Eugene T. Brown Killed When Car Runs Into Tree

Services were held Wednesday at St. Paul AME church for Eugene Thomas Brown, 44, of 1051 Eighteenth street. Burial was in Glendale cemetery.

Mr. Brown was killed early Sunday morning, Oct. 11, when his car struck a tree near the intersection of Easton boulevard and University avenue.

It was the first traffic fatality in Des Moines in 83 days. The death was the eleventh this year as the result of traffic accidents.

Brown was pronounced dead on arrival at Broadlawn General Hospital at 3:01 a.m. His companion, Donna L. Phillips, 26, 1610 E. Thirty-second street, suffered a possible broken hip.

Turned to Left

Police said Brown's eastbound car had just passed the intersection and suddenly turned to the left crossing University avenue and striking the tree from the south.

Police said Brown apparently was attempting to turn north and mistook the spot for a side street.

His car was completely demolished.

Police said the woman told them she had dozed off and did not know what had happened.

A witness to the accident, Roy E. Wright, 1213 Searle street, said Brown's car did not appear to go out of control.

Police said there were no skid marks made by Brown's car. Police said they found a partly-filled bottle of whisky in the car.

Mr. Brown is survived by his wife, Aurelia; a son, Kenneth E. Brown, Washington, D. C.; a daughter, Eleanor Brown, Marion, Ia.; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. French Brown, 1051 Eighteenth st.; a sister, Mrs. Myrtle Page of Des Moines, and a brother, French Brown, Jr., also of Des Moines.

Brown was born in Buxton, Ia., and was graduated from North High School, where he lettered in football and basketball. He had lived in Des Moines for 34 years. During World War II he served in the U. S. Navy.

He was employed as a porter at the Valley Bank building and was a member of the St. Paul AME church.

EUGENE T. BROWN

Served during World War II as a member of the shore patrol of the U. S. Navy.

Adult Education Fall Program Begins In City

The fall program of the Adult Education Department of the Des Moines Public Schools get into full swing last week with the opening of evening schools as well as the first of the Film Lecture Series at Hoyt Sherman Auditorium. Some opportunities still are available to those interested in improving themselves as wage earners and homemakers or who want to enjoy new recreational skills.

NAACP's Fighting Fund For Freedom Committees Map 10-Year Techniques

New York.—"To achieve our objective of complete emancipation within the next ten years will require an annual budget of $1,000,000" Dr. Channing H. Tobias, chairman of the board of directors of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, told the special committee meeting here to map plans for the Association's Fighting Fund for Freedom.

"Our goal is an America of equality, opportunity, justice, freedom and security for everyone," the NAACP leader asserted. "This goal is now within our reach, but to achieve it requires a supreme effort on our part. Work and more work on our program. Funds and more funds to carry that program out. Our job will not end with the banning of segregation by court ruling or executive order, or legislation. We have a continuing educational job to do to make non-segregation a working reality. Especially, we must work to expand the Negro vote and make it an effective voice in local and state contests as well as in national elections."

Dr. Tobias asked for "whole-hearted response not only on the part of our NAACP members and branches but also on the part of other individuals and organizations such as churches, fraternal orders, labor unions, business and professional associations, because success of our campaign will contribute importantly to their own organizational objectives."

Techniques of fund raising were outlined to the committee by Harold L. Oram, a New York consultant for adults is conducted in a "Fun while you learn" atmosphere. Hundreds of classes have been scheduled to meet the needs of the ever-increasing enrollment at night school. Last year 10,000 persons availed themselves of the opportunity to improve themselves. The main adult centers are: East—Mondays only; Franklin—Wednesdays only; North—Tuesdays and Thursdays; Roosevelt—Mondays and Wednesdays; Tech—Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays; Adult Center, 219 Keo—Daily.

Many classes are held in the business district and elsewhere. For a complete schedule, telephone 8-7451, the Department of Adult Education. Most classes meet for two hours once a week over a ten week period.

Hold Rites for Mrs. H. Perkins

Services for Mrs. Hattie Perkins, 73, of 1078 Fourteenth street, were held Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 13, at St. Paul AME church. Burial was at Glendale cemetery.

Mrs. Hattie McGruder Perkins died at Mercy hospital Friday, Oct. 10, after an illness of over a year. She was well known by many youth who made their home with her while studying at local universities.

Born in Frankford, W. Va., she came to Des Moines 53 years ago. She was a member of St. Paul's AME church.

Surviving are: two sisters, Mrs. Zetta Scott, Des Moines, Mrs. Loda Ketter, Charleston, W. Va., and two brothers, Henry P. Johnson, Cleveland, Ohio, and Oscar L. Johnson, Los Angeles, Cal.

On SUI's Advisory Group for Study of Problems of Aging

Iowa City, Ia.—Consideration of action for the aging was marked by several developments Monday during the first day of the second annual Iowa Conference on Gerontology.

(1) A citizen's advisory committee of representative Iowans was named by Provost Harvey H. Davis of the State University of Iowa to give their judgment and advice to the newly-organized Iowa Institute of Gerontology, State University of Iowa research and information center on problems of aging.

(2) A new and more positive point of view—placing more older people in the category of "useful maturity" and fewer into the limiting stereotypes of the "infirm and dependent aged" was urged by Clark Tibbitts, ranking federal official on problems of aging.

Newcombe Gets $500 of Series Money

Brooklyn, N. Y.—(CNS)—After passing out the record full cuts of $6,178.42 to each of its players, the Dodgers remembered big Non Newcombe, who will be joining them in the Spring on completing his stint with the Army. Newcombe received a check for $500 of the Dodgers' series dough.

(3) Reconsideration of 65 as a common retirement age was stressed by Elizabeth Breckinridge, author of "Effective Use of Older Workers" and executive secretary of the Illinois Committee on Aging.

Named to help bridge all-Iowa thinking with Institute of Gerontology planning and research on the problems of an aging population were E. F. Scoutten, Newton industrialist; E. M. McConney, Des Moines life insurance official; Norman B. Shaffer, Iowa City banker; Mrs. George L. Kyseth, Clarion, former member of the state board of education; H. Lee Jacobs, Fort Dodge clergyman; Dr. T. F. Thornton, Waterloo physician; William H. Dreier, Hubbard farmer and hobby-show leader; James B. Morris, Des Moines lawyer, and Mrs. Kenneth Evans, Emerson housewife.

Members of the citizens' committee will advise the institute on activities in their areas which could contribute to work with the aging, and will provide continuous appraisal of work done by the Iowa Institute of Gerontology.

Hold Rites For Carolyn Butts

Services for Carolyn Ann Butts, 6-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Butts, 1830 Racoon street, were held Tuesday at L. Fowler and Son Funeral home. Burial was in Laurel Hill cemetery.

The child died Oct. 11 at Broadlawn hospital. Survivors, besides her parents, include three brothers and three sisters and her paternal grandmother, Mrs. Alberta Butts Thompson.

Mrs. Robert L. Vann Takes Oath of Office

Washington, D. C.—Mrs. Robert L. Vann, publisher of the Pittsburgh Courier, took the oath of office as a member of the International Development Advisory Board on September 28. President Eisenhower met with members of the committee shortly after they took their oath of office.

Here, Mrs. Vann is flanked by President Eisenhower and Eric Johnston, Chairman of the Board and President of the Motion Picture Industry. Immediately behind Mrs. Vann is Dr. Robert P. Daniel, President of the Virginia State College, the other colored member of the Board.

The International Development Advisory Board studies the Point IV Program and advises the President on technical aid to foreign countries.

Iowa Restaurants, Hotel And Motel Operators Told They Must Abide by Laws

Atty. Gen. Leo A. Hoegh this week was praised by the legislative committee of the Des Moines Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People for the prompt action and the forthright manner in which he pledged to carry out the enforcement of the Iowa civil rights laws.

Hoegh told all Iowa hotel, restaurant and motel operators "Oct. 6 that they must comply with the state's civil rights laws."

He made his statement in identical letters to secretaries of three associations:

H. J. Schaller of Sioux City, Iowa Hotel association; Roger Schares of Des Moines, Iowa Restaurant association; and Lewis S. Wilson of Des Moines, Iowa Motor Court (motel) association.

'Abide By It'

The letters said that "evidence has been presented to this department showing violations of our civil rights statutes."

"The primary purpose of such laws is to protect all people against the discrimination and humiliation on account of their race or color."

"We feel certain that members of your association as well as all citizens of Iowa will abide by this law when appraised of it," Hoegh added.

Advice

The letter then asked the secretaries to inform their members of the law and advise them to comply with it.

Hoegh's action followed a visit to his office last week of a committee headed by James Morris of Des Moines, editor of "The Bystander."

The committee told Hoegh that Negroes had been refused lodging and meals in some Iowa hotels and restaurants.

James B. Morris, chairman of the NAACP Legislative committee along with Irwin Turpin, service officer for Lincoln Post of the American Legion in Des Moines and Rev. John E. Hunter, pastor of St. Paul AME church, informed Hoegh of recent cases of discriminations. Morris wrote the following letter of commendation:

Prompt Action

"In behalf of the Des Moines Branch of the NAACP I wish to express our appreciation for the forthright manner in which you not only pledged to carry out our requests for the enforcement of the Iowa civil rights laws, but also for the prompt action you took in the matter. All too often this has not been the case when requests of this type have been made to higher authority."

"We have gone about this program for the enforcement of civil rights laws in this manner because we appreciate the assistance of the public is essential in order to make any law enforcement successful. We are convinced that a majority of the people in Iowa welcome your leadership, an element in the enforcement of the civil rights laws which has been lacking, and will observe them along with other laws on the statute book."

A subcommittee was designed to draft and execute final plans for the intensification of the Fighting Fund campaign.

Charges Wife with Stealing $8,000 from His Safe; She Says Cannot Steal 'My Own'

Washington, D. C.—(CNS)—Wealthy numbers banker, Orion T. Whiting, didn't worry about the future complications that might set in with "Uncle Sam" as he took his former wife to court this week on a charge of stealing $8,000 from one of his safes. "Fixing her" was his main concern, even though it did result in the airing of the considerable fortune Whiting has made in the last eight years as a numbers gambler.

Not one to be afraid of court, Mrs. Marjorie Whiting, a former school teacher, took the stand in her own defense and testified before a District court jury that the $8,000 she took was hers as part of a divorce settlement. She even described how Whiting got up in the world as a "successful gambler" only because she loaned him the money to get started.

Install Safe

Orion did so well in his business, cited Mrs. Whiting, that he had to install a safe at 334 U St., N. W., where at one time there was $65,000. The two kept accounts in a little "black book" and she knew the combination of this safe as well as the one on the two others.

Then when she decided to get her divorce, they agreed on a settlement of $25,000 plus $2,000 in bonds and one of their houses plus share in another house. Here Mrs. Whiting testified that her ex-husband asked her to protect him with the settlement and not show all the money he was giving her. She said: "We had paid taxes on a certain amount, not all the money. He had much more. It was as much mine as it was his."

Under Table

"I asked him about the money at 334 U St. 'You've got to leave me something to work with' he said. He was upset because there was the tax stamp law passed and the 10 per cent revenue tax and all that. I agreed in order to protect him to take so much and the rest under the table—those were his words."

Mrs. Whiting claimed she got her divorce at her husband's insistence and then received $19,900 from him through a friend. When she asked about the rest, he said it was in the safe.

Though she didn't have the combination any more to the safe, she got a locksmith to open the safe and took the $8,000 that was there. To her, this covered the balance on her divorce settlement plus part on the house which she says he had agreed to buy from her for $9,000 in cash. As to the money she took from the safe: "It was not stealing. I cannot steal what is my own."

Two Fined $50 by Judge H. W. Brooks

Melrose Miller, 39, of 762 Tenth street, and William LeRoy Gaines, 28, of 754 Eleventh street, were fined by Judge Howard W. Brooks, Oct. 8 $50 each on charges of operating a disorderly house at 762 Tenth street, where 25 persons were arrested Sept. 26.

The judge dismissed charges of selling beer without a permit, ruling that there was "failure to provide competent evidence," that there was no license at the establishment.

Police Capt. Louis J. Voltz, who professes applications for such licenses, testified there was no application for a beer license for 762 Tenth street. But Judge Brooks sustained a motion by the defense that the testimony be stricken because Voltz does not issue the licenses.

Probe Complaints Charging Racial Bias at Kentucky And S. C. Atomic Plants

Washington—Federal investigation of complaints charging the DuPont and Carbide and Carbon companies with discrimination at atomic energy plants in Aiken, S. C., and Paducah, Ky., is now underway, the Washington bureau of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has been informed.

Clarence Mitchell, director of the bureau, was told by the President's Committee on Government Contracts that the investigation was in progress after he submitted additional information to support charges filed by the NAACP with the chairman of the committee, Vice President Richard M. Nixon, on August 21.

Utter Failure

The chief problem at these plants now, Mr. Mitchell said, is the utter failure of contractors to realize that an intelligent use of manpower will require the utilization of colored as well as white people who are skilled workers or can be trained.

Both of the companies, the NAACP spokesman asserted, train large numbers of white persons but consistently give the run-around to colored persons seeking similar training and jobs. The DuPont company, particularly, has been advertising for workers who had skills or could be trained but so far colored employees are shunted into unskilled and janitorial work, he charged.

The NAACP official praised those persons in the Atomic Energy Commission who have successfully carried out a program of non-segregation on the plant sites. He said the policy of not permitting racial segregation had been established at the time Fletcher Waller was director of organization and personnel. Mr. Waller is now an executive in private industry.

Tried To Encourage

Since the policy of non-segregation has been in effect, Mr. Mitchell said, he had received reports from South Carolina that some foremen and minor officials had tried to encourage colored employees to use only certain specific facilities such as restrooms marked for custodial employees and drinking fountains with "yellow lines near them." Apparently these attempts to promote segregation have not been successful.

Some A.E.C. officials also deserve praise, Mr. Mitchell said, because they made an honest attempt to sell the contractors on utilizing qualified colored scientists. However, he added, even in the commission itself there seem to be some people who say "we're too busy trying to make the H-Bomb and cannot be bothered with social problems."

This latter group, Mr. Mitchell charged, is responsible for continuing a completely segregated government-owned town at Oak Ridge in Tennessee. In this "community," he charges, there is segregation in schools, housing and recreation in spite of past and present policies of the national government which forbid such practices.

Student's Luncheon Special

Nourishing "on-a-plate" special for the students in the house are these taste-satisfying salmon salad sandwiches on enriched white bread, with milk and deviled eggs.

Plan on popular sandwiches for a well-balanced luncheon at home or one that goes into a lunchbox. A variety of breads serve as carriers for substantial fillings of fish, meat or eggs, all protein-rich foods for body building.

Complete the luncheon meal with a bottle of milk and a thermos of hot vegetable or tomato soup. You'll probably want to include cookies, jam-filled tarts or fruit for dessert. Salmon salad sandwiches are a good addition to the parade of luncheon specials, for they are tasty, economical, and easy to prepare. Chopped celery and green pepper add desired crunch and color to the flaked salmon, while salad dressing makes the filling spreadable. Plain enriched bread is best with salmon salad, but raisin, cinnamon and other breads make other good sandwiches which provide essential B-vitamins and iron.

SALMON SALAD SANDWICHES

1 1/2 cups flaked salmon
3/4 cup chopped celery
1 tablespoon chopped green pepper
2 tablespoons salad dressing
12 slices enriched bread

Combine salmon, celery and green pepper. Add salad dressing and mix thoroughly. Use as filling for enriched bread. Makes one and one-half cups filling, enough for six sandwiches.

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere appreciation to all of the many friends and to Revs. J. E. Hunter, A. N. Fox and the Estes & Son Funeral home for their kindnesses, courtesies, expressions of sympathy extended during the illness and at the death of Mrs. Hattie Perkins. —The Family of Mrs. Perkins.

Plan an After-The-Game Buffet

Guests with appetites sharpened by excitement and crisp fall air will appreciate this hearty menu of cheese-topped frankfurters, alternated brown and French bread slices and baked beans. The beverage choice is chilled milk in mugs and creamy-topped ale in tall pilserner glasses.

Wind up an afternoon of football fun with a gay supper party for your crowd of faithful fans. Whether the game is a victory or disappointment, everyone will be tired and hungry from an afternoon of cheering and will look forward to relaxing over supper while they discuss the day's events.

In keeping with the informality of the occasion, serve the food buffet-style and decorate the table with an appropriate centerpiece of "mums," pennants and miniature footballs.

The illustrated menu can be prepared quickly after the game, by heating canned beans in a handsome casserole and broiling the franks according to this recipe.

Cheese-topped Frankfurters

Youth Day Feature of Corinthian Baptist Church's Loyalty Month Last Sunday Presented Many Talented Young People Who Devote Part of Their Time to Religious Activities

Youth Day held last Sunday at the Corinthian Baptist church here was one of the features of the church's Loyalty Month to encourage members to go to church regularly.

Large numbers of youth from all parts of the city attended the programs at Corinthian which started during the Sunday School hour. The pastor, Rev. Norman R. Olphin, preached from the subject of "The Unknown God," at the Sunday morning service.

The Corinthian Usher board sponsored a youth program Sunday afternoon at which time the Rev. Ozell Freeman of the First CME church was guest speaker. His subject was "Church Loyalty." James N. Bethel is president of the usher board. During the Baptist Training Union hour movies were shown. Miss Claudette Howard was in charge of the evening program.

According to the Rev. Mr. Olphin, Corinthian is striving to keep the young people busily engaged in religious activity as a means of helping to curb juvenile delinquency.

Game for Young or Old

IT'S FUN for youngsters and grown-ups alike—the tumble-bug game. For the bugs, get some capsules from your druggist. Drop a ball bearing into each; close the capsule and mark it with a colored tape, so that each player will know his own bug.

The only other equipment needed for the game is a playing board. Cut a piece of Presdwood about one foot square and nail it to a block of one-inch lumber four inches wide and as long as the playing board, to form a ramp. You'll need to plane the block of wood to the proper angle to make the Presdwood fit evenly.

Up to four players can participate with a board the size of the one described. Each player holds his capsule in an upright position at the top edge of the playing board. At the signal to "go," the bugs are released to tumble end over end down the ramp. The one reaching bottom first is the winner.

Earthquakes Hit Iowa

What are Iowa's chances of having an earthquake?

Better than you think. In fact, we've had 17 earthquakes since 1843!

Lucky no lives were lost. But it wasn't all luck. Geologists say the thing that saved us was the heavy glacial drift that covers Iowa like a huge mantle. That acted as a shock absorber, prevented much damage.

Living here in Iowa, we have the benefit of shock absorbers in more ways than one. There's more "give and take" to our way of life. Our people go at a more leisurely pace than they do in the big cities.

Maybe "moderation" is a good word for it. Moderation in our thoughts, opinions, prejudices, and habits is good for us . . . and our neighbors. It's one reason why after dinner, I lean toward a quiet glass of beer . . . the beverage of moderation. But if Ed prefers tea, or Bill coffee, I'll go along with them on those, too.

If we think moderately, act moderately, we will be happier, and so will those around us.

"How many bubbles in a bar of soap?"

"You don't know? . . . Then you can't vote!"

Believe it or not, that was the question—and the verdict—which disqualified many Negroes in one state of the United States of America!

And such legal injustices can be stopped!

How? by successfully challenging them where the results are everlasting: in the courts!

Where? in every court under whose jurisdiction they occur—up to and including the U. S. Supreme Court!

When? now! And you can help by sending a contribution today to the N.A.A.C.P. Legal Defense and Educational Fund. This organization of top-flight lawyers gives free legal aid to Negroes who suffer legal injustice because of their race or color and cannot afford to employ legal assistance.

It operates at no profit to its members.

Yet, the expense of procedures is high. And this organization is desperately in need of your contribution to carry on its vital work.

Let's all pitch in . . . to help guarantee—

Urban League Executives Stresses Housing and Job

"Housing is the one factor in the national arena that is becoming the most crucial thing of testing the way of the democratic thinking," spoke Shelton Granger of Minneapolis, Minn., executive secretary of the Minneapolis Urban League, last Friday afternoon at Savery hotel. Mr. Granger was one of the principal speakers of the closing session of Human Rights Week observance held last week in Des Moines.

Following the summary of workshop sessions which dealt with human rights in the fields of housing, employment, health, public accommodations, Mr. Granger emphasized the workshops on housing and fair employment.

Housing Stressed
"Housing should be stressed and restressed," he said, as it involved the "total building of a personality." Regarding Fair Employment Practice Commission (FEPC), he said

"there is no question of the workability of those laws. FEPC works within the framework of its own limitations."

He advised against "slipping in the convenient rut of saying that we can not do this—let time take care of this thing."

"Time is not a cure-all," the Urban League executive stated, adding that "the inevitable comes about only by effort. We must apply that effort."

Good Concept

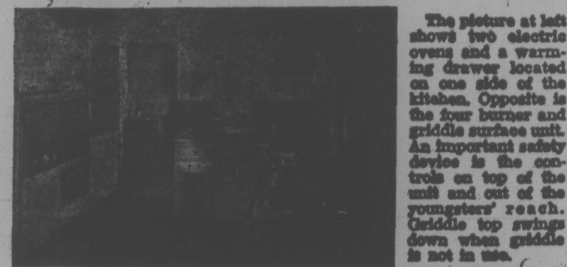

As groups plan interracially, Mr. Granger warned against the making of hasty compromises. He said that "a good concept is an important thing."

"We have to have the participation of minority peoples on an equal footing with other people. In the long run the entire community benefits by placing of one person in a new endeavor."

Built-In Kitchen Ranges

from SMALL HOMES GUIDE

Today an oven can be tucked into a wall of the kitchen and located at the height that is most convenient. Burner units can be as close to or as far away from the oven as the housewife desires. Built-in ranges, in either gas or electric models make this possible. They offer more flexible kitchen planning, allow the creation of the type of cooking center best suited to the individual's work habits.

Pictured here is a built-in oven and electric model burner unit placed side-by-side. Burners are built into a counter-top which means storage space close at hand. A split-burner arrangement affords in-between work space. Oven has anodized copper finish on the door. Also available in stainless steel or baked enamel.

A Message to All Iowans

YOU live in Iowa—Good.

YOU belong to a Church, Club and/or Lodge.

IT is interesting to your friends at home and in other towns to know what you and your organization are doing—every week.

YOU realize that a City or State is woefully lacking without a newspaper which prints all news about Negroes.

YOU need to know and understand the problems of Iowans with reference to Voting, Jobs, Civil Rights, etc. It is a sign of a good citizen.

MAYBE you don't know that your own newspaper, the Bystander, which is the only one of its kind in Iowa, has been in the forefront of the fight to better conditions in Iowa for many years. Much progress has been made.

THE job can be done better with your support—become a regular subscriber of the Bystander. And remember news about you and your organization is printed without charge.

THE Bystander wants more subscribers and calls upon its friends in all towns to become one.

Personal Touch
By
MARIE ROSS

It is always a pleasure to find a personal letter in the pile of newspapers, news letters, news features, news pictures and weekly releases that hit the news desk each week. And from California during the week end, came this:

"I know that you shall be surprised to receive a letter from one whom you do not know; but, your 'Personal Touch' in the Bystander is so interesting from time to time, I just thought I could do no harm in telling you so," penned Mrs. J. L. Edwards of 1939 West Blvd., Los Angeles 16, Cal.

And, do I thank Mrs. Edwards for such kind words? Her letter continued:

"I once lived in Des Moines. My husband and I were active members of St. Paul A.M.E. church. His name is there on the corner. He passed in August 1950 after having visited in Des Moines in 1949."

Mrs. Edwards revealed that she was living "quietly in a cottage," after having sold the apartment house which they built when they moved to Los Angeles.

"I see by the Bystander that most of my old friends whom I once worked in clubs with are about all gone. I see that Mrs. Margaret Lowery is still with you and a few others. I see that A. A. Alexander is better. Mr. Edwards and he were great friends. Well, I see I could keep right on writing, so I had better quit."

With a "sincerely yours for the uplift of humanity"—and a good luck to you and Des Moines, Mrs. Edwards ended her very pleasant letter. Thanks to her for being so thoughtful.

Every term when the Adult Education classes get started, it is difficult to pick out one course for the one spare evening that one might have for getting acquainted with some new subject of study, a hobby or even some recreation.

There are many courses offered at the high school adult centers, the Community Centers, YWCA, art center, radio station studios.

Hundreds of subjects include: Accounting, archery, arithmetic, auto-harp or auto mechanics, through the alphabet to waitress training, welding, writing, or woodworking. Some classes are still open—and registration may be made by phoning 8-7451 for more information.

I always have wanted to get in one of the dressmaking classes taught by Mrs. Frances Wellington—but can never make the schedule. She has classes at East High Monday night and Willie House, Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. George Wells Visits In Oklahoma

Mr. George Wells, 1745 Walker street, returned Monday from Oklahoma where he spent a two week vacation. While there he visited in Oklahoma City with Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Dunlap and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Brookins; Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Morton; in Wellston, he was guest of Mrs. Maude Brookins, and dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. Sims. While there he visited Dunbar High school.

Mr. Wells was accompanied to Oklahoma by Mrs. M. Harris of Fallis, Okla., who had been here visiting her son-in-law, Rev. Elmer Glover.

Roosevelt high on Monday nights. A new teacher this term is Miss Georgine Mason who is teaching advanced leathercraft on Monday nights at East High. She has won a number of prizes on her arts and crafts in contests.

Last Thursday, I found myself out to North High school in a basic photography class, taught by Robert Schnieder, who has promised to help us improve our picture-taking and acquaint us with principles of processing.

One nice feature about the night classes at North High school. After one hour of study, a bell rings and there is a 15-minute "break". All of the students and teachers go to the dining hall, receive a free bottle of orange juice or chilled milk—and sip while the principal makes a few observations. One gets to see all of the students, make new friends and find old ones.

News of the observance of "Good Thief Sunday," at Iowa State Penitentiary, was revealed in a letter from Howard Williams, who wrote of being asked to attend the observance on Oct. 11 with 96 other inmates.

"The Catholic organization is making possible this program and made known that it will be a nationwide radio broadcast throughout 40 states and Canada and can be heard in many institutions.

"The See magazine," they call it—"the Holy See," last February granted permission to inaugurate an annual "Good Thief Sunday" in America's penal institutions on the second Sunday of October."

Her Nylons Went To Her Head

THAT attractive head scarf above, used here to conceal milady's pin curls, is an ex-pair of nylon stockings that's been rescued from the scrap heap, according to the Tintex Home Economics Bureau. Home-dyeing and simple needlework did the trick.

Shown on dresser are other attractive items made from discarded nylons—lamp shade, doll's dress and sachets. Photo insets show dyeing process and finishing touch on lamp shade. A preliminary step to re-dyeing is to take out old color with color remover, obtainable at all fabric dye counters, the Tintex bureau says.

PRAISE FOR PROMPT ACTION HOEGH

Carrying out his pledge to a committee of the NAACP, Attorney General Hoegh has written the restaurant and hotel associations in Iowa asking that they call upon their members to observe the civil rights law.

As the attorney general acted, so did both associations stating that their members would be notified promptly of the request.

The committee does not wish to convey the impression that it over looks the fact that the civil rights laws are on the statute book and officials take the oath to enforce these. On the other hand, it calls upon law enforcement officials to enforce the law, recognizing that the help of public sentiment is important in order to get such things done.

Then, too, it is equally important that Negroes take advantage intelligently of their rights exercising them with decorum and good judgment.

Establishments covered by the law need never fear that there will be a big rush of Negro customers to fill their business place. This is not true and experiences on similar occasions bear that out. What they want is an open door where there will be no guessing about who will and who will not serve them.

On the other hand it is important that where there are violations they should be dealt with promptly.

The Bystander congratulates Attorney General Hoegh for carrying out his pledge promptly. In fact, it is refreshing among most Iowa state officials in their proposals to committees to carry out some action about civil rights. The practice heretofore has been to stall until time runs out.

SUPPORT THE UNITED CAMPAIGN DRIVE

The annual Community Chest drive (United Campaign) begins October 15th and closes October 27th. The goal set for 1953 is $1,295,835 which represents the almost total cost of operating 33 institutions.

These dollars have been with us so long that it seems superfluous to repeat the reason why every family in Des Moines should make some contribution to this effort.

Very few families are untouched by some activity of these organizations which participate in the fund. And even those who don't are well compensated by the fact that Des Moines is made a better city through the work of the groups supported by this fund.

Anyone who has worked in these campaigns knows that it requires a lot of work on the part of those who are directly responsible for their success. Imagine 38 organizations each making annual campaigns for funds. It would be a nuisance as well as very expensive to promote.

The people of Des Moines have given a fine account of themselves each year by meeting their responsibility fully. (This year should be no exception to the rule. And whether the gift is large or small, it serves the purpose well for which it is intended.)

IOWA FOOTBALL TEAM AMONG THE BEST

Iowa University is a great school. As an institution of learning it ranks among the best.

And in keeping with its determination to have the best, football coach Forest Everchick has produced a football team of which Iowa followers may well be proud. The first showing during the games played this year indicates that an excellent combination has been built which plays the game well.

True Iowa has lost its two big ten games but the team has won laurels in defeat.

specializing in fund raising for non-profit organizations. In the final analysis, Mr. Oram said, nothing takes the place of the personal appeal based upon an important current issue.

The committee, set up by the St. Louis convention and composed of the chairmen of the seven NAACP regions, representatives of youth section, board and staff members, met all-day on October 8 to outline a program, to prepare a plan of action, and to devise methods of raising the vital funds to carry out the program.

At Sessions

Attending the session were regional chairmen Joseph Kennedy, San Francisco; Dr. U. S. Wiggins, Camden, N. J.; James A. Crumlin, Louisville; William Cratic, Minneapolis; Dr. P. A. Stevens, Chattanooga, Tenn.; and James Stewart, Oklahoma City. Youth representatives included Benson Jennings, Chicago; Miss Ina Henriques, New York City; and Al Henderson, Piqua, Ohio. In addition to Dr. Tobias, the board of directors was represented by Arthur B. Spingarn, NAACP president, Dr. Algeron Black, and Dr. Robert C. Weaver.

Staff members participating in the conference included Walter White, executive secretary; Roy Wilkins, administrator; Thurgood Marshall, special counsel; Clarence Mitchell, Washington bureau; Gloster B. Current, director of branches; Miss Lucille Black, membership secretary; Herbert Wright, youth secretary; Rev. Walter P. Offutt, Jr., church secretary; Herbert Hill, labor relations assistant; Miss Bobbie Branche, office manager; Julia Baxter, Division of Research and Information; and Henry Lee Moon, director, public relations.

350,000 Fire Fighters Alerted

Iowa's most powerful volunteer fire fighting unit, the 350,000 sportsmen out-of-doors this fall, is being urged by the State Conservation Commission to take action.

The Commission has requested all hunters, fishermen and picnickers to be alert for fires and to carry simple fire-fighting equipment. Such equipment, a spade and several burlap bags that can be quickly wetted, can be carried in the trunk of a car and is very effective for fighting small fires.

UN Day, Oct. 24, is being observed for the sixth year, and is the climax of the week-long observance.

Vic Power To The Red Sox For $100,000?

Boston, Mass.—(CNS)—The sports grapevine has it that the Boston Red Sox will take Vic Power off the Yankees' hands most gladly and save the New York club the embarrassment of having to bring up the star Negro slugger from their Kansas City farm to the regulars.

What is more, the multi-millionaires of Fenway Park want to pay as much as $100,000 for Power for he may insure them a pennant next year. Vic can provide them the long ball they need and could fill the No. 5 slot just behind the great Ted Williams. The Yankees are expected to decide on the offer within the week.

HEALTH FOR ALL

Jaundice

This year in Polk County, there has been a total of 489 cases of infectious hepatitis or yellow jaundice," said Dr. Abraham Gelperin, Director of the Des Moines-Polk County Departments of Public Health. This includes 345 cases in the city and 124 in the county. There has been one death in the city and none in the county.

"We were fortunate in obtaining a sufficient supply of gammaglobulin from the State Health Department, continued Dr. Gelperin. The use of this was started on January 22 when the supply was made available." Studies have shown that the use of gammaglobulin markedly decreases infections in people, who are in close contact with a person sick with the that was something to see as the guy realized he had mastered a new trick.

As a member of the great semi-pro teams of the thirties, Pearsons Bulldogs and Ankeny, it was our luck to be a linebacker behind Brown, an end. In five years we never saw the man knocked off his feet, or his end circled. In basketball, our Crocker Y Big Five set up a system of play that made "Bus" a high scorer and gave him the confidence he needed to become a really great player.

Brown's cocky confident manner hit his opponents in such a way that their reaction was along one of two lines. Either they were awed by his apparent greatness or they got mad and determined to show him.

Our athlete broke into baseball as a first baseman and wound up playing second, third, and outfield. He was a better than average boxer and could play tennis if he wanted to. During the war he got into the Navy and made the shore patrol. That training coupled with his knowledge of boxing made him a cool, confident athlete for sure. He often said if he could have had the size, knowledge and confidence in his earlier life, that he developed in the Navy, he would have been a really great athlete.

We always liked to consign our athletic friends to that mythical Val Halla where all the great warriors go instead of dying. There they live through their greatest glory. Somewhere in their haven, "Bus" Brown is probably donning the uniform he wore here and is ready to take his place as a member of the Big Five, or Bulldogs, or maybe, the Black Barons, disease, thus decreasing the spread of infection.

A WAY OF LIFE

Some folks lightly cast aside—things that should not be denied. Lessons learned thru blood and tears, by their elders thru the years. Handed down by script and creed—records scored to fill the need.

Antidotes for storm or strife, armour for a better life. Experienced ones will always lead—and wiser ones will always heed. They'll have a better future plan, to build that brotherhood of man. A way of life, based on fair play, that each be equal, every way; to use our talents, use our mind, and lend a hand to all mankind. If all adopt this way to live—without reserve—all freely give, this world could be a paradise; that comes to life before our eyes. Glenn A. Gallagher (Firs American Serial Rights Only)

"Operation ALERT"

... to Serve You at the Flick of a Switch!

Ipalco's control room operators know when you go to bed and when you arise in the morning . . . they know when the wheels of industry start turning and when they stop.

Ipalco's control room operators aren't really snoopers . . . but it's imperative that they know when you start turning on your lights, ranges, shavers, TV sets, radios, coffee makers and toasters . . . just as they must know when the stores and factories start coming to life for the day.

All this activity calls for MORE ELECTRICITY . . . and the control room operators are the men who send the current humming over the lines to where it's needed. All this attentive service is just behind your electric switch.

Ipalco's control room operators . . . and 1,500 other employees doing their jobs conscientiously and efficiently—are part of the reason why people living in Ipalco get the best electric service available.
