EMMETT J. SCOTT, JR.

Washington, D. C. — Emmett J. Scott, Jr., of New York City, has been appointed as office and field engineer for Foreign Operations in Amman, Jordan.

Mr. Scott, a bachelor, was born in Houston, Texas, and was educated at Tuskegee Institute, Alabama, and Phillips Exeter Academy in New Hampshire. Experience in Engineering

All of Mr. Scott's experience has been in engineering in New York; first as a draftsman with the New York City Transit Commission, for which he did extensive work on the 8th Avenue subway line and on the Tri-borough Bridge Authority where he was responsible for the strengthening of the main towers of the Whitestone Bridge. Until Scott took his present assignment, he was Assistant Civil Engineer for the New York City Board of Water Supply. He will assist the Government of Jordan in expanding their technical program.

Gov. Byrnes Cannot Cancel
Words, Says NAACP Head

NEW YORK—Gov. James F. Byrnes' attempt to explain away his 1951 declaration that "we will abandon the public school system" if the U. S. Supreme Court bans segregation is "puerile and lacking in substance," Walter White, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said here April 1.

Mr. White referred to a recent address by the Governor before the white teachers of South Carolina in which Mr. Byrnes charged that "leaders of the NAACP deliberately misrepresented" his remarks about the schools three years ago. He repeated that he had said at that time: "If the court changes what is now the law of the land, we will if it is possible live within the law, preserve the public school system and at the same time maintain segregation. If that is not possible, reluctantly we will abandon the public school system."

Makes Complaint

The South Carolinian complained that the NAACP accused him of saying he "would personally close the public schools." Further, he asserted, the NAACP ignored the word "reluctantly" in his original statement. "Now that he has found that his words have been widely condemned not only by the NAACP, but also by all believers in a free democratic society, Gov. Byrnes is trying to backtrack on the clear implications of his statement," Mr. White said. "We charge that the Governor's 1951 statement clearly reveals that he (1) urges segregation above education; (2) urges action to evade a possible anti-segregation ruling by the court; and (3) plans to abandon the public school system if unable to maintain segregation in the face of a decision banning such discrimination."

Result the Same

"We do not care whether this last step is taken 'reluctantly' or eagerly," the result is the same—defiance of the supreme law of the land and denial of public education to both Negro and white children of South Carolina.

"Further, we charge," Mr. White continued, "that Gov. Byrnes has spearheaded the drive to close the public schools if segregation is outlawed. He urged the Legislature to submit the issue to a referendum and campaigned vigorously and successfully to have the voters empower the Legislature to remove the constitution."

DiPaglia Found Guilty of Athletic Contest Bribery

District Judge C. Edwin Moore set 10 a. m. April 17 as the time and date for sentencing Floren DiPaglia, 27-year-old Des Moines business man, who April 3 was found guilty of bribery in an athletic contest. DiPaglia was released on his same bond of $4,000 pending the sentence.

Maximum sentence on the charge is ten years in the penitentiary or a $10,000 fine, or both.

The jury of nine women and three men reached the verdict after 23 hours of deliberation.

First to Be Tried

DiPaglia, the first person to be tried and convicted under the bribery statute passed by the 1953 Iowa legislature, remained calm when Judge Moore read the guilty verdict.

DiPaglia was accused of offering Ben Bumby, 22, former Drake University basketball star, "thousands of dollars" if he would "co-operate" in a basketball fix gambling scheme.

Virgin Island's First Lady Leaves Des Moines With Many Gowns For Inaugural Events

MRS. A. A. ALEXANDER

Mrs. A. A. Alexander, first lady of the Virgin Islands, left her Des Moines home Tuesday morning en route to Islands where her noted-engineer husband, Governor Alexander, will be inaugurated on Friday.

Mrs. Alexander was accompanied by a cousin, Mr. Everett Clay. They stopped in Chicago, Ill., where Governor Alexander met them and two of his sisters who will attend the inaugural ceremonies.

Mrs. Alexander was wearing a brown tone British tweed suit, with alligator accessories and brown hat, when she boarded the plane here.

Her inaugural wardrobe, designed and fashioned by Mrs. Anna Mae Carter, included eight new gowns.

For the inaugural ceremonies and parade, the first lady will wear a dark grey dressmaker suit; for the 5 o'clock inaugural reception, a cocktail dress of green lace over taffeta, with matching stole and off-white accessories.

Three inaugural balls will be held on the islands—and for the occasions, Mrs. Alexander will wear a pink embroidered nylon gown, fashioned on the princess lines, with a full ankle-length skirt; and a matching stole. It is trimmed with seed pearls and rhinestones. Her accessories will be silver slippers and mitts. Her corsage will be a white orchid.

When Mrs. Alexander reaches the Virgin Islands, she will live in a mansion, have twelve servants, a Cadillac automobile and a chauffeur.

James R. Byrd, 23,
Gets 50 Years for Mutilation Slaying

James Robert Byrd, 23, March 31 was sentenced by District Judge C. Edwin Moore to 50 years in the state penitentiary at Fort Madison for the mutilation slaying last Nov. 29 of Mrs. Mildred Hanson.

Judge Moore pronounced sentence after ruling that Byrd was guilty of second degree murder. Byrd had pleaded guilty to an open murder charge. Maximum penalty that could have been imposed was life in prison. Announcing his decision before a packed courtroom, the judge said he found no premeditation in the base, but did find malice.

"Your standard and those of the victim in the unfortunate affair are nowhere near the standards that most people live by," Judge Moore told Byrd.

The judge told him Mrs. Hanson's conduct just prior to the incident "may have been a contributing factor in what you did."

Byrd, who lived at 917 Twelfth st., was arrested shortly after Mrs. Hanson, 42, was found beaten and dying in a lot next to the Melrose Miller house at 778 Tenth st. Mrs. Hanson lived at 675 Eighteenth st.

Burton Bailey
Convicted Of Robbery Charge

Burton Bailey, former Golden Gloves boxer, was convicted March 31 by a district court jury of one man and 11 women on a robbery charge.

The jury handed its verdict to District Judge Tom K. Murrow after deliberating about four hours.

Mrs. Wilmer Johnson, 1194 Fourteenth street, a school teacher, testified that Bailey, 22, knocked her down, beat her and grabbed her purse on Feb. 12 at Thirteenth and Ascension streets.

Judge Murrow deferred sentence until April 12. Bailey faces a maximum sentence of 10 years in prison on the charge.

Bailey was an open-division winner in the 169-pound class of the Central Iowa Golden Gloves Tournament here in February.

The defense did not present any testimony at the trial.

Court Found That Pool
For Negroes Was Inferior
In Character and Location

KANSAS CITY, MO.—The City of Kansas announced this week that it will reopen the Swope Swimming Pool June 12 on a non-segregated basis.

The pool which is owned and operated by the city, has been closed for two years because of a court decision ordering the park officials to admit Negroes.

The decision of the officials of Kansas City ends two years of legal battles between Kansas City, Kansas City Park Commission and lawyers of the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, Inc.

Decision to Reopen

Kansas City's decision to reopen the Swope Park Swimming Pool on a now segregated basis is the result of a case instituted in 1950 by Mrs. Esther Williams, Mrs. Lena R. Smith and Mr. Joseph Moore, all members of the Kansas City Branch of the NAACP, following a refusal of park officials to admit them to the pools in the elaborate Swope Park.

Previously, Kansas City operated three outdoor pools on a segregated basis. One was set aside for Negroes in the heart of the Negro area, while the other two pools were reserved for whites. The Swope Park Pool consists of three sections, a large one for swimming, a large one for diving only and a small one for wading, and elaborate beach facilities surrounded by other park features.

Came up for Trial

When the case first came up for trial on January 15, 1952, the City

Services Held For
Mrs. Mary Heard

Services were held March 31 at Maple Street Baptist church for Mrs. Mary Heard, 73, of 1607 Maple street.

Mrs. Heard died March 28 at Broadlawn General hospital after a four-week illness.

Born in New Albany, Ind., she had lived here 39 years. She was a former employee of the Orpheum Theater and a member of Maple Street Baptist church. She is survived by one brother, Walter Mitchell, of Des Moines.

of Kansas and its Board of Park Commissioners maintained that they had a right to segregate the races under the "separate but equal doctrine." However, upon cross-examination by Legal Defense lawyers, a member of the Park Commission admitted that he did not know of any ordinance, rule or regulation requiring separation of the races. Exclusion of Negroes from the elaborate Swope Park Swimming Pools was the usual custom and practice and it was the intention of the board to retain this practice, he added.

Defense attorneys for the plaintiffs argued that Negroes had the right to use the facilities of any municipal pool without regard to race or color and are subject to the same rules and regulations as are applied to all other citizens.

Pool Inferior

The court found that the swimming pool set aside for the use of Negroes was not only inferior in character, but also in location and facilities, to those maintained for whites. The

Cash Unemployment
Checks To Woman

New York—(CNS)—Proof that times are a "little bad," John Willie Sutton, 26, tried to cash three $18 checks made out to L. Hood at the 50th St. office of the Unemployment Insurance. On finding out that L. Hood was a woman, Lucille Hood, Willie became so upset he jumped out of a second floor window.

He knocked three letters out of a 20-foot neon sign on his way down, picked himself up and was enroute to his Harlem apartment before cops caught up with him.

Defender Article Reveals
How Executive Machinery
Began Moving Color Bars

Washington, D. C.—The Chicago Defender, longtime supporter of former Democrat Administrations, declared April 3, that "the admittedly low stock of the Negro has risen to a new high and the potentialities are even greater" after President Eisenhower's first 15 months in office.

One of the nation's leading Negro newspapers, the Chicago Defender places great emphasis on "the unprecedented move for cleaning up the Capital and for making so many Negro political appointments" under the President.

Frank Analysis

These actions the Defender says in a full-page frank analysis written by Ethel Payne, its Washington correspondent, spring mainly from the President's "deep seated moral and spiritual convictions."

Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall Apr. 3 commented thus on the Defender story:

"We have said repeatedly we will go to the nation this fall on performance of the Eisenhower Administration. I am delighted that its record in the field of human rights has begun to attract deserved attention—because this is the heart and soul of the President's whole philosophy. His thesis, and ours, will continue to be simply, 'What is good for all Americans, everywhere.'"

Color Bars Move

In its article, the Defender described how, "suddenly the executive machinery began moving in high gear and to the delighted astonishment of all but the reactionaries, color bars began tumbling in rapid succession."

The Defender lists these "outstanding appointments" of Negroes to

Bigotry Against Puerto
Ricans, Cubans Injured U.S.
'Good Neighbor Policy'

NEW YORK—Recent incidents of bigotry against Latin Americans in Florida injure the Good Neighbor policy of the Americas and violate the resolution of the Caracas Conference condemning racial discrimination, declares an editorial in The Crisis magazine for April.

The Crisis is the official publication of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The two "outbursts of racial insolence" cited in the editorial are: an order by city officials to Cuban baseball players training with the Washington Senators' farm team in Winter Garden to "get out of town by sundown"; and the forced removal of 85 children of Mexican and Puerto Rican farm workers from the public school in Dade County. Both incidents occurred during March.

"It is not only the effrontery of these racist outbursts that is disturbing," the editorial maintains. "These public displays of bigotry involve Latin-Americans who are skeptical of American democratic precepts and intensify the suspicions and misgivings between the United States and her Good Neighbors."

"They likewise make a mockery of the recent resolution of the Tenth Inter-American Conference condemning racial discrimination. Such incidents have an adverse effect upon our foreign policy and furnish more grist for the Russian propaganda mill."

Boro Prexy Having
Patronage Troubles

New York—(CNS)—With some of the best political jobs in the city placed through the Manhattan Borough President's office, Hon. Hulan Jack, the Negroes' highest elected official, is worried no end with patronage problems. Biggest patronage mystery, however, is why the Borough Prexy has not filled the top $15,000 a year borough works commission.

Spring Apple Salads are Appetizing

Fragrant, spicy red Delicious apples team with green peppers for color and delicious flavor contrast.

A refreshing salad that sings of spring and looks like a decorative water lily is made of glossy green peppers and crisp, flavorful red Delicious apples. Cut the peppers petal fashion and remove seeds. Dice unpeeled apples, combine with grapefruit segments, toss lightly with mayonnaise and heap into pepper cups. Or, try this recipe for apples with red or white cabbage, topped with a sweet and sour dressing for extra special good eating.

The secret of success with these recipes is to select tender, flavorful apples and, thanks to an abundant harvest, prices are reasonable on choice quality fruit. When you're shopping, look for the juicy red Washington State Delicious apples which are especially choice for salads. Another good buy in local markets is the red Winesap all-purpose apple, which has a distinctive spicy flavor that's perfect for pies, cakes and puddings as well as for eating as is. The regular Winesap is preferred for cooked dishes and the smaller, economy "schoolboy" sizes are ideal for lunchboxes and after school munching.

SWEET AND SOUR APPLE-CABBAGE SALAD

1 to 2 red Delicious apples
1 cup seedless raisins
1 cup shredded cabbage
1 cup evaporated milk
Dice unpeeled apples. Soak raisins in hot water for a few minutes. Rinse in cold water and drain. Add to diced apples and shredded cabbage. Combine milk, sugar, vinegar, salt and pepper and mix well. Pour over salad. Serves 6.

Move To Abolish Public Schools Comes Up Again

Jackson, Miss. — A resolution to abolish Mississippi's public school system should segregation be held unconstitutional was being considered in a House committee last Wednesday.

The resolution, introduced by Rep. Maurice Black of Carroll, is similar to House Speaker Walter Siler's proposal which was defeated during last year's special session. The proposal authorizes the Legislature, in its discretion, to empower any county, municipal or other school district to abolish the public school system therein.

The resolution also would "provide for appropriation of state funds for assistance to educable children in obtaining an education."

Harry Wilson, 80, Found Dead at Home In Fort Dodge

Fort Dodge, Ia.—Harry Wilson, 80, a resident of Fort Dodge since 1909, was found dead at his home, 109 S. 16th street, by his brother, Edward B. Wilson, 415 Third Ave., about 11:45 a. m. Sunday, April 4.

The late Mr. Wilson, for years operated a shoe-shining business in the downtown area of Fort Dodge. The county coroner said he had been dead, perhaps, a couple of days.

Apparently the last person to see Mr. Wilson alive was Mr. Claude Buckner, who visited him about 9 a. m. Friday morning, April 2, and said the deceased man was in good spirits for a sick man and said, he had intended making a trip to his shoe-shine place.

When Mr. Edward Wilson arrived at his brother's house, he found doors locked inside. Going to a side window, he could see his brother was stricken in front of the kitchen stove.

The deceased lived alone and evidently had tried to make a fire in the coal range.

The brother pried open the back door to gain entrance to find the aged man dead. He had been ill the last few months and had not been at his place of business since the day after the past New Year's Day.

Years ago Mr. Wilson was in business here raising and selling hogs. He was highly respected and known to be thrifty and industrious. He was a member of the AME church and the Doric lodge No. 30 (Masons) of Des Moines.

Besides his brother, a wife, Maggie

Wilson is in Des Moines, and a sister lives in California. Funeral arrangements were not completed in time for publication in this edition.

Hazel Bishop Offers Free Nail Polish To Prove Value

Most women seem to think that "all nail polishes are just alike . . . you put them on one day, they're all chipped off the next."

If you're in this "show-me" category, you should approve of Hazel Bishop's method of proving that their new Long-Lasting Nail Polish is not more of the same old thing in a different bottle. This new way of winning friends—giving a 40¢ bottle of matching nail polish—FREE—with the purchase of the famed Hazel Bishop Long-Lasting Lipstick.

This is the new Nail Polish that is proclaimed to be so different it stays on days longer than others. Not only is the formula revolutionary, but it is said to contain a new wonder-working ingredient that is so hard, so tough it resists hard knocks, even if you pound a typewriter. And defies soap and water, even harsh detergents.

How to Sharpen Shears

A SIMPLE method of sharpening an old pair of scissors is illustrated. Drive a 6-penny nail into a wall, as shown. Draw the jaws of the scissors their full length over the nail, as though you were cutting it. A moderate, even pressure is required during the several strokes needed to put an edge on the blades. Cutting into a piece of sandpaper or emery paper is another commonly used method of sharpening a shears.

Jim Crow Causes Dodgers To Lose $$$

Birmingham, Ala.—(CNS)—The crowd was at 10,000 here as the Dodgers appeared for the first time since Negroes were admitted to the team. But the crowd could have been bigger. It was the old segregation story.

More than 3,000 Negro fans had to be turned away, when the segregated sections and field standing room allotted to them, were exhausted. Yet there were still empty seats in the white stands. Moreover, with hundreds of Negro fans roped off on the field in right and center, a lot of rather unnecessary ground rule doubles resulted.

NEW PAINTINGS OF THE FIRST GOOD FRIDAY

Jesus before Pilate

Simon carries the Cross

The Crucifixion

AS the lenten season draws to a close, the great drama of Holy Week is recalled by Christians everywhere. The day of the crucifixion—Good Friday—is especially revered and the events of that dark day stand out sharply in the pattern of the Holy Week scenes.

Christians of all faiths will be interested in the announcement of the new religious masterpieces painted by the American artist, Ben Stahl and depicting the journey of Jesus from Pilate's house to Calvary's hill.

These paintings, done especially for a new edition of the Catholic Bible published in Chicago by the Catholic Press, consist of a series of 14 dramatic incidents on the Via Dolorosa.

Acclaimed already to be as fine as the religious art of the old masters—and in some instances to excel famous paintings of the suffering of Jesus—the series by Stahl was completed on a commission from the Catholic Press. The 14 pictures will illustrate the Stations of the Cross in the new, popular edition of the Bible—an altar-size book for family use, printed in two color type with many full color illustrations of Biblical scenes.

Among the outstanding features of the Bible are the 14 page-size color reproductions of Stahl's great illustrative art covering the story of Good Friday.

Sawing Board for Workshop

TO SAVE the home workshop bench on particularly tough jobs such as chiseling, flat sawing or boring holes, it's wise to have a sawing board. It may be made any dimensions desired. A suggested size is 10 by 14 inches.

As illustrated, the sawing board consists of three pieces—a panel of Masonite 1/4" Tempered Preswood and two equally-sized pieces of 1 by 1 lumber. Fasten the panel to the sticks of wood through evenly-spaced, counter-sunk holes.

Toughness of the Tempered Preswood will withstand any serious damage despite the cutting operations mentioned. Incidentally, workbench tops of this material are considered a "must" in many home shops. Industrial workbenches generally are covered with these wear-resistant panels due to their low cost and long life.

The Marian Anderson concert at KRNT Theater ended last Friday night, when her audience let her go after she sang for them Schubert's "Ave Maria."

But, since that time, one of the songs she sang, "Dank Sei Dir, Herr" (Thanks Be To Thee, O Lord), from the works of the greatest oratorio writer, George Frederick Handel, has been haunting me.

The aria keeps coming back and I find myself humming along for a while—and I stop and shift my tune over to the well-known Handel's "Largo." Then I have to pause to remember how the great contralto's voice rose to the high heavens, fired by the mighty chords that her accompanist played. It was a moving experience just to hear her sing this one number.

There is always another great experience attached to any Marian Anderson concert, and it comes when the "Priestess of Song," makes her grand entry on the stage. Her dignity, her personality, her poise, enhanced by some elegant gown, always captivate her audience.

And her satin gown was a creation to behold. "A Parisienne design," she said modestly while autographing programs after the concert.

During the concert, while seated next to me, was a lady who spends her life designing and making beautiful gowns. Mrs. Georgine C. Morris was equipped with her opera glasses, not so much to get a close-up of the singer, as to see the fine points about the gown she was wearing.

"Take a look," Mrs. Morris said as she handed me the glasses. "See how the fitted bodice is held up by staves," Mrs. Morris explained as she added that she had been discussing that one particular point of gown construction with one of her patrons, that day.

Then we discussed the color of Miss Anderson's gown. "Is it charcoal, or gold?" I asked Mrs. Morris. Mrs. Morris looked through her glasses and commented that: "It is streaked with red." Then I looked through the glasses and under the lights there was a faint red tinge in the gold, I thought.

But the gold light in her gown illuminated her beautiful brown complexion and she looked like a queen draped to the floor in satin that fell in folds and into a full train.

Proto Club To Hold Easter Breakfast

The Proto club of Bethel A.M.E. church met Tuesday in the home of Miss Gloria Butler. Plans were completed for the Easter breakfast. A short social period followed. Edith Grant is president; Margo Ramsey is reporter.

"Notice how the train stands up. It has kinked in it," Mrs. Morris commented.

The gown was fashioned with an off-the-shoulder floral neckline, that was beaded and seeded in gold that formed a v-shaped design down the front of the bodice. The sleeves were quarter-length.

Back-stage after the concert, I got a close-up view of Miss Anderson's creation and out from under the stage lights, the color of the gown was more of a coffee cream. Now, the red or the green threads might have been woven into the satin, but I didn't have the nerve to ask Miss Anderson if I could look at the wrong side of her gown.

She had been so obliging that evening, autographing so many programs for young people who chatted with her, for friends who were renewing their acquaintances, for members of musical groups who make up her regular following and pay her a visit whenever she comes.

Miss Anderson was kind enough to permit me to shoot a few color pictures of her and pose so that I could

As A Child Grows His Parents Provide One Of His Most Important Models

Before the child can understand words he can understand the expression on his parents' face and their tone of voice. He can tell how they feel by the way they grasp his hand to lead him (or drag him) along.

He learns by these signs to distinguish between what parents like about his behavior and what they do not like. He learns to think of right as something his parents like in his behavior and wrong as something they do not like. Francie in the story "A Tree Grows in Brooklyn" continually fell back on her fixed rule of conduct—"Mamma said."

When Tuesday morning arrived this week, Mrs. Anna Mae Carter, 1180 Fourteenth street, was "one tired soul." She has had a busy two or three weeks getting gowns and a wardrobe ready for the "first lady of the Virgin Islands." Mrs. A. A. Alexander, who left Des Moines Tuesday for the inaugural ceremonies Friday of her noted-engineer husband as governor.

Mrs. Carter did the final touches on Mrs. Alexander's gowns Monday and was ready by Monday night, when the "First Lady" presented a dress rehearsal for some of her club members. Then, Mrs. Carter spent the night packing the gowns and getting the wardrobe ready for Mrs. Alexander to leave Tuesday morning.

And speaking of packing, another friend, Mrs. Gwen Fowler spent several days, just listing, only personal items that are being shipped to the Islands.

Dr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Ritchey escorted the "First Lady" to the airport where she left on the 9:30 a.m. plane, to join her husband in Chicago, go by Washington, D. C., before leaving for the Islands.

By nine or ten years most children begin to understand the more flexible rules of behavior. They begin to make some moral decisions on their own responsibility. They are strongly influenced by what they have been taught, but they also make use of their own judgment of the situation. By 12 years they have a fair understanding of right and wrong in the broader moral sense.

As the child grows through these stages of moral understanding his parents provide one of his most important models. It is tragedy for the child if his parents fail him.

Easter Cream Frozen Dessert Is Tasty Blend

For a delicious golden frozen Easter dessert—that's both creamy and tart, try this "Easter Cream" recipe which was originated in the test kitchens of Deepfreeze Home Appliances.

Dissolve 1 envelope plain gelatin in ½ cup cold water. Scald 1 cup milk. Add 2 or 3 drops of yellow food coloring. Beat egg yolks 5 minutes until thick and lemon-colored. Gradually add ½ cup sugar. Combine egg mixture slowly with hot milk over low heat. When mixture coats spoon, remove from heat. Add softened gelatin, stirring until dissolved. Cool slightly.

Add ½ cup orange juice and 1½ teaspoons lemon juice. Chill in freezer compartment or refrigerator. When mixture starts to congeal, add 2 cups well-drained fruit cocktail, and fold in 2 cups stiffly beaten cream or substitute, whipped with electric mixer 5 minutes at high speed.

Pack one-serving portions into square quart milk carton to ¼-inch of top. Separate servings with double squares of freezer cellophane. Seal and freeze in freezer compartment of refrigerator. Remove from mold, seal in polyethylene freezer bag and store in home freezer (up to 6 months). Serve frozen.

Music Lovers Hear Famed Contralto Marian Anderson

Followers of Marian Anderson thronged the KRNT Theater last Friday night to enjoy and applaud the many great songs that the world-famous contralto has made unforgettable.

Assisted at the piano by Franz Rupp, Miss Anderson opened her program with a group of songs by Handel—"Tutta Raccolta," "Chio Mai Vi Possa," "Sielliana," and an arioso, "Dank Sei Dir, Herr."

Her Schubert's group included the well known "Ständchen" (Serenade), "Wohin," "Der Tod und das Mädchen," and a favorite with all concert listeners, "Der Erlkönig." For an encore she sang from Schubert, "The Trout."

To complete the first part of her program, she sang the well known number from Saint-Saens' Sampson and Delilah, "Mon Cour S'Ouvre a Toi Voice" (My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice). For an encore she used "Will-O-the-Wisp."

After intermission, Miss Anderson sang the well known numbers, "Sally Gardens," and "The Ploughboy," (Arranged by Britten), "None But the Lonely Heart," Tchaikovsky's, "Songs My Mother Taught Me," (Dvorak), and "Blow, Blow, Thou Winter Wind," Quilter.

Her closing group of Negro Spirituals included: Hall-Johnson's arrangement of "Done Foun My Los' Sheep;" Edward Boatner's arrangement of "O What A Beautiful City;" Hamilton Forrest's arrangement of "He's Got the whole World In His Hand;" and Hall-Johnson's arrangement of "Honor, Honor."

For her first encore she sang Lawrence Brown's arrangement of "Dere's No Hiding Place Down Here;" and the final encore, "Ave Maria" (Schubert).

BRIBERY MUST BE KEPT OUT

As a general practice, newspapers don't comment editorially during the process of trials of criminal cases and thus the Bystander has refrained from mentioning the recent DiPaglia attempted bribery case. However, there are some features in it which are far reaching and thus the public should not consider the case lightly.

Ben Bumby was a star player on the Drake University basketball team. At the time the affair is alleged to have taken place, it was generally known that Bumby was experiencing great difficulty meeting his financial obligations at school. Thus he appeared an easy prey for any arrangement which might help him get relief from this unfortunate situation.

Any attempt to bribe him struck at the very vitals of college sports and provided the opponents of athletics in schools an argument that too much emphasis is being placed on this extra curricular activity. It would have been an opening wedge to cheating and bribery among the school youngsters who are to take charge of running the country in years to come.

Bumby is entitled to great credit for resisting crookedness; Drake University officials for backing him up as they are in the habit of doing when unethical practices are at issue. And the jury did their duty when they refused to be fooled into believing the phony explanations advanced for the visits made to Bumby — "to get advice as to how to bet."

PROMPT DECISIVE ACTION HERE

Grinnell College has decided to relieve a housemother of her job at the end of the school year because she campaigned against the election of a Negro student as president of the dormitory and which constituted an unwarranted interference in the affairs of student activities.

It happens all too often that officials look upon such affairs too lightly. Public officials are prone to follow such a course. But Grinnell College has convictions about the high principles for which it stands and one who attempts to block the way of implementing these principles does not belong at the school.

This is as it should be. More power to Grinnell College for if we are to root out racial hatred in America a firm stand must be taken by those who have the authority to get it done.

While speaking of the candidacy of this Negro student at Grinnell, the Bystander reported last week that Barbara Oliver, a Des Moines girl, has been elected representative of Currier Hall to the student council at Iowa University. She along with the girls in the dormitory are to be commended for her selection.

Negro students must not hesitate to take part in the extra curricular activities of their schools and try for honors. They must prepare and try for scholarship honors. These activities point up just how well students enter all the programs of their schools and thus help prepare the way for the same thing in the communities where they locate.

In other words be associated as active participants, rather than just students.

FRIENDS HONOR BOB LAPPEN

Last Sunday, a large group of friends gathered at Congregation El Bethel Synagogue to honor Robert M. Lappen as the outstanding Jewish Citizen in Iowa. Often people are prone to leave such an event for the funeral orator or obituary, but modern thinking points toward permitting the honored to smell the sweet aroma of the flowers given in his honor rather than having them pressed down upon his casket and/or strewn around the grave.

Bob Lappen was born in Poland. (We never knew this before.) And his life has been full of efforts to make people happy—not only Jews but every body. His activities in the synagogue, in the B'nai Brith organization, the Anti-Defamation League, the Community Chest, USO and other War organizations were well done and this won the admiration of those with whom he has been associated.

Many people who have the opportunity to help the fellow furthest down don't accept the responsibility and take advantage of them. But not so with Bob Lappen. Soon after he became a member of the board of control the NAACP, of which he was a member, called upon him to help change the policy of barring Negro prisoners in the state prisons from being sent to the state farms. Men with good records get these places which afford unusual liberty and living conditions. And even though Negroes had met these requirements over the years, they had been barred consistently from this privilege. But Lappen knew what it means to be denied privileges for superficial reasons. The men associated with him evidently felt as he did and to day the situation is changed entirely. Negro prisoners enjoy these privileges on all the farms.

So just as Bob helped the fellows behind the bars who could not help themselves, so has he acted in all of his undertakings in Iowa. And his friends, including the editor of the Bystander, were on hand in goodly numbers to honor him for his unselfish service and devotion to duty.

Swimming Pool Order

Judge held that Kansas City violated the "equal protection" clause of the Fourteenth Amendment by denying Negroes admission to the Swope Park Swimming Pools.

The city officials appealed the decision to the Circuit court of Appeals, which upheld the lower court's ruling. The case was then taken to the United States Supreme Court and on October 15, 1953 at the opening of its new term, the high court refused to review the appeal, thereby upholding the lower court's ban against racial segregation in the city's swimming pool.

The city's decision to reopen the Swope Park Swimming Pool on a non-segregated basis was received by the Kansas City Branch of the NAACP as a major victory in its fight to obtain equal rights for Negro citizens.

HEALTH FOR ALL

"Anyone can do it," the man said. So you painted the living room walls and ceiling yourself. It looked fine, too, but next day you had a painful shoulder that just about ruined all your pride of achievement. You decided, perhaps, that you weren't made for that kind of work, and, in a way, you were right. It's one of the many troubles we made for ourselves when we decided to get up on our hind legs and use our front paws for hands.

Hooked up between your shoulder blade and the big bone of the upper arm is a little muscle with a job that is sometimes too big for it. Its long name—supraspinatus—isn't much help when it has to work all day keeping the arm bone in its socket against the pull of gravity. Holding the arms up and out puts a constant strain on the muscle and its tendon. And every arm movement we make pinches the tendon between the shoulder blade and arm bone.

So you see, it wasn't surprising that the unaccustomed work of painting gave you a painful shoulder. Acute bursitis usually cures itself quickly, but it can develop into a condition that disables its victims for months or years. We tend to baby the sore shoulder, when the best cure is to keep it moving. Lack of motion may cause adhesions to form, and then the shoulder becomes practically frozen in its socket.

Of course, every painful shoulder does not mean bursitis. The safe course is to consult your doctor if shoulder pain does not clear up quickly.

As an exercise for bursitis doctors frequently suggest bending over with the arm relaxed and then swinging it like a pendulum from front to back, side to side, and round and round. You can do this in a bending position even though, standing straight, you couldn't move the arm because of the pain. You may feel foolish, but in a few weeks your shoulder will probably be as good as new.

SPORTS

BY ALLEN ASHBY

This looks like North High's year. The Polar Bears have about a six-man track team with Ceasar Smith, the key man that could sweep all the meets this spring. Smith will probably go down as just about the greatest runner ever to wear the Pink and Green.

You name the distance and he will run it from one step to two miles. And the guy will do it in good time. Capable of running a quarter, half, or mile in record time, Smith's biggest problem is what record he will try to break.

It is our guess that the state of Iowa has never seen a better, more versatile runner. His marks compare well with college time. When Ceasar gets to college we would like to see him run two miles.

The other guys on that team are: Franklin Irvin—who has won all his broad jumps but one; Bob Sloan, Jerry Spencer, Don Bradley and Doug Triplett who does the weight-bearing honors. It doesn't matter who runs on what relay team as long as the anchor man is named Smith. Of course, you might know the other fellows are pretty fair runners, also.

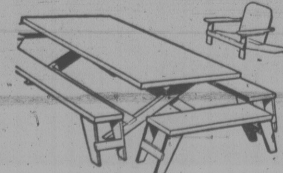

East High has Fred Lucas, Jim Clarke, Sam Bradley and Ken Mash, and the Lee Township lads might cook up surprise come the out-of-door season.

Picnic Time Again!

ANYONE can have a picnic right in the back yard, providing there's a picnic table and benches. Now available is a free plan that makes this furniture for outdoor dining a simple acquisition.

With materials obtained from the lumber yard, the home craftsman will find this project a pleasure to build.

ure to build. Unlike the old style benches, the ones described in the free plan are separate, so one needn't climb over them to sit down. When the picnic's over, they fit neatly under the table! The table is rugged and sturdy. Its smooth, splinter-free top is made of Masonite Tempered Presdwood, which will never split, splinter or crack. Rain, wind and snow won't affect it.

Another advantage of the design shown is that winter storage is made simple because one merely unbolts the "X" frame legs, folds them together and stores them. The table top can be hung on a wall in the garage or storeroom. Benches can be carried inside and used for wintertime or bad weather gatherings in the recreation room.

For a copy of the free plan, write Home Service Bureau, Suite 2039, 111 West Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill., requesting Plan No. A.E-279. With it comes information for making comfortable lawn chairs.

There are a lot more kids that we will get around to.

Boazing

No one argues that Kid Gavilan was robbed in his bid for the midweight crown of Bobo Olson. The Keed used strictly one hand all the way and there are those who say that he might do it next time with two hands.

It is our personal opinion the gallant Keed could have three hands and the result would be the same. You can't step out of your weight division over a long route and have much luck. In ten rounds the Cuban would have a fine chance, but over fifteen rounds, the smaller man has to travel at top speed all the way and human flesh and bone can't stand that pace.

The same thing happened to Billy Conn and Ray Robinson. Both men went at top speed as far as they could and that was it.

Drake Univ. Officials Busy Making 45th Relays the Finest

Mark the dates April 23-24 down in your memory. Just a couple of weeks, away, those are the days you'll want to be at the Drake Relays.

Drake officials have been working hard to make this year's 45th annual Drake classic one of the finest of all time.

And Tommy Deckard, the boss of the whole show at Drake, sincerely believes that the 45th Relays will be one of the best ever.

Heading the parade of stars that will make an assault on the Drake record book is Wes Santee, the long-striding Kansas U. runner.

Santee Picked

Picked by most experts to run the first four-minute mile, Santee will be making his final bid for Drake Relays glory. Two years ago he was picked as "most outstanding" in the Relays, last year he again starred and helped Kansas to two victories.

This spring the Kansas ace seems to be running harder and faster than ever and Drake fans should see him

Out of The Living Past—The Negro

BY MARION E. HOCKENHULL

The original idea in writing this article is to instill the living by reviewing the past; and to explain some of the facts about the Hamitic people and their true history.

For more than three hundred years, the children born in America, from these old African families, know little or nothing about their true heritage.

They have been cut away from their family tree; and, as dead branches they have been slowed down by not letting the sap flow on into the present that it may instill the future.

The genealogy of one's family tree should be taught in early life to the child. And, with a good education, he'll be able to hold on to his own past and present, in order to enrich the future.

Myers Ancient History names these families as the leading Ethiopian tribes: Egyptian, Lybian and Ethiopian.

Take a peek into the commercial history of these families in the year 1400 B.C.—Ethiopia sold most of the silver and gold, also other products; Egypt—ostrich feathers, ivory and ebony; Lybia—cedars and spices.

First let me clarify something which is a fact. Any colored man in America is referred to as a Negro; never by his native land. Egypt is located in the near-Central part of Africa, but if one of the Africans from there is in America, he is called a Negro.

Now review the life of one of the descendants of the Hamitic people.
