Missouri Valley Conference Hears Bright Case; Presents Protest to A & M Officials

Kansas City, Mo.—The Missouri Valley conference still had a hot potato on its hands Sunday—the Johnny Bright case—after an 8-hour session by a special 5-man fact-finding committee.

Drake university had charged that Bright, the nation's leading ground gainer for two and a half seasons—covering twenty-three games—was deliberately knocked out by Wilbanks Smith, Oklahoma Aggie tackle in the October 20 game at Stillwater, Okla., which the Aggies won, 27-14.

"Bright was struck four times by No. 72 (Smith) and each time on plays where Bright had handed off the ball to another back and was completely out of the play," Coach Warren Gaer said.

No Penalties Called.

No penalties were called while Bright was in the game, Drake officials contended.

Bright was injured early in the game and Drake representatives protested that the Negro star was the victim of vicious, malicious and intentional attacks.

Oklahoma A. and M. deferred defense until it had time to study the Drake report and confer with its own athletic council and the president of the college.

The special committee will meet here in a week or ten days and then will report its findings, without recommendation, to the full board of conference faculty representatives. There is no precedent to cover the situation, and nothing in the league's rules to solve the problem.

To Meet Here Later

Although Henry Iba, athletic director and basketball coach; J. B. Whitworth, football coach, and Dean C. H.

McElroy, faculty representative, sat in with the committee for a lengthy session, the Aggies still had a wedge. Dr. George Small, University of Tulsa, said the group would meet again to hear the Oklahoma rebuttal.

The special committee was composed of Dr. Small, chairman; Dr. Franklin Stovall, University of Houston; Dr. Lloyd McKinney, University of Wichita; Phil Becker, Bradley University, and Artie Eilers, St. Louis, league commissioner, ex-officio member.

After the session, Oklahoma A. and M. officials had "no comment." On the other hand, Drake officials invited newspapermen in for a viewing of the game movies. The plays in question were run in slow motion and repeated.

Jack McClelland, Drake's athletic director, said the school had presented all its facts to the committee. The evidence included game movies, newspaper (Des Moines Register) sequence photographs and "other evidence."

With McClelland were Warren Gaer, head football coach at Drake, and Prof. Frank Gardner, faculty representative. They spent two and a half hours with the committee in the morning.

A Statement by Eilers.

After the session Commissioner Eilers handled the following statement to the newspaper men:

Rising Racial and Political Tension in South Africa Is Warning by Social Scientist

New York.—A warning of the serious and possibly tragic consequences of the rising racial and political tensions in South Africa is sounded by Alan Paton, distinguished South African author and social scientist, in a study released this week by the Phelps-Stokes Fund and the Public Affairs Committee.

"Except for the conflict between the Soviet Union under its Marzian leaders and freedom-loving peoples, there is no world problem more difficult and more potentially explosive than that involving the non-European population in the Union of South Africa," declares Dr. Anson Phelps Stokes, President Emeritus of the Fund, in an introduction to Paton's dramatic report.

Unforgettable Picture

Mr. Paton gives an unforgettable picture of the conflict and tragedy which marks life in South Africa in his report which is issued as a 25-cent pamphlet by the Public Affairs Committee, 22 East 38th Street, New York. He shows how the present crisis has grown out of the sharply divergent historical backgrounds of the Afrikaners of Dutch descent and the South Africans of English descent and its tragic effect on the normal and natural aspirations of the native population for an opportunity for the development of their own gifts and powers.

This crisis has been accentuated,

Mr. Paton believes, by a series of drastic actions recently taken by the Afrikaner government of Premier Malan. These include passage of a Groups Areas Act which lays the foundations for a rigid system of territorial and residential segregation, the establishment of a separate roll of which voters to elect white representatives to an all-white Parliament, and the provision of grants to welfare organizations on the condition that mixed meetings be discontinued.

Nation Rocked

Meanwhile, Mr. Paton declares, the "whole nation has been rocked to its foundation" by an economic revolution that is in some ways more powerful than its political upheaval. As a result of the growth of industry and mining, millions of Africans have been drawn to the cities and other millions work on white men's farms. The impact of urban dwelling upon the native population has been shattering. Crime, prostitution, vagrancy and other evils virtually unknown in tribal society have become a fact of life.

Booker Washington Birthplace, Va.—One of the phases in five-point program of the Booker T. Washington Birthplace Memorial is agricultural training. Cotton is sold by the truckload. Farm Superintendent Will Bascomb points out the high grade sample of cotton to the Memorial's president, S. J. Phillips. The 50 bales produced by the Memorial brought an average of 35 cents per pound. (P.H. Polk Photo).

South's First Unsegregated Elementary Schools Are in Operation at Army Post

The following news story, by Allen Alexander of the Associated Press, appeared in the Charleston, S. C., News and Courier and the Richmond, Va., Times Dispatch of October 14, 1951:

"UNSEGREGATED" GRADE SCHOOL IS OPERATED AT FORT BRAGG
"UNSEGREGATED GRADE SCHOOL IS OPERATED AT FORT BRAGG

"Fort Bragg, N. C.—Quietly and without fanfare, what are believed to be the South's first unsegregated elementary schools are operating on this huge Army post.

"An artillery post with about 40,000 soldiers, Fort Bragg has two elementary schools for children of post personnel. Total enrollment is 1,175 white students and 33 Negro. The post's 67 high school children, none of them Negro, attend nearby Fayetteville High School.

"Several days before school began Sept. 6 Fort Bragg parents learned their schools would be unsegregated. And that one of the schools' 43 teachers would be a Negro. The Negro teacher has 25 kindergarten children. All but one are white. (See Page TWO)

Widow of Harvey Ingham Dies at 80

Rites for Mrs. Harvey Ingham were held Thursday morning at Plymouth Congregational church.

Mrs. Ingham, 80, suffered a fatal heart attack Sunday evening while driving her car in West Des Moines near the Clover Hills Golf course. She was the widow of the former editor of The Des Moines Register and Tribune.

Mrs. Ingham, who lived alone at Hotel Commodore, had not been ill and was quite active up to the time of her death.

Interested in charitable and community organizations, Mrs. Ingham served at one time on the board of the Des Moines Associated Charities, a private relief group. She also served on the board of the Negro Community Center.

Mrs. Ingham came of a family associated with the early history of Des Moines. She was the former Nellie Hepburn, daughter of J. Addison Hepburn, who came to Des Moines in 1854 and ran a dry goods store here.

Mrs. Ingham is survived by two sons, Harvey, Jr., and William of LaCanada, Cal.; one brother George Hepburn, Des Moines; ten grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Community Survey Made By Urban League to Get Decent Homes for Workers

New York.—"Equitable provision for eligible families of all races without discrimination," is part of the language of a resolution passed recently by the Housing Authority of the City of Pasco, Washington.

The resolution, a direct result of a community survey conducted by the League is the country's oldest and only interracial service agency working for equal economic opportunity.

The town's population has been mushroomed by the establishment in the Pasco-Kennewick-Richland area of the Hanford Works of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Survey Held

The survey of economic and social conditions were conducted by Dr. Warren M. Banner, director of the League's Department of Research and Community projects at the request of a tri-cities committee of civic leaders, who were concerned about the social problems arising out of over-taxed community facilities.

Dr. Banner spent January and February, 1951, making a careful examination of housing, health, education, recreation and group work, juvenile delinquency and crime, the church, Negro enterprises, race relations, social agencies, the Atomic Energy Commission, and General Electric Company (the principle contractor). His report brought to light severe racial discrimination in the Tri-City area in housing and employment and made specific recommendations for correcting these conditions.

Uniform Pattern

"That the Pasco Housing Authority follow a uniform practice in assigning tenants to units as they are eligible for vacancies, without regard to their race," was the recommendation which has borne fruit in Resolution No. 114, adopted by the Housing Authority.

Dr. Banner also recommended that private industries and labor unions which have not accepted Negro workers "be urged to review their policy and practices from the point of view of full utilization of available manpower and also to bring their practices into thorough accordance with the state fair employment practices law."

He further advised adult education projects with the cooperation of the Board of Education, and health and community clean-up projects organized by Negro leaders.

Chicago's Drop In Unemployment Laid To Employment Situation

Chicago, Ill.—The improved economic conditions of the past 10 years have lessened racial and religious differences here. This was the opinion expressed Monday by Guenther Baumgart, administrative assistant of the Chicago Assn. of Commerce and Industry.

He spoke at a meeting of the 15th Annual Institute on Human Relations, sponsored by the National conference of Christian and Jews at 32 W. Randolph.

Baumgart said the rapid rise of employment in the city, has caused many employers to lay stress on qualifications for the job rather than on non-occupational characteristics. In so doing, they have found it "good business," he added.

More jobs and higher earnings have decreased aggravation caused by economic competition, he said.

Baumgart praised employers and employer associations for their "quiet and consistent work" to improve human relations in the community.

Ray Robinson Threatens to Quit Runyon Fund Work in Protest Against Stork Club

New York, N. Y.—World's middleweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson threatened to resign from participation in the Damon Runyon Cancer Fund activities as a protest against the discourteous and discriminatory treatment reportedly received by Josephine Baker at the Stork Club here Oct. 16. Robinson blasted anti-Negro discrimination in a strong speech at a reception in the Hotel Theresa following presentation of the 1951 Pal Blade Sports Award.

Robinson told a cheering audience that he was disturbed and angry over the snub administered to Miss Baker at the Stork Club. The club is owned by Sherman Billingsley who Robinson said was a member of the Runyon Fund Committee. The middleweight champion said he had just returned from a fund-raising trip to Boston where he succeeded in raising over $60,000 to be contributed to the Runyon Fund for Cancer research.

"We are doing what we can to wipe out the disease cancer," Robinson said, "but we must also realize that there is another kind of cancer right here in America." He said he was referring to the kind of un-American discrimination practiced by the Stork Club management. Robinson said he was going to confer with Walter Winchell, chairman of the Runyon Fund, who was present in the Stork Club when the incident occurred, and make a full investigation of what happened. "If necessary I will resign from the Runyon Fund," he said.

Josephine Baker threatened to picket the Stork Club following an embarrassing experience there last Tuesday night when she taken there as guest of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Rico. Rico, a French citizen, is the star of the Broadway hit musical, "South Pacific."

Miss Baker ordered a shrimp cocktail and a steak, but the food was not forthcoming until Rico had produced (See Page TWO)

"Mrs. Mildred Poole, director of education on the past, said she had only one complaint after announcement the schools would completely abolish segregation.

"An Officer's wife tearfully phoned me," Mrs. Poole said, "and said her husband had forbidden her to send their daughter to school with Negroes. He was going to send her back home with the child."

"Mrs. Poole said she told the woman, 'I hope the child won't look back 25 years from now and be ashamed to say you wouldn't let her go to school with these children. She heard no more of the matter. 'For all I know,' she said, 'the child is attending one of our schools.'"

"Post authorities report no other complaints.
"Brig. Gen. Pearson Menoher, deputy post commander, said 'we haven't had any reactions yet."

"The school children hardly have time to learn each others names but the post already abounds with tales of spontaneous, unaffected friendship sprung up in the school yard.

Ask Parents' Aid In Church School Work

The necessity of parents and the church school co-operation was stressed Sunday in the children's division of the Polk county church school workers one-day session at Capitol Hill Christian church.

Sponsored by the Polk County religious education council, the group considered both adult and children's work. Prof. J. W. Moore of Drake university conducted the session for adult teachers and Mrs. Jeanne Morris, chairman of the children's division, was in charge of the juvenile study, which included a panel discussion.

Participants brought out that parents must be sufficiently interested to see that their children reach Sunday school on time; that they should visit the school and attend all church school meetings, become acquainted with the teacher of their child's class and find out what she is trying to do for the child.

On the other hand, the panel said, the church school should "advertise," through letters and pamphlets, so that parents can keep abreast of its program and methods.

The St. Paul AME church's rhythmic choir participated in the Polk County Sunday School Workers Council at Capitol Hill church.

USO Concerned with Moral And Spiritual Welfare of Members of Military Forces

New York.—With 4 million Americans, many of them teen-agers, expected to be in uniform during 1952, organizations and individuals concerned with the moral and spiritual welfare of members of the Armed Forces once again are channeling their efforts through the familiar services of USO.

The new USO (United Service Organizations, Inc.), which came into being early this year at the request of the Department of Defense, is not a "wartime" agency nor is it a "peacetime" agency. It is an agency designed to give the people of America a means of serving spiritual, welfare, educational, social and recreational needs of men and women in uniform as long as world conditions dictate a large military force and as long as young Americans must spend part of their growing-up period in the service of their country.

take the evening off, USO stands ready to help.

Specialized Work

Through specialized work of USO-Travelers Aid and through efforts of USO clubs, USO is doing all it can to combat poor housing conditions for servicemen's families. Volunteers scour the areas surrounding military concentrations, finding every available house, apartment or spare room for service families at fair rentals. In areas of worst need, trained USO-Travelers Aid caseworkers assist families with special problems.

Arriving in a strange city, service personnel find USO at their service, through Travelers Aid information centers with the answer to questions ranging from simple ones like a bunk for the night to serious problems calling for the careful assistance of trained caseworkers.

And in the lonely places of the world . . . the isolated outposts, the overseas garrisons and the service hospitals . . . USO, through Camp Shows, bring sparkling entertainment, including top-name stars, to break the monotony and to remind our men and women in uniform that we back home appreciate what they are doing for us.

Skills

Combining the skills and the experience of seven member agencies—the Young Men's Christian Association, the National Catholic Community Service, the National Jewish Welfare Board, the Young Women's Christian Association, the Salvation Army, the National Travelers Aid Association and Camp Shows, Inc.—USO already is serving men and women in uniform in all parts of the world through nearly 200 clubs, lounges and information centers, and through Camp Shows units carrying topflight entertainment to faroff places and to lonely hospital wards.

Traditionally, USO clubs provide "a home away from home" in small towns overladen by military population and in large cities which service personnel throng on weekends. USO clubs, directed by trained professionals but with much of the working strength as well as the spirit of hospitality coming from volunteers, provide friendly, comfortable surroundings in which to spend off-duty time and a chance to keep a wholesome contact with civilian community life.

But USO is more than a recreational program, even though dances and parties and picnics are a tremendous moral boost for young service personnel far away from home. With fifty percent of today's service personnel married, the USO club in many communities is a family center—a combination living room, dining room and nursery for servicemen's families living in single rooms, in trailers, sometimes even in huts, gables and shacks of every description. Whether the need is for a sewing machine, or a place to cook a hot meal, or someone to watch the children while mother and father

PERSONAL TOUCH

The lucky army lieutenant and his family, the Richard M. Lees, from Ft. Knox, Ky., who breezed into town over two weeks ago, looking for a home to rent, after a vainless search through cities along the way, were settled comfortably last week end in one of the spacious three-room apartments at the Ft. Des Moines Housing project. Their furniture, government transported, arrived two days sooner than scheduled and caught the Lees in the midst of painting and papering their new home.

Their phone service had been connected and even a baby-sitter for their three-month-old son, Ronald, had been found.

"Now, that the family is settled, I wouldn't mind staying in Des Moines," the officer who saw five years of military service in World War II, said. Recalled to duty, he left Des Moines Monday afternoon to report Nov. 1 in Pittsburgh, Calif., for an overseas assignment in Korea.

In the meantime, Mrs. Lee will be busy with their infant son and their six-year-old daughter, Gretta, is a first grade pupil, who will be having much fun with new playmates.

"You didn't mention that I have moved," Mrs. Lucinda Flummer whispered to me at church last week. She is now residing at 1157 Eleventh street, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Benning.

And, speaking of moving, another couple is in the midst of getting their new home redecorated. They are Dr. and Mrs. S. J. Williamson, now of 1417 Center, who have purchased one of the apartment buildings from Mrs. Nellie Esters, of the La Marguerita hotel. Dr. Williamson is a staff member of the mental hygiene unit of Veterans Administration here.

"A few words for your 'Personal Touch' column, if you should so desire," wrote John W. Gaines, from the state penitentiary at Ft. Madison. "To all of the kind people whose visit we enjoyed so very much last Emancipation Day (August 4), let me say this:

"In our struggle for equality and justice, the one most important rule that we should observe is that of 'brotherhood'—the feeling within our hearts of a desire to lend a helping hand to each other, not necessarily one of finance, but rather one of love and consideration—thoughts of each other's welfare.

"In every effort we make to help a brother we contribute much to our own cause. The most wonderful of all repeatedly called our attention to this fact, but most pointedly, He spoke of it in the Book of St. Matthew, chapter 25, verses 31 to 36.

"I have been incarcerated here since September 1945 and it is my first time to enter in any such place. I was sentenced to fifty years. With just a little of the 'brotherhood' and 'helping hand,' I'm sure that I could once again become a worthwhile, responsible citizen, with a complete new outlook towards society.

"The time that I've spent here has changed my attitude, for the better, even though such a sentence is clearly a gross miscarriage of justice, easily perceived by anyone who would care enough to investigate.

"We should never forget this quotation: 'To err is but human; to forgive is divine.'

"I wish to thank you for your time and space and assure you that I always enjoy to the utmost, the Bystander, and especially your column."

response course I am now taking. It is called 'The Scripture Truth Course' out of Chicago, Ill., from the Moody Bible institute. It consists of fifty examinations and twelve lessons to the exam. I could be wrong, but I have one book containing twenty-sons to each exam and there is one more to come.

"And, I am making dollies out of rayon thread, all shapes, forms and colors. I think they are pretty. And my job also consists of dealing with many colors. For eight years I am an upholster and now I am the sample man. Now, don't say I might become color blind for I like this job. I have to deal with 32 original colors consisting of six alternate colors and each one having a color number.

"As of now, I am rehearsing for the show in which I am participating, come this November starting the 11th to the 17th. So you can see I am a busy little bee."

A GOOD CANDIDATE; WORTH SUPPORTING

Last week Lieutenant Governor W. H. Nicholas of Mason City announced that he would seek the Republican nomination for governor at the primaries in June, 1952.

A successful business man, Lieut. Gov. Nicholas makes friends wherever he goes. And this accounts for his remarkable victory in the primaries last year.

He will make a splendid candidate for his record is such that his supporters need make no apologies for him.

GET AT THE RIGHT SOURCE OF TROUBLE

In the past few months, much has been said and written about the evils of college and professional sports. Some go to the length to say the evils far outweigh the good and thus sports should be abolished in the schools.

If sports were good in the schools—and they were so considered—forty years ago, they are good now. A great many people complain that the churches have gone to the dogs; some go the extent that they feel that churches should be abolished. But it is not the church but the people in them. If the Christian religion was good two thousand years ago—it has not changed—it is good today.

Recently, the editor of the Kansas City Call has been writing a series of articles lambasting some ministers and bishops of the AME church. He realizes that the AME church is a great organization but some ministers and bishops have misused their office and the people to the great disadvantage and reputation of the church.

Much criticism about sports arises out of the unwillingness upon the part of those in charge to put down dishonesty, unsportsmanlike conduct and fraud when they began to show up. A splendid example is the effort of a great many people to make heroes out of those cadets at West Point caught cheating in exams. Students caught stealing under similar circumstances, are dealt with severely by their schools and nothing done to glorify them as was the case with the boys from West Point.

The Missouri Valley Conference has a problem in its lap which if not settled in a sportsmanlike basis, will do much to lower the level of college sports and give the opposition more opportunity to justify the criticism they make.

It is quite evident that sufficient proof has been submitted to proper authorities which, if taken seriously, would justify the exclusion of Johnnie Bright's assailant from further competition in college sports. And if Oklahoma A & M fails to do this, they should be excluded from the Missouri Valley Conference.

It is hoped that the officials will take a firm stand and see that flagrant violations of the rules of sports are dealt with promptly. And it has been these failures in the past to require strict compliance with rules that have brought sports in disrepute. Drake University cannot afford to lay down on the job.

FOOLISH PARTY LEADERSHIP

Guy Gabrielson, chairman of the Republican National Committee, has an obsession to the theory that voters in the south will flock to a candidate his party nominates in order to defeat President Truman.

The Bystander has often said that generally speaking the fellow who goes out on the theory that he can get electoral votes in the south for Republican party, gets into trouble. And it looks as if Mr. Gabrielson is no exception to the rule.

These fellows who seek to break the solid south point to a few states which went for Hoover in 1928. But they forget that that support came as a result of religious hate for Al Smith and not any liking for Hoover. And if the Republicans expect to rely on this kind of support to win an election again they are going to be a minority party for years to come.

Drake protest and submitted the complaint to Oklahoma A. and M. authorities. Oklahoma A. and M. has asked for the privilege of studying the Drake protest and making a formal statement to the committee. The committee granted this request and will meet again when Oklahoma A. and M. submits its reply.

Dr. Small indicated that a meeting of the full faculty committee will be called as soon after the Aggie reply as possible.

Coach Gaer of Drake said he wasn't sure which "blow" broke Bright's

"I do know," he said, "that Johnny was dazed after the first play."

Bright, Gaer said, operated in nine offensive plays. The Drake quarterback tossed a touchdown pass after he had been lowered the first time. Then, with about eight minutes elapsed in the first quarter, he was helped off the field by his mates.

The Drake mentor said that "after Bright left the game, Smith never charged into our quarterback again, and our other Negro boys (three) were not roughed at any time."

Director McClelland said he had raised a question about the assignment of officials last August, but that he got no where.

Officials Not in Doubt

McClelland explained that he did not question the ability of the arbiters, but had doubts as to "the advisability of having all four from the same section."

The referee was Spike Leonard, Duncan, Ok.; Ed Dubie, Sand Springs, Ok.; Art Hodges, Wichita, Kas., and Harold Matthews, Kilgore, Tex.

Dr. Small indicated that the Oklahoma A. and M. reply might be in the hands of the fact-finding committee by next Saturday. He pointed out that the next regularly scheduled Missouri Valley faculty meeting was set for January 6 in Cincinnati in connection with the N.C.A.A. session. An earlier convocation is expected.

Jaw Is Still Wired

Ciach Gaer said that while Bright's jaw still is wired, and he is living on a liquid diet, the quarterback probably will see some action against Great Lakes at Des Moines Saturday.

The meeting Sunday was held at the Hotel Muehlebach.

DUROCHER WORRIED OVER LOSING MAYS

Santa Monica, Calif.—(CNS)—Leo Durocher, though having already received the accolade of Manager of the Year, is a much worried manager this week. His star outfielder, Willie Mays, may be inducted in the army and that has Leo upset already.

Resting up more from his recent victories, Leo has now begun to figure out what to do if Willie goes. "There are lots of things I can do about center field and lots of things I'd rather not do. I can always move Whitey Lockman back to center, but I don't imagine I'd do that. And of course, I could put Bobby Thompson back there—although I'd like to leave him at third."

There's one person Leo felt sure he would NOT move to center field and that is Irvin. "Off hand I'd say Irvin can't handle center. I'd leave him in left," Leo replied.

When asked if he would cook up a deal for a centerfielder, Leo answered "You have to give up too much to get a centerfielder—a good one. They'd want a Maglie, or a Jansen, and I can't do anything like that."

Leo is hoping that he fill Willie's place the same way he got Willie—the Giant Farm System. "Understand I haven't had time to give this much thought. I don't even know if we have a kid in the farm system who is ready to play center field for us. I didn't get a chance to talk things over with Hubbell—farm director—before I left New York. But I'll be back on Nov. 25 or 26 and I'll sit down with Carl and thrash the whole thing out with him."

come so prevalent to cause wide spread concern.

Basically, the existing "situation is far more tragic for the Afrikaner Nationalist than for the English-speaking South African," Mr. Paton suggests. "Although both know no other home, this is true in a different sense for the Afrikaner. In this I feel for him painfully and deeply," Mr. Paton declares, and "that is why I never use hurtful language in giving any account of Nationalist policies. But the world will take no account of his fierce devotion to the great brooding subcontinent, nor to my compassion."

While recognizing that the subject peoples of the world are on the move, Mr. Paton hesitates to predict that the conflict between them and the white Nationalists will inevitably end in disaster.

"Maybe external pressures will become so great and compelling that white South Africa will have to relax its intransigence," he suggests. Or possibly the Nationalist's "will-to-survival, confronted by a new world, will adapt itself."

Coach Gaer of Drake said he wasn't sure which "blow" broke Bright's

HEALTH FOR ALL

Cleanliness for Health and Good Looks

Not everyone who is scrupulously clean is necessarily attractive or good-looking. But it is impossible to be attractive without keeping ourselves clean. At the same time, personal cleanliness is one of the basic rules of sound health.

Keeping the skin clean with baths and showers makes a person look and feel fresher than if he neglected washing. Using soap and water regularly means that oils secreted by the skin and dried perspiration on its surface are removed before the mixture becomes rancid and gives off an unpleasant odor. In addition, while soap and water are no guarantees against skin infection, externally caused blemishes are less likely to develop on a skin that is kept clean.

Dirty hands and fingernails, besides being unsightly, can be breeders of harmful germs which carry disease. Many of us have habits or mannerisms whereby we put hands or fingertips on or into the mouth, directly introducing germs which may be harmful into the body. Without overdoing it, it is wise to wash one's hands and fingernails frequently during the day, particularly before eating or handling food and after using the toilet.

While good styling is also necessary for attractive hair, here again cleanliness is important to one's "crowning glory." Dust, grime, smoke, and odors have a tendency to cling to hair. Regular shampooing will keep the hair fragrant, shiny, and generally in good condition. Daily brushing of the hair between shampoos will remove surface dirt and help prevent dandruff.

Stained or uncared-for teeth can ruin the appearance of an otherwise attractive person. The teeth can be kept clean if they are properly brushed at least twice a day, particularly after eating. Seeing the dentist as often as he thinks advisable is as important as cleanliness to sound, attractive teeth. In addition to treating or warding off tooth decay and gum disease, the doctor can advise his patient how to brush his teeth properly and how to keep them free of unsightly stains.

To look and feel his best, a person should also make sure to get plenty of sleep, enough of the right kinds of food daily, and see his doctor at least once a year for a complete physical examination.

The rules of personal hygiene are also the rules of good health and an attractive appearance.

This column is sponsored in the interest of better health, by Polk County Tuberculosis and Health Association.

There is a determined drive underway to take some of the deliberate roughness out of football, though how it will be done, we don't know. All of these incidents like Bright's and there are many of them this year are being brought to bear to put pressure on the rule makers. Maybe, it will work.

Last Saturday we watched a gallant Drake team battle its heart out in an effort to win one without Bright. Big John sat on the sidelines and wished he were in there. The guy would sit a while, walk a while and turn and say something to the coach. We have an idea of what he must have felt. But probably because he sat that one out, he will be able to finish out the season. The other Negroes, Eddington, Johnson, and Robinson would have given their to have brought this one in.

Iowa really missed Mike Riley on defense last Saturday. But they are glad he is back. Someone told us that if this guy Stearns gets a chance, he will become the regular Hawkeye quarterback. Saturday may be it.

Bright Loses Yardage Lead

San Francisco, Cal.—Fleet-footed Ollie Matson, University of San Francisco all-America candidate, raced into the lead for the national collegiate rushing title Friday night while pacing his team to a 26-7 victory over San Diego Naval center.

A crowd of 5,500 fans saw the 6-foot 2-inch, 203-pound fullback carry the ball 29 times for a new total of 249 yards.

It put him ahead of Drake's Johnny Bright, who has compiled 821 yards in six games. Matson now has 1,051 in six.

Sometimes we think our white folks are the most stupid people on earth. They seem to feel that they and that they alone have cornered all the sense in the world and all other people are fools. God save them from their own foolish folly. —Carolina (Durham, N. C.) Times

Foreign Students in South

You read in last week's issue of this newspaper about the insults some of the dark-skinned foreign exchange students at Duke University have experienced in Durham. You will probably be amazed and amused at the antics of Duke University officials to indoctrinate these non-white students in the mores of American democracy.

We inform you that the Duke officials will succeed. They will sell the foreign colored people on the idea that democracy in this country does not include Negroes, although they will not so state it. The nonwhite students at Duke will have their heads spinning for the next few days in trying to work out and understand the white man's democracy.

They will learn. Don't worry about that. Soon and very soon you will see dark-skinned students from Egypt, India and other countries who will be as American in their attitudes toward Negroes as a Mississippi ignorant white man. You won't beat our white folks when it comes to teaching foreigners how to become "Americans" on the race question.

The dark-skinned foreigners at Duke probably don't know it yet, and they may never know it if they have to be told by Duke instructors, that Negro blood, brawn and sweat built the university in which they are now so gracefully accepted as students and which so heartlessly refuses dark-skinned native Americans as students. They will need to know that there are Negroes now living in Durham who once worked in the tobacco factories, the foundation of the Duke millions for less than $2 per week.

They will then probably have a secret distrust for the white man's idea of democracy that will never be expressed while they are students at Duke. It may be expressed, how-who had lost his razor-sharp reflexes and blinding hand speed. Hope we are wrong but Joe seems to be in the early stages of punchiness. Just our idea.

Bobby Carew local lightweight, has decided to give boxing one more serious whirl. If he has any luck and we hope he does, he will carve out, maybe, a real career.

You—and the SCRAP METAL EMERGENCY

ANSWERS every farmer should have to questions about scrap iron and steel

Q. Why is iron and steel scrap a matter of importance to farmers?

A. Steel for our Country's defense program and civilian economy is being produced at the highest annual rate ever . . . and this will be greatly increased in 1952. Farm machinery and equipment needs must come from this over-all supply. As steel production increases the need for scrap increases.

Q. How does scrap figure in the production of steel?

A. One pound of scrap is needed to make two pounds of steel.

Q. Is scrap getting scarce?

A. Yes, the supply of scrap at the steel mills and foundries is not increasing fast enough to meet the needs of expanding steel production. Yet, there are millions of tons of idle iron and steel scrap, in small amounts, on farms throughout the country.

Q. What if the needed scrap isn't obtained?

A. That will mean a serious loss of steel production . . . fewer products will be made of steel. It will mean more shortages of civilian products. Defense needs come first.

Q. Why not use pig iron instead of scrap?

A. Every ton of scrap conserves approximately 2 tons of iron ore, 1 ton of coal, nearly 1/2 ton of limestone—to say nothing of transportation facilities. Besides, there are not enough blast furnaces to produce the iron needed to maintain production.

Q. How can more scrap be furnished?

A. By everybody pitching in—as we always do in every emergency—and searching out all possible sources of scrap. Manufacturers of all kinds of products are conducting scrap drives. Old ships are being salvaged . . . scrap is being obtained from countless sources including farms.

Q. What is farm scrap?

A. It is any worn out, obsolete, unrepairable equipment, tools or other objects made of metal. It may be resting and rusting in fence corners, in the fields, the barnyard or the tool shed.

Q. What should be done with farm scrap?

A. See that every bit of scrap gets to the scrap dealer located nearest to you. He will break it up into sizes used by the steel mills and foundries. He'll classify the metals then ship the scrap in carload lots. If you do not know the name of your local scrap dealer, consult your local implement dealer for this information.

Q. What else can I do about farm scrap?

A. Support the scrap drive organized in your locality. Work with your local Scrap Mobilization Committee in getting the scrap started back to the steel mills and foundries through the local scrap dealer.

You'll be helping your country—and yourself!
