Seek Corrective Program To Curb Delinquency; 12 Girls in Home; 2 in Jail

Seeking a corrective program to help curb some of the recent juvenile delinquency programs in Des Moines, Clyde E. Herring, Polk County Attorney, called a breakfast meeting Monday at Hotel Kirkwood Monday.

Forty-two persons representing law enforcement agencies, civic groups, schools, labor and the clergy in the Des Moines area, discussed the question "What can we do about juvenile delinquency?"

Some of the problems involved Negro youth and their families.

Girls Get 10 Days

Two teenage Des Moines girls involved in recent street fighting were sentenced last Friday to 10 days each in the county jail by Municipal Judge Harry B. Grund.

The two were identified as Gwendolyn Rife, 19, whose address was listed as 1363 School street, and Charmetta Jones, 18, whose address was listed as 1014 Allen street.

A third girl allegedly involved in being detained at the county juvenile home.

Blouse Torn Off

The three girls were accused of assaulting a 15-year-old girl Sept. 16 near Third and Ridge streets. She suffered an injured left arm and had her blouse torn off, police said.

After hearing evidence in the case, Judge Grund found the two older girls guilty, then told them before sentences were pronounced:

"There is no question in my mind but what you two girls were looking for trouble.

"I don't know what's getting into you kids lately—this street fighting, this damaging others property, but I know one way to stop all this and it is going to stop right now—this goes for the rest of the Des Moines youths who think it's smart to fight and cause other people trouble.

Trouble

"The trouble with the juvenile delinquency we are having is that everybody wants to talk about it, but nobody wants to do anything about it.

"It is the judgment of this court that you both shall serve 10 days in the county jail."

Both girls were taken immediately to the county jail to begin their sentences.

Twelve Teen-Agers Held

This case has nothing to do with the girls being held at the Polk County Juvenile Home, one of the juvenile court officers informed this week.

Twelve Negro girls, ranging in ages from 12 to 16, are now at the Juvenile Home awaiting hearings following a series of street fights which occurred the night of Sept. 15, following the cerebral palsy football game at Drake stadium.

According to the juvenile court officer, who investigated the case, the girls admitted their participation in the fights—stating that there was "some devilment."

Some of the girls have never been in any trouble. One was on probation, having been involved in a serious school fight, and five of them—"Just don't know what caused them to do it," the officer said.

Burglary at Willkie House

Willkie House, 900 Seventeenth street, was burglarized during the week end and an undetermined number of dimes taken from an ice cream vending machine.

Bailey Wins

Burt Bailey of Des Moines won the state amateur middleweight title at Pioneer Memorial Stadium Monday night when he scored a technical knockout over Matt Terronez of Cedar Rapids in the second round.

Integration Program for Negro Drivers in Tulsa; Hire Men in Portland, Ore.

Tulsa, Okla.—A program of the integration of Negro drivers for the Tulsa City Lines is rapidly taking place here. Because of a shortage of drivers in the southside area, seven Negroes are receiving instructions on routes in that section of the city.

Three North Tulsans began receiving instructions last week in the southside areas and on Tuesday five additional drivers were sent out by the company.

J. E. Wertenberger, manager for the bus company, said that seven routes were held up on Monday because of a shortage in drivers and that applications are still being received for both white and Negro drivers. Applicants for the jobs are being screened through the Tulsa Urban League Project, 107½ N. Greenwood, according to M. M. Taylor, executive secretary for the league.

The Motor Coach Employees local (AFL), which protested the use of Negro drivers on runs other than those in the Negro district, met last Sunday to hear opposition and to discuss the situation. However, officials declined to make any comment on the meeting. Approximately 27 Negro drivers are members of the union.

Meanwhile, Wertenberger, says that the firm will continue "breaking in men" for runs.

Baltimore to Make Self-Survey On Racial Biases

Baltimore, Md.—(CNS)—The city of Baltimore has decided to take a close and highly analytical look at its racial discrimination, according to the Maryland Commission on Interracial Problems.

Since Baltimore is a Southern city, this self-survey will not be as successful as those conducted by northern cities as San Francisco, Minneapolis, and Trenton. Still the Commission hopes it will educate as many community leaders as possible and separate many racial fetts from fiction.

The self-survey, initiated by Dr. Charles S. Johnson of Fisk University, will get underway October 21st at an organization luncheon.

Build Residential Resort In Michigan

Hart, Mich.—A residential resort is being built on the shore of Lake Michigan, 8 miles west of here, for the exclusive use of Negro families.

The resort, which will be built over a three-year period, calls for construction of about 800 cottages, with about 200 to be completed this year.

A sales and promotional organization headed by Jesse Owens, holder of four world track records, will sell the properties at about $4,000 each.

TO MEET OCT. 7

The L. T. club will meet Oct. 7 with Mrs. Leona Jordan, 1029 Tenth street.

Washington Has Unexpected Negro School Enrollment

Washington, D. C.—(CNS)—The "unexpected Negro enrollment"—which was 2,000 higher than the School Supt. Corning has estimated—may cause more Negro teachers to be hired in Washington's segregated school system.

The enrollment shows that there are now 13,000 more Negro children than white children in the public schools. This means some of the white teachers must go to make room for additional Negro teachers.

With the drop mostly in the white senior high schools, the School Board plans to "move some of the surplus white senior high school teachers to junior high schools, move junior high school teachers to elementary classes

Big Brother Night At Willkie House Tuesday, Oct. 20

"Big Brother Night," one of the top inter-racial fellowship affairs for men and boys, will again be sponsored by the Olympian Club on the evening of October 20, at the Willkie House.

Designed to stimulate a closer adult-youth relationship in the community, the program this year will emphasize the values of brotherhood, good citizenship and good sportsmanship.

An outstanding feature of "Big Brother Night" will be the appearance of Herb Hake, director of Radio and TV for Iowa State Teachers College. Mr. Hake, widely known for his performances of station WOI, is considered one of Iowa's most versatile entertainers.

The planning committee for this year's event, headed by George Robinson, Jr., is composed of Alfred Edwards, Benjamin Dacus, John Williams, Cecil Brewton, Jr., Aladio Obregon, William Wells, Herman Wadsworth, Jessie Frazier and Floyd Bowman.

Tickets are now on sale by members of the committee and the Club. Advance reservations can be made by contacting Ken Whitney of the Willkie House program staff.

Washington Has Unexpected Negro School Enrollment

Washington, D. C.—(CNS)—The "unexpected Negro enrollment"—which was 2,000 higher than the School Supt. Corning has estimated—may cause more Negro teachers to be hired in Washington's segregated school system.

The enrollment shows that there are now 13,000 more Negro children than white children in the public schools. This means some of the white teachers must go to make room for additional Negro teachers.

With the drop mostly in the white senior high schools, the School Board plans to "move some of the surplus white senior high school teachers to junior high schools, move junior high school teachers to elementary classes and get rid of some temporary elementary teachers so we can transfer salaries to Negro schools."

The fall opening of clubs and activities at Willkie House will begin Oct. 5. Registration may be made now by children for classes in crafts, music, dancing and woodwork.

For teen-agers will be Fireside Chat forums, music, drama and crafts. The regular sewing classes, crafts and clubs will be held for adults.

Atty. Gen. Hoegh Asked To Write Restaurant and Hotel Owners About Laws

That the violation of civil rights laws against Negroes by hotels, motels and restaurants in the southern two-thirds of Iowa was prevalent was the subject-matter presented Tuesday to Atty. Gen. Leo Hoegh by a committee from the Des Moines branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP).

"Negro visitors passing through Iowa are constantly subject to discrimination," James B. Morris, attorney and editor of the Iowa By-stander, complained as he headed the delegation.

Write Letter

The committee asked Hoegh to write a letter to restaurant and hotel associations pointing out that Iowa has state laws forbidding discrimination against patrons because of their race, color or creed.

Morris and Irwin Turpin, service officer for Lincoln Post of the American Legion in Des Moines, told Hoegh that five Negro delegates from a Davenport Legion post made reservations at the Wagon Wheel motel near Waterloo for the state convention of the Iowa department American Legion, Aug. 2 through Aug. 4.

"When the delegates got there, however, they were refused accommodations at the Wagon Wheel," Morris said.

Turpin said Negro delegates to the convention also were refused service in some Waterloo cafes and restaurants.

Council Bluffs

The Rev. John Hunter, pastor of St. Paul's AME church in Des Moines, said some delegates to the northwestern annual conference of the AME church at Council Bluffs Sept. 2 to Sept. 7 were refused service "in several cafes and restaurants."

Morris left with Hoegh the results of a survey he said he had made regarding the serving and accommodating of Negroes in Iowa hotels and restaurants.

Morris said the questionnaires returned to him indicated that "almost all points south of a line extending from Sioux City through Marshalltown and to Clinton have a bad record in this regard."

He said Marshalltown, however, was "all right."

Hoegh Answers

Hoegh told the group that state law against discrimination of patrons of hotels or restaurants "is very clear" and that he was sympathetic to their protest.

He said he would write the requested letters to the Iowa restaurant and hotel owners' associations pointing out the law to them and asking their compliance.

Hoegh also told the group he will take up the matter with the Iowa County Attorneys association when it holds its annual convention in Des Moines in November.

"During the meeting, Morris the Rev. Mr. Hunter and Turpin all told Hoegh that the Des Moines hotels had a "good record" of accommodating Negroes. They said most but not all restaurants in Des Moines are serving Negroes.

NAACP Warns Ford Frick Of Baltimore Segregation In Purchase of Ball Team

New York.—Walter White, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, sent the following telegram to Ford Frick, president of the American League, urging the league not to approve transfer of St. Louis Browns to the City of Baltimore:

"Because of the city's rigid pattern of segregation, including the exclusion of Negroes from hotels and restaurants, National Association for the Advancement of Colored People urges the American League not to approve transfer of franchise of St. Louis baseball team to City of Baltimore. The racist spirit of that City was recently exemplified by the refusal of the Lyric Theatre to book the celebrated contralto, Marian Anderson. Should such a transfer be made, Baltimore would be only major league city discriminating against Negro players and fans.

"In recent years organized baseball has been an important factor in upholding and extending the American ideals of equal rights and fairplay. To grant a franchise to a City which regates and disparages these ideals would be a step backward. We hope that the American League will continue to move forward in the support of democratic ideals."

Baltimore bought the Browns Tuesday.

OLD FASHIONED PRESERVES

A dish of your own home-made strawberry preserves is the surest way in the world to bring a gleam into the eyes of the lucky people who sit down to your table. The story is wonderful from beginning to end—the making of the preserves with the aroma of the bubbling sirup filling the kitchen; the sight of the rich red fruit and sirup in Ball Jars on your shelves; and, finally, the serving of the preserves, perhaps with hot, flaky biscuits.

The strawberry season will be upon you before you know it, so have your Ball Mason Jars and Ball Dome Caps ready to use the first day you see strawberries suitable for preserves in your garden or on the market. The season is all too short and you might wake up to find you've waited until too late.

For preserving, strawberries should be of medium size and firm-ripe. Preserves should be cooked in small batches, not more than 2 or 3 quarts at a time. A recipe for Old Fashioned Strawberry Preserves from the Ball Blue Book calls for 2 quarts of hulled berries and 7 cups of sugar. Mix berries and sugar and let stand overnight in a cool place. Bring slowly to boiling, then boil rapidly until berries are clear and sirup thick. Skim and pour into hot Ball Jars. Seal while boiling hot with Ball Dome Caps.

Applesauce Bake

Apple desserts like this one add magic to menus.

Not enough praise is sung for Johnny Applesauce who, according to legend, planted apple trees wherever he roamed. If the story is true then homemakers owe the beneficent pioneer a vote of thanks for dotting the countryside with orchards.

Applesauce Bake is a new dessert that points up the wisdom of Mr. Applesauce who looked forward to the future. It is a variation of an old Danish apple cake. A not-too-sweet applesauce is baked layer on layer with crushed coconut cookies in between for a new apple combination.

Serve Applesauce Bake either fragrantly warm or thoroughly chilled. Top with whipped cream and garnish with nuts. If you like, garnish the top with bits of blush-red crab apple jelly. This garnish is traditionally Danish.

APPLESAUCE BAKE

7 cups sliced apples 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 cup sugar 1 pound coconut bars
3 tablespoons fortified margarine

Place sliced apples in a saucepan. Add enough water to barely cover the apples. Cover and place over medium heat. Cook apples until tender. Put apples through a sieve. Add sugar and vanilla. Crush coconut bars with a rolling pin and roll out to form crumbs. Coat an 8-inch square baking dish with margarine. Place a layer of cookie crumbs in the bottom of the dish. Top with a layer of applesauce. Dot with bits of margarine. Alternate layers of applesauce and cookie crumbs and bits of margarine. Top with cookie crumbs. Place in a 325 degree oven and bake for 30 minutes. Serve either warm or well chilled with whipped cream. Garnish with chopped nuts, if desired. Yield: 8 servings.

RED FEATHER PEN

From the buzz of activity at the United Campaign office, it is evident that the drive will soon be underway. The many hundreds of volunteers who check cards, count and package supplies and secure the team workers help set the stage for this great production. The Camp Fire Girls in their bright colored uniforms add their touch as they place the "UCI Gave" tabs in the workers envelopes. Approximately 4,000 men and women representing all walks of life have joined forces to raise the funds for the 38 health and welfare services that participate in the United Campaign. This is the second United Campaign drive in the Greater Des Moines area—the goal this year is $1,295,835—and the general solicitation dates are October 16th through 27. The women will start their residential solicitation October 11.

As you work with and see the enthusiasm of "our army," you cannot help but feel proud of our great community. The spirit of co-operation and willingness to help our fellow citizens makes you realize that our form of government with the basic concept of "helping our neighbor" would be hard to beat.

At a meeting recently Hess T. Sears, general campaign chairman, pointed out some facts that I had not considered before. I think they are worthwhile enough to pass on to you. He said that we live in a rather large city—not in comparison to Chicago, New York, or any other large metropolitan area, but in comparison to the smaller towns that are far greater in number than our very large cities. He talked about the benefits of living and helping our neighbors in the small town. You can see the people who need help, and you can help them. You know about Mrs. Jones who is blind, and you can personally find her a home, or you know about Mrs. Smith who is forced to work to support her family, and you can arrange to have her children cared for—in a large city such as Des Moines it is impossible for us to know all the people who need help—it is impossible for us to personally see that Mrs. Jones has a home, or that Mrs. Smith's children aren't just left to shift for themselves while she works.

Be sure you are registered to VOTE in Your fall City Election.

Seeking Garments For Needlework Guild

MRS. VIOLA JOHNSON

Serving as one of the many section presidents of the Needlework Guild of America, Inc., is Mrs. Viola Johnson, wife of Mr. Cleo Johnson of 915 Grove street.

Mrs. Johnson, who has been active in the organization for a year, is collecting garments for the Needlework Guild's annual city-wide ingathering which will be held Oct. 13, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., at St. John's Lutheran church, Sixth and Keo-Way.

In an interview, Mrs. Johnson explained that the Needlework Guild, a non-sectarian, non-profit, charitable organization with branches in all of the cities, collects new garments and distributes them to hospitals, homes and thirty of the Community Chest agencies in Des Moines.

The guild is a member of the National Conference of Social Work and is affiliated with the American Red Cross and the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

As section president, Mrs. Johnson is interested in collecting 110 new garments to be given to Willkie House. Articles should be contributed in pairs, alike in size and quality.

Last year, Mrs. Johnson, assisted by many of the social clubs in the city, turned in 155 garments and $15 cash.

Any man, woman, or child may become a member of the Needlework Guild by contributing two new articles of clothing or household linen each year, or by donating any amount of money. There are no dues, Mrs. Johnson said.

Mrs. Johnson will collect any garments if contributors will phone her at 2-4723, any day after 6 p.m.

According to Mrs. Lillian Edmunds, executive secretary at Willkie House, towels always can be used at the center. New garments are given out to "borderline" children and families, not eligible for agency support, but in need of sufficient clothing, now and then.

They saw the building site of the three-million dollar Negro YMCA; went through the tunnel that connects the ocean-going vessels between Galveston and Houston; did some bathing in the Gulf of Mexico; attended services at St. John Baptist church where they heard five musical organizations, including a church orchestra.

Honored In Texas

Novel Table for Cottage Folds Against Wall

A COMPACT, out-of-the-way table and benches suitable for a camp cottage will be a pleasure to build and a delight to the family because of its novelty.

The table top, when folded up, serves as a door for the wall cabinet. Because it will wear long and is easy to keep clean, Masonite 1/4" Tempered Presdwood is used to surface the lumber.

ber framing of the table top. The same material covers the planks serving as benches.

The cupboard is built of 1-inch lumber framing, covered with Tempered Presdwood. Shelves are similarly constructed.

Note the hinges which permit the table and benches to be pushed out of the way, against the wall, to which they are fastened with hooks.

Panels of Presdwood can be used effectively in other ways at the summer cottage—to cover unsightly interior walls, for converting a large room into smaller ones, corner closets, floors, fish cleaning and bait cutting boards, sunshades at the beach, or resurfacing old picnic tables.

Quilted Glamour for Your Chair

Here's luxurious quilting you can make yourself. Cut fabric, cotton batting, and thin muslin lining to pattern, allowing for quilting 1½-3 inches all around. Pin fabric, cotton batting, and lining together, placing pins a few inches apart. To guide first row, make one diagonal row of pins.

Sew on lining side, first along row of pins, using quilting guide attachment, and reversing direction of alternate rows to prevent bunching. For diamond quilting (as on chair arm at right) stitch diagonal rows further apart and repeat process in opposite direction. After quilting, trim pieces to fit.

Can Tomatoes Whole for Salads

In home-canning tomatoes, the utility or regular pack, in which the tomatoes are pressed down tight, is all right for most purposes, but a few whole packed tomatoes come in handy. When chilled and cut in quarters, they add much to tomato aspic and other congealed salads.

Regardless of how you are going to pack tomatoes, use only clean, fresh, sound, firm, red-ripe tomatoes for canning. Every tomato should be washed, rinsed, and drained before scalding. To scald tomatoes without over-cooking, put 6 or 8 in a square of cheesecloth or wire basket and hold in boiling water about one-half minute. Dip in cold water and drain before cutting out the core. (Cut deep enough to get it all.)

After the core is out, slip off the skin and drop tomato into a hot Ball Mason Jar. If whole tomatoes are wanted, pack them closely without crushing and add hot tomato juice or water to cover. If using utility pack, press the tomatoes down tight until juice runs from them. One teaspoon salt is usually added to each quart of tomatoes, although tomatoes keep as well without salt.

Don't forget to leave almost ½ inch of headspace when filling the jar. Run a knife down between the tomatoes and the jar to bring up air bubbles. More liquid may be needed to fill space left when the bubbles are removed from jars of whole packed tomatoes. Don't bother to add more to the utility pack.

Wipe tops and threads of jars clean. Then apply your Ball Dome Caps according to instructions printed on the box. Process tomatoes in a boiling water bath, 35 minutes for whole tomatoes and 45 minutes for a utility pack.

Special decorations about her home was a golden wedding anniversary picture window lined with yellow and gold chrysanthemums. The anniversary cake was topped with a golden slipper.

Guests

Other out-of-town guests at the celebration, aside from Mesdames Johnson and Walker were, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles King, also of Lovilla, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Tyler and daughter came from Los Angeles, Cal., to attend the golden anniversary celebration of his uncle and aunt, but had to leave prior to the day because of the arrival of a son from Korea.

Mr. Parker, a retired miner, spends his time running the daily affairs of their home. During his leisure he is building or redecorating. One of his latest additions to the grounds was the building of what he called the Parker "breezeway" and shelter house, just off from the brick barbecue pit, where the Parker family held a recent gala Labor Day reunion picnic.

Following the golden wedding anniversary celebration Mr. and Mrs. Parker entertained at dinners for their children and grandchildren.

The grandchildren total 25 and the great-grand children, seven.

"recreation." Nowadays millions of fans are enjoying the game in front of their television screens where they can see their favorite players. Any fan who can find a radio is there frigidly listening and passionately waiting for a moment to shout, to cheer his team.

All but nature seems to stop breathing—to watch the Series. If only the game could be as quiet, as orderly, as beautiful, as nature is during its annual fall event.

Nature changes the color of its foliage from summer greens to golden browns and crimson reds—and all is quiet—yet millions of eyes watch nature play its annual game—and behold the beauty—and life goes on.

But that noisy restless spirit, which someone might call team pride, seems to go along with many of the sports today.

Following some of the recent football games in Des Moines some of the youth have gotten into trouble for having over-done the spirit.

Right now, twelve Negro girls, from the ages of 12 to 16 years old, are in the county juvenile home. Some have never before been into any trouble—but—keyed-up over the football game they saw, and filled with the spirit of victory, they went roaming and participated in street fights, bopping heads and blacking eyes, one of the juvenile officers said the girls admitted. Two other teenagers were sentenced to ten days each in the county jail.

"I just don't know why I did it," was a statement that several of the girls made, the officer said. Officials, religious, civic and school leaders as well as the parents are wondering what to do about juvenile delinquency and hooliganism in Des Moines.

Let's see—what did you say? The Dodgers did what? The Yanks? Oh!

REMOVE THE CAUSE;
IT'S IMPORTANT

Strange things do happen but generally there is a reason. It may not be so good, but it suits the fellow who does strange things.

Among the twenty-three American soldiers who chose to embrace Communism and remain with the North Korean are three Negroes. It is difficult to fathom why an American white man, who has a chance at everything under the sun, would do such a thing. And yet when we realize that some intellectuals and otherwise smart and prominent white people in America have swallowed this alien doctrine lock, stock and barrel, the reason why the American soldier did so should be studied pretty carefully and the shortcomings which bred their type of conduct eliminated.

The Bystander has no sympathy for the Communist cause; it has none for any doctrine alien from that of America for while imperfect in many respects we have done a better job and the future looks brighter here than any place on the globe.

But the Bystander can imagine the thinking of these boys. Maybe they came from some states where segregation and discrimination prevail; maybe from some where they have had no opportunity to advance in education and employment, to get a decent job or maybe they got a reservation to stay at a Waterloo, Iowa Motel and were refused when they appeared. All these things make a man see red, often times he is so mad, so disgusted, that he feels like "blowing up the joint." So when a fellow comes along with something which promises a change, whether valid or not, he is bound to get some sympathetic ears.

It does no good to condemn these fellows. It would do no good to punish them for their minds would reason the same after the punishment.

But what will do the job is to remove the CAUSE which turns them against their mother country.

Hungry, mistreated people are fertile fields in which the Communist works. We just are not smart when we give them a weapon with which to kill us off.

SPORTS CONTINUE TO LEAD THE WAY

Branch Rickey, former manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, said that Jackie Robinson playing on the baseball team, did more to solve the race problem than a dozen sermons from a pulpit. With this we fully agree.

In fact, it cannot be too strongly emphasized that baseball, football, boxing and track are doing a great job leveling racial barriers. And frankly the public likes it. Good sportsmanship dictates that the public wants its team to win and is not too choosy about who constitutes its team as long as a player can do the job.

The Bystander believes that more people should attend sports events. They raise the morale and pretty generally display sportsmanship, a virtue we could all use in our every day conduct.

And the Bystander wishes to emphasize just that. Take the football team which appeared on the Iowa University team last Saturday. Negroes constitute less than one percent of the student population and yet three on the eleven played; on the team Michigan State did about as well with at least one and at times two Negroes on their team.

The coaches for both of these teams were out to win games and whoever the student appears with the best qualification got the job. And the schools back them in their program.

So, to some of those who say minorities cannot work and play side by side successfully with white, these games are recommended as adequate proof that the thinking of such people belongs in the nineteenth century.

You Can Be Literally
Frightened to Death

A person literally may be scared to death. Fright may have varied effects on a person. It may cause a chain of emotional reactions that may lead to death.

It is common knowledge that fright may cause excessive rapidity in the action of the heart, palpitation, increased sweating, weakness, tremor of the hands or voice, and fainting. Certain patients with heart disease have died suddenly after some fright or other similar emotional upset. The usual mode of such a death is attributed to ventricular fibrillation (a rapid, disorganized heart beat). Even normal persons may exhibit various heart abnormalities due to emotional stimuli, they added.

Physiological and pathological evidence along these lines has been discovered in animal experimentation. Such experiments have shown that there is a nervous pathway from the hypothalamus (the part of the brain which regulates emotions) to the heart that could bring forth various types of ventricular irregularities which could result in death. It is conceivable that in a normal person a highly emotional situation such as severe fright could produce startling reactions which could terminate in death, thus lending support to the truth of the expression "frightened to death."

An interesting correlation to this discussion is the so-called voodoo death. Here, the problem is similar, in that emotional stress (fear or terror) may be the cause of a chain of events leading to death. The analogy differs in that voodoo death may be a gradual process (involving perhaps days) rather than a sudden occurrence. Voodoo death has been reported by competent observers. Such a mode of death induced by fright or fear follows the "hexing" of the subject by the "medicine man" or by "black magic." It has been reported among the ignorant, superstitious native tribes of South America, Australia, New Zealand and the Pacific Islands.

Your Hair Grows
80 Per Cent of the Time

A recent study shows that the hair on your scalp grows 80 per cent of the time while the hair on the rest of your body grows only 40 to 50 per cent of the time. Also, since growing hair is more sensitive to radiation, the scalp hair is more affected than body hair.

Hair growth is controlled by a group of cells just below the tip of the hair shaft which act as supervisors and organizers. Small doses of radiation may damage other elements of the hair and cause it to fall out but as long as the supervisor cells remain undamaged, the hair will grow back. Once they are damaged, permanent loss of the hair results.

Deepest Hole

The deepest hole thus far drilled into the earth's crust was sunk in Wyoming in 1949 by the Superior Oil Co. of California. This goes down 30,521 feet, but no oil was found. The temperature at the bottom is a little over 300 degrees F. The same company also drilled a dry hole at Ventura, California, to a depth of 18,784 feet at which the temperature was found to be 340 degrees. The deepest productive well is one drilled by Standard Oil Co. of California, in Kern Co., Calif., which yields oil from depths of 15,250 and 15,880 feet. In general the temperature rises one degree Fahrenheit for every 60-70 feet of depth.

First Musicians Union

In the 14th century, interest in the music of minstrels grew until so many of them were wandering around that the best ones banded together and formed guilds. Each guild performed under the banner of a prince, and the head of all these experts was called King of the Jugglers. Each minstrel played alone at that time and it was many years before the banding together of the best musicians resulted in their actually performing together.

THE DES MOINES
BRANCH NAACP Says:

Tuesday, a committee from the branch called upon Attorney General Hoeg to take steps to enforce the Iowa Civil Rights law. It presented evidence of discrimination during the recent American Legion Convention in Waterloo. (The Legion had no part in this, on the other hand it made every effort to persuade the motel owners to honor reservations made by Negro delegates but without success). It presented facts surrounding a very embarrassing series of discriminatory acts by cafe owners at the North-West Annual Conference of the A.M.E. Church in Council Bluffs. It presented results of a survey which showed that violation of the Civil Rights law was the rule rather than the exception in about two thirds of the state.

The committee asked the Attorney general to write the Iowa Restaurant and Hotel Associations urging that they cooperate in observing the law. It asked that the county attorneys be called upon to enforce the law in their jurisdiction.

Both these requests, the attorney general agreed to follow. In fact, he said "Officials take the oath of office to uphold the law and Chapter 735 of the code is no exception (Chapter 735 is the Iowa Civil Rights law)."

SPORTS

BY ALLEN ASHBY

Well sir, we were present at the unveiling of the 1953 Iowa Hawkeyes. It was quite an unveiling. Those guys are going to be tougher than shoe leather by November. In fact, the boys from Michigan State thought the Hawss were already tough.

Eddie Vincent was the top ground gainer of the Iowa team and proved to be a real cut back runner. Once he gets the ball he is harder to hang onto than a greased pig. Then the guy was quite a man on defense.

Bob Stearns at the other half was his usual self and turned out to be the best passer Iowa had all afternoon.

Gillam at end is a first class pass grabber and was rocking and shaking up the Michigan State boys on defense.

The guy we wanted to see was Calvin Jones, the highly touted guard. For about a quarter we thought we were going to be disappointed. The big fellow went in too high, got his feet crossed up and the Spartans went by him on both sides as if he was a lamp post. He got his feet mixed up once and some Michiganander piled into him. Jones went down hard and sat there about ten seconds. We thought, "This is the beginning of the end."

But then the Jones boy got mad, we guess. He hit Eddie Bolden so

In view of the fact that the two glaring recent examples cited were slaps in the face of every member of the African Methodist Church and every Negro and white Legionaire, who believes in its principles. It would be well to write the attorney general urging him to follow through on his commitments, that he back the NAACP in its efforts to wipe out segregation and discrimination.

HEALTH FOR ALL

Speak Right Up

"It isn't safe to associate with someone who has TB." When you hear anyone make that statement,

Testing for TB

It didn't hurt after all, and the boy knows it's a good idea to find out through a tuberculin test whether those old TB germs have got into him. He's learned a lot about TB from health education programs in school promoted by the local tuberculosis association, one of the 3,000 affiliated with the National Tuberculosis Association now conducting their annual Christ-hard that Bolden went one way and the ball the other. Then he was in on just about every line play. When the Hawks scored their touchdown, Calvin charged so hard that he literally pushed at least two of the opponents with him. Yes, Mr. Jones has arrived and will be a major factor in future Iowa line plays.

Then there was rugged Jon Hall who let folks know he was there also. The Hawkeyes are going to beat somebody they aren't supposed to beat. Maybe, more than once.

Michigan state had a classy array of backs and ends most of whom turned out to be Negroes. Bolden, Duckett, Wills, Ellis and Smith were in the game all the way. Wells scored two touchdowns and the others were in there all the way. In fact, the game looked like a city series battle—Iowa with four Negroes and the Spartans with five, all the time made me think of the East-North battles.

INTRUSION

Someday—somehow—somewhere—

will come to a conclusion, that will put an end forever,
to the habit of intrusion!
Decent people hate the thought—of nosing in your privacy, but scores of bores, all rules ignore,

to break up your security!
On how you made your garden grow and what was planted in each row, and if you did things—thus and so,
the trivial things they had to

In fifty years that I have scratched,
I've dug to this effusion,
The thing that burns me up the

is that ball-faced gall, intrusion!

Encourages Children To Express
Their Own Notions Of Beauty

Afton Smith, Assistant Professor
State University of Iowa Child Welfare Research Station

Do you ever look into your child's room and back out in despair?

Perhaps the boy's room is plastered to the ceiling with athletic heroes. The girl's walls are covered with movie stars mixed with snapshots of

When your child reaches the adult stage of appreciation, you probably will see the junk thrown out and the books put back on the shelves! The wall decoration may improve. At present why not allow him a free hand to express his ideas and close his door when company comes?

Freedom of expression is more of a problem when the child does not have a room of his own. A corner or a wall space is satisfying to some children. One little girl very happily "decorated" the rear of a hallway for her room. Another had a large bulletin board in her mother's bedroom where she posted her treasures.

Then there is the painting or the clay model brought home in the triumph from school. It may not look beautiful to us but it should be given a place of honor in the home. Encourage the child to express his ideas of beauty.

"The psychologists told me," you groan, "to let the child express his ideas of beauty. And these are his ideas!"

Don't forget, though, that the psychologists also told you to expect a child's notion of beauty to be different from your own. And that the adult conception of beauty does not develop until along in the teens.

Divided Saw Horses

A PAIR of saw horses like the ones illustrated will end sawing woes in the home workshop. Designed by a man from South Dakota and described in Family Handyman, the horses lend ample support even to large panels.

Each has an open center, through which either a hand or power saw may go. The stock is laid along the top and cuts are made through at points where the saw can fit into the slots. For ripping, the open center gives ample, full-length support for both halves of the material.

When panels are unsupported during the cutting, as in using ordinary saw horses, oftentimes they will leave jagged ends caused by the material's breaking under its own weight.
