Jim Crow Schools Called Slow Death For Children

Tamiment, Pa.—Segregated public schools were branded as "slow death" for Negro children in a speech here on July 21 by Roy Wilkins, administrator of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. Speaking in the summer lecture series of Camp Tamiment, Mr. Wilkins said:

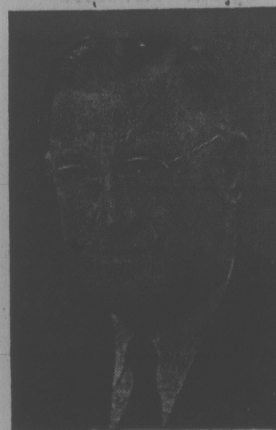

"The five cases scheduled to be re-argued October 12 before the United States Supreme Court are the result of the determination of Negro parents to wipe out this 'slow death' that has been crippling their children's chances in life under the Jim Crow school system. Every statistic on the operation of separate schools for the races reveals glaring inequalities which prove beyond doubt that there never has been, is not now, and never will be such a thing as 'separate but equal.' Equality of opportunity in education will never be secured by Negro children until Jim Crow schools are abolished."

FEPC, Child Labor Bill Beaten in Pa.

Harrisburg, Pa.—Two bills designed to improve economic opportunity and working conditions for Negro citizens were defeated by the Pennsylvania State Legislature this week. First an FEPC bill was turned down and the following day the lower house narrowly defeated a bill outlawing employment of children under 14 years of age in agriculture and commerce. Both bills were strongly supported by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and other groups.

In a last minute effort to save the child labor bill, Walter White, NAACP executive secretary, wired Gov. John S. Fine urging his "vigorous intervention in behalf of the measure." Meanwhile, Herbert Hill, NAACP labor relations assistant, and Dr. Cyrus Karraker, chairman of the Pennsylvania Citizens Committee on Migrant Labor, were in Harrisburg mobilizing support for the bill which is one of several which the NAACP has sponsored for improvement of migrant farm labor conditions. A large number of the itinerant farm workers are Negroes.

In Race for Governor

W. H. NICHOLAS

Former Lieut. Governor W. H. Nicholas of Mason City has announced that he is a candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor in the June 1954 primaries. A successful business man and farmer, a former legislator and county auditor, Lieut. Governor Nicholas is well qualified for the post he seeks. He made an excellent race for the nomination in 1952, and although involved in a serious auto accident earlier this year, Mr. Nicholas has recovered sufficiently and feels that he is prepared to make an intensive campaign.

To Ike's Dinner

A. A. ALEXANDER

A. A. Alexander, 65, prominent Des Moines and Washington, D. C. contractor, was one of the two Negroes invited by President Eisenhower to a White House dinner Monday night. The dinner was the fifth in a series the president has been giving for citizens from all parts of the country and for administration officials.

Also invited was Dr. Frederick D. Patterson, former president of Tuskegee Institute, Alabama.

Mr. Alexander has been active in Republican party politics.

Among the other guests were Secretary of the Army Robert Stevens; Secretary of the Air Force, Harold Talbott; Leonard W. Hall, chairman of the G.O.P. national committee; Orchestra Leader Fred Waring; W. A. Patterson, president of United Air Lines, and David Sarnoff, president of Radio Corporation of America.

Mr. Alexander returned to Washington recently from New York City where he spent several weeks ill at Sydenham hospital.

In a note to the Bystander this week, Mr. Alexander wrote: "Am recuperating here in Washington now. Highland Beach this week end and probably next week."

"I'm sure indebted to all my friends in helping pull me along the way to better health."

2 Iowa Prisoners Slide To Freedom; Caught On Road

Burlington, Ia.—Two Iowa State penitentiary inmates who escaped Saturday were captured Sunday in heavy undergrowth in Henderson county, Ill., about 1 1/2 miles east of here.

The prisoners, Robert Poindexter, 24, Omaha, Neb., and Willard Beverlin, 36, Muscatine, were stopped by Illinois Highway Patrolman Frank McCann.

Ran Across Road
McCann said he was patrolling Highway 34 when the two fugitives ran across the road in front of him. They appeared to be dressed in prison garb.

The patrolman started through the

Housing Plan Would Oust Negroes to Build Homes, Hospital for Whites Only

Washington.—The federal government has been urged to withhold approval of and deny funds to a multi-million dollar slum clearance proposal for Birmingham on the ground that it would displace some 600 Negro families for the development of hospital facilities and dwelling units for whites only.

In a meeting on July 21 with J. W. Follin, new head of the government's redevelopment program, Clarence Mitchell, director of the NAACP Washington Bureau, strongly protested against this proposal. The Association, Mr. Mitchell told the federal official, heartily supports slum clearance but vigorously opposes any program, such as that proposed for Birmingham, which

Korean Truce Calls Halt To 3 Years of Undeclared War; POW Exchange Aug. 5

Panmunjom, Korea.—United Nations and Communist truce delegates signed the long-awaited Korean armistice in a crisp 10-minute ceremony, Monday, July 27, halting three years and one month of undeclared war.

Scheduled for 10 a.m. (7 p.m. Sunday, Iowa time), the signing began at 10:10 a.m. and was over at 10:11 a.m. Eighteen copies of the historic document were signed.

Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison, Jr., a Baptist lay preacher from Washington, D. C., signed for the U. N. command. North Korean Gen. Nam Il, a school teacher, signed for North Koreans and Chinese Communists.

Shortly afterward, Gen. Mark W. Clark, U.N. supreme commander, countersigned the 18 documents—nine copies for each side—at Mun-san and issued a warning statement to his forces. Clark said the armistice does "not mean an immediate or even early withdrawal" from Korea.

"It does mean that our duties and responsibilities during the critical period of the armistice are heightened and intensified rather than diminished," he said.

All shooting along the 15-mile battlefield was to stop 12 hours from the time of the signing at Panmunjom—and by 10 o'clock Monday night the guns were silent and it was possible for a soldier to jump outside his trench and stretch his arms and legs without fear, one frontline correspondent wrote.

Battle Casualties

The 37 months of war in Korea took the lives of more than 24,965 American servicemen. American battle casualties through July 22 totaled 139,272, including 24,965 underbrush after them, and about a half hour later they shouted they were unarmed and wanted to surrender.

The two prisoners were turned over to John Bennett, deputy warden at the Fort Madison penitentiary, and Ray Scott, captain of the guard. The inmates slid to freedom on a rope of sheets after cutting through a ventilator on the prison roof.

Used Back Roads

Poindexter and Beverlin said they had been walking since they left the prison. They traveled on back roads and across fields and hitched a ride on a train across the Mississippi river.

Beverlin, whose mother lives near Davenport, was serving a term for car theft. Poindexter was sentenced to 25 years for robbery with aggravation.

Demarcation Line

Tokyo, Japan.—The new military line agreed to by Allied and Red negotiators gave the Communists almost all the ground they won recently in the Kumsong bulge in their greatest offensive in two years, a map released by General Clark's showed Monday.

The map was included in a flood of hitherto secret material released by Clark's headquarters, after the chief negotiators for both sides signed the armistice.

Then within 72 more hours, troops of each side began pulling back 1 1/2 miles, leaving between them a buffer zone of 2 1/2 miles wide running the

NAACP Delegates Tell Of 'Four-F-Program,' Urge Citizens to Act

Delegates from the Des Moines branch NAACP who attended the national conference of the NAACP which convened in St. Louis, Mo., the latter part of June brought back reports of the organization's plans for the promotion of the recently launched "Four-F-Program" last Sunday afternoon at a mass meeting held at Willkie House.

William L. Bell, Des Moines branch president, who served on the resolutions committee at the national, told of the resolutions that the NAACP passed to fight discrimination from the Gulf to the Great Lakes, from the Pacific to the Atlantic.

New Committees

He told of new committees that were set-up, one of which was a promotion one which will enable smaller cities to entertain the national conference; a committee which would pick two years ahead, a site for the conference; a minister's session which would meet a day before the official opening of the meeting.

The NAACP's "Four-F-Program" or Fighting Fund for Freedom was set-up on a ten-year plan, to help wipe out second class citizenship by 1953 when the 100th anniversary of the signing of Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation will be observed.

Mrs. Clara Bayles who reported on Dr. Channing N. Tobias's address on "The State of the Budget" of the NAACP, said Dr. Tobias urged the work of the NAACP branches on a local level—"must go forward."

Financial Plans

The Iowa brought back six suggestions Dr. Tobias gave to the delegates: (1) to get more members an increase of 25 per cent; (2) to increase the size of memberships from two dollars to five, ten and twenty-five dollars; (3) to give one program during the year for the benefit of Sugar Is A Crooner Too!

New York.—Believe it or not—Sugar Ray Robinson is one of the most talented celebrities of the 20th Century. The former welterweight champion and retired middleweight king of the roped arena is not only 'tops' as a golfer and softball player—he's a great drummer and as you probably already know one of this season's outstanding tap dancers and emcees. Recently Sugar recorded two sides for the King label ("I Shoulda Been On My Merry Way" backed with "Knock Him Down Whiskey") shown above (upper left); Robinson, trying out his pipes. Also in the group (lower left), composer-arranger Henry Glover with Earl (Father) Hines at the piano and King Records prexy Sid Nathan taking a gander of the sheet music.

Scovel Richardson, Dean Of Lincoln University's School of Law, Named

Washington, D. C.—Scovel Richardson, dean of the Lincoln University School of Law, was named, Thursday, July 23, to be a member of the United States Parole Board by President Eisenhower. This is the first time a Negro has ever been appointed a member of the Parole Board.

Parole Board members are directly responsible to Attorney General Brownell and receive $11,000 per year.

Dean Richardson's term ends September 30, 1956.

Atty. Richardson attended the University of Illinois and graduated from Howard Law School in 1937. After practicing in Chicago he accepted the post of Associate Law Professor at Lincoln and later became Dean of the School.

Richardson was in government service during 1943 and 1944 in the Legal Division of the old office of Price Administration.

The appointee is married and the couple has four daughters; Frances E., Alice L., Marjorie L. and Mary L., the latter of whom are twins.

Dean Richardson is a member of the following organizations: American Law Institute, National Bar Association, the Missouri Bar, American Society of International Law, American Academy of Political and Social Science, the Urban League, Lawyers Association of St. Louis, Mound City Bar Association, Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity and the

Scores of Boy Scouts from South Segregated in Units At International Jamboree

Los Angeles, Cal.—All the way to California from Texas, Oklahoma, Mississippi, North and South Carolina... to be jim crowed...

That was the bitter, frustrating experience last week of scores of southern Negro Boy Scouts, here for the highly vaunted international Boy Scout Jamboree, who are being segregated into all-Negro camping units on the Jamboree grounds at Santa Ana.

First word of the jim crow came to the Los Angeles Tribune from the Rev. Henry W. Murph, pastor of Grant Chapel AME church, who telephoned Monday to tell the paper that he had gone out to the Jamboree to visit his brother, Dr. B. C. Murph, a Scout leader from Laurel, Miss., and had found him in a jim crow section, composed of Negro scouts from Alabama and Mississippi.

Other jim crow units are composed of Texas and Oklahoma Negro scouts, the Tribune learned, and another of Georgia and North and South Carolina boys.

Negro Boy Scouts from eastern and western states are integrated into their state camps, the Tribune learned; but plans were made to segregate the Dixie-ites months ago when Jamboree plans were being made within their state units.

Some Refused

Some Negro Scouts, such as William Flenoid, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rafe Flenoid, of Oklahoma City, refused to make the trip because they learned in advance that they would not stay with their state units, but would be put into all-Negro outfits.

Young Flenoid, a 9th-grade student, had shined shoes all winter in his father's barber shop to earn Jamboree expenses. Commenting on the news that her son would be shifted upon arrival at Santa Ana to an all-Negro unit from Dallas, his mother said:

"William has raised through hard work all of the money necessary for the trip. He has paid in $178.00 for the one way trip and the expenses in camp, and he also raised the $25 required for spending change. He seems to have met all of the requirements except that his face is not white."

As far as the Tribune has been able to learn, none of the Negro Boy Scouts was jim crowed on the train coming to California. The jim crow was not the work of Los Angeles Scout hosts, either, the Tribune learned; but originated with southern whites and had the consent of national officials.

Political Analyst Sees E. Carter in N. Y. Borough Post

ELMER CARTER
New York—(CNS)—The Republican naming of 63-year-old Harvard trained Elmer Carter to run on their ticket for the office of Borough President of Manhattan, was no surprise to political analyst U. S. Poston, who has called many a shot accurately over a period of twenty years.

Predicting the New York elections always correctly, Poston foresees a good chance for Carter to be the first Negro elected to the highest office in the city of New York outside of Mayor, providing the Democrats nor any other party will not turn name a Negro.

Largest Bloc

And here's why Carter, now one of the five commissioners appointed by Gov. Dewey to administer anti-discrimination bill, can win Harlem, itself, is the largest block of votes in the borough of Manhattan. The second largest bloc of votes is in the "silk stocking" district—that is the wealthy residential section of New York and they are tried and true Republicans and will vote the straight party ticket. Thus Carter

Candy Sundae . . . Treat of the Month

For a very special treat, serve this Whipped Cream Candy Sundae. It's rich and sweet-tasting yet uses only two flavor-giving ingredients: whipped cream and Milky Way candy bars. But that's the trick. For in each Milky Way bar are a number of sweet flavors: milk chocolate, malted milk, cocoa, corn syrup and sugar. Melt and pour over the whipped cream and you have a "sundae" to compete with the best served at the local ice cream parlor.

WHIPPED CREAM CANDY SUNDAY

1 tablespoon unflavored gelatin
1/4 cup milk
1/4 cup hot water
2 Milky Way candy bars
1 cup heavy cream
2 tablespoons powdered sugar
Few drops vanilla flavoring

Soften gelatin in milk. When softened, add hot water; set aside until gelatin dissolves. Melt candy bars in top of double boiler. Whip cream until stiff. Add powdered sugar and vanilla. Then add 1/2 gelatin mixture to cream; offer half to melted candy. Place in layers in a dessert dish. Top with a cherry. Makes 3 or 4 servings.

Iced Coffee and Cake Is Warm-Weather Treat

If you were auctioning off a homemade cake for your favorite charity, you'd get many a raised hand if you led it with rich coffee frosting, a new recipe employing instant caffeine-free coffee as the flavoring ingredient. The instant coffee can be mixed right in with the other dry ingredients, a convenience you'll applaud.

Bids would be high, too, for iced coffee on warm days. So use this tricky recipe for making iced coffee cubes and keep your guests supplied with tinkling glassfuls. All the family can enjoy the beverage when you use caffeine-free coffee.

Rich Coffee Frosting

1/2 cup butter
1/4 teaspoon salt
3/4 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
1 egg or 2 egg yolks, unbeaten
1 tablespoon instant caffeine-free coffee
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
2 tablespoons top milk (about)

Cream butter; add salt and part of the sugar gradually, blending after each addition. Then add egg. Instant caffeine-free coffee, and vanilla; mix well. Add remaining sugar, alternately with milk, until mixture is of right consistency to spread, beating after each addition until smooth. Makes about 2 1/2 cups frosting, or enough to cover tops and sides of 2 9-inch layers, or tops of 3 dozen cakes or 4 dozen 3-inch cookies.

Iced Coffee

To make caffeine-free coffee ice cubes, prepare caffeine-free coffee by your usual method. Pour into ice-cube tray of automatic refrigerator until firm. For a stronger beverage, use double-strength coffee for cubes. Remember that caffeine-free coffee needs to percolate from 15 to 18 minutes to bring out its rich coffee flavor. Fill glass with frozen, caffeine-free coffee cubes, then fill glass with warm milk. The resulting beverage gives the illusion of a generous cream quota.

is a shoe in from both voting blocs and can even make a dent in the rest with a hard hitting campaign.

Now should the Democrats name a Negro—and they have presented three names to be considered in Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, Co. Chauncey Hooper and Councilman Earl Brown—then the race will still benefit, reasons Poston for if Carter doesn't make it, another Negro will.

Poston was a little hesitant on predicting that the Democrats would name a Negro too for the vaunted office. "Those Irish party leaders are pretty stubborn, at times," he commented.

L-Hook Shelves

WASTE space between shelves in a kitchen cabinet may be utilized by the installation of simple hanging shelves on which small items such as cups and saucers, salt and pepper shakers and bric-a-brac may be stored.

Usually small in size due to space limitations, these shelves ordinarily are from six to eight inches wide and from twelve to twenty inches long. Make them from Masonite quarter-inch tempered hardboard.

Insert long L-shaped hooks through drilled holes in the hardboard and then screw them into the shelf above. The hooks should be near the edges and at the corners of a shelf which is not longer than one foot. Intermediate hooks inserted mid-way on the long sides of the rectangle should be used if the length is greater.

Paint or enamel the shelves, as desired, using an undercoater and two finish coats.

The same principle of attachment may be used for other small shelves similarly located.

Permanent Marker For Birthplace Of Dr. Carver

■Diamond, Mo.—Sidney J. Phillips, president of the George Washington Carver National Monument Foundation and Collaborator for the United States Department of the Interior, unveiled and presented to the United States of America a plaque which will serve as a permanent marker for the birthplace of Dr. George Washington Carver which was recently dedicated as a National Monument.

Tom began to date the girls and borrow the car while Dad waited up and worried.

Boys do not always go through these typical stages and emerge into adolescent social life as suddenly as Tom did. But eventually most of them will develop an interest in clean shirts, girls and parties. Parents need not despair because of hair standing on end and collars askew. When their sons get an interest in girls they also will acquire an interest in clothes.

When he was 16 he was invited to a mixed party, chaperoned by one of his teachers. He went without enthusiasm and without a date. His father waited up for him.

At one o'clock Tom burst into the house with "Dad, I never had so much fun before in my life." On that night Dad's fun also began. For

Can Tomatoes Whole for Salads

In home-canning tomatoes, the utility or regular pack, in which the tomatoes are pressed down tight, is all right for most purposes, but a few whole packed tomatoes come in handy. When chilled and cut in quarters, they add much to tomato aspic and other congealed salads.

Regardless of how you are going to pack tomatoes, use only clean, fresh, sound, firm, red-ripe tomatoes for canning. Every tomato should be washed, rinsed, and drained before sealing. To seal tomatoes without over-cooking, put 6 or 8 in a square of cheesecloth or wire basket and hold in boiling water about one-half minute. Dip in cold water and drain before cutting out the core. (Cut deep enough to get it all.)

After the core is out, slip off the skin and drop tomato into a hot Ball Mason Jar. If whole tomatoes are wanted, pack them closely without crushing and add hot tomato juice or water to cover. If using utility pack, press the tomatoes down tight until juice runs from them. One teaspoon salt is usually added to each quart of tomatoes, although tomatoes keep as well without salt.

Don't forget to leave almost 1/4 inch of headspace when filling the jar. Run a knife down between the tomatoes and the jar to bring up air bubbles. More liquid may be needed to fill space left when the bubbles are removed from jars of whole packed tomatoes. Don't bother to add more to the utility pack.

Wipe tops and threads of jars clean. Then apply your Ball Dome Caps according to instructions printed on the box. Process tomatoes in a boiling water bath, 35 minutes for whole tomatoes and 45 minutes for a utility pack.

Jelly Making—Easy and Rewarding

Spend a little time during the summer making jelly to be used on breakfast toast, hot biscuits, between-meal sandwiches for the children, and for a sizeable food expense item from your next winter's grocery bill!

Excellent jelly is easily made from the juice of tart apples, grapes, currants, blackberries and several other fruits and berries. They contain enough pectin, the substance in fruits which makes jelly "set." But, some fruits are low in pectin, notably cherries, peaches, strawberries and sweet apples, and the amount of pectin in a fruit may vary from season to season. It is also influenced by the degree of ripeness.

You may mix fruit juices known to be low in pectin cup for cup with those known to contain a great deal of pectin, but it is usually better to add pectin—the kind you buy in liquid or powdered form—when making jelly of low-pectin fruits. It is also faster. A one-minute boil is enough for jelly-making when you use either Certo or Sure-Jell, well known brands of natural fruit pectin.

You may even make jelly from canned or frozen juices and fruits by using pectin. This is one of the easiest ways of making jelly because it eliminates preparation of the fruit and permits you to make jelly any day of the year in about 15 minutes time.

Pectin may be bought at the food store in either liquid or powdered form. Be sure to follow the directions which come with the bottle or package when you make your jelly.

When Boys Get Interested In Girls They Will Become Aware Of Clothes

Afton Smith, Assistant Professor State University of Iowa Child Welfare Research Station

Ten-year-old Tom lived in a small town where the boys enjoyed barefoot freedom in the summer time.

When he was called in one day to dress for Helen's party, he crawled unwillingly into his best clothes. He came out of his room barefoot as usual.

"Now put on your shoes and hurry," urged his mother.

Tom dropped into a chair in limp protest. "Do I have to wear shoes?" he whined. "Then I'm not going! It's a old girl's party anyway."

WE NEED YOUR FULL SUPPORT
Weekly newspapers don't operate on a bed of roses. In fact the mortality rate among them is exceedingly high.

The Bystander has followed that pattern even though it has been able to secure a reasonable amount of advertising. However, many of our subscribers are not doing their bit by giving the support to which it is entitled. Thus we ask our subscribers:

Is your subscription paid up to date?
Are you paying your subscription when it is due rather than when you "can"?

Do you disregard the written notices and phone calls seeking your renewal?
If you fall in either of these classes, move out by mailing or bringing your subscription or your renewal money, to the Bystander office at once.

"What is there in Des Moines for visitors to see?" one resident who was planning a sight-seeing tour for a group of visiting church people, asked last week.

I began naming: the Capitol grounds with all of its interesting buildings; the Des Moines Art Center and all of the beautiful flower gardens around it; the parks, the playgrounds; the airport terminal, the shopping center—and then I began to pause and wonder—where on earth did the USO and YWCA take the WACS during the days of their encampment here at Fort Des Moines?

And, as I recall, some of the World War II trips about town, everywhere we went was a sight that brought a different comment from each of the women soldiers on the tour.

Many of the women who had come from states—east of Chicago—would ask: "How do people live in this town? What do they do?"

Well, in Des Moines for several weeks were two New York young women who were on their first visit in any city west of Philadelphia, Pa. They were having a "grand time" until they left on Monday—going about town, visiting the art center, the airport, seeing stock car races, attending the swimming meet, listening to a summer concert at Drake university, refereeing at a girl's softball game, watching the Des Moines Bruins baseball game, playing tennis, swimming, resting, eating, going to shows, and forming many acquaintances.

"The people in Des Moines are so friendly," commented Louisa Stanford of Brooklyn, N. Y.

"We are strangers and have been invited to several homes for dinner—and what fine food," she added, speaking also for Josephine Pivalo, also of Brooklyn.

"But, this is what I can't understand," continued Mrs. Stanford, and she told of the "strange look" that residents gave her when she told them that "I like Des Moines—and think it is an interesting city. Though I was born in Rye, New York, I

Miss Janice Elaine Wolder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Murray L. Wolder, 1144 Eighteenth street, and Mr. William Riddley, Jr., of Rock Island, Ill., daughter of Mrs. George Johnson of Joplin, Mo., were married here at 5 o'clock Saturday evening, July 25.

The ceremony took place in front of a fireplace in the home of the bride. Altar decorations were yellow and white gladioli, stephanotis, white lilies, fern and candelabra. The Rev. Norman R. Olphin officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an ankle length-gown of embroidered white organdy, fashioned with low neckline, short sleeves, fitted bodice, and full skirt over a net underskirt. She wore long mesh gloves, a finger-tip veil which was attached to a beaded coronet. Her bridal bouquet was of white gardenias, stephanotis and Bavaria.

Mrs. Florine Hines was the bride's attendant. She wore a gown of steel blue taffeta with matching stole and a corsage of pink gardenias.

Mr. Fred Bland of Rock Island was best man.

duties—and then the man said—"you can let the press in."

"The reporters came in, took our pictures and interviewed us—and we had pictures in many of the papers—and from then on we felt important—and we got invited everywhere."

"People would ask me if I am enjoying my stay in this country. Of course, I had to tell them I was from Brooklyn. Now the U.N. has a volunteer service that arranges for the entertainment of the foreign employees."

Miss Pivalo said she enjoys meeting so many people from many countries of the world. All of them speak English and many will sit down and tell you of their countries.

She likes best about her work—what she called the "flexibility of the job."

"I get around the floors; may meet an old friend on any floor," she remarked.

Outside of her work, she takes dancing, spends most of her spare time at Ebett's Field during the baseball season. She likes the stage and is a "rabid first nighter," she commented.

From the heart of Texas recently came Mrs. Roger D. Payne to Des Moines to get a "good rest" from her work as manager of two drug stores she operates in Fort Worth.

Among the friends who honored the bride at pre-nuptial showers were: Mrs. Theodore Martin, Jr., who held a personal shower on July 21; a group of friends in Marshalltown, Ia., who entertained at a linen shower at the home of Mrs. Frank Johnson, on July 2; and, Mrs. William Weathers, who was hostess at a linen shower at her home on July 23.

"Many will say that they want to work and will start, then leave without notice."

She praised the faithfulness and efficiency of some employees who have been with the drug stores for many years.

Another visitor in Des Moines this week is Mrs. Tyler Stewart of Mason City. A registered chiroprapist, Mrs. Stewart, for several years, had an office in downtown Mason City and was in business until she married and began to rear a family. She now has a son in the navy and another boy, 11.

At the home of a girlhood friend, Mrs. Murray Wolder, 1144 Eighteenth street, where she is visiting this week, Mrs. Stewart chatted.

Now Mrs. Stewart listed that she is busy in Mason City—as a publicity officer of her church, Wesley Methodist; member of the Cub Scouts, the Girl Scouts, the first Negro woman to be elected to the YWCA board; officer of the P.T.A.; active in League of Women Voters; on the city's music committee. She enjoys reading; sings with a mothers' chorus; and is planning to learn how to play a cello.

The Emery Warrens who operate a linotype company that sets the Bystander's type every week, hardly had time to pause on Tuesday, the day of their silver wedding anniversary.

Mr. Warren did not forget. He bought his wife a silver tea and coffee set and she was so happy over the gift that she proudly exhibited it and other gifts and cards on an office desk.

On my lunch-dinner hour late Tuesday, I rushed home for my color camera and shot a few silver anniversary poses around the linotype machines. Now the Warrens will have to wait for a holiday to find sufficient time to enjoy their gifts.

John H. Carter Of D.C. To Study At Drake This Fall

John H. Carter of Washington, D. C. will study at Drake university this fall on a scholarship from the National Scholarship Service and Fund for Negro Students.

Carter is one of 34 students who received from $100 to $400 each, made possible through a grant from the Ford Foundation's fund for the advancement of education, from the National Scholarship group.

The Ford grant was "to provide annual financial aid to gifted Negro students."

National Scholarship Service, a six-year old non-profit social welfare agency, guides Negro students from all over the country to admissions and scholarship opportunities in the non-segregated colleges in the North and South.

More than 2,300 students have been counseled and referred to 280 interracial colleges and universities in the last five years. They have won scholarships totaling $450,000 and ranging from $100 to $2,000 annually.

As since its founding in 1881, Drake's doors are open to students of all lands and all faiths. The university's founding fathers provided in the articles of incorporation that "all departments be open to all without distinction of sex, religion or race."

AN ARMISTICE INDICATES
GROUND GAINED

Few people will oppose the signing of the armistice with Communist China. True there was no smashing victory like that of World War I and II. But fighting a war now is entirely different from those of the past two wars. The terrain in Korea is hard to fight on; there was never all out war. And even though the North Koreans held their own pretty well on the battlefield, neither side has very much about which to crow if conquered land is considered a measure of victory.

However, much a military victory is desired, the wishes of those mothers, wives and daughters whose men were fighting on the battlefield are entitled to great consideration. Whatever victory each side may claim on the battlefield is not important now for after all much more should and can be accomplished by negotiations in the long run.

Following the smashing victory over Germany in 1917, the Allied Nations could not agree among themselves just what the peace should be. The same happened in 1945 and the East (meaning Russia) and the West have not been able to work out permanent treaties except with Japan as yet. The success of the settlement with Japan was due to the complete strangle hold America maintained over every department in that country.

On the other hand the attempt to treat other enemy countries with kid gloves has been the downfall of our peace settlements.

During the negotiations for an armistice, reports from the negotiators did not smack of the full equality of the negotiators which should prevail when men meet to do business. This type of conduct must prevail in the minds of peace negotiators if anything worth while comes out of their meetings.

A POOR POLITICAL
DEBT IS PAID

President Eisenhower has appointed Governor Byrnes of South Carolina as a delegate to United Nations.

Here, the President is paying a political debt which is tainted with principles contrary to those Mr. Eisenhower says he believes in.

Gov. Byrnes was once a United States Senator, Justice of the U. S. Supreme Court, assistant president under President Roosevelt and chairman of the Democratic National Committee. Those high assignments should have brought any man to believe that this country does not contemplate second class citizenship. But few people have stooped as low as Gov. Byrnes to win the race for governor of his state.

In his new job as a delegate to U. N. he will be rubbing shoulders with men of all races and colors on the basis of equality. Just how a man with Byrnes' record can represent this country is difficult to see for men like he will make it difficult to deal with darker people at the peace table. President Roosevelt was just as bad when he gave Bilbo a job in the Department of Agriculture.

Politicians pay high for political assistance at times. This was certainly true in those two cases. But in time the public will learn that if this country is ever to be a full democracy, placing men like Byrnes and Bilbo in high government jobs is just as bad as it would have been to place Al Capone in some of these places. Both classes of men are menaces to society.

REAL PROOF OF SINCERITY

The defense department has released a series of pictures of Marines returning from the front following the close of fighting in Korea. Shown among these men are several Negroes which indicates that they were used liberally in that branch of the service.

Prior to World War II Negroes were not used as Marines but in conformity with the policy of integration in the Armed Service it appears that they have done a pretty good job.

While wars are terrible, the fact remains that some good comes out of them and this integration policy is one of them.

the national organization; (4) to appoint year-around committees to get life memberships; (5) to organize Christmas Seal committees; (6) to send a contribution this year from the branch to the Fighting Fund for Freedom.

Mrs. Charles L. Strange served on the credentials committee and attended sessions on the NAACP youth and college chapters.

"The conference made me more aware that I am a second class citizen and I am going to strive to do something about it," Mrs. Strange said. She listed 15,000 youth NAACP members.

In Spotlight

Mrs. Guy E. Greene, branch and state publicity chairman, commented that Des Moines delegates were in the spotlight all during the conference. She listed the honors won by the Des Moines branch: praised for exceeding in publicity; awarded a citation for reaching its membership quotas each year prior to this conference.

Attorney Archie Greenlee, attended the special session for lawyers at the NAACP conference, observed that "the legal approach plays a prominent role in fighting discrimination in our American society."

He said that "it is important that the general public be made to recognize that the legal approach is the only approach to social action."

The young attorney urged the organization of "grassroot training" conferences by the NAACP conference branches and utilization of all the available community resources. "That is where you and each of you can come in the picture," he said.

He told of the NAACP's legal approach in the fighting discrimination in fields of housing, interstate and intrastate travel, education, employment, public accommodations.

Guest soloist at the meeting was James Tanner, blind soloist, who sang "Sylvia," "The Blind Ploughman," and "Honor, Honor."

A choir directed by Rev. Samuel Patterson of the Church of God in Christ sang a group of selections and Elder Patterson played as a guitar solo "Savior, Don't Pass Me By."

An appeal for memberships was made by Mrs. Georgine C. Morris and at the end of the meeting the branch needed 90 more memberships to reach the quota of 1,000 in the current membership drive here.

Mrs. William Davis of Omaha, Neb., a visitor who returned recently from Dr. Charles Johnson's Race Relations Conference at Fisk University, made comments upon the conference.

P.O.W. Exchange August 5
Munsan, Korea.—The Allies and Communists agreed Tuesday to start exchanging almost 87,000 prisoners of war August 5.

The Reds will free about 400 men daily at Panmunjom. The United Nations command said it will deliver about 2,760 daily, including 360 sick and wounded.

Detailed prisoners exchange plans were adopted by a joint military armistice committee for prisoner exchange.

President Speaks

Washington, D. C. — President Eisenhower declared Sunday night in a brief and historic broadcast, to the American people that the Korean war just halted by an armistice the United Nations had met the challenge of aggression "with deeds of decision."

The chief executive warned the American people in an extraordinary radio-TV broadcast from the White House that "we must not relax our guard."

The President expressed "solemn gratitude for those who gave up their lives in a foreign land."

Des Moines Branch
NAACP Needs 72
Members For Quota

The Des Moines Branch of the NAACP closed its meetings Sunday, July 26, until Tuesday, Sept. 22. The membership drive will continue until 1,000 members are obtained. The total to date is 928.

The teams' totals are as follows:

No. 1, Mrs. Georgine C. Morris, captain, five workers, 262; No. 2, Mrs. Guy E. Greene captain, nine workers, 171; No. 3, Leland Ahern, captain, 65; No. 4, Mrs. Lee-Ella Porter, captain, five workers, 106; No. 5, Mrs. Charles L. Strange, captain, 94; No. 6, Elder Aaron Carter, captain, two workers, 3; No. 7, Mrs. Harold Morrow, captain, two workers, 30; No. 8, Malcolm Hogan, captain, nine workers, 36; No. 9, Mrs. Otis James, captain, three workers, 120; No. 10, Miss Shirley Herndon, captain, five workers, 31.

William L. Bell, branch president, asked all workers to do all they can to obtain the 72 needed members, to reach the quota of 1,000.

Workers are asked to send memberships to the membership secretary, Mrs. Guy E. Green, 1412 Center Street, Apt. 2, Des Moines, Ia.

THE DES MOINES
BRANCH NAACP Says:

Recently, the branch appointed a committee to call on Attorney General Hoag for a better enforcement of the Iowa Civil Rights Law. Few county attorneys have ever given anything other than lip service toward the enforcement of the law and no attorney general in our time has lifted even a finger to enforce the law.

This is certainly a disgrace on these law enforcing officials and brands their oath of office to uphold the laws of the state as a farce.

Like employment today, there is more of a disposition upon the part of places of public accommodations to comply with the law. On the other hand many Negroes are reticent to avail themselves of this more liberal attitude which makes it difficult to see just where the bad places are.

The attorney general has called upon tavern owners to observe the liquor law and has done a pretty good job on those who did not, heed his warning. With widespread violations which are occurring in this department of law are occurring in this field, a similar warning about the Civil Rights laws would certainly help.

HEALTH FOR ALL

NO SHORT-CUT

Modern medicine has advanced so rapidly in the control of disease in the past 50 years that we get into the habit of expecting it to do miracles overnight.

Tuberculosis is a disease which can be prevented and can be cured, but there is no easy short-cut. From time to time new methods of prevention and treatment have been claimed only to end in disillusionment. The history of the campaign against TB is full of false hopes raised and then dashed.

One of the greatest hopes for the defeat of tuberculosis lies in the discovery of a vaccine which could be used to make everyone resistant to the germs which cause tuberculosis. The problem has been worked on ever since the tubercle bacillus was discovered in the last century. One vaccine, Bacillus Calmette-Guérin, called BCG, has been valuable in special cases, but there is still no vaccine for TB which is completely safe and which gives the degree of immunity produced by smallpox vaccine and diphtheria toxoid against those diseases.

BCG is especially useful for immunizing groups of people who are particularly vulnerable to TB and heavily exposed to the germs: doctors, medical students, and nurses; hospital and laboratory workers; people unavoidably exposed to infection in the home, and children and certain adults who are believed to have poor resistance to TB and who live in communities where the disease is unusually prevalent.

Until an ideal vaccine is discovered and given to all the people, the slower, proved methods of TB control must be carried on. All people must learn how to protect themselves against TB. Every effort must be made to find all the cases of TB, find them early, and get them treated in TB hospitals. Later breakdowns of patients whose disease has been cured must be prevented through the use of modern rehabilitation techniques. And, finally, scientific research must be intensified to find better means of preventing and curing tuberculosis.

Pitcher Gomez
Strongly Bids For
Rookie Of The Year

New York—(CNS)—There's a new entry in the stakes for "Rookie of the Year" in the National League and he is none other than Ruben Gomez, a Puerto Rican by birth, and one of the aces on the pitching staff of the New York Giants.

After a shaky start early this year, the 27 year old mound star is being credited as giving the Giants such a boost that they now look as leading contenders to the Dodgers.

Gomez has won seven of his last eight starts and is ahead of such Giant stalwarts as Sal Maglie and Larry Jansen—both old men who have not been anywhere near their usual selves. It was Ruben's last effort that had them really standing on their ears and realizing how valuable he has been to the Giants. Against the hot Cincinnati Redlegs, Gomez threw a slick three hitter beating them 3 to 1.

LONELINESS

Why does one dwell-deep in a well
a well of loneliness, Amid a million other souls, who search for friendliness
If we would only look, we'd find,
a lot of love for all mankind.
Within the reach of just one smile,
is the end of that long and lonely while.
Surrounded by the teeming hordes who battle constantly . . .

A lonely heart keeps up the search,
to find a peaceful lea . . .
The filaments of questing mind—
reac for infinity.
and strive to reach the great beyond,
Unto eternity . . . Hope springs eternal—and we strive and pray for ecstasy.

Well knowing—deep within that it is . . .
on a far off galaxy.
The way we wend—will have an end, and that treasure we shall see . . .
There is a peaceful paradise, where dwells
all happiness . . .
Away from all the aching hours,
the days
of loneliness . . .

Open Linotype Course
At SUI To Korean
Veterans

Iowa City, Iowa.—Iowa veterans of the Korean war who are interested in newspaper "backshop" operations have a course of study open to them at the State University of Iowa following a ruling by the Veterans Administration, according to Leslie G. Moeller, director of the school of journalism at the university.

Linotype operation, a course offered during the spring and fall semesters by the school of journalism, have been approved for study under the Korean GI Bill of Rights.

The $231 fee for the 17-week course will be paid by Public Law 550, although "no academic credit will be given," Moeller said.

Veterans who want to learn linotype operation and care will work, study and practice 40 hours per week in the school's newspaper production laboratory. Now located in the new $525,000 Communications Center on the Iowa campus, the laboratory contains all of the machinery and apparatus normally found in the shop of a weekly newspaper. Most recent addition is a new Ludlow machine, which slug-casts display type and is becoming widely used in the weekly field.

The course also is open to non-veterans, including women. Although it is limited to 15 persons, openings for the fall term beginning Sept. 24 still are available. Interested persons can get further information by writing to Henry Africa, head of the laboratory, and former publisher of the Rockwell, Iowa, Tribune, Moeller said.

Conservation Com.
Advises: Don't
Kidnap Wild Babies

The State Conservation Commission is continuing to caution fishermen, picknickers, and farmers against "rescuing" baby animals and birds that seem to be lost.

Such wild babies are seldom lost, and even when they are they can be easily found by the sharp senses of their wild mothers. Deer fawns, for example, may be deserted during the day but are revisited by the doe deer at night. If the fawn is adopted by a camper or picknicker, the mother deer will return only to find the thickest nursery deserted.

State law prohibits the taking of all protected species of birds and animals during the closed season. If wild babies are discovered in the woods, leave them alone. However, if it is known that the mother is dead, young animals must be turned over to a state conservation officer, who will deliver them to the state game farm near Boone.

Adopting wild babies usually kills them, for they are hard to keep healthy and alive in captivity. Many species, lacking the teaching of a wild mother, can never fend for themselves in the wild again after their human kidnappers have tired of them and released them. Pet deer may be dangerous when mature, for they are well-armed and have lost their fear of man.

Play safe and do the humane thing . . . leave wild babies alone!
