Capital Close-Up From Washington

West Point Graduates Five: Annapolis, One

The United States Military Academy at West Point graduated five Negro cadets, this week, at its traditional "first Tuesday in June" exercises. The Naval Academy graduated one. Congressman William L. Dawson, of Illinois, had the distinction of having appointed the Annapolis graduate and the West Pointer from the District of Columbia. The 1955 roster:

John M. Hamilton, of Washington, D. C., a Dunbar High School graduate and Colonel of the Cadet Corps (then segregated). Lieut. Hamilton, who is assigned to the Infantry, was a cadet sergeant at "the Point," and was active in German and French language clubs and in the Debate Council. At home he was an active member of the Metropolitan Baptist Church Sunday School. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Jennings of 3525 Thirteenth St., N. W.

Lewis C. Olive, Jr., of Louisville, Ky., appointed by Congressman Adam Powell, of New York, is a graduate of the Louisville public schools and of the University of California, at Berkeley. Congressman John Robison, Jr., of Kentucky, son and namesake of the late Congressman and Senator and civil rights militant, visited young Olive, last summer, at Fort Belvoir, where he was in training with other cadets. Congressman Robison, a friend of the Olive family, reports that the new lieutenant is a fine athlete and outstanding in every respect. "We are proud of him," said the Congressman. Lieut. Olive's father is Lewis C. Olive, Sr., of 1040 Cedar Court, Louisville. The Lieutenant is commissioned to the Air Force, was a cadet lieutenant at the Point, and a member of the track team and of the Debate Council.

Another new Air Force lieutenant is Cyrus C. Cassells, Jr. Appointed from Detroit by Congressman George D. O'Brien (who later was defeated by Congressman Diggs,) Cassells was graduated from Northern High School and studied at Wayne University. He was a cadet sergeant at West Point, where he was a member of the Model Airplane Club, the Glee Club and the Debate Council.

The motion was argued on Thursday, May 26, and denied on the grounds that the Appeals Court no longer had jurisdiction over the cases since notices of appeals had been filed with the high tribunal.

In their application to the Supreme Court asking that the stay be vacated and the facilities of the beaches be opened to Negroes without another year's delay, the attorneys argued that the stay should be vacated.

Oklahoma Colleges To End Segregation

Oklahoma City, Okla. — Segregation of all state-supported colleges Monday was ordered abolished, effective at the fall term, by the Oklahoma regents for higher education. The order affects 18 colleges under the board.

PVT. THEODORE G. HUGHES, JR. Home recently to spend the holiday week end with his mother, Mrs. Gloria Black, 1216 E. 17th street court, was Pvt. Theodore G. Hughes, Jr., who is stationed at the army's training base at Ft. Riley, Kas.

Maryland Beach Cases of Segregation Present New Issue to Supreme Court

Washington, D. C.—The Maryland beach segregation cases presented a new issue in the U. S. Supreme Court recently with the filing of an application by NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund attorneys seeking to vacate a "stay of execution" of a mandate which would open to Negroes for the first time the use of park and beach facilities in and near Baltimore on a non-segregated basis.

The mandate, rendered in the Robert M. Dawson and Milton Lonesome cases on March 14, 1955, by the U. S. Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit, declared racial segregation in public park and recreational facilities a violation of the law that can no longer "be sustained as a proper exercise of the police power of the state."

The opinion was a reversal of a U. S. District Court's holding that the laws of the state of Maryland and the city of Baltimore provided equality in recreation and public facilities.

The mandate was the result of two cases brought against the city of Baltimore and the state of Maryland and sought admission of persons to the beach facilities at Ft. Smallwood Park and Sandy Point Park, both near Baltimore, without regard to race or color.

Baltimore officials and the Commissioner of Forest and Parks of Maryland petitioned the Court of Appeals which handed down the opinion to stay the execution of the mandate pending their appeals to the U. S. Supreme Court. Neither requested a stay beyond May 28, 1955. The stay was granted by Chief Judge John J. Parker on April 21 with warning that notices of appeals must be filed with the U. S. Supreme Court before May 1, 1955.

Motion in Court

NAACP Legal Defense attorneys for Dawson and Lonesome did not oppose the applications for stay in view of the fact that the facilities at the beaches would not be open for business until after May 28. However, when the Circuit Court granted stays to remain in effect until after the Supreme Court's ruling on the appeal, it appeared that the cases might not be heard until October 1955. Legal Defense counsel filed a motion in the Court of Appeals on May 19 to vacate the stay.

The motion was argued on Thursday, May 26, and denied on the grounds that the Appeals Court no longer had jurisdiction over the cases since notices of appeals had been filed with the high tribunal.

In their application to the Supreme Court asking that the stay be vacated and the facilities of the beaches be opened to Negroes without another year's delay, the attorneys argued that the stay should be vacated.

File Complaints Against 4 International Unions for Limiting Job Opportunities

New York — Specific job discrimination charges against four of the nation's leading oil refining companies and four international unions were filed June 2 with the National Labor Relations Board by attorneys for the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund.

In eight separate complaints filed with the NLRB regional offices in Ft. Worth, Texas, and New Orleans, La., the companies and unions acting as bargaining agents for the employees were accused of deliberately denying Negro workers equal job opportunities.

The companies named in the complaints are Esso Standard Oil Co., Cities Service Refining Corp., Carbide and Chemicals Co., and the Lion Oil Co.

The unions are the Independent Industrial Workers Assn. of Baton Rouge; Lake Charles Metal Trades Council and Local 969, International Brotherhood of Teamsters (AF of L); Galveston Metal Trades Council and Local 374 of the International Union of Operating Engineers (AF of L), Texas City, Texas; Local 381, International Union of Operating Engineers (AF of L), and Local 434, Oil Workers International Union (CIO), El Dorado, Ark.

While each complaint reveals a different set of allegations, the common theme is that the unions are conspiring to discriminate against Negro workers.

Elected to NAACP Legal Defense Board

New York—W. W. Wachtel of New York, president of Calvert Distillers Co., has been elected to the Board of Directors of the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, Thurgood Marshall, director-counsel, announced June 1.

Election of Mr. Wachtel brings Legal Defense Board to a total of 33 members, consisting of business, labor, civic, educational and professional leaders, Mr. Marshall said.

Mr. Wachtel was recently cited for his famous Lord Calvert's "Men of Distinction" advertising series of which he is the originator. His company was the first national advertiser to inject interracial element in its advertising campaigns.

panies and unions were accused of 4 basic charges: (1) of maintaining a policy of hiring Negroes as laborers and excluding them from other job classifications, (2) having excluded Negro employees from apprenticeship training programs which are maintained in accordance with collective bargaining agreements, (3) Negro employees are promoted and upgraded only in general labor classifications, regardless of ability, experience, qualifications, length of service or actual work performed, and (4) in certain plants Negro employees are assigned to semi-skilled and skilled jobs as classifications other than laborers but the unions and the companies refuse to classify and compensate them, although white employees who perform the same work are properly classified and receive higher wages.

In all of the complaints the unions are accused of demanding the segregation policy. The companies are charged with conspiring with the unions in maintaining the Jim Crow practices.

The complaints were filed in behalf of 31 Negro employees of the oil companies in Texas City, Texas; Baton Rouge and Lake Charles, La., and El Dorado, Ark.

The complaint cited several cases of Negro employees with 5 to 36 years of service and performed the same work as white employees.

Interpretative Analysis of U. S. Supreme Court Ruling By Marshall and Wilkins

BY THURGOOD MARSHALL and ROY WILKINS

New York — The May 31 decision combined with the May 17 decision of last year must be viewed as the latest in a series of steps toward full integration of Negroes into American life. When the NAACP began this campaign it was met with state statutes requiring or permitting segregation in public education. These statutory provisions were a complete block to all voluntary efforts to end segregation.

The first cases destroyed the validity of out-of-state scholarships as an excuse for the exclusion of Negroes from professional schools. This was followed by the cases which declared unconstitutional provisions for Jim Crow graduate and professional schools. And then the May 17, 1954, decision declared that segregation in public education was unconstitutional. This was followed by last Tuesday's decision that "all provisions of federal, state or local law requiring or permitting" segregation in public education "must yield to" the principle announced in the 1954 decision.

This determination by the Supreme Court clears the way for school boards to desegregate their systems voluntarily. This is being done in many parts of the South. The opinion also gives us the necessary legal weapons to bring about compliance in areas of the South which openly flout the mandate of the Supreme Court.

The question now before us is: under what conditions and with what directives were the school cases remanded to lower courts? We know that the highest did not (a) set a deadline date for either beginning or the completion of desegregation in the public schools; and (b) outline a definite plan by which desegregation must proceed and by which lower courts might judge the efforts of local school boards toward compliance with the May 17 and May 31 rulings. Not having done this, what did the Court do? What

Cake of the Month

Everybody has his favorite father. And every father's favorite is this deep, dark, luscious three-layered devil's food cake. Decorated to win the heart of Dad on his day, this cake is simple enough for daughter or son to make with the new instant cake mix now on the grocer's shelves.

Father's Devil's Food Cake

1 package Instant Swans Down Devil's Food Mix
1 cup plus 2 tablespoons water
2 eggs, unbeaten
Sea Foam Frosting

Empty contents of package into bowl. Add water and eggs. Beat 3 minutes until smooth and creamy. Pour batter into three round 8-inch layer pans, which have been lined on bottoms with paper. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) about 30 minutes. Cool layers.

Prepare Sea Foam Frosting. Spread over tops and sides of layers.

To decorate, prepare confectioners' sugar frosting by mixing together a small amount of sifted confectioners' sugar with milk; tint, if desired. Place in pastry tube; outline figures on cake as illustrated.

Sea Foam Frosting

2 egg whites, unbeaten
1 1/2 cups firmly packed brown sugar
Dash of salt
1/2 cup water
1 teaspoon vanilla

Combine egg whites, sugar, salt, and water in top of double boiler. Beat with sturdy egg beater or electric beater 1 minute until thoroughly mixed. Then place over boiling water and beat constantly with egg beater (or at high speed of electric beater) 7 minutes, or until frosting will stand in stiff peaks. (Stir frosting up from bottom and sides of pan occasionally with rubber scraper, spatula, or spoon.) Remove from boiling water. Add vanilla and beat 1 minute, or until thick enough to spread.

Note: For a smoother frosting, wipe down sides of pan with a fork wrapped in a damp cloth before and during cooking and beating, to prevent crystallization.

MIX TRICKS: A package of instant devil's food mix adapts well to various pan sizes. Try 3 eight-inch layer pans as suggested above for a special party cake. For other occasions, use 2 round layer pans, a nine-inch square pan, a 13x9x2-inch oblong pan or 24 medium cupcake pans, baking according to package directions.

World's Busiest, Poorest Paid Mayor, Is In Puerto Rico

Chicago, Ill.—The world's busiest—and poorest paid—mayor of any city, His Honor Carl Eugene Kimmons, is featured in the July EBONY. Kimmons, a chief petty officer in the Navy, presides over the 1,300 Naval and civilian residents of San Patricio, a thriving little community six miles out of San Juan, Puerto Rico.

After working from 8 to 4:30 every day at his regular duties, Kimmons goes home to San Patricio and the payless, but soul-satisfying job of mayor of the town. As chief magistrate, his job carries with all of the headaches of that office but is classified as a public service without pay. Assisting him in his king-size job as combination trouble-shooter and liaison between the residents of San Patricio and the Navy is an all-white town council and vice-mayor.

Visitors At Home Of The J. B. Thompsons

Mrs. Lena White and Mr. and Mrs. C. Pleasant of Chicago, Ill., were recent holiday week end visitors at the J. Blaine Thompson country home, Pyne Knolle. They also were entertained at breakfast by Mrs. F. H. Johnson and Mrs. Gertrude North, after which the visitors left for their home.

Mrs. Dolly Washington, a relative of the visitors, was also a breakfast guest.

Johnson, who listened but dismissed the idea, saying: "Who has hours to fool with pounding rose petals into pulp for beads?"

"It's a lot of fun—and look what you will have after you finish, pulverizing a pound of fresh rose petals into a mass of rose dough to form and design little beads."

"Where, this side of Paris, can you buy a string of rose petals beads?" I asked. Mrs. Johnson listened, shook her head and departed.

The process is very simple. All you need, the books say, is "infinite patience" and rose petals. You can do this and watch TV, too. Just crush and beat the beautiful fresh petals in a mortar with a pestle at least for two hours. (You can use a crock and a handle of a small screw driver or stick and pulverize, also). When you have a thick, fragrant paste, after much beating, roll one-half teaspoon of paste into a tiny bead; place on a tray and dry in warm airy spot until beads are dry and hard, then polish with soft cloth. Use as sachet beads in lingerie and linens, chests and drawers.

Mrs. Wm. J. Ritchey has some lovely roses growing in her flower gardens. She has promised to save some of the petals for drying.

Try the "lost art" of working with flower petals. It's fascinating and relaxing as well as fragrant.

One tired young woman who was busy as a bee with the affairs of the annual convention of the Iowa Association of Colored Women which met in Des Moines last week end, is Mrs. Lorraine Collins, second vice president who was active on several committees including the publicity.

In one of her last-minute convention news items, Lorraine confessed: "It may interest you to know that at the age of nine I belonged to the Iowa Association of Colored Girls and have remained a member ever since. . . This may or may not explain my interest in said group. Many do not realize this?" More power to Lorraine!

BRAVE LEADERSHIP NEEDS ENCOURAGEMENT

Generally speaking, one seldom conquers the enemy without a struggle. Earlier settlers braved cold, hunger, inconvenience, death and destruction to conquer this country; to define their rights and sustain them. And the struggle goes on to hold fast to those things which are so dear to our civilization.

Today, a determined group of Negroes are engaged in a desperate struggle in the South, particularly in the small communities and the country districts, to get for the Negro what his white neighbor has—the right and the enjoyment of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

NAACP, business and professional leaders are awaking the Negro to their civil rights and thus, many southerners think, threaten white supremacy. Disturbed because their position is challenged, all kinds of intimidation is being carried out to discourage those Negroes. In fact, life, in some places, is at stake. But these men are going ahead in spite of intimidation, of threats and killings. They certainly deserve every help and encouragement, not only by Negroes and decent white people in the South, but also those in other parts where the problem is not so acute.

BETTER ORGANIZATION OF NEEDY AREAS DESIRABLE

During the past few weeks, a yard beautifying campaign has been going on in Des Moines. Many prizes are to be awarded. It is an excellent idea as far as it goes.

Certainly something is needed to improve many of our neighborhoods for it is ridiculous for a town to contain beautiful places in one area and run down places in another.

But the program does not reach the people or areas that need it. The fellow with a fancy home and/or live-neighborhoods need to be brought in encouragement to keep fine lawns. The people in the poor or mediocre on the program.

Some years ago the Bystander, in cooperation with other groups conducted annual clean up campaigns. The promoters went into these neighborhoods and secured participation, which in many cases, would not have been obtained without the personal contact.

The Bystander hopes that another year a better and more thorough plan can be worked out which will bring into the campaign people and areas so as to improve the neighborhoods where there is real need for better inclination to improve these surroundings.

THE WALLS OF INJUSTICE ARE TUMBLING DOWN

Almost every daily newspaper these days contains one article after another stating that one organization after another is abandoning segregation.

This is further carried on in athletic events in parts of the South. Promoters in New Orleans have matched a mixed bout but the boxing commission members voted last week against it.

A ruling by the attorney general held that there was no state law preventing mixed bouts so one member has agreed to change his vote.

As Ralph McGill, liberal newspaper man in Atlanta, Ga., wrote last year, one corner stone of segregation after another was being knocked off month after month and in time, as a legal proposition, there would be none.

The vociferous politicians continue to cry out against integration but the walls of justice and equity are closing in on them each day. And while in years gone by advocacy of fair play for minorities was not so popular, intelligent people realize that we cannot secure the blessing of democracy by denying it to a segment of the population.

neys say that the rights involved in the two cases are constitution and of the "highest magnitude" which express "the ideal of equality before the law which characterizes our institutions."

Deny Rights

The facilities are particularly enjoyable during the warm weather months, the lawyers argue, and a stay which will remain in effect during June, July, August and September will deny these rights for another year.

same duties as white union employees but are still classified as laborers.

Separate Sections

On April 20, 1955, NAACP Legal Defense attorneys filed a similar complaint with the President's Committee on Government Contracts setting out the same basic complaints. The unions were also accused of maintaining separate sections within the unions for Negro members.

The attorneys ask the NLRB to order the unions and the companies to "cease and desist" from continuing to engage in such unfair labor practices.

Legal Defense attorneys filing the complaints in behalf of the Negro workers are Thurgood Marshall, director-counsel and Robert L. Carter, first assistant counsel.

Interpretation of Decision

language did it use? declaring the fundamental principle that racial discrimination in public educational is unconstitutional, are incorporated herein by reference."

Last year's opinion, as we all know, declared: "We conclude that in the field of public education the doctrine of 'separate but equal' has no place. Separate educational facilities are inherently unequal." On May 17 the Court said simply, as an introduction to its opinion, that this principle stands and that everything in the May 31 opinion hangs upon it; that the items in the May 31 opinion must be considered at all times and under all circumstances in the light of the clear principle in the 1954 opinion. The Court refers to the 1954 "constitutional principles" a total of six times in its May 31 opinion, once as "governing constitutional principles."

All school segregation laws are invalid: "All provisions of Federal, state or local law requiring or permitting such discrimination must yield to this principle."

This means that all laws, local, state and federal, requiring or permitting racial segregation in the public schools are now null and void, and that no school or other public official or body is bound by such laws.

Good Faith Required

Local school authorities responsible: "School authorities have the primary responsibility for elucidating, assessing, and solving these problems" (of "full implementation of these constitutional principles").

This means just what it says. It means further that it is right and proper for citizens and community groups to begin the campaign for desegregation with the local school authorities.

good faith required: "... courts will have to consider whether the action of school authorities constitutes good-faith implementation of the governing constitutional principles."

The Court is saying here that alleged good faith in carrying out the "governing" constitutional principle of non-segregation can be brought before a court for determination and need not rest upon mere assertion by school authorities or newspapers or politicians or others.

Interest of the plaintiffs: "At stake is the personal interest of the plaintiffs in admission to public as soon as practicable on a non-discriminatory basis."

Plaintiffs have a right (as set forth in the May 17, 1954, decision) to admission to public schools on a non-discriminatory basis "as soon as practicable." The latter phrase must be taken to mean with only such delay as may be permitted by the lower courts in the context of language elsewhere in the May 31 opinion.

HEALTH FOR ALL

Age Is No Barrier

A little girl is blind because her grandfather said, "Old folks like me don't catch tuberculosis."

When he was young, he knew people who had TB. They were young people and he saw many of them die. When he was rearing his own children, he kept a close watch on their health during their teens, because of his fear of tuberculosis. As for himself, he was sure he had passed "the dangerous age" when he reached his forties.

What he saw was real enough. Most of the people who died from tuberculosis 40 years ago were under 35. Where he went wrong was in concluding that tuberculosis attacked people only in that age group. Tuberculosis can attack people of any age, any sex, any race, any income level. Today deaths from the disease are most numerous in men over 40. But death is not the measure of tuberculosis.

If methods of treating tuberculosis continue to improve as they have in the last few decades, there may soon come a time when even fewer people will die of it. But the disease will continue to be a heavy burden on our society unless the spread of infection can be checked.

Grandfather did not for one moment think that he could be spreading tuberculosis germs. He did not feel particularly ill. What symptoms he had were "just old age." But suddenly, without warning, his little granddaughter was struck down by the dreaded tuberculous meningitis. Her life was saved, but she may never see again.

To find the source of the infection, all of the family were X-rayed, and the grandfather's disease was discovered. Today he is being cured in a tuberculosis hospital. But his illness could have been discovered and treated early, if he had visited his doctor for regular physical examinations and chest X-rays. Spread of infection to the child might have been prevented. He knows now that age is no barrier to tuberculosis.

SPORTS

By ALLEN ASHBY

We read with some interest the comments of Sec Taylor in the Des Moines Register. Taylor was discussing Archie Moore's remarks about Rocky Marciano. Sec seems to think that Archie would do well to spend his time preparing for the defense of his light heavy crown against Middleweight Champ Bobo Olson. The man could be right. Certainly he is entitled to his opinion.

But Archie Moore's remarks about the heavyweight king are no more than the thoughts expressed by people who discuss boxing. That is unless they happen to be Marciano fans. The guy does have a shrewd manager who picks his spots. Cokell was stopped by two middleweights. Rocky in our estimation isn't the great puncher he is rated. His formula is to simply swarm all over his opponents and carry them at such a fast pace until they are more exhausted than knocked out. Walcott? Sure he was stopped by one punch, but after a man passes thirty-five he can be stopped by a head blow that doesn't have to be too hard.

We aren't sure Moore could beat Rocky because of the furious pace the latter sets, but the Marciano crowd isn't taking any chances. They are letting time run out on the one guy who might give the champion a battle.

Sure can't see Olson beating Moore. Maybe he can but we don't

Supreme Court Edict Sparks Debate
Plain citizens are voicing some interesting opinion on the Supreme Court's edict of May 31. As Thurgood Marshall has well-said, we think, the law has now been made "crystal clear." We also think that the High Court—a legal body and not a social agency—has gone as far as it could go, and spoke plainly when it decreed that courts of equity might "properly take into account the public interest in the elimination of—obstacles (to integration) in a systematic and effective manner."

There is important opinion that

IT'S JUNE

It's June—when bass rise to the fly and fluffy clouds sail through blue sky, the fields of clover are in bloom and outdoors is our living room.

It's June—when apple blossoms greet the eye and people thaw—and holler—hi! When violets bloom in purple shade and romance touches man and maid. It's June—when moon, is gold on high and youths sweet dreams fire you and I. This month of love when we're in tune: life's beautiful. Ah yes! It's June!!!

what is needed, now, is Presidential voicing of what integration means to the people of the United States in terms of benefits to white as well as to Negro children. That the people need to be told—by the President—that the association of whites with non-whites, in education, is a necessary experience in democratic living, far outweighing any temporary disadvantage, in a world where established patterns are crashing, daily, from their old places on the walls of tradition.

This opinion points out that it is economically impossible to equalize education "before integration." This opinion maintains that only the President can go to all the people and tell them that their cross-roads villages and by-paths are now part of the world's business—whether they want it that way or not. Academic leadership, once out-spoken has long since taken to the storm shelters. Few political leaders either dare to speak out or are capable. Private leadership, say these citizens, will do the best it can, but they are looking to "Ike" for the real job.

Nixon and Powell at Press Fete

spoke at Capital Press Club's Annual Banquet, last week; underscored the bi-partisan approach to civil rights, praised Negro Americans for resisting the "fear, force and fraud" of Communism, a resistance which he called "one of the most admirable pages in American history." He praised the Administration for its "honest" civil rights program. He praised Adam Powell, New York Congressman and speaker of the evening, saying that he was "immensely proud of the ways he represented the United States and our views at the Bandung Conference." He praised Presidential Aide Maxwell Rabb, for his wheel-horse job on the President's civil rights program.

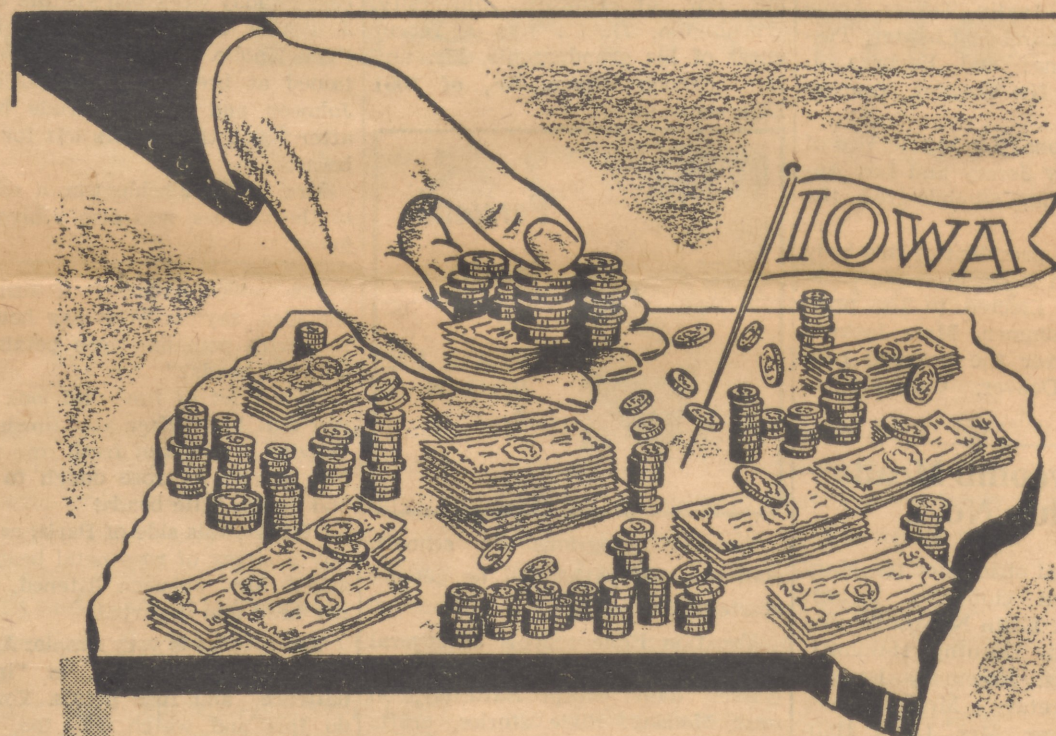

Congressman Powell repeated much that he had previously said concerning what he termed attempts to keep him out of Bandung. He declared that the Bandung Conference was "not anti-white, but pro-colored," and was a "second emancipation for the white man—the first being at Runnymede. Bandung, he said, had "taken the white man's burden off his back." He warned that the forthcoming at Cairo "could be anti-white," that American attitudes in the Caribbean must change. "The country," said Mr. Powell, "has got to be made over—awfully soon." Vice-President Nixon called for civil rights mobilization with moderation, to shape public opinion—promised success, "with patience and hard work."

Most impressive presentation was Sherman Briscoe's in making the award to Public Utilities Chairman George E. C. Hayes—then chairman-elect. Mr. Hayes now occupies the most important post yet held by a Negro in the District of Columbia government, not excepting the marshaling held by Frederick Douglass.

More Income for Iowa Business

The brewing industry is a sizeable contributor to the welfare and prosperity of Iowa business. Last year, for example, the industry spent $27,544,621 for miscellaneous business expenses alone (exclusive of payrolls). This huge sum went for rent on buildings, freight, insurance, advertising, electricity, car and truck maintenance, and other such items. Here again is evidence of the important share this great industry has in building Iowa prosperity.

More To Swell Iowa's Income

And the brewing industry swells Iowa's income in many other ways. It has $62,000,000 invested here in Iowa, a $30,000,000 annual Iowa payroll, spends more than $23,000,000 per year for taxes, and hundreds of thousands of dollars annually for Iowa farm products. Yes, the industry is a real contributor to Iowa prosperity.
