NNLC Plans Simultaneous Picket Lines in Selected Areas Against Sears & Co.

Detroit, Mich.—The National Negro Labor Council Dec. 17 announced its intention to conduct simultaneous picket lines in selected areas across the country against Sears-Roebuck in protest of the claim that no Negroes are hired in any capacity other than menial by Sears-Roebuck.

In a letter release to the press and addressed to Robert E. Wood, chairman of the Board of Sears-Roebuck & Co., Inc., Coleman A. Young, NNLC executive secretary, described the convention mandate in the form of a resolution dealing with the "Jim Crowd hiring policies of Sears-Roebuck Labor Council, recently concluded in Cleveland, Ohio.

Mass Picket

One of the features of this convention was a mass picket line of 1,500 people which marched through downtown Cleveland and circled the offices of American Airlines, also in protest of the airlines' "Discriminatory hiring policies."

William R. Hood, national president of the NNLC and Recording Secretary of Ford Local 600, UAW-CIO, in describing the Sears-Roebuck Jobs Campaign, had this to say:

"The National Negro Labor Council is now entering its second year of struggle for the full freedom of the Negro people of America. In the past year, we have made great strides, and scored significant victories, toward the fulfillment of our immediate goal—100,000 jobs for Negro workers in areas of employment from which they are at present

Home From Korea For Holidays

ARMY CPL. PAUL H. JOHNSON, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry V. Johnson of 1132 Seventeenth street, arrived home last week from Korea, under the rotation plan.

A member of the 7th Infantry division, Johnson who left the country last December, enroute to Korea, served on the front lines of the Korean war until last November.

The Iowan said he was "glad to be home."

"Things weren't too bad until after Oct. 1—during the battles on Triangle Hill, when the going got tough," Corporal Johnson remarked.

His job, driving a little jeep, was to go to the front lines and pick up the injured men and bring them back to aid stations.

"Artillery and mortar fire were heavy but I managed to get by."

He will be home until Jan. 12 when he will report to Camp Carson, Colo., to complete three more months before he will be discharged.

He has been awarded the Combat Medical badge and the Bronze star for meritorious duty.

Ben Taylor, Once Slave, Dies at 114

Ben Taylor, 114, a former slave, died of pneumonia Wednesday Dec. 23, at Broadlawn General hospital. Taylor was admitted to the hospital Nov. 28.

Services were held Friday, Dec. 19, at the Mt. Olive Baptist church. Burial was in Laurel Hill cemetery.

A Confederate veteran of the civil war during which he was wounded three times, Taylor of 844 15th street, had often said he remembered his birthdate as Feb. 3, 1838, from seeing it in his master's family bible.

Born in Louisville, Ky., at the age of two years he with his mother, brother and sisters moved to Lexington, Ky. Known to his friends as "Bennie," he was reared on a plantation near Lexington.

Being rather small and active, at the age of 12, he began riding horses and developed into an expert jockey, rode at the races until the Civil war broke out in 1861 and he was compelled to enter the southern army.

In several interviews in recent years, Taylor had told of his early life, his first engagement in battle on the Cumberland river, southeast of Lexington, where a northern army was victorious in battle.

He had told about "several skirmishes" he had participated in while under the command of General

Thomas Johnson and recalled how he and his brother, John, and two brothers, John and Cumberland river.

Good Memory

His memory was good and he recalled frequent visits of the Civil War days—and remembered that after Gen. Robert E. Lee surrendered to General U. S. Grant at the Appomattox Court House, Va., April 9, 1865, he returned to Lexington.

Out of the army, he returned to the horse racing business as a trained rider.

Like American history reads, Taylor left Kent, Ky. two years later, when a man named Carens from New York, came through and brought him by Underground Railroad to Indiana, which then was a free state. They crossed the Ohio river and he and the freedman's agent separated at Jefferson, Ind., where Taylor succeeded in getting a job.

To Keokuk

Two months later he went to Keokuk, Ia., where he got a job in a printing office and became a "handy man" in any department, he had said.

Thirty years later he came to Des Moines where he worked at various occupations until old age disqualified

Supreme Court to Hear Appeal of Guam Victims

Washington.—Two Negro ex-servicemen, under sentence of death by a general court-martial, may now hope for a new trial in a civil court following a long fight to set aside the military verdict.

In response to a petition for a writ of certiorari filed on behalf of the two men by Robert L. Carter and Frank D. Reeves, attorneys for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the United States Supreme Court on December 15 decided to review the case.

The two ex-Air Force men, Robert W. Burns and Herman Dennis, Jr., were convicted of the rape-murder of a white civilian worker on the Island of Guam where they were stationed in 1948. Denied a reversal of this conviction by military authorities, NAACP counsel filed suit in the United States District Court here asking for a civil trial on the grounds that the confessions were involuntary; that the men were threatened, beaten and held incommunicado, that favorable witnesses were threatened and intimidated; and that prosecution witnesses later admitted perjury.

An appeal was taken from the District Court decision to dismiss the case as not in its jurisdiction. The United States Court of Appeals for the District dismissed the appeal. However, it established a precedent by ruling that civil courts have the right to inquire into the nature of military proceedings.

British Angry At Sugar Quitting Before Turpin Bout

London, England.—(CNS)—British sport fans were furious here that Ray Robinson had put up his gloves for keeps without meeting their favorite, Randy Turpin, a third time. Turpin and Robinson had been tentatively scheduled for June of '53. British fans were sure Randy would be the victor this time and bring the

Boarding School For Orphans Is Guttled by Fire

Stoughton, Mass.—A boarding school housing 29 orphans and underprivileged children was demolished by fire in sub-freezing temperature early Friday. One child was believed killed.

Police and officials of the Whispering Willows school identified the child only as a 14-year-old girl.

Two other children were burned seriously and a third required hospitalization because of hysteria.

Also burned seriously was Josephine Crawford, 70-year-old proprietor of the school, who was credited with arousing the sleeping children and leading many to safety.

She said she was awakened by the crackle of flames and the smoke from a room off the first floor kitchen.

She barely had time to call the fire department before arousing the children. She said the telephone line burned out as soon as she telephoned the alarm.

All the children except the possible victim were rescued or escaped in orderly fashion from the blazing two and a half story wooden structure on the outskirts of town.

him.

Ben Taylor was a charter member of Club No. 1 of the Combined Iowa Old Age Pension Organization, Inc. He was an ardent believer in "unity" and held an official position in the Mount Olive Baptist church as Deacon.

Taylor, born when Martin Van Buren was the eighth president of the United States, he had lived through the administrations of twenty-seven presidents, and was nearly on the eve of seeing the inaugural of President-Elect D. D. Eisenhower, the country's thirty-fourth president, next month.

Recommends Rigid Controls on Migrant Labor Conditions

Pittsburgh.—A legislative program proposing stringent controls on the Pennsylvania migrant labor situation was recommended here this week by representatives of sixty organizations attending an all-day conference on migrant labor sponsored by the Pennsylvania State Conference of branches of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The program endorsed by the 125 delegates includes:

1. Licensing of all migrant labor agents;
2. Setting forth conditions of employment on a state contract form;
3. Rigid enforcement of child labor laws;
4. State inspection and certification of migrant camps;
5. Licensing and inspection of vehicles used to transport migrant workers; and
6. Creation of a Migrant Labor Commission with enforcement powers conferred by the state legislature.

Herbert Hill, labor relations assistant of the NAACP, reported on shocking conditions he discovered on a personal investigation of migrant labor camps in northern and central Pennsylvania. Dr. Ira DeA Reid of Haverford College was chairman of the conference. John A. Feigal, president of the Pittsburgh Central Labor Union, AFL, and Harry Bolck, secretary of the Pennsylvania State CIO Council, pledged the full support of the organized labor movement to the campaign.

middleweight championship of the world back to the British Isles. Meanwhile, the British Boxing Board of Control has indicated that it will recognize as the winner of a bout between Turpin and Charles Humez, of France.

NAACP Will Press for Employment Legislation With Enforcement Powers

Washington.—Prospect for early consideration of FEPC legislation in the 83rd Congress appears very bright, Clarence Mitchell, director of the Washington Bureau of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said this week.

Mr. Mitchell's prediction was based on conversations with senators and representatives, as well as a pledge from Senator Robert A. Taft, who will be chairman of the Labor and Public Welfare Committee in the Senate. FEPC legislation must come before this committee.

Senator Taft advised the Bureau Director that: "I have in mind hearings on the Taft-Hartley Law as soon as we get organized, but after that I know of nothing that will take priority over the FEPC." Further discussion of the FEPC hearings will take place with Senator Taft, Mr. Mitchell said, when the senator returns to Washington.

Enforcement

In discussing the type of FEPC bill the NAACP supports, Mr. Mitchell emphasized that the Association will press for legislation with enforcement powers, although "we are aware of the fact that Senator Taft opposed enforcement in the past."

The Director pointed out that Senator Irving Ives (R., N.Y.), sponsored an FEPC with enforcement powers in the 82nd Congress with

CLARENCE MITCHELL

Senator Hubert Humphrey (D., Minn.). Both of these Senators and many other friends of FEPC in the House Senate will be fighting for this legislation, Mr. Mitchell predicted.

The NAACP official said he has no doubt that FEPC proponents have enough votes in the House and the Senate for passage. In the Senate, however, the FEPC bill will face the ire of the filibuster bloc and in the House the Rules Committee has consistently sought to bury FEPC bills.

Archie Moore Wins Decision by Wide Margin

St. Louis, Mo.—Before a roaring crowd of 12,610 in the St. Louis Arena and millions more along the coast-to-coast television beam, 36-year-old Archie Moore became the oldest light-heavyweight champion by battering Joey Maxim and winning an unanimous decision.

Ignored by one champion after another for more than five years, the "uncrowned champion" made it official Wednesday night, Dec. 17, by blasting the 30-year-old Cleveland fighter with a blistering barrage of punches from beginning to end.

The challenger, who has lost only one fight in nearly three and one-half years, poured it on in relentless fashion. Fighting out of a crouch, he whaled Maxim's body with devastating body punches that took the spring out of Maxim's legs, cut his face to ribbons, and rocked him in almost every round after the seventh.

Say People of South Will Accept School Integration If Supreme Court So Orders

New York, N. Y.—The people of the South will accept integration in the public schools, if the United States Supreme Court so orders," Dr. J. Rupert Picott, Executive Secretary of the Virginia Teachers Association declared here this week.

The Virginia educator, who is the spokesman for 6,000 teachers in his state and chairman of the Council of State Teachers Associations Officials, an organization of teachers in the 17 states from Delaware to Texas where segregation is practiced, said he based his belief on the "slowly, but growing democratic climate now becoming increasingly apparent in the region."

He granted that the "machinations" of Governor Byrnes of South Carolina and Attorney General Almond of Virginia may be serious, but he called these persons "pseudoleaders of the old, barbaric, unenlightened thought" and contended that "the mass of the folk in the New South had not been heard from."

He confessed that he did not know for what office Governor Byrnes was now running, but he said that it is apparent that Attorney General Almond of Virginia wishes to be the next Governor of his State. He added that it was his belief that "Almond was off to a poor start in this campaign."

"It is fantastic to think that South Carolina or any other state in the South can permanently give up public education. The region is too poor, the cost would be too great and the roots of public education run too deeply for such evasion of the true democratic processes in this manner," the Virginia educator said.

"Important forces have been at work for a long time to prepare the way in the South for this 'I-Day.'" (The establishment of integration in the schools) Many of these agencies are interracial in structure. Although

Two members of the university's English department, Paul Engle and Hansford Martin, will serve as co-editors of the yearly volumes which recognize and reward the country's foremost writers of short fiction. The prize story collections were founded in 1918 by the Society of Arts and Sciences of New York City as a living memorial to O. Henry, pen name of William Sydney Porter, 1862-1910.

IBC wants the two to meet in Madison Square Garden during February. Charles and Moore have met before and in all three bouts, Charles was the victor. First two were decisions in 1946 and 1947. Then in 1948, Charles earned a eighth round KO. No word yet as to whether Charles fits into Moore's schedule.

BY DELORES CALVIN New York.—(CNS)—LENNIE HAYTONS WILL NOT LIVE IN PARIS. From Hollywood, comes word from the Lennie Haytons themselves that they have no intention of moving to Paris permanently, as some rumor would have it. Mrs. Lena Horne-Hayton, simply can't understand how the rumor started for it just doesn't have any basis, she pointed out. According to Lena, Lennie is under contract to MGM and can't live outside of Hollywood. And she added, "I don't see how I could live in Europe and Lennie in Hollywood."

Sidney Poitier, the actor, co-runs about the fastest growing chain of barbecue restaurants in Harlem and nearby. No sooner had his second "Ribs in the Rough" got set up when Poitier added a third in Corona, Long about the net morning.

On the east side of town, Mrs. Dovie Robinson's sewing machine was purring up into the wee hours of the morning—as she sewed fast and furiously in her efforts to finish some handmade Christmas gifts for members of her family.

While on the west side of the city, High School Clothing Instructor Eleanor Powell, of Kansas City, Kas., spending her holidays here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Morris, brought her sewing all the way from Kansas to spend the week end at home here finishing up her gifts. One of them, she described, was a bedcover and dressing table set, made of this newly designed mattress ticking, she said.

It is one of the "very smart ideas" for dressing the bedroom, according to the household magazines.

While chatting with Miss Powell, she had a good suggestion for helping individuals to keep from forgetting the things they plan to do.

Santa Makes A Hit With Kiddies At Wilkie House Party

In the role of Santa Claus, Raymond Johnson made a big hit with many kids at an annual Christmas party at Wilkie House last Saturday.

"Just make a note," she advised—and right here I am making a note to remind all persons who will be entertaining throughout the holidays, to remember that next Thursday comes the Year's Day holiday—and all new items must be in the office of the bystander not later than Monday.

But, Miss Powell said she did that all the time, especially in her classes because the students had the habit of thinking of some of their teachers were absent-minded—and she proved often that students could be absent-minded, too, because five days per week (some of them leave her classes forgetting to put away their sewing materials or equipment—and then the next day, these students would say that someone had misplaced their properties.

Improvements being shown with the use of a mirror to oneself—and as you think of no matter, it would be a good idea to try out, especially if you have one of those regular club and church reporters who, each week, comes the office to lament that they forgot to get my news in on time." Try it for the new year—and thanks to Miss Powell for her suggestion.

Not that winter is here—and we have had rain, sleet, snow and ice as evidences—if you have a moment to spare from the quiz programs and numbers games on the radio or the television features, you will enjoy re-reading some of the many Christmas cards that are piled up high on your tables, or are displayed on mantles, end pieces and book cases about your home.

Many of the sentiments are typical Christmas greetings—while others are different. One of the nicest sentiments came in a card from Appadurai and Ranji Aaron, natives of India, now living in Glasgow, Scotland.

"Gratefully remembering you, we pray that the rich blessings of Christmas be yours throughout the coming year," was the Christmas greeting. Elsewhere on the card were the following quotations:

"That He might be the first-born of a great brotherhood." Romans 8:29.

"You has made me known to friends who I knew not.

"You has given me seats in homes not my own.

"You has brought the distant near and made a brother of the stranger.

"When knows thee, then alien there is none, then no door is shut."—Tagore.

I had the pleasure of meeting Mr. and Mrs. Aaron during one of their lecture series here for the Des Moines YMCA last year. At a tea at the Des Moines Art Center, she told of the many problems in India.

The Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Jones and son who left Des Moines recently, arrived in Canton, Miss., on Dec. 12, where the minister has begun his pastorate at the St. Paul AME Zion church.

In a note he wrote: "We found a very nice church and received a hearty welcome from officers and members of the church—which made us feel very happy. They had prepared a beautiful parsonage, all newly decorated. Now we are looking forward to a great year in our field of labor," and with that he sent seasons greetings to all of his friends in Iowa. His address is: 356 S. Union street, Canton, Miss.

REPUBLICANS USING MORE BRAINS, NOW

The Republican State Central committee held its first meeting since the election Saturday to which were invited several additional campaign workers who headed various departments.

Quite properly, the committee not only talked about their victory on November 4, but also some weak spots in that victory and what must be done looking to 1954 to strengthen the position of the Republican party.

As an example, Democrats carried the precincts in southeast Des Moines by almost five to one, the northeast by three to one and the northwest by two to one. Thus in the Polk County races, most of which were close, the Negro vote spelled the difference between election and defeat in some offices.

The State Central Committee did a better job in its recognition of the Negro this year than in 1950 and rebuilt considerable confidence. Chairman Schramm had a clear more intelligent grasp of the matter.

There are definite ways to tackle this problem of getting the Negro vote back into the Republican party but public officials as well as the committee must do some definite things.

Sugar Ray Quits

New York, N. Y.—Middleweight Champion Sugar Ray Robinson positively retired from the ring Dec. 18 to devote his business and dancing careers.

Robinson made the announcement through Abe Greene, commissioner of the National Boxing association, in a backhanded punch at the New York state athletic commission.

New York stripped Robinson, 32, of his title Dec. 4 for not defending it within six months.

Sugar Ray, one of boxing's all-time greats with only three defeats in a brilliant career of 137 pro fights, said he picked the N. B. A. because it represented the majority of the boxing commissions and because it had been extremely helpful to him.

"At this stage of my career I don't feel I can give my followers the best I have," said Robinson. "I don't want to let them down."

"A lot of very big people, and I mean very big people, in boxing put a lot of pressure on me to go through with a Randy Turpin match. But I felt I should have made this announcement long before so I made up my mind all of a sudden."

"I don't want to be like a lot of others who didn't retire in time."

Robinson won't have to worry. He has a bar and grill, a beer and ale distributing agency, a lingerie shop, a barbershop, a cleaning establishment and a real estate office in Harlem.

He started a new career as a night club entertainer Nov. 8 and is booked for a long tour that will take him to Detroit, Chicago, Las Vegas and Miami Beach after the holidays.

To Launch Drive For FEPC in States Of Southeast

Atlanta.—Plans for a drive to secure enactment of FEPC legislation in southern states were formulated at a meeting of the Southeast advisory board of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People here this week.

The conference, attended by NAACP officials from seven states, also set as goals for its 1953 program a drive to increase the southern Negro vote, work to implement the U. S. Supreme Court decisions in transportation and graduate education, and plans for equitable participation in housing and redevelopment programs.

Addressing a mass meeting at the closing session of the conference on December 14, Walter White, NAACP executive secretary, pledged a continuing fight "until the last vestige of segregation is destroyed. The Association's special counsel, Thurgood Marshall, praised the work of southern lawyers and the support of that state conferences in the drive to end segregation in public education.

More than $1,000 was raised at this meeting to help finance the anti-segregation fight.

Rev. J. M. Hilton, president of the South Carolina Conference of NAACP branches, was elected chairman of the regional advisory board for 1953.

THE DES MOINES BRANCH NAACP Says:

The Des Moines branch has had a successful year. Next week a synopsis of the annual reports of the officers will be given including the financial status of the organization.

The national officers have been in conference with President-elect Eisenhower in an effort to evolve a program of the new administration with respect to minorities. General Eisenhower says he wanted to keep in touch with NAACP—its a good sign.

The governor of Illinois has appointed Joe Bibb, Chicago attorney and newspaper columnist, to the most important job ever given a Negro in a state government. This sets a standard for Iowa to follow.

Ex-Seaman To Hang For $44 Murder

Washington, D. C. — (CNS) — Charged with committing "one of the most atrocious crimes in this locality in many years," Lott Glover, 31, Negro ex-seaman, has been sentenced to hang for killing a filling service attendant, James A. Becraft by beating him with a pair of pliers. Glover was staging a holdup which netted him $44.

The former seaman had tried to plead insanity, but the three judges

CHRISTMAS

Christmas has a special meaning in common for all of us. Its a time in the life of every child when he looks for old Saint Nick and the good things he brings to boys and girls. They are happy at peace with other youngsters.

Unfortunately, this is not true with the older folk. Instead of peace on earth and good will toward men since 1914 the world has been in an upheaval. Some nations have been at upheaval. Some nations have been at war. Internal strife has existed in most countries.

Fortunately, however there was never a time when so much effort was being put forth to cure these ills and while the situation looks dark at times, progress is being made. Progress must be made for the world cannot stand another war in this atomic age.

So as we come to another Christmas, the people of the world should rededicate themselves to the life of Him who taught peace on earth good will toward men.

To Crack Policies

"In the year ahead we have set for ourselves four (4) national objectives—to crack Jim Crow hiring in Sears-Roebuck and American Airlines; the fight for national and local FEPC; and the opening up of a campaign to stop the systematic elimination of Negroes from employment in the railroad industry."

Hood continued, "The Christmas picket lines is only the opening gun, not only in our Sears campaign, which we are determined to continue until democracy wins over discrimination, but in the National NNLC Jobs Campaign for 1953. It is significant that this is the first time that nationally coordinated picketing have been conducted in protest against undemocratic hiring policies.

"Unless there is an immediate about face on the part of those who are responsible for economic Jim Crow, I can assure you that the Sears picket lines will not be the last."
