Nearly 100,000 Hail Pres.
Tubman on New York Tour

New York.—(CNS)—In the traditional tickertape parade accorded to important personages visiting New York, nearly 100,000 turned out to hail Liberia's President, William V.S. Tubman.

Police estimated the crowd at that figure as the motorcade sped up Broadway with another 7,500 onlookers as Pres. Tubman was greeted at City Hall by Mayor Wagner and other city officials.

At an official luncheon at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, Mayor Wagner told Tubman: "It is your destiny to lead your people to new heights and to heightened prestige in the field of international relations. First Lady Says Governor
Alexander's Schedule in Virgin Islands a 'Busy One'

BY MARIE ROSS

When the fall temperatures fell below freezing and sleet and snow storms moved into Des Moines during the week end, Mrs. Archie A. Alexander expressed a desire to get back to the Virgin Islands, where she has lived the past six months.

Wife of the Des Moines-Washington, D. C. engineer-contractor who was inaugurated governor of Virgin Islands last April, she has been spending several weeks at her home, at 2200 Chautauqua Parkway, while having her furniture and household items packed for shipping, and making arrangements for a caretaker to look after their home during their absence.

Club Guest

A veteran Iowa club woman, Mrs. Alexander, a past president of the Iowa Association of Colored Women, has been guest at several of the city's federated and social group events, where she talked more about the life of her husband, as governor, and her role as first lady.

In Mrs. Alexander's article last week (October 28th issue of the Iowa Bystander) she told of the busy summer she and Governor Alexander had

Elections There

"Just like the elections were being held in Iowa Tuesday, we were having our elections in the Virgin Islands—and, the pre-campaign activities were going on during the summer, with emphasis on electing many Republicans as possible."

"In this campaign, there was an added interest. The white Continentals, minority group in the Islands, busied themselves to make their presence felt. They feel that the governor will cooperate with them," Mrs. Alexander informed.

On Tour

The first lady revealed that Governor Alexander is constantly engaged in business sessions, interviews, with the public, attending meetings, or on inspection tours of the island, on which she accompanies him frequently.

"Shortly after inauguration, we

Attack on Postman
Brings Action by Washington NAACP

Washington, D. C.—The District of Columbia NAACP has announced a change of policy toward the National Association for the Advancement of White People following intervention in a case in which a Negro postman was allegedly assaulted by NAAWP Founder-President Bryant W. Bowles.

A statement issued Oct. 27, by NAACP Branch President Eugene Davidson declared that "the NAACP will use its legal committee members to protect the rights of the postman and to see that Bowles answers for the assault."

The statement noted that "the DC branch's policy of ignoring the National Association for the Advancement of White People and its founder-president Bryant W. Bowles must be changed now in the light of several overt acts by Bowles of inciting citizens to violate laws and fostering anarchy which has culminated in an alleged personal attack on a Negro postal employee."

The case of Roscoe V. Cooper, Negro postman who on Oct. 25 was allegedly beaten and kicked by Mr. Bowles while delivering his mail has been taken by Roy Garvin, a member of the legal staff of the NAACP

Fined $100 for Refusing To Cut Negro Hair

Minneapolis, L. I.—(CNS)—Two white barbers, Salvatore Greco and his brother Rocco, were $100 short last week when a Negro father won the amount in damages from the two who had refused to cut his six year old son's hair.

A First District Court jury found the barbers had discriminated against young Ernest G. Chadwick, Jr., last November 24. However, a jury in the same court had acquitted the two of criminal violation of the State Civil Rights Law.

Says Federal Aid Will Be Refused to Cities Which
'Default on Obligation'

Hampton, Va.—Housing Administrator Albert M. Cole, declaring intensified federal warfare on racial discrimination in housing, Friday announced the government will refuse federal aid to cities which "default on their obligations to minority citizens."

Simultaneously Cole announced he has asked three prominent figures to help end long and violent disorders at Chicago's Trumbull Park housing project—which he termed "a nauseating running sore in our civic life."

Restore Order

Cole called on Mayor Martin H. Kennelly, Catholic Bishop Bernard J. Sheil and C. I. O. President Walter Reuther to use their combined influence to restore "order, respect for the law and simple human decency" at the Chicago development.

In Chicago, James D. Downs, housing and redevelopment co-ordinator, replying at the behest of Mayor Kennelly, said Cole is "completely misinformed" on the Trumbull Park situation.

Speaking at the dedication of a new dormitory in Hampton Institute,

4-Point Program

Cole announced a 4-point program of government action to speed housing for Negroes and other minority families:

1. To Obtain federal funds under slum clearance and urban renewal parts of the housing act, communities must provide for "progressive improvement and expansion of minority housing opportunities." No federal funds will go to localities which fail to make good.

2. A national advisory conference on minority housing will be called in December.

3. The government will give "active support and guidance" to the elimination of racial lines in public housing projects.

4. Action will be taken in the private housing field to make next year "unprecedented" in production of new homes available to minority buyers.

Wm. J. Miller,
Once Trusty,
Back In Jail

William J. Miller, Jr., 30, who told a trial jury here a year ago that it was "common practice" for county jail trustees to leave custody without being punished, was back in the Polk county jail last Thursday.

Miller, was arrested at Willkie House, 900 Seventeenth street, at 4:15 a.m. Thursday and charged with breaking and entering.

Arraigned before Municipal Judge Harry Grund, Miller pleaded innocent and was bound over to the grand jury. Bond was set at $2,000. Miller did not furnish bond and was transferred to county jail Thursday afternoon.

Patrolmen Thomas Teale and Kenneth Kline said they found Miller in the Willkie House office after they noticed a broken window. Filing cabinets and desks had been ransacked, the officers said.

Miller gave his address as 850 Fifteenth street.

The grand jury investigated the county jail situation after Miller's testimony last year. It recommended that the jail trusty system be con-

Gloster B. Current Stresses
Importance of a 'Positive
Approach to Integration'

Albuquerque, N. Mex.—Local authorities can make or break the efforts of their community to conform with the Supreme Court decision banning segregation in the schools, an NAACP official asserted here Sunday.

Gloster B. Current, director of branches for the NAACP, said experience since the Court's decision has shown that "where the authorities take a positive approach to their policy, integration can be successfully accomplished without too much friction."

Mr. Current praised New Mexico schools for their successful integration this fall and noted that "reports coming into the NAACP national office from Missouri, West Virginia, Arkansas, Delaware and other states where desegregation is taking place clearly indicate that most people are accepting the change gracefully."

He addressed a meeting on

44 Nation's Leading Social Scientists Form Committee
To Ease School Tensions

New York, N. Y.—Forty-four of the nation's leading social scientists have formed a committee of consultants which will seek to prevent outbreaks of racial tension in connection with desegregation of public schools, Thurgood Marshall, director and counsel of the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, announced recently.

During the past weeks members of the committee were in Milford, Delaware and White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia, the two communities where overt frictions arose following integration of Negro children in white schools in accordance with the United States Supreme Court ruling of last May. Their purpose was to observe the start and development of community tensions, to analyze the forces at work, and to recommend methods for preventing such disturbances there and elsewhere.

Hears Group

Alfred McClung Lee, chairman of the department of Sociology and anthropology at Brooklyn College, heads the committee of consultants, Mr. Marshall said. Robert M. MacIver, professor emeritus of sociology at Columbia University is honorary chairman and Kenneth B. Clark, associate professor of psychology at City College of New York and research director of the Northside Center for Child Development is vice-chairman.

The committee has offered its services as a consulting resource to the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, Mr. Marshall said.

Quotes Findings

Mr. Marshall pointed out that the U. S. Supreme Court had quoted the findings of several of these social scientists in its May 17th decision outlawing segregation in the public schools. In effecting the transition to an integrated school system, Mr. Marshall added, we need the assistance of these men and women who have a scientific understanding of

Medic Continues To Work While 'Hazel' Takes Rest

Raleigh, N. C.—Quick acting on the part of Mrs. Laura Kelly, a nurse at St. Agnes Hospital, probably helped in saving the life of a patient who was undergoing surgery at St. Agnes Hospital recently during Hurricane "Hazel's" rampage through the city.

Dr. W. F. Clark, Raleigh physician and surgeon was in the midst of a delicate neck operation, when the hurricane hit the city. Anticipating damage to the hospital, Dr. Clark had moved the patient from under the skylight to a more remote portion of the operating room where he proceeded to open the neck of the patient, Mrs. Marie Gupton of Youngville.

The surgeon reported that he noticed the skylight continuously lifting from its foundation, but was not prepared for what happened next. The entire metal frame of the skylight came tumbling down into the room leaving a wide gaping hole. Rain came into the operating room and Dr. Clark moved the patient out into the hall. He said he was too deep into the operation to stop. The lights went out throughout the hospital at this time.

At this point Mrs. Kelly came into the room. She quickly found several flash lights, assisted positions while Dr. Clark finished the delicate job of surgery.

Patient Unaware

The hospital sprinkler system was turned on by the force of the hurricane. Mrs. Gupton was unaware of the incident until the following day. She is reported as doing fine at the time. She was semi-conscious through out the operation.

St. Agnes Hospital is not equipped with emergency electric equipment.

Window panes are alleged to have been broken and water reportedly was ankle deep during the height of the storm.

Dr. Clark lauded the quick acting on the part of the internes and nurses in the operating room.

Fort Dodge Crowd Hears Atty. Oliver

Fort Dodge, Ia.—Support of President Eisenhower's administration by the election of Republican candidates was urged by W. Lawrence Oliver, Des Moines attorney here Saturday evening, Oct. 23, before a capacity crowd. He spoke in the Highland Elks lodge.

Oliver pointed out that the November 2 election "is all important to Negro voters" and urged everyone to support the G. O. P.

In his straight-forward political address the lawyer cited the recognition given Negroes by the Republican administration and called the Supreme Court decision outlawing segregation in schools, a second emancipation.

Oliver spoke in the interest of Martin-for-the-senate, Dolliver and all county and state Republican candidates. He was introduced by Ralph W. Bastain, 6th District Republican chairman. Candidates were introduced by Arthur H. Johnson who ran for Republican county attorney.

Before the meeting the Des Moines lawyer conferred with Bastain, Fort Dodge lawyer; Mrs. Beatrice Burleson and Oscar James Barony.

Now that the election is over, regardless how it went, Republicans here will long remember the appearance of Attorney Oliver to Fort Dodge. After the rally a grand time was held, refreshments and dancing at the Elks club.

Warm Puddings for Cold-Weather Meals

Fancy desserts are fun to do—sometimes—but our fondest memories of good food often center around the old-fashioned dishes we grew up with. Simple warm custards and puddings are among these—so light, yet satisfying, especially for supper on cold winter nights. A packaged pudding and pie filling mix, served hot or warm instead of chilled, is the modern way to make such desserts. Here is one of those old-fashioned loves made of chocolate, pudding and pie filling mix, served warm over crisp triangles of cinnamon toast. Easy to make—even at the last moment—and of a deliciousness to please all members of the family, young and old.

JELL-O CHOCOLATE TOAST PUDDING

1 package chocolate flavored pudding and pie filling mix
2 1/4 cups milk

Combine pudding mix and milk in a saucepan. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a full boil. Remove from heat. Cover bottom of serving dish with toast pieces, saving out part for top of pudding. Pour pudding into serving dish. Dot with remaining toast. Serve warm. Makes 6 servings.

Note: 1 teaspoon grated orange rind may be substituted for cinnamon.

Say Hurricane 'Hazel' Was Voice of God

Apex, N. C.—The Rev. H. Albert Smith told his congregation at the First Baptist church recently that Hurricane Hazel was the voice of God confronting them with inescapable moral and religious obligations, and reminding them that there is a God on the Throne of the Universe whom men must recognize and accept as their Lord and King.

Rev. Smith said that last Friday men feeling self-sufficient realized how utterly helpless they are and dependent upon a power outside of themselves. "They saw rampaging, destructive fury that was heedless to human protests and beyond the control of human power."

"For that reason," Rev. Smith said, "some men who forgot to pray on Friday morning remembered at the hour of noon. Others who didn't have time found time. And some who are not in the habit of praying, thought prayer might be worthwhile trying."

Warning
Rev. Smith said that Hazel's advent was a warning to the unrepentant, those at ease in Zion, Church members who are blocking the highway of salvation and pretending to be Christians, while spitting upon the cross and in rebellion against God.

"Hazel is a warning that there is a limit to divine patience and to men to get right with God before it is too late," he said.

In concluding, Rev. Smith pictured the glory of the evening skies following Hazel's departure, skies above the western horizon emblazoned with unspeakable heavenly radiance as the sun dipped below the sky-line. He said that was an hour of relief from tension and fear, an hour of gratitude to God.

Parable

"In this I find a parable of life," the minister said. "Furious storms may be the lot of the faithful Christian throughout life. But in the sunset of his life, there will be a sunrise of indescribable glory as he enters into an eternal day of perfect fellowship with God and reunion with those whom he has loved long since and last awhile."

"Then will come the realization of the words of the Psalmist, 'I shall be satisfied when I awake with Thy likeness.'"

Personal Touch

by MARIE RUSS

When that sweet storm moved into the middle of the week on the last Thursday in October, I thought the weather man was kidding.

When that snow storm flew in on business wings, the next morning, I saw it's just playing a Halloween trick, but, on the last day of November, when those jet-propelled snow showers blizzed all day, and temperatures crashed below freezing, down to 10 degrees above zero, I was sure the weather man meant business—and I went digging out the winter boots and woollens.

I should have known that the snow would arrive here earlier this year because, when the 12,000 or more school teachers of the state come to town for the annual convention, the weather generally changes and some snow falls. And the convention is earlier this year.

A couple of years or more ago, during the teachers' convention, a sprinkle of snow hit the ground during the evening rush hour, and it took an hour or more for traffic to get from one end of the downtown map to the other.

But, in the rush of teachers going to their headquarters at Hotel Fort Des Moines, their meeting places at Hotel Radio Theater and out to the fairgrounds will be several new Negro teachers in the crowd, and though their number be small in comparison to the entire crowd of 12,000, the total of the Negro teachers will have increased since last year's convention.

Among the regular Negro teachers from Des Moines at the convention will be: Harriet Curley Bruce of Perkins School; Nevins Bruce, her husband, of Logan School; Billie Jean Morrow of Adams School; Rose Johnson of Scott School; and, among the new teachers this year will be: Meritta Norvell of Sabin School; Gladys Wesley of Oak Park School; Elayne Dorothy Chapman of Adams School; James Harris of Army Post School; James E. Bowman of Nathan E. Weeks Junior High School; and, J. Walter Thompson of Cary Continuation School.

While the winter weather sets in, Mrs. Robert T. Dacus, 3110 Bowdoin, was thrilled this week to think of all the fancy sewing she will be doing. She and her mail carrier husband got news recently from their son, M/Sgt. Calvin Dacus stationed in Japan, that a daughter was born to them on October 15.

"I have always wanted a girl in the family," Mrs. Dacus, mother of two sons, revealed. Already, she said, she had finished a box of clothes and mailed to her new granddaughter. Sgt. and Mrs. Dacus have a son.

Burlington Woman Elected President of Iowa NAACP Conference of Branches

BY BESSIE L. GREENE

The Iowa State Conference of NAACP Branches closed their annual meeting in Ottumwa, Iowa, Sunday, Oct. 31. Presiding over each session was Wilmer S. Johnson of Des Moines and Marshalltown.

Highlights of the sessions included reports given from the various branches and committee chairmen, and outstanding panel discussion Saturday afternoon led by Russell R. Lasley.

Mrs. C. Lorraine Collins led another panel discussion Saturday evening. Two guest speakers, also, during the evening were Atty. W. Lawrence Oliver and Atty. Luther T. Glanton.

The courtesy chairman during the session was Mrs. Guy E. Green, in charge of the conference music was Mrs. Collins. Atty. Archie M. Greenlee, resolutions chairman, read the resolutions Sunday afternoon.

The time and place chairman, Mrs. Delores Strange, announced the 1955 annual state conference to convene in Waterloo, Iowa, in October.

Mrs. Ivory Winston, Ottumwa soloist, rendered three selections at the Sunday afternoon session. Mrs. Georgine C. Morris served as mistress of ceremonies for that session.

Trophy Awarded

The Ike Smaus trophy was presented to Mrs. Georgine C. Morris by Mr. Smaus, and the Council Bluffs, Iowa branch won the trophy for their increase in membership. Honorable mention for their outstanding work in the state conference was given to Mrs. Morris, Mrs. C. H. Copeland, Mrs. Viola Gibson, Mrs. Guy E. Greene, Mrs. Rose Johnson, Roy Winston and Wilmer S. Johnson.

Delegates were from branches in Des Moines, Sioux City, Cedar Rapids, Burlington, Waterloo, Albia, Keokuk, Clinton and Ottumwa. They were guests in the Ballingall and Ottumwa hotels.

Thirty-five voting delegates attended. Many visitors were present. Ministers in the state working with the NAACP include: the Revs. George Paul Jones of Ottumwa, George T. Stinson, of Waterloo, C. H. Copeland of Cedar Rapids, William M. Shaw of Ottumwa.

Among some of the visitors were: Mrs. Luther T. Glanton, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Clead Stone, Messrs. Guy E. Greene, Clifford L. Bayles, Mr. Toomer and daughter of Keokuk, Hon. Robert L. Price, Ottumwa City manager.

Officers

Officers of the state conference of branches are: Miss Betty Jane Holstein, Burlington, president; Wilmer Johnson, Marshalltown, first vice president; Richie M. Greenlee, Des Moines, second vice president; Mrs. Viola Gibson, Cedar Rapids, treasurer; Mrs. E. E. White, Burlington, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Leola Hubbard, Des Moines, recording secretary.

The 1955 committee chairmen will be appointed in a month by the new president.

were on a tour near the French town when we noticed a lot of little one-room pointed-top shacks that resembled hog pens.

"Our chauffeur told us they were houses for pre-nursery children. Aren't (the governor) got out of the car immediately and looked at them. They were swarthy looking and the little tots had to walk a wooden plank over a water-filled ditch to get to the nursery houses.

"Immediately the governor decided that something must be done. Shortly, the Republicans had a banquet to honor the new governor and ask him what they could do to help him and the islands," Mrs. Alexander talked.

"That night at the banquet, the governor told them that they ought to hang their heads in shame at those unsightly huts that housed their pre-nursery children. He said: 'Back in Iowa we wouldn't put our hogs in them.'

"The men said those were harsh words, but immediately made an appropriation for an adequate building for the pre-nursery youth. Then the governor built his first bridge there, when he supervised railings to be put on the wooden plank that the children had to cross to get to the huts," Mrs. Alexander laughed.

Complaints Daily

Daily, the first lady said, complaints come to the governor about some menace or deplorable condition that should be remedied.

"One day the governor made a surprise inspection tour to the jail and he shook his head at what he saw, and immediately they got busy cleaning up and painting up the jail—and they felt proud after it was finished.

"Another time the governor was called to do something about an outdoor public toilet which for sometime had been an eyesore as well as a health menace. He visited it and immediate changes took place," Mrs. Alexander said.

"Now, they are calling him 'Hurricane Archie,' after the recent Hurricane Hazel that hit the islands," she laughed.

Building Program

Mrs. Alexander told of many buildings that are being constructed in the Virgin Islands. New high schools are going up in St. Thomas and St. Croix—and they have every modern feature in them. The new educational director from the States who will begin duties the first of the year, inspected them recently and was much pleased, she said.

"The Virgin Islands has a fine low-cost housing project with all of the modern facilities and the landscaping has been completed—but—for some reason there seems to be some difficulty in getting it filled," the first lady has noted.

Promoting Athletics

Mrs. Alexander said that Governor Alexander is interested in the promotion of athletic programs throughout the islands. Already appropriations have been made for a stadium where baseball and other sports may be held. No athletic programs are in the schools yet, but plans are being made to build gymnasiums, she said.

"A rivalry in baseball exists between Puerto Rican and Virgin Islands teams and the governor has offered trophies and a reception to be held at the government house for the winning team. Mrs. Alexander said she hoped to be back in the Virgin Islands in time for that reception this fall.

Fishing Trip

"Our life the past six months hasn't been all work. We took a day off and went deep sea fishing. The governor caught the first big fish that day, a kingfish, kin to the salmon family. The newspapers there ran a story the next day of his catch.

"Again the governor stopped his work long enough to spend an afternoon at the beach, swimming.

"During the spring we were invited by Governor and Lady Blackburn of the English Virgin Islands, not far from St. Thomas, to spend three days on the Island of Tortola, during their Mardi Gras season.

"An English boat came for us and we made a party of 45 including officials of the government. When we arrived, Governor Alexander was given a 21-gun salute and he inspected the troops," Mrs. Alexander said, adding that they had returned the courtesy to the English governor.

"One of the strange customs on the English islands of Tortola is the housing arrangement there, the first lady noted. The English governor lives in his home on the island of Antigua, but for all official business, when he comes to the island of Tortola, where the administrator and his family reside, the latter has to move out of the government house until the administrator and his family move back.

"I wouldn't like that," Mrs. Alexander remarked.

Island Customs

Pointing out some of the customs on the Virgin Islands in which she resides, Mrs. Alexander spoke of the

Miss Hazel M. Dixon Bride of Sgt. L. C. Riffe

MR. AND MRS. LOUIS CORTEZ RIFFE

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Cortez Riffe cut the traditional cake at their reception Sunday evening, Sept. 12, in Chicago, following their wedding. (Murphy Photo).

Couple Former Des Moines Residents

In one of the picturesque pre-fall nuptials, Hazel Margaret Dixon, daughter of Mrs. Jesserean Dixon of 958 Fifteenth street, Des Moines, became the bride of Sgt. Louis Cortez Riffe, son of Mrs. Louise Williams of 313 Nineteenth street, East Moline, Ill.

The ceremony was performed in Chicago, Ill., Sunday evening, Sept. 12, at 6 o'clock, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Royal Pitts. The Rev. A. A. Watts officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The improvised altar was decorated with candelabra flanked with baskets of white gladioli and white pompons. Mrs. Goldye Guy Martin played the wedding music and Mrs. Hattie Miller sang "O Promise Me."

Escorted by her grandfather, Mr. Baker Dixon of Los Angeles, Cal., the bride wore a waltz-length gown of imported Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over white satin. Her finger tip veil of illusion was secured by a clown of seed pearls which also encrusted her sleeves. She carried white orchids, lilies of the valley, stephanotis, and roses.

Attendants

The bride's attendants were Miss Coleta Rose Berry, maid of honor, and Joan Cervantes, both of whom were gowning in green taffeta. Their bouquets and halo hats were made of pink Paris roses.

Mr. Edmond Lott was the best man. Ushers were Messrs. Alpha Dixon of Los Angeles, Cal., brother of the bride, and Antonial M. Porter.

A reception, attended by over 100 guests, followed the ceremony. In the receiving line with the bride were: Mrs. Baker Dixon of Los Angeles, grandmother of the bride; Mrs. Jesserean Dixon, mother of the bride; and Mrs. Williams, mother of the bridegroom.

THE ELECTION TUESDAY BROUGHT SURPRISES

The election produced many surprises as usual, but the polsters did about as well as in the part for in off election years, the opposition party has the advantage.

Most of their campaign material is negative in that the record of the party in power is criticized and glaring promises made of what should be done.

Here in Iowa, it was generally conceded that Senator Gillette would be re-elected. He opposed in speech everything the Eisenhower administration had done and yet attempted to ride on the Eisenhower record by claiming he voted on the Republican side most of the time.

Polk County went Democratic over whelmily. Two factors attributed to this: first, labor and the laboring classes fell heavily for the charge that the Republican party is the rich man's party. And this in spite of the fact that much legislation favoring the working people was passed during the last session of Congress.

In the Polk County race, the record shows that Negroes went strong for the Democratic ticket. This, of course, is a throw back from the Roosevelt vote; it was in line with the vote of labor of which Negroes constitute a large segment.

Much was made of the fine record the Eisenhower administration has made toward the elimination of second class citizenship with the hope that a vote for the Republicans was a vote for the support of President Eisenhower. But evidently this made little impression on Negro Democrats.

Negroes must remember that the control of Congress places important committee chairmanships in the hands of our bitter enemies; that the support of the Democrats boosts such men as Thurman Arnold who is an opponent of Negro progress.

But the country will not go to the dogs. There are still enough good people on both sides of the fence to see to that.

ADMINISTRATION OFFICIAL ATTACKS SEGREGATED HOUSING

Speaking at Hampton Institute, Virginia, Albert M. Cole, announced that the federal government would cease to finance projects in cities which discriminated against citizens on the basis of race, creed or color. He further called attention to the disgraceful situation at the Trumbull Park project in Chicago when he said that local officials had not done their duty to protect Negro tenants and called upon three citizens he said could help change these conditions.

He called up Mayor Martin Kennelly, Catholic Bishop, Bernard J. Sheil and Walter Reuther, C. I. O. president, to take the lead in putting a stop to this disgraceful conduct.

The charge brought an immediate reply from the Chicago housing authority issued upon instructions of the mayor stating that Mr. Cole was misinformed about the situation.

The Bystander has been surprised that the NAACP has not come forward with a rebuttal for the Crisis as well as other literature issued by the association has painted a dismal picture about the lawlessness which has prevailed since the first Negro family moved in. An NAACP story in the Bystander on May 20th said:

"A demand that Mayor Kennelly take decisive action to end violence by white persons against Negro families in the Trumbull Park Homes project here has been made by a citizens committee composed of civic, community group labor and church leaders.

"The committee, which was organized under auspices of the Chicago branch of the NAACP, issued a statement this week declaring that if the continuing disturbances at Trumbull Park are not lawfully curbed it will organize a city-wide demonstration on the City Hall to be followed by a continuous demonstration until these objectives are obtained. The statement said the committee will set a date for expiration of its 'ultimatum to the mayor.'

An article in the Bystander of September 16th says:

"Twenty Negro families residing in Trumbull Park Homes here have announced their intention of remaining in federally-owned housing project in spite of constant acts of lawless violence against them.

It is quite apparent that the Chicago officials are not telling the truth; that lawlessness is the rule and that conditions are a disgrace to Americans as Mr. Cole said.

There has been no change in the situation so the reply of the Chicago Housing Authority is simply a smoke screen.

Professor Lee has defined the need for the consultants' work, Mr. Marshall said. He believes that long-standing prejudices, misconceptions, fears and superstitions can only be relinquished through a careful process of reconconditioning to new conceptions. He feels it is necessary to work with community processes in developing patterns of cooperation which can have general applicability. This is an area of community action about which there is little precise knowledge and for which new procedures are needed.

The committee's membership consists of social scientists and educators on the faculties of colleges and universities across the country.

HEALTH FOR ALL

Bore Yourself to Sleep

The dog, the cat, the baby in the crib—how do they spend most of their time? Sleeping. It's so easy for them to drop off anywhere, anytime. Then why can't you sleep whenever you wish? It's probably because you're so intelligent.

It was quite an achievement when man got smart enough to stay awake two thirds of the time. New born infants, like the lower animals, wake only when stimulated by hunger, pain, fear, or some other primitive urge. When their needs are satisfied, they go back to sleep. As the brain develops, the baby becomes more and more aware of what goes on around him. There are many more sensations to keep him awake. And when he becomes an adult with a fully developed brain, life can be so very stimulating that sometimes he just can't sleep.

The type of insomnia that afflicts almost everyone once in a while results from over-stimulation. You get into a political discussion, and when you go to bed you lie awake thinking up perfect arguments. Or you have an important job to do tomorrow, and you worry about how you'll do it. Or you are in a strange bed. Or you drank too much strong coffee.

If you have trouble getting to sleep, try boring yourself. An occasional evening with dull company or a dull book will be helpful. Take a cup of warm milk or similar innocuous beverage before retiring. Establish a bedtime routine of insignificant chores to slow down the activity of your brain. Music may help, if it is pleasant but uninteresting. Be sure not to confuse annoyance with boredom. People or things that annoy you are stimulating rather than soporific.

The main thing is to get into the habit of sleeping. There's no need to worry about losing sleep occasionally, but chronic insomnia is very serious and may require a doctor's help.

By now, you all must have heard or heard all about Iowa's win over Wisconsin. If you saw the original shots of the Nebraska-Missouri game you saw three Negroes playing for the Cornhuskers. Iowa State has four Negroes.

If you were to meet the gang who saw East lose to Roosevelt last week end you would probably went away mad. But that was the best Roosevelt team we ever saw.

East in the face of the big one, forsook their running for a different attack. They won all their games running and it is our belief that had the Scarlet run Clark and McQuerry until they dropped, they would have scored three touchdowns.

Those two boys won't make the All state team but we will place Clark and McQuerry with any two backs in the state.

Explained Christenberry on his ruling which affects Bratton in New York: "I don't consider him a big time fighter any more. I wouldn't stop him from fighting but I don't want any more matches in which he shows this way."

Englewood School Complaints Filed By Negro Parents

Trénton, N. J.—Negro parents of Englewood, N. J., pressed their complaints of discrimination against the city's school board Oct. 26, before a public hearing being conducted by the State Commissioner of Education in the State House Annex.

The hearing was called by the New Jersey Division Against Discrimination after two Negro parents had filed complaints charging the Englewood Board of Education with gerrymandering school zone boundaries to force the majority of Negro school children into one segregated school. Five other complaints were later filed with the DAD, but have not yet been processed. The hearing began Wednesday, Oct. 20, and continued Oct. 26.

Lines Changed

One of the complainants, Mrs. Susan Anderson, testified that her son is forced to go to the segregated Lincoln school while white children on the same side of the street attended the all-white Liberty school.

Mrs. Walker, the first to testify, said that she registered her son, Theodore, in the kindergarten at the Liberty school in May 1954, but when she took him there on opening day of school in September 1954, she was told that he would have to go to the Lincoln school because the boundary lines had been changed. She had received no notification of the change.

They will know, throughout the night we all stand firm—within His light, that we all bear, within our breast—our freedoms' love for, peace and rest.

At the beginning of the hearing last Wednesday, the Director of the State Division Against Discrimination, Dr. John Milligan, testified that in his opinion the newly drawn school zone lines did not comply with the laws of the State of New Jersey prohibiting racial segregation in the public schools.

On Stand Again

Testifying again, Dr. Milligan stated that he tried to get the Englewood school board to postpone the effective date of the new lines until the Division Against Discrimination could study the effect of the new lines, but that the board refused to postpone the effective date of September 1, 1954. The public hearing was called when the board failed to conciliate, he said.

Mrs. Anderson, the first Negro complainant, testified that the practice of segregating Negro children in Englewood is not a new one. She said she tried to send her child James, then five, to the Liberty school in 1949. He was allowed to attend the Liberty school for one month, according to her testimony, and then was transferred to the Lincoln school, with notice, where he has been attending since.

Other Matters

Four other Negro mothers appeared as witnesses. All testified that they had tried to enroll their children in the Liberty school but were forced to eventually take them to the segregated Lincoln school.

we pledge our lives where they have bled. The cost of liberty—lies here, beneath these crosses far and near.

Protect our flag—where'er it stands, defending right—in foreign lands. We humbly bow our heads and pray—God grant all peace, THIS VETERANS DAY.

An expert witness for the Negro parents, Mrs. Helen G. Trager, a faculty member of Brooklyn College, Education Department, testified that the personalities of Negro children who attend segregated schools are irreparably damaged. In case of Negro children, she said, they have the feeling of not being wanted, "not good enough to mix." "The hurt to personality is very definite," Mrs. Trager added. "They (the Negro children) do not feel they are accepted—they feel they are second-class citizens."

Mrs. Trager was one of the expert witnesses in the South Carolina school segregation case.

The hearing continued November 1. The parents are represented by Leonard Williams of Trenton, Mrs. Constance Baker Motley and Jack Greenberg of NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund staff. Deputy Attorney General Cook represents the New Jersey Division Against Discrimination.

N. Y.'s Non-Whites On Increase

New York.—(CNS)—New York's non-white population will increase to more than 2,000,000 during the next 20 years, predicted Kenneth D. Johnson, dean of New York School of Social Work. He's also predicting that at the same time the white population will decrease 800,000.

This means that by 1970, Puerto Ricans and non whites will comprise 28 percent of New York's population.
