Prominent AME Minister, Wife Killed in Crash

News reached here Tuesday from the Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Ogleton of Burlington, Iowa, that the Rev. and Mrs. B. N. Moore of Peoria, Ill., had been killed early that morning in a motor car accident.

The Rev. and Mrs. Moore, who had visited in Des Moines on several occasions with her sister, Mrs. Ogleton, were enroute to the Bishop's Council meeting this week in Waco, Texas.

The Rev. Mr. Moore formerly pastored the St. James AME church in St. Paul, Minn. Mrs. Moore, who headed the choir, was a coloratura soprano and had appeared in a number of concerts throughout this section of the country.

The Rev. Mr. Moore had been pastoring in Peoria for the past three years.

The funeral will be held Monday in Peoria.

$15,000 Embezzled From D. C. Office

Washington, D. C.—(CNS)—One of its oldest employees, Mrs. Britania E. Parmes, who has been with the company for more than 20 years, has been accused of embezzling more than $15,000 from the Washington branch of North Carolina Mutual Life Insurance Company. The company is the largest Negro-owned insurance firm in the country.

Mrs. Parmes, 40 years old, is being accused of pulling index cards of policy holders who paid premiums by mail and converting this money for her own personal use.

Suspicion was finally aroused from the home office in Durham, N. C., when it noticed that so many policyholders apparently did not pay their premiums until just before the policies were about to lapse. Then an auditor was sent from the main office.

Mrs. Parmes often worked late at night as a trusted employee of the firm. She was arrested by Lt. David Higgins.

Two Arrested in Narcotics Raids

In a raid of four places in the Center Street district last Friday night, the Des Moines police vice squad and the state narcotics bureau arrested two men, Capt. Louis Volz, head of the vice squad, said a quantity of narcotics was seized in the raids.

Arrested and held for questioning were Roy Robinson Clark, Jr., 28, and Robert Wesley Massey, Jr., 29, in a house at 1205 Center street.

Volz said narcotics were found on Clark's person. Also seized were hypodermic needles and spoons used in the administration of drugs.

More narcotics were found in a room at the G. & W. Hotel, 762½ Ninth street. Volz said. He added the occupants of the room were gone

Air Force Captain And Family Welcomed By Waverly Citizens

Democracy went into action in Waverly, Iowa, last week when news stories exposed the fact that an air force captain and his family had met with "racial pressure" when they sought housing in a Waverly apartment house in order to be nearer to

Democracy Goes Into Fast Action in Waverly, Ia. As 'Racial Pressure' Is Exposed

When the news and pictures hit the wires and went over the nation that an air force captain stationed at a radar installation near Waverly, Ia., had run into "racial pressure" because he sought to move his wife and family into Waverly's Miller Apartments, to be nearer his job, democracy went into action.

What might have been an unpleasant experience for Capt. Virgil A. Daniels, and his family turned out to be a city-wide welcoming with him being presented several keys.

Last Wednesday Captain Daniels, 37, said he changed his mind about renting the apartment after the project manager told him he had received several complaints about renting to "colored people." Nick Lamberto, Register Staff writer, reported in his interview with the captain.

Clele Baker, apartment rental manager, said he called Captain Daniels into "talk things over" after receiving "four complaints and three other mentions" about the proposed rental to Daniels.

Threats to Move

"Mr. Baker told me that some tenants had threatened to move because they didn't want to live with colored people or near colored people," Daniels said.

Baker said he laid the cards on the table in his talk with Daniels, who is a brother of Billy Daniels, radio, TV and movie singing star.

"I told him he could move in if he wanted to," Baker said. "But I advised him not to. I told him about tenants who said they would move out if colored people moved in."

Baker said he had contacted the office of the apartment owner, the John G. Miller Construction Co., of Waterloo, and had been told that there could be "no racial discrimination on a federal project."

The 24-unit apartment house, built about two years ago, was financed by FHA (Federal Housing Administration).

Live in Waterloo

Captain Daniels and his wife, Inez, 27, have three children—Joyce E., 11; Virgil A., Jr., 9, and Gwendolyn, 2. They now live in a 6-room house at 518 Cottage st., Waterloo. The two older children go to St. Mary's. SEE PAGE SIX

Capital Close-Up From Washington

BY CONSTANCE DANIEL

Mattiwilda Dobbs Acclaimed—Washingtonians braved snow, sleet and icy streets last week, to hear lovely coloratura soprano Mattiwilda Dobbs at Lisner Auditorium. The most grudging critics hailed her "impeccable intonation," others acclaimed her as "an opera singer of distinguished attainments, with obviously clear future triumphs."

Miss Dobbs climaxed her offerings with the Hymn to the Sun, from Rimsky-Korsakoff's "Coq d'or," sung in English, as it was at her royal command performance at Covent Garden, London.

Critic Paul Hume, of the Washington Post, commented, significantly, "It is essential that her future triumphs take place in this country where she was born and trained, even though her rise to fame has come in the great opera house of Europe."

Services were held Monday at Corinthian Baptist church for Mrs. Ella G. Gibbons, 62, of 824 Fourteenth street. Burial was in Pine Hill Cemetery.

Mrs. Gibbons died Thursday night, Feb. 17, after a heart attack at her home.

Born in Enid, Okla., she had lived in Des Moines for 40 years. She was employed as a maid at the home of Dr. Clifford Losh, Jr.

Mrs. Gibbons was a member of the Daughters Elks, Iowa Buxton Club, Corinthian Baptist church and Pastor's Aid; and Rebecca Household of Ruth, No. 339.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Maxine Edward of Des Moines, and Eva Rogers of Cedar Rapids, and a sister, Mrs. Melinda Long of Clarinda.

Force Removal of South Africans like Nazi Acts

New York—The forced removal of Negro families from their homes in Sophiatown, Johannesburg, South Africa, is a revival of "one of the most infamous practices of the Nazis and Soviet Russia," editorializes the current issue of The Crisis magazine, official journal of the NAACP.

"Forced resettlement of any people is odious and repugnant to the sense of human dignity," the editorial declares. "It is infinitely abhorrent when done out of race prejudice."

Evicted

"These 60,000 Negroes, many of whom have lived in Sophiatown for over fifty years, are being evicted from land which the government permitted them to buy years ago, but now that the whites want it, they must move on like so many tagged sheep. . . . The whole operation is a serious matter with dangerous implications for the future."

Other editorials in the March issue of The Crisis call for vigilance on the part of NAACP members "to see to it that pending federal school construction legislation contains provisions which will make it impossible for state or school districts to evade the May 17 Supreme Court public school ruling," and suggest that advocates of racial segregation stop trying "to alarm their customers with the same bugaboo" of "interracial sex."

Wife of Thurgood Marshall is Buried in Philadelphia

New York.—Funeral rites were held Feb. 15 at the St. Philip's Episcopal church here for Mrs. Vivein Marshall, wife of Thurgood Marshall, chief defense counsel of the NAACP. Burial was in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Marshall, 44, died Feb. 11 at her home, 409 Edgecombe Ave., after an illness of four months. The cause of death was cancer, a family spokesman said.

Mrs. Marshall, who was affectionately called "Buster" by her friends across the country, first became ill last October and was in the Fifth Avenue Flower hospital for a few weeks. She had been confined to her home since that time. She died on her birthday.

Marshall is head of the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund which spearheaded the school segregation cases that resulted in the May 17 Supreme Court decision outlawing segregation in public schools. He is also special counsel for the NAACP.

Mayor Blasts Manager of Urmey Hotel for Refusal To Serve 24 Invited Guests

Miami, Fla.—An attorney for the Dade County G.O.P. said he will recommend a damage suit against the owner of a hotel who asked 24 Negro Republicans to leave a Lincoln Day dinner.

Officers of the county political organization, which sponsored the dinner, held a special meeting to consider legal action against E. N. Claughton, owner of the Urmey Hotel.

Civil Suit

Atty. Mark Casper said he would ask for a civil suit of "between $250,000 and $500,000," to be filed. He said he also was checking to see "if action might be brought for violation of civil rights of the Negroes."

The Negroes were members of the Dade County Republican Executive Committee and had been invited to the affair by Wesley Garrison, state Republican chairman and co-chairman of the event.

After hotel president E. N. Claughton, Sr. ordered the Negroes to leave, white members told the Negroes to stay. The hotel official, amid bedlam, grabbed the microphone and shouted, "I'll turn out every light in the place unless these — Negroes get out of here."

The Negroes remained seated in the dining room while a near-riot occurred in the lobby, with whites pushing whites. Bishop E. L. Peterson of the American Orthodox Catholic Church then led the Negroes in a walk-out.

'Turn Over'

Mr. Garrison then took the microphone and said that he was leaving, too, because "Abe Lincoln would turn over in his grave if he saw what just happened. I couldn't live with myself if I stayed in this hotel after they had forced some other Americans to leave."

Approximately 150 of the whites, among the 400 guests, got up and left with Garrison and the Negroes. E. L. Douglas, a Negro and assistant-

No Federal Aid to Jimcrow Schools NAACP Urges

New York—A resolution adopted by the Board of Directors of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People calls upon Congress to make federal aid to education "available only to such states as comply fully with the spirit and purpose of the Constitution."

The resolution, made public here Feb. 17, by Board Chairman Channing I. Tobias, cites the Supreme Court decision of May 17, 1954, banning segregation in public education and declares that "national legislative intent must be brought into conformity with the Constitution as now finally construed."

New Buildings

The drive to secure federal aid for the construction of new school buildings has been given new impetus by President Eisenhower's proposal reviously, Senator Lister Hill (D., Ala.) had introduced a bill providing emergency federal funds for new schools. Neither measure includes a clause prohibiting the use of federal funds for segregated schools. The NAACP resolution, adopted at the Board's regular monthly meeting on Feb. 14, does not indicate a preference for either bill.

In view of the Supreme Court decision, the NAACP resolution holds that "any new federal legislation in aid of education in the states at whatever level or of whatever character should contain corrective and safeguarding" clauses prohibiting the use of such funds for the development or maintenance of segregated schools.

Safeguards

Not only should this prohibition be embodied in any new acts of Congress, the resolution asserts, but existing legislation which does not have such safeguards should be amended "in the present session of Congress to permit federal funds in

Objects to Revival Of 'Emperor Jones'

New York—The NAACP objected this week to a proposed revival on television of the Eugene O'Neill play, "The Emperor Jones."

In a telegram sent to the Kraft Foods Company in Chicago, sponsors of the proposed program, Roy Wilkins, NAACP administrator, asserted: "Our organization believes that revival of this play 'The Emperor Jones' is most untimely and may tend to perpetuate unwholesome racial stereotypes."

Steady Progress

"During this period of steady progress towards a more democratic society, presentation of this play may prove harmful. Accordingly, we would urge your company to replace this program with a play more in line with the spirit of the times."

Discussing "The Emperor Jones" in a column written for newspaper publication last summer, Walter White, executive secretary of the NAACP, declared that "whatever O'Neill's intent, the play is a skilled composite of virtually every stereotype of the Negro ever conceived—a creature of fear, superstition and ignorance, addicted to jargonish dialect, and patently one with so thin a veneer of civilization that the least upset caused its wearer to revert to the barbarism of the African jungle."

Stereotypes

Despite a succession of court decisions and other advances over racial prejudices and stereotypes, there are still far too many Americans whose concept of the Negro parallels that of O'Neill. The time will come when "The Emperor Jones" can be presented with public acceptance of its central character as a human being who disintegrates when obsessed with power, and not as one who is typical of a race.

Legislators Offer Bill to Rid Maryland Of Discrimination

Annapolis, Md.—(CNS)—The two Negro legislators in the Maryland General Assembly are trying to rid the state of discrimination by making it illegal to ban people from public places because of race, creed or color. In the bills as proposed by Senator Cole in the Senate and Representative Cole in the House, discrimination would be ended in such places as hotels, restaurants, amusements and resorts.

Moreover, violators would be liable to fines up to $500 and 90 days in jail and suspension of their license for 30 days. It would also be illegal to discriminate in employment on public projects or dispensing public welfare.

Inducted

New York—"It Can Be Done" is the title of a 12-page illustrated pamphlet on school desegregation published Feb. 10, by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. The pamphlet cites the progress already made in getting rid of segregated schools, indicates that Negro teachers need not fear for their jobs in an integrated school system, and points out the steps and conditions needed to achieve desegregation of the schools.

In the near future a meeting will be set up on Sunday at the Des Moines Filter Center, 1117 High Street. The purpose of the meeting will be for the new members to get training on calling all aircraft that Committee, whose co-chairman is Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, former Minister to Norway.

Dr. Mazique's talk concerning taxation without representation (he says 70 percent of De-Ceer-ers polled want the vote), and the common home rule position of the two major political parties, also underscores "The Racial Issue and the Vote." He charges "the reluctance of a great many Congressmen to favor Home Rule" for the National Capital, to a determination "not to extend suffrage to Washington Negroes" in order to prevent their possible control of the Capital's politics.

The Negro says Ed Mazique, "seeks the vote not because of his race, but because he is a citizen." He points to the Capital's recently integrated schools, medical societies, hospitals, theaters, restaurants and hotels, a proof that the elective franchise can be effected without incident.

U. S. Information

Lillie T. Vaden, an alert young member of the United States Information Agency, just back from two years in the Philippines, shared Negro History honors at Capital Press Club, recently, with Albert N. D. Brooks, Secretary-Treasurer of the Negro History Association, and editor of its Bulletin, (who needs plenty of help, financial and otherwise).

Miss Vaden has been back in the mountains with the Huks, and has supervised public affairs in six Philippine provinces. Back in the States on leave, she is awaiting re-assignment and hopes to draw a non-tropical post—for a climate break. She holds undergraduate and graduate degrees from Howard, and is a former H. U. instructor.

Personal Touch
By MARIE ROSS

Thinking of better race relations and Brotherhood Week programs, Mrs. Eddie Bolden, 1110 Twelfth street, wrote a few lines which she entitled "The Lost Soul."

"What if he is not 'your color'?" she queried. And, "he has no place to go. Take his hand and take him with you—for God bars no race or color."

"You can be that way, too, if you try. Lift him up and help him find himself—or place. Show him your church. Ask him to go or come. Give him new hope. No matter what is his color or faith—God's house doesn't bar anyone."

Willing to put into the practice the principles of Brotherhood which have been discussed much in meetings this week is an official of one large institution in Des Moines who is seeking for staff addition, a young woman, "experienced in extending a warm welcome to the general public, in person and on the telephone; able to use a typewriter, do some filing and handle some finances."

Now, someone just out of high school will not have had sufficient experience in dealing with the general public, which is the most important part of the job. But there may be some young adult just waiting to get back on a staff job—from 8 to 5 p. m., daily except Saturday and Sunday. If so, drop a note to Personal Touch Column for further information, as the job is to be filled soon.

Another letter arrived recently to the column from Alcyonetta C. Ballard, 931 23rd street, who after going to see about a job, does not know whether she got "the run-around"—or just was too late for job. But here's her experience as she described it:

"I thought you would no doubt like to hear about a job I went to seek. It was at the Iowa Farm Mutual Insurance Company, for 3 hours evening work. I was referred to them by the Iowa Employment Service. The company called the Service late Thursday evening and they posted a notice on the elevator about 4:25.

"I work for the Employment Security Commission, which is in the same building and Pauline Gilbert, the elevator operator notified me as soon as the notice was posted and I went right down and asked about the job. I left for the Farm Insurance at 4:45 and arrived there about 4:55 and asked for Mr. Jensen.

"The girl told me he was out but that he was expecting me, so I could wait. I did so until 5:30. I stepped to the reception desk and I asked the girl if he had his coat and hat on when he went out and she said no. I told her to tell him that I said I didn't think he was man enough to face me and tell me they didn't hire colored. She said, 'I don't think it is that as he is down stairs with 2 girls he was interviewing for secretary's'.

"Just as we finished talking, Mr. Jensen buzzed and she went in and returned and called me and introduced Mr. Jensen and myself. He told me he was sorry he had kept me waiting so long and I said that I was, too, and that I didn't know whether he was trying to avoid me or not. He said no, that he wasn't the big wig around there and when he called, he had to go. He told me he didn't know what I had said to his secretary, but I had certainly upset her. So I in turn told him what I had said, which I am certain she had already done.

"He then asked me how long I had worked for the Security Commission and what my speed at typing was, and which interviewer had sent me over. He scribbled all of that on my referral card, which is supposed to be returned to the Employment Service. Then he said he couldn't use me as the position had been filled about 3:30 that afternoon.

"I asked him did they hire colored. He said, 'for this yes,' which sounded to me as though during the day they wouldn't and I doubt very much that they would at night. I told him I just wanted to know in case I saw the job posted again, and I would know what the score was. I thanked him very much and left."

Well, some other mail arrived this week, from down around the Caribbean Way, where the winter tourists are relaxing on the white sandy beaches and bathing in the crystal clear waters.

Attend Tenth Annual Brotherhood Week Silver Tea

One of the highlights of the annual Brotherhood Week activities in Des Moines was the tenth annual silver tea sponsored by the women's division of the Des Moines Chapter

Schlamp, Byron Kunzman and Leo R. Pearlman. About 400 persons attended the tea. Among the honored guests was Mrs. Leo A. Hoegh, wife of Governor

Hoegh, whose gift corsage was pinned on by Mrs. W. Lawrence Oliver. (Photo Courtesy of D. M. Tribune).

The letter contained four gold-embellished invitations which announced that Governor and Mrs. A. A. Alexander of the Virgin Islands requested my company at a reception to be held at Government House in Charlotte Amalie in honor of The Honorable Douglas McKay, Secretary of the Interior, and The Honorable Ezra Benson, Secretary of Agriculture, on Feb. 22, at 6 p. m.

The next was another invitation for another reception honoring the two distinguished representatives of the government at a reception at the Government House at St. Croix, on Feb. 23, at 5:30 p. m.

The third was in invitation to a reception at the Government House in Charlotte Amalie, honoring The Honorable Richard M. Nixon, Vice President of the United States, Feb. 26, at 5:30 p. m., given by Governor and Mrs. Alexander, former Des Moines residents.

And when I read the fourth invitation which said that Governor and Mrs. Alexander requested the pleasure of my company at a dinner at 8 o'clock this Saturday at the "most magnificent hotel in the Americas"—the Virgin Isle Hotel—located on a mountain top set amidst subtropical gardens which command a sweeping view of the Caribbean Sea—I have been eating bird food to see if I can sprout wings to take off. With all these invitations, here I sit—bundled in alpaca wool and grounded in snow boots!

"Hurrah! for Louise Glass," wrote Mrs. J. L. Edwards of Los Angeles, Cal., in a letter to the column last week.

"I love to hear these mothers and grandmothers talk like that about the whiskey business."

"Hurrah! for Personal Touch. I love the Bystander better and better," penned the former Des Moines resident.

Mrs. Edwards referred to a recent letter in which Mrs. Glass said in part that "many people offer the defense that temperate drinking is no worse than temperate eating."

"I hear of a man who goes home and beats up his family because he has indulged too much in lemon pie..." Mrs. Edwards resides in Los Angeles at 1939 West Blvd.

In announcing the move, UPWA President Ralph Helstein said, "Mrs. Simmons is typical of a number of able women who are moving forward in the leadership of this union."

This welcome development is the fruit of UPWA's established policy of encouraging the thousands of women members in its ranks to take active interest in union affairs and to assume positions of leadership responsibility."

Insurance Co. and 2 Labor Unions Join Aid To Mississippi Victims

New York—Deposits by two labor unions and an insurance company brought to a total of $143,500 the amount of money deposited in the Tri-State Bank of Memphis in response to an NAACP appeal to expand the bank's capacity for making business loans to victims of economic reprisals in Mississippi, Roy Wilkins, NAACP administrator, announced this week.

The new depositors, each of which sent $10,000 to the bank, are the Peoples Life Insurance Company of Louisiana, New Orleans; the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, AFL, New York City; and the United Automobile Workers, CIO, Detroit. Deposits totaling $113,500 by individuals and organizations had previously been announced.

The appeal for such deposits was made by the NAACP following reports from Mississippi of the refusal of certain white lending agencies to extend credit to NAACP members and others who advocate civil rights and call for compliance with the United States Supreme Court ruling against segregation in public schools.

On Feb. 23, members of the congregation will take turns in a 24 hour vigil, adding another link in the 365 days of continuous prayer.

They will be relieved by other groups as day and night, around the clock, clergymen, laymen, women and children kneel at the altars of city and country churches.

On New Year's Day the chain's first links were hammered out in the prayers of Methodists in eleven cities and towns—joining the staff and employees of the Methodist General Board of Evangelism and three of the Nashville Churches in the Upper

New York, Washington, Chicago, Memphis, San Antonio; Phoenix, Arizona; Ashland, Kentucky; Minter City, Mississippi; Holden, Missouri, and Springfield, Oregon.

Every day of the year is scheduled for two more churches. When the year 1, 1956 at 6 P. M., in churches last "Amen" is whispered next Jan. of Odgen, Utah, and Allston, Massachusetts, it is estimated that 50,000 to 100,000 persons will have participated in the relay prayer.

Is Your Pooch By Chance A 'Canie Centenarian'?

Are there any canine centenarians in this area?

A dog research organization in New York is most anxious to know of them and has asked the cooperation of this newspaper in locating them. They are being sought in connection with a projected scientific study that may mean much to the greater well-being of dogs and perhaps also of humans.

To qualify as a "canine centenarian" a dog must be at least 17 years of age, according to our correspondent, the Gaines Dog Research Center. (Seventeen years in the life of a dog is believed to be roughly equivalent to 100 in a human.)

Persons owning or knowing of dogs 17 years old and over, whose exact age can be substantiated, should drop a postcard to the Gaines Dog Research Center, 250 Park Avenue, New York 17, N. Y., listing the breed, sex, date of birth or when and address of the owner. The Center will acknowledge each such card by forwarding a questionnaire designed to ascertain the essential vital data required for the scientific study.

The night club spokesman said that Murray Weinger, operator of Copa City, told Miss Horne "that if it would make her any happier she could be released from the contract, she agreed."

Cancels Engagement At Miami Nite Club

LENA HORNE

New York, N. Y.—Singer Lena Horne has canceled an engagement in a Miami Beach night club and there are two versions of why she did it.

The New York Post said Friday that Miss Horne canceled the engagement at Copa City because the Royal York Hotel in Miami Beach refused her accommodations.

"I think the Royal York canceled my reservations because I'm a Negro," the Post quoted her as saying.

FIRST INSTITUTE ON HUMAN RELATIONS

This week, Des Moines has been host to the First National Institute on Human Relations which was organized here recently. A large number of business, civic and religious organizations sponsored the movement spearheaded by the National Conference of Christians and Jews. Any meeting where free discussion is had on any problem is worthwhile—and this was the case at the meetings—the conference delved into a number of problems bearing on human relations.

Mrs. Dorothy Houghton, assistant director of Foreign Operations Administration, Ralph Helstein president of the UPWA and Senator Capehart of Indiana were the main speakers. Some were prepared on their subjects; some were not. But with the prodding of the audience during question and answer period, much pertinent information was gotten over to the visitors.

Unfortunately, the speakers on the subject "My Community's Crucial Human Relations Problems"—and what should be done about them—were not sufficiently acquainted with their communities to discuss it fully. Each felt he had no problem in his community.

During the question and answer period the situation in Davenport was revealed with the following information:

Office Space: Negroes denied space in downtown buildings. Dentist denied Davenport Bank Building—1st National Bank Bldg. Negro Chiropodist (Former state dash camp from Davenport High, Army Vet, College Grad) has made application to every decent bldg.

Employment: Less than 6 Negroes at Alcoa plant hiring 4,000. None at Bendix Aviation Plant. None at Uchtorff Foundry. Red Jacket Pump has quota. No Negro Clerks in stores. 90% of male Negro working in force to Illinois for work.

Newspapers: Designate race of alleged criminal—if Negro. Waverly matter poorly covered and on inside page. Reference to Marian Anderson as "Negress". Failure to print critical letters to editor.

General: Mistreatment of Negroes by Davenport police and nothing done about it. No Negro teachers, policemen or firemen although qualified individuals have applied. Roller rinks closed to individual Negroes. Taverns closed to Negroes.

These conditions prevail in all river towns and to some extent in the inland towns.

No effective interracial organization in them seems to be doing or trying to do anything about it.

Of course, being their first effort, the committee has much to readjust. It was quite evident that the Negro, he number one problem, was not well represented.

However, from the general attitude of the leaders in the movement, the Bystander does not believe it was deliberate by any means.

Like any other beginning, knowledge is gained by experience. Certainly, Iowa will be a better state by having been host to this, the First National Institute on Human Relations.

PROMPT DECISIVE ACTION PAYS OFF

Iowa is proud of the good people in Waverly. And good people is used advisedly because it was the 'bad' people who passed the word on that Capt. Daniels and his family were not welcome in the housing project there.

The prompt manner in which the people in Waverly took charge of the situation is convincing proof that they did not want the stigma of race prejudice on their community and were willing to do something about it.

This unAmerican treatment of Capt. Daniels almost went unnoticed. Being a member of the U. S. Defense Department, Capt. Daniels felt that the less he said against civilians was better than making a protest. He had taken low as evidenced by the withdrawal of his deposit on the apartment.

But through some incident, the press learned what had occurred and most papers, led by the Des Moines Register and Tribune, and the radio stations, turned on the stern pressure so completely that there was nothing left for the Waverly people to do but shoulder the burden and give it a deep burial. This emphasizes the power of the press and radio; it shows clearly that most people don't want to be branded as harbors of race prejudice.

And while we hope no such further incidents will arise, Waverly has set a splendid example of how the good people—not the rotten ones—can and should conduct the affairs of a community.

Waverly Citizens Get Praise for Democratic Action

Expresses Pleasure

Gov. Leo A. Hoegh last Friday expressed his pleasure at seeing the "principles of brotherhood" applied by the people of Waverly in their welcome to Capt. Virgil A. Daniels. "I am very well pleased with the way in which the citizens of Waverly responded to the challenge," Hoegh said. "It was a fine example of how to exercise brotherhood."

"There are always some who want to divide us and it is encouraging to see the kind of response the Waverly people gave," he said.

Waverly Mayor Praised

By NAACP Vice President

Ike Smalls, national vice president of the NAACP, wrote Honorable F. W. Osineup, mayor of Waverly a letter of commendation. It read: "It has been with interest that I have followed the story of Captain Virgil A. Daniels in the local newspapers."

"Our initial concern was followed by the realization that the bias of a few had been publicized as the prejudice of many and our gratification at the way the situation was handled by the citizens of Waverly was heartfelt."

'Not Surprised'

"I was not surprised, rather we were confident that clear-thinking people in a free society would take immediate action to right such a wrong, provided they are not agitated by ignorant people steeped in backward prejudice or by unprincipled politicians who cater to such ignorance in order to secure their own positions."

"I offer our congratulations to you the Chamber of Commerce, and the people of Waverly. Many thanks for proving to others that in Iowa we will not tolerate the concept of segregation and 'second class citizenry,' wrote Mr. Smalls."

ant vice chairman of the Dade City Executive GOP Committee, said that he felt "we had made some progress in this race business, but I guess I was wrong."

He said, "I thought we were further along than this."

Claughton asserted that he had told the banquet committee in advance that Negroes would not be served because of hotel policy. However, Joe Clemons, manager of the hotel's dining room, told reporters that he had been informed there would be colored guests and had agreed to serve them.

Mayor Abe Aronovitz said the refusal of Claughton to allow Negro Republican party leaders to attend the Lincoln Day dinner in his Urney Hotel was "disgraceful."

"I hope the nation will realize that this attitude (Claughton's) is not the attitude of most Americans."

School there. "It's a mixed neighborhood," Captain Daniels said. "It's all right, but I drive a 42-mile round trip to work at least six times a week, maybe more."

The 788th Aircraft Control and Warning Squadron for which Captain Daniels is radar officer is located 5 miles south of Waverly.

"If we lived at Waverly we'd save about $150 a day for transportation and meals," he said. "But that's not the only thing. Socially, I want to live with the people I work with and know. It was all right overseas; why isn't it here?"

"I don't know anyone in Waterloo. None of the fellows I know live there."

Never Used to It

"They tell me that a guy from the south like me ought to be used to this sort of thing. You never get used to this sort of thing."

He is a native of Jacksonville, Fla. Captain Daniels and his family came here from Keosauqua, Ill., in June, 1954. Some of the other officers on the base found housing at the Miller Apartments and when a vacancy came up, Captain Daniels applied for it.

"My wife and I both went down and looked the apartments over," Daniels said. "We put down a $20 deposit and planned to move in about Feb. 1."

Four days later, Daniels said, he was called in by Baker and told about the complaints.

At Waterloo the Daniels pay $75 a month rent, $25 a month for gas

HEALTH FOR ALL

No Medical Smorgasbord

You know how women are when they put their heads together for a good medical gossip. There is always one who seems to have had every known treatment for her ailments. Perhaps her boasting makes you wonder if you are getting everything that's coming to you. You are taking pink pills, but for the same trouble Mrs. Jones got white pills, Mrs. Smith had injections, and Mrs. White had an interesting operation. You wonder whether you might not get better faster if you could have all four.

All of us, of course, want to know that we are receiving the best possible medical care when we are ill. But medical care isn't a smorgasbord where you can try a little of every dish on the table. There often is more than one way of treating a particular ailment, fortunately for all of us. The doctor can choose the method or combination of methods best suited to the individual.

SPORTS

BY ALLEN ASHBY

The kindest thing that could be said about the Golden Gloves is that their bouts have lost their glamour. It was painful to sit there and watch local boys come out for round one, look like champions for that round and then go to pieces because they got tired. It was the same old story.

Ted Shade and Harold Lee are natural fighters, the best around here in their class. Either has the stuff to become a champion at Chicago if he would devote about six months to training. They both probably worked hard for these bouts, but they didn't allow themselves enough time.

This is peculiar error of athletes. With the greatest of opportunities ever the kids don't seem to have the desire to develop and train that are necessary to success. Now, if a youngster has it he can let the sky be his limit. But none wants to work hard enough to reap the rewards.

So we don't know what this Golden Gloves team will amount to. We guess the kids train in their fashion. They set their own pace and work as hard as they want to. How are you gonna get in shape by doing that?

This lethargy applies to just about all athletes. We have no baseball teams. The Negroes on football teams are just the best out.

To mention one more name. Had East High's Jim Clarke been rough as he might have been, he would have run over Roosevelt single-handed. Don't get us wrong. The kid was good, big and fast, a wonderful college prospect as will be Chuck McQuerry, but he just wasn't mean and rough enough as he could have been.

Now we could go on like this forever, but we guess we will stop. See you at the Gloves final Friday.

and electricity and $34 a month for heating oil. The Miller apartment the Daniels selected would have rented for $64 a month.

Could Sue

"But when this fuss came up, most of the people of Waverly were wonderful," Daniels said. "I've received about six phone calls, very warm and friendly, from Waverly people."

"One attorney told me if I really wanted to get into those apartments I could if I sued, since they're government-financed."

"But I really don't know what I'm going to do. I have a chance to get another house in Waverly, but if that falls through I may see a lawyer."

Captain Daniels has been in the air force 12 years. He received his pilot wings and officer's commission 10 years ago. He served 18 months in Korea and Japan. He has three brothers and sisters.

"We didn't have any of this trouble when we were living in Japan," said Captain Daniels. "There was some fuss about integrated housing when we were in Mississippi, but I didn't expect any up here. I was shocked."

Get Invitation

After the news story appeared in the Des Moines Register, with pictures that had been taken and flown to Des Moines by Don Ultang, the Waverly Chamber of Commerce went into action and a 'welcome to Waverly' ceremony was Thursday at 1:30 p. m., in the lounge of Lutheran Mutual Life Insurance Co. here.

Two Other Places

Daniels was also handed the keys to two other places, should he decide

There are many factors the doctor must consider in prescribing treatment. Age, and even weight, can be important. The medical history will give him clues. The patient may be allergic to certain substances. There may be a heart condition to consider. Diseases he has had in the past will enter into the decision. Furthermore, the name of an ailment does not always indicate how sick the individual is. Of two people with the same disease, one may be in the hospital and the other be doing very well at home.

When there is illness in the family, your doctor won't be offended if you ask him about treatments you have heard or read about. You may or may not be able to understand his explanations of why he has chosen a certain course of treatment. But just remember, he's the doctor.

he needs a bigger place.

Mrs. Spear handed Daniels a petition containing the signatures of 16 of the 24 residents of the Miller Apartments. Mrs. Spear's husband led the drive against "racial prejudice" by writing a letter to the Bremer County Independent and Waverly Republican and by circulating an "apology petition."

As Mrs. Spear handed Daniels the petition and the keys to the apartment, she said: "We are very happy to welcome you. We really want you and will be proud to have you as our neighbors."

Petition

The petition stated: "We would like to extend our apologies to Captain and Mrs. Daniels and their family for the injustice committed against them."

"We, the undersigned, residents of the Miller Apartments, assure them that we welcome them as our neighbors and sincerely hope they will reconsider their decision and will make Waverly their home."

Spear, a Waverly businesswoman, said he was sure more of the apartment dwellers would have signed the "apology petition" if they had been available.

FHA Official

Frank C. Wahman of Des Moines, state director of the Federal Housing Administration (FHA), was here to "see that the captain's interests in a federal housing project are protected."

The Miller Apartments, built 2 years ago, are FHA-financed. They are owned by John G. Miller Construction Co., Waterloo.

Rental Manager

Clele Baker, apartment rental manager, who Wednesday told him he had advised Daniels not to move in because of the complaints, said after the ceremony:

"I think it's all very fine. I'm pleased with the outcome and am happy to welcome a friend and his family to Waverly with open arms."

Mayor F. W. Osineup said: "It was a regrettable incident. It's all cleared up now to everyone's satisfaction. I'm certain nothing like this will ever happen again in Waverly."

Friendly Town

M. R. (Bud) Lackore, Chamber of Commerce secretary, said that "we want to be sure we leave a final impression as a friendly town."

Duke Ellington to Get Greatest Tribute on Radio March 16; Eartha Kitt to Stay with Show Until Feb. 26

BY DELORES CALVIN

New York—(CNS)—Eartha Kitt's "illness" said to be real thing—not temperament . . . Eartha Kitt is one gal who can't get talked about so easily. Recently she refused to go on shortly after the curtain rose on her play "Mrs. Patterson," claiming she was too ill to make it. As the management refund several thousand dollars to the 900 in the audience, it was rumored they felt Eartha was being temperamental.

Doctors however agreed with Eartha that she's suffering from a kidney infection and ought to be in a hospital. With no understudy for her role, the show was in much jeopardy. Press agent for the show, Bill Doll commented: "I don't know whether she's ill or whether she doesn't want to go on tour or what."

Miss Kitt's agent sent back the remark that "Eartha's a very sick girl but would go on with the show."

Doctors finally agreed that Miss Kitt needs as much rest as possible. She will stay in the hospital until time for her show, do her performance and return to the hospital. This way it's hope Eartha will make every performance until the show closes February 26.

Duke Ellington about to get the greatest tributeradio could pay him. On March 16, he will lead the NBC Symphony with his own band in a concert of his own compositions. Todd Duane has wonderful billing in the motion picture "Unchained." The renowned baritone of "Porgy and Bess" fame is right in there with the other three stars.

Wilhelmina Adams, well-known Democratic leader, tipping out of Mayor Wagner's office. She's delighted with the way things are progressing in New York under Bob Wagner and equally excited about Averell Harriman's reign in Albany.
