IKE'S NEW 'BIAS COMMITTEE'

Begins Study of Federal Contracts

Governor Urged

GOVERNOR BEARDSLEY

Gov. William S. Beardsley was urged Sept. 9 to appoint a commission to study the question of religious or racial discrimination in Iowa.

A five-man delegation in an interview with the governor urged the immediate appointment of a committee to study the Fair Employment Practice Commission (FEPC) question and to report to the next state legislature.

According to Atty. James B. Morris, one of the committee, the governor said that he wanted to appoint a representative committee and for that reason had "to study" the question further.

Both Attorneys Morris and W. Lawrence Oliver asked the governor for "a larger share in state patronage matters," pointing out that "the patronage situation among Negroes was very unsatisfactory in that no major appointment had been made in any field."

Mr. Morris said the governor "looked with favor" upon the matter but refused to make any commitment.

Other members of the delegation were: A. A. Alexander, Dr. E. Thomas Scales and A. P. Trotter.

Soldier Buried Here

PVT. CARL C. BUTLER

Twenty-five-year-old Pvt. Carl C. Butler of Des Moines, was buried here Wednesday in Glendale cemetery, following services at the Estes & Son Funeral home.

Private Butler was killed Tuesday, Sept. 1, with 19 other soldiers who were being transferred for reassignment from Travis Air Force Base, Calif., to McChord Air Force Base, Wash., when the plane in which they were traveling crashed in a wooded section, 30 miles east of McChord

Spingarn Medalist Paul R. Williams Named to Public Housing Group by President

Washington. Paul R. Williams, of Angeles, the 1953 winner of the NAACP's annual Spingarn award last June, was one of the 20 persons appointed Sept. 12 by President Eisenhower to an advisory committee on government housing and programs.

One Iowan named was Robert B. Patrick, financial vice-president of the Bankers Life Co., Des Moines.

The advisory committee will draft recommendations for the extent to which the federal government should participate in meeting the housing needs of the nation.

The president said he will make additional appointments to the committee later.

Albert M. Cole, administrator of the housing and home finance agency, designated chairman.

"I have every expectation that such a review will develop for me a series of recommendations which will clearly identify the proper role of the federal government in this deal and outline more economical and effective means for improving housing conditions of our people," the president said.

Order Louisiana U. To Admit Qualified Negro Students

New Orleans, La.—Federal District Judge J. Skelly Wright last Friday ruled that Louisiana State university must admit any qualified Louisiana Negro to its combined college of arts and sciences and law courses.

The decision was handed down in a suit brought by A. P. Tureaud, Jr., a graduate of a New Orleans high school, who applied for admission to L. S. U. June 5.

Tureaud contended the combined course in arts and sciences and law offered by Southern university, a state-supported Negro college, were not equal to that at L. S. U.

To Install New Shiloh Baptist Pastor Sept. 27

The installation services for Rev. I. A. Harris, new pastor of Shiloh Baptist church, will begin Wednesday night, Sept. 23, at 8 o'clock, when the Rev. George Parish, and the choir of Maple Street Baptist church will be guests.

Other guest ministers and choirs will be: the Rev. C. Saunders and the Corinthian Baptist choir, Thursday, Sept. 24; Rev. Wayland Heath and Oralabor choir, Friday, Sept. 25.

The Rev. E. A. Henry of Fayette, Mo., will deliver the installation sermon Sunday afternoon, Sept. 27, at 2 o'clock. Music will be by the Shiloh Baptist choir. The services are open to the public.

The Rev. Mr. Harris succeeds the Rev. C. A. Record, recently retired pastor.

Laud POW For Red Defiance

New York, N. Y.—Sgt. Manson Johnson, 967 Gates Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., who as a gesture of defiance used paper from Chinese Communist magazines to roll his own cigarettes, captors handed him in the POW camp, returns home from Korea to have his arms filled with Old Gold cigarettes.

Shown with Sgt. Johnson upon his arrival at La Guardia Airport is his father, the Reverend William Johnson, pastor of St. Paul's Disciples of Christ Church in Brooklyn. Making the presentation of "Old Golds," but not shown in the picture is Bradford

P. Laws, first Negro to serve as a United Nations War Correspondent. Shot in both hands prior to his capture in Northwest Korea in December, 1950, Sgt. Johnson stated that the Communists screamed and threatened to throw him into solitary confinement for his actions. "Those people don't believe about the Bible," said the 28-year-old soldier.

will be held in October to plan for a fall conference-meeting of the state conference of branches. Wilmer S. Johnson is state president. Mrs. Clifford Bayles is state program chairman.

Rules Negro Player's Rights Not Violated

Hot Springs, Ark.—United States District Judge John Miller last Friday threw out a Negro pitcher's claim that his civil rights were violated when the Cotton States league refused to allow him to play on with the Hot Springs Baseball club.

Miller ruled that pitcher Jim Tugerson's "rights claimed to be violated are not rights guaranteed under the constitution of the United States." Tugerson sued the league for $50,000 damages.

Chicagoan Wins Baptist Presidency

DR. JOSEPH J. JACKSON

Miami, Fla.—Dr. Joseph J. Jackson, pastor of Olivet Baptist church in Chicago, Ill., won the coveted presidency of the National Baptist convention, U.S.A., Inc., following an all night marathon election session in Miami's Dinner Key auditorium. Jackson, for many years served as vice-president of the convention under Dr. David V. Jemison, the retiring president for 14 years.

Consider Complaints on D. C. Phone Company and S. C. Atomic Energy Plant

Washington, D. C.—(CNS)—The Eisenhower Administration's "Bias Committee," which is headed by Vice-President Nixon, hopes to be a concrete contribution to progress in civil rights, begins its work this week by review studies of Government contracts, as made under the Truman Administration.

The studies made under Truman show that though the anti-discrimination law was in effect in regards to government contracts, it was not always executed. These studies like's new committee will first review.

The new committee has also revealed that it plans to operate not only in Washington but in other cities so as to get the opinions of local citizens and government contractors in many areas. For besides being a committee to receive complaints of discrimination and to help make the non-discrimination provision of federal contracts more effective, the committee also ties in an education program to employers, labor and other groups.

For it is known that Ike has no intention of a compulsory fair employment practice law. His idea is to persuade influential people. Members of the group are Vice-Chairman J. Ernest Wilkins, the only Negro; Walter Reuther, Pres. of the CIO and George Meany, Pres. of the AFL; John D. McCaffery of International Harvester and Mrs. Helen Reid of the N. Y. Herald-Tribune.

ATOMIC ENERGY

Washington.—As one of the first items on the agenda for its September 14 meeting, the President's Committee on Government Contract Compliance has been asked to consider pending complaints submitted by the Washington Bureau of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People against the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company in Washington, and the companies in charge of atomic energy facilities in Aiken, S. C. and Paducah, Ky.

The request was presented to Vice President Richard M. Nixon, chairman of the Committee on Government Contract Compliance by Clarence Mitchell, director of the NAACP's Washington Bureau.

In making the request for a hearing, Mr. Mitchell explained that these cases had been pending before the Committee under the Truman Administration and a considerable amount of work had been done on them. He expressed the opinion that solution of these two important problems at the outset of the Committee's work would pave the way for highly effective action in other industries.

In the Washington Telephone case, the company consistently advertises for telephone operators but has refused to employ colored women for this work even though some of them have had practical experience as telephone operators in other cities.

Urge Extensive Legislation To Give Migrant Laborers Standard Rights, Benefits

Rochester, N. Y.—Extensive revision of legislation covering migrant farm labor in New York State is proposed in recommendations prepared for submission at a hearing today before the Joint Legislative Committee of the New York State Legislature on Migrant Labor by Herbert Hill, labor relations assistant of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Mr. Hill urged enactment of a law to license and regulate labor contractors, establishment of state contractual forms between labor agents and migrant workers, expansion of the child care services for children of migrant workers, enforcement of minimum standards for housing and sanitary facilities, enactment of a law "requiring employers of migrant labor to guarantee each worker registered 160 hours of agricultural or related work in each four-week period," and amendment of the State Labor Relations Act to give migrant workers the right to organize for collective bargaining.

Disregarded

Charging that existing laws are widely disregarded, Mr. Hill said that this "lack of vigorous law enforcement is tantamount to a tacit collusion between the state government and the criminal labor agents and those upon whose behalf they function." Too often, he charged, the labor contractor "is in reality a kind of twentieth century slave trader trafficking in human misery."

Speaking on behalf of the national office and the New York State Conference of NAACP branches, Mr. Hill entered vigorous protest against the Report of the New York State Joint Legislative Committee on Migrant Labor. The section of the report dealing with the Negro family, he asserted, "is a shoddy collection of gross historical distortion and unmitigated falsehoods and constitutes a vicious attack upon the entire Negro community under the imprint of an official document of the State of New York."

The NAACP labor relations official cited, among others, the following

It's Doughnut Time

Long Johns and Bismarcks are two members of the popular doughnut family. They're exceptionally fluffy and tender because they are made from a sweet yeast dough.

Doughnuts are one of the best breads invented to go with hot fragrant coffee, rich cocoa, or just plain chilled milk. Both cake and yeast-type doughnuts are available in variety from the bakers, but they are fun to make at home now and then. Doughnuts are appropriate for informal parties at which they are guaranteed to disappear by the dozens.

A bit of nutmeg is added for spice to the sweet yeast dough used for yeast doughnuts, Long Johns and Bismarcks. Today's recipe tells how to use the one dough for plain doughnuts with the hole, twists, Bismarcks, and Long Johns. When cool, roll plain doughnuts and twists in granulated sugar, or cinnamon and sugar. Sprinkle Bismarcks with powdered sugar and frost Long Johns with confectioners' sugar icing.

To check the temperature of the fat used for frying doughnuts without a thermometer drop a one-inch cube of bread into the hot fat. If it browns in 60 seconds, the temperature is right for frying doughnuts.

YEAST DOUGHNUTS

2 packages yeast, compressed or dry
1/2 cup lukewarm water
1 cup milk
1/2 cup sugar
2 teaspoons salt

2 eggs, beaten
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind (if desired)
1/2 cup melted shortening
3 cups sifted enriched flour (about)
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg

Soften yeast in lukewarm water. Scald milk. Add sugar and salt. Cool to lukewarm. Add 2 cups flour and nutmeg. Mix well. Add softened yeast, eggs, and lemon rind. Beat well. Add shortening. Mix well. Add more flour to make a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead until satiny. Place in greased bowl, cover and let rise until doubled. Punch down. Let rest 10 minutes. Roll out to 1/2 inch thickness and cut with doughnut cutter for plain doughnuts. For twists, roll small portions of dough under the hand and twist the dough back on itself. For Bismarcks, roll the dough 1/2 inch thick and cut into pieces 1 inch wide and 3 inches long or cut with a biscuit cutter. Let rise until doubled, and fry in deep fat (375° F.). Makes about 3 dozen doughnuts.

RED FEATHER PEN

C.W. SCHNEIDER

The American Red Cross, one of the 38 Services that participate in the United Campaign of Greater Des Moines has a program that offers a great deal of assistance to many of our Des Moines citizens and others throughout this great United States.

According to one of their reports released recently, the volunteer power of thousands of Polk County men and women, dedicated to the idea of serving others, is the greatest single strength behind the symbol of the Red Cross. At the core of this great voluntary effort are the organized groups that comprise the Red Cross Volunteer Services—groups who give their time and services with no thought of reward other than the satisfaction of helping others. You'll find them almost everywhere . . . showing their belief of humanity in action . . . they are:

For Servicemen and Veterans—The Polk County Chapter has experienced a steady increase in the number of cases involving servicemen and their dependents since 1950. Services furnished included reporting and communication, assistance with applications for government benefits, counseling and financial.

Disaster Relief—The Chapter's Disaster Committee is required to be prepared to assist in any disaster, whether it be local, state, or national.

Safety Services—The Chapter's Safety Services, which includes First Aid, Accident Prevention and Water Safety, instructed over 5,000 children in the free "Learn to Swim" program during the past summer and issued approximately 2,000 First Aid certificates through instruction at various schools, clubs, business and industrial firms in the city and county. The Chapter also maintained its Emergency Hospital and First Nursing Services—One of the most important developments of the Nursing Services, which includes the enrollment of volunteer nurses for home nursing instruction, is the plan for recruitment of nurses for disasters and the emergency period during polio epidemics. A course in Home Nursing under Red Cross supervision is given at the Drake Community College.

Junior Red Cross—This is Red Cross in the schools on an educational level, correlating its various activities into the school curriculum along with being a part of the community through projects which include participation in recreational programs at the Veterans Hospital, Broadlawn Hospital and the Polk County Home. Junior Red Cross members also assist the Polk County Society for Crippled Children day camp and other welfare activities.

Service Groups Include: Gray Ladies—in addition to Red Cross activities, the Gray Ladies participate in many community organizations such as Veterans Hospital, County Home, Broadlawn Hospital, donating their time to the ill by reading to them, writing their letters and assisting in recreation periods.

Nurse's Aides—Volunteers who have received 80 hours of nursing service instruction, they assist in emergencies in the hospitals.

Social Welfare—Volunteers with social welfare background help in Home Service case work through visits to families of servicemen, securing social history and reports for the armed services and federal agencies.

Motor Corps—This group serves in all Chapter activities and in many Community Chest projects and for other organizations that need help in meeting rehabilitation problems of the underprivileged.

Production Center—Volunteers in this group are responsible for making garments, surgical dressings and knitted articles for the armed forces, VA hospitals and military hospitals. Thousands of surgical dressings were made last year for the Des Moines VA hospital, Public Health nurses and other community health groups.

Staff Aides—Clerical volunteers, they assist in all phases of Red Cross work, from hospital library functions to preparation of blood for shipment to the armed forces.

Entertainment—Red Cross chapter volunteers participated in many events at hospitals and other community projects during the past year to lighten the hours and make the days more cheerful for the ill and the aged. Professional entertainers joined forces with other volunteers to visit hospitals on an average of once a week. Games and materials for hobbies have been provided by Junior Red Cross.

Tallahassee, Fla.—The above group of striking photographs symbolize the objectives of America's newest university—The Florida Agricultural and Mechanical University—formerly The Florida Agricultural and Mechanical College. Realizing that education is designed to improve the quality of individual and social living, The Florida Agricultural and Mechanical University assumes as its function the development of men and women for productive citizenship, effective service, and responsible leadership. In seeking to carry out the above function, The University has organized its program to assist the student: (1) To develop positive attitudes relative to personal and community health; (2) To become more effective in the understanding and use of the methods and symbols of communication; (3) To understand and appreciate the social heritage and the importance of individual integrity and respect for personality in its development; (4) To develop appreciation of and devotion to higher ideals of moral and spiritual life, as well as appreciation of the finer expressions of the human mind; (5) To develop habits of critical thinking that may be applied to the solution of individual and social problems; (6) To develop those understandings and skills that are necessary to the business of making a living; and (7) To contribute to greater human welfare through creative and interpretive research. New Baptist Church Formed In Mason City

Mason City, Ia.—Mt. Zion Baptist church was organized September 4th. The Rev. E. D. Purnell of Chicago, Ill., presided. Services are being held in the basement room or rooms at Second and Federal Ave., S. E. Fifteen members were present. Deacons and trustees are: Reed Allen, W. B. Martin, Robert Schuler, J. A. Ashford. The president of the missionary society is Mrs. Estella Schuler. The Sunday School superintendent is Reed Allen; B.T.U. president, Ida May Schuler; pianist, Lonell Schuler; president of choir, Mrs. I. Martin; church clerk, Ruby E. Macer.

Rev. Purnell is to return Sept. 24 to install the new officers and on Sept. 27 will begin a five-day revival. He is a former professor of theology in the department of religion of Jackson (Miss.) college. He also was dean of religious instruction at Natheze college for two years and for four years was theological director of the Industrial college in Greenville, Miss.

Next Sunday services at Mt. Zion will be in charge of the missionary society, Mrs. Schuler, president.

Mrs. Ruby Macer will visit her son and wife in Detroit, Mich., for a three or four weeks.

Mr. C. D. C. Ashford has been visiting his brother, Mr. J. A. Ashford at Garner, Iowa. He will return to Chicago not later than September 22 where he makes his home with his daughter, Mrs. Cleola Moore.

Mrs. Charles Bennett, Mr. Laval Tate are week end visitors in Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

Screen for Nursery

A FOLDING screen is mighty handy to have in the nursery, where it can be used to keep drafts off the crib and as a shield against light, noise and activity.

Like the one in the illustration, the screen may be made in the home workshop and neatly decorated by means of decalcomanias or stencils. Panels without the nursery characters may be finished with blackboard slating material, so the pre-school child will have a place to draw.

Materials for this simple device may be obtained in any lumber yard—1 by 2-inch lumber for the framing and crossbars, Masonite

Tempered Duolux, a durable hard-board that's smooth on both sides, and the hardware. The panels, after being cut to size, are inserted in grooves which have been cut in the framing with a power saw.

The stick-on pictures are available at paint and hardware stores, which are sources also for stencils used in hand-painted work. Major paint companies make slate surfacing material, which simply is brushed on the Masonite Duolux with a brush after the panel has been prepared with two coats of clear sealer.

Fort Dodge Civic Group Holds First Meeting Of Season

Fort Dodge, Ia.—The Fort Dodge Interracial Commission had its first meeting and program last Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the YMCA.

The two principal speakers who addressed the Interracial group were: Vern Gielow of KVFD-KFMY radio station, who talked to the group on the new television station "soon to be in operation here, and Frank Judith, adult education director of the Fort Dodge High school who discussed "Adult Education." Bobbie McDermott gave two vocal solos, "Trees" and "I Believe."

after visiting relatives in San Diego, California.

Young McDermott was accompanied by Mrs. Blanche Kinkner, who also played for the group singing. Harry C. Meriwether, the new president of the commission effectively presided. Meriwether succeeded the Rev. J. Gordon Milldrum to head the civic group.

Other new officers of the interracial commission beside the president, are:

Mrs. Annell Banks, vice president; Mrs. Lettie Thompson, secretary, and Mrs. H. L. Bergeman, treasurer.

FULL CITIZENSHIP FOR ALL!

"Equal Justice." Those words are inscribed on the U. S. Supreme Court building—but not on the hearts of every American citizen! Juries have convicted, and judges condemned, many Negroes on grounds later held to be in direct violation of the U. S. Constitution. And state laws have been re-written to allow the same injustices under different circumstances! This, you might ask, is America?

Yes.
For there is a bright side, a right side, too. Step by step unsung and overburdened lawyers of the N.A.A.C.P. Legal Defense staff have fought forward to thirty-one victories out of the thirty-five cases they have argued before the Supreme Court! Each victory has affected the basic citizenship of every Negro in America! And very soon they will appear in Washington again, championing the rights of Negroes in five more vital cases still to be decided.

And then there will be more.

If you feel a little proud of these men as you read this, you should also feel a little humble—for they are lending their great talents without thought of profit to themselves when they could easily be gaining independent wealth and prominence in private practice.

The work they are doing they will do—so long as they can. But they are desperately in need of money to fight on. If you would have them take another step forward on your behalf, securing the good life for your children, then you must be willing to help. Now.

What greater worldly achievement could you contribute to in this life, in this wonderful land of ours, than to the everlasting fulfillment of Full Citizenship For All?

She runs her home from an iron lung

Two growing boys are a handful for any mother. They were more than that—until recently—for Mrs. Martha Hayes. A victim of polio, she can move only her head. "A telephone would help," she told friends, "But how could I use it?"

Then someone brought the story to the telephone company—with wonderful results. Engineers and installers replaced the "receiver" with an operator's headset and a small switch that clamped right on the iron lung. To "lift" or "hang up" the receiver Mrs. Hayes brushes the switch lever with her cheek; to talk, she turns her head to the mouthpiece.

Now the courageous mother says, "I order groceries by phone... even tell the barber how I want Bobby's hair cut. With my telephone, I really feel independent!"

Although names have been changed to protect the privacy of persons mentioned above, all other facts are true. The telephone men who "invented" Mrs. Hayes' phone may be working in your town—for this story is just an example of the value of telephone service and the spirit of the men and women behind it.

To provide telephone service so important to people like Mrs. Hayes—and to you,—your telephone company must pay good wages for skilled workers, buy and maintain good equipment. We must have reasonable rates to keep service good today, to continue to look for new ways to serve you better... to continue to make your telephone worth more than its costs.

Do you know a true telephone story like this? Send it to Northwestern Bell Telephone Co., Omaha, Nebraska.

In the week end mail was a note from the personnel manager of Meredith Publishing company—the company that publishes the magazines Successful Farming and Better Homes and Gardens.

The name signed was Phil Starbuck—and immediately my mind flashed up to Camp McCoy, Wis., where recently I had the pleasure of meeting the lieutenant colonel in the mess hall—around the officers' table during meals.

He said in his note: "Your story of Camp McCoy was good. From reading it, I would say that you must have enjoyed your visit there as much as we enjoyed having you and the other members of the 'Press Lift'."

The Iowa Military District's press-lift reached Camp McCoy before noon on Aug. 26, where, after posing for a photo, taken by a colored official camp photographer, the seven Iowa men, three Camp McCoy men and myself boarded the Post Run bus and drove through miles of 63,000-acre United States Army summer camp.

Along the way could be heard the booming sound of guns and ammunition being fired.

The civilian post information officer (PIO) would point to vast areas where men from Iowa and Minnesota in reserve training of the 103rd infantry division were studying some of the problems of mortar and howitzer firing—artillery gunnery—where engineers in demolition units were preparing to discharge TNT.

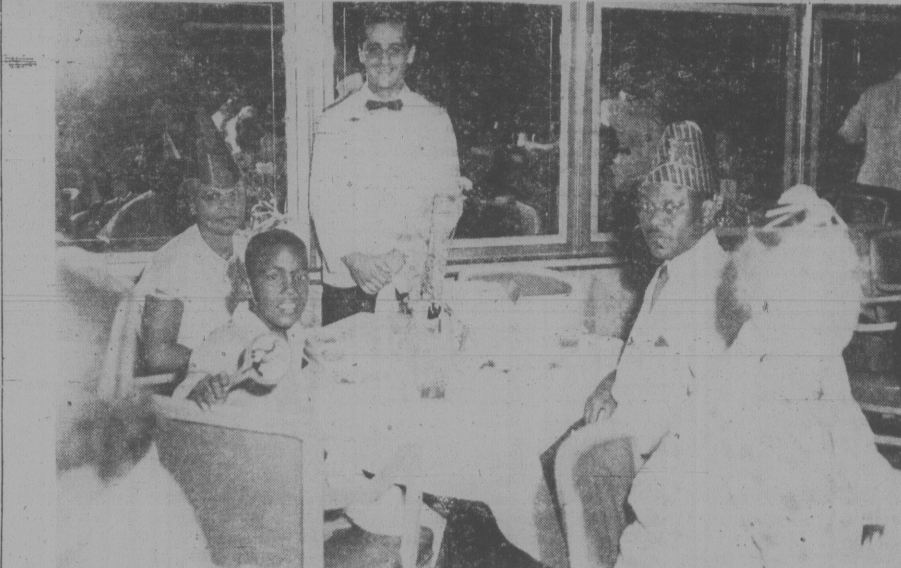

As the sound of the guns would fade in or away—it gave me a very creepy, uneasy feeling. I would ask the PIO if he was sure that the gunners knew that a bus with passengers was on one of the roads in the area? He would smile and nod.

Soon we had reached the Post Information Office building where the visiting Iowans met Captain Bill Morgan (WHO radio station announcer) who welcomed us, passed out press-kits and badges and briefed the group on plans for the afternoon's activities.

Enroute to the division headquarters, across the street, we ran into a group of officers and men with Colonel Harold E. Pride, assistant commander of the division. Colonel Pride, who, in civilian life directs the Student Memorial Union Building at Iowa State College, at Ames, welcomed each visiting Iowan with a greeting and a handshake.

He said he was glad to see me on trip and wondered if I was acquainted with some of the fine colored families in Ames, where he lives.

In the division headquarters office, I met, the visiting men knew, Maj. Gen. George H. Olmsted, of Des Moines, division commander.

Commander Olmsted was one of the few Iowa officers at Camp McCoy then, who had heard of the Iowa Bystander newspaper. He not only had read our weekly paper, but knew the editor and publisher, James B. Morris, he said.

Other officers would ask—when they spotted my press badge—"what syndicate do you represent? What outfit are you with?"

Then—Commander Olmsted praised the American infantry division as being the "finest division that has been put together."

"It can cover from the foot of ground where the soldier stands—to 15,000 feet," he said.

He urged the press to help the reserve training enlistments so that men would be acquainted with the new weapons, new army training methods and be in condition for quick recruitment.

"A good deal of emphasis is being placed upon night training," Commander Olmsted said, informing that the boys in Korea found that they had to sleep in the day-time and fight at night.

After a meeting with the division commanders, Captain Morgan escorted the group to a mess hall where the midday meal—dinner—was in session. In long lines with G.I.s, waiters filled the sections of the aluminum tray with potatoes, roast beef, green beans and salad.

At the officers' tables in the mess hall, we met more lieutenants, captains and colonels—some from Minnesota and some from Iowa.

Introductions and a lively conversation went up and down the table—and after the meal, each man picked up his tray, silverware, coffee mug and glass, crumbed the area, and then carried the piled tray to the kitchen.

"This is how it is done," Commander Olmsted instructed as he carried his tray, with Captain Morgan carrying mine into the kitchen. The commander went about the kitchen pointing out some of the modern equipment and men at work, grinding the yeast for the evening meal—supper.

The visiting Iowans met after dinner in the commander's private club, which he said we could use as headquarters—and return after retreat that evening—for a few refreshments.

At the door of the Post Information building, a small convoy of jeeps had lined up—waiting to start the visiting Iowans out on a general tour of the camp.

Now jeeps are very sturdy vehicles that will go over any kind of terrain—and much of the terrain at Camp McCoy was as rough and rugged as some of the earth in Korea, one of the men informed.

But, there was a technique to mounting a jeep—and it took me a little time to get the right swing. Soon Jeep Driver Charles Chalmers, sergeant first class, from Chicago, Ill., was praising the speed with which I could flop in and out of a

Garden Club's Canning Exhibit Next Friday

The Community Garden club will hold its annual fall opening program and canning exhibit Friday evening, Sept. 25, at 8 p.m. instead of Sept. 18, as formerly planned, at Wilkie House, Seventeenth and Crocker street.

Entries may be taken to the center on or before that date.

Mrs. Roy Briar, member of the Des Moines Garden club, will talk and give demonstrations on fall flowers and arrangements.

jeep, each time the convoy stopped in some training field.

One soldier suggested that I wear a pair of army shoes and slacks on my next trip to an army training center. How was I to know?

The first stop the jeeps made was along side of a dusty road where the visitors and army personnel watched a company of "new recruits" learning the fundamentals of combat training.

The day was windy and clouds of dust were rising as the men tramped on that desert-like field. The commander called the men to halt—and announced that the new recruits were learning how to buckle their packs on their backs, handle their guns and would have a demonstration in tent-pitching. He invited the press group to talk to any of the men.

Just as I spotted several colored soldiers in the mixed group of new recruits, I started towards them when a whirlwind of dust encircled me. I thought of the white-topped hat and my night-before shampooed hair. I had packed a tam to wear on just such an occasion—but I did not get to unpack my bag—at the guest house until that night.

But, on the dusty training grounds I met Privates Michael J. Kelley, Benjamin C. Pearson, Jr., and Archie Warden, all of Detroit, Mich., all learning to be soldiers.

The soldier in command called "attention" and the men fell back into their ranks. When the convoy of jeeps left the field a tent-pitching team was giving demonstrations to the new recruits.

Through wooded sections, over bumpy roads, the jeeps headed for the firing ranges.

Notes from Iowans

"Am having a wonderful visit in Little Rock, Pine Bluff, Arkadelphia and Hot Springs. The mountains are beautiful," wrote Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Tucker, 1100 School street, who are on a vacation trip.

From Miami

"Everything I've ever read about Miami, Fla., is true. It is the most beautiful city I've ever been in. I've seen orange, lemon, grapefruit, limes grow. I picked a coconut off a tree today. Beautiful beaches—but I was too big to put on swimming suit," penned Mrs. Dorothy Manuel of 1425 Maryland, who went to the National Baptist Convention at Miami and a vacation, thereafter.

The Leroy Carters Extended Courtesies On Vacation In L.A.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Carter and daughter, Myrtle, accompanied by Carol Ann Bettis and Mrs. Lena King, motored to Los Angeles, Cal., on a vacation and convention trip. Mrs. King was delegate from the Iowana Mona D-S league No. 126 to the National Beauty Culturists convention.

The Iowans were extended many courtesies. On their vacation tour, they visited Knotts-Berry farm, spent a day in Tia Juana, Mexico, went to Santa Ana, Beverly Hills, Compton, Hollywood and drove through Chinatown.

They renewed friendships with Mrs. Robert Taylor, the former Eleanor Stewart of Des Moines, and children, Robert, Jr., and Denise, who had moved from Santa Ana Air Base into their own home in Santa Ana.

The visited Mr. and Mrs. Ozzie Lewis and daughter, Patricia; Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Claybrooks of Compton in their newly built home. He is the son of Mr. J. A. Claybrook. They had dinner at "Bit of Sweden" on the fabulous "Strip" in Beverly Hills as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Hawkins. Mrs. Anna Claybrooks, and Miss Mary Black, all former Iowans.

They were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Holland in their home. They are owners of a Mobil-gas station.

"Pleasing sights" on the trip were the groves of oranges, lemons, grapefruit, lime trees, figs, avocados, English walnut trees, fields of Poinsettia, giant flowers, the beautiful colored mountains, the Bridal Veil falls just out of Provo Falls; "or, homeward bound a double scene of deer and fawn numbering some fifteen at one setting," Mrs. Carter commented.

"We had a brunch session with a fellow-member of our Iowana Mona D-S Beauticians league, Mrs. (Midge) Ruth Cole. She preceded us to the coast by two days, attended the institute, became a member of the sorority, represented the Iowana League and the state of Iowa styling at the Flonetime Spot in Hollywood. She was styled by Mrs. Rose Cook, one of the first to present herself at the white National Beauty Convention.

Mrs. Cole also accompanied the group to the NBC studios where they participated in the TV show, "Ladies Choice." She reported the California Creative Designed Show held at the Golden State Building as the "most fabulous hair styling and cutting of 1953."

The Rozenting Hardaways Celebrate Silver Anniversary On Cruise To Bermuda

When the T.S.S. Ocean Monarch sailed August 8 from New York bound for the Bermuda Islands, with 360 or more vacationers, on board was a prominent Des Moines family, Mr. and Mrs. Rozenting Hardaway and son, of 1128 Eleventh street.

Mr. and Mrs. Hardaway were celebrating their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary—and this year they planned "something different" to do—for the occasion.

After two days on the Atlantic Ocean, the ship reached the Bermuda Monday morning where buses were waiting to take the passengers on sight-seeing tours about the city.

Their first stop in Bermuda was a manufacturing plant that makes perfume from the Island's most favorite flower, the Passion flower.

Then show places like Devil's Hole, filled with many varieties of fish; through a cave in which two lakes flowed, where the visitors could see the bottom, fifty-feet deep; to an aquarium with more of the Island's fish—and a zoo, with the Island's animals and fowl.

What Mr. Hardaway, operator of the Hardaway's Tonsorial parlor, noted first, was the water supply and how it is handled in the Bermudas.

Water Supply

"Most of the homes are built with drains through which the water runs into a tank in the basement. Even the local army catches the water from the white coral rocks on a hillside in the Bermudas," the Iowan noted.

The Iowans went to Hamilton, the chief city, which is the seat of the British governor of the Bermudas. Nine Negroes are in the parliament there, the Hardaways learned.

"We ate at a very nice place called The Spot," shopped around and "found that there was prejudice on the Island, too."

Mrs. Hardaway said they started walking around—looking for a place to eat—then they asked an Englishman who commented that "we have quite a situation that we are ashamed of." Then he recommended them to the place called "The Spot."

"After spending all day there, we returned to the boat where we had a stateroom. I found that the steward had made our beds and each evening had a big bowl of fresh fruit waiting for us," Mrs. Hardaway said.

On the boat was a swimming pool, theater, bars, dancing, horse races and many features for the evening's entertainment, the Hardaways said.

Religious services were held on Sunday morning.

The Iowans said they spent the next day on the Island, sight-seeing in one of the tiny English cars, driven by a native tourist.

Confused

Mr. Hardaway remarked that the "highways are very narrow" and what confused him most—was that "all of the driving is on the wrong side of the street."

The Iowans went to St. Catherine where they swam in the beach and played in the pink sand.

Mrs. Hardaway said she will never forget the beauty of the Passion flower—and the many flowers that are grown here as house plants, are so beautiful that they are trimmed up as hedge in Bermuda.

"Mr. Hardaway was most impressed with sailing on the Atlantic ocean. 'You are just in another world that you dream about,' he said."

In New York City, the Iowans took time to go through the United Nations building. They were shown social courtesies by Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Richards in New York City, Mr. and Mrs. Bayles of Jamaica, N. Y., Mrs. Maude Matthews of Cornia, N. Y. They were taken on a sight-seeing trip by Mr. and Mrs. W. Parrish of New York City; were house guests of Mrs. Ethel Noble who gave a birthday party honoring Mrs. Hardaway. They spent a week end in Atlantic City, N. J., and went to Hyde Park, N. Y., to see the estate of the late President Roosevelt; walked up to the eyes of the Statue of Liberty; and saw the Giants and Yankees in a baseball game.

DES MOINES CANNOT AFFORD THIS

America still has a lot of people who believe this country can go it alone—live in peace without the help of other nations. They are unwilling to accord United Nations or any other world organization jurisdiction over any of their way of life and yet world co-operation requires that.

When U. N. was organized, America insisted on the veto power in the Security Council as a means of getting the U. S. Senate to approve the document. But we never dreamed that another nation, Russia, would use the weapon, concocted for America, to beat us over the head with.

Sporadic examples of isolationism occur here and there which point up the blind position its sponsors occupy. Recently, some delegates to the American Legion convention at St. Louis took the occasion to lambast UN declaring the U. S. should pull out and go it alone. This, of course, is ridiculous for any movement which provides an open forum for the discussion of problems of nations is better than none at all though not perfect.

Here in Des Moines, the hoary head of isolationism arose when the officers of a very fine church decided to deny the use of its auditorium for an address by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt because she was scheduled to speak on the UN charging that it was a controversial and/or political issue. They announced that the board had adopted a rule to that effect several years ago.

But when the light of publicity fell upon the board, they reversed themselves and proffered the use of the auditorium. It is not clear whether the rule was changed or that their interpretation that UN was not a controversial and/or political subject had changed.

In any event, it is well that the board did change its stand. It is hoped that this means their attitude toward UN for this church is to fine an organization, its membership comprises to fine a group of men and women to allow themselves to be led by a few in authority who spend all of their time looking at the hole rather than the donut.

SPORTS DEMAND THE BEST

Daily newspapers in Chicago as well as the Negro newspapers have chided the Chicago Cubs for their failure to include any Negroes on their roster. In fact, the criticism became so acute that the Cubs were forced to do something about it.

Results: two Negroes, Roberts and Bank, have been brought to Chicago to join the Cubs.

Recently, Detroit has secured its first Negro player; Philadelphia has followed suit.

Of course, there are good reasons. After all a team wants to win games and if a Negro happens to be the best player, good sense dictates that he be given the assignment.

Then, too, there is the economic reason. Negroes in Chicago have pulled for Brooklyn as against the Cubs, the attendance being poor when teams with no Negro players were playing. Philadelphia has had a poor season financially being almost a quarter of million paid admissions down, and yet with a Negro population of a quarter-million, few attend the games.

For years, Negro newspapers have talked about the Negro market. Judging from the ads which appear in those papers today business has been sold. Undoubtedly, baseball is learning that there is money to be made using Negro players which they would not get otherwise.

Since the Cubs have made this move, it is hoped that the Des Moines Bruins, a farm team of the Cubs, will include some Negro players in 1954.

TAKE OUR RESPONSIBILITY WITH BENEFITS

The Bystander has always taken the position that every citizen has a responsibility to his community; that he cannot expect to enjoy the fruits of the combined efforts of his fellow townsmen without making a contribution to the job of making that a fine community.

This is true of the things a community approves as worthy and agrees to support.

Thus, the drive becomes a responsibility for the City of Des Moines.

The sponsors of the United Negro College Fund, which began its drive this week, secured the approval of the Chamber of Commerce to conduct solicitations. The affairs of the United Negro College Fund are so conducted that donations do reach their intended donors and there is an accounting to all the schools and the public of these funds. In fact the caliber of the men heading the national and local organization guarantees that.

Undoubtedly the goal of $5,000 will be met. But it is important that Negroes give a fair share of the money. They are able; they are the chief beneficiaries.

New TV Station KOTV, Channel 17, On Air In October

Des Moines' new television station, KOTV, Channel 17, will be on the air about the last week of October, serving this community. Television Station KOTV is now under construction at Second Avenue and Hobson Drive in Des Moines. In order that television sets may be tuned and equipped to receive Channel 17, a test pattern for the benefit of servicemen will be telecast beginning early in October.

The station plans to carry an extensive programming of network and locally produced shows which, according to S. H. McGovern, station manager, will be something new in television for the people of this community. McGovern said that UHF telecasting offers interference free reception—that is man-made interference such as vacuum cleaners and electric razors have no effect upon the performance of a UHF picture. Likewise he said violent lightning storms have no effect upon a UHF picture.

He urges that television set owners here contact their serviceman so that their sets will be equipped to receive channel 17 the first day the station goes on the air.

"Those who delay may be disappointed," he added, "as experience in other cities where UHF stations have come on the air has resulted in a last minute rush for converters which not only exhausted the supply on hand but also log-jammed the television servicemen making the installations. All local television servicemen are equipped to make prompt modification of the present VHF television receivers," he said.

E. FREDERIC MORROW

Washington, D. C.—Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks Sept. 14 administered the oath of office to Everett Frederic Morrow of Hackensack, New Jersey, as an adviser on business affairs for the National Production Authority.

This is a new position in the Commerce department as a result of reorganization of the continuing functions of the National Production Authority. Mr. Morrow, a Negro, will act as a liaison between the Commerce, Department and other agencies of the Federal Government.

Mr. Morrow will engage in broad studies directed toward the development, evaluation and improvement of the NPA's Business Services Program, particularly from the standpoint of problems confronting specific business groups and geographical areas.

In his new post in the Commerce Department, Mr. Morrow will serve as a staff assistant working on programs designed to rectify conditions which may adversely affect business growth and stability.

Mr. Morrow comes to the Department from the Columbia Broadcasting System where he has served as a research analyst and consultant for CBS-TV. Prior to that post he was field secretary for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

During the 1952 Presidential campaign, he served on General Eisenhower's campaign train as a consultant and adviser.

statements from the report: "From his earliest years the Negro child is culturally conditioned to farm labor;" "Children of working Negro mothers lack the advantages which such children had under slavery;" and "The absence of permanence in family relations implies a lack of social control over sexual impulse."

These statements in the report, Mr. Hill charged, reveal "an incredible ignorance plus bias" on the part of those who prepared the report and refutes its "scientific" and "objective" pretensions.

THE DES MOINES BRANCH NAACP Says:

In keeping with his policy of placing able men in office—there are those who oppose public officials who have made a big success in their own field—President Eisenhower has appointed Paul R. Williams a member of a nation-wide housing committee.

Mr. Williams was the winner of 1953 Spingarn medal given by the NAACP to the Negro who makes the most outstanding contribution to American life each year.

This job involves a herculean task for besides the economic problems with which the committee must deal there is, the social angle which is bound to receive much attention.

The committee is composed of men from all sections of the country and occupations. Mr. Williams, an outstanding architect, will bring to the committee his fine talents but there is the further job of helping to see that the government spends its money for housing with fairness to all.

HEALTH FOR ALL

IT ISN'T TRUE

"TB runs in his family." When you hear anyone make that statement, speak right up and say, "It isn't true."

Tuberculosis is not inherited. It is a disease caused by a germ which is passed on by people who have the disease to those about them.

You may have known of families where TB seemed to be inherited, passed down through the generations like the family silver. Grandfather had it, and his sons, and his sons' sons. But it was not because of anything in the family blood.

Tuberculosis seems to run in families because, naturally, family members come in closest contact with a TB patient. If anyone is going to catch the germs he coughs up, they are the most likely victims.

This is why it is so important to find all cases of tuberculosis early, so they can be placed under treatment for their own sakes, as well as to prevent spread of the disease. An annual physical checkup and chest X-ray will help make certain that TB is found before it has done too much damage.

When TB is discovered, the tuberculosis hospital is the best place for the patient. There he can re-

Even Their Enemies Say Dodgers Should Win The Series

New York. — (CNS) — Notwithstanding the now famous punchless brawl between Dodger Carl Furillo and Giant manager, Leo Durocher, and despite the fact that they were beaten by the "Bums" ten straight games, the Giants, almost to a man, predict the Dodgers will take the Series easily.

First baseman Whitey Lockman: "They'll win it and I'll tell you in how many games. It'll be six. They have the power, plus that little extra pitching."

Puerto Rican, Ruben Gomez, thought the Dodgers might be due to lose around the Series time what with them winning so consistently at present. But Bobby Thompson, the guy who shattered the Brooks' pennant dreams in '51, put in: "No, they won't. They'll have some time to rest after they clinch it."

DELUSION

Delusion is a clever witch—who leads good men astray. They did not pierce the camouflage she changes every day. Delusion feeds the egotist—inflates the self-esteem.

All morons need its flattery, to live a silly dream. Delusion is the dirty cloak—that all oppressors use, to cover up their use of might on those whom they abuse. Delusion is a useful thing—behind the iron curtain, but free men everywhere are sure, oppressions end is certain. Delusion forms the filaments—that weave the web, that fate will cast around the blinded ones, who learn the truth, . . . too late.

Classes at Drake U. Open Sept. 28 For 73rd Year

Drake university will start its 73rd year on Sept. 28 when classes open in the university's nine colleges.

Activity will actually begin a week earlier, however, with new students arriving on the campus for orientation on Sept. 20. Registration for all students will be Sept. 23-25.

Drake places considerable emphasis on student orientation and has scheduled a full week of activity designed to help the freshmen make the transition from high school to college.

So it's the Yanks and Dodgers again. This looks like the Dodgers' year with all their stars well-rested Brooklyn may set the invincible Yankees down.

Boxing

Looks like the end of the trail for Ezzard Charles. He dropped a decision that he may have got jabbed on. Because he has to lose some, all the boys who don't want Charles to fight Marciano have to do is wait until the eventual loss comes up and then say that washes Ezzard as a contender.

But possibly we doubt if Charles could beat the champ if he got a chance at him. Rocky hits too hard and Charles doesn't like hard punches.

College

There was quite a story in the daily paper last week about Calvin James of Iowa of whom great things are expected. If he is nearly as good as the Minneapolis reporter says he is he can't miss. We say we will have to see him go before we get out the drums. Of course, we know more than the paid football experts. And we will concede that the guy must be good.

But there are a few others at Iowa who will bear watching. This could be a surprising ball game at Iowa City, come Sept. 26.
