in Des Moines because decent people grew sick and tired of a government which became a disgrace to the city.

However, this problem has not been attacked in spite of the fact that it strikes at the very foundation of good government. And with these two fine young men as examples, the council would be neglectful in the performance of its duty if the practice was not wiped out once and for all.

far more reprehensible and does much to break down good morals in government which seems to exist in the Des Moines city hall as well in Kansas City and Washington.

Drop Charges

"Dropping of the charges against Mr. Leighton makes this indictment no less a travesty on justice and no less an effort by the Cook County Grand Jury to enforce residential segregation by criminal prosecution.

Grand Jury Appointed

Wednesday U. S. District Judge John P. Barnes ordered the impaneling of a special federal grand jury to investigate the riots and appointed a special prosecutor for the federal government.

At the request of the criminal Division of the Department of Justice, Judge Barnes also ordered the postponement of the civil suit for damages filed by the NAACP on behalf of the Clarks, as well as the suit charging Cicero officials with contempt for violation of Judge Barnes' order to protect the Clarks' right to move into their Cicero apartment.

Pegler Smear

"In Pegler's book an inalienable right seems to be that of lynching, denial of the right to work, play and live on the same terms as other citizens and to help build democracy by proving to the rest of the world that justice and fair play are the rule instead of the exception in America.

"As to Pegler's threat to 'look into the NAACP,' we welcome is provided he is truthful and honest, which we seriously doubt he will be. But we will be ready for any smears or distortions of the truth which he may attempt."

CLUTURE RULE HIT

SEE FRONT PAGE the G.O.P. was now working to have it changed. Sen. Wherry, unable to appear because of illness, has introduced a resolution calling for cloture on a two-thirds vote of senators present and voting in a given attack on the filibuster.

Sen. John Stennis (D., Miss.) and Sen. A. Willis Robertson (D., Va.), opposed the change and proposed retention of the present rule as a "barrier against pressure groups."

HEALTH FOR ALL

Diabetes

All human ills are more easily treated when they are discovered early. That is why the advice that everyone have a medical examination including a chest X-ray at least once a year cannot be repeated too often.

It is estimated that hundreds of thousands of people in this country have undetected diabetes. And diabetes which is allowed to progress untreated can ruin a person's health and cause serious attacks of unconsciousness, or coma, any one of which may result in sudden death.

Diabetes results when the gland known as the pancreas fails to perform its function properly. In a well person, the pancreas provides a substance called insulin which helps the body convert the sugar content of the diet into the warmth and energy necessary for the body's existence.

With diabetes, however, the sugar goes into the bloodstream or leaves the body in urine. The abnormal loss of sugar makes the diabetic hungry and thirsty, but despite his appetite, he is usually underweight because the body cannot benefit fully from the food eaten.

Although some children have diabetes, the disease usually develops many people lose a great deal of weight between the ages of 40 and 60. While weight once diabetes takes hold, the disease seems to strike most frequently among the overweight.

Basic in the treatment of diabetes is a regulated diet and, where necessary, injections of insulin (taken from the pancreas of healthy animals). The doctor will also advise the diabetic to take his exercise in moderation, because the needs of the body must be kept in balance.

SPORTS

By ALLEN ASHBY

We watched a rather interesting ball game Saturday as Iowa sailed over Pittsburgh. This guy, Laurence Williams, is quite a runner. Never stops moving his feet, turns and cuts at full speed when he gets one step ahead of his opponent.

Bernie Bennett is about as cool a customer as one will see. Made some teeth-jarring tackles and got up just as if he were getting up from the dinner table. Doesn't seem to hurry but nearly always turns up at the right spot.

Don Commack is a hard driving runner after the manner of Paul DeVan, expect that he isn't as big as DeVan and doesn't get the revarsating results that Paul does. His catch of a touchdown pass beat anything we ever saw. The guy had been hit by an opponent and slammed into an official. The opponent went one way, the official another and Commack's head and feet changed places while he was in the air.

Mike Pidy is a jarring, vicious defensive player who plays for keeps all the time. Pittsburgh had a couple of Negroes who were in there. Ford, a hard tackling defensive quarter and Epps a shifty driving fullback and line backer let folks know they were there.

It was quite a ball game. Would like to see Michigan this week. The Wolverines are the only Big Ten team we have never seen.

Johnny Bright continues to grind out yards and set a new career gaining mark with each yard. Everyone knows how he literally ran over a good Detroit team last week. We have heard a lot of comment about a picture in the morning paper showing up a Detroit player landing a right hook on John's jaw that the paper said hurt his toe.

But we have argued that football is a game of contact. The prime object is to knock people down. Well you can't do that sort of thing for an hour without somebody getting riled up enough to close a hand that the rules say must be open when it is slung. We sort of suspect that Johnny can take care

THE WILD, WILD WIND

Hear the song of the wild, wild wind, and the call of the geese on high. See the streaming vees, thru the barren trees, as off to the south they fly . . . You would like to go as the wild geese go, to the lands where the palm trees sway. Away from the cold, and the ice and snow, where the sun shines warm each day. That's the siren call, that affects us all, for our earth-bound souls hate the winters role. When the summer wanes and the leaves they fall, bringing frigid months that are winters dole. when we hear the song of the wind on high, then we yearn for a sunny tropic land. When that cold, keen skirl splits the winter sky, then the trade winds call from a coral strand. The hopes we hold that we soon shall be, . . . Where they wear a smile when the ships come in.
