Nation's Leaders Call Death of Senator Taft 'Tragic Loss to America'

Washington, D. C.—The nation's leaders paid a solemn tribute to Senator Robert A. Taft, 63, at a state funeral in the stone rotunda of the Capitol, last Sunday morning. Thousands of citizens paid their homage as the body rested in the center of the domed building.

Senator John W. Bricker, Taft's Ohio colleague, delivered the eulogy at the memorial services which began at 11 a.m.

Temporary chairs for 900 were placed for the president and Mrs. Eisenhower, members of the Taft family, cabinet members, supreme court justices, military chiefs, diplomats and the entire membership of senate and house.

Taft's invalid widow, Martha, attended the rites in a wheel chair in the place of honor before the flag-draped bronze casket. She was flanked by her four sons.

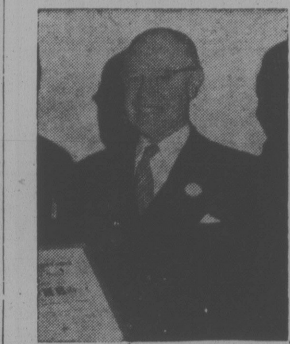

Private religious rites were held Tuesday at the Indian Episcopal church in Taft's home town of Cincinnati. Burial followed in the church cemetery, a mile from the senator's home.

Senator Taft, a symbol of Republicanism, died Friday, July 31, of cancer.

The Ohio Republican died 13 hours after he had lapsed into a deep coma at New York hospital.

His four sons were at his side when he died. His invalid wife was at the family home in Washington, D. C. She suffered a stroke three years ago.

In Washington, President Eisenhower called Taft's death "a tragic loss to America."

SEN. ROBERT A. TAFT

'A Great Loss'
From Washington, D. C. came the following statement by Val J. Washington, director of minorities, Republican National Committee:

"Senator Robert A. Taft was not only a great American, but was a humanitarian and a statesman who understood the problems of all people in all walks of life. The nation and the world has suffered a great loss."

Blonde Singer Who Took New York Doctor to Court Over Fur Stole Is Sued

New York.—(CNS)—As an aftermath to that story of the blonde, shapely TV singer who argued less than six months ago with a prominent Negro doctor over who owned a costly mink stole, it now develops that the TV singer is being sued by her husband, also white and he has laid bare some facts on the relationship between his wife and the doctor.

Let's go back a bit. On April 25, Elinor Ohms, attractive and mother of two, accused Dr. Charles Baker, a leading Negro obstetrician and father of two, of "snatching" her mink stole from her, citing that the doctor was "jealous" of how good she looked in the stole. Mrs. Ohms had Dr. Baker arrested but then quietly settled the case "proving" that she bought the stole out of her earnings as a television star and that it was all a complete misunderstanding.

New Aspect

Now this week a new aspect developed what with Mrs. Ohms' husband, Freddy, a trombonist suing for a separation and charging that her second child, Paul Philip, is the offspring of Dr. Baker.

Mrs. Ohms quickly counter-attacked and won a temporary alimony of $75. per week plus $1,000 for her lawyer, on grounds of non-support for herself and her two children. But during her hearing before Queens County Supreme Court Justice Johnson, Ohms' attorney, Meyer Goodman, revealed a divorce suit on grounds of adultery and nonpaternity was on the calendar for the fall in Nassau County Supreme Court.

Goodman claims that his client has enough evidence to prove the charge that 4-year-old Paul Ohms was the offspring of Dr. Baker. He produced affidavits to show that Baker and Mrs. Ohms lived together in an apartment in Hempstead, Long Island. Ohms kept quiet for appearances' sake, says his attorney, until Mrs. Ohms had the publicized quarrel with Dr. Baker over the stole. Then he left home. Ohms had sought custody of the couple's oldest child, Leslie, 11, but this was denied by the court.

Roller Rink in Omaha Unhappily Admits Negroes

Omaha, Nebr.—Negroes were admitted recently to the Crosstown Skating Rink, 24th and Leavenworth, ending a years campaign by the DePorres Club.

Admitted were: Pat Duncan, 221 N. 20th St.; Maretta Bronson, 2514 Decatur St.; Mr. and Mrs. Hopie and Naomi Bronson 3228 N. 27 Ave.; and Denny Holland, DePorres club president.

The DePorres club president reported that when he saw Rob-Ralph Fox, rink manager he offered him assistance of the club in working out integration there and congratulated him for doing the democratic thing.

He said Fox replied, "Democratic hell, you forced us to do this and that's not democracy." You know you caused us to lose an awful lot of money but you don't care. We're not satisfied this will work, but you've forced us to try it."

A DePorres club spokesman said, "Fox could have avoided the loss of an awful lot of money if he would have been willing to change his policy." "We spent two months of meeting with him trying to persuade him to." "He forced us."

He said the group stands ready to assist with the integration it "forced" Fox to try, but will be ever vigilant to see Crosstown doesn't go back to its old ways.

The group last Tuesday night reported the other skaters paid little attention to the mixed group. There was no incidents of unfriendliness reported.

Mr. Fox had previously contended he could not admit Negroes because his white customers would leave in such large numbers he would lose money.

Fox, two weeks ago, paid a $25 fine for denying a group of DePorres Club members admittance after the case had come up three times in Municipal Court and three times in District court.

Ohio's Senator Harry Davis Backs NAACP Fighting Fund

On Team of New Administration

VERNON F. GREENE

Washington, D. C.—Attorney Vernon F. Greene joined the new administration team Monday, August 3, as a legal counsel on the staff of Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield. The appointment was announced by Hon. Ross Ritzley, solicitor of the Post Office department.

Greene has twice interrupted his growing law practice to take up arms for his country. As a battalion commander of the Maryland National Guard, he led troops for 15 months during the hard pressed drive up the Korean peninsula and came out of the Army in April, 1952, as a Lieutenant Colonel. In World War II, he saw action in the Pacific Theater, rising to the rank of Major.

After attending Baltimore public schools, Col. Greene did his undergraduate college work at Howard university in Washington and in 1940 was awarded a degree from the Terrell-Law School. He has been commissioned to practice before the U. S. Supreme Court.

He is married to the former Catherine Wyatt of Baltimore and has an eight year old daughter, Catherine.

Greene is a member of the Phi Beta Sigma fraternity; NAACP Legal Redress staff and its Veterans Committee; the Monumental City Bar Association; Washington Bar Association; and McKeldin Republican club.

The appointee resides at 1910 West North avenue, Baltimore, Md.

not only your funds, but yourself to the cause."

"Freedom," the veteran Ohio legislator asserted, "is not a gift provided by nature like sunshine and air. It is priceless, but it must first be envisaged, striven for, attained and then retained."

Say S. Carolinian 'Worst Possible Spokesman' for American Democracy

New York.—Informed that the Senate Foreign Relations Committee had voted blanket endorsement of the presidential nominations of delegates to the United Nations, Walter White, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, August 1 sent a telegram to Chairman Alexander Wiley and all other members of the Committee again urging that open hearings be held on the nomination of Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina.

Mr. White's telegram cited reports that "some members of the Committee believed the nomination of Gov. Byrnes unfortunate and regrettable but felt that refusal to approve would be construed as repudiation of the President and also that nomination of Rev. Archibald Carey should atone in part" for the Byrnes designation.

Basic Principle

"We deplore such evasion of a most basic principle," the NAACP official said, "Governor Byrnes' long career of intransigent opposition to the rights of Negroes, immigrants, labor and other minorities makes him the worst possible spokesman for American democracy in the United Nations at this crucial period of world history. His record is so bad that he will become the immediate and exceedingly vulnerable target of Communist and other critics of American democracy."

Further, Mr. White said in his telegram, "we deplore especially the failure of your committee to hold public hearings on Byrnes' nomination when full truth of his execrable record could be in part examined by the Congress and the Nation. We again urge that your committee not report to Senate today but hold hearings."

Protests Mount

Meanwhile, protests against the naming of Gov. Byrnes mounted throughout the nation as liberal groups made known their lack of confidence in the South Carolinian. Following the original protest to President Eisenhower on July 27 by the NAACP, other organizations expressed their opposition to the nomination.

In a telegram to the President, Emil Rieve, president of the Textile Workers of America, CIO, and chairman of the Philip Murray Foundation, charged that Gov. Byrnes "is outstandingly unqualified" for the post to which he was nominated.

Such a man, the labor leader said, "surely does not and cannot represent our country in the parliament of the world. Let us never forget

New SUI Study By Mail Catalog Is Out

Iowa City, Iowa.—The just-published 1953-54 "Home Study through Correspondence" bulletin of the State University of Iowa offers 183 university classes by mail to Iowa citizens.

J. Leonard Davies, director of the bureau of correspondence study, points out that the courses are designed for almost every person who believes that the acquisition of knowledge is a lifetime activity, and that 'you're never too old to learn'.

Men and women who left school early and who now might feel themselves "too old" to go to school but still want the personal satisfactions and advantages of increased knowledge, high school graduates unable to enter college immediately, teachers keeping in touch with new developments in their field, regular university students who have left school for a time—these are some of the people who have proved that they can profit from correspondence study, Director Davies observes.

As many as 30 semester credits toward the bachelor's degree and six credits toward the master's degree may be earned by way of the mails. During 1952-53 a total of 5,972 students took 6,566 Iowa correspondence courses, Davies notes.

DePorres Club in Omaha Continues Picketing of Reeds to Open Jobs to All

Omaha, Nebr.—An estimated eighty-five percent loss in business was reported suffered at Reed's Ice Cream plant and stand at 3106 N. 24th street, according to a De Porres club official who directed picketing of the plant every night last week.

The club which has been picketing Reeds for the past five weeks, plans to continue and expand its campaign to open employment to Negroes.

According to a story in The Omaha Star, weekly newspaper, pickets each night have difficulty walking as large crowds of sympathizers gathered.

Police cars appeared last Monday and Tuesday nights when Reeds reportedly complained of bricks and ball bats being carried by the crowd.

A club spokesman said none of the pickets had any type of weapon, nor did any of the crowd which gathered to his knowledge.

Ordered Off Sidewalk

Tuesday night a Cruiser Car rushed in front of Reeds where all was quiet and ordered everyone to move. The officer said Reeds had reported boys tapping on their windows. He asked who was in charge of the picketing and when referred to the president of the DePorres Club he ordered him to get off the sidewalk. Later a police Lt. arrived and explained that the group was within their rights as long as they did not block the sidewalk.

The Cruiser Car stayed on and a few minutes later a cruiser of traffic officers stopped in the middle of the street and talked to the officers. As the traffic car drove off slowly a teen-age boy, who was not picketing but watching from the corner, reportedly said, "Omaha's a funny town."

The police traffic car backed up and an officer grabbed the youth, Karl Watson. He told him he was under arrest. When Karl asked what for, the officer shoved him in the back seat of the Cruiser Car and said, "I'll tell you when I get you in here."

After Karl left the police station the president of the DePorres Club asked the officer of the arrest would

Replace White's 'Rising Wind' in Department of State's India Libraries

New York.—"A Rising Wind," Walter White's report on race relations among troops of the American Expeditionary forces in Europe during the World War II, has been replaced in the shelves of the Department of State's overseas libraries in India, John Foster Dulles, Secretary of State, has informed Mr. White.

In a letter to the NAACP executive secretary, Mr. Dulles writes: "I am assured that copies of your volume have been replaced on the shelves from which they were originally inadvertently removed."

Upon learning from newspaper reports in June that his book had been removed from the libraries of the State Department's International Information Administration in New Delhi, Bombay and Calcutta, Mr. White asked the Secretary of State why the book had been withdrawn.

In response, the Secretary of State assured Mr. White "that the Department of State issued no order to remove your books from any library," and promised a thorough investigation. He also told the NAACP executive that if the book had been removed "that action had been bearing on your loyalty, patriotism and contribution to racial understanding."

Under the new policy announced by the retiring International Information Administration Administrator, Dr. Robert L. Johnson, "controversial" books will not be banned from the overseas libraries, "if by controversy," the policy statement asserts, "we mean honest differences of opinion honestly expressed. It goes without saying that we must not confuse honest controversy with conspiracy."

Dr. Johnson's policy statement further affirms that "we in America have the privilege of talking about democracy as unfinished business. We leave to the totalitarians the necessity to boast of the complete fulfillment of their goals."

go on Karl's record? The officer then sent after Karl, who was half a block away, and had him locked in the bull pen. He had him booked for vagrancy and set his bond at fifty dollars.

Released But Returned

Karl was released after being advised by a police lieutenant to stay away from Reeds.

A crowd of several hundred persons gathered across the street from Reeds after the arrest. Five cruiser cars of officers were parked in front. The crowd dispersed when they heard Karl had been released.

Palmer Dismisses Case

The case was dismissed Wednesday morning by Judge Palmer. It was brought out in court that Karl was a Central High Student, living at home with his mother and charged by the police to be a vagrant.

Feeling Runs High

The court was packed with witnesses who had observed the arrest and with many community leaders. Feeling throughout the community has run high because of the arrest.

Picketing continued last week without any incidents, as police did not interfere.

The DePorres club has announced it will continue the campaign until Negroes work at Reeds.

Reeds In Des Moines

In a telephone message to the Reeds' company in Des Moines, this week, one of the plant secretaries informed the Bystander that of the 175 persons employed in the Reeds plant and sales stores, there is one Negro who does janitor—"scrubs and cleans up things."

Chicken Tropicale

During "August is Sandwich Month" tempt wayward appetites with Chicken Tropicale sandwich. A creation for the gourmet, it is chicken filling with its browned pineapple-cheese topping.

Warm weather time is sandwich time. Sandwiches vary from the simple hot dog to the elegant tea sandwich. Chicken Tropicale, pictured above, goes on the menu when you want a special star for company supper. This open-face sandwich is in the "elegant" class. We think you and your guests will agree that this is "sandwich gourmet."

Tender chunks of chicken and a subtle tang of minced onion combine with cream of celery soup for the "filling" of this sandwich. Heap of golden pineapple and grated cheese. Brown to a turn under the broiler while the last guests are arriving.

At the last minute, whisk this bit of epicurean fantasy to the table along with a summer-fresh fruit salad and cups of coffee. "August is Sandwich Time" so serve sandwiches often to your family and guests. To surprise and please all, create this Chicken Tropicale sandwich meal.

CHICKEN TROPICALE

1/2 cup milk
1/4 cup chopped onion
1/2 teaspoon paprika
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup crushed toast
Butter or margarine
Pineapple rings
1/2 cup shredded American cheese

Spread chicken mixture over toast slices. Top with pineapple ring. Sprinkle cheese over all. Sprinkle with paprika. Place under broiler until cheese melts and is lightly browned. Makes 6 sandwiches.

RED FEATHER PEN

It has been a good many years since I've enjoyed a picnic as much as I did the Golden Age Picnic at Ewing Park last week.

YOUTH . . . As I watched and later participated in a game of croquet with one gentleman 94 years young, I had a difficult time convincing myself that there was 65 years difference in our age. He moved around the course quickly and energetically with keen eyes and a sharp mallet, never once during the game did he falter or his pace lessen.

The other Golden Agers that participated in the several games of croquet were also outstanding in my mind. They possessed as much resilience as many younger groups with whom I have worked. Many of the Golden Agers definitely proved that it is not chronological age that makes a person old. At 80 or 90 there are many who possess the same mental and physical abilities of a person 50 years their junior.

Many different games were played throughout the afternoon, and as the day drew to a close they all sat on benches in a large circle and sang many of the old familiar songs that aren't heard too often anymore. Some might say that this group is a passing generation but they proved they are a very active generation who are extremely interested in world affairs, civic improvement, and group activities.

One of the amazing qualities I noticed was the compatibility and friendship of these senior citizens. Many had never seen each other prior to joining a Golden Age Club but to listen and watch them now, one would assume they had been lifetime friends. that the overwhelming majority of the world's people have skins of a different color than ours. Can we choose as a spokesman a man whose whole career demonstrates his conviction that color is a badge of inferiority?"

Urban League Asks

Robert W. Dowling and Lester B. Granger, president and executive secretary, respectively, of the National Urban League, sent a telegram to the President asserting that Gov. Byrnes' vulnerability "makes it imperative that his nomination be withdrawn by the President or rejected by the Senate." The governor's record, the telegram asserted, "has been so flagrantly and constantly opposed to the American ideal of equal opportunity that his membership in the U.S. delegation would make him an easy and inviting target for communist attack against the sincerity of his country's democratic professions."

The Jewish Labor committee, in a telegram to the President signed by Adolph Held, president, and Charles S. Zimmerman, chairman of the committee's anti-discrimination department, declared that Gov. Byrnes' "blatant identification with the forces of racial intolerance and human inequality will basically weaken the otherwise strong position of the United States" in the deliberations on the settlement of the Korea issue in the UN general Assembly.

Speaking for the members of the Hotel and Restaurant Employees Union, AFL, Hugo Ernst, general president, said that governor's "boldly advertised support of traditional segregation policies in the South render him unfit as representative in world forum where millions of colored peoples look to our country for guidance toward peace and world friendship."

Other protests were registered by Americans for Democratic Action, the Kansas State Conference of NAACP branches, Kansas Missionary Baptist Laymen's Association, Kansas Association of Colored Women, and the Schenectady, N. Y., NAACP branch.

In opposing the Byrnes nomination, Mr. White pointed out that the record of one of the other nominees as delegate, Congressman James P. Richards of South Carolina, is equally as bad as that of the governor though not so well known. Representative Richards has consistently voted against all civil rights measures in the House and against labor and social welfare legislation.

Record Summarized

As representative, 1911-25, consistently spoke and voted against anti-lynching bills and appropriations for Howard University; in 1917 opposed conscription, fearing mixing of troops; in 1919 asked Attorney General to prosecute editors of Crisis and Messenger because they demanded equal rights for Negroes. He further said that any Negro who "does not care to live in this land without political and social equality can depart for any country he wishes" because "90,000,000 white people are determined not to extend political and social equality to the 10,000,000 Negroes." As Senator, 1931-43, opposed minimum wage law; participated in filibusters against anti-lynching bills, 1935 and 1938. As Secretary of State, 1945-47, continued policy of restricting job opportunities for Negroes in State Department. As Governor of South Carolina, since 1951, maneuvered plan enabling state legislature to abolish public school system in case

Scout Leader Tells How 2 Des Moines Youths Were Made Ready for Jamboree

Two Negro Scouts from the East Des Moines Boy Scout Troop No. 5, which is under the leadership of Herman Wadsworth and Luther Clark, Jr., returned last Thursday from the third National Scout Jamboree for Boy Scouts of America, held at the Irvine Ranch in Santa Ana, Calif.

The two youths were Larry Talbert, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Talbert, 1015 E. Sixteenth street, and Bill Downey, 14, son of Mrs. S. B. Boyers, 1318 Stewart street.

According to Scout Leader Wadsworth, these two youths were chosen for the trip, first for their rank, both of them, First Class Scouts; segregation is banned. Spearheaded Dixiecrat revolt against Truman and Stevenson because of their advocacy of civil rights.

and, next, for their conscientious efforts to abide by the rules of scouting.

Made Possible

The trip was made possible through the efforts and contributions of a lot of "nice" people, revealed Wadsworth.

"I believe a lot of good deeds go unnoticed, but I really saw an excellent spirit of cooperation displayed a few weeks ago," commented Wadsworth.

"The amount needed for each Scout's fare to the Jamboree was $235 plus about seventy odd dollars for equipment, special Jamboree uniforms, etc; not to mention spending money for the boys while enroute and in camp, and medical examination fees.

"As late as last month, we hadn't dreamed of any of our troop's members making this trip," continued Wadsworth. "Then out of the clear blue sky, Mr. Earl Gritton, an East Des Moines attorney, called us and said that he, and some 'friends of scouting' could raise about $400 toward the fare of our boys, if we could raise the remaining $70.

"The only condition was, that we had to raise the amount in one day. Luther Clark and I began to rack our brains, for some way to get this money as quickly and as painless as possible," related Wadsworth.

Parents Proud

"When we told the parents of these boys about this great opportunity, they were both proud and happy, but the thought of raising the other expense money, in the face of everyday needs, was appalling. It was gratifying to see the willingness on the part of the Talberts to make the financial sacrifice, to insure their son's happiness.

"You know the cases of a lot of parents, that are willing to let their children enjoy themselves as long as it doesn't mean any sacrifice on their part. This wasn't so with the Talberts," commented Scout Leader

Wadsworth.

Scout Friends

Mr. and Mrs. Talbert made their contribution, then we 'drained' our troop treasury. Then we began to see just how many friends we had who were willing to help the cause of these youngsters," the leader related.

"Mr. Bonnie Herndon, the Troop Committee chairman, made a sizable contribution. Mrs. George A. Wells, a long-time devotee of Scouting in East Des Moines, and the Olympian club all did more than their share with cash contributions.

"The second boy, Bill Downey, being an orphan and a ward of the state, under the guardianship of Mrs. Boyers, made it necessary for us to get the approval of the state welfare organization.

"I called Mrs. Elizabeth Palmer, Iowa Child Welfare head, and explained the situation to her. She stated that she was indeed thrilled that one of her youngsters had been chosen for such an honor. She said that she would personally see that Bill had all the uniforms and cash necessary for this trip. Mrs. Cronk, another of the Child Welfare officials, under orders from Mrs. Palmer, took Bill down town and outfitted him completely. So our problem, which at first seemed insurmountable, was solved through efforts of a lot of good people and two 'swell' parents, and two 'lucky' kids were on their way," Scout Leader Wadsworth praised.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank the many friends for their kind expressions of sympathy at the death of Mrs. Dora Davis. They are deeply appreciated and gratefully acknowledged. Also thanks to Rev. C. E. Duke and Presiding Elder Ogletton; and to those who donated cars.

Latest Home Hobby Transforms
Old Nylons Into Lovely Flowers

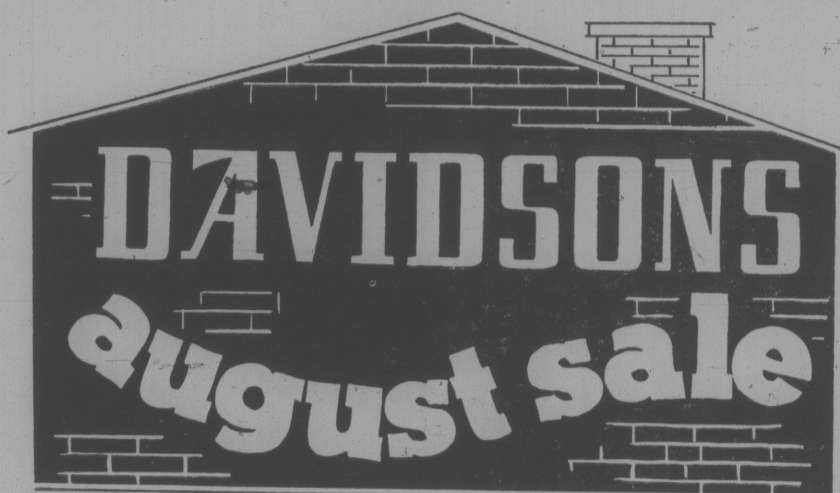

THERE'S NEW LIFE in those misshapen or torn nylon stockings you get from time to time. New hobby converts them into pretty, colorful flowers and corsages which you can use to adorn hats, gift packages and low vases—as shown in photo. They're staying also as boutonnières and as adornments for hair, wrists, dresses, jackets and coats.

Making the flowers is easy, inexpensive and full of fun. All you need besides the old nylons are a few boxes of color remover and all-fabric dye plus the usual tinting vessels, ordinary copper screening, floral tape, scissors and corsage pins. Floral centers can be colored crocheted cotton dipped in paraffin.

The Tintex Home Economics Bureau has published a free leaflet of instructions. About 10,000,000 leaflets have already been distributed, many to churchwomen eager to make the flowers for sale at fund-raising bazaars and parties, others to hospital convalescents and home shut-ins. Some alert housewives have even converted the hobby into a money-making enterprise.

You can obtain one or more leaflets from the Tintex bureau, by addressing it at 485 Fifth Ave., New York 17, N. Y.

Notes from vacationers on pretty picture cards are coming in from many parts of the country and residents—tired and tanned from their annual vacation trips are telling some interesting experiences of their weeks of going places and seeing things.

Greetings from "beautiful" Long Island, N. Y., were sent this week by Mrs. Louise Glass, 1517 Second street, who left Des Moines recently to make her first visit to New York, where her son, Oscar (Buddy) Glass, is employed at the United Nations. "Saw Harlem for the first time. You could find a million 'personal touches,' there," penned the Iowan.

From the West Coast, Mrs. Clifford White, who has relatives here, wrote, "Am enjoying my stay in Spokane, Wash. Weather here is very pleasant. Want to sleep all the time."

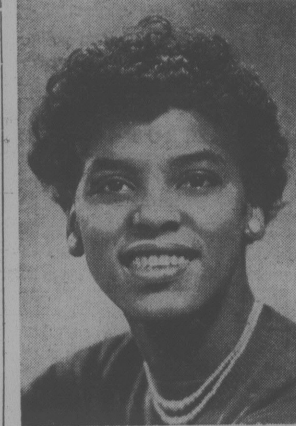

During Mrs. Fred D. Allen's vacation, from her clerking in one of the stock departments at the Youkers store here, she entertained a house guest at her home at 1162 Seventeenth street; then she and her husband motored the guest, Mrs. Blivian Burroughs, Birmingham, Ala., school teacher, to Lost Island for a fishing trip. Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Wilcots accompanied them.

Then the Allens hit the highway for Chicago, Ill., where they took their house guest to see the Brooklyn Dodgers and Cubs baseball game. Back in Des Moines, the Allens and Mrs. Burroughs were dinner guests of the Fletcher Thomases, and were feted by the H. McCowans.

The vacationers attended a family breakfast at Union park and Sunday services at the First Methodist church.

Municipal Court Bailiff Herschel Hubbard, 1130 Eleventh street, was back to work this week, "all thrilled" after his vacation trip with his wife, Leola, who was also on a vacation from her position as secretary in the

MISS HELEN McDONALD
Miss Helen McDonald, daughter of M. Q. McDonald, 1061 Ninth street, returned recently from a vacation trip to Cincinnati, Ohio, where she spent seven days of her 14-day vacation.

Miss McDonald was the guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John Jerks, and niece, Sharon Kay.

While in Ohio, Miss McDonald went to the cities of Reading and Lockwood, also. She recalled many interesting sights and historical places; and described her trip as a "most enjoyable venture."

In Des Moines, Miss McDonald is employed by the Board of Education as a stenographer-clerk. She is a member of the Corinthian Baptist church where she is youth representative to the Des Moines Area Council of Churches, president of the B.T.U., and junior usher board and a member of the Melody Chorus there.

The four Iowans returned last Friday from a motor trip which took them as far as Hamilton, Ontario, Canada, where they went while "resting" at Idlewild, Mich. They visited in Chicago, Ill., Milwaukee, Wis., and in Detroit, Mich., with a friend, Mr. Jesse Anderson.

Mr. Hubbard was most impressed with Niagara Falls, N. Y., where he watched the "miracle" of the Falls on his first trip there. He said he took a "buggy ride—in a three-seated hack on two wheels, that held six people," all through the Falls. Then they went on to Buffalo, N. Y., and to Cleveland, Ohio, to visit his wife's relatives.

In Cleveland, he said he was "most impressed" again, to meet his wife's uncle, "who has seven children and sixteen grandchildren, all of whom live in the same apartment house—a 36-room building."

In Chicago, the Iowans saw the Brooklyn Dodgers baseball game. Of the whole trip, Mr. Hubbard commented: "I'm crazy about Niagara Falls and the Canadian country—with its beautiful motels with radio and television and everything."

The municipal court bailiff said he ate his "best meal" on the trip in Detroit, Mich., at the Gotham hotel. "It was a sirloin steak dinner—and there was something in the way they cooked the steak," Mr. Hubbard recalled and then he pondered and added, "maybe I enjoyed it so much because I was not paying for the dinner. Mr. Anderson wanted to take us down to the hotel for dinner—and when I got there and looked at the prices on the menu, I could not see a thing to order. Then Mr. Anderson said: 'I'll order something for you all.'"

Safety Habits Patiently and Wisely Taught May Save Child's Life

Afton Smith, Assistant Professor State University of Iowa Child Welfare Research Station

There are safety rules for carrying a gun, for driving a car, for crossing the streets, for riding a bicycle. If we don't observe these rules in this day and age, we don't live long. For this reason, it is a parent's responsibility to develop these habits as early as possible in a child's life.

A boy of around 13 years boarded the bus one day with his gun assembled (illegally) and sat with it pointed directly at his chest. When he left the bus he walked away holding the gun in a careless position. Had no one taught him any habits of safety?

Possibly the gun was not loaded and the boy thought caution was unnecessary. But a habit is learned by practicing it at all times. Somebody should teach him that if he carries a gun carelessly part of the time, he may forget to be careful when there is danger. Somebody should teach him how to handle a gun.

Two little boys around 9 years of age spent some time shooting at targets with their BB guns. Then they organized a hold-up game and playfully aimed at each other's heads. They did no harm, luckily, but were they not practicing bad habits of safety?

It is held by some authorities that if boys must be given toy guns, they home of Mrs. Hawkins on South Grammercy street was two blocks from Rochester; home of radio fame, so, the Iowans saw it. They also drove out and viewed homes of Mr. "B" Billy Eckstine, Nat King Cole. Hollywood and Beverly Hills district were also toured and the homes of several screen celebrities viewed.

"We also spent a day shopping in the big department stores in Hollywood. Passing through Colorado Springs, we got a glimpse of Pike's Peak and Castle Rock mountains.

"In all the trip was a stimulating, educational one," Miss Shepherd said.

To Catalina
A trip to the Catalina Islands and the beach were included. Other places of interest visited while on the coast were San Diego, San Bernadino, and a whole day spent in Tia-Juana, Old Mexico, where several souvenirs were purchased.

"Courtesy was extended in restaurants and motel visited all along the route going and coming except at Los Vegas, Nevada, where the Iowans were refused service in one of the restaurants and noted that Negro patrons were welcomed in the gambling casino's but refused service eateries. Miss Barbara Shepherd commented. In Cheyenne, Wyo., they got to see the stage coach that made its last run in 1865 from Colorado to Wyoming.

UNDERSTANDING IOWA CHILDREN

can be used to teach beginning lessons in Safety. Since children like to dramatize and pretend, why not teach him how to dramatize real safety rules? We cannot teach very effectively by lectures and scolding, but it impresses a four-year-old when his daddy patiently shows him how to play at pretend safety.

Dad's instructions and example impress older boys more than mother's lectures. They know plenty well that mother does not know how to hold a gun, and that managing a gun is a man's business. Boys like to do as their dads do. Here is a good chance for their dads to do some teaching. It requires patience and wisdom to develop responsible habits of any kind in a child. Safety habits patiently and wisely taught may save his life some day.

Homemade Peach Conserve is Ideal Gift

Each time you make a batch of this rich-flavored, quick-cooking peach and pineapple conserve, pack part of it in some interesting way for gift use.

For a bridal shower, for example, fill a measuring cup with the conserve and tie the recipe onto the handle. Or fill a couple of tall drinking glasses and give them, complete, with straw jackets or coasters.

For a hostess gift any time, or for Christmas giving (yes, Christmas is coming sooner than you think) pack a cute breakfast jam jar with the delectable spread.

Peach Conserve Tropical
Dice coarsely enough ripe peaches to make 6 cups (It will take about 4 lbs., or 8 to 10 medium-size peaches.) Mix with 1/2 cup canned crushed pineapple (not drained) in large kettle and cook 3 or 4 minutes, to soften the peaches slightly. Then add 4 cups C and H Pure Cane Granulated Sugar and 1 tablespoon lemon juice. And also, if you like, 1 or 2 tablespoons finely chopped candied ginger. Boil hard, stirring about 20 minutes, or until as thick as you like it. (Test by cooling a spoonful quickly on a cold saucer.) Let conserve cool in kettle, or pour into a shallow bowl. Stir occasionally while cooling, so fruit will absorb syrup, and won't float. Pack cold in small jars or glasses. Cover with thin coat of melted paraffin. Put on lids; label and date jars. Store in cool, dry, dark place. Makes 5 or 6 glasses.

CAUSES OF ACCIDENT ON HIGHWAYS

Iowans traffic death toll is exceedingly high this year as compared with 1952. In fact, each week ends finds the total rising five to six deaths.

Many causes are assigned for this wholesale slaughter of human beings. All contribute some and law enforcement officials are pleading daily for less speed and more care.

The Bystander has two suggestions which would help materially and they are essential in view of the fact that most of these accidents occur on the highways.

Careful observations indicate that too many people hold license to drive which would help materially and they are essential in view of the fact that most of these accidents occur on the highways.

Reckless drivers should be detected as quickly as possible and dealt with severely. It was certainly a disgrace that former President Truman had to be halted by a highway patrolman recently for reckless driving. Generally reckless people are daring, consider that life is cheap thus contributing to the danger of others who use care.

Officers should spot these drivers and hail them into court; authorities should revoke their license and take whatever steps are necessary to impress upon them that they must observe the law. There are certainly too many of these people on the highway. They cause untold trouble. These suggestions are not curealls by any means but their observance would help reduce the accident toll.

HIT DOGS ARE BOUND TO YELL

The governor of Virginia and Pennsylvania have lodged a complaint with Attorney General Brownell charging that the FBI and the Department of Justice have been overstepping their bounds by their investigation and prosecution for violation of civil rights. The charges were made during the recent governor's conference which was attended by President Eisenhower.

The governor of Pennsylvania was an original Eisenhower supporter and Virginia gave the President its electoral vote so each evidently felt that he has some influence with the administration.

The federal civil right law was passed because certain states failed and refused to protect the legal rights of some of their citizens. Of course under our system, the federal government has a right to do this when the states fall down on the job. And this is not only true of civil rights but also many other areas of law enforcement.

In view of the very poor job some states do in this field, and this is true in both of these states even though one is north of the Mason and Dixon line, both governors should be ashamed of this protest for it is an indication that as head of the executive department of their states, they are not doing a good job.

Mr. Brownell will hardly be swayed by these foolish appeals. On the other hand, he knows that Congress is not inclined to pass any new civil rights measures and since laws are on the statute books which can be used to get results, this is what he is after. And this was about the theme underlying President Eisenhower's campaign pronouncements.

SENATOR TAFT PASSES;
A GREAT LOSS

In the death of Senator Taft, one of the most colorful careers on the American political scene has been snapped out.

Senator Taft was brilliant, aggressive and resourceful. He understood fully what he advocated, played the game fairly and squarely and although many did not agree with him, they respected him as a formidable foe.

The senator was ambitious to become President and made three strong bids for the nomination. He was criticized on many occasions for his method of handling delegations from the South but the Senator was a politician, aligned with a strong combination and used every trick of the trade, short of dishonesty, to carry his point.

A great citizen has passed on.

Senator Taft

Republican Central Committee wrote:

"The death of Sen. Robert A. Taft came as a distinct shock to every living American. Even those who did not know him personally will agree that he was the greatest living statesman America has produced in the last 100 years. He considered everyone upon his worth as an individual and made no decision based upon expediency or political wisdom. The loss of his counsel will be felt by every living human being and the Republican party in particular."

'Gave Last Ounce'

J. G. Browne, Polk County Republican Central Committee:

"In the death of Robert Taft, Republican senator from Ohio, not only the nation, but the world has lost a great and valiant soul; his every effort was to make America great, and for this ardent endeavor, he was ofttime called an isolationist, but the record shows that his conception of life and the world was that a strong America was the key stone in the structure of a strong and peaceful world."

"The approach of his objectives were ofttime baffling to many, but he had the courage of his convictions, and win, lose, or draw, he fought boldly and courageously for them. Of course, he sometimes made mistakes, who is faultless? Let him who is without sin cast the first stone."

"Then again one would hear, 'what does he care, for the poor? He has always been rich.' In making a niche for one's self in life, wealth is ofttime more of a handicap than poverty. Ohio, an industrial state gave Taft the greatest majority ever given any other candidate in its political history, because the laws he had enacted took the power from the bosses and gave it to the rank and file of labor."

"Robert Taft's work is finished but in retrospect, we see the reflection of his being, his footprints are stamped indelibly upon the archives of history, for he gave the last ounce of devotion to God and country."

New Booklet For Blind Child and
His Parents

Washington, D. C.—Much of the unhappiness which a blind child and his parents may face is due to "the way the family and the community and the world act toward blindness," according to a new Children's Bureau leaflet, "The Preschool Child Who Is Blind."

Dr. Martha M. Eliot, Chief, Children's Bureau, Department of Health, Need Closets? Build 'Em!

THERE'S no need of walling just because your home hasn't enough closets! Fortunately, this shortcoming can readily be cured, especially if there's a man in the house who can use a saw, hammer and other simple tools.

Even in a room without any closet at all, there must be a corner in which the ingenious craftsman can construct one rather easily with the aid of modern building materials. If worst comes to worst, he can use the same construction principles outlined here to build a storage wall or a foot locker.

Materials often recommended for closets and similar built-ins are lumber and Masonite 1/4" Presdwood, an all-wood panel which has a reputation for "having what it takes." Made by exploding wood chips, these panels have no grain or knots, they are strong, abrasion-resistant and easily painted.

The only guide needed for making built-ins like closets and cabinets is to use large enough framing, about which your dealer can advise, and quarter-inch Presdwood. The vertical framing members should be 16 inches apart. Joints of the panels may be "cased" slightly with a sandblock, file or beveling plane. A slight gap at the joints is recommended for good installations.

Sliding doors may be made in the home workshop, following the same construction principles, or one may install manufactured doors with Presdwood surfaces finished in long-wearing, beautiful colors. They're ideal especially for a storage wall.

There's no need to be "closet hungry" when closets are so easily made!

THE DES MOINES
BRANCH NAACP Says:

Many people say the big difference between the North and South is that in the latter there is strict segregation so the Negro knows where he can and cannot go while in the North the situation is so spotty that he is not certain where he may go without meeting a rebuff.

That view is true of the South; it varies in the North depending upon the job Negroes and their friends have done to see that full citizenship, which includes no segregation, is enjoyed by all. Much depends upon law enforcement officials in the community.

The Des Moines Branch is desirous that violations of civil rights laws be reported promptly so they may be investigated promptly and appropriate actions taken.

It desires that Negroes take every advantage of what his town has to offer not confining their complaints to insignificant places but the best in town as well. And this observation is made because nobody has brought a complaint to the Branch involving a high class establishment yet. Some are as guilty as the cheap ones.

Few establishments in Des Moines discriminate against Negroes but it can't know who they are unless tests are made to find out.

Remember, the NAACP cannot handle cases it does not know about.

SPORTS

BY ALLEN ASHBY

We made one of our trips to see Brooklyn play the Cubs last week. Do you know that, ordinarily that is just about the best series in the National league. The Cubs play way over their heads when they meet the Dodgers. But this time the Brooks were hitting.

We would say that from our own limited experience in judging such matters that these Dodgers are the hardest hitting club since the days of the old Ruth and Gehring Yankees. In the game they lost 3-2, the difference was a couple of terrific drives that had they been a foot on the right side would have broken the game wide open.

Jackie Robinson hit one down the third base line that had the umpire not been so busy dodging, he would have called fair. But duck he had to because the ball almost deigned him, and no one can call a hit of that sort properly when he is four feet in the air.

Campanella hit a short that resulted in a double play because the ball was hit so hard that the man was caught less than ten feet off second. Then Miki of the Cubs made one of the best short field catches we ever saw. Oh yeah, and then there was a throw by Robinson from left field that all Campanella had to do was let light and drop his glove about six inches to trip the sliding Cub runner at the plate.

Yes, the Dodgers, have it this year. Gilliam at second base is faster than Robinson but is handicapped by his lack of size in making double plays and lost a couple that we saw because he couldn't throw over the runner instead of crowd him.

Had a swell visit with the Wadsworth family and grand dinner. The little one called Henri is now six feet and still growing. Made quite an all-around athlete at St. Elizabeth's school. Janice has blossomed out into a nice looking young lady and a student at Indiana university.

Education, and Welfare, announced issuance of the leaflet, one in the Bureau series designed to help parents who have a child with a handicapping condition. Others have been "The Child With Epilepsy," "The Child With Cerebral Palsy" and "The Child With a Cleft Palate."

The leaflet points out how the parent of a blind child can see that the blind child "is taught the skills and has the experience that will develop his abilities."

APPEAL TO REASON

I would appeal to reason—though it's rarely heard or seen, it's almost like the dodo bird, who saw a different scene. Of course we do not use the club—nor javelin or sling. That is too slow—of course we know, to gain the grief we bring. We club pedestrians with our cars, because they move too slow; and shoot at cows, a horse or man, they're big game don't you know. So now and then we have a war—to thin the population. It gets too tame, to shoot just game, there's not that big sensation. True—profits, power, all enter in, it is the slaughter season. The beasts who start war do not care, appeal? . . . they know not the reason!!

HEALTH FOR ALL

Black Eyes

If you have a black eye and a piece of steak, eat the steak. There are lots of jokes about it, but a black eye is not funny. It may be dangerous.

Cold compresses and the passage of time will cure most black eyes. Steak is an expensive type of compress. Wads of cotton or cloth, dipped in cold water, or an ice bag will serve the purpose. Place on the eye for 15 minutes every hour or so crown by shooting an 83 for the 18 holes play made necessary by the heavy rain on Sunday.

the first day. This treatment may prevent the bruise from looking worse than necessary. The only thing that can be done after the first day is to try to camouflage it with cake makeup or face powder and to try to suffer the jokes with good grace.

However, if vision is fuzzy or the eye is cut or painful, a doctor should be consulted at once. Otherwise, serious, permanent damage may result. Although the eye may hardly be discolored, a minor injury can cause serious damage. Even a light blow can be transmitted through the fluid of the eye with enough force to injure the retina. And a tear or separation of the retina means blindness forever in that part of the eye unless natural healing or surgery can put the separated part back where it belongs.

One of the miracles of modern surgery is the operation eye surgeons have devised to repair injuries to the retina. Tiny needles carrying an electric current are inserted through the outer coats of the eyeball in the vicinity of the torn retina. The heat induces scar tissue to form which joins the retina with the underlying tissue.

Often a number of these operations are necessary before vision is restored. It would be a lot simpler to duck the punch or turn on the light before walking into a dark room.
