Body of John W. Joiner, 94, Found Thanksgiving Day

Services were held last Saturday at the Estes & Son Funeral Home for John W. Joiner, 94, of 4220 N. Twelfth Street, road, with burial at Pine Hill cemetery.

Thanksgiving Day search by more than 600 volunteers ended Thursday afternoon with the finding of the body of Mr. Joiner, in an unexpired confound in north-east Des Moines.

Joiner, who lived north of the city limits on N. Twelfth street road, had been missing since he left his home early Nov. 23.

Four of a group of eight men searching north of Euclid avenue east of E. Fourteenth, discovered the body about 4 p.m. in the 100-acre cornfield at E. Seventeenth street and Euclid avenue.

Dr. Walter Anderson, Polk county coroner, said death was from natural causes—a weak heart and exposure.

Answer Appeal

Boy Scouts and men, as well as wives and teen-age daughters, answered a Thanksgiving Day appeal by radio and television to join a search for the missing man.

The main search centered in Saylor township from Second avenue west to the Des Moines river and from Aurora avenue north to Kempton drive in the Saylorville area, where Joiner had visited with friends Tuesday.

Four men of the party of eight found the body while searching the railroad track and cornfield area near

Eartha Kitt in Broadway Play Is 'Someone Special, Delightfully Different'

BY DELUORES CALVIN

New York—(CNS)—Eartha Kitt comes to town in "Mrs. Patterson" this week and though there's been so much talk about this play, Eartha's taking this new facet of her career completely in her stride.

For no matter how the play fares at the hands of the critics, Eartha has established several important beachheads by 1) capturing the sole and undisputed title role which means not only her name in lights as big as the play but the top bracketed salary that goes with it—a feat very few Negroes have attained; 2) unearthing an acting personality few thought possible for the seductive Kitt.

Once Fifteen

Many have asked Eartha if acting a 15-year-old gives her any problems. To this the Frank Miss Kitt answers: "I was 15 once." Many too have wondered how the sexy Eartha fares in this new dramatic play, how she managed to prepare herself for the role.

To this the unorthodox Kitt tells of her own method for rehearsing. "I find out what a play is about and then just start the conversation until it gets set. The prompter helps

Break-In At Club See Pee

About $30 was taken from the juke box and peanut machine at Club See Pee, 1751 E. University avenue, in a break-in early Tuesday. Detective Louis M. Kircher said entrance was gained by knocking a padlock off the front door. Eight cartons of cigarettes were also taken.

Robert S. Sims, Telephone Company Booth Inspector, Gets Retirement Honors

The first Negro employee to be retired by the Northwestern Bell Telephone Company here was Robert S. Sims, 937 Fifteenth street, whose retirement began officially December 1.

Mr. Sims completed twenty-five years, six months and three days as a phone booth inspector, working out of the plant department at 210 Ninth street here under L. A. Dumas, general plant manager, F. A. Johnson, general service superintendent, and Harold Markley, supervisor.

Honored

Retirement honors for Mr. Sims began Monday night with a dinner at Wimp's Steak House where fellow plant workers attended and gave testimonials.

Tuesday morning at a general plant assembly, presided over by Mr. Markley, the phone booth inspector was honored with retirement presentations.

Among his gifts were: self-winding Benris gold watch; life membership in the Telephone Pioneers of America; life membership in the Communication Workers of America, affiliated with the CIO-CCL and a gold union card for his billfold; a plastic notebook of autographs from fellow workers; a billfold size retirement folder which listed his many privileges which included free telephone service at his home from now on, and an opportunity to participate in all of the employees activities at the Northwestern Bell Telephone Company.

Resident 40 Years

A native of Topeka, Kas., Mr. Sims has been a resident of Des Moines for 40 years, during which time he spent two years working as a chef for the Santa Fe Railroad; and thirteen years as a parts department man with the Cadillac Company, which he left in 1929 to join the telephone company.

"Employment conditions were very bad at that time," Mr. Sims recalled. "Very few persons were buying cars or even auto parts, so I turned my attention to something that I thought would stay here a while. I knew a job at the telephone company would be a steady one."

When Mr. Sims got his phone booth inspector job, the telephone company building then was located at Seventh and Keo, next to the Yellow Cab company; and a month or so later, the company moved to its present location at Ninth and High streets.

"At that time, about eight or nine Negro women were working as maids at the phone company, and although

Says President Tubman of Liberia on Recent Visit Was Seeking Social Relief

New York—(CNS)—Now it can be told that President William V. S. Tubman on his visit to the United States early last month, was more interested in seeking relief from the small America-Liberian ruling caste who oppress the native tribesmen than he was in seeking American dollars.

As one foreign observer—Raymond Leslie Buell—has put this dilemma in Liberia: "Unless something radical is done to narrow the gap between the governing oligarchy, and the Liberian people, it is not impossible that within 25 years fighting in Liberia will break out, as it has recently done in Java in Indo-China."

Coleman, Mrs. Azalia Mitchell, Mrs. Robert Burlingame, Rozenting Hardaway, Russel Bell, Miss Agnes McDonald, Kingsley Murphy, Miles Mills, Jr., and Mrs. Elaine Estes.

The Des Moines branch endorsed Mrs. Georgine C. Morris for the national board of directors.

Reelected Head of Des Moines NAACP

ARCHIE M. GREENLEE

The Des Moines branch of NAACP met Nov. 23 and elected the following officers for 1955: Atty. Archie M. Greenlee, president; Rev. Jesse Hawkins, first vice president; Mrs. C. Lorraine Collins, second vice president; Mrs. Leola Hubbard, secretary; Mrs. Inez Morrow, assistant secretary; Clifford Bayles, treasurer.

Executive board members are: Mrs. Guy Greene, Atty. James B. Morris, Jr., A. P. Trotter, Mrs. Georgine C. Morris, Ike Smalls, Guy E. Greene, Mrs. David Kruidenier, Jr., William L. Bell, Mrs. Clifford Bayles, Leland Ahern, Mrs. Delores

Condition of Mrs. Beardsley Reported 'Slightly Better'

The general condition of Mrs. Charlotte Beardsley, 53-year-old widow of the late Gov. William S. Beardsley, was reported as "slightly better" Tuesday at Iowa Lutheran hospital.

Mrs. Beardsley, who is partly paralyzed, has been in the hospital since Nov. 21, when she was injured in the auto accident that claimed the life of her husband.

Attending physicians said she will have to remain in the hospital "for sometime." Private nurses are with her 24 hours a day.

Only members of the immediate family are permitted to see Mrs. Beardsley.

City Council Okays Sale of 3 Tokens, Drops Fleur Line

The city council Monday gave Des Moines Transit Co. permission to abolish the 90-day-old Fleur drive line, to increase Scott street motor bus service in the downtown district and to restore trolley bus operation on E. Fourteenth street.

All three changes took effect Wednesday. Harry B. McFall, city transit supervisor, and S. A. Dennis, company transit supervisor, recommended all three.

At Des Moines Transit's request the council also restored the provision for sale of three adult passenger tokens for 50 cents, as well as six for $1.

Criticism

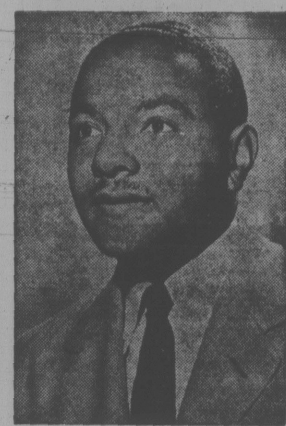

A new fare schedule, including an increase in adult cash fare from 18 to 20 cents, approved by the council Nov. 15 had retained the old token rate of six for $1 (or 16 2/3 cents each), but had not included the previously existing three-for-50 cents provision.

Fred C. Worden, Des Moines Transit general manager, asked Monday that the provision for half-dollar sale of tokens be restored. He said the company had not intended to work a hardship on passengers.

"There has been some criticism," he said, "although we have not had it direct to our office."

On Councilman Allan W. Denny's motion, the sale of three tokens for 50 cents was provided for, effective immediately.

Called 'Ambassador'

CARL T. ROWAN

Washington, D. C.—Carl T. Rowan, a reporter for the Minneapolis, Minn., Tribune, on a three month visit in India under the U. S. leader exchange program with foreign countries, has turned out to be one of America's best private "ambassadors," state department reports revealed recently.

He planned to visit with Indian journalists and, among other things, to discuss a free press' role in a free society. But he found himself lecturing to student groups, civic organizations and others.

Segregation

Being a Negro, he was an obvious target for questions about racial discrimination and segregation in the United States, according to reports of his visit sent to the department.

Rowan must have answered "millions of hot, embarrassing questions," an official here said, and he refused to duck any of them. He battled it out "toe-to-toe without antagonizing any of his questioners."

He made no bones about the fact that discrimination exists here, but he emphasized that more progress toward ending it had been made in the United States than anywhere else, the reports indicated.

He was a "walking example" of the opportunities he discussed, the official observed.

Cities and Villages

Rowan visited such major cities as New Delhi, Calcutta, Madras and Bombay, as well as numerous villages.

Refused Passport

Washington, D. C.—(CNS)—Paul Robeson has again been refused a passport by the State Department. This instance, Robeson announced he wanted to attend the congress of Soviet writers meeting in Moscow next month.

A spokesman for the State Department, stated that the application was turned down "because it was not in the national interest." Robeson has tried several times before to obtain a passport.

Robbery Charge Filed Against George J. Webster

Des Moines detectives Monday filed a robbery charge with aggravation against George Junior Webster, 32, for the armed robbery of Abe Pidgeon's market, 1520 Maury street the night of November 15.

Webster, who gave his address as the G. and W. Hotel here, pleaded innocent when arraigned before Municipal Judge Howard W. Brooks. He was held in the city jail in lieu of $5,000 bond. Judge Brooks set Dec. 14 as date for hearing on the charge.

Chief of Detectives R. W. O'Brien said Webster was identified as the holdup man by Abe Pidgeon, 34 owner of the store who was alone in the store at the time of the robbery.

At the time of the robbery, Pidgeon told police he fired several shots at the fleeing bandit, who shot back once. Pidgeon said the bandit robbed him of $250.

O'Brien said Webster has denied having any part in the holdup.

Named All-American for Second Time, Has Chance To Repeat Next Year

Iowa City.—Calvin Jones, 21 all-American guard for two straight years, was voted captain of the 1955 Iowa football team by his teammates in a meeting Monday afternoon at Iowa City.

Jones' selection was publicly announced Monday night at the annual Davenport I-Club banquet.

"The boys made a fine selection," said Coach Forrest Evashevski, who completed his third season at Iowa. "He's sure to follow the high standards set by his three predecessors—Bill Fenton, Andy Houg and Binkey Broeder."

13th All-American

Jones is Iowa's thirteenth recognized all-American. The first Iowa football player so honored was Fred Becker, who was chosen on the late Walter Eckersall's all-American first team in 1916.

The 1955 Iowa captain is the second Iowan to be selected for two straight years as an all-American. The other was Gordon Locke, a hard-driving fullback who was an all-American in 1921-22.

Could Be Again

And Jones has a chance next year to be the first Hawkeye to be honored as an all-American for three straight years.

Last year 220-pound, slim-waisted Jones was named on the National Broadcasting Co. all-America and was also placed on the Chicago Tribune's all-player midwestern and the Chicago Daily News' all-midwestern teams. The Associated Press picked Jones will be only the second Negro in history to captain an Iowa football team. The other was end Homer Harris in 1937.

Less Spectacular

From a spectator's viewpoint, Jones appeared to be less spectacular this fall than he was in '53 when he had more freedom to make open-field tackles.

This year Jones had a new defensive assignment and that was to plug

Desegregation Conference Makes Recommendations For School Integration

Philadelphia.—Problems arising out of desegregation of public schools in six states and the District of Columbia were analyzed and discussed by 130 delegates attending a weekend emergency conference which closed here Nov. 27.

Sessions of the conference called by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People were held in the Fellowship Commission Building, 260 South 15th Street and were attended by delegates from Virginia, West Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and the District of Columbia.

Make Analysis

After hearing reports on resistance to ending of school segregation in White Sulphur Springs, West Va.; Milford, Del.; Baltimore and Washington, Dr. Kenneth B. Clark, associate professor of psychology at the College of the City of New York and NAACP consultant, made analysis of the causes and circumstances of these situations.

On the basis of this analysis, and on talks on ways and means of organizing the community to support public school integration and of working with local school boards to this end, the conference proposed the following recommendations:

Continue Discussion

1. That NAACP branches continue the stimulation of discussion by such responsible groups as churches, civic organizations and

Sugar Hill Tenants Routed By Flood

New York—(CNS)—Tenants in five apartment houses on Harlem's famed "Sugar Hill" were routed from their homes by a break in a water main. The break sent torrents of water flowing across apartment houses on Elgcomb Avenue between 141st and 142nd Streets. It occurred about 10 p. m., and evacuated tenants weren't able to return their water-soaked apartments until two o'clock in the morning.

Refreshing Salad Can Double As Dessert

Delicious red apples star in this glamorous jellied salad that's good eating for family or company dinners.

One of the prettiest salads of the season is this molded red apple ring which you can serve for salad or dessert. If you want to be very dressy, top the ring with whipped cream or fill the center with sliced strawberries. For best flavor, select a good eating apple like the crisp, spicy red Delicious variety from Washington State's famous orchards. These popular, broad-shouldered red apples are tender and juicy for fresh fruit eating and in salads and may be used without peeling. Lime or lemon-flavored gelatin will provide good color contrast.

RED APPLE RING SALAD

2 pkgs. lime or lemon-flavored gelatin
3 cups hot water
6 tbsps. lemon juice
3 red Delicious apples
1 cup celery, sliced
1/4 cup broken walnuts

Dissolve gelatin in hot water and blend in lemon juice. Chill until sirupy. Cut 1 1/2 apples in wedges but do not peel. Slice remaining apples. Fold apple wedges, celery and walnuts into slightly thickened gelatin and place a few apple slices near the top of the mixture. Turn into 8-inch ring mold and chill in refrigerator until firm. Unmold and garnish with sliced apples and salad greens. Serve with mayonnaise or mayonnaise mixed with an equal amount of sour cream. If served as dessert, top with whipped cream. Serves 6-8.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our thanks for the many messages and beautiful floral offerings from our many friends, neighbors and fellow workers during the illness and death of our wife and mother, Mrs. Resie Black. Especially do we thank the choir for the beautiful music, also thanking Rev. J. E. Hunter for his inspiring message and Estes and Son Funeral Home.

East Side Union Mission Society Feeds 123 Guests at Fourth Annual Pre-Thanksgiving Dinner for Aged and Shut-in Folk

One hundred and twenty three person were guests of the East Side Union Mission Society's fourth annual Pre-Thanksgiving dinner for the aged and shut-in folk held November 23, at the Community Sanctified church, 809 S. E. Twenty-Seventh street.

According to Mrs. Beatrice Bailey, 825 Tenth street, "it was an inspiration to see the aged people, some blind, lame and deaf, praising God for His goodness to them and for giving someone the idea of this kind of meeting where they are able to come together and praise God as they please and meet old friends."

The Society was assisted by the following persons and firms in sponsoring the dinner: Lee Campbell of Yellow Cab Co., A. C. Elder, Ruan

Cab Co.; Miss T. C. Mapes, Peoples Finance Co.; L. Fowler and Sons Funeral Home; Estes & Son Funeral Home; Rev. R. L. Ryles, pastor of Philadelphia Seventh Day Adventist church; Mr. A. M. Heuser of Carpenter Paper Co.; Mrs. Katherine McFarland, Lillie's Meat Market, and others gave contributions.

Evangelist Hattie L. Green of Waterloo delivered a spiritual message. Evan Viola Gibson of Cedar Rapids, assisted, and expressed her desire to sponsor a similar program in her city.

Mrs. Bailey added that "We pray to God that some other religious groups might catch this spirit and have more of these meetings to let the aged Christian pioneers know we haven't forgotten them."

Burns Has Candlelight Musical Vespers

The candle light musical vespers was successfully represented last Sunday evening at Burns Methodist church under the sponsorship of the Steward Board, Mrs. V. V. Cropp, president.

The combined choirs of Burns under the direction of the pastor, H. W. James, sang: "Lift Every Voice and Sing," by James Weldon Johnson; "I Couldn't Hear Nobody Pray," and "I Know The Lord's Laid His Hands On Me," by Work-Brothers; and "Send Out Thy Light," by Charles Gounod. The Men's Chorus led by Mr. Fred Allen sang "Somebody's Calling My Name," and a medley: "Steal Away," by Marlen; and "The Darkest Hour Just Before Dawn," by Ellis. Mr. Edward Bayles directed them. Mrs. Ethel Winston sang "Gentle Hands." By request Mrs. H. W. James gave a reading Mr. George Nichols gave the invocation.

Bethel Proto Club To Meet Dec. 6

Harvest Home Sunday Observed At St. Paul Church

Thanksgiving Sunday, November 21, was the occasion for observance of the annual "Harvest Home" Sunday at St. Paul A.M.E. church. Both at morning worship service and a special evening program conducted by the laymen of the class Leaders Council, sheaves of time, talent, and substance were generously offered on the part of a grateful people as fruits for spiritual harvest.

Praise was set to music at the morning service by the Gospel, Senior, Children's and Chancel (Youth) choirs. Thanksgiving selections included, "Come Ye Thankful People," "Count Your Blessings," "Prayer of Thanksgiving," "Lord, I Thank You" and "Now We All Our God."

Hidden Talent

The evening program, with Robert S. Sims serving as chairman, revealed much hidden talent. A variety of musical numbers, both instrumental and vocal, were presented by H. W. Walden, Rev. Felix Dickerson, G. B. Tucker, Lorraine Collins, James L. Dameron, Rev. John E. Hunter, Evelyn Washington, Rev. Orzealya Roberson, Allie Bowman, Eunice Bates, Marian Solomon, Anna Ringo, James T. Gray, Jessie M. Jones, and the "Gospellers" with Josephine Jones as pianist.

Readings or remarks were given by Lutherene Turner, Fannie Tomlin, Bessie L. Greene, Mabel M. Mason, Mattie B. Scott, Zora Ewing and Virginia Gaither.

Art Scenes

A guest on the program was James Harris who used brush and canvas to interpret in artistic beauty the themes of two songs which were sung in background by Sadie Jones accompanied by Deloris Danforth.

Class Leaders financial reports were made at the evening hour of the seasonal in-gathering in the "Harvest Rally." To date this amount has reached six hundred and fifty dollars ($650.00).

Many Regulations in New Post Office Manual Just Out Shaped by Mail Users

Washington, D. C.—Another important "first" in the Post Office Department—allowing mail users themselves to help shape postal regulations into the most practical, usable form—has been incorporated into the precedent-setting Postal Manual being issued in final form, effective December 1. Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield said Wednesday.

The December 1 edition replaces the preliminary edition originally issued October 21. It contains proposals advanced by the public for improvements in the postal regulations. The suggestions came from large commercial users of the mails, publishers, newspapers, citizens in all walks of life and postal employees themselves.

Postmaster General Summerfield announced, when the preliminary publication was released, that the Post Office Department was taking what was for his Department an unprecedented step of asking for suggestions on improvements. The effective date of the regulations, originally set for November 20, had to be moved up to the present December 1 date to take advantage of the best of the recommendations.

Additional Changes

Among additional changes being made in the final publication are the following:

NOTICE OF INCORPORATION OF WILL-TEE COMPANY

Notice is hereby given of the incorporation of the Will-tee Company with its principal place of business in Des Moines, Iowa.

The objects of this Corporation are to manufacture, process, assemble, sell, and distribute all types of automatic golf tees and all related appliances pertaining to or connected therewith, and to weld, forge, make, and manufacture all such products and related products, to make and manufacture any and all products decided upon at any time these articles are in force; to purchase or otherwise acquire, own, mortgage and sell goods, ware, merchandise, materials, and personal property of every class and description pertaining to or in any manner related to or connected with the business and purposes herebefore set out; to acquire and undertake the good-will, property rights, franchises, contracts, and liabilities of any person, firm, association or corporation, with the power to enter into, make, and execute any and every kind with any person, firm, association, corporation and state or government in connection with the operation of the business of the corporation; to borrow and use money to carry on its business in any state in the United States; to buy, hold, sell, and convey personal property of every description and such real estate as may be necessary, desired or convenient for the proper conduct of the affairs of the corporation, with the power to issue, own, sell, and dispose of any kind of stocks, bonds, and rights of every kind not inconsistent with the Articles of this corporation; to engage in any industrial or unbusiness or operation not prohibited by statute nor inconsistent with these Articles.

The capital stock is one hundred (100) shares of no par value stock all of which shall be voting stock. It shall be fully paid for and shall be non-assessable. The company shall begin business when 50 shares of stock have been issued.

The corporate period of this corporation commenced upon June 17, 1954, and shall continue for a period of twenty years, with right of renewal.

The following officers shall conduct the affairs of the corporation until their successors are duly elected and qualified.

President, L. J. Wilcox
Vice President, Secretary, Treasurer, H. C. Flanagan

The above parties shall also constitute the Board of Directors of said corporation, and they must be stockholders.

The directors shall be elected at the annual meeting of the stockholders of said corporation on the second Monday of January in each year beginning in 1955, and shall hold office for one year, or until their successors are duly elected and qualified. Each share of stock shall have one vote. The affairs of the corporation shall be managed by the Directors, who shall elect the officers of the corporation for each year.

The private property of the stockholders of this corporation is exempt from the debts of this corporation.

1. Further clarification of the use of meter stamps has been made. The entire part on meter stamps has been rewritten.

2. Publishers will be allowed to use white or any other light-colored paper for wrapping, instead of being restricted to white of Manila paper—a simple change, but one which will be important financially for this large group of mailers.

3. Another important revision for publishers who are among the largest users of the mails will be one permitting use of light-colored paper for address strips also, instead of the present mandatory white or yellow—another simple change which will have financial importance. As a part of this change, the requirement is abolished that black ink exclusively must be used on the address strips.

4. Specific measurement limitations as to where the "window" must be located in the envelope are changed, to eliminate unnecessary restrictive and technical requirements which formerly applied to large mail users.

Basic Information

5. A complete list of territories, possessions and trust territory lands included in domestic mail service has been placed in the final Manual—another illustration of how the Manual will give complete, basic information for mail users.

DORIS F. OWENS, Plaintiff.

vs. MARIE CORNELL, RAYMOND OWENS, EDNA OWENS, JERRY OWENS, MADINE OWENS, ROGER OWENS, PATRICIA OWENS, HENRY E. FEDERAL SAVINGS & LOAN ASSOCIATION, Defendants.

TO THE ABOVE-NAMED DEFENDANTS: YOU AND EACH OF YOU ARE HEREBY NOTIFIED that a petition of the above-named plaintiff in the above-entitled cause is now on file in the office of the Clerk of the above-entitled court, which petition alleges and prays in substance as follows: That said plaintiff in addition to other interest is the owner in fee simple of an undivided one-half (1/2) interest in and to the following-described real estate, situated in Polk County, Iowa:

Lots Three Hundred Thirty-eight (338) and Three Hundred Thirty-nine (339), Crawford Place Official Plat now in and forming a part of the City of Des Moines.

That each of you claims some interest in said real estate; that plaintiff is entitled to the immediate possession and use of said real estate and right to sell or mortgage same, but is unable to do so because of plaintiff and defendants having been unable to agree upon a division or sale of said property; that payments on the principal of a mortgage on said real estate to the defendant Home Federal Savings & Loan Association are past due, and unless same are paid a foreclosure of said mortgage will result and the plaintiff and defendants will lose their interest in and to said real property; that major repairs are necessary to prevent serious loss to said property; that plaintiff has expended the sum of Four Hundred Forty-nine Dollars and Fifty-eight Cents ($449.58) from her own funds as payments on principal of said first mortgage; and plaintiff asks for a partition of said property, alleging that same cannot be equitably divided and that it would be necessary to sell same and divide the proceeds among the various parties to said suit as their interests may appear, after payment of said first mortgage, costs of this action (including attorney's fees), and payment to plaintiff of the said sums paid by her on the principal of said mortgage; and asking for such other and further relief as may by the court be deemed equitable in the premises.

YOU ARE FURTHER HEREBY NOTIFIED to appear before said court, at the County Court House, in Des Moines, Polk County, Iowa, on or before the seventh day of January, A. D. 1955; and that unless you appear, your default will be entered and judgment or decree will be rendered against you for the relief demanded in the said petition.

Negro men had been employed as janitors in the earlier history of the phone company, I was about the first one employed in a job that was not janitor's work," Mr. Sims revealed. He estimated that the company now has 20 or more Negroes employed as messengers, receiving, stock room clerks, delivery truck drivers and girls working in the directory department, business office, phone operators, elevator operators and in the district office.

His job as booth inspector was taken over by a young man, Roscoe Cox, 1421 Second Street Place.

Now a retired man, Mr. Sims said his wife, Mrs. Oscola Sims, has advised him to rest until the new year comes, then she will have a few household "chores" for him to do.

To Keep Busy

"I intend to keep busy doing something and enough work to supplement my income."

"I don't have any hobbies, but I do like baseball, good movies and television. You might call them hobbies," he said.

For thirty-three years he has been a member of St. Paul AME church of which he is a trustee. He has served as secretary of religious work in the Crocker YMCA; secretary for 14 years of the North Star No. 2 Masonic Lodge; and is a member of the Fortnightly club.

He and his wife reside in their own home at 937 Fifteenth street.

Puppy-Love Needs Mask

Detroit, Mich.—"Puppy love" had a bizarre effect on Willie A. Lewis, 18, 2017 Medbury, who was arrested last Saturday for wearing a mask in public to hide his "hurt feelings."

Lewis was arrested wandering on on Belle Isle and wearing a blue and white polka dot mask by Patrolman Seldon Piper.

The patrolman quoted Lewis as saying: "I'm meditating on a lost love affair, and since the Lone Ranger wears a mask, I decided to do so and be alone in the wilderness."

Recorder's Judge John P. Scallen said that the law, which prohibits wearing of a mask except to a party or on Halloween, has not been used for a quarter of a century to his knowledge.

The judge sent Lewis to the Psychopathic Clinic and ordered him to return for sentencing next Tuesday.

rural mail boxes are modified.

These are only a few of scores of suggestions which are included in the final version, Mr. Summerfield noted.

While many of them appear of a simple nature, their importance for large groups of mail users is great, and sometimes the value of a single one of these changes made as a result of public cooperation may be worth thousands of dollars to individual mail users," Mr. Summerfield commented.

Improvements

In addition to the improvements brought about by the final manual, Mr. Summerfield recalled that the preliminary edition itself brought about a basic revision of postal regulations, providing many important improvements.

This included provisions under which innocent mailers have been plagued by professional informers who took advantage of the mailers' unwritten violations of "booby trap" regulations—obsolete and unenforceable provisions formerly buried among the 4,000 pages of official publications. Innocent violations of these provisions laid mailers open to the possibility of court suit, particularly those involving the use of cularly those instigated by professional informers.

Other typical changes contained in the first edition and continued in the final manual include these: Dependents of servicemen may have mail forwarded to new duty stations without charge.

Overpaid Postage

Persons entitled to a refund for overpaid postage, or for service paid for but not received may receive their money back.

Publishers of magazines may now include attractive modern layouts on new kinds of paper, formerly outlawed by outmoded 19th century postal restrictions.

Persons who are trapped with a wrong date on their metered material for the mails no longer will be charged a 10 per cent penalty cost.

In certain instances where it is an unnecessary and expensive bother, the date may be dropped from metered material for the mails.

Publishers may obtain subscriptions under agreements with agents, without having terms of the agreements dictated by the Post Office Department.

Business mailers no longer need to hunt up and note on certain types of mail the mysterious and legalistic authorizations for that type of mail.

Mailers of registered mail who accidentally deviate from technical procedures will no longer have their mail delayed.

The final edition of the manual containing all public interest postal regulations in one edition less than 300 pages—material formerly scattered through 4,000 pages of dense, official print—may be bought from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington 25, D. C., for 65 cents a copy. It is canary yellow in color, contrasting with the green of the first edition.

Rites For Joiner

The Sargent & Co. feed plant.

The searchers who found the body were Marion Bensley, 1737 Walker street; J. Z. Quinn, 1440 McCormick street, Gene Taggart, 3807 Sixteenth street, and Neal Wilson, 840 Sixth Avenue East.

The eyesight of the missing man had been failing him in recent months. Some of searchers expressed the opinion that apparently he became confused in trying to find his way home, and somehow headed east from the Highland Park business district instead of going north and west to his home.

Joiner, unmarried, lived with a sister, Sadie Joiner, and a niece, Marjorie Keyser. The family is well-liked and many neighbors referred to Joiner as "Dad."

Group leaders assisting in the search Thursday included Ward McClure, Earl Fletcher, Tennis Childer and Loran Harris, members of the volunteer fire department, and George Walsh and Robert Leo Brown, assistant Scout leaders.

Scouts were from several troops including the Highland Park churches and the Saylor Township troop sponsored by Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. Harris, president of the firemen's group, thanked everyone who participated in the search and the radio and television stations for their cooperation. He said the case might have remained unsolved for a long time had people not responded.

Immediate Action Sought in Case of Hillsboro School

Cincinnati, Ohio—The U. S. Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit was asked Nov. 24 to order federal District Court Judge John H. Druffel to act immediately in the Hillsboro, Ohio school segregation case instead of waiting until two weeks after the U. S. Supreme Court issues its decrees spelling out the May 17th opinion outlawing segregation in public schools.

The request was made in a petition filed with the U. S. Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit by NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund attorneys on behalf of the Hillsboro Negro parents and children who charge the school board with racial discrimination.

Seek Injunction
The petition asks that District Judge Druffel act immediately on a request for a preliminary injunction restraining the Hillsboro School Board from the Negro children to return to the segregated school.

The case is the result of the Negro children of Hillsboro attempting to enroll in two previously all white schools in the fall term. They were allowed to register and attend classes one week before the parents were advised by the School Board that the children would have to return to the previously all Negro school because the Board had instituted for the first time school zone lines.

Lines Drawn
The new lines were drawn in such a way that only Negro children were forced back into the Jim Crow school. All of the streets on which Negro school children live, regardless of the location of the streets within the city, were included in one zone.

On September 21, 1954, a petition was filed with the District Court seeking a temporary restraining order restraining the School Board from forcing the children who had registered at the two white schools to return to the Negro school.

Personal Touch
By MARIE
ROSS

One of the nicest things to happen to Mrs. John Mathews of 1116 School street, followed her Thanksgiving dinner when she entertained Mr. and Mrs. James Phillips.

"The next day I received from them a beautiful thank-you card," Mrs. Mathews informed.

"Isn't that the customary thing to do—send a kind hostess—a thank-you card?" I asked Mrs. Mathews. "Yes, it is but this is the first time I have received a thank-you card after entertaining, and I feel proud of it," the hostess revealed.

Immediately I went back to my desk where I had been discussing church news with the Rev. J. E. Hunter, pastor of St. Paul AME church, and told him that a lady just told me that her Thanksgiving Day dinner guests sent her a thank-you card, and she was thrilled.

"I guess I had better get a few thank-you cards in the mail," I confessed and minister who sat speechless, added, "I was just thinking, too."

Mrs. Rufus Owens, 945 Seventeenth street, chatting one day on the street, remarked that she liked best to read about how I spend my holidays at home in Kansas.

Well, so that Mrs. Owens will not be looking in vain this week, I spent Thanksgiving in Des Moines at the home of the John E. Johnsons, 2407 Garfield, where the turkey had been cooked by VA secretary, Marri; the cornbread dressing supervised by her Waterworks husband, John; the cranberry sauce made by their 14-year-old daughter, Jean; and their 5-year-old John on the door as butler. Will Interview Women For Officer Posts in Medical Specialist Corps

Chicago, Ill.—First Lieutenant Viola M. Lentz, Women's Medical Specialist Corps personnel procurement officer from Fifth Army Headquarters in Chicago, will be in Des Moines, Iowa, on 4, 5, and 6 December, to discuss training opportunities in dietetics, occupational therapy and physical therapy with interested young women of this community.

She may be reached at the Hotel Kirkwood, and will be pleased to answer questions concerning the Army Women's Medical Specialist Corps.

Lieutenant Lentz states that, "the opportunities in these fields have almost no limit," and points out that there are far more positions available in both military and civilian hospitals than there are trained women to fill them.

enjoyed every crumb, and I have dropped in the mail the customary "thank-you" card.

And, while I was giving thanks here, my mother was back in her home town, Washington, D. C., with her relatives, and she is still there visiting with my sister, Alberta, and the school where she teaches; and my sister, Sylvia, who used to live here, and her children on their farm at Annapolis, Md. My mother hopes to return to Kansas by the middle of the month. She added in her recent letter that since I like the planes "why not fly into the East sometime?"

"But, back to the subject of common courtesies and customary etiquette, which include thank-you notes and gifts, I checked a recent publication which listed most of the occasions to express one's good manners.

"If you've spent the week end at someone's home, especially for the first time, it is customary to send a small gift to the hostess," the book said. Many persons will be house guests during the coming holiday season. Choose something appropriate—like ash trays, memo pad for kitchen or telephone table, fine bath soap, bath salts, guest towels, some delicacy, a recording or a favorite book, the book listed.

Under the topic of "Courtesy Calls," in this hurried day and age, visits of condolence or congratulations to a newly-engaged girl or of encouragement to a sick friend are usually

MRS. JESSIE MAE EDMUNDS
A Red Cross First Aid class will begin Monday, Dec. 13, at St. Paul AME church, instructed by Mrs. Jessie Mae Edmunds, for nine weeks. As a preface, the Rev. J. E. Hunter, pastor, announced, two Red Cross films will be shown at the church Sunday night, Dec. 5, 7:30 o'clock. They are entitled "Danger Is Your Companion," and "The Miracle of Paradise Valley."

reserved for good friends. But, if the person is a casual acquaintance, a greeting card or letter conveying your feelings will usually suffice.

"Nothing, however, can substitute for a personal visit to a new neighbor, to help her feel at home in our community. And you will be considered thoughtful if you phone first to arrange a time that will be convenient for both of you."

Calling cards may be used; to express your happiness to a girl who has announced her engagement; to convey sympathy and condolence to a friend; to say "I had a lovely time at your party;" to invite someone to a gathering; to accept or refuse an invitation you've received; to explain that you called at someone's home, and your host or hostess was away; to inform your friends of your new address when you move; a brief message, sent with a gift or flowers; to welcome the arrival of a new neighbor; to welcome a couple just back from their honeymoon.

To show how some manners and customs change with the time, one etiquette book published in 1922 that everyone knows that tipping is a European custom and is entirely un-American in principle.

A 1954 etiquette book stated that "the tipping practice is relatively simple." On the train, the chair car porter receives 25 cents for the day

Mrs. Eisenhower Expressed Interest In YWCA Camp

Mamie Doud Eisenhower, an ex-Iowan, has expressed her interest in a YWCA camp swimming pool near Boone. In a letter to Mrs. A. H. Blank 5206 Waterbury Road, co-chairman of the YWCA camp development drive—the wife of the President enclosed "a small donation" and expressed her best wishes "for great success in your efforts to raise these funds."

The YWCA committee is seeking to raise $81,350 by December 20. Mostly for a swimming pool, funds raised will also go for replacing buildings destroyed in a flood last summer and for preventing further flood losses. The YWCA camp, eight miles north of Boone, has been without a swimming pool since it was established 30 years ago.

Mrs. Eisenhower's letter, on White House stationery and dated November 23rd, read: "I am delighted to have an opportunity to participate in the campaign being held for the benefit of the YWCA Camp near Boone, Iowa. I think it will be wonderful to have a swimming pool there, and am enclosing herewith a money order as a small donation toward this very worthy cause."

"My best wishes also come with this little note for great success in your efforts to raise these funds." The President's wife was born in Boone.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

Bath-time and nap-time for baby offers excellent subject material for a picture story.

Pictures in a Series Tell a Story

One picture is always good—but there are many snapshot situations in which it is a shame not to take a whole series. Pictures in a series can tell a heartwarming story of family life that will be a treasured part of the snapshot album.

The small try of the household are always good subject material for a picture story. The day in the life of a baby is so worth recording. Flash on camera makes such pictures easy to take. You can follow baby's activities wherever they normally take place—from nursery to bath to the kitchen. And, if that is baby's day to go out, perhaps for a visit to grandmother, it's a wise mother indeed who takes the flash camera along to include this part of the day in the picture story.

In addition to making up an interesting section for your family album, these picture stories can bring pleasure to other people as well. Out-of-town friends and relatives would be delighted to receive a note from you enclosing a set of snapshots like those shown above. Fond grandparents would be pleased as punch to receive a small album which traces in pictures the activities of a favorite grandchild in a typical day.

It's always a good idea to share your snapshots. Extra prints from your negatives are inexpensive and are bound to be welcomed by others who share your interest in the subject. We all like to find letters in our mailboxes—but a letter with a snapshot, or a series of snapshots, is something extra special. —John Van Guilder

POOR LABOR RELATIONS HURT THE COMMUNITY

Charles F. Ivers member of the City Council, niquired at a meeting Monday, if something could not be done to settle the strike at the local Firestone plant which has been going on for more than a month. He called attention to the hardships many families are suffering because no money was coming into the homes, yet bills were going on just the same. (The company and union agreed on a settlement Tuesday night which must be ratified by the members and the national body.)

This was a timely admonition and while the city could do nothing other than offer its service, prolonged strikes do a lot of damage. And while small gains are won here and there, the increase is passed on to the consumer, prices continue to rise and the strikes never catch up financially before the next strike.

But aside from what these strikes do to the immediate workers, they do great harm to the community as a whole.

Gov.-elect Hoegh said during his campaign that he would work to bring more industry to the state. It's a good thing. But when prospective business firms think of coming here, they are interested in employer-employee relations. And these prolonged strikes don't argue very well.

Some few years ago, Des Moines lost a very fine factory, the Penn Electric Switch Company, because its management got disgusted with the attitude of labor leaders who seemed more interested in killing the plant off than maintaining jobs for the workers.

Labor and management must do a better job of getting along for while strikes make a few gains for the rank and file they lose so much while negotiations are going on that is never caught up.

JONES' SELECTION A FINE RECOGNITION OF MERIT

It's an inspiration for a man when his friends recognize ability and award honor because of that ability.

And that is why Calvin Jones, Iowa's All-American guard, was selected by his teammates as captain of the Iowa University football team for 1955.

Jones came to Iowa University in 1952 along with two fellow high school teammates from Stubbenville, Ohio. His home state was much wrought up trying all sorts of deals to get him back. But Jones stood fast because he said "the boys got better treatment at Iowa."

He has done a great job both as a player and a builder of morale among the men. And his selection as captain shows that Jones knew a good thing when he saw it.

This is not the first time Iowa has had a Negro captain of its football team for in 1937 Homer Harris was so honored. All these things show that young folks are far out in front of the oldsters in passing out deserving recognition.

PEIPING GOVERNMENT KEEPS PRESSURE ON

Communist China certainly manages to keep the pressure on the western powers by doing one illegal stunt after another with reckless disregard for their consequences.

Its most recent act was the sentencing of 13 American prisoners to terms in prison after trial on charges of espionage. The evidence upon which the men was convicted has not been made available but the state department has termed the whole thing a trumped-up charge.

America has lodged a formal protest with the Peiping government which was almost completely ignored.

Nations have gone to war over just such incidents. And there are those in America who are badly wrought up over the incident sufficient to take warlike measures against the communists. But their ideas will not prevail.

Nations have tried to set up machinery to deal with disputes between governments. And being an orderly government, surely our state department will use that machinery to deal with this most recent knotty problem.

America can best maintain its position of world leadership by refusing to stoop to illegal methods to settle disputes simply because the other fellow follows that course.

COMMISSION BOBBLES ON PHEASANT POPULATION

Before the 1954 pheasant season opened last month, the state conservation commission announced that there were ten percent more birds than in 1953.

Reports from hunters, who went in all parts of the state, show that the situation is just the reverse—that the pheasant population is dwindling each year.

The Bystander has said on more than one occasion that the commission is working in the wrong direction. Planting a few eggs and chicks here and there annually does not do the job.

Experienced hunters said that in the territory most thickly populated with birds heretofore, the cover has been cleared away so completely that there is no place for them to hide and thus they scatter away, hatch out very poorly and nest in lowlands where rain destroys many eggs and young chicks.

Hunters pay more money for licenses to hunt pheasants in Iowa than any other game. Surely, a large share of this money should be spent wisely to build up and maintain a fair pheasant population.

up the middle of the Hawkeye line—seldom charging forward—thereby restricting his moves with slants to the right or left.

Several times during the last season, writers asked Evashevski, if Jones was playing as well as he did in '53.

"He's playing better," replied Evy. "He's the greatest lineman I've ever coached."

After the 1954 season was over, Evashevski announced that Jones played the entire season with a broken wrist, although advised against it by Evy and Dr. W. D. Paul, team physician.

"Nothing can keep me from playing," Jones told Evy.

Look All America

New York—Two Negro grid stars have been chosen for the 1954 Look Magazine All America. The selections were made by the 750-member Football Writers Association of America. They appear in the next issue of Look.

Rugged Calvin Jones, an Iowa guard, and Art Walker, Michigan's giant tackle, were named to the All-America for their aggressive, hard-driving line play. Look said in announcing the awards.

On Special Plane
The entire Look All America, including Walker and Jones, went to New York City on Thursday, December 2, on a specially chartered Trans World Airlines Constellation for a round of awards, banquets, television and radio appearances.

The players will receive an engraved, specially designed Lord Elgin Clubman watch to commemorate their All America selection at a sports banquet in Gene Leone's famous restaurant. The ceremonies will be broadcast nationally by Harry Wismer over the Mutual Broadcasting System (9:30 P. M., EST) Friday, December 3.

The Look All America will appear on the Jackie Gleason Show (CBS-TV) on Saturday, December 4, and they will receive a white Volt football autographed by every member of the team as souvenirs of the trip.

The 1954 Look All America: Ends: Ron Beagle—Navy, Max Boydston—Oklahoma, Dean Dugger—Ohio State, Frank McDonald—Miami.
Tackles: William Brooks—Arkansas, Sid Fournet—Louisiana State, Darris McCord—Tennessee, Art Walker—Michigan.

Guards: Tom Bettis—Purdue, Calvin Jones—Iowa, Frank Mincevic—South Carolina, Jim Salisbury—U.C.L.A.

Centers: Kurt Burris—Oklahoma, Hal Easterwood—Mississippi State.

Sandy Saddler Must Fight By Dec. 14

New York—(CNS)—Sandy Saddler got an ultimatum from NBA this week. He must defend his title by December 14th "or else." Sandy meanwhile took in the Davis-Bassett bout at Madison Square Garden and went into ecstasy over Teddy Red Top Davis. "He looked excellent. I was surprised he boxed so well. He made this fellow do what he wanted, he was really great."

overall picture of her play, keeps her on her toes at the end result she is seeking and never lets her get bogged down with just words. As she explains it: "You have to keep the continuity in your mind. Then you can fill out, not matter what any one else does."

This is a method you can advise for few people. La Kitt is someone special, delightfully different, through surprisingly she's unaware of it herself.

HEALTH FOR ALL

NO SHAWL FOR GRANDMA

A little old lady in a shawl and lace cap sitting with her hands folded in her lap—that's the way Grandma's picture has been painted for generations. It's high time for the grandmothers of the world to stand up and fight this unfair picture. In doing so, they will be fighting for their lives.

Doctors say that "babying" elderly people until they feel useless only hurries them to the grave. It is just as foolish to overprotect our aged parents as to overindulge our children. Overprotection can turn a happy, useful person into a cranky dependent, dragging miserably through the last years of life. Grandma would rather get a big dinner for the family than be taken out to the finest restaurant. Whistler's Mother would have looked happier rolling out a pie.

SPORTS

BY ALLEN ASHBY

The selection of Cal Jones as Iowa's 1955 captain wasn't too much of a surprise. The big fellow was one of the logical choices. Twice all-star honors, all that could come to one guy came his way, and he demonstrated that he was a natural leader.

The night side guys in the Register's sports department were glad for Cal as they call him, though most of them have never seen him play. It was quite a difference from the time Homer Harris was elected captain of the 1937 eleven. Then just about every one knew Iowa wasn't going to have much of a season. Most of the writers who were in our presence expressed surprise that night. They hoped it wouldn't go to his head. "You know these things effect you fellows." We raised the question that a fellow wouldn't let an event go to his head any more than any other boy would.

Then Harris could easily have been mistaken for white, but there is no mistaking the identity of Jones. We wish the fellow the best of luck and hope he leads the Hawkeyes to an unbeaten season.

Miscellaneous

If you saw the telecast of the Canadian championship football game, you were probably surprised to see John Bright playing strictly on defense. But remember Bright was a defensive bearcat in his freshman year at Drake. He did all right Saturday.

Boxing

After the Johnny Saxton-Kid Gallivan mess, a fight like the one between Red Davis and Percy Bassett was a relief. It looks like Rocky Marciano intends to pick his spots and remain champion a long time. Now he is waiting out Archie Moore, light heavy king. About one more year should do it.

He waited out Charles until he knew that Ez was over the hill. Then his handler almost miscalculated. But Rocky, Valdez is younger than you are.

Basketball

The great Du Sable high, all Negro quintet of Chicago, has broken up.

The trend a few decades ago was to put people over 60 on the shelf. Fortunately many refused to stay there. Now doctors tell us how important useful work is in keeping them healthy and contented. Even those with heart trouble often do much better if they have light work. Sitting around worrying and complaining is more strain on the heart muscle.

Industries that used to have arbitrary retirement ages are beginning to take a new look at their policies. Retirement at 60 may hinder rather than help a person to begin to live in quiet contentment. It may make him feel unwanted and inferior. Gradually slowing down of activity, Switching to lighter or less time-consuming work, and preparation for new interests that can be followed when full retirement comes—this is industry's progressive plan.

Sons and daughters may well go along with the findings of both industry and the medical profession. The whole family, as well as its older members will benefit. Grandma may have to struggle against well-meant efforts to wrap her in a shawl, but the results in better health and real contentment will be worth it.

DEAR DECEMBER

Dear December—month of glory dressed in mantle pure and white, sing Noels and tell the story . . . of His birth, of Christmas Night.

Far across the deep blue waters little town of Bethlehem . . . there the star of David shineth, whence came all good will to men. May the peace that He hath given cause all people to remember . . . who we glorify on Christmas; why this is our Dear December. Glen A. Gallagher. (First American Serial Rights Only) trade unions in order to prepare the community for acceptance of desegregation by September, 1955.

2. That school boards be encouraged to take a firm and positive position for early compliance with the unanimous decision of the United States Supreme Court on May 17, 1954 holding segregation in public schools unconstitutional.

3. That active support be given to individuals and groups who seek to implement the Supreme Court ruling.

4. That, in the absence of organized Negro civic units in a community, state units of the NAACP assist the local people.

5. That efforts of outside groups to prevent integration and the role of bigoted elements in defiance of the Supreme Court decision be exposed.

Total Resources

6. That the total resources of the NAACP, including legal action where necessary, be utilized to achieve integration.

In opening remarks Nov. 27, Roy Wilkins, NAACP administration, reiterated the Association's position against gradualism. "We do not believe," he told the delegates, "that our children who have so long been deprived of their opportunities should now have to depend on the whims of thousands of localities to secure their constitutional rights as Americans."

The NAACP official cited the brief filed by the Association's lawyers for argument on the decrees to NAACP field secretary; Bowen Jack-be issued by the Supreme Court for implementation of its May 17 decision. "It would be paradoxical," the brief asserts, "if it were decided for the first time that constitutional rights may be postponed because of anticipation of difficulties arising out of local feeling. These cases were brought to vindicate rights which, as a matter of common knowledge and legal experience, need above all others, protection against local attitudes and patterns of behavior."

Ways Discussed

At the afternoon's session, ways of working with school boards to implement integration were discussed by Robert L. Carter, NAACP assistant special counsel; Spottswood Robinson, III, NAACP attorney for Virginia; Dr. Margaret Just Butcher, member of the District of Columbia board of education; and Wagner D. Jackson, president of the Wilmington, Del. NAACP branch.

Speakers at the morning session on organizing the community to support the integration program included Joseph V. Baker, public relations consultant; Henry Lee Moon, NAACP public relations director; the Reverends C. Anderson Davis of Bluefield, West Va., and John L. Tilley of Baltimore; Maurice Fagan, executive director of the Fellowship Commission; and Herbert Hill, NAACP labor relations assistant.

Willard Brown, chairman of the NAACP West Virginia legal redress committee, reported on the demonstrations against integration at the high school in White Sulphur Springs. The Milford, Del. situation was reported on by John W. Flamer.

son, executive secretary of the Baltimore NAACP branch told of the disturbance in that city. Eugene Davidson president of the District of Columbia branch reported on the situation in the nation's capital.
