Rights Resolution Proposed for GOP State Convention

A proposed resolution for the Iowa Republican State Convention was submitted July 20 by Attorneys W. Lawrence Oliver and James B. Morris, requested that "the state of Iowa create an agency to deal with racial and religious discrimination within the state."

The resolution stated that "during the 1952 campaign, President Eisenhower pledged that he would work for the elimination of racial segregation in all federal agencies and appoint men to office on the basis of qualifications only as an example for the state to follow."

The resolution further said "he has followed that practice as evidenced by the elimination of segregation in the defense and other departments and military post schools and his administration's active participation in the now famous school segregation case and the appointment of Negroes to high office."

It informed that "considerable racial and religious discrimination still exists in Iowa which, like other sister states, should take some means of combating it."

Attorney Oliver is special assistant to the chairman of the Republican State Central Committee.

Haiti's President Magloire Ends Caribbean Tour

President Magloire of Haiti and President Batista of Cuba meet on tour.

Port-Au-Prince, Haiti.—The people of the Caribbean area are determined to maintain a solid front against Communism, President Paul E. Magloire of Haiti asserted July 13 in Port-Au-Prince, upon his return from an eighteen-day good will tour. The series of state visits, first ever undertaken by a resident of Haiti, included Cuba, Puerto Rico, Columbia, Venezuela, Nicaragua and Panama.

Hailing the "chain of friendship" that has been forged among the nations of Latin-America, President Magloire reported he found an eagerness everywhere to improve economic conditions and raise standards of living.

William Potts Wins $50 in Fisher Body Model Contest

William Potts, 18, 923 Fourteenth street, won the Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild's third state award in his age division, recently for his model car which he entered in a recent contest. He received a check for $50.

William, son of Mrs. Dovi Potts, widow of Mr. William A. Potts, has entered the Guild's annual model car contests previously. Last winter he built a five-passenger sedan model of wood and fashioned it like a 1954 Ford with a kick-up in rear fender and a front end on the order of a Mercury," William described. His model car was painted yellow top with a dark body, white windows and white wall tires with silver hub caps. He entered his model into the contest which ended in June.

In the Fisher Body contest in 1951, William won a tool box with which he made the model for this year's contest.

A senior student at Des Moines Tech high school, he made his entry for a soap box derby in 1949 and won a tennis racket.

During the summer he is employed at Iowa Packing Company, and on Saturdays works at Corso's Food

United Campaign to Seek Over Million in Fall Drive

United Campaign of Greater Des Moines will seek to raise $1,347,773—a 4% increase in the annual fall drive, October 15th through October 26th. Last year a 9% increase was sought.

The funds will be allocated again to 33 private health, welfare, and recreation organizations for their use in 1955. Included are the American Cancer Society, the American Red Cross, the USO, and the Community Chest.

Announcement of the goal for the third United Campaign in this area was made by Miles M. Mills, President of the Board of Trustees.

Budgets Studied

Mr. Mills explained that budgets of the 33 groups were carefully studied and in a number of cases reductions were made.

"I am sure that the citizens of Des Moines will share the satisfaction of the board members that needs for 1955 are substantially the same as the amount contributed in the fall of 1953" he said.

In addition he expressed the hope that Des Moines citizens will again give generously and no form of complicity will set in. "Budgets state the minimum needs," he said and "over-subscription no matter how slight, has a wonderful effect on both the hearts and minds of all those who labor for the agencies."

ICC Hearings on Jimcrow Travel Case on July 27th

Washington, D. C.—Hearings on a comprehensive case concerned with compulsory segregation in interstate transportation will be held by the Interstate Commerce Commission here on July 27.

The case, brought by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, deals with segregation of interstate passengers by railroads, railroad stations, and restaurants in railroad stations.

Filed Complaint

The NAACP filed the complaint with the ICC on Dec. 14 past, asking that "after due hearing and investigation, an order be issued commanding" the railroad companies named in the case "to cease their discriminatory practices against Negro passengers in violation of their constitutional rights."

Railroads

The railroads against which the complaint is filed are the St. Louis-San Francisco, Louisville and Nashville, Southern, Santa Fe, Texas and Pacific, Atlantic Coast Line, Missouri Pacific, Seaboard Air Line, Kansas City Southern, Illinois Central, and the Gulf, Mobile and Ohio.

The complaint was filed on behalf of the NAACP, as an organization, of 16 Negroes and one white person. The NAACP case states that the segregation imposed upon these passengers was in violation of the provisions of Article I of the U.S. Constitution, the Interstate Commerce Act, and the Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendments. Robert E. Carter, NAACP assistant special counsel, will represent the complainant before the Commission.

Atty. General Brownell Asked to Probe Race Hate Inspired Housing Violence

Washington.—Attorney General Herbert Brownell has been urged to make thorough investigation of the race-hate inspired violence at Trumbull Park Homes in Chicago and to prosecute vigorously those responsible for such incidents.

This proposal was placed before the attorney general on July 14 in a conference here with Walter White and Clarence Mitchell, executive secretary and director of the Washington Bureau, respectively, of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. Mr. Brownell promised to make such an investigation.

24-Hour Vigil

For a year now police have been maintained on a 24-hour vigil to protect Negro families who moved into the previously all-white Trumbull Park Homes, a federally owned public housing project. Violence has flared repeatedly and damage has been done to the government owned property by hoodlums who gather nightly in the environs of the project.

Despite frequent urgings by the Chicago branch and the national of fice of the NAACP neither the city authorities nor the federal government has taken any effective punitive action against the mobsters, many of whom do not live in the project.

Federal Statute

NAACP spokesmen called Mr. Brownell's attention to the federal statute which provides penalties for the destruction of government owned property. Persons convicted under this law may be fined $10,000 and sentenced to 10 years in prison. The attorney general was asked to invoke this law against the instigators of mob violence in the Chicago area.

Warning that if the Trumbull Park affair gets out of hand it may develop into another Cicero riot, Mr. White told the attorney general that his situation is "only a part of a larger housing problem which has been aggravated by the policy of such government agencies as the Federal Housing Administration, the Veterans Administration, the Public Housing Authority and the slum clearance program which continue to give federal assistance to housing SEE PAGE SIX

Mississippi Acts to Keep Public School Jimcrow

Jackson, Miss.—A constitutional amendment opening the door for abolishing public schools was recommended by Mississippi's committee seeking ways to dodge the United States Supreme Court decision outlawing racial segregation in public education.

Gov. Hugh White said June 12, he would call the legislature into special session early in September to consider the proposed amendment to Mississippi's constitution.

It would authorize the legislature by a two-thirds vote to abolish public schools, statewide or on a local option basis, if necessary to maintain segregation.

Members of Mississippi's legal education advisory committee declared it would be used only as a last resort.

The amendment is viewed as a safeguard if Negroes try to force school integration. It could be held over their heads as a threat—cooperate or lose your public schools.

Private, segregated schools with state aid could be set up under the amendment.

A group of Negroes already has met with Governor White seeking a voluntary solution to maintain segregated schools—apparently on the "separate but equal" formula which the Supreme Court said has no place in public education.

The advisory committee said it would recommend that the legislature get started on a building program to improve Negro schools, but only if the proposed constitutional amendment were approved for protection.

White said the building program probably would be on a smaller scale than the ambitious program adopted last year to equalize Negro and white schools.

Links, Inc., Women's Group Gives $25,850 to NAACP

Bluefield, W. Va.—Climaxing the sixth annual assembly of the Links, Inc., was the presentation here July 16, of checks totaling $25,850 to the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People representing life memberships for the various local chapters of the civic-minded national women's organization.

Presentation of the sum, the largest single gift to the NAACP by a Negro organization, was made by Mrs. Daisy Lampkins who proposal two years ago to aid the NAACP through purchase of life memberships was unanimously adopted by the Links at their fourth annual assembly in San Francisco. On behalf of the Association, Roy Wilkins, administrator, and Thurgood Marshall, special counsel, accepted the generous contribution to the NAACP Fight For Freedom Fund.

The occasion was one of the happiest of her life, Mrs. Lampkins said at the public meeting attended by some 700 men and women including 200 beautifully gowned delegates from 44 of the Link's 58 chapters.

Proud of Links

"I am proud," Mrs. Lampkins told the assembly, "that the Links, Inc., had the vision to appreciate the significance of the work of the NAACP and the courage to undertake the project to support the one organization."

Her arrest followed investigation of a series of fires started at her home the night of May 8.

For Summer Comfort Drink Much Water; Eat Less Food

We are now in a period when our good old Iowa sun bears down. If you seem to be feeling the heat more than some of the people around you, it may be that you actually do suffer more from the heat or you may be breaking some of the common sense summer comfort rules.

"Great quantities of water are lost from the body during the summer heat," said Dr. Abraham Gelperin, Director, Des Moines-Polk County Departments of Public Health.

"For bodily comfort, this water must be replaced. Drink a glass of water or unsweetened fruit juice often through the day, but avoid quantities of sugared drinks. You don't help your summer comfort by stoking your furnace with extra calories that have to be burned up."

Dr. Gelperin said that as we lose water from the body through perspiration, we also lose salt that the body must have for health. This must be replaced. Salty crackers will often give the children the extra salt needed. People in strenuous work or exercise should take salt tablets.

Heavy meals are especially hard to digest in hot weather, so cut down on the amount of food you eat at any one time. If you get hungry, eat a light snack between meals or at bedtime, but don't stray from the balanced diet.

"You may thank at silly to mention summer clothing," continued Dr. Gelperin, "but the fact remains a lot of people go through discomfort, just because they don't dress sensibly in hot weather." Loose, light clothing, light in weight and color, will contribute to better summer comfort.

"For summer exercise," concluded Dr. Gelperin, "suit your exercise to your strength, the condition of your health and your age."

Deviled Sardine Sandwich

Rounds of fresh rye bread generously filled with Deviled Sardine filling makes real hearty eating on hot August days.

When the sand-lot set comes busting into the house, there's a familiar shout . . . "What'll we eat?" You'll be tops on the list, if you give them Deviled Sardine Sandwiches. Clamoring youngsters will really go for the fresh rye bread generously spread with this tangy filling.

A shining virtue of this sandwich treat is that it can be made from foods stored on your kitchen shelves. This is almost a "must" for these impromptu feasts of the younger set. Another laurel for this inexpensive filling is that it can be stored in the refrigerator so each member of the family can fashion his own sandwich—mid-day or mid-night.

Make up the shopping list for an easier and cooler "August National Sandwich Month." It is the month for light appetites, easy-on-the-cook meals and cool eating. Complete sandwich meals are the clear-cut answer. A variety of breads can be selected from the bake shop or grocer. All the "go-withs" can be purchased as you do the weekly shopping in the market. Add your own ingenuity with the attractive garnishes, beverages and desserts. A sandwich meal can be ready for the table in a matter of minutes. You'll enjoy this easy summer dining.

Members of all races, colors and political affiliation are welcome, not only in Greater Bethel, but in any African Methodist Episcopal church throughout the world. If one believes in and accepts Jesus Christ as Saviour, he or she is welcome to full membership, rights, and privileges in the African Methodist Episcopal church, regardless of color or previous background. Bishop Clair Says 'Integration Is A Two-Way Street'

St. Paul, Minn.—"Integration is a two-way street", asserted Bishop Mathew Clair, Jr., resident prelate of the St. Louis Area of the Methodist Church, in a forthright address to the Chicago District Conference, which met in the Camphor Memorial Methodist Church, July 6-9.

The Bishop said that to many Negroes integration means "being taken over by whites". "That is absorption", he declared. Bishop Clair insisted that the Negro has a contribution to make to the religious life of the nation and world; that of a feeling developed through the suffering he has experienced in America and enthusiasm, that must be directed in the right channels. The goal of integration will be reached when local congregations are interracial and Negro ministers are in pulpits of "white" churches and a "white" minister stands in the Camphor pulpit as its pastor", Bishop Clair declared.

Dr. S. Marion Riley, Jr., Chicago, the district superintendent of the Chicago District of the Lexington Conference, was the presiding officer of the three day confab and the Rev. Jerome Del Pino is pastor of the host church. Other officers included, secretary, the Rev. Amos Cambrie, Harvey, Ill.; assistant secretaries, Rev. D. E. Morris, Pontiac, Mich., and Rev. Paul V. Smith, Beloit, Wis.; treasurer, Rev. A. R. Howard, Jr., Detroit.

DOUGLAS E. H. WILLIAMS

Washington, D. C.—Douglas Edward H. Williams of Ann Arbor, Michigan, has been appointed as a member of the Federal Hospital Council. D. from Howard University in 1926 and certificate from Atlanta University School of Social Work in 1935.

The Federal Hospital Council is authorized by the Hospital Survey and Construction Act of 1946 and is composed of the Surgeon General of the Public Health Service, who serves as chairman ex-officio, and eight appointed members. Four of these are required to be persons out-

The Public Health Service has relied heavily on the Council for guidance in the past and the program's success has demonstrated how effectively such an advisory group can work.

Holding Langston Hardaway Memorial Trophy

The Langston Hardaway Memorial Trophy, donated by Mr. Rosenting Hardaway, several years ago, is up again this year, in the Hilltop Open Tennis mee which will begin July 28, and will continue through August 1, when finals will be played at Good Park. One of the first winners of the trophy was Harold McCollum who is shown receiving it from Mr. Hardaway. Seeking to take the trophy out of competition this year is Fay Dunn, who has won two legs on it. A complete exhibit of all of the trophies to be awarded is being displayed at Home Federal Savings and Loan offices, Sixth and Grand.

Hilltoppers' Tennis Tournament Begins July 28, Thru Aug. 1

The Hilltop Tennis club concluded its final plans for the sixth annual Des Moines Open Tennis tournament. According to Phillip Tindrell, this year's tournament manager, the dates and playing sites for this year's tourney are; July 28 through August 1. The preliminary rounds will be played at Waveland and Good Parks, with the finals being held at the Good Park courts.

There are to be eleven divisions open for competition to any amateur player. The senior mixed doubles division has been added to this year's contest.

Trophies will be awarded to the winners and the runners-up in each division. These attractive trophies are on display in the downtown show-window of the Home Federal Savings & Loan Building at 6th and Grand Avenue.

May Renew Fued

This year's tournament may possibly renew the feud between two of this city's top tennis players, Fay Dunn and Harold McCollum. Dunn and McCollum, competing in the men's singles will both be eyeing the beautiful Langston Hardaway Memorial Trophy, which goes to the tournament's three-times winner in that division.

By virtue of his two previous wins in 1950 and '52, Dunn stands an excellent chance of retiring this coveted award, McCollum however, will attempt to dead lock this affair, due to his being champion in 1951.

Many Entries

Tindrell also stated that he received entries from as far away as Winnetka, Ill., plus a number from the outstanding "racket-swingers" around the state. A new crop of Negro players here in town have shown signs of being potential winners, they may show their wares in this forthcoming tournament. They are Esther Myers, Marginnell Powell, Evanette Mays, Alfreda Moore, and Donna Lou Carr.

Among the men stars are: Phillip Tindrell, Burnell Johnson, Kenneth Johnson, Jerry Simmons, Bob Sloan, "Chet" Williamson, Everett Mays, and Bill Ashby.

The deadline for the filing of entries is Monday July 26 at noon. Entries may be sent to Hilltop Tennis Club—1136 17th St. Des Moines 14, Iowa.

advised to phone the Recreation Commission, City Hall (4-2181) or the Council of Social Agencies, 615 Locust (4-0391) co-sponsors of the events.

10 A. M., is the assembly and pick up time. The day's activities will include a picnic lunch, horseshoes, volley ball, croquet, group singing, games and entertainment by popular Des Moines Radio Stars.

Have Plenty of Home-Canned Peaches!

Home-canned peaches make sure-hit desserts—as peach upside-down cake, or heaped on angel food cake and topped with whipped cream, baked in pie or cobbler, or even served plain. They are also delicious in salads. With plenty of them on your shelves, you are ready to serve a dish which will win acclaim from family and guests.

When you can peaches, get everything ready you will need and examine your fruit jars, being sure that there are no nicked edges on the tops to prevent perfect sealing. Follow directions for getting jars and lids ready for use.

If fruit is not juicy, make sirup by boiling 1 or 2 cups sugar with 2 cups water for 5 minutes. For juicy fruit use just enough water to melt sugar and boil until sugar dissolves.

Wash, rinse and drain, firm, sound, ripe, full flavored fruit. Dip 8 or 10 evenly ripened peaches in boiling water 1 or 2 minutes, then dip into cold water and drain. Cut peach in half, remove pit and skin and drop fruit into water containing 2 tablespoons each vinegar and salt to the gallon. (Do not allow the fruit to stay in this water over 20 minutes.)

Drain fruit, then cook it in sirup until boiling hot to the center. (Note: Peaches may be packed without heating but they are more likely to float and discolor when packed raw. Unevenly ripened fruit should be peeled with sharp knife.)

Pack hot fruit, cut side down, into hot Ball Mason Jars. Leave one-half inch space at top of jar. Cover fruit with sirup in which heated. Run a knife between peaches and side of jar to bring air bubbles to the surface. More sirup may be needed to cover fruit after air bubbles are removed. The top layer of peaches is likely to darken if not covered with liquid.

Wipe top of filled jar with swab made by wrapping clean cloth around fork. Dip swab into boiling water before using. Tongs are nice, but not necessary, for taking lid from water and placing on jar. Screw metal band tight enough to press the sealing compound against the top of the jar. Do not over-tighten band screws down evenly all the way around. Don't force band as tight as it can be turned. A snug fit is all you need.

Stand jars on rack in canner or steaming, not boiling water. Water should cover tops of jars. Put lid on canner. Start counting processing time when water reaches a rolling boil. Process pints and quarts of hot packed freestone peaches 20 minutes, clings 25 minutes. It takes 5 to 10 minutes longer for fruit packed raw. When processing time is up, take jars out of canner. Stand them out of a draft and several inches apart to cool.

After jars have cooled about 10 hours, take off the bands and test seal by pressing on lid. If the Dome is down or goes down and stays down when pressed with the finger, the jar is sealed. Don't put the bands back on the jars. They have finished that job of sealing and are ready to start over with a new batch of lids. Leaving the bands on the jars will neither help nor hurt a vacuum seal, but they are not needed and may be hard to get off later on.

Each person brings his own lunch but drink is furnished. About 60 are expected at each event.

Theme for next week's picnics is "Rodeo".

Children Will Be More Prompt As Soon As They Gain Skill Thru Practice and Growth

by Afton Smith, SUI Assistant Prof. Often we are annoyed by children because they seem to do their work so casually and carelessly. We nag at them to hurry and we criticize their crude results.

We expect such prompt and perfect performance that we discourage the children. They lose interest. They feel they are taking orders rather than sharing in family work, and they tend to lose any pride they might have in being useful.

It is more pleasant for both parent and child if we will remember that children are children. They need several more years of practice at taking responsibility. They have not yet acquired our patience and persistence in finishing a long hard task. Nor are they mature enough to see the future need for work done now.

It's no sin to have a good time while we work. Yet, when a child stops in the middle of a chore to chase another child in play, we fear he never will learn to attend to business. We want to stop his nonsense right now.

It may be important that he finish his task. But how soon he finishes is not so important at his present age.

When will he learn to be more prompt? As soon as he gains more skill through practice and growth. He will be able to work faster as his arms and legs lengthen and his strength increases.

And he'll work faster as soon as he can see the importance of what he is doing. We don't have to prod a boy to finish mowing the lawn in time to go to a circus. Here is a reason for promptness which he can understand. And Sally will stick to her dishwashing if her crowd is due to go on a picnic at 2 o'clock.

Children will acquire promptness when promptness has meaning for them.

OUR SWITZERLAND OF AMERICA

SAVANNA, ILL.—The Beautiful Switzerland of America beckons to you from the Illinois shore. Highway 64, The Route Beautiful, takes you to the ideal vacationland with ease and safety.

In this natural so-called Switzerland of America, you relive again the days of LaSalle, Marquette and Julian Dubuque, who pioneered the Route Beautiful, who made big medicine in pow-wows with Old Chieftain whose likeness still guards the trail, for nature carved the image rough, majestically upon the bluff overlooking the Mighty Mississippi. Close by you will find the Twin Sisters who reverently look into the sacred Open Book.

This is all found in the Palisades State Park just three miles north of Savanna. Picnic tables are provided in cool shady spots. Bird lovers have proclaimed the park a haven for the many species of Nature's birds.

The Mississippi Palisades State Park covers an area of 800 acres, in which many huge towering Niagara rocks lift their heads, with its outstanding rock formations, as the Indian Head, Twin Sisters, Open Bible and miles of trails among forests of high ferns and wild flowers.

The artist, photographer, geologist, historian or just plain nature-lover will find material and subjects to his heart's content. Deep ravines, caves, cyclopean rocks and towering cliffs beckon to the venturesome. In virgin forests or on the banks of the never-changing, always different, Father of Waters are secluded spots for quiet repose or cozy camps. Throughout this unglaciated region where millions of years ago the ice sheets—the Kansan, Illinoian and Wisconsin—seemingly left undisturbed the prehistoric ruggedness and unique geological formations for generations to behold and admire, only erosion has brought a change.

Fisk University Co-Ed Nominated College Queen of America in Nation-Wide Contest

MISS JONITA BOWMAN

New York. Attractive Jonita Bowman, Fisk University sophomore, typifying America's loveliest co-eds was proposed to be "College Queen of America" in the nation-wide contest among the 750,000 co-eds now attending school, sponsored by Old Gold Cigarettes. Miss Bowman was nominated for the "College Queen of America" after winning a competitive poll of the entire student body at Fisk.

The contest is a nation-wide search by Old Gold Cigarettes and P. Lorillard Company among the 1,500 colleges and universities of the United States to find the college girl with the most beauty, personality and charm.

Cinderella Program
Through "Queen for a Day", the great cinderella radio program, the makers of Old Gold Cigarettes in conducting the 1954 "College Queen of America" contest, endeavored to demonstrate to the American public that to the college campuses of our country are attracted by the most beautiful young women in the world.

Every co-educational institution of higher learning in the nation was urged to participate in the Old Gold sponsored contest.

Miss Bowman is 19-years-old, stands five feet, three inches tall and weighs 120 pounds. She is a graduate of Washington Park High School in her hometown of Racine, Wisconsin.

At Fisk University where she is majoring in Psychology, Jonita was named "Miss Freshmen in 1952". The following year she served as attendant to the Queen of the Alpha Phi Alpha Court.

Jonita is a member of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, an officer of International Center and the Psychology Collegian. She is also a popular participant in Student Affairs.

A spokesman for the Women's Senate of Fisk University stated that Jonita likes people and is liked in return for her warm personality and infectious smile.

Personal Touch By MARIE ROSS

Several weeks after her return from a sight-seeing trip to England and France, Mrs. Elizabeth Ellis of 1407 Center street, is all packed up ready to leave Friday for Ontario, Canada, for the remainder of the summer.

"Only this trip won't be just sight-seeing, I'll be working," Mrs. Ellis remarked.

But, since May when she returned to Des Moines after a six-week tour of England, France and Belgium, Mrs. Ellis has been answering such questions as "How was it over there? Did you like it? What were you doing?"

"Mainly, I went on a sightseeing trip. I had an opportunity to take advantage of the tour that a group of beauticians from the country made up and I thoroughly enjoyed myself."

"While the beauticians were in classes, learning new methods of technique, I was out roaming—sight-seeing," she talked.

"Of course I went on all of the scheduled tours given for all of us who had made the trip, but in the meantime I was somewhere looking."

Sailed on the United States
"We sailed April 11 on one of the fastest ships, the new United States—and when I saw the Negro stewards and waiters, I was happy about that. I liked the fine service on the ship—the fine food—mellow duck or anything that you liked to eat. An orchestra with your dinner and flowers, too—and I got by pretty reasonable with the tipping. We tipped just before we got off the ship—the waiters $5.00; the cabin steward—$5.00; and, an extra errands that were done by the bell-boys, we tipped them then."

"After passing the red tape, a boat train took us to Paris and, one noticeable thing about the train was that our luggage was put into the same compartment with us, and when we arrived, all the men did was to let down the long window of our compartment and remove our luggage onto the platform."

"The group I was with went to the Palace Moderne Hotel, while others went elsewhere. We arrived in Paris during Easter Week and on Easter Sunday we went to an American church and then on Easter Monday, everything closed up for the holiday."

Mrs. Ellis said she "got along well" with the French language and she "wouldn't take a million for the little that she remembered from her high school days at East High here."

During midday meals in Paris, the Iowa said she noticed a number of shops closing from 12 to 2 p. m.

"They really take time to eat and they serve you in two three courses. I thought the food was very good—green lettuce salads, French pastries, French bread, which is always hard."

"They were astonished at how much water we drank with our meals. Going down the street you'd see a man with a long loaf of unwrapped bread under his arm."

"Paris seemed clean and pretty."

Mrs. Georgia Goggins Feted in California; Has House Guest Here

Mrs. Georgia Goggins, 1067 Seventeenth street, returned to her home July 11 after spending five weeks visiting friends in Los Angeles, San Francisco, Oakland, Berkeley and Pasadena, Calif.

Mrs. Goggins was accompanied to California by Mrs. Rosa E. Wilson, 844 Fifteenth street, who was guest of her children, Mr. and Mrs. Limuary Jordan and family, of Los Angeles.

In Los Angeles, Mrs. Goggins was house guest of Mrs. Samuel Bernardino, formerly Miss Madeline Hammitt of Des Moines. Among the many courtesies extended the Iowa in Los Angeles were: luncheon by Mesdames Wynona Hawkins, Maude Stewart; dinners by Mesdames Bernice Prentiss, formerly Bernice Mann of Des Moines, William Warfield, Marie Murray; breakfast in Griffiths park by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kinchlow and picnic in San Pedro, on the lake July 7; dinner by Mr. and Mrs. Jordan with Mrs. Wilson, in Chinatown and at the Jordan home; and dinners by friends at Farmers Market.

In Pasadena Mrs. Goggins was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Wilson. She was taken on sight seeing trips to other parts of California and then went to Tia Juana, Mexico. In San Francisco she was impressed with the beauty of parks, saw the Golden Gate bridge and ate at Cliff Hill.

Honors House Guest
After returning home, Mrs. Goggins entertained as house guest, Miss Dorothy Jones of New York City and at dinner Sunday, other guests were Rev. and Mrs. N. R. Olphin, Atty., and Mrs. Luther Ganton, Mr. Fred Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jett, Miss Lena Bratcher, Mr. Chester Jones.

Mrs. Goggins held open house for Miss Jones Sunday night, entertaining fifty guests.

and their open-air market-places took up many blocks and everyone was shopping, many women with baskets buying three or four potatoes."

Mrs. Ellis visited the historic places—the Arc of Triumph, Louvre Museum, Notre Dame Cathedral, famous tombs, principal boulevards, Eiffel Tower. While in Paris she with a group went to Versailles where the World War I peace treaty was signed; and on another tour, went to Belgium where the Iowa said she was confused at the price tags and what was called the "Thieves Market."

"People in France know the position of the Negro in America and Mrs. Marjorie Stewart Joyner of Chicago, who arranged the tour for the 190 women, mainly beauticians, made it clear that we were the Negro Americans," Mrs. Ellis said.

After leaving France, the beauticians went to London, England, where the Iowa recalled that "it rained all of the time and the meals were terrible."

Housed at the Albion Court hotel, she said she got to visit the Shakespearean country, Stratford-on-the-Avon; eat at the White Swan where waiters were dressed in tails; saw Warwick Castle, House of Parliament, St. Paul's Cathedral, Westminster Abbey, Windsor Castle, Buckingham Palace where she saw the changing of the guard; and the Royal Stables.

"After I returned to the States, I went on a general tour of New York City and that was a let down. I should have seen it first. I was utterly thrilled to get on the ship, United States. It was so large and so fine that it made me feel proud to be an American," Mrs. Ellis reminisced.

In the group of 190 women who made the trip to England and France were two Des Moines beauticians, Mrs. Pauline Humphrey, owner and operator of the Crescent School of Beauty Culture, who will give highlights of her visit and her experiences in the French beauty schools and salons, in a future column; and Mrs. Mildred Duke.
