Warrant Officer Going Back To Japan

Spending a 30-day furlough here before leaving May 1 to return to Japan and Korea is Warrant Officer James A. Peters and his wife, who arrived recently to visit his mother and relatives, Mrs. Sadie Peters and family at 1449 Buchanan street.

The Peters motored here from Ft. Sill, Okla., where he had been, for the past three and one half years, a specialist in army personnel administration.

In the army for a 30-year-period before he can retire, Warrant Officer Peters first entered military service March 7, 1941, when he became a part of the Ninth Cavalry which then was at Fort Riley Kas. From there he went to a tank destroyers center at Fort Hood, Texas.

In 1943 he became a warrant officer, joined the 92nd division at Fort Huachuca, Ariz., went to Europe and arrived in Italy, just after the Anzio beachhead.

An adjutant of a field artillery unit which was stationed at Pietrasanta, Italy, located near the resort city of Viareggio, the Iowan said he became fond of Italian life, learned to speak the language and remained there until 1946, when he came back to the States.

From February until June 1946, Peters remained in Des Moines, then re-enlisted as a sergeant and was sent to Ft. Benning, Ga.

Dismissed As Forewoman In Costello Trial

New York—(CNS)—In the second case the Government has proceeded against racketeer, Frank Costello, the possibility of a mistrial was created when two members of the original jury were fired from the original panel for making "untrue" statements to the court.

Forewoman fired by presiding Judge Sylvester J. Ryan was Mrs. Helen Mason, of 9 West 99th street. She was dismissed along with jury member Julius A. Fox, textile worker. Mrs. Mason told reporters that Judge Ryan had told her that she was being approached and offered a $250 bribe. Her comment to this was, "It's ridiculous! The whole thing's a mess."

The bespectacled Negro woman was the original forewoman in the first Costello trial wherein the juror was deadlocked for 23½ hours. After Mrs. Mason's dismissal, the court proceeded with the new members to try Costello on charges of contempt of the U. S. Senate. However, the dismissal move leaves loophole for a mistrial to be declared.

AFRICA BIG GAME FILM LECTURE NEXT FRIDAY

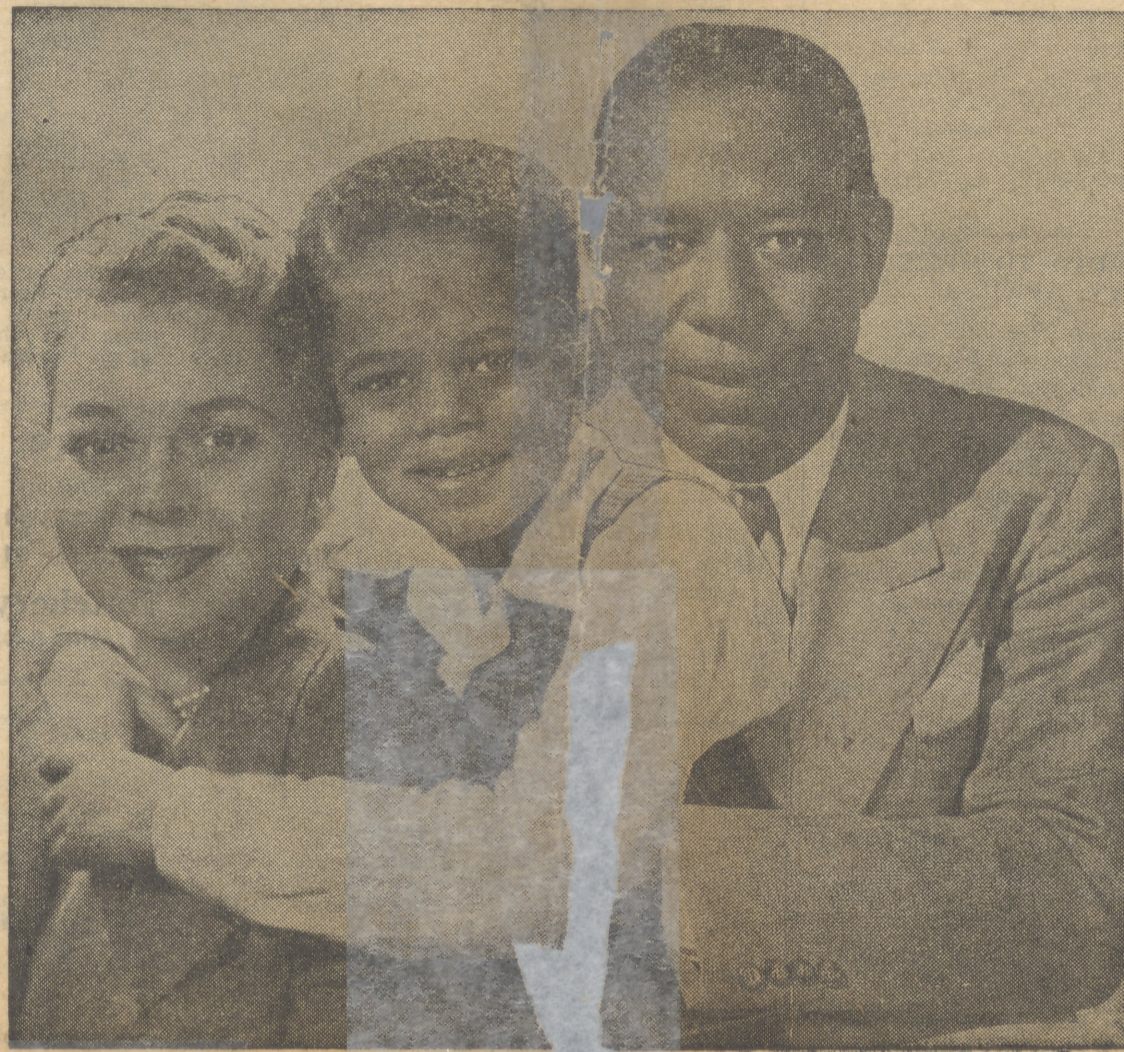

Wild animals are the cast of "Passport to Safariland," a film lecture which will climax and conclude the Travel and Adventure Film lecture series conducted by the Department of Adult Education. It will be presented Friday, April 18, 8 p.m., at Hoyt Sherman auditorium.

After having enjoyed being treated as a human being in Italy, the soldier said he did not like the racial customs and prejudices that exist in Georgia. From there he was sent to Korea in June of 1947, with occupation troops, the 95th Engineers Battalion, which was stationed at Taejon.

While in Korea, then, he had an opportunity to visit in many of the homes. "Natives did not seem to be suffering as they lived in their straw-thatched huts, with an abundance of game, rice paddies and crops."

He returned to the States in De-

Mr. and Mrs. NAACP Junior Are Life Members

Chicago, Ill.—This happy family could easily be named Mr. and Mrs. NAACP and NAACP Jr. in real life, however, it is the family of Walter L. Lowe, Chicago insurance broker and counsellor. Pictured above are Mrs. Lois Lowe, Walter

Jr., better known as "Buster" and as a true insurance man, Lowe explained the purchase as follows: "This is our investment to insure complete economic, social and political freedom for colored people in America."—(ANP) said the detective office and the county attorney office agreed "that Winston acted in self defense" when he stabbed Bailey to death with a sword Tuesday night, April 1.

December, 1948, was sent to Fort Sill, Okla., and stationed with an all-Negro army unit.

"There's still no integration of units at Ft. Sill," he commented, adding that "lot of men who came there in integrated outfits became bitter when they were immediately separated to Negro units."

Mrs. Peters, who is spending her first visit in Des Moines, is the former Luella Adams of Ft. Worth, Texas. If her husband is stationed in Japan, she wants to join him there.

First Decision in Drive To Destroy Segregation In Grade and High School

New York.—The decision of Chancellor Collins J. Seitz of the Delaware Court of Chancery opening the way to the admission of Negro school children to "white" elementary and high schools in a Wilmington suburb "is the first real victory in our campaign to destroy segregation of American pupils in elementary and high schools," Thurgood Marshall, NAACP special counsel, said upon reviewing the decision.

In his forthright decision, handed down on April 1, Chancellor Seitz based his opinion upon the demonstrable inequalities existing between the facilities afforded Negro pupils and those available to white children. However, he stated unequivocally: "I believe the 'separate but equal' doctrine in education should be rejected, but I also believe its rejection must come from" the United States Supreme Court.

Experts Testify
Arguing the case on behalf of Negro school children and their parents in the Court of Chancery last October, NAACP attorneys Louis L. Redding of Wilmington and Jack Greenberg of New York asked for judicial rejection of the "separate but equal" doctrine established by a U.S. Supreme decision in 1896, and since used as the chief legal prop to segregation.

In support of their contention, the NAACP lawyers presented testimony by an imposing array of experts in the fields of psychiatry, education, sociology and anthropology. These witnesses testified that segregation damages the child's capacity to benefit by education. On the basis of this testimony, Redding and Greenberg sought a decision declaring segregation in itself discrimination and accordingly unconstitutional.

Chancellor Seitz agreed in his decision that "state-imposed segregation in education itself results in the Negro children, as a class, receiving educational opportunities which are substantially inferior to those available to white children similarly situated." He further stated as a fact that segregation "creates a mental health problem in many Negro children."

Railway Company Restores Discontinued Lines; To Set Up Zones, Transfer Charges

In a special session here last Friday, the Des Moines Railway Co., and the city council reached agreement for restoration of most abandoned bus lines, dismissal of the city's suit against the transit system and establishment of zone fares and transfer charges.

The council voted preliminary approval of an agreement that:

Three of five bus lines discontinued Jan. 21 will be restored by 12:01 a.m., Apr. 20.

Service discontinued Jan. 21 on two other lines, now operated on a limited basis, will be re-established by Apr. 20.

A 5-cent additional fare for all except two lines will be established at the same time for transportation from any point in one zone beyond that zone's limits.

The present $2 weekly pass will be continued, with a pass holder paying the 5-cent zone fare on going from one zone into another.

The railway agreed that "it will in the future abandon the operation of any line or segment thereof upon SEE PAGE SIX

Prominent Detroit Church Woman to Stand Trial on 13-Count Fraud Indictment

Ask Congress to Probe Bombings of Homes in U. S. In Lieu of Polish Horrors

New York.—William R. Hudgins, New York business executive, this week asked Congress how it could ignore the bombings of Negro homes in seven states of the United States.

Mr. Hudgins' reference was to the investigation which a House Committee is making a fix responsibility for the massacre of over 1,000 Polish officers in the Katyn Forest near Smolensk, Poland. The committee began with an appropriation of $20,000, and last week was granted an additional $65,000 to go to Europe to collect more evidence.

Better Way

In his opinion to members of Congress, the civic-minded executive estimated that the total cost of the investigation will probably reach $100,000 before it is completed, and added:

"It seems sensible to me—and I believe to most reasonable people—that there is a better way of expending this sum than by investigating an incident more than 10 years old and over 4,000 miles away on foreign soil.

"The vicious practice of bombing the homes of Negro citizens," he continued, "is a lot more repugnant to American sensibilities and ideology—or at least should be. Moreover, the seven states of Florida, Georgia, Alabama, Texas, North Carolina, Illinois and California are a lot nearer, dearer and familiar to most Americans than the Katyn Forest of Poland."

Mr. Hudgins assumed in his letter that the only benefits that will be derived from the House probe will be to establish a historical fact and provide "grist for the American propaganda mill."

He asserted that it is both an historical as well as present-day fact that Negroes have been and are being ruthlessly intimidated in spite of the protection guaranteed under

White Family Gets Bomb Threat Letter in California

Los Angeles, Cal.—The obscene, psychopathic urge which led some unknown person, or persons, to bomb the home of teacher-war veteran William Bailey and to threaten other Negro families continued to spread this week with the police reporting a new twist to the pattern, a threat made by Negroes to bomb Mrs. Laurie Berg, white Leimert Park housewife and mother.

Mrs. Berg, who lives at 4142 5th avenue, a block on which 8 Negro families reside, received the threat by registered special delivery, last Thursday afternoon, she told police.

The letter was a rambling, ugly diatribe which accused Mrs. Berg both of mistreating Negroes and of being a Red.

Although it bore no signature other than that of "a True American," it was framed so as to give the impression that the writer was a Negro and spoke for Negroes.

"This is just a warning to you Red morons if you don't stop mistreating our people you'll find a bomb or 2 under your house," it led off.

Accused

The letter also accused Mrs. Berg's son of "having a Red record at UCLA," and conveyed some knowledge of Mrs. Berg's private affairs with a reference to her son being unable to "get into any school in this state, and he won't get to practice either."

EASTER ??

"Easter," said the Resurrection of Jesus Christ.
"Easter" is the name given to the day of spring, and late in the afternoon of Christ. The resurrection of Jesus suffering and death is called the "Passover," according to the scriptures. See 1 Cor. 5:7: "For even Christ our Passover is sacrificed for us." Christ is the lamb spoken of in Ex. 12:5 to 12, "The Lord's Passover."
Let us study the subject according to the word of God. "Come now, let us reason together with the Lord;" Isa. 1:18.

Point 1. It is reasonable that any event could be celebrated, as in March and sometime in April, and the most convenient time. For instance, the resurrection was celebrated on the 4th of July it could be celebrated in June or August and never the same day. The same is true of birthdays and other events. People wake up!

Point 2. Jesus would not rise the morning of no day, as He died before sunset. See St. John 19:31 to 34; also Deut. 21:22-23. He would rise before sunset, three days and three nights later. Therefore, He could not rise in any morning.

Jesus said no sign would be given but the sign of the Prophet Jonah; Matt. 12:40. Jonah was in the belly of the whale, three days and three nights. Jesus would be in the heart of the earth three days and three nights, which is seventy-two hours. Try to get seventy-two hours from Friday afternoon until Sunday morning.

According to Mark 8:31-9:31, the three days and three nights are counted after He is killed.
In view of all these Scriptural facts, how could He rise Sunday or any other morning? Who gave authority for the Sunday Resurrection? Who? Not Christ.

We shall trace this event from the prophecy to the actual fulfillment of both Crucifixion and Resurrection, according to the scriptures, step by step.
Isaiah 53rd chapter is the prophecy of Jesus suffering and death. Psalms records some of the things which happened to Him; Ps. 22:1-7-8-17-18. Daniel gives the time of His Crucifixion; Dan. 9:27. Johan gives the sign; Johan 1:17. Jesus confirms all four prophecies by fulfilling them both in word and deed.

To prove when Jesus was crucified, count back three days and three nights or seventy-two hours from the time He arose, which was before the end of the Sabbath (seventh day). Because the two Marys came to the sepulchre in the end of the Sabbath and the angel said: "He is not here;" Matt. 28:1-6.

Jesus was crucified the third hour, Mark 15:25; which is nine o'clock, morning. There was darkness over the earth from the sixth hour (noon) until the ninth hour, (three o'clock) Mark 15:33 to 38. Read this record and see it is true.

"Search the Scriptures; for in them ye think ye have eternal life; and they are they which testify of me," St. John 5:39 (This is Jesus speaking). Every one search the Scriptures, not just the preachers search them. There are false preachers and teachers said 2nd Peter 2:1 to 4. Jesus says let no man deceive you; Matt. 23:4-23-24. Jesus also says: "But in vain they do worship me teaching for doctrines, the commandments of men;" Matt. 15:9- "And they be blind leaders of the blind;" Matt. 15:14.

According to the Scriptures, they that preach or teach the Friday Crucifixion, and the Sunday Resurrection are in this class.
Since the Scriptures prove Jesus did not rise Easter Sunday morning, there must be given another reason for keeping Sunday as a rest day, instead of the day God blessed and sanctified and told men to remember: The Sabbath; Ex. 20:8; Mark 2:27-28; 4:4 to 11. "If Jesus had given them rest would He not afterward have spoken of another day?" (Heb. 4-8).

No where in the Scriptures is man commanded to keep the first day of the week as the Sabbath of rest. Read the Apostles, Prophets or Jesus. Follow Jesus while on earth, follow Paul after Jesus ascended. They all kept the Sabbath, 7th day. God is not excusing anyone today; Acts 17:30, and He is no respecter of persons; Rom. 2:11-12-13.

Everyone shall give account of himself to God; Rom. 14:12. Jesus said, "Wide is the gate, and broad is the way that leadeth to destruction, and many there be which go in there at. Because straight is the gate and narrow is the way that leadeth unto life, and few there be to find it.
In closing, remember, Daniel prophesied of Jesus Crucifixion, in the midst of the week, Dan. 9:27. Therefore the 4th day of the week would be the midst of the week.

And Matthew records, He rose before the end of the Sabbath, 7th day; Matt. 28:1; and that, "Jesus Christ died for our sins, according to the Scriptures; and that He was buried and that He rose according to the Scriptures;" Romans 15:3-4.

No one can disprove these Scriptures. Challenging any one to prove otherwise, according to the Scriptures.
Anyone, or any group, may contact the following address for further Scripture proofs on this most important subject, and also other subjects. All proved, "precept upon precept, line upon line;" Isa. 28:10-1 Thess. 5:21.

Studies will be given here or in your own home. Or meetings of any kind. Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter. Fear God and keep His commandments. For this is the whole duty of man.
For God shall bring every work into judgment, with every secret thing whether it be good, or whether it be evil. Ecc. 12:13-14. It is dangerous to add to, or take away anything from God's word; Rev. 22:18-19.

Southern Church Honors Negroes

Bartow, Fla.—Parents of Negro boys killed in the Korean war were guests at a supper given by men and women of the year-old Wildwood Baptist church here.

Following a unanimous vote of the Women's Missionary union to invite the mothers, the men of the brotherhood voted to invite the fathers. Parents of two of the three Negro soldiers who lost their lives were present and friends represented a third.

A Negro speaker on the program, Dr. O. Haven Sweet, said spiritual understanding such as that evidenced in the interracial reception would go a long way toward solving the race problem.

PERSONAL TOUCH

By MARIE ROSS

In town Monday doing a bit of Easter shopping were Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Winston of Ottumwa, Ia.

Mrs. Winston, well known coloratura soprano, is better known to music lovers by her name, Ivory Winston.

One of the Bystander's office secretaries, Margaret Steele Duke, returned from a lunch-hour Easter shopping tour about town one day this week. She was all thrilled because she had a "free" Easter bonnet. "What shop is giving away Easter hats?" asked an interested listener who was getting ready to rush out of the office door just as soon as she learned the information.

Mrs. Duke laughed and informed that "you have to have a card." "Well, where do you get the card?" The secretary paused with a grin all over her face and then remarked

Dr. A. Wayman Ward of Chicago Speaks at St. Paul Church's Eightieth Anniversary Banquet Then Crowns Miss Proctor as Queen

Among the features of the eightieth anniversary celebration of St. Paul AME church was the anniversary banquet held last Friday night when Dr. A. Wayman Ward, presiding elder of the Chicago district, was principal speaker.

Top picture shows Dr. Ward placing the crown on the head of Miss Imogene Proctor, who won title of "Miss St. Paul." The ceremony was held following the banquet address. Around her throne were other candidates who had participated in the contest for the title: (left to right) Misses Carmen Chapman and Frances Scales, and on the other side of the queen, Misses Charmaine Miller and Lola Ware.

meeting place," he talked. Mr. Miller has spent a life-time meeting people—and remembering their names has been a very important asset to the jobs he has held since his first one in Des Moines, as head waiter at the Kirkwood hotel in 1880, to his present job as messenger in Governor Beardsley's office at the state house, where he started working in 1913.

While chatting with Mr. Miller the other afternoon, he had no trouble in remembering names and dates.

"You know, I was born in slavery," Mr. Miller remarked. "In 1861, that was the year my mother used to say, 'when General Lyons was killed and General Sigel was on the run.'"

Born on a plantation in Montgomery County, Mo., Mr. Miller recalled some of his early childhood days, when near the age of five, just before Abraham Lincoln signed the Emancipation Proclamation, which freed the slaves.

"I can remember that some of the slaves took their children, some horses and mules and ran off to a place called Herman, Mo.

"I remember it was cold and rainy and we had to stay out in the corn fields—in the corn shucks. I had a little brother who took sick and died there. A big German woman would come every morning and bring us something to eat—but soon, they (slave owners) came and took us back to the plantation.

"Later, we moved to Mt. Pleasant, Ia., where I grew up around a farm. My ambition while coming up was to be a farmer—and I could have been a good one, if I had kept at it.

"But, you'd never guess what my mother wanted me to be—a minister," Mr. Miller said as he laughed.

"In my teens, I worked on a farm, went to school and on Sundays went to Sunday School as we lived in town. Sunday evenings we would go visit relatives."

Asked if there was any problem in bringing up youth then as it appears to be today and the father of one son commented that "kids were the same rascals then that they are now—but then we did not have as much time.

"We used to hoe the garden, pull weeds, spade; we always had a few chores to do. I have always worked since I have been big enough to—and around Easter time we'd start getting ready early, to have something new to wear to church."

About keeping late hours, Mr. Miller said "I was never out late at night until after I was 15 years old. I was always making it home when it got dark—first, because it was my mother's orders; and, second, because I was afraid.

"I played baseball, wrestled and boxed. I came to Des Moines a welterweight, fought Will Crockett at the Foster's Old Opera House, then at 8th and Walnut, but now the location of Foster's hotel.

"We didn't get a thing for fighting and only went four rounds. I won

"Your Sunday breakfast table can be inviting, different, attractive," says Miss Catherine Gray, Fosteria Glass consultant on correct table settings. Cut place mats from sturdy, inexpensive denim — use pinking shears so you won't have to do any sewing. Snip out a brief pocket, pin it on with big safety pins, and tuck a gay red bandana in for a napkin. You'll use these mats often for the children's lunch, meals at the backyard barbecue, any informal meal.

"Glassware makes any table sparkle," says Miss Gray. "It's wonderfully versatile, attractive with every style of china, in any kind of setting." For example, use colorful low juice glasses as breakfast egg cups, as shown in this setting. And here's a time-saving decorative hint: Peel your breakfast oranges halfway down the night before; they'll keep overnight in the refrigerator. Just before the family sits down, arrange the oranges and other breakfast fruit on summery green leaves.

but got a black eye, so when I showed up on my job as head waiter with a black eye, Mr. Boque gave me the choice of being a boxer or a head waiter, so I gave up boxing," Mr. Miller related.

He was head waiter at Kirkwood hotel for ten years; served as assistant head waiter at the Palmer House in Chicago and the Tremont Hotel in Chicago; went to Jenkins House at Red Oak, Ia., but missed the big city life, and returned to Des Moines to the Kirkwood hotel again for ten more years, then to the Savery hotel for 20 years.

He has served as district court bailiff under Judge Bradshaw; went to the Governor's office, serving four years each under Governors Clarke, Harding, Kendall, and when Hammill came in, Mr. Miller went to the historical building in the archives for 12 years and five months, he listed.

He returned to the Governor's office under George Wilson, for four years; B. B. Hickenlooper for two years; Robert Blue, four years and now, William S. Beardsley, four years.

Since his illness last year, Mr. Miller has been working half-days, from 7 a.m. to 11 a.m. He shook his head at the mention of staying home—waiting for monthly old-age pension check.

"I don't work very hard," he remarked and added that "the Governor's office is always busy—just before the legislature meets—and pretty busy before election."

KEY TO REPUBLICAN SUCCESS IN NOVEMBER

Iowa Republicans held an unusual convention last week—different because a new system of naming members of the national committee was followed; unusual because of the tug of war between the forces of General Eisenhower and Senator Taft.

Fewer Negroes were in evidence than at any convention for many years. There is a reason, of course. Negro participation in party affairs has suffered materially and unless a more intelligent approach is pursued during the coming months as the new state central committee is chosen, there seems little hope for improvement.

Delegates to the national convention seem to favor Eisenhower. Undoubtedly they take the position that Senator Taft, while an able public servant, would be difficult to elect next fall and with President Truman apparently out of the picture, the job is going to require very careful planning.

Iowa delegates must realize that undoubtedly the question of civil rights is going to play an important part in the election of any candidate, for no candidate who does not take a stalwart position in this matter is going to be able to corral the electoral votes in populace states.

Senator Taft has placed himself in a position of antagonism to civil rights. He has courted the Dixiecrats at every opportunity in spite of the fact that no Republican is going to be elected with electoral votes from the South.

The Bystander wishes to remind the Iowa delegation that it is going to run head on with this matter of civil rights at the convention and although the problem is not as acute in Iowa, although the Negro population is not large in Iowa, civil rights will play an important part in the ranks of each party.

Iowa Republicans must be reminded that they may put their party in power here, but their representatives in Congress will be members of the minority unless they elect a Republican administration. And thus it behooves Iowa to join up with the men and issues which have some chance to succeed.

STRIKES EMPHASIZE SELFISH ATTITUDES

Public officials have been calling for more production of war supplies for months and in spite of a lot of urgent pleas, the job has not gone forward in a satisfactory manner.

Now comes a series of crippling strikes which slow up production, inconvenience a lot of people and assume the attitude that the public is not to be considered. Maybe we shall eventually come to the place that compulsory settlements of disputes shall become a part of the labor management relations in this country.

Two Lines Dropped

The two lines which the agreement would not restore are the W. Forty-second street and the University avenue crosstown.

By the agreement, school pupils fares will remain at 5 cents, with no transfer or zone charge.

Lines to be restored are: E. Forty-second street and Easton boulevard; Douglas avenue to Merle Hay road; Airport line.

The agreement provides for restoration of the service discontinued to be given about four hours each morning and afternoon.

No service would be provided Sundays and holidays on the E. Forty-second-Easton and the Airport lines. Sunday and holiday service on the Douglas route is to be determined.

The Second avenue and Scott lines, which were curtailed, will continue their peak-period operations—(about 5:30 to 9:30 a.m. and 3 to 7 p.m.)

Dodger Tour May Draw 200,000; Robbie Breaking Records

Montgomery, Ala.—(CNS)—Moving through virgin territory, where folks have never seen the Dodgers play, the team now feels that it will draw over 200,000 cash customers, before the regular season opens.

For the Yankee-Dodgers game at St. Petersburg, Fla., Jackie broke both the Babe Ruth and Joe DiMaggio records with 7,759 in attendance.

In many cases segregation laws have not even been enforced. At St. Petersburg, Negroes had five sections of the grandstand but some whites sneaked in among them. And in one section which had 400 people, it was 50-50 white and colored, all mixed in.

Without disparaging the present investigation, Mr. Hudgins said he believes that an inquiry into the abridgement of guaranteed rights in the United States would have these specific advantages:

Consistency "Establish consistency between American practices and ideals; perhaps curb a vicious new trend in anti-racial violence; and begin to remove from the hands of our foes (meaning Russia) one of its most potent propaganda weapons—anti-Negro feeling in America."

Mr. Hudgins wrote his letter as chairman of the board of the Association of Trade and Commerce, an organization of small business men in New York City. HEALTH FOR ALL

Garding Against TB

While the battle against TB in this country is gradually bringing down the death rate from this disease, tuberculosis today kills more people in the United States than all other infectious diseases combined. A chronic disease easily spread from person to person, tuberculosis is a grave public health problem.

Yet tuberculosis is preventable and, while anyone can get it, no one need get it. Tuberculosis is a treacherous enemy and we have no fool-proof formula or set of rules which will guarantee an individual that he will never get the disease. But the TB germs, known as tubercle bacilli, find it harder to get a foothold and cause active disease in a person whose general health is good.

A person can maintain general health and keep body defenses high by making good health habits part of the routine of his daily life. This means eating regularly three well-balanced meals a day, dressing "for the weather," and avoiding unnecessary exposure to cold and wetting. When these wise practices become habitual, a person's body is less vulnerable to all disease-producing germs, including the tubercle bacilli.

Another way to guard against TB is, of course, to avoid close contact with those who have the disease. But this isn't easy because not everyone who has TB is in a hospital. Many people who have TB in an active form do not realize themselves that they are ill because TB has no obvious symptoms when it first strikes. So we can never be certain when we are, or have been, in contact with tuberculosis.

But there is a way we can find out and this means the formation of another sound health practice. Everyone should see his doctor at least once a year for a thorough physical checkup, including a chest X-ray. If he does this, a person can be certain he is in good health, or, if serious illness is found, that it will be detected early. The chest X-ray can detect tuberculosis in its early stages, even before apparent symptoms appear, and the earlier tuberculosis is found, the easier it is to cure.

This column is sponsored, in the interest of better health, by Polk County Tuberculosis and Health Association.

SPORTS

By ALLEN ASHBY

The track season is with us again, and we have the guys in the short pants running around in circles after each other. They have a very versatile man at Iowa named Ted Wheeler who will likely be heard from when the Hawkeyes move outdoors.

Here at Drake, Jim Ford, great sprinter of last year, Arnold Boston, high jumper and Ray Elland, are keeping the Bulldogs at least in the sub-headlines.

Among the local high schools it looks as if the law of averages or diminishing returns or something has caught up with East.

The Scarlet and Black dropped their opening three meets finishing second in the junior A. A. U., and third in the city and state high school meet. East still has the last of the Lucas family and the last of the Terrels and Atkinses. Looks as if it will be a long wait for any more guys with those names to show up the Lee Township school. Oh yes, the Murrays have been exhausted too.

At North they are singing the praises of George Brewer and Ceasar Smith. Sophomore Smith is said to have a great future if things just go partly right. Shucks, we knew the lad could run.

His dad was quite a runner although he didn't go out for track, but he used to beat a lot of the boys who were track start in his day. So you see it comes natural for the kid.

The sixty-yard dash in the city meet was a complete blackout. Brew season. Manager Charlie Dressen has sent a telegram to the former ace Dodger moundsman asking him to hurl for the Brooks at Richmond, Va., this week when the club plays there. Stationed nearby at Camp Pickett, Va., Don is seeking permission from his commanding officer.

again. The 43rd Drake classic will be April 25-26 at Drake stadium.

This year's Drake Relays promises to measure up to the fine standards of past events which have thrilled thousands of sports lovers.

Lending a boost to the 1952 Drake derby will be the fact that this is an Olympic year. Fans who attend the relays are slated to see several of the athletes who in just a few months will be battling for Olympic honors.

Drake itself has one of these—Jim Lavery, chosen as the outstanding athlete in the 1951 relays when he anchored the Bulldogs to an unprecedented triple win in the 440, 880 and mile relays.

Along with Lavery and several other standout Canadians, the relays will have an international flavor. Cirilo McSween, the Illinois U. ace, is from Panama, and Rick Heber, Arizona State Tempe javelin thrower, is from South America.

A new crop of trackmen appears on the collegiate horizon this year—athletes like Jim Golliday, the jet-propelled Northwestern U. sprinter; that none of the 8 Negro families on the block could shed any light on the matter. Mrs. Berg said that she had never had a quarrel with any of them, nor with anyone, nor given anyone cause to harass her.

Jerry Mashburn, sensational Oklahoma U. quarter-miler, and Arnold Betton, Drake's sophomore high-jumper.

No one else in the area had received a letter, officers stated, despite the fact that the writer spoke of sending six such letters to "six people in your neighborhood," apparently to inform on alleged Red activities of the Berg family.

Visiting around Iowa

by Joe Marsh

End Of The World

Folks around Fort Dodge, back in 1910, saw one of the strangest gatherings every held in Iowa.

Gypsies from all over America parked their wagons there on a high hill to await the end of the world. Someone had predicted that the end would come on May 4, 1910 . . . when the world passed through the gases of Halley's Comet.

I've often wondered why people will follow blindly when some "prophet" or agitator comes up with an idea like that . . . instead of thinking things out for themselves. In a lesser degree, we've occasionally had the same problem with a fanatical "leader" right here in our town. Such folks don't think . . . they just jump to conclusions. Their only hope for a following is to get others to go along without thinking, either. Usually their appeal is to some form of prejudice or intolerance.

Luckily, they don't get far. Because Iowa people like to think things out for themselves. And when people use their heads, there isn't much room for fanaticism.

Gone are the days when a woman had to do every bit of cooking and kitchenwork "by hand." Now she has Reddy Kilowatt to do it for her — "the Servant of the Century!" Best of all, Reddy will do half a dozen jobs at once, and do them all well! He'll not only take care of baking, cooking and food preparation but he'll lend a hand in the rest of the house, too. And everywhere he works tirelessly, efficiently. Where else could you find so helpful a servant — to work so cheaply?

Reddy — Today's Biggest Bargain! Reddy says: "Today I do a lot more for you than just light your home — important as that is! I work all the time — everywhere in the home — for you. I do the cooking, help you clean house, I give you refrigeration, bring you entertainment. There's no more drudgery with me on the job! And you get my help for a few pennies a day!"
