Tuskegee Bureau Finds No Lynchings to Report for Year; New Standard Needed

Tuskegee, Ala.—According to criteria used in the Department of Records and Research, Tuskegee year, has no lynchings to report. The 5 years, 1949-1953, show a total of 6 lynchings.

Lynchings prevented: However, in at least 3 instances lynchings were prevented. Reports on these follow:

On January 17, near Mobile, Alabama, Henry Lee Brown, 17 year old Negro, escaped from Sheriff's deputies while being taken to Kilby Prison at Montgomery. Convinced that he was about to be lynched when his handcuffs were removed and the deputies stopped their cars, the prisoner jumped from the car in which he rode and ran into the swamps, while shots were fired at him. He later gave himself up, was tried and acquitted of the charge of slaying a white woman.

In March, near Willcox, Arizona, Arthur Thomas, 29 year old Negro migrant cotton worker, accused of murdering a white woman storekeeper, was saved from lynching by an officer of the law.

On May 24, at New York City, Edward Cartagena, 42 year old Puerto Rican, was rescued from a mob by two umpires of a baseball game and the mounted police. Before several hundred persons watching the game in Central Park, Cartagena stabbed his estranged common-law wife to death. Players and spectators tried to kill him.

New Index

New index to race relations will be issued. Lynching as traditionally defined and as a barometer for measuring the status of race relations in the United States, particularly the South, seems no longer to be a valid index to such relationships. This is due to significant changes in the status of the Negro and to the development of other extra-legal means of control, such as bombings, incendiarism, threats and intimidation, etc.

"We believe that a new standard for measuring race relations is needed. This can and should be as

Assault Charges Against L. Parker

A charge of assault with intent to commit murder was filed in municipal court Dec. 22 against Larry Parkey, 16, of 1509 Stewart street, in connection with a shooting at the Parkey home on the afternoon of Dec. 19.

Frank Collins, 28, of 914 Laurel street, who was wounded in the stomach by a .22 caliber rifle shot, was still listed in "critical" condition at Broadlawn General Hospital.

Police said Collins was shot while visiting Larry's sister, Gaynelle, 19, at the Parkey home. The shooting followed an argument between Larry and Collins, police said.

The youth pleaded innocent to the charge and was held in lieu of $5,000 bond. Municipal Judge Howard W. Brooks set his hearing for Jan. 8.

Attempted 'Fix' Case to Be Probed by Grand Jury; Ben Bumbry Tells of Offer

The attempted basketball game "fix" case here has taken on many interests since Dec. 24, Ben Bumbry, Drake University basketball star, reported that he was approached several days earlier by an individual who "mentioned $300 one time and $500 another time."

Early this week, Des Moines Detective Chief R. E. O'Brien conferred with Attorney General Leo Hoegh on the case.

The detective Sunday filed an information against Floren DiPaglia, 27, Des Moines building supply company official, charging him with trying to fix the score of an Iowa State-Drake University basketball game played on Dec. 22.

A Polk county grand jury probe of the attempted "fix" is set for Jan. 5, when the 1954 grand jury is drawn, County Attorney Clyde E. Herring said Monday.

DiPaglia has waived his case directly to the grand jury and is free on bond.

Herring said the case will be one of the first for the new grand jury to consider "because of its importance and the implication involved."

DiPaglia is accused of attempting to get Ben Bumbry, Drake's leading scorer, to "shave" points in the game with Iowa State. Bumbry said "no dice" and immediately reported the incident to Drake's Athletic Director Jack McClelland.

Drake lost the game, 69 to 59, but Bumbry led the team's scoring with 17 points.

Detective O'Brien took formal statements Saturday from Bumbry and Willie Cerf, Drake players, and

United States Steel Honors Former Employee On 100th Birthday

Martins Ferry, Ohio — United States Steel found added significance in Christmas this year as it honored a former employee and pensioner, Mr. Nathan Bibby of Martins Ferry, Ohio (left). First in line for his slice of the Mr. Bibby's 100th birthday cake on Christmas day was Dr. Richard Wilson, U. S. Steel's oldest plant physician and long-time friend of Mr. Bibby.

Together with corporation representatives from Pittsburgh, Dr. Wilson called to see Mr. Bibby on his hundredth birthday anniversary which fell on Christmas day. Mr. Bibby was found to be in excellent spirits and health and reminisced quite freely regarding the whereabouts of many individuals whom he knew during his approximately forty years of service in various United States Steel Corporation mills.

Mr. Bibby, although pensioned in 1929, displays an unusual memory for men and events before and after the turn of the century. Dr. Wilson agreed with U. S. Steel officials, who visited with him, that Mr. Bibby was one of the most alert persons he has talked with for some time.

Starting in Pittsburgh nearly 64 years ago in a mill that was to become an important unit in United States Steel, Mr. Bibby said that he met many of the important men in the steel industry in the early days and until the time of his retirement. "I knew Mr. Carnegie well. He came through the plant often and always stopped to say a few words to the men."

Moving from Pittsburgh in 1917 to the then new sheet and tin mill at Gary, Ind., he spent a number of years in that steel center and finally closed his career after forty years of service at the plant in Martins Ferry, Ohio, in which community he now resides.

Mr. Bibby enjoys quite a reputation in his home town as a champion checker player. He does not wear glasses, carries himself at his full height of six feet, and has a considerable spring to his step. During his retirement, he has busied himself with odd jobs, but always saves himself a few hours in every summer week for a fishing session.

Mr. Bibby still makes occasional trips to Pittsburgh—at least two a year—to visit with old friends at the general offices.

Martin Humphrey Gets Wounds While Hunting

Martin Humphrey, 31, of 2732 Scott street, suffered superficial face and hand wounds last Saturday when injured while rabbit hunting near Lorimer. He was released after treatment at Iowa Lutheran hospital in Des Moines.

Humphrey told sheriff's deputies that four men in his hunting party had chased a rabbit into a cement tile culvert. One of the other hunters saw the rabbit and fired the shot of the 12-gauge shotgun into one end of the culvert while he was looking through the other end.

The rabbit was hit but pellets bounced off the cement tile and struck Humphrey.

Arrested 'Shopping' In Grocery Store

Detectives Sunday night arrested a 61-year-old man, who they say, was "shopping" after hours in the Hockenburg Grocery, 1107 Keosauqua way.

Theodore Hazzard, who gave his address as 1108 Tenth street, was being held for questioning.

Detectives James Allen and James McGuire arrested Hazzard in the grocery. They said he was carrying a sack containing meat, beer, and other goods. Entry was gained by breaking the glass in the front door, they said.

S. C. Parents in School Cases Reaffirm Intention 'To Hold Out' Until End

Columbia, S. C.—Reaffirming their intention "to hold out with high spirits and firm determination" until racial segregation in public schools is abolished a group of parents of the children in the Clarendon County school segregation case have issued a public statement of their position.

"We, the undersigned, plaintiffs in the now famous Clarendon County court case against color segregation of school children," the statement asserts, "again declare our belief that color segregation itself is not only undemocratic and un-Christian, but also unlawful when considered with relation to rights guaranteed to all Americans by the Constitution of this nation. We look forward to the day when color segregation can truthfully be said to be un-American."

One of Five

The Clarendon County case originated in 1950 and was one of five such cases reargued before the United States Supreme Court earlier this month by attorneys of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People under direction of Thurgood Marshall, the Association's special counsel.

As the day of decision draws nearer, the parents indicate in their statement they are not backing down in their demand for integration of the public schools in their community.

"We started out several years ago," the statement continues, "to make our contribution to progressive South Carolina history and to strengthen the rapidly decreasing prestige of our country in the opinion of peoples of other nations, by seeing that color segregation shall be declared illegal by the courts of this land—and that, eventually, no American child will suffer the damaging personality defect of thinking "himself inferior or superior, as the case may be, simply because of skin color."

To Hold Out

"Our aim today is just what it was in the beginning. We intend to hold out with high spirits and firm determination until the goal we started for is reached."

Congratulating the parents upon their firm stand, the Rev. J. M. Hinton, president of the South Carolina State Conference of NNAACP branches, gave assurance of continued support to fight to eliminate segregation not only in the schools but also in other aspects of community life in South Carolina.

In New York, Walter White, hailed the Clarendon County declaration as indication of "the courage, loyalty and devotion to principle of the Clarendon County parents. They can depend upon us for every support in the crucial fight for democratic education."

Pfc. J. Humphrey To End Visit

Pfc. third class, James R. Humphrey of Air Force Base at Randolph Field, San Antonio, Texas, will leave Jan. 3 after having spent 15 days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Humphrey, 1461 DeWolf street.

Former Ambassador to Liberia Resumes Post to Finance Ten-Year Effort

New York—Appointment of Edward R. Dudley, former United States Ambassador to Liberia, as special assistant in charge of the NAACP Fight for Freedom was announced Dec. 24 by Walter White, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

In assuming his new position January 1, Mr. Dudley will be returning to the NAACP which he served as first assistant special counsel from 1943 to 1948 when he was appointed minister to Liberia by President Harry S. Truman. In 1949 he was elevated to the rank of Ambassador and became the first Negro to hold that office in the American foreign service.

Duties

Mr. Dudley's duties as special assistant will include coordination of the Association's efforts to raise $1,000,000 a year to finance activities designed to complete emancipation by January 1, 1963, the centennial of Abraham Lincoln's proclamation. He will work with the board, staff and membership of the organization and with whatever additional personnel may be needed.

The Fight for Freedom was launched by Dr. Channing H. Tobias, chairman of the NAACP board of directors, at the association's 44th annual convention in St. Louis last June. The convention selected a committee to formulate plans for

Welcomed

"We welcome Ed Dudley back to the NAACP," Mr. White said in announcing the appointment. "In him we have a man of demonstrated ability and national stature who can give direction and leadership to our Fight for Freedom. With him in charge, we have utmost confidence in our ability to achieve our goal."

Mr. Dudley said he was "most happy to be again working actively on the staff of the NAACP. My experience in the foreign service," he asserted, "has made me even more aware of the urgent need to eliminate all aspects of racial discrimination and segregation from merican life. We must move speedily to make democracy a living reality for every American. The most effective agency I know to work to this end is the NAACP. Accordingly, I deem it a privilege to be back with the organization which for 44 years has taken the leadership in working for an America of freedom, justice, equality and security for all."

Now 42 years old, Mr. Dudley was

Six Persons Hurt As Auto Hits Bus

Six persons were injured Monday when the car in which they were riding collided with the rear of a Des Moines Railway Co. motor bus at Stone lane, in the 1100 block on Ninth street.

Mrs. Gwendolyn Johnson, 23, of 912 Fifteenth street, was identified as the driver of the car. She suffered head injuries and was reported in satisfactory condition at Iowa Methodist hospital.

Mrs. Susan Richardson, 23, of 1019 Tenth street, was reported in "fair" condition at Broadlawn General hospital. She received face and head injuries.

Four children in the car were treated for injuries at Broadlawn General hospital and released. They were Reginald Ricardson, 8 months; Alvin Richardson, 2; Harvey Junior Johnson, 5, and Richard Bush, 8, of 1249 Center street.

Police said the bus had stopped to discharge passengers and that the car, following it, failed to stop.

Many Americans Will Share In Haitian's Celebration of 150 Years of Independence

Port-au-Prince, Haiti—Many hundreds of Americans will participate, officially and unofficially, in celebrating Haiti's first 150 years of independence. Diplomats, American residents of this city and visitors will take part in the festivities which will begin New Year's Eve at the historic city of Gonaives and continue at the Palace of Sans Souci (in Milot, at the foot of the rugged mountain which is crowned by the Citadelle), reaching a climax in the capitol city of Port-au-Prince on January 4, 1954.

More than a friendly, neighborly interest in the accomplishments of this tiny island republic is reflected in the attitude of Americans because they realize that the United States owes a great deal to Haitian courage.

The Louisiana Purchase was made possible because Napoleon's troops had been defeated by a band of former slaves; Napoleon found himself so hard pressed strategically and economically that he found it necessary to sell 530 million acres to the United States at the bargain rate of less than 4c an acre.

Since, according to eminent historians, Napoleon planned to use Haiti as a base from which to launch an all-out effort to expand the Louisiana Territory into a New World empire, the Haitian victory benefited the United States in two ways—increasing enormously the United States' area and resources while at the same time it forced Napoleon to drop his plans for aggression.

Official Program

At 1 p.m., December 31, President Paul Magloire will take ceremonial leave of Port-au-Prince to go to Gonaives, the City of Independence. Upon his arrival there will be a Christmas tree ceremony, organized under the auspices of the Mrs. Paul Magloire Foundation.

That evening, at a patriotic festival and "fire camp," the Boy Scouts of Haiti will dramatize episodes from the lives of such heroes as Touissant Louverture, Henri Christophe, Desalines and Pemon.

Midnight will usher in the Sesqui-centennial year with a 21-gun salute.

Patterson was stabbed during an argument at the rear of Hunting's home. Hunting is being held at the county jail.

NAACP Wins Fight to Cut Poll Tax in Alabama

Birmingham — Alabama voters, responding to appeals by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and other organizations, have voted three to one to reduce drastically the cumulative feature of the state poll tax. The new amendment awaits the governor's proclamation to become law.

Under terms of the amendment, approved by the voters in a statewide referendum on December 15, the tax which has been cumulative from the ages of 21 through 45 at a $1.50 per year will be required only for a two-year period in advance of each election. Citizens who formerly may have had to pay as much as $30 or more in order to register and vote may now vote upon payment of two years' back taxes.

Played Up Role

Throughout the pre-election campaign, supporters of the old constitutional provision, which disfranchised thousands of low-income whites as well as Negroes, played up the role of the NAACP in spearheading the drive for revision of the constitution. By this means they hoped to induce enough white citizens to vote against the amendment to insure its defeat.

Advertisements were placed in Alabama papers publicizing the NAACP support of the amendment and recounting the Association's fight against segregation and efforts to increase the Negro vote. The Democratic Executive Committee of Jefferson County (Birmingham) inserted a large display advertisement in the Birmingham News which proclaimed: "NAACP urges adoption of Poll Tax Amendment (No. 1) and seeks death of racial segregation in Alabama and in the South." The advertisement quotes public addresses by NAACP officials and statements from its publications.

Revival To Begin Jan. 3 At E. 17th & University Church

Revival services will begin Sunday, Jan. 3, at East University Church of God in Christ, conducted by Rev. D. Burton of Pennsylvania and Rev. Louis H. Ford, pastor of the church.

To Cathedral

Early New Year's morning (at 5 a. m.) the entire diplomatic corps will go from Port-au-Prince to Gonaives for a solemn Te Deum at the new Cathedral of Remembrance. Again there will be a 21-gun salute. Later in the morning, the Place d'Armes, the President, diplomats, the ministers, legislative and judiciary bodies, other government officials, honored guests and citizenry will attend the unveiling of an obelisk commemorating Haiti's valiant fight for freedom, with a speech by Secretary of State of the Interior, Mr. Gumele.

Chief of Staff of the Haitian Army, General Levele, will read Haiti's Act of Independence; the Adjutant General will read the Proclamation originally made by Jean Jacques Dessalines from the very spot in 1803. The President will officially proclaim the Sesquicentennial Celebration, followed by a full-dress parade, a luncheon for official and government guests, and, at night, a "theatrical evening" at the Place d'Armes and "public rejoicing".

To Cap Haitian

Early January 2, the President and his party will travel to Cap Haitien for ceremonies as near-by Breda, home of Toussaint Louverture, followed by a solemn Te Deum in the Cathedral of Cap Haitien.

At the picturesque village of Verriere in the afternoon, a pageant will dramatize the decisive battle fought there. Later the party will motor to Milot for a banquet, with music and entertainment, staged on the star-lit esplanade of the palace of Sans Souci.

Next morning (Jan. 3rd) everyone will return to the capitol; that evening, music and entertainment are scheduled at the picturesque Theatre de Verdure.

Again, on the 4th, the day will start with the Te Deum at the Port-au-Prince Cathedral, and the inauguration of the four statues of the Heroes of the Independence on the place of Champ de Mars. Following an address by the mayor, both the Army and the school children will stage parades.

A state dinner and ball at the National Palace that evening will culminate at midnight with a presentation of songs and dances taken from Haitian folklore, in the Salle des Bustes—the Haitian version of a Presidential Hall of Fame.

HAND CROCHET — A POPULAR FASHION

This versatile two-tone sports coat can be worn loose and flared, or clutched to the body in the latest "wrapped" effect. Crocheted of heavy Kentucky Soft Spun rayon yarn, with contrasting fabric sleeves and collar, it combines sturdy practicality with the current "rage" for knitted and crocheted fashions.

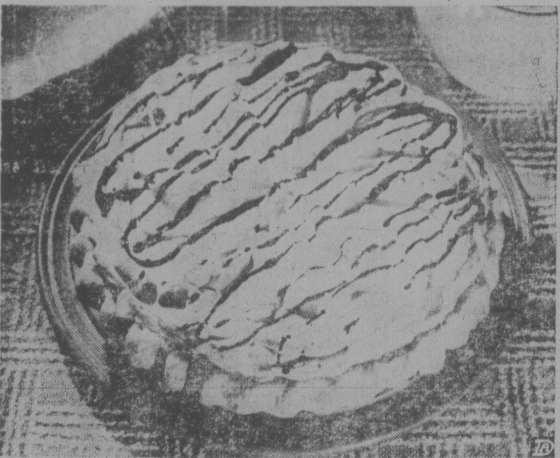

To receive free instructions for making this jacket, send a stamped self-addressed envelope to the Women's Editor of this paper.

HE SEES YOU

Fifteen-months-old Vincent Gordon Manley is fed orange juice by volunteer polio worker at St. Jude's Hospital, Montgomery, Ala. Vincent sees you and wants you to help him recover from polio. Polio patients receive aid through the March of Dimes, held this year Jan. 2-31.

Elegant Chocolate Pie

There's something about a smooth chocolate filling set in flaky pastry shell and topped with a high hat meringue that is absolutely irresistible. But a tempting drizzle of melted chocolate is added anyway!

Chocolate Pie is one likely to be included in everyone's list of favorite desserts, for it is both rich and handsome.

Your baker makes Chocolate Pie to perfection, but you can make it at home, too, at a cost of only 8 cents for a big luscious cut. Start with an enriched flour pastry for that tender, flaky shell, and also for its good nutritional bonus. Because of the B-vitamins and iron of enriched flour, and food values of milk and egg, Chocolate Pie is surprisingly "good-for-you."

To have the pastry just as you desire it, fit it loosely into the pie pan. Gently pat out air pockets and then flute edge for a handsome effect. Prick the bottom and sides of the pastry with a fork to avoid puffing during baking. Allow shell to cool thoroughly before adding chocolate filling.

If you have egg yolks on hand for the filling, but no egg whites for meringue, use whipped cream as topping and garnish with chopped nuts.

out about 1/4 inch thick. Line 1 9-inch pie pan. Prick with fork. Bake in hot oven (450°F.) 8 to 12 minutes. Cool. Fill with Chocolate Filling.

ingue made from the egg whites and granulated sugar. Bake in slow oven (325°F.) about 15 minutes, until meringue is golden brown. Drizzle melted chocolate over top, if desired. Makes 1 9-inch pie.

The winter season will be consecrated to a festival to commemorate the one hundred fifty anniversary of the Haitian Independence.

Miss Shirlee Brown, Former Des Moines Girl, Becomes Bride Of Mr. Donald Callendor In Pretty Home Ceremonies Held On Christmas Eve

Rev. M. L. Simmons Performs Double Ring Ceremonies

Minneapolis, Minn.—Miss Shirlee Brown, daughter of the late Mrs. Anna Mae Ashby of Des Moines, became the bride of Mr. Donald Callendor of St. Paul, Minn., in Christmas eve ceremonies, Dec. 24, held at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Dan McAdams, 4118 Third avenue, So. Mr. Callendor is a son of Mrs. Gladys Callendor and the late Rev. Donald Callendor of St. Paul.

The double-ring ceremonies were performed by the Rev. Mark L. Simmons, pastor of St. Peter's A.M.E. church. Candelabra and Christmas greens and flowers decorated the home.

Fred Ewing sang the well known wedding favorite, "Because."

Given in marriage by her step-father, Mr. William H. Ashby of Des Moines, the bride wore a white ankle-length gown of tulle and lace tiers. Her veil of tulle was attached to a band of lace. Her accessories, rhinestone earrings, necklace and diamond studded wrist watch were gifts from the bridegroom. She carried a bouquet of white mums.

Miss Gloria Brown was her sister's only attendant. Best man was Mr. Vander Lewis.

Reception

Relatives and close friends of the couple attended the wedding and reception which followed, with Mesdames McAdams and Allie Wilson, aunts of the bride, serving as hostesses.

Among the guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Louis Williams, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brown and daughter, Debra, Mr. and Mrs. William Briley, Rev. and Mrs. Thomas I. Morris and Janice Lee, Mesdames Gladys Callendor, Florence Nelson, Dolly Milligan, Flossie Harris and Leslie; Gladys Miller, Josephine Brown, Viola Madden; Misses Mary Kate Breedlove, Daisy Davis, Lula Copeland, Messrs. Elroy Callendor, Gladstone Callendor, Homer Briley, Ralph Wilson, Allen Gilmore, Earl Richardson, recently of Des Moines, and John Jones of Des Moines.

The bride, a native of Des Moines, and graduate of North High school, has been living in Minneapolis for a year and a half. Mr. Callendor is a native of Minnesota, and served two years in the armed forces, stationed in Korea.

Both are employed at the Twin Cities Arsenal. They are at home at 3749 Fourth avenue, South, Minneapolis, Minn.

If the toggle switch on a power tool is difficult to reach, American Builder, "bible" of the building industry, has a solution. Take a

Dramatic Actress

Dorothy Dandridge, our favorite, blossomed out this year as a dramatic actress namely in "Bright Road" in which she played a petite school teacher faced with normal problems of teaching normal children. Dorothy proved herself capable of handling the script superbly—she should be in line for another such heart-warming story. Dorothy also kept up her television and exclusive nightclub appearances, her style of singing and dressing is still compared to Lena Horne.

Out in Hollywood: lovely Maidie Norman played a good bit part in "Torch Song" as Joan Crawford's secretary-companion. The part was a "sleeper" for even the MGM press department didn't realize its potentials. James Edwards, who had his hair shaved every day in New York for the part of Joe Louis' trainer in the "Story," went to the film city for his second flicker of the year.

Newcomers to the scene included dramatist Louis Peterson whose "Take A Giant Step" lasted 77 performances on Broadway. In a difficult field—as we have no top race playwrights—Peterson won the plaudits of tough Broadway critics even if the public didn't quite take to it. He almost "made it" as LIFE Magazine put it.

Little Newcomer

Another newcomer was Leslie Uggams Crayne, a 11-year-old little girl, who loves dolls and who possesses a grown up's voice. Leslie attends a professional school in New York for talented children and is one of the most popular kids. Her sweet personality and naiveness have won her many admirers. She's also won for herself a lucrative MGM recording contract. Her Christmas ditty, "Missus Santa Claus" is one for the books. Listeners who don't know it's a child singing, can't believe it.

Another newcomer was Edna McGriff whose recording of her own song, "Heavenly Father" became a sensation overnight. Edna wrote the tune for her boyfriend in Korea, fearing he would either be killed or taken prisoner. But he returned—and didn't approve of her going into show business. Faced with the choice, Edna went on with her career and the boy married a Japanese girl, much to her sorrow.

Both Thelma Carpenter and Lionel Hampton went to Europe this year. And Louis Jordan played Cafe Society for the first time in New York.

Sidney Poitier who did such a wonderful job in "No Way Out" two years ago, is rising fast also in a new business—barbecue.

The year 1953 has brought many changes. Let's see now what 1954 has in store.

While sitting on the eve of the New Year—resting up from the mad rush of Christmas season, does the thought of making new year resolutions rush through your mind? Do you shove it aside or do you ponder over the idea?

Many persons ask: "Why make resolutions if you are not going to keep them?"

The resolving to do anything is a challenge. It means constant work—like the planting of seed, watching it grow, and then working the plants so they will produce.

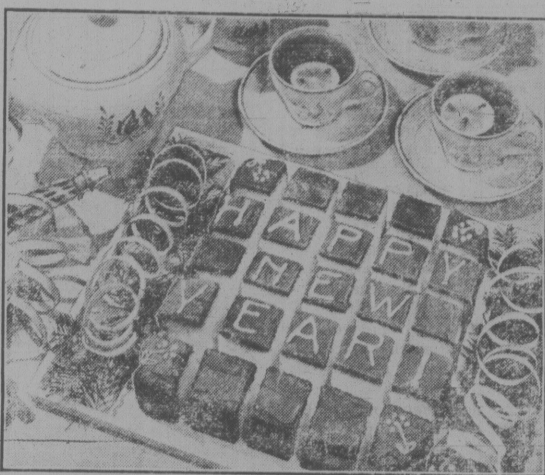

Maybe, that is the main reason why the average person will say: "I can't keep resolutions." There's too much work to keep them—and, coming right on the heels of a busy season leading up to Christmas, most people are too tired to think of taking on any new ideas that might mean more work.

Mrs. M. B. Glass of 1023 Chestnut street looks favorably upon the idea of making new year resolutions. "I always make them—because I want, always, to keep trying to be a better person than I was the past year."

Well, while pondering over the idea of resolutions—you may pause a while and browse through the pile of holiday greeting cards that are scattered about the tables here and there; re-read the postscripts which many friends have added to the greetings; wonder how and where to dispose of the last year's box of cards—which are "oh, so beautiful—but they take up a lot of space which you need for this year's cards." (Your Day Nurseries might use them).

Here and there are a few greeting cards that came from well-wishers—whose names you just can't identify. You want to send them a New Year's greeting—but, if you just could recog-

Family Cheer With a Pot of Tea

New Year's parties are traditional—and traditionally planned for the adult members of the family and their friends, or for the near adults and their respective friends. Not often enough are New Year's parties given exclusively and privately for the intimate family group. There's no one loves a party more than your small-try—and there's no one who needs the emotional security of belonging to the adult family group than these youngsters. So why not plan a family New Year's party especially to include the early-to-bed-early-to-rise members.

There's no need to go into a lot of party preparations, either. Just a few noise-makers, paper hats and streamers will do to give your regular evening meal a festive look. One of those ready-mix cakes, baked in an 8-inch square pan, frosted and decorated with the words Happy New Year, will make them happy. And to give the youngsters the feeling of attending a real grown-up party, prepare a pot of hearty, relaxing tea. Serve it as is for the adult members with sugar, milk or lemon. To the youngsters serve cambric tea (very, very weak tea with lots of milk). There's nothing like the atmosphere created over a friendly cup of tea around the family table to aid the camaraderie and esprit de corps needed to cement family relations.

To make very, very weak tea for cambric tea, make regular tea according to the rule of 1 teaspoonful tea or 1 tea bag per cup plus one for the pot, and weaken the tea by adding hot water.

The essential principles in making regular tea are simple. All you need is the proper proportions of tea, boiling water and a brewing period of three or five minutes. Real tea-lovers prefer milk with their tea because they say milk lets the true flavor of the tea come through.

nize the name, you would be satisfied.

A couple of such cards arrived at the office last week from Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Mayfield of New York City. The editor who received one, immediately asked: "Who are the Mayfields?"

Well, the only Mayfield I could think of was a young Kansas printer, Clarence, who used to work at the Bystander before he went into the services several years ago.

Immediately a greeting card was sent, thanking the Mayfields for their beautiful card and asking them for a clue. There's just nothing like knowing!

And, while I wait for an answer—and send out more New Year greeting cards—and ponder over the thought of resolving to write a better and more interesting column—I take this moment to wish all of my friends and the faithful readers of the paper—a happy and prosperous New Year—filled with all of God's rich blessings!

Card Of Thanks

I wish to thank Rev. and Mrs. I. Harris and the members and friends of Shiloh Baptist church for the wonderful cards and gifts sent to them during the holiday.

SUI Hospital-School To Move Into New Building

Iowa City, Iowa—Christmas was the highlight of the winter for most Iowa children; but Jan. 4 will run a close second for 25 young patients attending the Iowa Hospital-School for Severely Handicapped Children at the Sate University of Iowa.

For when they return from Christmas vacation on that date, the youngsters will move into a spacious and beautiful new building which shoulders into a hillside west of University hospitals on the edge of the university's medical center.

The entire building will not be ready for occupancy until some time later, according to Dr. Raymond R. Rembolt, director of the Hospital-School. But enough of it will be ready by early January to give the students now in the school much more space than they have had in their present quarters, Dr. Rembolt explains.

50 Resident Students

Some additional students can probably be accommodated by late April, the director says. The new hospital-school has been planned to house 50 resident students and approximately 10 daytime student-patients.

Jan. 4 is the tentative date set for the re-opening of school in the new building after vacation, but parents of the children will be notified later this month of any change in plans as the job of moving equipment into the new school progresses.

The hospital-school has been housed on the first floor of West-lawn, residence for SUI student nurses, since it began operation in October of 1948. Established in 1947 by the Iowa General Assembly, the hospital-school provides educational opportunity and medical treatment for children with physical handicaps so severe that they cannot attend regular schools.

The hospital-school also offers facilities for research into crippling conditions such as those due to cerebral palsy, poliomyelitis, spina bifida, muscular dystrophy and other severely handicapping conditions.

VICE PRESIDENT NIXON
LEARNS BY CONTACT

Recently Vice President Nixon completed a good-will trip around the world, visiting countries governed by all races and creeds. The Vice President is a pretty good mixer and used that ability to get close to the people and find out just how they felt about world, as well as their own, affairs.

Last week, he gave a nationwide radio and television report to the people. The Vice President had kept the press pretty well informed of his activities from day to day, but the conclusions drawn from what he saw and heard were left to be given by him directly to the people.

The Vice President did not pull any punches to the extent that few people were surprised. For example he said:

"Every act of racial discrimination or prejudice in the United States hurts America as much as an espionage agent who turns over a weapon to a foreign enemy."

Thus, he puts the issue with more force than the most ardent supporters of civil rights and he did this because he learned by close-up experience and observation that this question has a great bearing on the extent many nations are willing to cooperate with United Nations.

The Bystander and a lot of others have said this over and over again and it is encouraging that Vice President Nixon has further impressed these fundamental issues up on the minds of the American people.

1953 RESULTS HAVE BEEN ENCOURAGING

This is the time of year to think back over the past twelve months in order to see what was and was not done right so as to plan for 1954.

Many, many things came to pass in 1953, the most important being the cessation of hostilities in Korea. We are at peace as far as a shooting war is concerned and the nation is going forward trying to consolidate the gains made in national affairs at the same time straightening out the snarls which have kept the ship of state from moving smoothly.

America has made great strides in science, industry and education which have enabled the people to live in more comfort, more safety, much better health.

There is always this problem of brotherhood around which revolves great questions such as civil rights. The continued pressure by such organizations as the NAACP, in cooperation with other interested groups, has put and kept the forces opposed to the practice of equality for all men on the run. And in 1953 progress was made on all fronts.

Locally, the situation is particularly encouraging in that there has been marked improvement in the desire of the average person to practice as well as preach the doctrine of equality.

Des Moines is pretty proud of the results over the years and while not all that may be desired they have been far out in front of most communities.

The Bystander has participated in these activities and will continue to do so in the future. And to all a very prosperous and happy new year.

NO LYNCHINGS
REPORTED IN 1953

The Record department at Tuskegee Institute, Alabama, reports that there have been no lynchings in 1953.

This is a far cry from what happened prior to the past ten years. Of course, there is a reason for this has been a change in the thinking of the class of people who have engaged in mob violence and the public officials charged with law enforcement.

Much of the change has come because the NAACP has kept an anti-lynching measure in Congress for the past thirty years. And while none has passed, the threat has been a deterrent. On the other hand, some states have passed anti-lynch laws; many interracial organizations have worked to help change sentiment in their communities.

The American people are realizing that this type of lawlessness hurts everybody and lowers the morale of many of its citizens.

Letter To Editor

I am a reader of the Bystander—as we are citizens of the United States, to uphold and defend the Constitution for right and justice of mankind.

I enlisted in the U. S. army at an early age, fought on foreign soil in 1918 and to my surprise, returning home found ignorance and malice barring me from all rights that I richly deserve.

We should straighten our own house before trying to teach other nations.

I live in the city of Waterloo, Ia., at 328 Cottage Street, work for the city and was barred from all public places and had to have them arrested before they knew the law of Iowa.

I would like someone to answer this question: Do we have to fight to be barred from rights?

objective and as factual as were the lynching reports. This standard, we think, can best be established in such areas as employment and other economic conditions; in political participation; in education; in law and legislation; in health and perhaps in other fields.

We propose then, in future annual releases, to issue a statement with information as significant for the present times as was the Annual Lynching Letter in the past.

"The Department of Records and Research, which has recorded lynchings for the last forty-one years, will continue to do so, and will furnish such information to those who may request it," L. H. Foster, president of Tuskegee, informed.

Baseball Case

from a Drake student who is not an athlete.

Bumbry was contacted several nights before the game as he accompanied a girl friend to Glazier's food market, 1226 University avenue, to buy groceries. The individual drove up in either a Lincoln or Mercury, 1953 model, and with two small children in the back seat.

Upon invitation from the driver, Bumbry got into the car. The proposition followed. Bumbry said the individual mentioned $300 and $500. The figure $1,000 was mentioned, although officers are not certain whether the amount was proposed to be paid to players or was to be gambled on the outcome of the game.

It's a One-Minute Job!

BUDGET-CONSCIOUS newlyweds who have books but neither a coffee table nor a full purse can solve their problem quickly and with minor expense. They can put a table together without nails or other fasteners in just about one minute flat!

Here's what they, or anyone, can do: Go to a lumber yard for some hollow clay tiles, which are 6 inches wide and 1 foot square. These will serve as supports for the table and should be spaced 4 feet apart for a top that is 1/2" thick. At the lumber yard, they should obtain a brand new material known as Plyron, since it is ideally suited for table tops and shelving. The dealer can cut it into the required length and the 12-inch width needed to fit over the tiles.

This new combination of familiar materials, Plyron, has a core of plywood and faces of smooth, splinter-free Masonite hardboard. The unique new panel's plywood core makes it puncture-proof, strong and rigid. Its surfaces have the characteristics of Masonite tempered hardboard—hardness, smoothness, wear-resistance, paintability and moisture-resistance.

A two-tier coffee table can double as a book shelf, as shown in the illustration. Both the tiles and the boards may be left unfinished or may be painted, depending on the budget and the couple's wishes.

Plyron has numerous other uses around the home such as book or record shelves and cabinet doors.

HEALTH FOR ALL

Christmas Seal Search

One hundred and fifty thousand missing persons must be found to keep you safe from tuberculosis.

There are an estimated 400,000 active cases of tuberculosis in the United States today of which only 250,000 are known to health authorities. Many of the 150,000 unknown people with TB do not even suspect that they have an insidious disease which is steadily and quietly undermining their health. TB has no obvious symptoms in its early stages, yet it is infectious in any active stage.

Tuberculosis can be cured. If we could break the chain of infection the disease could be virtually wiped out. Yet we know that about 115,000 people who are healthy today will develop TB within the next 12 months. Unless the missing people spreading TB are found and placed under treatment, we cannot prevent new cases.

Where are they and who are they? We do not know, but we must find out. Doctors, health departments, the tuberculosis associations you support when you buy Christmas Seals—these and other official and voluntary agencies are joining in the search.

The tools and "know-how" to do this job are available. A chest X-ray and "see" tuberculosis before there are any outward symptoms. With miniature X-ray film, the entire population of a large city can be checked quickly and the possible cases of TB screened out.

The tuberculosis associations in cooperation with other agencies promote case-finding programs of many kinds, with the purpose of finding the most cases at the least cost to the community.

In addition to supporting your tuberculosis association's case-finding activities by buying Christmas Seals, you can help break the chain of infection by making sure that you are not one of the "missing persons" with unsuspected TB. Go to your doctor at least once a year for a complete physical exam and a chest X-ray. If TB should develop, you will discover it early when it can most easily be cured.

SPORTS

BY ALLEN ASHBY

Well, it is here again. Wonder what events we will talk about that happened way back in 1953. Well, I would start off by saying that the lack of condition of our Golden Gloves team was a shock. The kids just wouldn't train enough to get ready. Then there was the attempt by Al Coudpepe to help some of the athletes that paid off.

The Drake Relays? We just were there. The play of Ankeny's Dolores Brown in the state basketball meet and the sub-state meets. Her selection as all-state guard.

The Hottentots—a hustling outfit which finances its baseball and basketball teams. They always do well in softball.

The cancelling of the tennis meet. We had planned our summer around that meet and its cancellation was a shock to us. Never said anything about it because we didn't know what to say.

Watching baseball at the Western League park. Don't like any baseball but major league stuff. Why? We don't know. Sure wanted Brooklyn to win the World Series, but it was no deal.

Fifth Army Announces Plans To Transfer
31st Division, Camp Atterbury To Close

Chicago — The 31st Infantry (Dixie) Division will be transferred early next year from Camp Atterbury, Ind., to Camp Carson, Colo., it was announced here by Fifth Army headquarters. The move is scheduled for February 3 through 15.

The announcement followed a prolonged study directed by Lieutenant General William B. Kean, Commanding General of Fifth Army, into all phases of the proposed transfer. This study revealed that a large saving of operational funds could be made at Camp Atterbury and the move would permit a higher degree of utilization of Camp Carson, which is especially suitable for divisional training and maneuvers. Camp Carson is about 10 miles from Colorado Springs.

As a further economy measure, Camp Atterbury will be deactivated March 31, 1954, the Army also announced. The non-divisional units will be moved early in March. Only maintenance personnel will be retained there after the closing date. Camp Atterbury is situated about 30 miles south of Indianapolis. Edinburg Ind., is the nearest community. TINSEL

Many things are wrapped in tinsel—camouflaged with fancy trim, take a look at any female, nylon-wrapped . . . from limb to limb. When the trim is off the package, disappointment lurks within many curves develop angles, and the lacquer's lookin' thin. You know you've got a bargain if she's pleasin' to the eyes, when you see her in the mornin' with no wrappings tellin' lies!!!!!! If she saves you dough in shoppin', wouldn't wear a goofy hat is a cook without a peer, boy . . . you're lucky with all that!! Never take too much for granted, be it merchandise or damsel, then you'll not be disillusioned, by the wrapper or the tinsel.

RESOLUTIONS

It's time for resolutions, Which we'll all swear to keep. Throughout the new oncoming year And not for just a week,

Some find it hard to keep a vow, And break them one by one. And find them all a shattered mass, When that old year is done.

I find it hard to keep them all Perhaps I'm not like you. For bit by bit I break them 'till Another set is due.

I've shown you all in years gone by My resolution sheet; But this New Year I've made a change

And not for just a week.

Next year no one can laugh at me

And say I broke a vow. I've just found out a foolproof way And I will tell you how.

I've made my resolutions And put them in a book; No one will know just what they are For no one gets to look.

And when this year is over To that secret room I'll go, And get the book I hid away To see what it will show.

And if I find a broken vow In that book upon the shelf No one will get to laugh, because I've kept them to myself.
