Democrats' New Hate Group

Suggests 'Iron Cross' for New Organization Giving 'Ammunition' to Reds

Tampa.—The State of Florida, which has been earning unfavorable headlines all over the world as a result of incidents of racial violence, recently strengthened its reputation as hate specialist with the formation of a new "voluntary organization" called "White Democrats of the South," with headquarters in Tampa.

Individuals applying for membership in the new hate group are sent a questionnaire and told they "must answer each question with an emphatic "Yes." These are the questions:

- 1. I believe in the Constitution of the United States and American Freedom.
2. I pledge with all my might to help destroy Communism and all the deceptive popular front groups who seek to destroy our country.
3. I believe in the States, Rights and Segregation of the White Race from the Colored Race according to the laws of the Southern States.
4. I will support the White Democrats of the South in their program to support White Candidates for public office and to bring to the public's attention the truth of all civil rights cases framed against white citizens and front groups.

5. I am of the White Race, over twenty-one years of age and a citizen of the United States.

Seeking Top Spot

Mrs. Ruby Hurley, Southeast regional secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, this week accused Florida of "seeking the top spot in the United States for breeding white supremacists."

In denouncing the new "White Democrats" organization, Mrs. Hurley said:

"After two World Wars in which Negroes fought as all other loyal Americans for freedom and democracy, and while they are at this moment fighting in the Korean conflict; after the killing of Mr. and Mrs. Moore in Mims, the dastardly killing of Samuel Shepherd, the bombings in Miami and crossburnings in Tampa, it is incredible that there are those in Florida who would thus continue giving ammunition to the Communists. The 'White Democrats of the South' should get an Iron Cross for it."

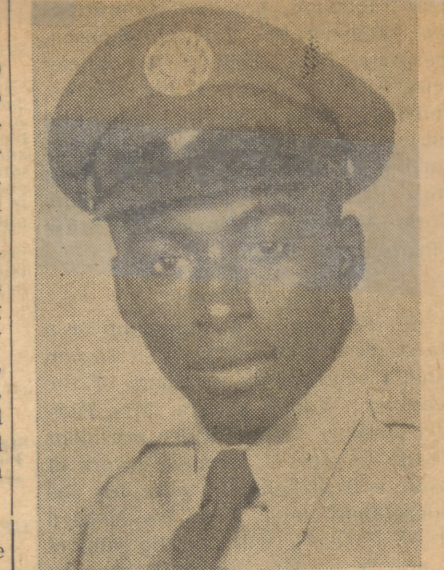

Wife 19, Fires Four Shots At Husband, 50

General Grant Shade, 50, of 830 Eleventh street, was taken to Broadlawns General hospital Tuesday morning suffering from a gunshot wound in the right shoulder. The wound is not serious, hospital attendants said.

Police said Shade's wife, Dorothy Jean, 19, signed a statement in which she said she shot him during an argument. She was held in city jail pending filing of assault charges, Detective Chief R. E. O'Brien said. O'Brien said Mrs. Shade admitted firing four shots at her husband with a .32 caliber pistol, hitting him once.

Mrs. Shade pleaded innocent before Municipal Judge Don L. Tidrick Tuesday. She was placed under a $15,000 bond and her hearing set for May 28. Shade, a former prize fighter, received a bullet wound in his back. The bullet did not enter his chest.

WAVES Get New Assignment

Two Des Moines young women who entered the services of the WAVES last February, stopped at the WAVE recruiting office here last Friday while home on 10-day boot leaves from Bainbridge, Md.

Marjorie D. L. Booker, 2810 Chicago street, leave Friday to report for duty at a naval receiving station in San Diego, Cal.

Marguerite Foster, who is stopping at the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Morrow, 1170 17th street, will report on Monday.

Booker who lamented the fact that she did not join sooner. "It has given me a new outlook on life.

"When I think of my staying around here, running an elevator—with all of the opportunities open in the WAVES," paused Miss Booker and she shook her head.

"But had it been the WAVES this how to get along on my own and not be selfish," added Miss Booker, an East High school graduate.

Returning to Des Moines with Miss Foster was WAVE Charlotte Simmons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Simmons, 1070 Sixteenth street.

Miss Dorothy Jean Dyser of 1356 E. 17th street court, who entered the WAVES with Misses Foster and Booker, was delayed completing her boot training because of illness.

Wave Simmons will leave Sunday to report for duty at a naval receiving station in Washington, D. C. Expressing her opinion of serving in the Waves, she said: "I love it."

Auditorium Denied

Mrs. Bethune was scheduled to speak on April 24 in the junior high school auditorium at a meeting sponsored by a Negro post of the American Legion. At the last minute, the use of the auditorium was denied to her on the basis of charges by Frederick L. Cartwright, head of the local Anti-Communist League, that she was listed several years ago as a member of "subversive" groups. Mrs. Bethune spoke to an overflow

NAAACP Vice President Ike Smalls Makes Plea For More Members

Receiving the check is Mrs. Adam B. Johnson, Jr., chairman of the local NAAACP membership campaign which has a quota of 1,000 members by the end of the month. Looking on (left) is William Bell, president of the Des Moines Branch of the NAAACP.

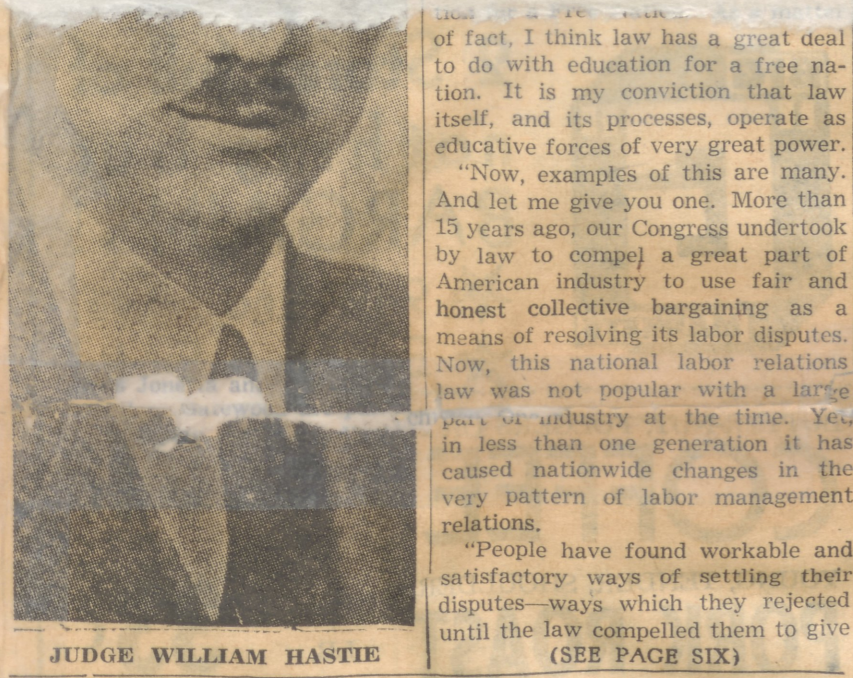

Mr. Smalls has urged all of the Iowa Branches to line-up in the nationwide membership drive so that good reports will be made at the state NAAACP conference which meets in Burlington, June 7 and 8, and the national convention in Oklahoma City.

Mrs. Georgine Morris was appointed by Mr. Smalls to present the Ike Smalls trophies at the state conference and the national.

"If possible, obtain more memberships than your quotas," Mr. Smalls urged. "The money is needed to fight the problems in the United States. Give your time and money to this great cause," is his plea (Frye Photo).

'Law Has Great Deal to Do With Education for Free Nation,' Says Judge Hastie of fact, I think law has a great deal to do with education for a free nation. It is my conviction that law itself, and its processes, operate as educative forces of very great power.

JUDGE WILLIAM HASTIE

Suggests Probe Be Made of Accuser of Mrs. M. Bethune

New York.—It would be more fitting for the Englewood, N. J., Board of Education to investigate the activities of the person who brought irresponsible charges against Mrs. Mary McLeod Bethune than to ask the distinguished Florida educator to "clear" herself, Walter White, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, asserted here this week.

Iowa NAAACP Branches In 13th Annual Conference June 7-8

The 13th Annual State Conference for the Branches of the NAAACP will convene in Burlington, Iowa, June 7 and 8. The meetings will be held in the banquet room of the Memorial auditorium.

Waitstill Sharp, chairman of the Chicago Council Against Discrimination, will be the guest speaker at the main session on Sunday, June 8. Seymour Kaplan, executive member of the Omaha, Neb., Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith, will participate in the workshop, leading a discussion on the topic "How we can educate toward a more complete democracy."

The Reverend I. E. Metcalf will lead a discussion entitled, "We are all minorities."

J. B. Morris, Jr., of Des Moines, recently voted "Outstanding Young Man of the Year," will lead a discussion on "Legal Redress, Civil Rights, Political and Legislation Action."

Sunday, June 8, the program will feature several prominent individuals of the community, also talented musical personalities.

Highlighting the mass meeting on Sunday will be the presentation of the Ike Smalls Trophy. This award is presented to the Branch doing the most outstanding work in the NAAACP during the year.

Virginia School Suit to End Segregation in Public School Goes to High Court

Washington.—The suit to end segregation in the public elementary and high schools of Prince Edward County, Virginia, is on its way to the United States Supreme Court this week as attorneys for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People led an appeal with the high court. The appeal seeks reversal of a lower court decision which refused to declare Virginia's school segregation laws unconstitutional.

The trial of this most comprehensive education suit brought thus far by NAAACP lawyers was held before a three-judge federal court in Richmond, February 22-29. In its decision, handed down on March 7, the court agreed that the segregated Negro high school was inferior to the white high schools with respect to curricula, buildings, facilities, and means of transportation, but refused to hold that Negro children could not be forced to attend the segregated school. Instead it upheld the constitutionality of segregation in the school system and ordered that the white and Negro schools be equalized.

No Equality

In their appeal, NAAACP attorneys argue that the decision was erroneous in that equal educational opportunities involve more than mere parity in physical facilities and curricula. They also require equality in every educational factor significant to the development of mind and character, the appeal states, and this kind of equality can not be had within the framework of segregation.

thus enabling Keady's helpers to offset rising operating costs and keep the price of electricity down. Yes — down the years, the average cost has become lower and lower — until today, the average family gets nearly TWICE AS MUCH electricity for its money as it did 20 years ago! That's because the more you use, the less it costs!

WHAT A WORKER! — WHAT A BARGAIN!

In the early days, electricity cost more, partly because of less efficient operating methods and partly because relatively few people used electricity and then only for lighting. But today electricity enters into almost every phase of modern living. It's one of man's greatest servants — and yet one of his cheapest! ## PERSONAL TOUCH

By MARIE ROSS

Many boys and girls in Des Moines Schools are counting the days before the doors of the public schools close again for another vacation season. Some youth are planning to take advantage of the summer school sessions; others are dreaming of vacation trips; and many are scouting around for jobs.

Looking forward to the good-old summertime is Florabell Gilmore, senior student at North high school, who would much prefer that a address her as "Flo."

"Flo" has had a very interesting school year and she is scheduled to graduate next January. She bubbles over with interest in her studies, her extra-activities and her part-time employment.

Since mid-winter she has been working evenings, part-time, at the Northwestern Bell Telephone company as a long-distance operator. Next month, when school closes, she will go on full-time, five days per week.

"Flo" is planning to save her money, though she confesses that "I have a hard time. I'm always seeing something that I need—and since I've been taking modern dancing, well, my costumes cost money, too," the 17-year-old Miss informed.

She does want to go to college to study for the career of a lawyer. But during the summertime, "Flo" is looking forward to working, dancing, playing tennis, and taking a one-day trip with her Fireside Chat Group of Willkie House, to Dubuque, Ia. She hasn't been working long enough to be eligible for a vacation, but she looked forward to two days that she will have coming.

Another 17-year-old Miss is Beverly Carson of 925 15th street. Beverly is planning to go to summer school to take more typing lessons, then she hopes to get a job the remainder of the summer, typing in some office. Beverly likes to dance, play base-

"Florentine Lace" Sets Pace for Brides

Designer Nelly de Grab, well known for her separates that are made to go together, scores again in these party team mates of Florentine Lace over taffeta. The very new skirt is slim over the hips and flares widely over the stiff crinoline at the hemline. It has an attached taffeta petticoat, and the belt goes with the skirt. Both the lace and the separates were inspired by Reed & Barton's pierced sterling silver flatware "Florentine Lace," which has set a new trend for brides and homemakers—fashions inspired by your silver pattern. The honeymoon separates were recently shown at the International Fashion show held at Atlantic City.

Commencement Week End At Drake May 23-26

NAACP To Meet Next Tuesday

All workers and captains in the membership campaign are asked to be present at the report meeting Tuesday, May 20, 7:30 p.m., at the Crocker Branch YMCA. Mrs. Adam Johnson, Jr., will preside.

Regular monthly meeting of the Des Moines branch will be Tuesday, May 27, 7:30 p.m., business meeting; 8:15 p.m. campaign reports. Officiating will be president, William L. Bell.

Mrs. Georgine C. Morris, captain of Team II was the first to go over the top with 103 members on Tuesday night. Other members of her team are Ike Smalls and F. O. Morrow.

ball, and cook cakes and cookies. She is anxious for school to end.

Phyllis Carr, 1029 17th street, stopped her cooking long enough the other evening to inform that she was really counting the days before the end of school.

During the recent extremely hot days the early part of the month, Phyllis thought life was miserable—the days were "too hot." Her fifth test, because it is history and Phyllis confessed that she is not test, because it was history and Phyllis confessed that she was not so fond of the course.

Nevertheless, just as soon as this term of school ends Phyllis is planning to start in summer school so that she will graduate next January. After that she wants a job, running an elevator or something like that, and then if time is left and all her dreams come true, Phyllis would like to go to California to visit relatives.

Added to her ability to cook meals at her home, Phyllis revealed that lately she has taken up sewing and she likes it.

Received an interesting note from Mrs. Mary Hunter in New London, Conn., who resided here at the Brown Hotel before leaving last year to go live with her daughter.

While here, Mrs. Hunter was active member of Unity Circle women of the Unitarian church, and was much interested in race relations. She mailed a copy of a Florida paper section which carried a page of Negro news, sent to her by a Florida relative.

Mrs. Hunter commented that: "It shows that there is a growing importance among Southern Negroes.

"The opening of the old National Theater in Washington, D. C., last night (May 5)—open to 'all people'. The world moves slowly but it does move although war persists," she commented.

a.m., both in the University Christian church auditorium.

Alumni Highlight Highlights of alumni activities will be the all-alumni banquet Saturday, May 24, at 6:45 p.m., at Younkens tea room.

President Henry G. Harmon of Drake will make his annual report to the alumni. H. P. Witmer, member of the class of 1917, will be toastmaster.

Classes ending in "2" and "7" will be honored this year with special reunions planned for the following groups: 1902, 1907, 1912, 1917, 1922, 1927, 1932, 1937, 1942 and 1947.

Drake's oldest organization, the 50-Year club, will open weekend festivities Friday, May 23, with its annual business and dinner meeting in the women's dormitory.

TABLE TRICKS: Decoration, Day Lunch

Patriotic note for a Decoration Day table—an antique iron bank in the shape of Independence Hall, set off by red, white and blue flowers!

To make this effective decoration, Catherine Gray, Fosteria Glass consultant on table settings, suggests that you buy carnations in red and white. Blue carnations are simple to make—just toss white carnations in a paper bag with finely powdered blue chalk. Place runners of red and blue linen or heavy paper on your table as shown. Set the bank in the middle of the table. (If you don't have a bank, substitute a cardboard cut-out or any patriotic figurine.) Arrange fresh green leaves, the colored carnations, and silver stars around the replica of Independence Hall.

Highlight your table with crystal-clear glass serving dishes, Miss Gray suggests. "The gleam of fine American-made glassware is especially appropriate for Memorial Day. It enhances every table setting, whether it be a formal dinner or the most informal of meals."

Theodosia Court Honors Mrs. Sims; Mrs. Carter Feted

Theodosia Amaranth Court No. 5 gave a tea honoring their past Royal matron, Mrs. Osceola Sims recently at the home of Mrs. Bertha Wolder. The following members from Marshalltown attended: Mesdames Helen Johnson, Evelyn Wilder, Martha Warn and Vicie Ragland. Games and conversation were the entertainment of the evening.

Mrs. Sims was presented a fountain pen from the court, by Mrs. Helen T. Carter, grand royal matron. Refreshments were served by a committee.

Mrs. Odessa Roberts, worthy grand matron of the Order of Eastern Star, and her husband and son of Davenport, Mrs. Carter, Mrs. Helen Johnson, grand secretary of R.O.E.A., Marshalltown, and Mr. and Mrs. Bishop Burt and children of Waterloo, were entertained by Esther Court No. 4 of R.O.E.A., and Adah Chapter of O.E.S., at Mason City, Ia., on April 26. A reception followed and the two matrons received gifts. W. M. Wigenton is grand worthy patron of the court and chapter; Maude M. Spencer, P.G.W.M.; Corinne Wiginton, G. C. of O.E.S.

On May 3 Eunice Court No. 3 had the G.R.M.H. Carter as its guest in Waterloo. After the meeting all were entertained at Club 64. While there Mrs. H. Carter was house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Bishop Burt and children.

THE NAACP DRIVE SHOULD SUCCEED

The annual membership drive of the Des Moines Branch, NAACP is in progress. Its quota is one thousand members and the officers hope to complete the job by June 1.

What the NAACP stands for, and has accomplished is not new to the readers of the Bystander. They get that information weekly because the association is doing things all the time and because information about what it is doing appears in these columns weekly.

It is generally conceded that the Negro has made great progress during the past decade. Opportunities to learn, to work and to serve have opened to him in every field. And while much of this progress has come about as a result of an awakening of the American people to their responsibility in a democracy, the NAACP has been in the forefront with its research, legal talent and intelligent cooperation with those who are seeking to make the bill of rights a reality for everyone.

Fortunately here in Iowa, Negroes suffer far less discrimination than in most communities. On the other hand, there is much to be done in maintaining that which has been accomplished, and to break down those barriers which remain. The local branch is in the forefront in that task.

Then, too, the NAACP takes the position, and rightly so, that as long as some Negroes are denied their rights in America the rights of all Negroes are in jeopardy. So it behooves those who enjoy a greater degree of democracy to help those who enjoy a lesser degree.

Fortunately, membership in the NAACP is open to everybody and thus that membership is represented by many white people most of whom join because they realize that it is their responsibility, too, that democracy works.

This year, a much larger number of young people is working in the drive. This is as it should be for they need to be trained in the work and the encouragement of those who have held up the hands of the organization over the years.

The Des Moines Branch has met its quota for the past several years. That record must not be broken this year for there is much to be done and it costs money to fight any battle.

General Mark Clark announces that some of the terms exacted by the Koreans for the release of General Dodd from captivity would not be met because there were made under duress. That's nothing new. All ransom commitments are made under duress.

MALAN'S POSITION MUST NOT PREVAIL

The Government of South Africa is fighting to stop the progress of its natives by passing laws which not only would segregate, but also deny them the right to vote and otherwise participate in the government.

The natives are becoming more restless. There sons and daughters are going to school and learning things. They have learned that Indonesia and India have thrown off their colonial status and are a free people. The African natives want their freedom too and freedom they will eventually have, Premier Malan and his successors to the contrary notwithstanding.

This situation is a disgrace to the so-called free nations. And while the problem may be an internal affair, its program is so offensive that decent people can't very well cooperate with a nation which pursues such a course.

Thus, the countries that are fighting the North Koreans and Communists China cannot remain aloof or justify this war in Korea and at the same time ignore what is going on in South Africa. The only difference is the job was attempted by force in Korea, the South African government by fiat.

The people of Africa and of the east will be watching the United Nations for they know the threat of Facism, as represented by Premier Malan, is equally as dangerous as Communism. And while the free nations don't profess to get into a war with every nation which poses a threat to democracy, they cannot afford to give aid and comfort to those nations that are doing the things which retard the progress of democracy. Any other position would be a travesty on justice and a lack of appreciation for those boys who have fought and died in Korea. It will be a signal to get out of Korea in that the lives of the men are being jeopardized in the interest of a government opposed to rule by and for free men.

Canada Lee, Famed Actor Dies at 45

New York, N. Y.—Canada Lee, 45, famous actor who gave up the violin to become a boxer and then made a great success on the stage, died Friday of a heart attack.

Lee, who quit the prize ring when resin injured his eye, scored his greatest stage success in "Native Son," as Calaban in Shakespeare's "The Tempest," and in the lead role in Shakespeare's "Othello."

Lee's real name was Lionel Cane-gata, but a prize fight announcer who couldn't pronounce it called him Canada Lee and the name stuck.

Lee had been preparing to go to Rome, Italy, to play in a movie, "Destiny of a Negro," and his last entertainment job was doing special monologues in a Greenwich Village night club, the Village Vanguard.

His last movie was "Cry the Beloved Country," which was released in January, 1951. Previous to that, he underwent a sympathectomy, a cutting of nerves to relieve hypertension.

His most notable stage triumph was in Richard Wright's "Native Son." In the movie, "Body and Soul," he played a boxer.

Sick Walter Winchell Loses Radio Sponsor

New York—(CNS)—With Walter Winchell still on the sick list, his radio sponsor, the Richard Hudnut division of the massive Warner-Hudnut company has already allocated the $1,000,000 he would cost them this spring and summer.

The cosmetic firm says that should Winchell's health have been okay, they would still be sponsoring him. But with him on a few weeks and off a few weeks, they have discontinued him completely and have invested the million dollars on newspaper advertising.

There are many who believe Winchell's illness to be faked because of his coming suit by Josephine Baker for $600,000 because of his defamation of her character. Should this be true, the La Baker affair will have caused him to lose a million dollar sponsor.

Law and Education

SEE FRONT PAGE these new procedures a try. Another example if you will: Military law today requires many men in the Armed Services, for the first time in their lives, to serve in units and to live in close proximity with men of different races.

"Now, all the evidence seems to be that this experience, required by law, they soon seem to regard as a natural and normal pattern of association.

Power Of Law "On the other hand, the influence of law, its educated influence, is not always thus. I suspect that the greatest distortions in human relations in America today, the most unsatisfactory of our attitudes toward each other, grew out of the fact that for several generations so many of us and our parents and our grandparents have been compelled to live as racial groups removed from and ignorant of each other, rather than as a single community.

"The power of law first compelled and then, by its insistent pressure, educated people into accepting as proper and natural the racial segregation of community life and activities. The fact that racial segregation is the law in many communities has unquestionably played a large part in causing people to think that that way of life is proper and satisfactory.

"But I believe that just as law has played a large part in educating people into a racially segregated way of life, it can play and is playing as large a part in re-educating them out of it.

Change of Law "We already have an impressive body of experience, particularly among young people on the re-education in racial attitudes which follows a change of the law. It has happened each time a segregated college has been compelled by law to open its doors to Negroes.

"The experience of the Army and Navy, already cited, has been large and illuminating on the adjustments which have occurred. The facility with which racial adjustments to new requirements have been made may mean that the enforced separation of racial groups has lain heavy on the American conscience for a long time. And when the requirement of racial segregation is removed, a suppressed sense of right exercises a very real moral compulsion—a compulsion to accept cheerfully and with good grace an unsegregated America."

HEALTH FOR ALL

The Public Health Nurse in TB Control

Nursing care of the sick dates back to early recorded history when women cleaned and dressed wounds to the best of their ability and prepared primitive "medicines" from herbs and plants for those who were ill. But skillful, invaluable nursing service as we know it today goes back only to the 1850's.

The founder of modern nursing, Florence Nightingale, born on May 12, 1820, devoted her entire life to the development and improvement of the nursing profession, hospital care, and public health. Her anniversary this week focuses attention on the unselfish work of the modern nurse who is dedicated to preventing as well as easing the sufferings of her fellow-man.

As medical science has progressed through the years, the duties and responsibilities of the nurse have grown numerous and complex. Working closely with the doctor, the nurse is today concerned with all aspects of health and illness, including the prevention and control of communicable diseases.

For example, the public health nurse plays an important role in the fight against the communicable disease, tuberculosis, in her community—in addition to numerous other duties in the interest of public health.

In the course of her visits to homes, schools, industries, and clinics, she explains facts about tuberculosis which will help the people protect themselves against the disease. Often she works with public health officers and local tuberculosis associations in seeking out those suspected of having TB and in helping sick persons take the proper steps to get prompt treatment. Where a tuberculosis patient is at home, waiting for admission to a tuberculosis hospital, the nurse gives instruction to the patient's family for his care and for the prevention of the spread of his disease.

When a diagnosis of tuberculosis is made, the nurse works with the patient's doctor to help the sick person "accept" his illness and to help him understand that the best place for him to gain back his health is in a tuberculosis hospital. Where a patient's illness means social and financial problems for the patient and his family, the nurse often works with the tuberculosis association, welfare departments, and other community agencies to ease the situation. The nurse also assists with the rehabilitation of the patient and preparations to help him become a bread-winner again, once he is well and it is safe for him to do so.

Briefly, the nurse's responsibilities in the field of TB control alone require superior intelligence, tact, understanding, and imagination over and above her technical nursing skills. Her calling is one that demands hard work, sacrifice, and selflessness, but reward is the satisfying knowledge that she is of great service to humanity.

This column is sponsored, in the interest of better health, by: Polk County Tuberculosis and Health Association.

SPORTS

BY ALLEN ASHBY

The track runners continue to monopolize the headlines. Each week Fred Lucas of East runs the hundred a tenth of a second faster. His latest is a 9.08 in the district meet last week.

Tech's Don Graves got a pair of seconds but should have won the twenty. Larry Graves ran a mile in time that gives him a chance in the state meet. Sylvester Forrester got a couple of firsts in the discus and football throw. He might win them at Ames, too.

Newton of East has a chance to place in high jump and Ceaser Smith of North may make it in the forty. We plan to be there and see who does what.

Boxing

In the recent novice meet held at the Jewish Community Center, there were a healthy sprinkling of Negro champs. Johnny Long won the middleweight crown for boys under fourteen. In this same age group, Harold Lee won the lightweight crown in an all-Willkie House final. Lee dusted Albert Ashby for his crown.

Harold Shade won the flyweight honors and Al Gatewood, former East High athlete scored a one-round knockout when he dropped Cabin Moore with a new left-hand punch, a combination hook, jab and uppercut. Never have we seen one like it. The argument now is what will Ray Robinson do to Joey Maxim light heavy champ or vice versa. Well, we argue that Ray has a better than even chance of losing. Maxim is probably as good a boxer as is the Sugar man and is bigger. That gives him quite an edge, but Ray has a slim chance of coming out on top, too, because Maxim is no puncher. Ray may be but he won't get hurt and will take a lot of dough and that is the object of the whole thing.

Maxim would probably make as much dough fighting Archie Moore, but he would probably get beat. If he didn't, he would take Ray, he would insist on the latter meeting Moore first. But such is boxing.

FROM A STAR I hear the beat of mighty wings and I spread my search afar, for the answer to celestial things, and the music from a star. Because I seek, and do not cease I know the strife I face, . . . there is no peace, no quite ease, until I find that place . . . The place I seek, I strive to find, somewhere out there in space; contains the solace for all mankind and the hope we all embrace . . . That haven of perpetual peace away from the toil and tears, . . . where harmony shall never cease; but build up through the years . . . God grant the power—this I pray, . . . to ease the fears of man . . . I speak the living word today, true brotherhood the plan . . . I praise Thee, . . . God who gave me light the words to write and say . . . inspire the many lines I write, . . . to reach some soul today . . . Deep in my heart is harmony my soul is turned to lands afar. . . I hear Thy angel symphony, . . . celestial music from a star . . . Glenn A. Gallagher.

have had the flawless Mays' defense and it has helped no end to put them in first place a few percentage points behind the Dodgers. After May 17, Willie will be lost to the Army and then there may be some new happenings to the Giants, let manager Leo Durocher tell you.

Willie saves the game, as Leo puts it. He's no hitter so far, but oh the catches he makes.

audience in a church and exorciated city authorities for bowing to the irresponsible charges against her.

In reply to an appeal by Mr. White for the city to reconsider its action, Mr. Fitzpatrick wrote the NAACP secretary that "the affair was postponed until such time as the charges . . . could be cleared up."

Mr. White responded this week by saying that "it is incredible that the

For More Fitting

"It would seem far more fitting," the NAACP official continued, "that the Board of Education investigate Mr. Cartwright's activities . . . before taking seriously any delegation made by him against so distinguished an American as Mrs. Bethune."

Mr. White suggested that the Englewood Committee "secure from the House Un-American Activities Committee, the FBI and the Department of Justice whatever information and evidence is available on Mr. Cartwright."
