Police Arrest 21 Men, 11 Women in Early Sunday Raid

Thirty-two persons were arrested about 3:45 a. m. last Sunday in a raid at a house at 830 Ninth st., described by police as "a sneak liquor joint."

Among the 21 men and 11 women arrested were a number of musicians who had been taking part in a "jam session" that officers said was of the type that "could continue until 10 a. m."

Capt. Louis Volz, vice bureau chief, led a raiding party of six detectives, five uniformed officers and three members of the state narcotics bureau.

Whisky, Wine

Confiscated were two bottles of whisky, two half-gallons of wine and ported.

Orville Cox, 44 and his wife, Neddie, 25, of 830 Ninth st., appeared in municipal court on charges of operating a disorderly house. Bond was set at $200 in each case pending a hearing May 11.

Cox also faced a concealed weapons charge which police said was filed after members of the raiding party found a .22-caliber revolver in the glove compartment of his car. Bond on this charge was set at $400.

A woman found outside the home, was charged with intoxication and the others were charged with resorting to a disorderly house.

Four Fined $10

Four of them pleaded guilty and were fined $10 each by Judges Don L. Tidrick and Charles S. Cooter. Bond was set at $100 for 23 others, who pleaded innocent. Two were not arraigned immediately.

In addition, seven of those arrested in basement rooms where the "session" reportedly was held faced intoxication charges.

Washington Doctors Plan $100 Gifts to NAACP's Fighting Fund for Freedom

Washington, —Responding promptly to a challenge by Dr. W. Montague Cobb, members of the Medico-Chirurgical Society of the District of Columbia last week endorsed his plan to have Negro medical men all over the country contribute $100 each to the Fight for Freedom Fund of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Within hours after the D. C. physicians endorsed Dr. Cobb's proposal, Clarence Mitchell, director of the NAACP's Washington bureau, appeared before the Senate Subcommittee on Health to urge inclusion of provisions in the Health Act denying federal funds to any hospital which bars Negro medical personnel and segregates or otherwise discriminates against Negro patients.

The plan was first proposed by Dr. Cobb, a member of the NAACP Board of Directors and chairman of the Association's national health committee, in an address before the John A. Andrew Clinical Society in session at Tuskegee, Ala., on April 14.

Care Available

Dr. Cobb cited the $25 tax levied by the American Medical Association upon its members to fight the national health insurance plan. This involved an issue, he said, "on which reasonable men might differ." However, he went on, "the moral principle that medical facilities and care ought to be available to the citizens of our country on the basis of need without racial discrimination of any kind is a principle on which reasonable men may not differ."

The NAACP, the Washington physician asserted, is prepared to carry on that fight to which Negro doctors especially should contribute generously. "If all Negroes in the profession responded to the appeal it would provide a war chest of more than $400,000, he said.

Moral Principle

Because of the moral principle involved, Dr. Cobb called upon his fellow physicians, "to assess themselves at least four times as much as the American Medical Association assessed its members in a lesser cause. Thus where AMA members bore a levy of $25 to fight national health insurance, Negro physicians would now eagerly contribute at least $100 each to banish discrimination from health areas."

The doctors were urged to send in their contributions without delay, and through their local and state medical associations to urge their colleagues to do likewise.

Caribbean Civil Servants Receive Wage Adjustment

New York —The 25 per cent cost of living allowance for 5,000 federal employees in Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands has been restored, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People was informed last week.

Restoration of the allowance followed intervention by Walter White, NAACP executive secretary, who, on a tour of the Caribbean last January, learned not only that the allowance had been rescinded the previous August but also that natives of the islands are paid less by the U. S. Government for the same work than persons from the mainland.

Upon his return to this country, Mr. White took both these issues up with Congressman Jacob K. Javits and with the Civil Service Commission. A letter to Mr. White from a Puerto Rican civil service employee expressed "our heartfelt thanks for your backing which resulted in success and tranquility for so many families involved."

It was the Community Church and one of the signers of the original call that led to the founding of the NAACP; and Atty. Thomas G. Weaver of the Talladega Club of New York. There will be a solo by David Perry, baritone, and readings by the Rev. Donald Harrington, minister of the Community Church.

Race Discrimination in El Centro, Cal., Grade Schools to Be Attacked

El Centro, Calif. —Racial discrimination against school children here will come under attack by the Southern Area Council of NAACP when the group meets here May 1.

Lucian James, president of the Imperial Valley (Calif.) NAACP unit, has stated that a preliminary survey of grade school practices in this Imperial Valley community "shows all the earmarks of Jim Crow."

The Imperial Valley chapter of the Association has formally requested the services of NAACP field secretary Lester P. Bailey, who directed the successful integration of Cairo, Ill. schools in 1952.

John H. Dial, Jr., president of the Southern Area Council, announced this week that race practices in the El Centro schools are the next item on his organization's agenda.

"We will attack every vestige of discriminatory treatment of minorities in this state until the conditions under which Negroes and other groups must live are equal to those offered white citizens," Mr. Dial de-

Oppose Plan Which Would Isolate Negro Families From 'Mainstream of Life'

Washington, D. C. —Proposed anti-discrimination plans of Housing Administrator Albert M. Cole submitted to the Senate Banking and Currency Committee represent a "doctrine of appeasement and expediency" and are "unworthy of our country," the NAACP told the Senate Banking and Currency Committee in a letter made public last week.

The letter, released by the Washington bureau of the NAACP and signed by Clarence Mitchell, the bureau director, was sent to Senator Homer Capehart, committee chairman, in reply to a statement sent to the committee by Mr. Cole on April 6.

The NAACP charged that under Mr. Cole's plan, FHA-insuring housing developments from which Negro families now are barred, solely because of race, would continue to be racially segregated. Meanwhile, the Association pointed out, Mr. Cole would have the federal government underwrite the cost of building segregated housing for Negro and other minority groups. "The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People strongly oppose a program which would isolate minority group families from the mainstream of American life," the letter declared.

The NAACP letter asked the committee and the Congress to enact strong safeguards against racial discrimination in the federal housing bill—S. 2938—now in committee.

"Unless such safeguards are incorporated in the housing bill, Mr. Mitchell asserted, 'the Housing Agencies will continue their present program of promoting racial segregation with the help of federal funds.'

"Every housing official, including Mr. Cole, knows that FHA-insured projects are designated as white or for colored at the time lenders agree to advance funds. Hence, the present policy forbids restrictive covenants in writing, but promotes exclusion from new housing through other types of agreements with the builders, lenders, and occupants."

'Only Fair' That Hospitals Receiving Federal Monies Admit All, Says Mitchell

Washington, —Testifying before the Senate Subcommittee on Health, Clarence Mitchell, director of the Washington Bureau of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, urged the inclusion of clauses prohibiting discrimination against Negro professional men and women and patients in the Health Act providing federal funds for the development of hospital facilities.

Mr. Mitchell's appearance before the subcommittee on April 21 followed an appeal the previous week by Dr. W. Montague Cobb to Negro physicians urging them to contribute $100 each to the NAACP's Fight for Freedom Fund "to banish discrimination from health areas." Dr. Cobb is professor of anatomy at Howard University Medical School and chairman of the NAACP's national health committee.

Recent Ruling

In his testimony, Mr. Mitchell charged that "a recent ruling by Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, Secretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, has the effect of forcing colored people to discriminate against colored doctors in favor of white doctors."

Refusal of Service Inherent Legal Right —Las Vegas Mayor

Las Vegas, Nev. —Answering an NAACP inquiry on the status of a civil rights ordinance pending before the city council here Mayor C. D. Baker declared last week: "Social equality cannot be legislated . . . and . . . the right to refuse service is an inherent legal right."

The mayor said he spoke for the local board of commissioners.

A letter to the NAACP from Mayor Baker noted: "So long as the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has branded the entire State of Nevada as the 'Mississippi of the West,' a law instituted on the scale of a State Act seems mandatory to remove any stigma on the state as a whole . . ."

The civil rights ordinance pending in Las Vegas was sponsored by

He based his charge on Mrs. Hobby's refusal to withhold federal funds for a hospital in Houston, Texas, which denies staff privileges to Negro doctors "forcing them to channel their patients through white doctors if such patients are to be admitted to the hospital."

A similar policy is followed in Birmingham which has received a federal grant for the clearance of a slum area on which to develop a medical center, he asserted.

Receives Money

"We believe it is only fair," the NAACP spokesman told the committee members, "that any hospital which receives money collected from all of the people throughout the country as taxes should be willing to open its doors to patients, physicians, nurses and other medical persons without regard to race, religion or national origin."

He asked that language be incorporated into the Health Act prohibiting segregation of or other discrimination against Negro patients and requiring "that no qualified physician, nurse, or other medical person shall be denied the use of facilities because of race, religion or national origin."

The NAACP and submitted to the local board of commissioners last year.

The NAACP charged last month that Las Vegas is the "Mississippi of the West" because of its primitive racial attitudes. At that time, the Association pointed out that racial discrimination is the "general policy" of hotels, motels, restaurants and places of recreation in Las Vegas.

Mrs. Mabel M. Mason received word of the death of her brother, Fred H. Johnson of Kansas City, Mo., who died April 25 at the Wadsworth Veterans hospital. Services were held April 28.

Outlines Platform

W. H. NICHOLS

Former Lieutenant Gov. W. H. Nichols of Mason City, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, spoke at Wilkie House Thursday to a group of active Republicans where he outlined his platform on some issues of the campaign.

He advocated better highways, more state aid to schools, revision of penalties for crimes many he said being inconsistent and more cooperation among state officials. Asked if he favored some type of interracial commission to study and deal with human rights problems he replied "definitely, I believe the state should take the lead in this field and if nominated and elected will appoint a commission to study the problem should the legislature ask that it be done, or on my own initiative."

Following a question and discussion period refreshments were served.

Show-Off Rhubarb Pie

Feature tart spring rhubarb in this elegant Show-Off Rhubarb Pie.

The season's best-liked fruits attain even greater reputation when served in crisply tender pastry shells. Pies have been favorite desserts for ages. Your family will sing new praises when you bring on a generous wedge of this mellow rhubarb pie as the finale for a spring luncheon. If you choose, top the cuts of pie with a fluff of whipped cream. Let everyone—in turn—man the nutmeg grinder. Freshly ground nutmeg atop the whipped cream tastes grand.

To make your pie a real production, perfect your art of making flaky pastry. You'll want to follow your favorite recipe for pastry to the letter. Work quickly with the pastry, but do not overmix. Use ice-cold water to sprinkle over the flour-shortening mixture. Chilling the dough before you roll it out is another aid for flaky pastry.

You'll appreciate the fact that when you bake with enriched flour, your family is getting three essential B-vitamins and food iron at no extra cost. Enriched flour is also a low-cost source of plant protein.

When spring days are filled to the hilt and baking time is short, select a golden-crusted fruit pie from the bake shop. They are tempting fare when served with cups of steaming hot coffee.

Out Of The Living Past—The Negro

by Marion E. Hockenbush

Since we are reviewing the ancient people of Africa, recognition should also be given to the African queens known as: "Candace"—just as the 31 dynasties of the Ptolemies. "Candace" was title of the queens of Meroe, Egypt, whose capital was Napatha, in the ancient days. The name was not a proper name of an individual, but that of a dynasty of Ethiopians queens.

This approach is used by giving definition from one of the "Old Biblical dictionary."

In the period 1500 to 1300 B. C. the Africans were the powerful rulers of all of Egypt. Even Syria was under her rule. And a great part of the time an Ethiopian queen was on the throne.

An sometimes, more exciting and energetic than some of the male rulers. This queen made war on Augustus Caesar with the action of her powerful soldiers; she obtained an honorable peace.

This was not the first peace treaty, because about 1800-1880 B. C., soon after the bright period of the Twelfth dynasty, Egypt and his powerful Hatties went to war and after that long tough struggle, Ethiopia was glad to sign a peace treaty with them. It is the oldest known peace treaty in the world.

Often when the queens were in power they would make many changes as if they were trying to bury the husband's and King's past with his body.

This happened in the life of the proud queen Aahmes. Scarcely had her husband, the king Hatshepsut closed his eyes, she adorned herself with crown and insignia or royalty. She assumed the sole government of the country, while her younger brother, Tehuti Meshe III, was pushed aside. Since the Old Meroe, Egypt.

Other Egyptian names are: Nubia, Mtesas, Arabs, Tusi and the Abyssinians, who claim to be the direct descendants of Solomon.

In the American Hametic, we also have women of courage. It is shown in Ida B. Wells, born in Holly Springs, Miss. She studied at Rust university; passed the teachers' examination and taught school for a while, but the pay was too small and she had to find a better job on the local paper. She secured a paper of her own. She was married to Hon. Ferdinand L. Barnett in Chicago, Ill., in June 1895. Two girls and two boys made their family life complete.

But Mrs. Barnett continued to fight for better conditions for the Negro in America. Denouncing segregation in public places in Chicago elsewhere, she was an eloquent speaker and was an example of courage, industry, zeal and determination for the youth of today.

The Ida B. Wells Housing project in Chicago is named in her honor.

Iowa Prospers On Pork

"Curley" Collins is quite a hog raiser and proud of it.

He was prouder than ever when he showed us a report from the Meat Board, saying: "Iowa leads the nation in meat production."

"That's because we're so far ahead in pork," says Curley. "Let the vegetarians worry about that for a while!"

Well, Curley's figures probably won't bother the vegetable eaters. But they made me think... What would happen to Iowa if someone suddenly laid down a rule that we all had to become vegetarians? Or, what would happen to the "health food" industry if someone ruled that we must all eat nothing but meat!

Makes you realize how interdependent we are on one another. Take the millions of bushels of Iowa grain used in making beer. Right back to Iowa comes a by-product of brewing which helps hens to lay more eggs.

One helps the other. And our diversified tastes, and freedom of choice in how we work, eat, or think, makes this the great nation that it is.

Screen for Nursery

A FOLDING screen is mighty handy to have in the nursery, where it can be used to keep drafts off the crib and as a shield against light, noise and activity.

Like the one in the illustration, the screen may be made in the home workshop and neatly decorated by means of decalcomanias or stencils. Panels without the nursery characters may be finished with blackboard slating material, so the pre-school child will have a place to draw.

Materials for this simple device may be obtained in any lumber yard—1 by 2-inch lumber for the framing and crossbars, Masonite

Tempered Duolux, a durable hardboard that's smooth on both sides, and the hardware. The panels, after being cut to size, are inserted in grooves which have been cut in the framing with a power saw.

The stick-on pictures are available at paint and hardware stores, which are sources also for stencils used in hand-painted work. Major paint companies make slate surfacing material, which simply is brushed on the Masonite Duolux with a brush after the panel has been prepared with two coats of clear sealer.

Third Dimension in Crocheting

Completely new is the three-dimensional effect in crocheting shown in the Crinoline Lady designs used as decoration on the towels above. This represents the latest idea in popular crochet, number one hobby among American women. A variety of these can women. Use of colored crochets are further suggested in the use of them as decorative motifs on different types of household linens. Use of colored crochets in these designs appeals to women who like their household accessories to harmonize, or contrast effectively with the color schemes of the rooms for which they are intended. The Crinoline Lady design of the rooms for which they are intended. The Crinoline Lady design lends itself to use as a decorative motif, not only on towels for the bathroom, but on pillow cases; dollies; table mats; boudoir lamps; linen, silk and satin boudoir pillows — and, in larger dimensions, as a charming center decoration for a young girl's bedspread.

Miss Jones Tells
Role Of Volunteers;
YWCA Drive Opens

"The Role of the Volunteer in Recreation Agencies" was discussed at a YWCA coffee hour last Thursday morning by Miss Elizabeth Jones, executive secretary of the Recreation and Group Education Council of Kansas City Council of Social Agencies.

"In 1954, if our agencies are to measure up to the principles of today's world, they must have an evaluating process by which to find the needs in our communities—by which to find out what we should do—and do it," Miss Jones said.

"It is very important that we decide what we must do and set people to work. We must have a professional staff, but the volunteers are very important."

The speaker listed ways and means of finding needs and putting volunteers to work, but one of the main problems she listed, was getting people to serve as volunteers. "If you have trouble in getting volunteers, it is because you don't make the work fun to do," she suggested.

Miss Jones was one of the special guests during the National YWCA Week observance. Other features of the week included committee meetings of workers in the membership drive which is on until May 1. Mrs. Charles Henshaw and Mrs. Luther Stalaker are co-chairmen of the membership committee.

Scholarship for Students Majoring
In Voice at Drake

A fund providing scholarships for students majoring in voice in the college of fine arts at Drake university was announced recently by Frank B. Jordan, dean of the fine arts college.

Established by Arch I. Madden, Des Moines realtor, the fund is named the Mabel Moss-Madden Scholarship fund in honor of his late wife, who died on Jan. 2, 1954. Mrs. Madden, who majored in voice at Drake, was on the voice faculty in the college of fine arts from 1941 to 1953.

Scholarships will be available to full-time graduate or undergraduate students working for music degrees at Drake. Talent and need will be factors in determining the scholarship grant.

A total of $2,250 will be available for scholarships for the 1954-55 school year beginning this fall. The amount of each individual grant will be determined by the university's scholarship committee which selects the recipients. Applications should be made to the dean of the fine arts college, Drake university.

"This new fund will help many worthy voice students to have an opportunity to obtain an education. It is a most fitting memorial to Mrs. Madden whose service on our voice faculty left a memory which will always be very real in the minds of students and faculty," Dean Jordan said.

The merry month of May is rushing with many activities off and after the Maypole dances this week end—and the May baskets are filled—there will be plenty on the calendar.

Sunday is a full day beginning with a May breakfast at Willkie House by the Community Garden club—and all through the day, there will be programs at many of the churches.

A fashion show is scheduled Tuesday night by the Excelsior club at Corinthian Baptist church; the Olympian club's "Varieties of '54" will be staged Thursday night at Hoyt Sherman Place; the Wilberforce University Singers of Wilberforce, Ohio, will be at St. Paul AME church Friday night for a concert—and on into the month with the annual Mother's Day celebrations.

One nationally known mother of radio, stage and screen fame, as well as world-wide travel, Etta Moten, will be in Des Moines on Mother's Day, to address a Women's Day meeting at St. Paul AME church.

The many April showers this week have brought out the flowers. The squirrels are having a picnic in the tulip beds, snipping the stems, rushing into nearby trees, eating out the heart of the flowers and letting the petals fall to the ground. Between the hailstorms and the squirrels, the poor flowers are having a time staying on their plants.

Saturday, May 1, has been proclaimed by President Eisenhower as Child Health Day. The Department of Health, Education and Welfare has urged "all families to make this a day when parents and children join in family activity and work or play that will strengthen and enrich the union between them."

Last Thursday when Miss Elizabeth Jones of Kansas City, executive secretary of the Recreation and Group Education Council of K. C. Council of Social Agencies, was here for a YWCA Week meeting, we got to talking about Kansas City and she mentioned how proud the Kansas Citizens are now that they finally won the case against segregation in the publicly-owned Swope Park Swimming Pool.

When the outdoor season opens for swimming activities, the Kansas Citizens will have far more superior facilities in the publicly-owned Swope Park pool than the opportunities open for Negroes to swim in the

Omega Chapter Wins Kappa Alpha Psi
Achievement Award; at Regional

Dr. E. Thomas Seales was re-elected provincial polemarch of the Northwest Province Council of Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity at the recent regional meeting which was held in Minneapolis and St. Paul, Minn.

John M. Estes, Jr., was elected senior voice provincial polemarch; and, William Goins of St. Paul, was elected keeper of records.

Forty-nine from Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa and Minnesota attended the sessions which were entertained by the Minneapolis and St. Paul Alumni chapters.

Other officers from Iowa are: Jean Hendricks, Drake University, junior voice provincial polemarch; James F. Dixon, elected to the board of directors.

At a closed banquet held in the Terrace Room of the Nicollet hotel on Saturday, Omega chapter of Des Moines, was awarded the Achievement Trophy, given by Dr. Seales, to the chapter showing the most progress. The trophy has been in competition for several years and was retired this year when the Drake university chapter, Omega, won it for the third time.

Heading the Omega chapter are: Audley Conners, retiring polemarch, and Jean Hendricks, present polemarch.

James P. Thompson was a member of the achievement committee that judged the chapter reports.

Other chapters in the regional are: Gamma, Iowa City; Alpha Eta, publicly-owned pools of Des Moines.

Everybody in Des Moines seemed to have turned out last Saturday morning for the Drake Relays parade which tied up transportation and downtown activities for nearly two hours. Seventy or more school bands were in the line of march—but after the first fifty had passed—the mid-summer temperature made it too hot to count.

One of the East High School band boys, James Brown, who is an after-school printer, assistant at the By-stander, complained of being tired all this week, after Saturday's long walk in the Relays parade. He lives in Chesterfield and from there he said he walked to the high school, then to Capitol Hill for the parade to form, over the parade route and then back home, after the parade.

Mrs. A. B. Brewer, of 1237 McCormick street, phoned this week after returning from a visit in Junction City, Kas., where she and her husband, Elder Brewer stopped with relatives enroute from a church meeting.

Mrs. Brewer was much disturbed. While there, a bomb of some nature was set off early Tuesday morning, April 20, on the roof of the Riverside Body Shop on Grant avenue, blasting a hole through the roof of the building, shattering some of its windows, damaging a car parked inside the building, and shaking windows in Junction City homes.

The search is on by the By-stander staff to find some of the first subscribers of the paper—or those who remember their parents taking it or reading it back in 1884.

There Are Times When A Child Must Stand
Up For Rights, But Fighting Unnecessary

Written by Afton Smith,
Iowa University

Is Fighting Necessary?

This question is pondered by heads of nations as well as by heads of families.

In some books for parents we are told that fighting is inevitable among children. They say that every child has a certain amount of aggression within him which must be released. Therefore, he must get the fight out of his system.

Other books say that fighting is likely to take place, but for a different reason. They say that children are naturally friendly and fight only when their desires come in conflict with those of others. Direct attack is likely to occur until children learn to adjust their conflicts in more friendly ways.

There are times when the child must stand up for his rights or protect his property. Perhaps there are times when a good round or two will clear the air; the fighters may become good friends and each acquires respect for the other. At such times it may be well for the parents to keep out, let the children settle the row in their own way and get the fight out of their systems.

It also is true that the child can learn to express his fighting impulses in more useful ways. The busy child has constructive interests which leave little inclination for fighting. Parents and schools must supply these interests.

Children improve with maturity, becoming more able to compromise and practice diplomacy. This gives their natural friendliness room to develop. The child who lives in a co-operating family knows better how to cooperate with playmates.

It is doubtful, then, whether every

Chicago, Ill.—The Hon. J. Ernest Wilkins, new assistant secretary of Labor, was honored here at a testimonial dinner in the grand ballroom of the Conrad Hilton Hotel, April 15. FURNITURE IS SUDS SAFE Sponge upholstery with thick suds. Then rinse with a clean damp sponge and wipe dry.

Since colorful upholstery on your furniture is the main eye-catcher in your room, it must be kept bright and clean to look well. Besides, clean furniture lasts longer. Luckily plastic upholstery, and most fabrics, can be sudsed off safely if you know how. Use thick warm soapsuds to lather over plastic upholstery on your sofa and chairs, but don't get it dripping wet. Rinse quickly with a clean damp sponge or cloth, and wipe dry.

If upholstery fabric can stand plain water, you can wash it with "dry" soapsuds. To make this, use your egg beater to whip some soap in a little water until the lather stands in stiff peaks like meringue. Work these thick suds over a small section of the upholstery with a circular motion, using a cloth, sponge, or brush. Scrub off the soiled suds with a spatula; then wipe the surface twice with a clean rinse cloth wrung almost dry so no water can soak into the fabric. Let

THERE IS A REASON

A recent comer to Des Moines from Washington, D. C., was conversing with a painter (Negro) called to redecorate her home, had this to say after completing the business at hand; "why are the colored people in Des Moines so different from those in Washington? Those I have met dealt with me as just another person while in Washington there is antagonism on every hand, no good feeling you like in our human relations."

The observation is reasonable but evidently the former Washingtonian does not know the reason for this difference. For years Washington has been absolutely dominated by southerners and southern customs. Segregation at the seat of the national government has been rigid and thus Negroes have not enjoyed the freedom which they know the constitution guarantees every citizen.

But in recent year the tide has been changing. A definite program has been in operation to see that every citizen enjoyed his civil rights; that segregation be the exception and not the rule. Negroes are insisting on these rights and doing something about them. And while the old order is on its way out, many oldtimers, particularly, seek to hold on to what has been. Thus there is the disposition to look with disfavor upon all white people not realizing or appreciating that all don't subscribe to those views.

On the other hand, Des Moines has had no legal segregated pattern, has had many citizens who have worked at this business of civil rights for years, has had no large influx of population which always makes it difficult for communities to assimilate new comers, has had a segregated school system, which provided a medium of understanding between the races, all of which prepared both whites and Negroes to know and deal with each other on a more friendly basis.

This points out very clearly that segregation is harmful rather than to the best interest of both sides as is claimed by proponents of this way of life.

PASSING THE BUCK

Recently the daily paper reported that an organization had been formed to clean up vice in and around Center Street in Des Moines. The article further stated that the committee had the backing of chief of police Eide and Wilbur Hildreth, investigator in the county attorney's office.

Frankly, the Bystander is at a loss to understand the idea. Unquestionably, conditions have gotten out of hand in this area thus inviting in an oversupply of hoodlums (there are always some around). And they have made life miserable for a lot of decent people doing business on Center Street and many others who have had occasion to visit that area.

And these conditions have been so crude that it is common knowledge that they exist. From the article it would appear that the fellows who approve this new organization know something about them. What the Bystander can't quite understand is why, with all authority at their command they don't do something about the problem themselves rather than hide behind a committee.

It appears that somebody is passing the buck.

STRIKE AT THE SOURCE

Recently, the FBI reports that crime is increasing at a higher percentage than our population, that the increase is greater among youngsters under eighteen and that crime in rural districts was increasing by greater proportions.

Of course various reasons will be assigned as to why this unfortunate trend all of which make their contribution to the sum total.

However, the Bystander places crime stories in theatres, on radio and TV at the head of the list. These stories are designed (producers say) to teach a moral. But the average youngster is too young to reason that far. He sees the shooting, the killing, the robbery, the smart criminal and proceeds to show his ability to reenact the scene, and at times goes off on a real job to carry out his reproduction.

It has always been a mystery why the church and other character building groups have not rebelled against this system of educating youngsters in the job of crime. It is a blot on our program of educating future men and women of America.

Appreciates Work of NAACP

In 1953 Felix Williams was convicted in the Polk County District Court of the crime of burglary with aggravation and sentenced to life imprisonment at Fort Madison. The Des Moines Branch NAACP participated in an appeal to the state supreme court, contributing two hundred and fifty dollars toward the expense. The action of the lower court was affirmed.

Mr. Williams writes the following letter in appreciation of the efforts of the branch:

STATE PENITENTIARY FORT MADISON, IOWA

Des Moines Branch, NAACP
c/o Atty. Greenlee
408 1/2 E. Walnut Street
Des Moines, Iowa.

Dear Sir:

I suppose you and members of the NAACP think I am quite an ungrateful person, for you have spent time and money in an effort to get fair consideration for me, and I haven't expressed one word of thanks. I can offer no excuse for my laxity. Its never too late to do good however, so at this time I am seizing this opportunity to express my heartfelt thanks for the kindness and effort shown by the NAACP toward my unfortunate situation. I am ashamed to say it, but in the past I didn't cooperate as much as I could have, neither did I appreciate the fine programs in which the NAACP are engaged.

In mentioning your programs I don't just mean the NAACP efforts in cases in which some poor devil hadn't received "due process of law" or his constitutional rights had been abridged, but other much more far reaching programs that when eventually concluded will go far toward lifting our people from the ranks of "second class citizens". It is understandable that such commendable work would take money and I have learned through reading the "Bystander" and "Crisis" that most NAACP operating funds arrive by the way of free-will contributions.

So in appreciation of your fine efforts in my own behalf enclosed you will find the sum of $1.50 (which is also my pay for one week) to the furtherance of your future efforts in the behalf of other qualified persons or programs of your own choosing. The thought came to me that if more would give their pay for a week or even so little as a dollar and a half the success of the NAACP programs would be guaranteed. I am more than sad that your efforts relative to my own situation were nullified by those in power, but at least the NAACP tried and brother that is something.

Gratefully yours,
Felix A. Williams

ministration as they were in slashing public housing, "we would not today be faced with the scandalous revelations that are on the front pages of the newspaper," an NAACP official told a Senate appropriations subcommittee this week.

Testifying before the subcommittee on April 21, Clarence Mitchell, director of the NAACP's Washington bureau, asserted: "Year after year, the public housing program has been scuttled by the same persons who showered every possible advantage on FHA."

He added that "in the eyes of some House members, the chief sin of the public housing program is that it helps the weak and the humble." These House members, he said, "seem to believe that the chief virtue of FHA is that it enjoys the support of the rich and the powerful."

Mr. Mitchell asked for clarification of the present confusion created by the House in cutting public housing. This could be done, he noted, by authorizing the construction of 140,000 new public housing units for the next four years, as proposed by President Eisenhower.

This would not be enough, Mr. Mitchell contended, but it would be a good beginning.

The NAACP representative estimated that present slum clearance programs will displace 71,000 families and that some 35,000 of these will be eligible for public housing.

"It is still impossible to see how we can have a productive slum clearance and redevelopment program without public housing," he said.

The Bystander's Sixtieth Anniversary Edition will be published in June.

HEALTH FOR ALL

DANGER

Iowa City, Iowa—A State University of Iowa scientist has issued a new warning to the public on the danger of eating undercooked pork.

Dr. Kenneth MacDonald, associate professor of hygiene and preventive medicine at SU, said that trichinosis can strike humans at any time of the year.

It is a disease that humans usually contract by eating undercooked pork from an infected animal. The parasite that causes the disease eventually becomes embedded in the muscles of the body, where it remains indefinitely.

Dr. MacDonald said all pork should be cooked until the temperature at the center is at least 150 degrees Fahrenheit. Without that heat, he said, parasites, if they exist in the meat, may survive and infect the person eating the pork.

He also warned against running pork through a food grinder and then using the grinder, before cleaning it, for food that is eaten raw or rare. He cautioned butchers especially on this practice.

Further, he said that hamburger meat frequently contains pork and that it should not be eaten rare—and that an occasional bite of raw hamburger while cooking can be dangerous.

The scientist said that about 16 per cent of the population is infected by trichinosis, but that most of these infections are too mild to be recognized except by laboratory tests.

However, he warned, a severe case is easily contracted if infected meat is eaten without being cooked sufficiently. And the severe cases, he said, are accompanied by extreme pain and sometimes prolonged inactivity.

Drake Relays

BY ALLEN ASHBY

The people who came to see Negroes perform at the Drake Relays went away happy. They saw some top notch stunts by Negroes, first class races from two schools and a couple of the fastest quarter miles ever run in Iowa high school history. Then they saw a guy from Dana College invade the javelin throw and win that.

In the special events, Miami university sent a couple of small shot putters. The little named Dan Drake, a mere 220, got second place with a heave that might have won the event in any other year. But the big one, Tom James, 245 pounds, busted the record with a heave of better than 55 feet. Iowa's Earl Smith missed the broad jump title by one-half inch, finishing that far behind Price of Oklahoma. Gander of Philander Smith of Little Rock, Ark., got fifth.

Dana college sent Marion Hudson to compete in the high jump and javelin throw. He became involved in one of those sixteen way tries for third in the high jump and captured the spear throw.

Illinois' Willie Williams tried to stop the tide of Texas victories in the hundred yard dash and didn't get the job done. Williams got off to a bad start and never did catch the flying Dean Smith of Texas. He got a close second.

Williams and Crille McSweeney helped the Illini get second in the quarter mile relay. McSweeney ran a blazing quarter bursting through the pack to put Illinois in front of the first top and they were never headed.

College Section

In the college section two Negro schools, Texas Southern of Houston and Philander Smith, never did run a poor race. Southern beat Abeline Christian in the quarter mile relay and tied the Drake relay record. The Southern guys chased Abeline home in the half mile relay. Philander Smith finished fifth in the quarter mile relay and chased the Christians to a new record in the mile relay. It took four 48-second quarters to beat the Smith boys.

For Texas Southern, Loyd Hamilton, Theodore Bush, Tom Stovall and Ralph Aldredge ran the quarter and Richard Martin replaced Bush in the half mile. Philander Smith fielded, Bill Taylor, Roy Taylor, Allen More and Keith Gardner in the quarter. Dick Esticks ran in place of Bill Taylor in the mile relay.

Iowa College Section

In the Iowa College section, Livingston came back to anchor Debuque home in the mile relay.

High School

Tom Jennings established himself as the top high school sprinter in the state. He won the hundred yard dash nosing out Sam Bradley of East and outran Ceasar Smith of North twice to give Marshalltown firsts in the quarter and half mile relays. North used Smith, Ron Bradley, Irvin Franklin and Bob Sloan and Gerry Spencer in their relay races.

Spencer, Franklin and Sloan helped North set a new medley relay record, but they couldn't give Ceasar enough of a lead to get away from the long-legged Jennings.

Mile Relay

In the mile relay, Bradley, Sloan and Franklin gave Smith a two mile lead to set a record for that event Saturday morning. In the afternoon, the Polar Bears were expected to

GIVE US A NEW TOMORROW

Give us a new tomorrow Lord, and cleanse us through and through.
Relieve our pain and sorrow Lord,
and help us build anew.
We'll build our new foundation,
upon the Rock, today;
then solidly we'll build our house,
and know that it will stay.

We have to learn the way to live, and then, by grace, we want to give;

yes, want to give, the most we can,
to help remake, the wastrel, man.
With myriad blessings God bestowed, man still (lives?) by his primal code;
far worse than carnal beasts of prey,
he sows destruction every way.

The blessed few who help and serve,
who fight and pray, right to preserve;
my prayer for all, who war on sorrow;
please give us Lord, a new tomorrow.
