On Polio Tour

Charles H. Bynum

New York—Volunteers in the 1954 March of Dimes are reporting a record response according to reports received by Charles H. Bynum, director of Interracial Activities of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. Mr. Bynum left National Foundation headquarters in New York City, Sunday, Jan. 10. His first stops will be Jersey City, N. J. and Baltimore, Md.

Mr. Bynum's first campaign trip included cities located in Texas, Louisiana, Florida and Alabama. He now is visiting with March of Dimes leaders and workers in New Jersey, Maryland, North Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Illinois and Wisconsin.

"Polio Prevention, the fourth front in the fight against polio, inspires increased campaign work," Bynum stated. "Throughout January more organized groups and more individuals are taking an active part in the effort to conquer the Crippler than in any previous campaign. Eventual victory over a major disease, polio, looms on the horizon, and polio volunteers are spurred by the bright hope of victory."

The 1954 March of Dimes closes Jan. 31 after the history-making Mothers' March on Polio during the

Prominent Young Matron, Mrs. A. Robinson, Dies

Services were held Tuesday afternoon at Kingdom Hall for Mrs. Aszalea Gray Robinson, 43, of 1354 E. Seventeenth court.

Burial was in Glendale cemetery. Mrs. Robinson, prominent young Des Moines matron, died Friday, Jan. 8, at her home.

Born at Yale, Kas., she had lived in Des Moines 32 years. For a number of years, she Mrs. Robinson had operated a beauty salon on the east side of Des Moines.

Mrs. Robinson was a member of the L. T. club, the Jolly S. club and the Kingdom Hall Jehovah Witnesses.

Survivors include her husband, Edgar; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Gray, Des Moines; three sisters, Mrs. Myrtle Ezzell, Indianapolis, Ind., and Mrs. Gladys Roper and Mrs. Edith Spates, Des Moines; and two brothers, Seymour and Howard Gray, Des Moines.

Services for Michelle Rae Skipper, 7, Held

Rites for Michelle Rae Skipper, 7, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Skipper, 1636 Walker street, were held Wednesday at Union Baptist church with burial in Glendale cemetery.

Michelle had been ill of a heart ailment for a month. She had attended Smouse school.

Survivors include her parents; a brother, John Thomas, and two grandparents, Mrs. Lucille Skipper and Mrs. Rosie Millis, all of Des Moines.

$39,000 Still Missing of Bureau of Engraving Theft; Wife of Suspect on Bond

Washington, D. C.—(CNS). Mrs. Mamie Landis, wife of the man accused of taking $160,000 from the Bureau of Engraving on New Year's Eve Day, was out on bail this week.

An anonymous benefactor had put up a $10,000 cash bond for the comely Mrs. Landis, who has repeatedly asserted she would have tipped off the police as her father did of the sensational robbery, if she had only known.

"I knew nothing about the robbery," she claims. "I only want to help in every way possible."

The bond for Mrs. Landis's bail was handled by Douglas R. Smith, a vice president of the National Savings and Trust Co. Said Mr. Smith about the benefactor: "He is a highly reputable client of our bank who does not desire personal publicity."

He did however add that the benefactor is also a neighbor of the estate where Mrs. Landis' father works. It was her father, Irving Grant who broke the case by going to the police with a parcel of the stolen bills.

$39,000 Still Missing

After a careful count by auditors, it was revealed that $39,000 is still missing of the New Year's Eve theft of $160,000 from the Bureau of Engraving.

Moreover, even the surrendering of a fifth suspect—a cousin of the original suspect, James Rufus Landis—didn't even close the case. "There is a lot to be done yet," said Chief U. E. Baughman.

Baughman noted how after Landis took the money from the Bureau on New Year's Eve Day, four of the six suspects held in case, split into teams of two on New Year's Day and began spending "hot" $20 bills in a frantic attempt to get rid of them, before the theft was discovered. The $20s were at first mostly spent in liquor stores until one bought clothes and Landis bought a car.

Then on the fatal fifth day, Landis drove the car with his wife, Mamie, to a farm in Middleburg, Va. where he father worked. They told the father to bury the money. He, instead, called the police.

Crowd Pays Last Respects to Rev. Lee A. Garrett

Corinthian Baptist church was crowded Monday afternoon when members and friends paid their last respects to the Rev. Lee A. Garrett, veteran minister in Iowa, and pastor of the First Baptist (formerly Mt. Hebron) church in West Des Moines for the past 25 years.

Officiating at the Rev. Garrett's rites was the Rev. George Parish, pastor of Maple Street Baptist church. Music was offered by the church choir, with special solos by the Rev. Albert Fox and Mrs. Mable Roman. The eulogy was delivered by the Rev. J. H. Reynolds of Omaha, Neb., president of the Four States Baptist convention of which the Rev. Mr. Garrett was an officer. He was president of the Preachers' and Deacons' Union of the convention.

Lodge ceremonies were conducted by Doris lodge. He was an honorary member of the Hawkeye Elks lodge. Pall bearers were deacons of his church, First Baptist: Deedie King, Andrew Seigh, Robert Griffin, John Perkins, Major Brown and Joe Powers. Honorary pall bearers were: C. C. Johnson, Marcus McCraven, Paul Goodie, A. D. Green, Charles Coleman and Charles Holmes.

The Rev. Mr. Garrett, of 1432 Maryland avenue, died of a stroke Wednesday, Jan. 6, at Mercy hospital after an illness of nine days.

A native of Arkansas, he had lived in Des Moines 55 years.

Surviving are his widow, Stella; two daughters, Mrs. Myrtle McDonald and Mrs. Lodonia Lewis; and an adopted daughter, Theresa Garrett, all of Des Moines.

Burial was in Glendale cemetery.

Sees U.S.-Pakistan Pack As Spur to Reds in India

New York—If the American plan to establish military bases in Pakistan goes through it will lend encouragement to the Communists in India, Chester Bowles, former ambassador to India, said Jan. 9 in a radio interview with Walter White recorded for broadcast over Station WLIB and affiliated stations in other cities.

In response to an inquiry by Mr. White as to the possible impact in India of the consummation of the proposed U.S.-Pakistan military pact, Mr. Bowles said: "The fear of the Indians is deep-seated. In India today, the Communists are able to speak only for the Communists, or about 3 per cent of the people. If we were $391,341 and total expenditures $368,425. Of the receipts, $248,440 came from branches of the NAACP in the form of membership alone.

Mr. Wilkins, who is budget director of the NAACP, stressed that the report was not complete through December 31, and was not audited as of January 4 when the annual meeting was held. He said, however, that the expenditures and income of the last seven days of the year and the adjustments and corrections of the certified public accountants to be made later are not expected to alter the surplus situation, although the amount may not be the same as the December 24 figure.

Year '53 Marked 'Greatest Gains, Nearest Approach To Goals', Reports White

New York—Unanimously re-elected, Arthur B. Spingarn begins his 15th consecutive year as president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. Mr. Spingarn was first elected to the post in 1940, succeeding his brother, the late Joel E. Spingarn. The board of directors again selected him to head the organization at its regular monthly session here following the Association's annual meeting on January 4.

Also re-elected at that session were Dr. Channing H. Tobias, chairman, board of directors; Dr. Robert C. Weaver, vice chairman; Dr. Allan Knight Chalmers, Boston, treasurer; and Judge Theodore Spaulding, Philadelphia, assistant treasurer. In addition the following vice presidents were elected: Mrs. Mary McLeod Bethune, Rabbi Judah Cahn, Hon. Harry E. Davis, Mrs. Grace Fenderson, Oscar Hammerstein II, John Hammond, Prof. C. L. Harper, Rev. John Haynes Holmes, Dr. William Lloyd-Imes, Dr. Allen F. Jackson, Hon. Ira W. Jayne, Eric Johnston, Eugene Martin, Dr. O. Clay Maxwell, Miss L. Pearl Mitchell, Hon. Wayne Morse, T. G. Nutter, A. Philip Randolph, Ike Smalls, Willard S. Townsend, Bishop W. J. Walls and Samuel Williams.

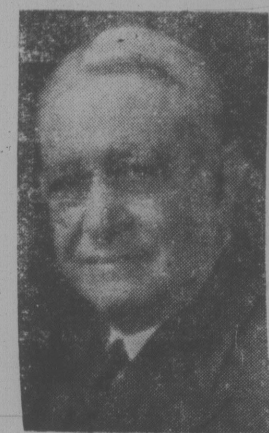

Staff executives re-named by the board were Walter White, executive secretary; Roy Wilkins, administrator; Thurgood Marshall, special counsel; and Henry Lee Moon, director, public relations.

New Board Members

The results of the referendum of the branches for the selection of 16 members of the board were announced at the annual meeting preceding the board session. Z. Alexander Looby, a member of the Association's national legal committee and of the City Council of Nashville, and Kivie Kaplan, vice president and general manager of the Colonial Tanning Company of Boston and co-chairman of the new NAACP life membership committee, are the two newly elected members of the board.

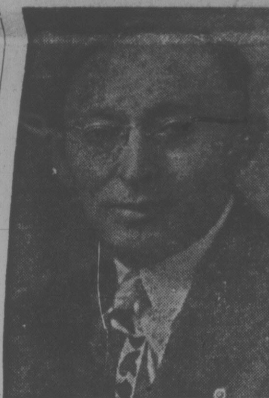

Re-elected to three-year terms each were Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, Mrs. Joel E. Spingarn, Senator Herbert Lehman, Mrs. Lillian Alexander, Dr. Algernon D. Black, all of New York City.

31 Presidents of United Negro College Fund Guests This Week End in Boston

New York, N. Y.—The 31 presidents of the private colleges and universities of the United Negro College Fund will be guest speakers at churches throughout the greatest Boston area on Sunday, January 17.

The educators will gather in Boston for the College Fund's semi-annual board meeting and Convocation, being held in that city for the first time January 15 through 18.

Arrangements for the visiting Negro college presidents to speak in Boston churches were made by Dr. Forrest L. Knapp, Executive Secretary of the Massachusetts Council of Churches.

All of the 31 member colleges of the United Negro College Fund had their origins in the Christian Church, and today 29 of them are church-related institutions, representing 9 denominations.

Sixteen of the visiting presidents are ordained ministers, and one of them, Dr. Benjamin E. Mays, president of Morehouse College, Atlanta, Ga., is a former vice president of the National Council of Churches.

Reception

During their stay in Boston, the 31 presidents will be honored by a reception given by graduates of their colleges Saturday evening, Jan. 16 at the Hotel Somerset. Other events scheduled for the weekend include a visit to the State House Monday, Jan. 18, where the presidents will be received by Governor Herter at 2 p.m. Mayor Hynes will greet them at City Hall at 2:30 p.m., after which they will be escorted by the Mayor's Welcoming Committee to Fenway Court where a musicale will be given in their honor.

A public convocation to be held in John Hancock Hall, Monday evening, Jan. 18 at 8 p.m. will climax the presidents stay in Boston. Dr. Nathan M. Pusey, president of Harvard university will deliver the welcoming address at the Monday night meeting.

The 31 member colleges of the Fund are now training over 23,000 students. With the exception of Lincoln university in Pennsylvania, the oldest institution of higher learning for Negroes in the United States, all of the Fund's colleges are located in the Southern states where 78 per cent of Negroes of college age live.

Nebraska Governor Here Jan. 22 For Civil Defense Meeting

The Federal Civil Defense Administration Office at Washington, D. C. has advised the State Office of Civil Defense that Gov. Val Peterson, Federal Civil Defense Administrator, will spend Jan. 22 in the City of Des Moines. They also advise that the purpose of his visit is to inform the people of the State of Iowa the importance and necessity of Civil Defense and the seriousness of the international situation. There will be a meeting at 10 a.m. Jan. 22, in the House Chambers of the State Capitol. The public is invited to this conference.

First Woman Bermuda Lawyer

Hamilton, Bermuda.—(CNS)—The first woman to be admitted to the bar in Bermuda is 26-year-old Lois

Marie Browne, who just this week was presented before Supreme Court Justice, the Hon. J. Trounwell Gilbert in a packed courtroom.

Attorney Browne's achievement was especially significant since it came on the 30th anniversary marking the first woman to be admitted to the bar in England. However, this tiny British-governed island had not one woman lawyer—white or Negro—in all its history.

Said the Hon. Mr. Gilbert about Miss Browne at the touching ceremony: "You have made history in that you are the first woman to be admitted to practice as a barrister in the Supreme Court and I congratulate you sincerely on that achievement."

Then Miss Browne donned the wig and robes of her office and spoke in a deep, husky voice, thanking Justice Gilbert and her teacher, Mr. Richards of the Berkeley Institute. Radiant and proud, she said: "It is not easy to express all the emotions I feel at this time. I am grateful to God and my parents."

APPEAL FOR DIMES DRIVE

Archie Moore-Joe Maxim Bout On CBS Radio Jan. 27

New York—The Archie Moore-Joe Maxim 15-round bout for the light-heavyweight boxing championship of the world will be broadcast exclusively over the CBS Radio Network from Miami Stadium, Miami, Fla., on Wednesday, Jan. 27, starting at 10:00 p.m., EST.

The broadcast of this top fight attraction will be sponsored by the Pabst Brewing Company. It also will be broadcast over the CBS Television

This will mark the third title bout between Moore and Maxim. Moore won the crown from Maxim last year and then retained it in a return contest later in 1953.

Des Moines Branch Of NAACP Meets Tuesday, Jan. 26

The Des Moines branch of the NAACP will meet Tuesday evening, Jan. 26, 8 o'clock at the Crocker branch YMCA, 1333 Keo-Way. Archie M. Greenlee, president, will preside.

Committees for 1954 will be appointed. The branch meets the fourth Tuesday of each month. Meetings are open to the public.

The Des Moines branch has sent congratulations to Ike Smalls who was re-elected national NAACP vice president.

Phyllis Wheatley Republican Club To Meet Monday, Jan. 18

The Phyllis Wheatley Republican club will meet Monday, Jan. 18, 2 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Frances Hall, 1608 School street. All members are urged to be present. Mrs. Katherine Shelton is president; Mrs. Helen Carter, secretary.

To Seek Third Term

CLYDE SPRY

Clyde Spry, secretary of agriculture, Wednesday announced his candidacy for the nomination for that office for a third term. Prior to his election in 1950, he served as deputy secretary of agriculture for seven and one-half years.

Mr. Spry served as secretary to the State Soil Conservation committee and prior to that time had served as a farmer member of that committee for a number of years. He is well known and recognized for his work in the furtherance of soil conservation practices in Iowa.

Mr. Spry, a widower, has two sons married—Ben of Omaha, Neb., and Glenn of Atlanta, Ga. He is a member of the United Presbyterian church, Izaak Walton, Chamber of Commerce, Masons, Consistory and Shrine.

In making his announcement, Mr. Spry points out that during his term in office, his department has enjoyed the very fine cooperation of the producers, processors and retailers, which in turn has greatly benefited the consuming public.

Sawing Board for Workshop

TO SAVE the home workshop bench on particularly tough jobs such as chiseling, flat sawing or boring holes, it's wise to have a sawing board. It may be made any dimensions desired. A suggested size is 10 by 14 inches. As illustrated, the sawing board consists of three pieces—a panel of Masonite 1/4" tempered Preswood and two equally-sized pieces of 1 by 1 lumber. Fasten the panel to the sticks of wood through evenly-spaced, counter-sunk holes.

Toughness of the Tempered Preswood will withstand any serious damage despite the cutting operations mentioned. Incidentally, workbench tops of this material are considered a "must" in many home shops. Industrial workbenches generally are covered with these wear-resistant panels due to their low cost and long life.

Applesauce Cake

Applesauce Cake has a moist goodness all its own. The chopped citron and nuts in this recipe win new laurels for this delightful dessert.

As sumptuous a dessert as we can think of is this Applesauce Cake. With its Browned Butter Frosting it will make a real event of a regular family meal.

You'll like the nice, spicy flavor of this moist cake. For an extra flavor surprise, stir chopped citron into the batter. It's an unexpected pleasure to bite into the cake and find a chewy piece of citron.

To be sure that you get the most for your money when you bake, use enriched flour. At no extra cost to you, enrichment has added niacin, thiamine, riboflavin and food iron to the flour. That's a big nutrition dividend for you.

A special dessert like this Applesauce Cake is fun to make at home. But you needn't deny your family dessert when you don't have time for baking. Just stop at your favorite baker and make a selection from the wide variety of sweet goods he offers. For extra quick home baking, remember the many good mixes on your grocer's shelves.

APPLESAUCE CAKE

3 cups sifted enriched flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon cloves
1 cup chopped nuts

1 cup shortening
1/2 cup brown sugar
4 eggs
1 cup thick unsweetened applesauce
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup chopped citron (if desired)
1 cup clove nuts

Sift together flour, baking powder, soda, salt and spices. Cream together shortening and sugar until light and fluffy. Add eggs and beat thoroughly. Stir in applesauce, Add flour mixture to creamed mixture alternately with milk, mixing well after each addition.

Fold in citron and nuts. Pour into 2 greased, paper-lined 9-inch round pans. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) about 45 minutes. When cool, frost with Browned Butter Frosting. Makes 2 9-inch layers.

Browned Butter Frosting

1/4 cup butter or margarine
4 cups sifted confectioners' sugar (about)
Brown butter or margarine in heavy saucepan. Stir in 2 cups confectioners' sugar. Add egg, cream and salt and mix thoroughly. Add enough more sugar to make spreading consistency. Beat until light. Spread on cake. Makes enough frosting for 9-inch layer cake.

Seeks Reelection

PAUL L. PARKER

Paul L. Parker, Des Moines attorney, Wednesday announced that he will seek re-election on the Republican ticket and reelection to the Iowa House of Representatives. Parker has served one term in the Iowa House as a representative from Polk County.

In announcing his candidacy Parker stated that he planned to continue the fight for increased representation in the Iowa legislature for Des Moines and Polk County.

He also said that he favors legislation whereby a part of the state's income from the sale of liquor be spent on an intelligent plan for the rehabilitation of alcoholics.

Parker also advocated expansion of the Iowa Development Commission and revision of the Iowa corporate laws as means to attract new business and industry into Iowa.

Parker is 32, has lived in Des Moines all his life. A graduate of Dartmouth college and the University of Iowa College of Law, he has practiced law in Des Moines since 1948, and is a former assistant county attorney.

His father, the late Addison M. Parker, was state senator from Polk County for two terms.

Parker is married and lives in Des Moines with his wife and two children.

Burns' Methodist Minister Honors Members, Friends At Holiday Party

Rev. J. E. Tunstall, pastor of Burns Methodist church, gave his sixth annual Christmas party for his members, Monday, Dec. 28, which began in the auditorium of the church.

Mrs. Dale Williams, the wife of Rev. Dale Williams of Simpson Methodist church presented a unique program consisting of Christmas music with Mrs. Miriam Ryan, of St. Luke Episcopal church, pianist, Mrs. Elizabeth Vetter of Westminster Presbyterian church, violinist, Mrs. Elizabeth Johnson of Simpson Methodist church, cellist and Mrs. Dale Williams, soloist.

Rev. Mr. Williams gave remarks. He stated that "we all had one thing in common: that we are all followers of Christ." He referred to the beautiful painting of Christ hanging in the auditorium of the church that was painted by one of the fellow ministers and presented to Rev. Mr. Tunstall. He also informed that Rev. Mr. Tunstall had been voted the most popular teacher at the Methodist Youth Fellowship Institute which was conducted at Clear Lake, Iowa, last summer.

After the remarks, Rev. Mr. Tunstall retired to the dining room while Mrs. Williams led the congregation in singing Christmas carols. Later the pastor returned in his white jacket and invited all to the dining room where refreshments were served by him, Mrs. J. Tunstall, Mrs. Maxine Watkins and Miss Maxelia Dixon.

The party was well attended. Besides the regular members, guests of the evening were: Prof. H. Coleman, dean of men and instructor in English at Wiley College, Marshall, Texas, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Rasmussen, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Greene, Mrs. Helen Wheeler Hubbard, Mrs. Lotie Rose, Rev. Oscar Peavy, who is now pastoring at Lexington, Mo., and his family, Rev. and Mrs. Dale Williams.

Omegas Step Up Civil Rights Program At Cincinnati Grand Conclave

Cincinnati, Ohio. The fortieth annual grand conclave of the Omega Psi Phi fraternity in a four-day session here Dec. 27-30 came to a close following the adoption of an educational program designed to implement its theme "Rights and Responsibilities of an Integrated Democracy."

More than 250 delegates representing 234 chapters of the fraternity located in 40 states throughout the country, voted overwhelming support for the civil rights program as proposed in a keynote address delivered at the annual Founders' Banquet by Grant Reynolds, New York City, retiring basileus of the organization. "Return to your communities with the full determination to remove every semblance of segregation on account of race, creed and color, to make democracy in America reach its fullest potential," said Reynolds in his farewell address.

Highest Awards

The fraternity presented its highest awards to John H. McCray, Columbia, S. C., publisher of a Negro weekly newspaper for his militant fight for civil rights, as the nation's outstanding citizen and to Jesse B. Blayton, Atlanta, Ga., banker as the outstanding member of the fraternity for his contribution to the organization's growth and development. Blayton has served as keeper of finance of the fraternity for 21 years.

The group also voted to support the NAACP in its campaign to eliminate segregation in the publicly supported schools of the nation and general cooperation with the National Urban League in its program of integrating the Negro in the industrial fabric of the nation.

Potts Elected

John F. Potts, Charleston, S. C., school principal, was elected to head the organization during the coming year. Other officers elected at the final session included: Herbert E. Tucker, Boston attorney, 1st vice basileus; Howard C. Davis, Washington, D. C., student, 2nd vice grand basileus; Blayton to succeed himself as grand keeper of finance; Carey Jacobs, Indianapolis, Ind., attorney, grand counselor and E. F. Corbett, Greensboro, N. C., public relations director, as editor of The Oracle, the other national officer, has one of the fraternity's official publications. W. H. Riddick, Norfolk, Va., mortician, more year on a two year term.

Protests Postponing of Scheduled Hearings on FEPC

New York—Walter White, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People Jan. 7 sent the following telegram to Senator H. Alexander Smith (R., N. J.), chairman of the Senate Labor Committee, upon receipt of a telegram from the Senator giving notice of the postponement of the scheduled hearings on the Fair Employment Practices bill:

"We are inexpressibly shocked by your telegram postponing hearings on S. 692 from January 14 to a date approximately a month later. It is our conviction based on many years of experience that hearings on this measure scheduled as late as February 23 would almost certainly prevent measure from reaching Senate calendar and being voted on in time to prevent a filibuster from killing the bill especially in an election year like 1954 when Congress will do its best to adjourn early to permit political campaigning. We are even more disturbed by the general belief at high Senate levels that the postponement announced in your telegram really means cancellation on a bill which is desperately needed to prohibit discrimination in employment because of race, color, religion, national origin or ancestry.

Today's newspapers report that there are now more than two million unemployed Americans and that present recession may increase number to four and one-half millions during 1954. As you well know, members of minorities form a highly disproportionate percentage of present unemployed and in absence of Fair Employment Practices legislation will form a disproportionate number of those soon to be out of work. National Association for Advancement of Colored People urges rescheduling of hearings for January 14. Any other action can only doom Americans to economic disaster solely because of race, color, religion, national origin and ancestry."

Saving Corn Cobs

Cousin Ed shelled corn last week. Two trucks were loading from the shelter—one for corn, the other for cobs.

Reminded me of when Ed first started saving corn cobs—his neighbors thought he was crazy. Then they saw the checks he got. Now they all sell their cobs. In fact, cobs are big business today, are used for everything from nylon to plastics.

Sometimes new ideas like that are hard for people to understand. They get prejudiced, or just plain stubborn—like one neighbor who put off using a tractor for eight years.

But in most things, we Iowans are pretty open-minded and proud of it. That goes for everything from our readiness to adopt better farm practices, to our right to choose between a good cup of coffee and a temperate glass of beer.

In a great state like this, there's a place for all kinds of ideas, tastes, opinions, and preferences. That's what makes it such a wonderful place to live. Open-mindedness.

in the community. Maybe she does not know how to find security in service to her family or her community or in crafts or reading or gardening or whatever women do to keep themselves content.

For many of us life is unbearable when we feel insecure. We have to find emotional peace somehow. So, unconsciously we seek a way out of our misery. Mrs. X finds a way out in gossip and by beating down others with rapid fire conversation. She herself may not understand why she does it. It's too bad she had not acquired a greater feeling of security in her earlier years.

Childhood is the best time to build the foundations of security. This is the time to give the child plenty of affection and to make him feel useful; to develop his independence and provide him with constructive things to do. These experiences help him to grow up as a secure person.

Did Mrs. X receive her fair share of these helps in her childhood? This should be an interesting question for the two ladies to consider.

Personal Touch By MARIE ROSS

"Des Moines is just lucky!" citizens are saying this week as they shivered in the below-zero temperatures that have hovered about.

"Conditions could be worse—all covered up with snow—like the southern and eastern parts of the country, where as much as 15 inches fell the early part of the week," they point out.

Some say that the winter will be "tough and a hard one." Others have observed that the winter will be open—because "even the squirrels are not wearing as much fur this year as they generally do."

Better, with the snow—or, worse, with it—after listening to Commentator Paul Harvey on his last Sunday afternoon news chat, tell how scientists have been noting a change in the seasons for quite some time—gave me much to ponder over.

He told of areas which once flourished with green pasture land, where wealthy cattlemen earned their millions, lands which once produced vast quantities of foodstuffs for the world—all drying up. He said scientists had found that the "world is getting warmer"—that glaciers which never melted in centuries, are now causing flood threats to many parts of the world—and said that the greener pastures were moving northward.

Talk to anyone you know and he or she will tell you that the winters are not nearly as cold and icy as they used to be years ago, when the snow moved in the latter part of October and other shows continued to pile up until the spring thaw came sometimes in March or April.

But, if the seasons are changing, and all of the rivers of ice begin to melt, then some builder had better design a new kind of aqua-house or river home.

So, while you are complaining about the weather being too cold, give a few moments thought to the changing seasons—the melting glaciers. In the meantime, I began to search the Book of Books—the Holy Bible—to learn what the great writers have written about the weather—and the changing seasons. In the Acts, first chapter, seventh verse:

"And He said unto them: It is not for you to know the times or the seasons, which the Father hath put in his own power."

So much for the weather.

The winter months do give one time to enjoy some of the indoor beauties of nature that might otherwise go unnoticed. This week, in full bloom, at the home of Mrs. Sam Walker, 1164 Fourteenth street, is a beautiful Christmas cactus plant, spreading its branches and shower of blooms over the center of a breakfast table.

Mrs. Walker, who is convalescing from a recent illness, is quite proud of the plant and its sixteen double-bell-like red blooms with three tiny white prongs (pistils) in the center of the blossom.

The cactus begins blooming about the middle of December each year and continues through this month. Mrs. Walker has noted during the fourteen years that she has been raising it from a small slip.

"This is its best and most beautiful year," she said.

Fourteen years ago when Mrs. Selemma Morris, mother of Editor James B. Morris, lived next door to Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Morris gave her neighbor a small slip of the Christmas cactus. Now the plant is about fifteen inches high and spreads about 20 inches.

"I just wish Mrs. Morris could see it," Mrs. Walker said.

"I give it warm tea and keep it in the sun during the winter months, but when summer comes, I put it outside," she related.

During the winter months, Mrs. Guy Greene, 1412 Center street, finds time to do a bit of extra writing upon some of the issues that are current in daily news. She sends

Beautician Serves Interracial Clientele After Negroes Threatened To Boycott Shop

New York City—(Exclusive)—Today Mrs. Georgia Nunn Harrison, an Indianapolis divorcee, is doing a flourishing business as a beautician and stylist in a neat little Long Island shop under the name of Gorja. But it took two years of hard struggle to accomplish this end, as Mrs. Harrison has done practically a pioneer job in uniting Negro and white women of the community to patronize her work.

She tells her story in the current issue of BEAUTY TRADE, the race's first class trade magazine, as it is designed solely for the Negro beautician. Mrs. Harrison now finds the mixed neighborhood both friendly and cooperative. Hers is the only Negro owned business in the area of Springfield Gardens.

Gorja, a trim browned beauty in her early thirties, says she never realized when setting up her shop that she was starting out with two strikes against her. "I couldn't believe there could be as much prejudice as I experienced not only from whites but from the colored people of the community. They seemed to resent the fact that I had bought the shop—fixtures and all—from an Italian who had enjoyed a successful business among the Jewish women who dominated 75% of the area. I'd say 25% of them were Negroes."

New Problem

Gorja says she was just a young divorcee trying to make an honest living. She had sunk everything into the shop but now faced a new problem. How could her business survive prejudice from both parties?

"After careful maneuvering," she continued in the article, "I was able to get a five-year lease, though my rent was raised higher than the Italians. Next, I trained white employees to cut and style the hair on my white customers while I concentrated on Negro trade and trying to bring white and colored amicably together. This failed at first.

"One day, while doing a customer, my white assistant suddenly became enraged that my plan was working and up and quit on a moment's notice. A few others have done the same since. Because of this, I almost lost all of my white clients. To add to fire, my Negro customers would send word that they would stop coming if I didn't get rid of the whites!

Could Have Quit

"Discouraging? Heartbreaking? I could have quit a thousand times but my belief in people—my faith that they could get along wouldn't let me. So I stubbornly ignored the threats and kept smiling. I was more determined than ever now that I could serve an interracial clientele."

Gorja then tells in "Beauty Trade" how she licked the problem and how at last business began to grow. She relates many of the tricks of the trade she used to get new customers, to keep her old ones and above all, to show how democracy can work.

The charming beautician is proud of her struggle and sacrifice to stay in the mixed neighborhood and says that now she wouldn't take a million dollars for her experience. "Yes, I serve an interracial clientele," she says, "and what a wonderful clientele it is!"

Iowa Buxton Club To Meet Jan. 19

The Iowa Buxton club met Jan. 5 at the home of Mrs. Elsie Morrison, 1130 Fifteenth street. The next meeting will be Tuesday, Jan. 19, at the home of Mrs. Gertrude Massey, 1016 Thirteenth street. Mrs. Ethel Ewing is reporter.

comments and a bit more information on the civil rights violations at Keokuk, Ia., to add to the story that appeared in the Bystander last week.

"Thought you might like to know that Keokuk, Ia., has been prejudiced for years—in regards to the Mason City church delegation not being served any place there," wrote Mrs. Greene.

"Sometime ago, the late Dr. J. A. Jefferson, Mrs. Pearl Jefferson, Mr. O. B. Brewer, Augustus, the son of Mrs. Jefferson and myself drove to Keokuk to attend an A.M.E. Sunday School convention. At that time, the late Harrison Gould, then was Sunday School superintendent. Keokuk was prejudiced then.

"We could find no place to eat. The white restaurants would not even let us have a sandwich to take out, and neither a drink of water. The Negro restaurant sold out of food. We were without food, until Mrs. Bland of Keokuk, now of Boston, Mass., gave us dinner. Keokuk has been prejudiced for years.

"They used to have a NAACP branch. I often wondered what were their accomplishments. What are the Negro citizens doing there to protect their rights.

"Keokuk Negroes should be asked if they would like to have the State NAACP assist with their civil rights. Perhaps they are content.

First Cover Girl For Beauty Trade Magazine

New York City—Petite Tina Marshall was chosen January cover girl for Beauty Trade magazine in New York because of her coal-black crowning glory. Beauty Trade is the first Negro trade publication and is designed for the fast growing beauty industry. Packed with informative articles as well as glamorous hair styling, Beauty Trade is distributed by beauty jobbers. Model Tina, originally from Oyster Bay, Long Island, is talented and serious and aspires to the theatre. Though well-experienced in posing, sitting for the first cover of Beauty Trade was a new thrill. Together with her worldly charms of flawless skin, radiant and healthy, Tina personifies the modern girl who's going places in a big way. (CNS photo.)

To Discuss 'How Social Agency Helps to Solve Problems' Monday

"How the Social Agency Helps Solve Problems" will be the discussion topic at the next meeting of the American Association of Social Workers on January 18.

Paul A. Boe, executive director of the Lutheran Welfare society will be the moderator. This meeting, held by the Western Iowa Chapter, AASW, will be the second open one of the 1953-54 series. It will be held at the Randavoo room of the Hotel

In keeping with the general theme of the series, which is "Social Work Interpretation," an attempt will be made to show how the social agency helps people.

The speakers will be Mrs. Betty Turner, case supervisor, Iowa Children's Home Society, Norman, Maingard, social case worker, Veterans Administration; Mrs. Ethel Edgren, Child Welfare worker, Child Welfare Division State Department of Public Welfare, and Walter Paciak, social case worker, Family Service Agency of Des Moines.

The program has been especially designed for lay persons who are associated with local social agencies, to strengthen the effectiveness of their association through a fuller understanding of some of the responsibilities of local social work agencies.

Following the January meeting there will remain five more monthly meetings in the series: Feb. 18—

A REVERSAL OF BAD INFLUENCE ABROAD

It is generally conceded that race prejudice in many countries has been carried by American tourists and members of the armed service. In fact, during the first world war, the situation was especially so for the people of France and England were told many bad things about Negroes which while untrue, yet the seeds were sown which did much damage.

Maybe some of this propaganda goes on yet. But American officials in their effort to sell democracy abroad have found that this "type of democracy" has hurt the cause and efforts are being made to make amends.

The late Wendell Willkie found this out. Other Americans have run into it wherever they have gone including Vice President Nixon who reported recently on his trip around the world that it hurts; that the practice must cease.

Recently white miners in Roan Antelope mine in Northern Rhodesia, which is controlled by American capital, voted to eliminate the color bar in the rules of electing members to their organization—to strike out the first clause of their agreement with the copper producers. The clause limits employment in the higher paid and more skilled jobs to white men. This is exactly contrary to the policies of the Malan government in South Africa and brought forth criticism of the action.

This American influence in this instance reverses the propaganda heretofore carried on against darker people and attempts to bring it more nearly in line with the ideals of true democracy. It is a wholesome sign that free nations propose to act as they talk—equality for all men.

DES MOINES NEEDS TO WAKE UP

Athletics at Drake University have reached a rather low ebb. This has been true of the baseball situation in Des Moines for the past few seasons due, in a large degree, to the failure of the people of Des Moines to support their teams.

No team can be successful unless it is adequately financed and their finances come from the people who pay admissions to attend the games.

For the past few seasons, attendance at baseball games has been miserable; the same thing is true of football games at Drake. Thus in the case of Drake, athletics have not been inclined to come to the school; the department of athletics has not been able to provide the reasonable benefits other schools offer to the students. Thus the boys are either dissatisfied or go other places.

Recently, Al Coupee, sports announcer for station KRNT, discussed the matter at length, stating that the people of Des Moines have not been loyal to their teams. With this, the Bystander fully agrees.

Good sports help a community both financially, in entertainment and in recreation. But it appears that nothing tangible is being done to change the situation. Some group or individuals should get together and form a committee which would work to create interest in athletics in Des Moines and help Drake University and baseball officials bring out crowds to see the games.

Des Moines business would benefit; the citizens of the community find more wholesome recreation and entertainment; it would help reduce juvenile delinquency.

Staff, Submits Reports

The annual meeting, attended by about 150 leaders of the Association in the states and localities, heard reports from the executive officers on the activities of 1953 and plans for the future. Mr. White optimistically reported that "the year 1953 marked the nearest approach and witnessed the greatest gains of the NAACP toward the goals set by its founders in 1909." For the first time in four years, Mr. Wilkins reported, the Association incurred no operating deficit and completed the year with a surplus of income over operating expenditures.

Gains made on the Washington front by executive action and the legislative stalemate in that city were reported by Clarence Mitchell, director, Washington bureau. Mr. Mitchell warned that continuing mistreatment of Negro servicemen by prejudiced civilian officials in the South "no doubt" occasions many a "chuckle within the Kremlin walls."

Blueprint for Legal Action

While concentrating on the public school education cases, the legal department "still managed to keep its overall legal program going, map out a blueprint for future action and extend its activities into other areas," Mr. Marshall told the annual meeting.

Plans were developed by NAACP staff lawyers with the aid of members of the national legal committee for accelerating the legal attack upon segregation in education, transportation, employment, housing and places of public accommodation, the Association's special counsel reported. He also called attention to the newly published "NAACP Civil Rights Handbook," made possible by a grant from the Prince Hall Masons.

More than $70,000 were raised and contributed to the legal expenses involved in the public school cases, Mr. Marshall said in expressing appreciation for the cooperation received from "our branches, state conferences, the entire Negro press, individuals and groups of individuals who contributed" to these cases. "Regardless of what the decision of the Supreme Court will be, we have found from these cases that our organization and good-thinking people throughout the country and the entire Negro press, once alerted to the issue, will roll up their sleeves and work toward the common goal."

Public Admission

"It is most interesting to note," he said, "that in public statements and newspaper articles throughout the South we find over and over again the public admission of the 'white supremacy' group and of the white people in general of the South that they fully realize that segregation is on its way out and will be removed one way or another."

Other Reports Heard

Other reports were submitted by Glister B. Current, director of branches; Herbert Hill, labor relations assistant; James W. Ivy, editor, The Crisis; Herbert Wright, youth secretary; Rev. Walter P. Offutt, Jr., church secretary; and Henry Lee Moon, director of public relations.

Maurice Evans To Re-create 'King Richard II' On NBC-TV

Philadelphia — Maurice Evans, who won national acclaim in his television debut as "Hamlet" on NBC-TV last April, will re-create the role that won him stardom in this country when he presents his two-hour production of Shakespeare's "King Richard II" on NBC-TV Sunday, Jan. 24.

This will mark the first television version of Shakespeare's historical tragedy, and Evans' second appearance on television.

Sarah Churchill, hostess, narrator and star of "Hallmark Hall of Fame" in its regular one-hour format on Sunday, will be reunited with Evans for "King Richard II," enacting the role of his Queen. Miss Churchill was Ophelia in Evan's production of "Hamlet."

Finances in Black As Old Year Ends

New York—The end of 1953 found the finances of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in the black, instead of the red, according to a report to the annual meeting by Roy Wilkins, administrator.

Mr. Wilkins read a report which included all business through December 24 showing a surplus of $22,916. Total receipts for the period this pact goes through, they will be able to speak for other people some of whom fear Pakistan or hate the Moslem faith. Such groups may come together under the Communist banner.

The former Ambassador made a strong plea for the Point IV program of aid to underdeveloped areas without strings. "Eighty per cent of the problem of this country is that of hunger," he said. "The point IV program is essential to meet this problem. Yet if we try to tie strings to it and say vote as we tell you to, these people react just as you would expect Americans to react."

Mr. Bowles has recently recounted his experiences in the foreign service in a newly published book, "Ambassador's Report."

Christmas Is Over—Did You Forget Something Or Someone

Yes, Christmas is past, and it was an exciting time for the whole family, wasn't it? In the hurry of the holiday season, it's possible that you overlooked the Christmas Seal letter. It's not too late to send your contribution to your Polk County Tuberculosis and Health Association, 208 Flynn Building, Des Moines, Iowa, right now.

HEALTH FOR ALL

RATHER NOT KNOW?

"I'd rather not know," said the ostrich, hiding his head in the sand when he saw the hunters.

He was an un-American ostrich. The American way is to want to know. No democracy could survive if everyone preferred not to know about crime and corruption. A good citizen looks the facts in the face, and then does something about them. But sometimes you'll hear a man who is a good citizen in every other way say that he'd rather not know whether he has tuberculosis.

It's a funny thing. You can't imagine his saying he'd rather not know he has mumps or small pox or the plague. Of course, the symptoms of those diseases would soon make him uncomfortable and he would head for the nearest doctor to find out what the trouble was. Our good citizen can have TB for some time without feeling or looking sick. So he is able not to know, until the disease has made serious inroads on his constitution and he is a very sick man indeed.

While his head has been in the sand, he has lengthened the odds on his recovery. It will take him longer to get well when he finally gets around to facing the facts. And, worse, he has endangered the health, the very lives of people near him—his wife and children, his neighbors, the people he works with.

Tuberculosis is contagious. Our ostrich citizen caught the germs from someone without knowing it. He can pass them on just as innocently.

It isn't difficult to find out the truth. If you will go to your doctor for a regular physical exam with a chest X-ray once a year, or as often as he advises, you can be sure that any signs of illness will be found. If TB should strike, it will probably be discovered before it has had a chance to do irreparable damage. In many communities, chest X-ray programs are carried on so that every adult has an opportunity to be X-rayed at little or no cost.

It takes only a few minutes to find out for sure that you don't have tuberculosis. A good citizen is not an ostrich.

LEARNING TO WALK

Cynthia Musgrove, 1954 Foster Girl, was stricken by polio before she was old enough to walk. She is learning to walk at Variety Children's Hospital, Miami, Fla. Mrs. Anita Patterson Gray, who won March of Dimes physical therapy scholarship, aids Cynthia in the learning process. Help beat polio. Join the 1954 March of Dimes, Jan. 2-31.

taken for fun? Maybe. Well—enough of this.

Boxing

The Willkie House team would like to wrap up the team trophy in this year's Golden Gloves meet. Maybe they can but they will have their work cut out.

The Willkie House is in our estimation missing a bit by not putting on a summer outdoor program of boxing. It would keep the boys in real shape and the receipts would come in mighty handy. Our guess would be around three hundred or more for the summer and that ain't hay.

COINCIDENCE

The long arms of coincidence—can reach for us at will—then nail us down and hold us, or all our dreams fulfill . . .

Coincidence—plays many tricks to keep us running late, . . . sometimes it shows us what we want then fouls us at the gate . . .

Coincidence—deals justice— inexorable as fate, . . . it leads us to our pay-off, . . . makes sure we keep the date . . .

Coincidence—can balance things and make no oversight . . .

be sure we get our just desserts; to everyone their right . . .

Coincidence—when analyzed—is not some quirk of fate, . . . but retribution or reward . . . our pay is what we rate!

NBC Radio Introduces 4-Hour 'Roadshow' Series For Safe Driving

Philadelphia — Safe, sensible driving will be rewarded handsomely on the National Broadcasting Company's new four-hour radio program, "Roadshow", which was introduced on the network Saturday, Jan. 9, from 2 to 6 p.m., EST.

The unique show is designed to interest and entertain the weekend motorist. In addition to the contests, the program will feature both live and recorded music, weather reports, brief news digests and local cut-ins for reports on local traffic conditions.

Mr. Safety!

Each week "Roadshow" will dispatch a "Mr. Safety" in two unspecified areas. Equipped with an automobile telephone, "Mr. Safety" will cruise the highway looking for a courteous, considerate driver. As soon as he finds him, "Mr. Safety" will stop and introduce him to "Roadshow" listeners by telephoning the studio. The motorist will be rewarded with a $100 savings bond, a wrist watch and a portable radio.

In addition to selecting this motorist, "Mr. Safety" also will note the license plate numbers of other courteous drivers. These numbers will be announced on the program and if the driver concerned calls in, he will receive a prize.

Limericks

Another feature of the program will be safe-driving limericks. The listener who does the best job of completing the unfinished limerick will be awarded a $25 bond.

It has been estimated that there are 26,000,000 "automobile radios" in the United States. "Roadshow", which will be heard at a time when highways are in heavy use, is the first program specifically intended to entertain and provide a service to the motorist, as well as to encourage him to operate his automobile safely and sanely.

Your Christmas Seal Dollars Still Needed

Your Christmas Seal dollars are still needed by the Polk County Tuberculosis and Health Association to carry on the fight against tuberculosis and heart disease. Only $45,000.00 of a proposed $56,875.00 goal has been reached.

Christmas Seal dollars provide for free chest x-rays to find unknown and unsuspected cases of tuberculosis, heart and lung cancer. They also carry on a year-round program of education, indigent clinic care, tuberculosis patch testing in the schools, and medical research.

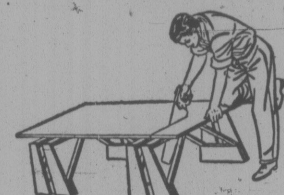

If you have overlooked sending in your contribution, please do so today. Mail your checks and dollars to the Polk County Tuberculosis and Health Association, 208 Flynn Building, Des Moines, Iowa.

Divided Saw Horses

A PAIR of saw horses like the ones illustrated will end sawing woes in the home workshop. Designed by a man from South Dakota and described in Family Handyman, the horses lend ample support even to large panels.

Each has an open center, through which either a hand or power saw may go. The stock is laid along the top and cuts are made through at points where the saw can fit into the slots. For ripping, the open center gives ample, full-length support for both halves of the material.

When panels are unsupported during the cutting, as in using ordinary saw horses, oftentimes they will leave jagged ends caused by the material's breaking under its own weight.

"Reddy's the Best Little Friend a Girl Ever Had!"

His Services are worth Many Times What they Cost!

The bill for Reddy's wages is probably the lowest bill you have to pay . . . when you stop to think of all he does for you.

Only Reddy does all the jobs . . . he's one servant that requires no "fill in" or help. His services are fast, clean, dependable, economical and safe. We can't begin to illustrate or tell you all the jobs Reddy does for you. We can tell you this . . . that he's always there at the "Flick of a Switch" . . . he never takes a vacation . . . and the more you use his services . . . the lower his wages become. It's true . . . Reddy is your very best friend.
