Moultrie Tells Groups to Be Aware of Attempts to Redistrict into Ghettos

H. CARL MOULTRIE, I
National Executive Secretary of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity is H. Carl Moultrie, I, of Washington, D. C., who was in Des Moines during the week end for the fifth annual meeting of the Eleventh District.

"The recent statute passed by our Supreme Court is a momentous move in the right direction. It will serve to erase the institutions that have been unequal for so long—from the students' standpoint and the standpoint of the teachers," commented H. Carl Moultrie, I, of Washington, D. C., Saturday night.

National executive secretary of the Omega Psi Phi fraternity, Mr. Moultrie addressed a public meeting of the Eleventh District session here

Saturday and Sunday at Crocker YMCA.

Must Exercise

"But even with the passage of such legislation," continued Mr. Moultrie, with reference to the recent Supreme Court's outlawing of segregation in public schools, "the minority groups must continue to 'band' themselves together to 'follow-through.' We must exercise to the zenith, our civil rights—written and unwritten.

"We must be ever mindful of the re-districting that will take place, in many localities, to 'freeze' the minority groups into ghetto for disguised segregation in schools," he said.

Officers

During the election, at the fifth annual meeting of the Eleventh District, Harvey V. McDaniel of Denver, was reelected district representative; Luther T. Glanton, Jr., Des Moines, assistant representative; Alfred H. Edwards, Des Moines, keeper of records and seal; Daniel Lowman, Denver, keeper of finance; Ben Green, Denver, public relations.

Highlights of the meeting were: memorial services Sunday morning

Robert Henderson Held to Grand Jury On Assault Charge

Robert Henderson, 43, of 1157 Eleventh street, was held to the grand jury by Municipal Judge Don L. Tidrick Monday, on a charge of assault with intent to kill that grew out of the shooting April 27 of Jasper Lambert, 39, of 1021 Chestnut street.

Lambert, who only recently was discharged from the hospital, and an intern from Broadlawn General Hospital testified for the state at Henderson's hearing.

Lambert claimed Henderson shot him without warning with a revolver as he sat on the front porch of a residence across the street from Mary's Restaurant, 782 Eleventh street.

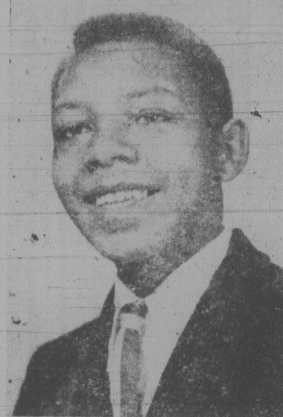

The intern testified that a bullet entered Lambert's right side, coursed downward through his intestines and came out of the lower back.

White House's Best

The state dinner also boasted of the White House as looking at its gleaming best with the best service and china set forth. Flowers for the occasion were yellow roses, iris and snapdragons and the musical program featured Metropolitan Opera Patrice Munsel.

Wearing a field marshal's uniform in his solemn manner, the Emperor on his arrival to Washington at the National Airport was greeted by Vice President Richard Nixon and Admiral Arthur Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. The Ethiopian party was given the full military salute.

Then driving past thousands of Washingtonians who waved small Ethiopian flags, the Emperor was met at the District Building where he was presented the keys of the city by Commissioner Samuel Spencer. Crack units from all the armed forces stood at attention while the Police Department Band played the Ethiopian national anthem.

Publicly-Owned Housing Discrimination Violation Of Constitutional Rights

New York—In its continued fight to eliminate racial discrimination and segregation in all phases of American life, NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund filed two suits on May 21 involving discrimination in housing projects in the South.

One involves a federally-aided public housing project in Savannah, Ga., and the other an FHA mortgage insured housing project in Shreveport, La.

In the Savannah suit the Public Housing Administration, the federal agency which administers the federal government's low-rent housing program, is made a defendant along with the local housing authority.

18 Negro Families

It was filed in the Federal District Court in Savannah and brought in behalf of 18 Negro families who sought admission in the Fred Westwells Homes, a project built on the "Old Fort," a traditionally Negro residential area.

Everybody living in the area had to vacate to make way for the project. According to public housing requirements, all are eligible for federally-aided low rent housing anywhere in the city. The Negroes were, however, refused admission to the new project solely because of their race.

The second suit was filed in the Federal District Court for Western District of Louisiana in Shreveport against the FHA (Federal Housing Administration) and the sponsor of a cooperative individual homes project in Shreveport called the Clark Terrace.

Two Veterans

War II veterans, John H. Wilson and Richard E. Stewart, who sought to purchase homes in the project and had made the required downpayments.

The project was originally planned and constructed for Negroes, but because of the objections of a few local white citizens, including a white church located across the street and the police jury of Caddo

Maryland Votes To Wait For Supreme Court

Baltimore, Md.—(CNS)—Contrary to nearby District of Columbia (Washington), the state of Maryland has voted to keep its segregated schools in force next fall.

The State Board of Education voted unanimously to continue with the Jim Crow schools until the Supreme Court issues a decree enforcing its opinion that segregation is unconstitutional.

Maryland, which is a border state and with a fairly liberal Republican Governor, had been expected to go ahead without waiting for the final

Calls Probe of Dr. Ralph Bunche, Distinguished Citizen Of World 'Unseemly Farce'

New York.—"Swift and unequivocal action to end" the loyalty investigation of Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, director of the United Nations Trusteeship Division, was urged by Walter White, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The famed diplomat, winner of the Nobel peace prize and member of the NAACP Board of Directors, has been questioned intensively by the International Organizations' Employees Loyalty Board of officially undisclosed charges. However, Pierce J. Gerety, chairman of the Loyalty Board, said that "no inference should be drawn from the fact" that Dr. Bunche had appeared before the board.

World Citizen

In his statement, made public here on May 26, Mr. White praised Dr. Bunche not only as "a great and distinguished American but a great and distinguished citizen of the world whose entire career has been dedicated to the preservation and enlargement of human liberty."

Citing his own steadfast opposition to Communism, the NAACP spokesman declared: "I gladly stake whatever reputation I may possess on Dr. Bunche's unqualified loyalty and integrity."

In his extensive travels Mr. White said he had learned that the UN diplomat is regarded as "one of the truly great symbols of Americanism at its best . . . particularly among the two-thirds of the peoples of the world who are nonwhite." Because of Dr. Bunche's example, the NAACP secretary asserted, peoples in Asia and Africa and elsewhere have been encouraged to refuse to follow Communist propaganda and to continue to have faith in democracy.

Mr. White called the investigation an "unseemly farce."

Nashville City Council Bans Airport Jim Crow

Nashville.—The Mayor and Council of this mid-Tennessee city are now on record as not condoning "any form of operational policy of discrimination and segregation against passengers or patrons at the Nashville Municipal Airport."

The resolution, introduced by Z. Alexander Looby, one of two Negro members of the Council, further stated that "the City of Nashville in leasing the premises did not intend that any form of discrimination or segregation" be used by Sky Chef restaurant which has a concession at the airport. "Such acts are against the expressed desires, wishes and will of the Mayor and Council," the resolution said.

Sky Chef abandoned its discriminatory policy in the operation of its restaurant at the Knoxville Airport after the Council had voted against such a policy. The company is expected to comply with the Nashville resolution.

HERE'S A FILLING-MENU...MAINE STYLE

EVERY BRIDE AND EVERY ESTABLISHED HOUSEWIFE TOO, seems to be in constant need of new and different menus for a quick lunch, particularly if their husbands can come home at noon. Here's a suggestion that can be prepared easily and quickly, but still doesn't look it. Made with ingredients you more than likely have on hand, you'll be grateful for this simple menu.

Because sardines from Maine are slightly larger than the fancy imported brands, they are particularly adaptable to main course dishes.

HOT MAINE SARDINE SANDWICHES

1 3/4 or 4 oz. can Maine sardines 2 hard-cooked eggs, sliced
2 hamburger rolls or English muffins 1/4 cup real mayonnaise
1/4 cup chili sauce

Split rolls or muffins in half crosswise and toast on both sides. Place egg slices on roll halves and top with sardines. Blend real mayonnaise and chili sauce. Spoon sauce over sardines and eggs and place under broiler until sauce puffs a bit. Serve warm. Yield: 2 servings. (ANS)

Jim Crow Schools Ended In Panama Canal Zone

Washington.—All segregation in schools operating in the Canal Zone will be ended in September, the Washington Bureau of the NAACP has been informed.

The government action to end present policies of excluding colored children was the subject of a complaint submitted last February to the Department of the Army by Clarence Citchell, Director of the Washington Bureau of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

At that time, the NAACP pointed out that the existing segregation in the Canal Zone schools was contrary to policies established by President Eisenhower.

Robert D. King, Deputy Assistant Secretary of the Army, has now advised the Association that "effective at the beginning of the next semester, all U. S. citizens who reside in the Canal Zone and who are in the service of the United States Government will be admitted to any school operated by the Canal Zone Government. This is irrespective of race, creed or color."

Dr. Bunche Gets Second Quiz By Loyalty Board

New York.—(CNS)—Dr. Ralph Bunche went before the U. S. loyalty board for a second time this week only this time he was accompanied by Walter White of the NAACP. White had asked that he be allowed to speak in behalf of Dr. Bunche and he did so for nearly two hours.

Though the hearing has been held in much secret, still this much has leaked out. That Dr. Bunche is being questioned by allegations made by ex-communists Manning Johnson and Leonard Patterson. Patterson and Johnson are both Negroes and are charging—it is rumored—that Bunche had once belonged to Red front organization.

Some say this is an attempt to discredit Dr. Bunche who is slated for one of the highest posts in the United Nations. Moreover, how long it will last, is anybody's guess. The first questioning took 12 hours. The second lasted into the night. The five man loyalty board is headed by Pierce Gerety, a Bridgeport, Conn. lawyer. They are understood to have questioned Dr. Bunche regarding his association with Alger Hiss and a discharged UN employee named Jack Harris.

Hiss, who is now serving a five year prison sentence for perjury, was a sponsor of Dr. Bunche when he first joined the UN.

Students Get Old Gold Appointments

New York, N. Y.—The appointments of student representatives at eleven Negro colleges and universities were announced by P. Lorillard Company the makers of Old Gold, Kent and Embassy Cigarettes.

The Negro students were named under Old Gold's new business internship program to implement the business education of selected students throughout the nation. Old Gold's program will allow students to both learn and earn by doing.

Launch Project

To launch the project Old Gold employed student representatives at Howard University, Morgan State College, Tuskegee Institute, Atlanta University, Morehouse, Morris Brown and Clark Colleges, Tennessee State A. & I. and Fisk Universities and Meharry Medical College.

The Old Gold student representatives were selected following the recommendation of faculty members who consider the student's business interest and aptitude as a basis of eligibility.

The students named to represent Old Gold were: Howard University, William Glenn Battle, of Durham, North Carolina; Morgan State, Joseph L. Morris of Princess Anne, Md.; Tuskegee, James R. George of Jacksonville, Fla.

Samuel L. Harris, Jr., of Birmingham, Ala., a graduate student at Atlanta University will promote Old Gold cigarettes on the campuses of Morehouse, Morris Brown and Clark Colleges as well as at Atlanta U.

Meharry Medical College junior Emmett J. McQueen, Jr., of Lumberton, N. C., was appointed student representative for Tennessee State A. & I. and Fisk Universities, along with the Meharry post.

Amoros, Sheds Tears As He's Sent To Minors Bobby Thinks It Unfair

Brooklyn, N. Y. (CNS)—Sandy Amoros, the swift little Cuban Negro outfielder, took the news of his return to the minors most bitterly. In fact, Sandy actually shed some tears. And teammate Jackie Robinson was loud with his protest: "It's a damned shame."

For weeks, it had been rumored that Sandy was most likely to go as the Dodgers had to top off at least one player immediately to get down to size. Still each time Sandy was sent into the outfield to pressure up his chances, he would come through with a sparkling play or an important hit. Though his batting average was a weak .139, still it was his double last Sunday that caused the first run on the seemingly unbeaten Robin Roberts of the Phillies.

While many felt that Sandy would make it because of this, Manager Walt Alston who all along has expressed some dissatisfaction with Amoros, had the final say. He contends that he made the decision to send Amoros down "on the basis of what would help our club most."

There are still others who claim that the Dodgers couldn't afford to carry Amoros for the club had reached its saturation point on the number of Negroes it would "safely" carry. With Sandy playing, and say Don Newcombe pitching, Jackie at third, Junior Gilliam at 2nd and Campy catching, there would be a total of five race players. And that was considered "too many."

New Four Year Program At Drake University

A new four-year program combining liberal arts and medical technology has been authorized at Drake University in Des Moines, Iowa, beginning next fall. It has been announced. Affiliation of the School of Medical Technology at Mercy Hospital in Des Moines with Drake in sponsoring the program was approved recently by the executive committee of the Drake board of trustees.

The program would include three years in the college of liberal arts, including intensive work in the application of basic sciences. Upon completion of the junior year at Drake, the student would enter full-time training in the School of Medical Technology at Mercy under the supervision of Dr. F. C. Coleman, pathologist and director of the school.

After the student has successfully completed the year at Mercy and is properly certified, he will receive the Drake degree of Bachelor of Arts.

The program is designed to qualify students for work in pathological laboratories and is approved by the Council on medical Education of the American Medical Association and the American Society of Clinical Pathologists.

Camping In State Parks And Areas For Vacationers

Iowa campers, vacationists and sportsmen, may now make reservations for cabin, tent or trailer camping in many state parks and areas, the Conservation Commission said May 20.

A total of 67 cabins is provided in 9 state parks; 31 parks have tent and trailer camping facilities, and 3 parks are equipped for organized group camping. Reservations for any of these camping facilities should be made with park custodians at least one week in advance.

Rates for trailer and tent camping in state parks are 50c per night per camping unit, $2.50 per week per camping unit or 10c per person per night, whichever gives the lowest charge to the camper. In recent years there has been a great increase in tent camping, particularly in Gull Point State Park at Lake Okoboji and at Clear Lake State Park.

Rates for cabins range from $3.75 to $9.00 per day and from $20 to $35 per week, depending on size and location of cabins. State park cabins are widely used by family groups, and the smallest cabins will easily accommodate 4 persons.

Complete information listing the parks in which the various camping facilities are provided and general camping regulations may be obtained by writing the State Conservation Commission in Des Moines.

Miss Tywater and S. D. Green Exchange Wedding Vows

Miss Rosetta Verlene Tywater, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Tywater, 2570 Maury street and Sylvester David Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Gilbert, 1253 Stewart, exchanged wedding vows Friday, May 21, at the Shiloh Baptist church.

The Rev. I. H. Harris read the lines of the 8 p.m. ceremony before a chancel appointed with white snap dragons, white column stock and white gladioli. Organist was Miss Kathleen Lucas. Mrs. Odella Daniels sang.

Wears Lace Gown
Entering the church on the arm of her father, the bride wore a white imported Chantilly lace gown, designed with an illusion yoke, long, tapering sleeves that buttoned to points over her wrists, and a softly-fitted bodice that closed down the back with tiny covered buttons, and a ballerina length skirt. Her finger tip veil of silk illusion was attached to a Juliet seeded pearl half-shell. She carried white and pink roses and lilies of the valley on a white satin Bible.

Attending the bride were Mrs. Wanda Lowery, matron of honor. She wore a ballerina length gown of princess style in light pink nylon net.

Their wonderful world consists chiefly of machines and things made by machines. This is not bad, because machines have made life easier for most of us, but the wonder of machines alone cannot make a child's life complete.

The woods, the stars, the birds and animals and plants—these also the child know. (It's surprising how many adults don't know an oak from a maple or a geranium from a chrysanthemum.)

From nine to 12 years children are eagerly seeking new facts, new experiences. They literally devour knowledge and wear us down with their questions. This is the golden age for learning about nature's world.

Fortunate is the child who lives in the midst of woods and fields with a stream nearby. He is twice fortunate if his parents love nature. If they are not too tired after working with machines, they will help the child to see the beauty in the stars and the clouds and the tiny flowers in the grass.

If the city-bound child has only one tree on a small town lot, there will be birds in that tree. There will be a world of insect life in the crevices of its bark. There will be swelling buds in spring that show magic under a cheap magnifying glass.

Now is the season when parents and children to gether may unlock the door to this wonder world.

Delegates elected to attend the national NAACP meeting in Dallas, Texas, June 29 through July 4, were: Archie M. Greenlee, J. B. Morris, Jr., and Mrs. Herschel Hubbard.

She carried a nosegay of pink French carnations.

Miss Clara Tywater and Miss Ernestine Johnson were bridesmaids. Their identical ballet length gowns were of blue-nylon net and lace. They carried nosegays of blue and white French carnations.

The Wonder of Machines Alone Cannot Make A Child's Life Complete

Tractors and combines are Jimmy's most exciting interests. He is four years old and lives on a farm.

To nine-year-old Billy Space ships vie with jet planes for thrills. At 13, he craves a motorcycle. At 16 he manages by hook or crook to own a jalopy, at 17 a "hot rod". This is a wonderful world to young people.

Graduation at Drake University Monday Morning

Degrees and certificates will be presented to 328 persons at Drake university's 73rd annual spring commencement Monday, June 7 at 9:30 a.m. in the University Christian church.

Included in the class are representatives of 87 Iowa towns, 15 states, Canada, Hawaii, and South America.

The program will include the awarding of 25 Air Force R.O.T.C. commissions—largest in the history of the unit, started at Drake in 1951.

The awarding of two honorary degrees will be made as part of the commencement program. Dr. John B. Griffing, general consultant and technical advisor, American International Association for Economic and Social Development, will be awarded the honorary doctor of laws degree. M. Willard Lampe, professor emeritus of the School of Religion at the State University of Iowa, will receive the honorary doctor of divinity degree.

A Drake graduate, Dr. Griffing is perhaps best known for his work in research and development of a new type of cotton in China, and for food production in South America.

Dr. Lampe was for 27 years director of the School of Religion at Iowa until his retirement. He holds undergraduate and honorary degrees from Knox college, Galesburg, Ill., and the Ph.D. from the University of Pennsylvania.

The Rev. Paul M. Bolman, pastor of the Hamilton Avenue Christian church in St. Louis, Mo., will give the invocation. President Henry G. Harmon of Drake will speak and will present diplomas and certificates.

Admission to the commencement ceremonies will be by ticket until 9:15 a.m. when the doors will open to the public.

The Book Lovers club will meet at the home of Mrs. E. Thomas Scales for a summer tea, Friday, June 4, 2 p.m. The opening will be given by Mrs. Gertrude North and the program chairman, Mrs. Marshall Smith, will introduce the reviewer, Mrs. Esther Sparks, whose selection will be Dorothy Canfield Fisher's "Vermont Tradition."

Mrs. J. Q. Evans, president will preside at the business meeting. Mrs. Clara McKenna, executive secretary of the YWCA, will be a guest.

STATES RIGHTS MEAN
GENERALLY, SELFISHNESS

From time to time, one group after another raises the issue of "states rights". Which means of course that they oppose action on the federal level in fields of government supposedly held by the states. And more recently they include those who oppose U. N. charging that it usurps powers and duties left to the individual countries.

This was a great issue during the Civil War in that the proslavery group concluded that the matter should be left to the individual states. The Democratic party represented that doctrine, the Republican party opposed it. During the depression Franklin D. Roosevelt reversed the old position of the party and went far afield against states rights and toward more power invested in the Federal Government. The Republican party opposed it.

Today, there are those in both parties who call for less encroachment upon what they term state functions by the federal government. It was necessary for orderly consistent government; it was necessary in order that all citizens, all use of property be given the same consideration. The same is true when UN was formed by member nations.

Thus, those who callop for states rights are often the forces who wish to live to themselves, act as they please and cooperate with nobody. Such a doctrine is dangerous and offers less chance for a peaceful world or a harmonious country.

RABBLE ROUSERS
LOSING GROUND

For years, following the civil war such prominent as Senator Ben Tillman of South Carolina, Vardaman of South Carolina, Koke Smith of Georgia were invited to address Northern audiences often on Chauvinist circuits in order to explain their views on the race question just as Dr. Booker T. Washington and Fred Douglass were invited to give their views.

And while the sponsors (this is being charitable) had in view giving the public a chance to hear both sides of a question, the program spread race hatred from one end of America to another. The question of according a man his civil rights is not debatable.

These three senators were among the most rank opponents of the Negro which became a symbol among their constituents doctrine announced in the Dred Scott decision. For years they and their kind got elected to office on that issue alone. The decent people did not speak up often being afraid of reprisal by their constituents.

But this line of campaigning is losing ground. Decent people both North and South are less prone to elect candidates on the basis of racial and religious hatred.

Two striking instances have come about recently, one in Alabama where Senator Sparkman and one in North Carolina where Governor Kerr won the nomination of their party for United States Senator in spite of smear campaigns conducted against them charging that they were supported by and friendly to civil rights for Negroes.

These results are proof that they do not propose to penalize a candidate who tries to live within the framework of the U. S. Constitution and in keeping with the golden rule; men who want their own back yards cleaned while asking other to clean up. And this, to be sure, helps to get decent men to run for public office.

VOTE IN THE
PRIMARIES MONDAY

Iowans go to the polls Monday to nominate candidates of their respective parties for U. S. Senator and governor and other state offices; county and township offices. Primaries are important for here is presented members of each party an opportunity to select their candidates; they offer an opportunity to select not necessarily the most popular candidate but one who will give the public an honest, responsible administration.

It happens all too often that party members find themselves saddled with candidates which even their members will not support. And while no party wishes to get into a dispute within its own organization by choosing sides in a primary fight, it ought as a matter of self preservation named candidates with integrity, intelligence, fair and a representative of all the people. Unfortunately too often this is not done.

This dearth of able candidates has accounted, in part, for the poor turnouts on primary day. It leaves the way open for too many unworthy candidates who manage to slide by unnoticed. And of course, the voter has no one to blame but himself when those unworthy candidates are elected to run the government.

Voters are becoming more lax every year; less vote, according to population, than in many other countries.

Our right to vote is a privilege but that privilege should not be misused. To use it and use it wisely is a badge of good citizenship. So vote for your favorite candidate on June 7.

Pushes Housing

Parish, sponsors and the FHA turned the homes over to whites. A new project in a less desired neighborhood was then suggested and is now being planned for Negroes.

After being turned down because of their race, Wilson and Stewart sought the aid of the Shreveport Branch of the NAACP to aid them fight for their right to purchase a home in the Clark Terrace project where their downpayments were first made and accepted.

Legal Defense attorneys for the Negro in both cities are Thurgood Marshall, Director-Council for Legal Defense, and Constance Baker Motley, assistant counsel. Local counsel in Savannah, is Frank A. Dilworth, III, and in Shreveport Jessie N. Stone, Jr.

The Negro families in both suits feel that in view of the recent supreme Court decisions discrimination and segregation in public and publicly-aided housing is a violation of their constitutional rights.

Both suits were filed three days before the U. S. Supreme Court, on May 24, 1954, refused to review the ban on segregation in public housing in San Francisco, Calif.

Willie Mays Has Giants Really Hoping

New York (CNS)—The Giants said last year that all they needed to win a pennant was Willie Mays. They moaned and moped about the loss of their clever centerfielder to the army. They predicted that once Willie returned they would be all set and might even take it all.

Willie has certainly been showing recently that he is much the Giants needed. Once regarded as so-so hitter, the opposition just can't seem to get him out. He already leads his club in the home run department with 10. Almost single handed he's brought victory to the Giants in several key games. Against the Phillies this week, Willie accounted for four of the five runs in the rubber game. More over, he's brilliant as usual on the field. Result: The Giants have won five straight games and are soaring on second place—their highest in standing in a long, long while.

Vote to Prohibit
Mixed Sports Events
In Birmingham, Ala.

Negroes and whites had been allowed to compete here in professional baseball and football games.

HEALTH FOR ALL

Not Necessarily Noble

The rare, inherited bleeding disease, hemophilia, is often thought of as a defect of European royalty. However, one baby in every 50,000 in the United States is born with it, although we have no hereditary nobility. As yet, doctors have found no way of curing this tragic disease, but they are constantly learning better ways of preventing its worst consequences.

The strange feature of hemophilia is that only women can pass it on, although they are never afflicted with it. Only a fifth of the children born with hemophilia ever grow up. A cut that would pass almost unnoticed in a normal child may be fatal to one of them. Bleeding may be either internal or external and, worse, it can start spontaneously without being caused by any known injury. The hemophilic child must have no toys with sharp edges, no clothing with pressure from buttons, buckles, or tight waistbands. Everything about him must be padded. He can't join in rough and tumble play with other youngsters.

Hemophiliacs often grow up to be exceptionally brilliant men, perhaps because they must concentrate on intellectual pursuits. They usually have fewer hemorrhages as they grow older, because they learn to live with their condition.

The usual treatment for hemorrhage in hemophilia is transfusion with whole blood. Another is the injection of plasma, together with some of the blood's protein components. Treatment with clotting elements of blood is often valuable. Perhaps the most important element of treatment is teaching the hemophilic to adjust to his handicap.

With good management, many children with hemophilia are being kept alive today and are even able to attend school and take part in normal childhood activities. In time, medical research may find a way to cure hemophiliacs, whether they are princes or paupers.

Veterans Day New
Name for Nov. 11

Washington, D. C. — President Eisenhower signed legislation Tuesday changing Armistice Day—Nov. 11 each year—to Veterans day.

The president put his name on the bill at a White House ceremony witnessed by members of congress who sponsored the measure and by officials of veterans organizations.

The legislation changing Armistice day to Veterans day had been recommended by the major veterans organizations.

The next bout is the heavyweight title bracket, Rocky Marciano against Hurricane Jackson. But the kid isn't nearly ready yet for that. On the other hand Rocky must fight someone.

How will Charles do? We hate to say this, but we expect to see him kayoed.

YOU CAN CHOOSE

You can choose, a loving wife;
or one that's griping, all your life.
The first will share your joy or tears,
and the latter gall you, all your years.
I had to get my fingers burned,
this greatest thing, I'm glad I learned;

to you this statement may be news,
each soul retained the right to choose.
Yes! You can choose the route you take,
or how much (dough) you want to make;
the kind of skill you wish to get,

to win, you choose; to use, your grit.
Don't let life faze you, make a try;
the world respects a fighting guy.
The sit and wisher's, bound to lose,
so, thank the Lord, that you can choose.

Out of the Living
Past—'The Negro'

by MARION E. HOCKENHULL

A people and a country which have always made news are Africa and the Egyptians. From the Biblical days of 'Ham' and his sons' sons, from the African pharaohs on down to the African peasants—one reads about them all day Sunday and jimmies and segregates them—all day Monday.

Emperor Haile Selassie I of Ethiopia and his granddaughter, the 23-year-old princess Sybel Desta, are visiting and sight-seeing many places and things in America. Haile Selassie was crowned Emperor of Ethiopia Nov. 2, 1930.

Archaeologists and Egyptologists have been going up and down the Nile for many years seeking knowledge from the tombs of the Africans.

May 13, the columnist mentioned something about one of the African Gods—the Sun God. There are many Egyptian Gods and from time to time, one will be named and discussed in this column. But, just now, this is something which is most important:

All across the northern part of Africa lived the people whom the Americas classified as Negroes, but who really are the people of Meroe, Egypt.

At the far Northern part of the peninsula is called the Island of Meroe which flows in a single, stream, 12 degrees latitude, flowing a winding course, at least 1,200 miles to the sea.

And this was the true home of the Egyptians, sometimes called Blemings and Ethiopians. They were tall, handsome people with a rich chocolate complexion and long frizzy hair, before they were exposed to the soldiers of other races (watch the change of the children of Japan and China).

Now to mention one of the female Gods—Neith—a woman draped, holding a bow and arrows crowned with the crown of Lower Egypt. She presided over war, and the loom and worshipped at Thebes.
